

BROWN FAMILY

NB: The following is prepared from Falkland Islands Registers and files – there may be other family born outside the Falklands. Unless stated otherwise, all dated births, deaths and marriages occurred in the Falklands and all numbered graves are in Stanley Cemetery. Various spellings of names are recorded as written at the time.

James BROWN was married to Agnes TAIT (not in the Falkland Islands).

James BROWN, a shepherd from Scotland was engaged by the Falkland Islands Company Ltd to proceed by the Chislehurst, leaving London December 1870. The Chislehurst, a 352 ton British barque under Captain Thomas Bryson, arrived in Stanley 2 February 1871 with cargo, 15 crew and 33 passengers, 15 of whom were immigrants. The trip took 43 days. James was accompanied by his wife Agnes, three children and an infant. James was employed on a 5 year contract with a starting annual wage of £40-0-0, rising £1-10 per year, with an ending annual wage of £50-0-0. He was advanced £5 in London.
