Copy of Memorandum attached to the agreement respecting the Colonial Chaplain's dwelling house & land.

Government House
Stanley, Falkland Islands
January 26th 1872

The existence of this agreement becomes embarrassing to the Colonial Government. It appears that my predecessor recognized the solemnity of the deed by ordering a bond to appropriate the expenses incurred which document was in the Secretariat specified £406. as the amount due to the Chaplain while this Officer did not assign or was not aware.

In the event of such contingencies arising I am of opinion that a Colonial Government guarantee might be given to the Chaplain for the capital over a given period and that 5 per cent be paid to Mr Bull in the meanwhile from the Colonial Chest, this gentleman allowing the deed to be kept and a deed in all time to come charged on the house.

This will not be a hardship inasmuch as Mr Bull took up the appointment without the promise of a house and Chaplains in the Colonies are not provided with houses.

Otherwise

Otherwise I do not see how the dilemma is to be overcome hanging over our unfortunate chief like the sword of Damocles.
