Dear National,

The Jane Cameron National Archives are pleased to share our latest service update.

Over the past few months, the team have received and been processing more new collections and taking part in outreach activities such as Farmers Week 2026, presenting the J&ACMT History Prizes for FICS and IJS, and supporting our weekly team of volunteers.

We have been working on the development of a Collections Guide to provide further support to researchers. This Guide will provide a comprehensive outline of what records we hold and how they can be accessed. This will be launched officially later this month!

Also, at the end of August, we will be publishing our newsletter, with research articles and further updates on our work. The newsletter will be uploaded to our website and placed in public areas around Stanley. If you would like a printed copy for your relative then please get in touch so we can arrange individual drop-offs.

The service has digitised and made available the following new files on our website, as of today, 10 August 2026. We would like to thank Phoebe Watson for assisting us in digitising these files. Phoebe has now returned to the UK, but we wish her well as she starts at University of the Arts London.

All records can be accessed at: <https://nationalarchives.gov.fk/>

Please let us know if you have any issues accessing content or would like to provide feedback.

Updated Procedural Forms

- Collections Development & Acquisition Enquiry Form

The JCNA appraise potential-archives for their historical and evidential value before a decision is made whether to acquire them. We have developed a new form, designed to be completed by potential donors in order to provide details on the items that might be offered to the Archives service.

This form can be accessed and completed under the 'Collections Development & Acquisition' section at: <https://nationalarchives.gov.fk/about-archives/policies-and-procedures>

Please return completed forms to national.archives@sec.gov.fk

- Reading Room Regulations

We have updated the Reading Room Regulations for those wanting to access and research files in person. These rules set out what we expect from users and what is prohibited.

The updated document is accessible under the 'Access' section at:
