EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

Children and Young Persons (Tobacco) Bill 2007

Introductory

The Children and Young Persons (Tobacco) Bill 2007, if enacted, will repeal section 90 of the Licensing Ordinance ("the existing law"). Under the existing law the sale to a person under 16 of tobacco is prohibited as is the smoking or other consumption of tobacco by a person under 16. The giving or supplying of tobacco to persons under 16 or the possession of tobacco by such persons is not however prohibited by the existing law.

The provisions of the Bill

Clause 3 of the Bill contains a number of definitions. The definition of "tobacco" is in wide terms and follows that contained in legislation elsewhere.

Clause 4(1) of the Bill would render it unlawful for any person to sell, give or supply any tobacco or cigarette papers to any person under the age of 16. In relating to cigarette papers it follows the law of the Falkland Islands proceeding the existing law. However under clause 4(3) it would be a defence for a person charged with an offence under clause 4(2) to prove that the person took all reasonably precautions and exercised all due diligence to avoid the commission of the offence or that, in the case of cigarette papers, the person reasonably believed that the person to whom they were sold, given or supplied intended to use the cigarette papers for a legitimate purpose not involving the smoking of any substance. Cigarette papers are used by some flute players so as to avoid the cutting of their lips by their teeth when playing the flute.

Clause 4(4) to (6) contain provision in relation to cigarette machines.

Clause 5(1) would prohibit the sale of cigarettes except in their original packages such a provision appears in legislation elsewhere with the object of preventing cigarettes being bought in small quantities loose and handed to children.

Clause 5(2) contains a provision requiring a notice to be displayed announcing that it is illegal to sell tobacco products to persons under the age of 16 but clause 5(3) states that nothing prevents a person carrying on a retail business refusing to sell tobacco products to persons unless they have attained an age greater than sixteen.

Clause 6 provides that it would be an offence for a person under the age of 16 to be in possession of tobacco or cigarette papers whether for his own use or the use of any other person. However under clause 6(3) it would be a defence for a person charged with an offence of being in possession of cigarette papers to prove that he was in possession of them for some lawful purpose not involving the smoking of any substance by him or any other person.

Clause 7(1) would confer power on a police officer in uniform to stop a person in a public place whom the police officer reasonably suspects may be committing or may have just committed in that place an offence under clause 4(1). Having stopped the person the police officer would have power to require the person to satisfy the police officer that the person was not selling giving or supplying tobacco to the person or that the person was not under the age of 16. Similar powers would be given to a police officer in uniform to stop a person in a public place whom the person reasonably suspected to be under the age of 16 and to be in possession of tobacco or cigarette papers. Having stopped the person the police officer would have power to require the person reasonably to satisfy the police officer that the person was not under the age of 16 or, that if the person is under that age, that the person has no tobacco or cigarette papers in the person's possession and, if the person has cigarette papers in the person's possession, the person possesses the cigarette papers for a purpose other than smoking any substance. If the police officer was not reasonably satisfied as to one or other of those matters the police officer would have power to arrest the person concerned and seize anything the police officer reasonably believed to be tobacco or cigarette papers in the person's possession at the time of the arrest.

Clause 8 of the Bill would confer powers on teachers to require pupils at school reasonably suspected by the teacher to have any tobacco or cigarette papers in their possession over to the teacher and to confiscate them. Under clause 8(2) a teacher of the same sex as the pupil would also have power to require the pupil, in the teacher's presence, to empty the pupil's pockets and any bag, briefcase or satchel or container of a like kind the pupil has upon school premises as well as any locker, desk or cupboard used by the pupil and any clothing or shoes kept by the pupil in any cloakroom or other place upon the school premises so as to satisfy the teacher present that the pupil has not any tobacco or cigarette papers in the pupil's possession. It should be noted that the provisions of clause 8(1) and (2) do not in their terms confer any power of search upon the teacher and further that a teacher making a requirement under clause 8(2) would be required by clause 8(3) to ensure that the only persons present when the requirement is performed are the teacher, any other teacher of the same sex as the pupil, the pupil and any person the pupil may request to be present at the time.

A BILL

for

AN ORDINANCE

To amend the Mining Ordinance in relation to the grant of a prospecting, exploration or mining licence.

BE IT ENACTED by the Legislature of the Falkland Islands —

1. Title

This Ordinance is the Mining (Amendment) Ordinance 2007.

2. Commencement

This Ordinance will commence on a date to be fixed by the Governor by notice published in the Gazette.

3. Amendment of the Mining Ordinance 2005

(1) In this section, the Mining Ordinance 2005^a is called “the principal Ordinance”.

^a No 10 of 2005

(2) Section 11(1) of the principal Ordinance is amended by omitting “any body corporate” and substituting “a person”.

(3) Section 11(2) of the principal Ordinance is amended by inserting after paragraph (b)(v) —

“(vi) an application to grant a licence to a person who is not a body corporate, except in relation to a licence application which relates only to stone, flint, chalk, gravel, sand or calcified seaweed.”

OBJECTS AND REASONS

This Bill would amend section 11 of the Mining Ordinance 2005 to have effect to allow the Governor to grant a prospecting, exploration or mining licence which relates to stone, flint, chalk, gravel, sand or calcified seaweed, to a person (which by definition includes a body corporate). As presently enacted, the section unintentionally restricts the grant of such a licence to a body corporate only.

S. R. & O. No. 21 of 2007

Given: 25 September 2007

Published: 31 October 2007

Coming into force: on publication

IN EXERCISE of my powers under Article 5 of the General Development Order 1991 (Title 55.3.1), I give the following Direction —

1. Title

This Direction is the Maiden Haven Direction 2007.

2. Commencement

This Direction comes into force on publication.

3. Requirement to obtain planning permission

(1) The planning permission granted by Article 4 of and Classes A, B and D of Part 1 of Schedule 2 to the General Development Order 1991 does not apply to all or any development within the curtilage of Maiden Haven, Moody Brook Road, Stanley.

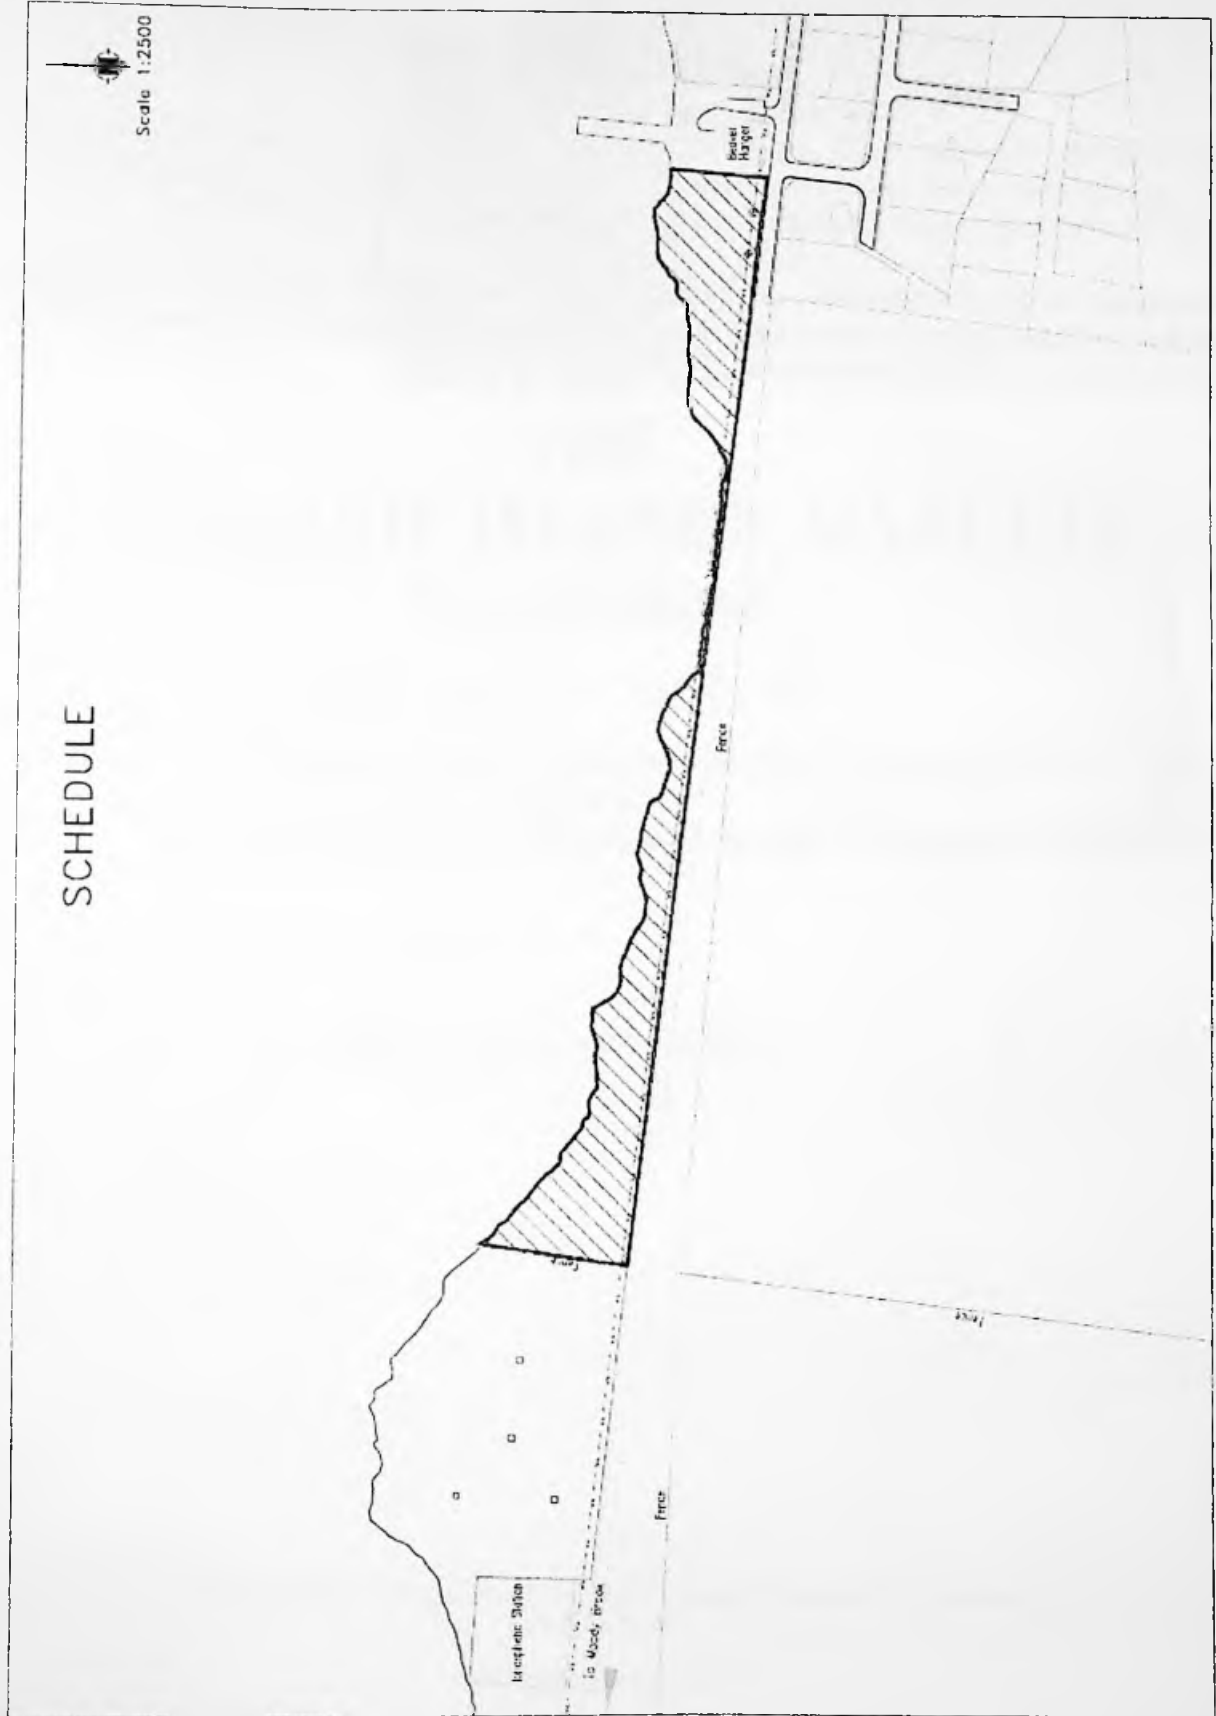

(2) For the purposes of this Direction the curtilage of Maiden Haven, Moody Brook Road, Stanley is the piece of land on the north side of Moody Brook Road, Stanley shown for the purposes of identification delineated and hatched black on the plan appearing as the Schedule to this Direction.

Given on 25th September 2007

P. L. Martinez,
Acting Governor.

SCHEDULE

Scale 1:2500

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(not forming part of the above Direction)

The effect of a Direction under Article 5 of the General Development Order 1991 is to require the specific grant of planning permission for a number of categories of development which would otherwise have been granted planning permission under Article 4 of the Order.

The reason for this Direction is to minimise the visual impact on the open character of the area and the landscape setting of Stanley which could be damaged by further development of the site at Maiden Haven, Moody Brook Road, Stanley.
