Good morning,

Please find below the latest update on what the JCNA service has been up to since November 2023. We have really focused on increasing engagement with the local community and researchers across the globe and supporting access to the collections, which has included the launch of our new Facebook page and the latest JCNA newsletter.

Please feel free to circulate this onwards to anyone who might be interested or who might like to be added to this mailing list. To be added, please just email us at: national.archives@sec.gov.fk

If you have any questions, or would like to book an archive research appointment then please email the National Archives directly. You can also visit our wider online collection at: https://www.nationalarchives.gov.fk/online-collections

JCNA Website – More FAQs

We have undertaken a few amendments and updates to our website, to add more information that is useful for researchers. This has included a few more FAQs including:

- How do I cite or reference records held by the Archives?
- What is the Copyright guidance?
- How do I get involved with the Archives?

You can access the FAQS here: https://www.nationalarchives.gov.fk/about-archives/faqs

Staffing news

On the 5 February 2024 Diana Aldridge will be joining the Records Management & National Archives Department as the Records Management & Archives Support Officer, who will assist in the management of the archival collections and promotion of the service, as well as supporting the management of corporate records across the government.

Éirinn Murphy, who has been assisting with projects (such as digitising the aforementioned files) has been getting involved with all aspects of the Archives work. She gives a bit of an insight into her time here so far in the latest newsletter (p.5).

Best wishes,
Chloe
