STANLEY AND THE NEW YEAR.

Port Stanley was by no means behind in ushering in the New Year - the portal of another decade which we hope will lead to such prosperity and progress more than proportionate to that obtained during the last twenty years. The past decade has seen the advent of great improvements. Who knows what the ensuing years may bring ?

A Watch-night Service was held in the Cathedral at 11.30 p.m. conducted by the Very Reverend the Dean of Stanley and at which there was a surprisingly large congregation. The collection was in aid of St. Dunstan's Home. Just before midnight the bells chimed the old year out and on the stroke of twelve pealed the new one in while the siren on the s.s. Fleurus bellowed a sailors' welcome. The noise was so unusual that one Stanley resident, somewhat forgetful of the passing of years and fearing a great catastrophe had befallen the town hurried towards the Cathedral in dire dismay ! It is not recorded whether the victim rushed home to vow resolution after resolution immediately he discovered his mistake.

"THE THREE PECKS."

In our account of the Sports' Concert last Saturday we inadvertently omitted to mention 'The Three Pecks' whose performance was of the highest order and greatly enjoyed. How such a lapse occurred on our part is incomprehensible since the fact that Miss Peck, Mr. Donald Peck and Mr. Jim Peck were giving one of their delightful trios should have impressed itself sufficiently as to make so regrettable an omission impossible.

THE GOVERNMENT'S POLICY.

Heart to Heart Talk.

His Excellency and the Building Question.

"Stamp Out Consumption."

After distributing the prizes at the Sports' Concert on Saturday last His Excellency the Governor made a stirring speech of over forty minutes duration and, according to his usual custom, without the aid of notes, giving a short review of what the Government had accomplished during the past year and indicating the policy for the future. In welcoming the opportunity of meeting them all again, and especially the visitors from the Camp he said it was the one night in the year when he could have a heart to heart talk with all the people in the Colony.

He paid a warm tribute to the efficiency of the Defence Force. Peace was an ideal to be aimed at with all earnestness; yet they had to be prepared for any eventuality. The Colony was fortunate in having secured the services of Sergeant-Major Allan formerly belonging to that famous regiment - The Gordon Highlanders, and who had come out to teach not only the secrets of military training but also the importance of physical efficiency. In its friendly contest with the Navy, in 1929 the Falkland Islands Defence Force had shown that it was already fit to carry out any duties which it might reasonably be expected to perform under war conditions.

The Bisley Team.

After saying a few words about the excellence of their Rifle Range His Excellency referred to the question of the Bisley Team and pointed out the advantages of establishing this annual visit to England on a basis largely independent of financial assistance from the Government.

In the course of a well deserved eulogy addressed to the Civil Servants of the Colony the Governor declared that a policy very near to his heart was that of training Falkland Islands' people to fill civil posts in the Colony. He pointed out that under the direction of Messrs. Mercer, senior and junior, the revenue of the Telegraph Department had increased considerably and that Miss Lehan (now Mrs. Henrickson) had received very high praise from the authorities at Home who realised how excellently she had passed through her training and tests. (loud applause.) The lads sent Home also to the Navy were showing great promise. While dealing with education His Excellency outlined a scheme he was maturing and which he hoped would be approved for the provision of opportunities for Falkland Islands' boys and girls to get out into the world through schools at Home.

The Problem of Consumption.

The Governor then turned to what he described as the "most important thing in this Colony" - The Hospital. They were, he said, indeed fortunate to have secured the services of Dr. Moir, who was regarded by those at Home who knew him best as one of the most able men in the world of surgery. The Hospital was now properly equipped and Dr. Moir and Dr. Jones had an excellent staff. No one in the Colony would regret the money spent on the Hospital which was returning to them a thousand fold.

With all this rain the hockey field will be found very slippery especially for rubber boots. Why not invest in a pair of hockey boots and eliminate the risk of spraining ankles.

Footballers should now look to their boots, there's just time to break in a pair for the match against the warship expected to arrive in February.

Our "KEPTON" boots will be found excellent values as a working boot, at the same time they are very light.

If the weather becomes fine, you'll be doing some riding this summer. If it continues raining we'll all be wearing rubber boots. For either contingency a pair of long thick stockings is essential. "Talking of the Hospital brings us naturally to consider the greatest problem the Colony has to face - the problem of Consumption. This terrible plague" His Excellency declared impressively "has been in our midst for years, simmering, unsuspected, unshooked. I am determined with the assistance of my medical staff and the co-operation of the people to stamp it out of the Colony (applause). I would rather have murderers, robbers or even war itself, than this terrible scourge which attacks the strong as well as the weak and spreads when not severely checked with a hidden but relentless persistency."

His Excellency concluded this part of his discourse by showing that the way to tackle the problem of consumption was by cutting at the root of the disorder. It was for that reason that the housing question had been taken up and they were deeply indebted to the Hon. F. Roberts who had done so much in pushing forward the building programme of the Colony - a subject in which his technical and expert knowledge was invaluable. His Excellency had inspected the model working men's dwellings which were admirable in every way and fitted with the latest appurtenances such as hot water baths and other domestic conveniences. He felt sure the Colonial Engineer had earned the deep and lasting gratitude of the whole community. Food houses were being built in Stanley and the drainage system was being improved. All together fifty houses had been built or were in the process of being built and more were to follow. (loud and prolonged applause.) The Governor pointed out that for better or for worse Stanley was the Capital of the Falkland Islands. It was the heart of the Colony and if the heart were bad and not looked after so would the arteries suffer for they contained the blood stream. The welfare of the Capital was of vital importance not only to the townspeople but to the Campers also for the latter, after their term of service on the farms, inevitably returned to the town to pass the rest of their lives in peace and happiness a course they could not pursue unless they had in the first place healthy and comfortable houses to live in.

In a short summary of the financial situation in the Colony which His Excellency was glad to assure the people was extremely satisfactory he said that in spite of all the money that had been spent, and well spent, on improvements they had a very substantial surplus on the right side. His Excellency caused much amusement by quoting the first budget compiled in the Colony by Governor Moody in 1842. The expenditure was for £10,000 and the revenue £2,000, the deficit being supplied by the Home Government. His Excellency also stated that in 1873 Governor D'Arcy reported there were only two buildings in Stanley worthy of being called houses. One was Government House and the other the Gaol. The latter fell down shortly afterwards leaving only one (loud laughter.)

In concluding his inspired and spirited address the Governor declared that the future progress of the Colony depended on everyone pulling together; no scheme could be brought to a successful conclusion without the close co-operation of the Government and the community. By nature he was an optimist and looked forward with enthusiasm to the coming year during which he hoped to visit both the East and West Falklands and so maintain that personal touch with each and everyone. Though they met one another for only five minutes talk they could do more that way to cement the good feeling existing between the Government and the Campers than by a month of correspondence. (loud applause.) He would like to put on record his appreciation of the sympathetic encouragement given to him by the Secretary of State and the useful guidance and sensible advice given by the officials of the Home Government in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the Colony. His Excellency then resumed his seat amid loud and prolonged applause.

THE MARKSMAN'S EYE.

(By Grosvenor L. Watkyns.)

(The following article is taken from the N.R.A. Journal for the benefit of those of our readers interested in this popular sport.)

Sharpness of vision is believed by many, in truth by fully ninety-nine per cent., to be absolutely essential to success in marksmanship, no matter what the form of target may happen to be.

We hear the oft repeated statement that the colour of the eye largely explains the remarkable success of the marksman. The facts of the case are that many remarkable marksmen have very poor sight indeed measured by the usual optical test, while the colour of the eyes has little or nothing to do with it. It is yet to accurately determined what physical element it is that is the chief factor in making one an expert marksman. I am inclined to believe that it is a certain education or development of co-ordination more than anything else.

There are certain individuals who seem to have born in them a special aptitude for accurate work with firearms, and who require little training or instruction to grasp the whole subject and to keep in trim. These, of course, will naturally progress much faster than what we will term the ordinary person. Then there are others who seem never to shoot well, no matter how hard they try to learn. But the majority belong to the intermediate class, and any of them can learn, with perseverance and well-directed practice, to become at least fair shots.

Undoubtedly, the greatest necessity of all to the marksman is good vision. Of course that should be self-evident, but I have observed many individuals who, upon taking up this kind of sports - the customary test for vision indicating satisfactory sight - are unable to view the bulls-eye satisfactorily, and complain of that fact in no uncertain tones. They may be firing alongside some old timer at any one of the longer ranges; the equipment the very best, nerves quiet, everything in point of fact being carried out in the most approved methods, and still those marksmen having the keener vision according to tests than our old timer are unable to register as they should. What is the reason? It undoubtedly is due to the fact that the eyes of the younger man are not trained to the work in hand, they do not realise, as yet, that the problem is quite different to the one their eyes are subjected to in their daily labour. There also may be that queer phenomena often noticed by skilled marksmen, riflemen particularly, where it is quite possible to be completely deceived in an aim through the fact that the impression of the object on the retina may persist for quite a reasonable time after the object has ceased to be in sight. It is possible, for instance, to see the front sight when it has really moved away, and this sometimes produces a wild shot.

It is found that some men will aim and hold perfectly for a number of shots, but will now and then, without the slightest perception of the fact, take an entirely different aim. They may do this for a single shot, or for a number of consecutive shots. Then, without their knowledge and with no intention of changing, they go back to the old aim.

THE MARKSMAN'S MYN.

By Grosvenor L. Wotkins.

These men may be really splendid holders, have thoroughly established that they can aim accurately, as fine scores from time to time have demonstrated, but they do find in the run of the some of their scores - quite often their best - a shot, or even a group of shots, which they can swear are not due to aim or hold. The usual practice is to blame the weapon, and of course it is not every piece that is blameless; but there are a certain number of men who have a trick of two groups or one or two characteristic wild shots. These wild shots are without doubt due to abnormal aims. It is unquestionably a fact that the number of these marksmen is greater than is realised. A possible explanation is the existence of a small projection or depression on the lens of the eye. This may be sometimes in the line of aim and at others not in it. It is always wise therefore to bed the stock with the greatest care in the same identical fashion from shot to shot, and to assume the position as far as that possibly can be done.

Defective Vision.

The number of marksmen who are in need of glasses is astounding. There seems to be an aversion to the wearing of glasses by a large number of shooters who really should know better. I have observed from time to time remarkable results when correctly fitted glasses have been adjusted to shooters who finally consented to try these optical aids; in fact, I have never seen it fail, although some have had great difficulty in obtaining the right correction and adjustment for shooting, while others immediately find the change a distinct improvement as their scores and grouping indicate.

A few words about obtaining glasses when they are needed. are numerous persons professing to prescribe glasses which really requires considerable skill. Go to a skilled oculist for your prescription, and have your glasses made by a skilled optician, it is cheaper in the end than any rough-and-ready fitting. The subject of suitable glasses should be treated seriously, it is folly to economise with one's eyes.

The Proper Glasses.

For shooting, the lenses should be big, and should be in correct position and kept there. For instance if glasses are used to cure astigmatism and are rotated a little in the frame, they will make vision worse instead of better and greatly mislead the rifleman as to the zero of his rifle. This, I believe, accounts for some of the difficulty some men have in keeping their rifle somewhere near the same zero and in finding a zero something like other people's with the same rifle. Very often the correct prescription, when fitted to one of the standard frames, for everyday wear is worthless for shooting, the eye looking through the lens near its upper edge etc. - because the frame is illy suited for shooting. The fitting of shooting glasses is exceedingly important, and should be carried out if possible with the weapon so that the oculist or the optician may realise the problem, which I might say very few indeed do appreciate.

GOLF.

Rules.

The Committee's attention has been drawn to the fact that some players are violating the Rules for Stroke Competitions by sheltering during squalls while playing their round. During stroke (or medal) Competitions a player, having started his round, may not interrupt it for any reason whatever, under penalty of disqualification. The Committee will therefore have no option but to enforce the rule in future cases of players sheltering from the weather or in any other way breaking their round.

Score Cards.

Players who mark their opponents' cards for any game - either a Competition or a "Friendly" - are requested to hand such cards to one of the Committee, properly dated and signed. The Committee need all the cards they can get, for handicapping purposes, and it is the duty of all members to put in all the cards they can, either over 9 and eighteen holes. Especially does this apply to cases where players do "good rounds", as these certified scores form the Committee's only accurate guide to the current form of the members.

Handicaps.

The Committee have revised all the handicaps and a list showing the new handicaps will be published in the "Penguin" tomorrow.

THE MARKSMAN'S EYE.

Assuming that one's vision is satisfactory, it is necessary to "train the eye" to see an object as it is to "train the muscles" to hold a rifle. These terms are not scientifically correct, but they convey in a measure what is necessary to be done. The eye is merely a lens through which the brain exercises the sense of sight. The perfection of the eye, as an eye, does not necessarily carry with it the strongest or most accurate vision, although it gives the brain the clearest and best impressions to interpret. Strength of vision depends on the strength and activity of that part of the brain which interprets the visual impression. As an example, two people with normal eyesight may develop their sense of sight in different channels far above their original powers, and yet, apart from their own speciality, each may still be normal. For instance, we will take the sailor in the "crow's nest" of a whaler, and the professional big game hunter in the far north-west. Each of these men before taking up this special work were possessed of normal sight. After a few years the observer in the "crow's nest" through constant visual exercise at sea, can pick up whales at abnormal distances, while the big game hunter can detect game which is quite invisible to the layman. Yet the big game hunter would be entirely unsuited as a look-out man on the question of eyesight, and the look-out man would in many cases be unable to distinguish big game at very short range. Why is this so? It is because the impressions and images taken by their respective eye lenses are equally good and clear, but being strange the brain through lack of practice cannot interpret them.

Similarity in shooting, particularly the target rifle shot, in favourable circumstances can distinguish with the unaided eye a six-inch spotting disc on a black and white target at an incredible distance. Instances are well known where this has been done at 1,200 yards. I have myself seen this done.

Were this type of marksman to be placed on a battle training range without special practice, he would be inferior to the average soldier in observation of obscure battle targets. His eyes might be just as good or perhaps a little better, but the want of practice or exercise of the eye in this particular branch of shooting would result in failure to interpret the image on the retina.

The discussion as to which of the two objects, that is - the front sight or the objective (target) - one should have a clear image of in aiming is very interesting and important indeed. Many very successful marksmen insist they focus the bull's-eye clearly, while others of international fame state that only with much difficulty do they discern the bull's-eye at all, and are therefore obliged to concentrate on the front sight, the bull's-eye remaining a blur or smudge.

There appears to be considerable mystery and ignorance upon this point, and it perhaps will not be amiss at this time to explain what does take place when aiming over sights, particularly rifle sights.

THE MARKSMAN'S EYE.

An Interesting Experiment.

In the year 1907, at Fort Riley, Kansas, a series of experimental tests upon the regular military rifle targets were conducted with select marksmen in order to determine whether or not a perfectly sharp image of the target or the bull's-eye is necessary for good shooting.

The ranges were 200, 300, 600, 800 and 1,000 yards, and ten sharpshooters from the 7th Cavalry were selected to perform the experiments. The oldest man in this detail of riflemen was 35 and the youngest was 23 years of age, and their visual acuity ran from 20/15 to 20/20.

Before commencing the practical work on the rifle ranges, the visual acuity and manifest refraction from each of the ten sharpshooters detailed were determined at the post hospital by means of trial lenses etc. Also, the convex lenses required in each case to reduce the visual acuity (reduction in the sharpness of vision) to 20/40 and 20/70 respectively were determined at the same time by means of trial lenses and test types and recorded. The effect of these convex lenses was a reduction of the acuity of vision for distance only, that for near objects, as the rifle sights, remaining intact.

After these preliminary tests, which were made several days in advance of the actual firing on the ranges, the riflemen selected for the firing tests were required to fire at the target under the following conditions:

First - One score of five shots at the target with the naked eye.

Second - one score of five shots at the target with the vision artificially reduced to 20/40.

Third - one score of five shots at the target with the vision artificially reduced to 20/70.

This plan was followed with each target separately, the scores at each range being completed before going to the next. The riflemen were allowed to choose the positions most steady to them as the tests were to be made with reference to vision only, not target practice under usual conditions, and each was given as many sighting shots as he desired. An extremely lucid table was made of the results of the shooting.

"In considering the table and bearing in mind the fact that with 20/40 and 20/70 vision the bull's-eye, especially at 300, 600, 800 and 1,000 yards, was greatly blurred, or absolutely invisible as a definite object; the soldier in such cases firing at the centre of the blurred target, we are forced to the conclusion that a clear image of the bull's-eye or object aimed at is not necessary for good shooting." Thus runs the statement of the very able medical officers responsible for this remarkable test, and their conclusions are absolutely correct.

THE PREMIER & THE NAVAL CONFERENCE.

Not to Go Beyond

International Equilibrium.

At a public meeting in London recently the Prime Minister, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald said that it was no use shouting before the Conference was over for there were one or two difficult matters to be arranged arising not out of any ill will but out of different conditions of the various countries engaged in the Conference. He saw no reason however, for fearing that no accommodation would not be reached. The Premier added that it was with the full consent of the Admiralty up to now that the Government of Great Britain was to make proposals which would mean a considerable reduction in the British Naval Programme without in any degree impairing the security of the Empire.

"But, everybody both at Home and abroad" he continued, "must very clearly understand that these reductions will depend upon International agreement. It is quite impossible for any one country to go beyond what can be reasonably regarded as the state of International equilibrium."

THE PASTORAL OUTLOOK.

An Aspect from the Argentine.

With respect to the sheep, writes Gibson Brothers of Buenos Aires in their monthly review, the decline in wool prices will naturally reflect on the sale of the wool clip for the current season. Compared to last year the wool values have declined from 30 to 40 per cent, fine and fine cross wools having dropped the most. There is no reason to expect a larger wool parcel than last year; in fact its volume will probably be less, due to the dry winter and early spring we have come through. Notwithstanding the seriousness of this outlook, which implies a shrinkage in the value of our present clip compared to that of last year, of not less than thirty million pesos, there is another aspect of the sheep industry that serves to compensate the lower value of the fleece for those who engage in breeding for the lamb market. A lamb of good quality suitable for export, taken from the foot of the dam, commands a price equal to three or four times that of the value of the dam's fleece.

A DISTINGUISHED READER.

Sir Jehangir Kothari and the "Penguin."

A pleasant surprise of a nature not expected from a far distant clime, burst upon us with the arrival of the recent mail. In a charming letter was a request that the writer should become a regular reader of the "Penguin" and with the letter was a subscription cheque for £5.

Our new and distinguished patron, with whom we are all well acquainted by reason of his immensely popular visit to these Islands some two years ago, is Sir Jehangir Hormasji Kothari, O.B.E., of Karachi.

Not alone for his spontaneous and unstinted generosity has Sir Jehangir earned a warm place in our hearts but rather for his perfect charm of manner which leaves in all those with whom he associates a deep appreciation of his sterling qualities and undeniable personality. We have the honour to acknowledge him as our first Indian subscriber and, in sending across the boundless ocean our worthy though "petit" paper we feel we are privileged to extend to his great country - India - the brotherly handshake of one of the smaller and less conspicuous children of the Empire, yet one which regards with the greatest pride the older members of the family flying a widespread flag.

We are in the happy position of being able to give extracts from Sir Jehangir's letter in which he gives a vivid description of his numerous adventures. He is a great traveller and has visited most parts of the world.

"After re-visiting Malaya States" he writes, referring to his "present short jaunt", "China, French Indo-China and an extensive tour of three months in Japan, I landed in Rio, after a chequered (calm as well as boisterous) passage of forty seven days. On the way I left the ship at Durban and travelled over-land under the guiding wings of my old friend Mr. J.D. White, Administrator of Roads and Transportations of the South African Railways, who made my journey most enjoyable in Natal, the Orange Free State, Ladysmith, Cape Colony etc..

"Through his courtesy I was able to witness a Zulu War Dance, performed by some hundred savage looking kaffirs with bows, arrows and spears, long plumes stuck on their heads, knees and ankles and strong rings round their arms with a piece of loin cloth on their body. Their movements with fierce shrieks and yells made the earth tremble and raised the dust all about. It was a unique sight.

"I was shown over the "Crown" gold mines located in different quarters where some ten thousand kaffirs were employed.

"I arrived in Rio on "Independence Day", one of the great festivals of the Brazilians. The whole city was "en fete" and the illuminations were grand, particularly the harbour; its entire extensive circular fringe with the mountains and rocks sticking out and on which perched hundreds of villas and chateaux with millions of lights in tiers, made a lovely picture for an artist.

"Through the courtesy of my Japanese friends I visited extensive Coffee Plantations in Campinas and Riborao, travelling by rail through lovely mountain scenery of the Sicarras.

FREE WILL OFFERING SCHEME.

Introduction to Stanley.

May we congratulate the Very Reverend the Dean of Stanley on the introduction of the Free Will Offering Scheme to the Colony; it is a method of raising funds for the church which and has been universally adopted in England.

The scheme admirably does away with the difficult problem of the natural reserve of parishioners who would like to give their quota to the Church but live in mortal fear of the plate.
The scheme allows one to offer just what one is prepared to give, and to give regularly too (which is most important from the point of view of the Church). The amounts are sealed in private envelopes which pass direct to the Church's treasury.

Not only does the Scheme determine a guaranteed income for the Church but it also places the authorities in a position of knowing how they can dispose of the finances for the upkeep of the edifice and for the purpose of effecting renovations which must inevitably be necessary.

The System has also the advantage of leaving the collections in the plate apart from the envelopes, at the disposal of any departing curate which calls for assistance on the occasion demands.

THE HATRY TRIAL.

Opening Scenes.

"A Desperate Struggle."

R.E. Gorder, of the "Daily Mail" writes that four financiers and one vacant chair occupied the dock at the Old Bailey on Monday when was opened one of the most sensational trials in the history of the City of London.

The four prisoners were Hatry (40), Daniels (32), Taber (36), and Dixon (37). The vacant chair awaited John Gialdini, an Italian protested by the extradition laws from facing charges of fraud, forgery and conspiracy to which his associates pleaded "Not Guilty".

The trial follows the September crash of the Hatry Group of companies involving at least nineteen and a half millions sterling. Fifty witnesses are to be called by the prosecution. The main counts against the four men are that they are alleged to have conspired together and with Gialdini and others unknown to forge and utter certificates relating to the Swindon, Gloucester and Wakefield Corporation stock to defraud persons who might be induced to advance money to the Austin Friars Trust Limited, Corporation and General Securities Limited, Dundee Trust Limited and Oak Investment Corporation Limited by depositing as security such worthless certificates and obtaining cheques for large amounts on false pretences for personal use and benefit.

In addition to Sir William Jowitt, Attorney General for the Prosecution, the counsel include Sir Henry Curtiss Bennett and Mr. Norman Birkett for the defendants.

Sir William Jowitt, who spoke for over four hours, said "the whole history of the case is one of a desperate struggle to regain one and a half millions sterling given for the purpose of steel shares but used for other purposes."

"I believe" he continues "that one Western European power considers it necessary to make representations regarding the withholding of one particularly damning document. In England, France, Germany and other European countries vigorous action has scotched the dope pedlar but the traffic is rampant in the east and some of it has had its origin in some of the western countries."

THE WOOL MARKET.

Messrs. Gibson, Brothers of Buenos Aires comment on the condition of the wool market in their monthly circular for November 1929, in the following strain :-

It is satisfactory to note that, although slight, there was a distinctly improved tone in the European wool markets at the beginning of the month. This improvement is chiefly attributed to the action taken by sheep-breeders in the British Colonies, who will control and lengthen the period of wool sales, and thus avert congestion in the European markets.

Without attempting to forecast the final results of this action, the visible results are, already at the beginning of November, showing a rise of 5 to 10% for Merino wools, and up to 7½% for cross-bred wools.

Apart from these more optimistic notices, our local wool market is operating unfavourably, and several changes have been manifest. The market opened with relative interest and sustained though moderate prices.

AIR DEVELOPMENTS AT HOME.

Result of Schneider Cup Experience.

R.A.F. High Flying Speeds.

New Service machines of high flying speed have been introduced into the Royal Air Force. They are the direct result of the experience gained in the Schneider Trophy Competitions.

It is declared that they justify the risks and large expenditure involved in those competitions. Engines of the same pattern as those used in the British machines which broke the World's Record over the Solent last year, and the streamline designs that were adopted for those machines have been incorporated in the new fighting planes with noteworthy success.

In 1925 America gained the World's Record at what was then regarded as a phenomenal speed of 177 miles an hour. For some time past the British Royal Air Force has had in service the Bristol Bulldog machines which speed in excess of that "phenomena" - machines that are not merely racers but carry full equipment.

The machines now being put into service are further advanced and are claimed to be easily superior in performance to any machine produced abroad.

THE HATRY CASE.

Climax of Trial.

The drama of what is known as the "Hatry Trial" was entered into at the Old Bailey, London on Wednesday when Sir Gilbert Garnsey, who has been examining the transactions of the Hatry group which crashed in September last year with liabilities alleged to exceed thirteen millions sterling, entered the witness box.

"Hatry said" Sir Gilbert stated "we wish to make a complete statement."

"They asked my advice as to what they should do" continued Sir Gilbert "and I asked for time for consideration. At the end of an hour I advised them that the best plan was to call the Director of Public Prosecutions". This evidence was the climax of the trial which then adjourned.

With the case for the Prosecution ended on Thursday the trial worked up to a dramatic climax when Justice Ivory left his seat. The four prisoners remained behind for several minutes conversing with their Counsel. Hatry smilingly received wishes of good luck which men and women friends, crowded round the glassed-in dock, bestowed upon the prisoners.

Interest throughout Thursday's hearing centred on the cross-examination of Sir Gilbert Garnsey who is a chartered accountant.

THE PENGUIN SHOOT.

Mr. J.R. Gleadell and Mr. E. Moatasney.

Sgt. Mjr. Allan Gets the Handicap Cup.

Twenty four competitors entered for the two Cups presented by the "Penguin" - one for Open conditions and the other under handicap. The Shoot took place on Saturday on the Ranges the entire arrangements being placed in the capable hands of the Defence Force Rifle Association, to whom we are greatly indebted for the able and efficient manner in which the Shoot was carried out. His Excellency the Governor was an interested spectator.

The Competition consisted of seven shots (with one sighter) at the 200, 500 and 600 yards' ranges, each competitor being allotted a scaled handicap. The weather conditions were good for the 200 and 500 yards ranges; although there was a westerly wind blowing directly down the range it did not cause excessive trouble. But at the six hundred yards' range an intermittent sunshine made the target practically unsightable at times.

Coming down from the 500 range the scores lie well matched between several of the leading 'Bisley' men, Mr. J.W. Grierson doing particularly well with six bulls and the last shot just on the edge of the ring for an inner instead of a possible. Mr. Moatasney and Mr. J.R. Gleadell made 50 and 52, and 35 and 30 respectively at the first two ranges, Mr. Moatasney securing 31 at the final range with three bulls and four inners while Mr. Gleadell had three bulls, three inners and one magpie the last-named being registered with his fourth shot. Considering that he was shooting with an open sight and no wind gauge W. Browning, who made 84, did extremely well. It was unfortunate that his entry was too late to secure him a handicap.

Sergeant-Major Allan, who was allotted a handicap of fifteen won the Handicap Cup with a possible, his actual score being 90. Mr. E. Moatasney and Mr. J. Gleadell have yet to decide between them the destination of the Open Cup.

The scores of the Competitors are as follows (the handicaps and grand totals being given at the side) :-

	200 yds.	500 yds.	600 yds.	Tot.	Handicap.	G. Tot.
E. Moatasney	30	32	31	93	10	103.
J.R. Gleadell	35	30	30	95	10	103.

A message was received at the Wireless Station on Sunday from the German ship Monte Sarmiento that the Monte Cervantes, also a German ship, had sunk near Ushuaia off Tierra del Fuego but no lives had been lost. The passengers of the wrecked vessel had been taken to Ushuaia.

BATTLE PRACTICE.

Attack on Sappers' Hill.

Through the ingenuity of Sergeant-Major Allan the Defence Force spent an unusually provitable time on Sunday engaged in a Field Day on the ranges. At first the weather appeared unpropitious but after a sharp squall at the beginning of the afternoon the sun forced its way through the clouds and shone for the rest of the day.

The enemy - elaborate constructions of wood and conspicuous for their white "tunics" were hinged into position with control wires running to the Mantlet and consisted of four groups of two machine gun and two rifle sections.

The members of the Defence Force who paraded inspite of other engagements were divided into four sections corresponding to the enemy's strength - that is two rifle and two machine guns sections - and advanced against their objective equipped in battle array. The enemy were controlled by wire pullers in the mantlet and as each objective dropped with "its face down to the ground" the Defence Force section opposing rose from position and advanced further, dropping to cover each time the line of "white-coats" was raised.

Although skillfully made up the enemy were not sufficiently safeguarded against accurate marksmanship, for those in the mantlet, one by one, found that though they held the wires, and pulled, their respective "sections" still nugged the ground because they had had enough of being peppered with shots which had unerringly severed the "pulling up" wire.

Once the enemy positions were located, whether or not as the result of being officially pulled into view, it made no difference to the Defence Force who were neither taking chances nor prisoners, and drilled their unfortunate victims until the quota of ammunition was exhausted.

With the targets grouped around the mantlet the wirepullers, safely housed inside, spent their time wondering where the next bullet was going to hit, whether it would flatten out against their protection with an uncomforably close "zunk" or sing its way somewhere into the top of Sappers' Hill. In fact, there was quite a real atmosphere of war in their vicinity, giving them the feeling that really, the only thing lacking was a Jack Johnson to drap a savoury egg or two about.

After the troops had had their turn at "blazing away" those who manipulated the targets were relieved and, with the N.C.Cs. gave a repeat performance.

Owing to the smallness of the Parade the Inspection in Government Paddock was not held although Major Hay of Seaton, accompanied by Captain J.I. Moir and Lieutenant J. Morten, showed his deep keenness in the Force by attending the practice and watching with great interest and enthusiasm the manoeuvres of the day.

After the attack had been pushed home to a final success and that without a casualty, the word of command was given and the khaki-clad warriors plodded homewards, marching with their rifles slung over their shoulders and covered with dust (especially the rear ranks.) Behind them they left an obliterated enemy and a horde of the inevitable vultures - souvenir hunters.

A DAY OUT.

Stores' Picnic to Sparrow Cove.

An excellent day's outing was enjoyed by some fifty members of the staffs of the East Store, the West Store and the Millinery Store of the Falkland Island Company with their friends on Sunday when a trip was made to Sparrow Cove in the Kelp tug, kindly loaned by the Company for the occasion.

The start was made about 10.0 a.m. and the destination was reached about 10.45 a.m.. The members of the party took their own refreshments and tea was supplied by the Company.

One severe squall was experienced but having cautiously repaired the camp to the Outposts Huts used during the war and guardedly made up a huge fire not even the stinging wind and rain could depress the buoyant spirits of those present. The day was full of activity and while the children enjoyed organised games the older folk banded themselves together in exploration parties and visited either the Gentoo Penguin Rookery or the caves.

Adventures were of course not non-existent and at the very outset one over eager person caused a sensation by disappearing between the Kelp tug and the lighter. But his intimate and not too happy association with the water brooked but a short delay and, after a quick run home, a change of clothing, the victim returned just as eager but a little more cautious. No matter how much the West Store may advertise the quality and nutritious enjoyment to be derived from their mineral waters at least one devoted father will remain unconvinced - the memory of the disastrous effects of ginger ale, lemon squash and the like on the wellbeing of his son remain too vividly impressed to cause his doubts to be waived aside. It was rumoured that a yachting enthusiast intended sailing out on a visit to the party with the magnanimous offer of taking caring souls out for a trip but since no sail hove in sight it was presumed by those who awaited the event that the weather must have dampened his ardour.

The return journey was made about 6.0 p.m. all vowing that a happier day could not have been spent.

CHINAMAN CHARGED WITH

MANSLAUGHTER.

Prisoner Arrives By The Fleurus.

The return of the s.s. Fleurus to Port Stanley just before 1.0 a.m. yesterday morning brought to yet another stage the South Georgian stabbing affray, for on board was the Chinaman Yen Chie who will be brought before the Supreme Court on a charge of "manslaughter" and causing the death of a fellow Chinaman named Lee Ah Seng in a fight. The tragedy occurred on the m.v. Caroni River at King Stromness Harbour on January 9th and an inquest opened the same day and concluded the next was conducted by Mr. W. Barlas, (Coroner for South Georgia).

In spite of the late hour, there were several people on the Jetty to catch a glimpse of the accused man. This is the first case of manslaughter to be tried in the Colony although more than twenty years ago a negro named Johnson was found guilty of murder and hanged.

Fighters Separated.

The Inquest evidence showed that at about 8.45 a.m. on the 9th instant, during the breakfast hour, the deceased and the accused quarrelled and fought each other. They were separated by Liao Lie, a fireman but within a minute or two they were heard to be fighting again. With the exception of Liao Lie no one saw the fight and he, after separating the man of the first occasion went back to his room. A minute or so later, after the recommencement of the fight the deceased was seen making his way on to the deck and was heard to be wanting to see the Captain. He was bleeding profusely and was found shortly afterwards lying on the deck dead.

Deceased with a File.

From the evidence given by Chie Ying, No. 1 fireman, that there had been enmity between the deceased and the accused from the time they joined the ship at Rotterdam in August 1929, but which man was the cause of the enmity the evidence does not show. Nor is the evidence corroborated by any of the other witnesses and no one seems to have any knowledge which of the two men was the assailant. When first seen and parted the deceased was observed to have a file in his hand the tang of which was uncovered. Yen Chie was seen to strike the accused deceased during the first fight but no weapon was observed in his hand. When they were parted the deceased was put in the alleyway while the accused was pushed back into his room. Nothing is known as to whether the deceased or the accused was responsible for the renewal of the fight. The accused was unmarked except for a small wound in the middle of the left hand and which may or may not have been inflicted by the deceased with the tang of the file.

Knife with Traces of Blood.

The accused was found in the cabin of the chief steward and had been followed there by the chief engineer who stayed at the door until the accused was put into irons. The knife exhibited at the inquest was not recognized by any of the witnesses. It was found under the settee cover in the chief steward's cabin and bore traces of blood though it had been wiped fairly clean.

It would appear that the knife was the property of the accused as no one had been in the chief steward's room prior to or subsequent to the entrance of the accused. The chief steward declared that the knife did not belong to him and that he did not see the accused concealing it. This could be accounted for by the fact that the chief steward was suffering from a broken foot and was in bed during the time the accused was in his room.

The Dead Man's Injuries.

Dr. Peder S. Hill of Stromness Harbour said that the dead man, who was about forty years of age, had been struck with a knife. There were four wounds quite deep and sharply cut. Two were on the right forearm but were not dangerous, a third was in the upper part of the abdomen while the fourth was in the left leg above the knee having severed the femoral artery and was the direct cause of death through the severe haemorrhage consequent upon it.

Richard Arthur Gastoll, the chief officer, said the deceased was a storekeeper and the accused a fireman. The name of the chief steward who gave evidence was Lin Ze.

The Verdict.

The Coroner, in returning his verdict said "I am of the opinion therefore that, in view of the lack of evidence as to the combat, a verdict of Manslaughter against You Oble is the only possible finding."

MAJOR HAY'S TRIBUTE.

The Defence Force and Battle Practice.

Captain D.R. Watson, Officer Commanding the Defence Force, has received the following tribute from Major Hay of Seaton concerning the manner in which the Force acquitted itself at the Battle Practice on Sunday.

"Dear Captain Watson, - I must write a short note to thank you for asking me to come and watch the Battle Practice yesterday afternoon. I did not realise at the time that your men had never done this practice before as they really worked like experienced soldiers; they seemed indeed to have a natural aptitude for practical soldiering.

"I was much impressed with the efficiency of the Lewis gunners, and with the fire control and range finding of the section commanders. I am sure that no territorials at home could have done better. The men found their targets very quickly, and I saw no wild shooting over the top, a common fault with troops new to battle practice, and a serious fault because it is apt to become intensified when men come under fire.

"I would ask you to convey to all ranks my appreciation of the hard work which has led to such excellent results and has contributed to make the Falkland Islands Defence Force an important unit in the scheme of Imperial Defence.

Yours sincerely,

INDEPENDENCE DAY IN INDIA.

Extremist Outrages.

Independence Day was observed by extremists in various parts of India on Saturday last at the bequest of the All India Congress which has started a campaign of Civil Disobedience to British Rule.

Clashes between Hindus and Moslems occurred during the week-end while a bomb outrage took place at a children's school.

The hoisting of the Nationalists' flag at the Congress Headquarters at Bombay was a tame affair and at the demonstration in the afternoon hand to hand fights took place on the platform between the Congress men and the Communists.

One child was killed and six injured in the bomb explosion in a school in the village of Shringenda fifty miles from Poona.

RHINELAND OVERSIGHT.

The "Daily Mail" learns that, owing to an inexplicable oversight on the part of the British representatives responsible for the negotiations of the Rhineland Evacuation, much valuable British property has had to be thrown into the Rhine. During the years of occupation the army, and particularly the Army, Navy and Air Force Institute, which catered for the private requirements of troops acquired large stocks of British goods. With the evacuation the Institute could not sell the goods to the Germans without paying duty first as this had been remitted before. News from Wiesbaden tells of the jettisoning of goods into the Rhine and some reports place the value at high figures.

GIALDINI AND THE HATRY TRIAL.

Italian Ambassador Notified.

London City is asking itself "What has Gialdini got away with and will he be brought back to stand his trial?". If Hatry and his associates are penniless Gialdini, it is urged, is not. He hurriedly converted shares into money before the market realised there was something wrong.

In one instance the Italian carried through a large sale of shares in one of the Hatry Companies to a London firm of Stock Exchange Jobbers at a cut price for cash. With this money he has been able to feather his nest in Italy.

The "Daily Mail" understands that the Attorney General's comments at the trial on Gialdini's conduct have been noted to the Italian Ambassador and will be sent to Mussolini.

Hatry is expected to see his solicitors about the appeal, to-morrow.

The R.M.S. Orcuna is due to arrive at Port Stanley at six-o'clock tomorrow morning for a stay of a few hours duration.

The boat is bringing with her a welcome mail of 233 bags - the largest that the Post Office has had to deal with for many months. It will undoubtedly include the long expected Christmas mail of people who have been tantalised by the previous meagre news brought by the s.s. Falkland, and the Dias which retrieved a few wandering bags from South Georgia.

The passengers for the Islands include the Hon. J.M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary) and Mr. Reginald Marshall, the Government Auditor. There are also Mr. Robert Blake, Mrs. E. Rowlands, Mrs. A.M. King, Miss Kathleen Perry, Mr. A.M. Jones, Mr. William Munro, Mr. Malcolm McLeod, Mr. Donald McLeod, Mr. John McLeod and Mr. Malcolm Graham.

UNKNOWN HEROINES OF THE

(By Jane Starr.)

There is no happy medium about a visit to the Falkland Islands. Either you call there in a ship and remain a bare twenty four hours in the harbour, or else you get off the ship, in which case you'll have to remain on the Island for three or four months before there is another ship to take you away again. From a little distance the islands are rather beautiful, with the quiet beauty of low swelling hills covered with short turf like green velvet.

Port Stanley, the capital and only town, is tucked snugly away in a land-locked harbour. It has an uninspiring Government House, an artistic town hall, a Scotch-looking cathedral, and a number of whitewashed wooden cottages with cheerful red roofs or painted corrugated iron. Nearly all these cottages have little greenhouses fastened on to their fronts, full of flowers, and the little gardens are gay with daphne and broom. Among other items of interest there is the main road. It leads on one side to an open grassy space with seats on it, called Victory Green - in memory of the great naval battle; while at the other it ends at a windswept graveyard where the familiar Cross of Remembrance marks the resting place of some of the men who gained the victory.

The chief import of the islands is Scotsmen. The chief export sheep. I don't know which I admire more, but I know which I would rather be. I would rather leave the islands as frozen mutton than remain there as a frozen human being. And I say this after experiencing nothing of their climate except the height of midsummer. I arrived there and left on the warmest day they had for a twelve-month, and yet I wanted every fur I had. The Falkland Islanders, on the other hand, were enjoying their summer - which sometimes lasts four days - while they could. The children were out playing on the green in white cotton frocks and with bare red legs, and an old Scotsman with a complexion like a well-kept hunting boot remarked that it was "verra warm the day" as I went shivering by. And I shivered not only on account of the icy wind, but also on account of the looks of contempt that I received for wearing a fur coat. They expect people to be hardy there, and their women are certainly nothing short of heroic.

Most of them have, I suppose, the three primary things that every woman wants - a husband, a home, and children. But they have no theatres, no concerts, no new books, no dress shows: not a single one of the frills of life. It is amusing for us to go into a village shop once in a while and buy stamps and sticky sweets and shoe laces all at the same counter. But I doubt if it is as amusing for the women of Port Stanley, who have no other kind of shop; though to the women who live out on the lonely sheep farms it is probably heaven to come into Port Stanley and find a shop at all. As an illustration of the way these women are starved in this respect, they all flocked on board our ship - and what do you think it was for? To shop at the barber's! To buy those accumulated horrors which only a ship's barber knows how to collect. And they shopped all day long - shopped as women ought to shop, lingeringly and with rapture. They turned over the shapeless jumpers, the badly-out stockings, the terrible, comic matchboxes and the ornate ash trays. And by night time the shop was cleaned out and the barber the richest man on board.

At the same time, I am sure the Falkland Islands women do not regard themselves as the least tragic. They ransacked the barber's shop with the same joie de vivre as if it were in London at the July sales, and they are much too busy running their homes to worry about vain things. But I do recommend every woman who thinks of settling down there to be perfectly honest with herself, and not to do it unless she likes elemental things in their most elemental state. At any rate, I'm honest with myself, I would not attempt it, for if there's one elemental thing I can't stand it's flannel next the skin. And I know I should come to that.

AN "ELEMENTAL" REPLY.

(Not By A Stranger.)

I cannot but congratulate the writer of "Unknown Heroines of the Falkland Islands" on her intimate acquaintance with our Colony, particularly since she stayed here merely a few brief hours. Miss Starr's article was published some months ago in the "Daily Express". This London contemporary was probably under the impression that it was imparting some interesting and accurate information.

How she discovered so quickly the Scotsman with a complexion like a well-kept hunting boot and a broad accent passes understanding. The resemblance, even to the vestige of such a person here, has been for long known only in the Aberdonian jokes emanating from our weekly wit in the "Penguin". We are very proud of our Scotsman who speak the King's English but who, and I should like to underline this, are not the chief import to the Islands.

Certainly we cannot boast of a Biarritz, a Lido or even a Riviera - mainly through the perverseness of our climate. The wind however, provides us with limitless entertainment. Particularly is this so when it blows as interesting people as Miss Starr to our shores and, in almost the same breath, scurries them hence with the flotsam and jetsam of our climate. It catches them up in a nautical "woolly" which must make life even more irritating than being swathed in flannels.

But should Miss Starr feel us worthy of another visit we promise her no such elemental embarrassments though perhaps she might care to risk a little thermogene - the standby of all globe trotters who for the most part scour the seas in search of health; even then she would have to bring her own. In a longer stay, not lasting more than a month or shorter if she care, we could show her how delightfully entertaining life here can be. So content would she become that to depart as frozen mutton would seem the most Machiavellian of farewells.

Admittedly the "frills" of life do not abound among us. Nor do wives have the free and easy existence of some women at home. Divorces don't appeal to them for instance. And the esteem in which they hold their husbands would forbid them to deprive even a ship's barber of his "accumulated horrors". After all such trivialities are displayed for the delectation of those who take a delight in flitting from shore to shore; those who like our lady novelist have no time to discover the shops displaying up-to-date creations even in Port Stanley. Dresses, it would interest Miss Starr to know, don't quite date back to the days of the leg-or-mutton sleeve variety even if the greatest interest in the Islands is sheep. Incidentally the Probate Court does not seem to be snowed under with wills left by wealthy ships' barbers.

In fairness to the Falklands life can hardly be likened to that which is elemental unless, of course electric light, telephones and cars come under this category or bridge and golf be considered de trop. Perhaps a Broadcast Studio providing pleasant evening programmes to many houses in Stanley might be termed elemental? Surely that cannot be since we receive entertainments from places like Buenos Aires and Monte Video and, even New York; in fact we hope before very long to get London or Rugby. Have I misgivings that Duventry has fallen into disuse? Surely the marketing of less elemental inventions have not thrown it into obloquy. Did Miss Starr mention that here there were no concerts, no theatres and no new books? So she did. Now she is badly at sea. In the first place we have a first rate stage with admirable accomodation for a large audience in our "artistic" Town Hall and our Pantomimes and Concerts compare favourably with any amateur show Hannon Swaffer might condescend to visit. As for books, large numbers of novels and books - both for adults and children - are continually being ordered for our excellent library. Nothing was mentioned about museums peculiarly enough. I think I ought to remark that we have really a good museum perhaps not quite so overpowering as the British Museum.

That Miss Starr's impressions were intended to satisfy the yearnings of an educative public I do not doubt. But I cannot believe they have achieved their object - at least with due regard to the truth. Perhaps she even intended the word "Heroines" to be a pleasant form of flattery. In that case her expectations fall depressingly flat.

Is it not sad that a Colony which has but few opportunities of appearing before the eyes of the wide world should suffer misrepresentation even from the pen of a lady novelist. We are so tired of these ignorant and stupid criticisms.

R.M.S. ORDUNA.

Yesterday's Mail Day.

The low scudding clouds bathing the barren hill-tops in the early hours of yesterday morning augured but a fitful welcome for R.M.S. Orduna as she steamed proudly into the entrance of Port William under the command of Captain Daniels and came to rest about half past seven-o'clock opposite the Narrows. The liner was due about an hour and a quarter before-hand but the heavy mist with the consequent darkness of the dawn delayed her approach.

But almost at the same time that she dropped anchor the sun broke through brightening the hillsides with beautiful hues and giving the jutting rocks and impressive and outstanding significance. They lie an imposing spectacle as they guarded the purple majesty of the distant heights with the rugged grandeur of their crests.

Eager was the anticipation for the large mail on board - the second largest letter mail known to arrive in the Falklands, the record having been established during the war after a wait of six months. Including the paper and parcel posts there were between 230 and 240 bags and great credit is due to the Post Master and his staff for the expeditious manner in which they sorted the letters and papers which were obtainable during the afternoon and evening.

A considerable number of tourists made trips in the vessels placed at their disposal by the Falkland Islands Company to the penguin and sea lion rookeries while many enjoyed a delightful walk along the Ross Road as far as the monument commemorating the Naval Battle. Some went to Matins at the Cathedral where the service was conducted by the Very Reverend the Dean of Stanley. Philatelists made a bee line for the Post Office desiring specimens of the new issue of stamps just as others paid a visit to the Library and Museum where they were greatly impressed.

Among the passengers was the Colonial Secretary, the Hon. J.M. Ellis; whom we are glad to see among us again, and Mr. Reginald Marshall of the Colonial Government Audit whose stay here we hope will be very happy and to whom extend a hearty welcome.

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT.

Mr. T. Campbell Breaks His Arm.

Thrown From Horse.

We were deeply concerned to hear of the unfortunate accident which befell Mr. T. Campbell on Saturday afternoon when he fractured his right arm just above the elbow as he was thrown from his horse.

The mishap occurred on the Common just beyond Flagstaff Hill while Mr. Campbell was riding in. Suddenly the animal reared for no apparent reason and threw Mr. Campbell who did not drop clear and was kicked by the frightened horse.

Mr. A. Kiddle Junior, who was working in his paddock nearby and saw the unfortunate man on the ground while the horse was careering away with the gear trailing out of position, quickly rushed to Mr. Campbell's assistance and helped him home.

It was typical of Mr. Campbell's coolness to tell his wife, as he stepped into the house, not to be alarmed because of the accident. Ironically enough it was only two or three days previously that he, who one might almost say had been born on a horse, was joking about the many spills he had had without hurt.

We all sincerely hope that he will make a quick and successful recovery. His injury was attended to by the Hon. Principal Medical Officer who will examine the break under the X-ray within the next day or two.

---O---O---

DEPARTURES.

The passengers leaving Stanley on the Orduna to-day are Sister Armina Arata, Sister Maria Rodas, Miss M. Davis, Miss D. Hardy and Miss M. Harper for Magallanes; and Mr. M. Keith Cameron for Valparaiso.

The s.s. Flourus is expected to leave to-night for South Georgia calling on her way at San Carlos I. where Major Hay and Miss Hay, who are passengers, will make a short stay. The passengers for South Georgia are Mr. A.H. Jones, Mr. W.D.A. Jones and Constable Etheridge.

THE MONTHLY SILVER SPOON.

The Monthly Silver Spoon Competition shot for on the Ranges yesterday and Saturday, was won by Mr. Mark Campbell who made 93 out of a possible 105. Mr. E. McInerney scored 104 but his handicap dropped his sum total to less than the winner's. The detailed marking will be published in tomorrow's "Penguin".

MEMBERS FOR THE BISLEY TEAM.

Three Chosen.

The Committee of the Rifle Association announce that they have selected the following to form part of the team to represent the Colony in the Junior Kolapore and McKinnon Cup competitions at Bisley this year :-

Captain D.R. Watson, Mr. J.R. Gleadell and Mr. A.I. Fleuret.

It was hoped that Mr. E. McAtasney would form one of the team but unfortunately he has stated that he is unable to proceed to Bisley this year. It will therefore be necessary to select one other member to make up the team and the selection for the fourth man will be left until later in the season.

In the name of the Colony we wish them the best of luck and do not doubt that the honour and the prestige of the Colony will be safe in their keeping.

We have been asked to make it clear that the expenses in connection with the passages of Captain Watson and Mr. A.I. Fleuret will not be taken from the Fund at present being established for the defrayal of the expense in sending teams to Bisley to represent the Colony. The two members will be paid only actual expenses at Bisley.

A ROWING CONTEST.

Preparing For The Navy.

Two evenings this week have presented

Two evenings this last week have presented unusual scenes in the harbour from which the exhilarating sound of rollocks of rowing boats have caught the ear. For a moment their music and the swish of the sculls took one's mind back to the regatta days at Home.

These pleasant surprises came from the Albatross which was out with her crew last Thursday and the Rosy Baker which with her quintet appeared on Saturday. Both boats are training for a friendly pull against each other. If the weather conditions are satisfactory the race will take place to-morrow evening.

Rumour has it that the rivalry is a preliminary in anticipation of the visit of H.M.S. Delhi next month when a crew will probably be matched against the warship. It is interesting to note that up to the present only one of the ship's of the Fleet have of recent years been able to defeat our men.

Tuesday evening's race will start from the Public Jetty and the course will be a good distance along the harbour towards the west, round a moored boat, round the Great Britain, the finish being at the Public Jetty.

The crews are :- The Albatross - Mr. F. Gleadell, Mr. G. Pallini, Mr. A. Lanning and Mr. T. Hicks with Mr. James Watt as coxswain. The Rosy Baker - Mr. J. Lanning, Mr. Alex Bonnor, Mr. J. Pettersen, Mr. J. Jennings, Mr. C. Jennings with Mr. J.D. Harries as coxswain.

GUIDES "GOOD TURN".

An Unusual Surprise.

Sunday afternoon's parade of the Stanley Girl Guides provided an unusual surprise for two lady passengers on the R.M.S. Orduna.

The Company met in the Town Hall to be inspected by Mrs. Whitaker, a Vice President of the Islington Girl Guides, who, having heard of the Movement flourishing in our Islands, expressed the wish to meet the girls on parade.

With the meeting arranged the occasion provided an opportunity of enrolling Gladys McGill after which Mrs. Whitaker inspected the Company accompanied by Mrs. Williams, the Islands' Commissioner, and Miss A. Felton, the Guide Captain. The delighted visitor then gave a short talk in the midst of which another of the liner's passengers - Miss Bokstein - arrived, having heard of the parade taking place, and in expressing her keen interest revealed that she was the District Commissioner for Finchley.

Both ladies were greatly surprised to find themselves drawn together in this manner since neither knew the other was connected with the Movement while among the girls there was a feeling of intense delight by reason of their unexpected "good turn" in bringing together two sister Guides in so unusual a manner.

"THE DOUTHWAITE TROPHY."

Vice-Admiral Sir Cyril Fuller's Cup.

An exceptionally handsome trophy has been presented to the Rifle Association by Vice-Admiral Sir Cyril Fuller, K.C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., Commander-in-Chief of the America and West Indies Station.

In the form of a cup, the trophy is an admirable piece of silverware with a wide and imposing bowl studded with cut stones. Engraved on it is the name Sir Cyril wishes it to be known by - "The Douthwaite Trophy" - so called because of his estate in Yorkshire which bears that name.

The Cup is to be shot for at the Local Bisley and will be presented to the winner of the first stage of the Governor's Cup. The trophy is to be competed for each year.

We cannot adequately express the sincere debt of gratitude we owe to Sir Cyril particularly since his benevolent gift was unprompted. The intimation of his intention came as a grand surprise and we are sure, will inspire an unprecedented enthusiasm among marksmen for the coveted distinction of being the holder of the Cup.

Sir Cyril has also presented a second trophy for the Sports at South Georgia.

Pesca 3 : Vestfold 2.
South Georgia Southern Whaling
Company 11 : & Sealing Co. 1.
Tonsberg received a bye.

The match between the Pesca and Vestfold teams was a splendid game and closely contested and it was only at the last moment of the game that one could definitely pick out the winners. The second game was a marked contrast for the South Georgia Company were much too strong for their opponents. The weather was fine although a strong wind blew from the north-west making good play very difficult, particularly since the heavy rains of the past week had left the ground in an unusually soft condition.

Ritter and his companion left Hamburg in June last and arrived in Guayaquil in October. After buying a boat they set sail for the island where they were to live as our first parents in Paradise.

Their plans have been carefully made and they have accustomed themselves to living without clothes and eating only uncooked foods. As he reared tooth-ache, Dr. Ritter had all his teeth removed before setting out on his adventure and substituted them for an artificial set.

Russian Exile Missing.

From Paris comes the news that the kidnapping of General Koutipoff, head of the Russian Exiles in western Europe, who mysteriously disappeared a week ago was actually witnessed according to an account in "L'Antransigent" on Saturday.

An eye-witness, a young Alsatian employed in a nursing home near the general's house said that when looking out of the window the day of the disappearance of the general took place he saw a man dressed in black turn the street corner. As he passed by the nursing home a motor car approached and he was accosted by two men who pushed him into the car.

A young man in police uniform who witnessed the whole scene jumped into the vehicle which rapidly drove away.

Supposed Action Of Indian Students.

What is believed to be a plot to damage the British Museum by a bomb was discovered on Saturday. An official on duty was informed by telephone by a stranger that some Indian students had placed or intended to place it in order to bomb the Indian section of the building.

The stranger said the information leaked out through an overheard conversation. Search was instantly made and on the main staircase near the Indian section was found a circular packet in newspaper and with a fuse attached.

The fuse was disconnected and the detectives declared that the bomb was not of any known make. Apparently it was home construction. The police are taking a serious view of the matter and the resorts of Indian students are being watched while the mysterious stranger is being sought.

THE HATRY CASE AND GIALDINI.

Newspaper's Discovery.

The "Daily Mail" correspondent from Milan writes that has learnt something of the movements of John Gialdini, the elusive Hatry director, who escaped with a large fortune to Italy before the great crash.

He has been changing his address, so the message states, with greater rapidity than is generally known. He has arrived back from Northern Italy after a stay at Palermo where he went following a period in a nursing home at Lombardy.

During the trial of his associates at the Old Bailey he was in Milan and in constant communication by telephone with a confidential London representative. Before telegrams despatched at urgent rates had brought news of the sentences of Gialdini's companions he had already learned of their fate by telephone. It is stated that Gialdini is in a place of sanctuary in Greece where he could never be tried or extradited.

THE ROSY BAKER WINE.

Last Night's Boat Race.

With a beautifully quiet evening and the water in the harbour as calm as a mill-pond the Rosy Baker and the Albatross met in friendly rivalry yesterday evening.

The toss for positions resulted in Mr. James Watt winning and placing his boat on the inner side. Mr. Lanning's boat was heavier but had the advantage of the heavier crew. The race was excellently contested and when won by nineteen seconds by the Rosy Baker, after a fine pull of nineteen minutes the losers did not hesitate a moment to give their successful opponents a rousing cheer which the victors responded to with a lusty call. The starting point was the Public Jetty and when Mr. H. Hannaford fired the pistol there was a large crowd assembled to watch the ~~race~~ make for the anchored boat off the Government Jetty from whence a course was steered for the Great Britain and behind the Oil Lighter before making for the winning post - the starting point.

At the outset the Rosy Baker slowly forged ahead with a strong swinging stroke, the Albatross jerking her stroke in an effort to get the boat well under weigh. By the time they reached the anchored boat the Rosy was about a length ahead and from there to the Great Britain kept her rivals in her wash though the Albatross made heroic efforts to draw away and catch. For quite a distance the leading crew only just retained their lead but on the way to the Lighter the distance lengthened a little and by keeping well in on the turn Mr. Harries brought the Rosy well ahead. But right up to the very last stroke or rather to the moment the second pistol was fired at the end, the Albatross kept her rhythm and fought hard for every inch she lost. Considering the course was, making a roughest estimate, about two and a half miles round, the fact that Mr. Watts gallant losers were only nineteen seconds behind the winners or less than 150 yards, the race was very close.

The crews were :-

Rosy Baker :- Mr. J. Lanning, Mr. Alex Bonner, Mr. A. J. Pettersen, Mr. J. Jennings, Mr. G. Jennings with Mr. C. Harries as coxswain.

The Albatross :- Mr. F. Gleadell, Mr. G. Pallini, Mr. G. Osborne (in the place of Mr. T. Hicks), Mr. A. Lanning, Mr. L. Bonner with Mr. James Watt as coxswain.

CHEKA MASSACRE.

From Riga comes the startling news that a terrible massacre has been perpetrated by the Chokc Soviet Secret Police. During the past two weeks between four and five hundred naval officers have been shot down by them in various Russian prisons.

The outrage is attributed to the Chief of the Cheka, Commissioner Menjinski, and is described as the worst crime since the Revolution. During the past eighteen months the Cheka arrested all the officers of the Imperial Navy not serving in the fleet until recently. Thirty were confined in Lubinka Prison, Moscow while scores of others were sent to the Solvetzki Islands in the White Sea, to the Siberian prison camps and to the Black sea ports where prisons are maintained.

All communications between the prisoners and their relatives suddenly ceased and now letters are arriving at Riga requesting that a Memorial Service should be held there for the slain. The request is also made that no names should be mentioned for fear of the Cheka tracing the letters and executing the writers in Russia.

New Liner To Beat The Bremen ?

It is reported that the Cunard Company is to build two new and swift liners in an attempt to re-capture the Atlantic speed record. This however has been denied by the company's officials at Liverpool.

Despite this people prominent in the shipping world are confident that the company will build at least one fast vessel to challenge the Bremen.

Before the Bremen broke the record it was an open secret that the Cunard had made arrangements for building a vessel to retain the record and it was generally assumed that she would have a speed of twenty eight knots and be a thousand feet over-all. It is believed that the new Cunarder will be built on the Tyne or the Clyde.

Jane Starr's Article.

R.M.S. Orduna. Feb. 2nd.

Dear Sir, - With reference to your well timed and quite just criticism of an article by "Jane Starr" published by the London "Daily Express" on the subject of the Falkland Islands, the result of an exhaustive study extending over a period of thirty six hours. I would like to say that although the position and standing of the Newspaper in question are well known to you as an experienced journalist they may not be so well known to some of your readers, in short, that the paper in question although widely read because of its convenient head-lines, is not generally regarded in England as either important or influential but rather relying on sensationalism and upon a class of article which our friends in the United States of America would describe as yellow or stunt.

We grant that the hired contributor must produce amusing and readable copy but in the case in point the limit has been exceeded.

Taking the other side of the picture we, during our short stay here - all too short an experience - have had a delightful time.

Yours Etc..

£20,000 FOR IMPROVEMENTS.

Modified Scheme In Stanley To Be Completed.

Sewerage, Water Supply And Drainage.

The welcome news has been telegraphed from the Secretary of State for the Colonies that permission has been granted the Government of the Falkland Islands to expend from its Surplus Balance the sum of £20,000, over a period of four years, for the purpose of improving the sanitary condition of the town of Stanley. The work proposed will complete the original scheme drawn up in 1921 and modified in 1925.

From the tone of the telegram it is obvious that the Home Government fully appreciates the importance of the request and lays special emphasis on the fact that it is convinced of the urgent necessity of the work proposed.

In 1921, when the scheme was first drawn up, an expenditure of £91,000 was estimated, the money to be devoted to the improvement of Stanley. Nothing concrete materialised until 1925 when the then Secretary of State for the Colonies allowed the Government to take some £50,000 from its surplus funds in order to enter into a modified arrangement of the original scheme.

Work on the first part of the modified scheme started in 1926 and when completed last year saw an efficient and badly needed sewerage system, an excellent water supply and proper drainage facilities at the disposal of the lower part of the Town.

It is to the upper reaches of Port Stanley that the major portion of the present £20,000 and the final allocation in connection with the scheme is to be devoted. Work will start almost immediately on the badly needed road at present known as Dairy Paddock Road. The scheme also includes proper drainage facilities with the extension of the water mains throughout though mainly in the upper section of the Town, and it is intended to lay sewers through St. Mary's Walk, James Street, Davis Street, Upper Philomel Street, Upper Villiers Street and Dairy Paddock Road.

When completed the improvements cannot but put Stanley in an excellent position with regard to sanitation. And the drainage arrangements must give the habitations a vastly improved aspect. There will be no insidious quagmires of peaty water percolating in puddles about the very doors making impossible proper sanitation of the homes and endangering unnecessarily the valuable lives of our townsfolk. In addition the bogey of unemployment, which would appear to loom over the Colony and its ever growing population, would at least be allayed. The work will provide more than sufficient employment for every available man in the place.

An admirably concise report on the subject was made out by Dr. J. Hope Reford O.M.G. early last year, explaining to the Colonial Development Advisory Committee graphically the existing conditions in the Port. The valuable road extension scheme, it emphasises, is a great boon but has not yet reached all these small swellings in the upper section of the Town. Their existing approaches become mud tracks in the winter, undrained and well nigh impassable.

The obvious dangers and evils both from medical and social standpoints inseparable from such unhygienic conditions of housing require no comment the report goes on to say. It is surprising that a community consigned to such unhealthy conditions of living should have suffered so little in the past from serious epidemic diseases or should not have deteriorated more in physique and mental outlook. The Falklands' climate, though so rigorous is clearly not conducive to the spread of disease, but the continued disregard of ordinary sanitary precautions must nevertheless be a gratuitous invitation to trouble.

The obvious course elsewhere in slum dwellings of this description would be to condemn the worst houses to be pulled down as unfit for human habitation. In view of the acute shortage of housing accommodation however this course is not open in Stanley until further accommodation is provided for the present occupiers. It is manifestly essential that in order to deal effectively with the problem new houses must first be built to relieve the existing congestion of population. The present houses can then be dealt with by demolishing those unfit for habitation and abating nuisances in others. No amount of reconstruction, sanitary improvements, or drainage could rectify many of these houses, and would not relieve the overcrowding.

SOUTH AFRICAN "ALI BABA".

A romantic story of a modern Ali Baba's cave is related from Johannesburg. Along the coast of Namaqualand, twenty miles from Port Nolloth three Europeans descended a cliff in a dangerous part and discovered a diamond bearing strata several feet thick. After each high tide they found many stones of high quality. Unfortunately for them Namaqualand is a State Diamond field and prospecting on the coast is strictly forbidden. The secret leaked out and detectives descended the cliffs and arrested the fortune hunters.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE.

Chinaman Acquitted.

Yesterday's Supreme Court Case.

Jury and Verdict :- Justifiable Homicide.

Intense interest prevailed in the Court Room, Stanley, yesterday when the Chinaman Yon Chie was brought before His Honour the Chief Justice (His Excellency the Governor) to stand trial on a charge of Manslaughter by causing the death of another Chinaman Lee Ah Seng, in a fight which took place on the m.v. Caroni River at King Stromness Harbour, South Georgia, on January the 9th.

The case is one that the Colony might never experience again in that the evidence was given in Chinese and had to be interpreted or was given in pigeon English, and which involved the unusual ceremony of swearing witnesses by the method of breaking saucers after the pronouncing of the oath. The custom is an indication that should the witness utter a falsehood he realises that his soul would be as broken as the saucer.

The Juryman was the following :- Messrs. A. Martin, (foreman), E. Frewin, E. Summers, G. Newing, H. Wilson, L. Aldridge and A. Steele. The case for the Prosecution was conducted by the Chief Constable (Mr. S. Hooley) while Mr. V.A.H. Biggs represented the accused.

Lia: Lie, a fireman on the Caroni River, who separated the accused and the deceased when they were fighting in the alley-way of the ship, was the first to give evidence. Assisted by the chief steward Len Zee, who acted as interpreter and prompted by the Chief Constable, he explained that the deceased man had the file produced in Court in his hand and looked as if he was going to strike the prisoner with it. He did not see a knife in Lia: Lie's hand. He sent the accused into his room and pushed the other antagonist down the alley-way. Two minutes later he heard them fighting again and on looking out again saw the deceased making towards the engine room saying he wanted to speak to the captain.

Cross-examined by Mr. Biggs witness said that the deceased, who was a store-keeper, started the fight. As far as he knew the two men had not fought each other previous to that day.

Tense Moments.

The next to get up in the witness box was the chief steward Len Ze, who created a diversion which foreign to the seriousness of the charge could not but draw smiles of amusement from the Court. To his great consternation the saucer, with which he took his oath refused to be broken. In desperation he seized the file proffered him but it was not until he had given it three hard whacks that he succeeded. Poor Yen Chie who stood in the dock with his head down and only too conscious of the seriousness of his position gazed on this unexpected phenomena with an air of panic until the tense moment had passed.

Len Ze told how, as he lie in bed with an injured foot, the prisoner came into his cabin saying that the store-keeper "had been fighting him fast". Yen Chie related all what had happened and asked him to speak to the captain for him (the prisoner.)

There was then a tense silence in the Court as a small jack knife was produced and handed to the jury for inspection.

That knife, the witness said was found in his cabin underneath the settee. At first the accused did not say anything about it but afterwards admitted to witness that it was his knife. (the accused's) knife. When he saw the deceased he was dead and besides other wounds there was an injury in the left leg where the artery was severed and which was the actual cause of death. When cross-examined witness said that the deceased was always making trouble with others, including himself. The accused was a good tempered man and the other was bad tempered.

Rushed In With A File.

A statement taken from the prisoner on oath and translated by Len Ze was read to the Court by Mr. Eggs. The document showed how after the two men had been separated by Liao Lie in the first fight when the deceased, so the statment read, made the trouble and was very abusive, the accused retired to his room and sat on his bed smoking. All at once the store-keeper rushed in with the file and was going to strike him.

He put his hand up to save himself but was wounded and being very frightened picked up his knife. They fought and after a little while the accused said "Let us go to the captain" and the deceased answered "Yes". The deceased went one way and he went to the chief steward to ask him to speak to the captain for him. Before they could go he (the accused) was put in irons. He did not intend to kill the other man but only tried to save his own life.

The Prosecution.

In stating the case for the Prosecution, the Chief Constable emphasised the fact that although when the Chinaman Liao Lie separated the two men because he did not see the accused with a knife that was sufficient to prove that Yen Chie had not got one with him. He also pointed out that the accused only complained of the conduct of the other man after the fatal blow had been struck. Again it would be apparent that the accused realised what he had done since when he went into the steward's room he hid the knife under a settee and did not mention anything about it. A knife too, was a weapon seldom used in self-defence.

Taking up the case for the Defence, Mr. Biggs, argued that it was obvious that the knife had been taken up in self-defence. The two men were jammed in a small room where the accused could not get further away. In such circumstances anything might happen. And it was really a misfortune that the dead man's artery was severed when he was struck - struck with the sole purpose of the accused protecting his own life. The evidence went to show that the man had struck the deceased to protect himself. The accused was a most docile man while the other man was spoken of as being most aggressive. When the first fight stopped the deceased had plenty of time to go away and cool his temper down. But he came back deliberately, still carrying the instrument he had intended to use against the accused.

The English Law.

In the course of delivering his summary to the jury, His Honour the Chief Justice showed that in the case of two men quarrelling in the heat of which one man is killed - that is a case of manslaughter. If two men, after a quarrel cools down, go out and fight a duel and one of them is killed - that is murder. But there is one saving clause which states if one of those in the quarrel is in fear of his own life & takes a weapon and defends himself with fatal results to the other then it is justifiable homicide. "But it must be understood", His Honour went on "you have to be perfectly certain in your own minds that that really and truly was the means of saving a man's life. You cannot give that as a pretext for saving a man from hurt. If the man is certain the other man is trying to kill and that he cannot escape or cannot get assistance and, as a last resource he kills the other, then the English Law states that as justifiable homicide."

In the case they had just heard, His Honour pointed out, the accused was attacked by a weapon which, although not usually termed a "deadly weapon", might be termed so under circumstances. The deceased might have attacked the accused with the file with the object of just hitting him on the arm or leg and not with the intention of really trying to kill him. But if he, after being separated, returned with the file and made a deliberate attempt to kill the accused who used a knife and fatally wounded his assailant then, he would imagine, the case would be one of justifiable homicide.

Having listened to the final words in a trial lasting about an hour and a half the jury retired to consider their verdict. It was only a few minutes that the Court had to wait for the result and when Mr. Martin announced "Not Guilty". The jury, he said, were of the unanimous opinion that the case was one of justifiable homicide.

The prisoner was then released amid much clapping and hand-grasps of congratulation.

MORRIS E. EVANS - NOT GUILTY.

Jury And Verdict of Not Sufficient Evidence.

The Story Of A "Stolen" Cheque.

After a trial lasting over three and a half hours, the jury at yesterday's sitting of the Supreme Court pronounced a verdict of Not Guilty to the charge made against Morris Ellis Evans. The prisoner, who was on bail from the preliminary hearing of the case held in camera, was indicted for the alleged stealing of a cheque valued at £6. 15s. 10d. on or about the 18th of July 1929, and before he resigned his position as a Post Office official. The trial was the second Supreme Court case heard within two days and one in which amazing revelations were made concerning the transport of local mails.

Twelve witnesses were heard for the Prosecution whose case lasted all the morning and the first part of the afternoon while two witnesses were called for the Defence. Those for the former were :- Mrs. E.M. Binnie, Mr. L. Sedgwick, Mr. A. Newing, Mr. R.N. Bound, Mr. A. Kullendorff, Capt. D.W. Roberts, Mr. J.D. Creamer, Mr. H.C. Lee, Mr. A.I. Pleuret, Mr. G. Perry, Mr. J.W. Henrickson and Mr. E. Hardy; those for the Defence were Mr. W.J. Bowles and Mr. N. McLeod.

The case was heard by His Honour the Chief Justice (His Excellency the Governor) and before a jury composed of Messrs. J.M. Luxton (Foreman), A. Boyer, F.H. King, T. Reives, C.F. Scrnson, O.King, and Sylvester Barnes. The acting Colonial Secretary (Mr. G.R.L. Brown) conducted the proceedings for the Prosecution while Mr. V.A.H. Biggs appeared for the prisoner and pleaded "Not Guilty".

The story showed that from the month September 1925 to practically the same period in 1929 various cases of mails had been reported as having disappeared in transit from the Camp to Stanley. Recently one of the cheques lost in a missing mail, the only one which ever came to light, the Prosecuting Counsel said, was presented for payment. The cheque was entered into the Treasury and passed for redemption to the Falkland Islands Company on whom it was drawn and signed by Mr. R.N. Bounds, manager of Saunders Island Station at the time, and made payable to Mr. A.A. Felton, a shepherd or labourer. The sum was for £6. 15s. 10d. The cheque bore the endorsement of Mr. Felton and was therefore currency by the time it reached the Treasury. Enquiries were set on foot as to where the cheque had gone since it did not reach its destination at Mr. L. Sedgwick's. It appeared that the letter was posted satisfactorily at Saunders Island with other letters including one from Mr. McPhee to the Estate Louis Williams which arrived safely.

In the course of the evidence there arose questions concerning mails having been tied up with string and pieces of brown paper. But in the case before them, the Prosecuting Counsel said, the mail had, from the evidence, been properly despatched in a bag and put into safe custody on the s.s. Falkland. Everything went to show there was no tampering with this mail. He could not but admit that mails were disgustingly dealt with not owing to the laxity of the Government but owing to the lack of treatment, he alleged, of the managers. But it did not appear so in this case. The gentlemen of the jury had to take into consideration that it was not one particular cheque which had to be accounted for - there were cases of cheques coming from all parts of the West and East Falklands. The list of cheques placed before the Court and which were unaccounted for showed them to have been lost from different ships besides when carried overland.

From that, Counsel went on, one would be forced to the conclusion that the robberies were made from a central position. Mr. L. Sedgwick's letter disappeared but the cheque which was inside it turned up in the possession of the Falkland Islands Company having come through the Treasury and bearing the Post Office impression stamped 19th July 1939. In evidence Miss Dixon recognised the cheque as having been given to her as part of the postal monies given over by Morris Evans. When questioned by the Postmaster (Mr. H.C. Ley) the accused admitted the possession of the cheque and explained it was given to him by a person over the counter but by whom he could not remember. The prosecutor alleged that the accused ought to have remembered the incident perfectly well. The few other cheques received by Evans were properly endorsed but the one in question was not and his mind regarding its origin appeared to be an absolute blank.

The jury were reminded that the loss of the cheques dated back to 1938 when the accused joined the staff of the Post Office and after his resignation had been accepted there had not been a case of a cheque being lost without the Government or the Falkland Islands Company being able to account for it. The Prosecutor also reminded the jury that it would appear that the expenditures incurred by the accused were rather prodigal and amounted to over fifty per cent of his salary.

In conclusion, Counsel added, although he was ready to admit that there appeared some laxity of control in the Post Office that did not interfere with the main issue of the case before the Court. Evans had had, he said, the cheque and was absolutely unable to account for it. Every facility had been given him to refresh his memory and yet he could not say where the cheque came from or the circumstances connected with it.

The Defence And The Mails.

During the trial a statement was read by the prisoner but since the Defending Counsel forbore his client from taking the oath no opportunity was given for the substantiation of the statement by cross-examination,

The Defence alleged there was a great deal of lack of control with the mails both by the Farmers themselves, by the Falkland and by the way they were received at the Post Office in Stanley. It was shown he argued that mails could come from the s.s. Falkland and no receipts given for them. Why, he argued, if seven bags were sent, six might be given up and nobody be any the wiser. The evidence too he said, was contradictory. The Prosecution he added wish to bring the blame to bear of all those missing cheques on the bare incident they had before them. They had in the dock a young man brought up in the Government School, in the very environment of the Government and they, the jury, were asked to believe that that was the way they trained young fellows to transact business. If the accused had taken all those notes and all those cheques that were missing would he have been so mad, he asked them, so raving mad as to cash a paltry cheque for £3, 15s. 10d. and run the chance of being convicted. The evidence tended to show that all what they had heard that day arose from the idea that the prisoner had been spending too much money. They had to remember that though that evidence might or might not have been given vindictively it first centred the crime on the accused. At the time the cheque was believed to have been passed over the counter there was a rush on and he, the Counsel for the Defence, argued that it was quite feasible - he had seen rushes himself at the Post Office, though perhaps the Prosecuting Counsel had not - that a mistake could be made in the matter of cheques. It was not the first time troubles had arisen over these cheques.

Counsel said he would recommend a Rider to the jury that the transaction of the cheques by the Government should be abolished. Cheques seemed to bring trouble where ever they went. A person receiving a cheque should cash it and not have it issued round the town as currency. There was no reason why men should not be paid in the coin of the Realm and if they wanted to send money to people in Stanley they should do it in the proper manner so as to prevent poor people losing money.

The evidence, the Counsel alleged, went to show that there was a certain laxity on the part of the Company bringing the mails to Stanley. One witness mentioned in the box that a packet of mail had gone overboard. Was it not possible that a terrible amount of those cheques had been lost in the same way. He alleged that at least letters or a letter had been lost for twelve months and afterwards found on the s.s. Falkland and delivered.

He contended there was not sufficient evidence to convict the prisoner of having the cheque wrongfully. The evidence had shown that the cheque had passed to another official without the error of endorsement being noticed and even the Post Master had not noticed it. That showed, he alleged, there had been a great deal of carelessness and that a great deal of revision was needed both from the point of view of the carriage of the mails and in the Post Office. With a final appeal to the jury the case for the Defence closed.

His Honour's Summary.

In reviewing the case His Honour the Chief Justice pointed out to the jury that a great deal of evidence had been called and which to his mind was quite unnecessary. The case was a very simple one based upon credibility or whom they should believe. The position of a cheque in the Colony was slightly complicated. If a cheque came by a mail and was endorsed by the payee it was very often accepted as cash. But it was very difficult to get rid of a stolen cheque. That cheque presumably came into the Post Office and came into the hands of the accused. It was one of the fundamental principles of the Law that if a person was in possession of anything that was stolen the onus was on that person to prove to the jury that he was the bona fide owner of that property.

His Honour appealed to the jury to deal with the case as if they did not know the accused and put aside all dislikes made against the Government and judge the case by its true merits.

The accused had been asked to account for the cheque and he said he received it for a money order but did not know how it came to him. "I wish to be perfectly fair and unbiassed" His Honour continued "but it is difficult to connect the statement - I may be wrong, of course, but it appears to me that to say a cheque was handed to a man, a young man in the prime of life, who cannot remember anything about it is not the truth. The only person who could have got rid of the cheque in Stanley without being found out, would have been some one in the Post Office. The accused admitted receiving the cheque but why could he not convince the Court? He might convince the jury - that was for them to decide."

His Honour continued that it might be the accused was shielding somebody.

Surely in Stanley people did not go about with cheques to the extent that they had no recollection of paying them. He could not believe that a person could receive a cheque and absolutely forget from whom he got it. The jury could accept the accused's statement they might be justified in bringing in a verdict of "Not Guilty". But he himself could not but admit, as judge, that he did not like the accused putting in a statement which was not made on oath and so be free from a cross-examination and the asking of certain questions which might make the case perfectly clear. There seemed to be a reason for such behaviour. Either the accused was frightened or he was shielding someone.

With the conclusion of His Honour's address, the jury retired and after an absence of about half an hour returned to bring in a verdict of "Not Guilty". "We find" the foreman added "that there is not sufficient evidence to convict."

Morris Evans was then allowed to go free from the dock amid loud claps from the many people present who had watched the progress of the trial with intense interest.

A gentleman with whom I am acquainted informs me of an unfortunate predicament last week. One that befel two Stanley stalwarts.

With five of their fellows they found themselves out off from the companionship of others through the exigencies of the Law and the misfortune of all resulted in the loss of their usual lunch.

These two, however, found the head of the Law fall heavier on their shoulders for, regalled with biscuits and cheese, they were deprived of a welcome beverage in beer.

ROTHERMERE REVIEWS WALL ST. CRASH.

Analysing Conditions.

On his return from America Viscount Rothermere, in analysing the conditions after the "crash", writes the "Sunday Dispatch", points out that the financial and commercial foundations of the United States have survived without damage, the greatest speculative crisis any country ever passed. Now that the hurricane is over the fundamental soundness and vitality of the United States is rapidly obliterating the traces of the temporary havoc.

"I believe" he states "there are no safer industrial investments in the world than the leading American securities. Sound because American industry is sound and the nation as a whole has and is entitled to have unshakeable confidence and enduring prosperity of the high competence of the Federal Government of the United States."

A few telephone calls, so the report continues, result in the President assembling at White House with an executive committee of twenty men, each of whom is the head of a great industry. And so, unlike our futile Parliamentary Commissions needing months to produce a verbose and inconclusive report, in ten minutes they can arrange a programme involving 2,000 millions sterling on constructive expenditure.

Such, the article concludes, are the proved advantages of having at the head of affairs businesslike statesmen like Mr. Hoover and Andrew Mellon. In Britain where the problems are far graver hardly even a single statesman has achieved even a moderate measure of success in business life.

BOAT RACE SITUATION AT OXFORD.

The reason of the resignation of the three Oxford coaches is due to a disagreement with the President of the Boat Club, Mr. Alastair Graham, over the selection of positions of the Dark Blue. The climax was reached when the three coaches suggested that Graham himself should not row.

Practice was carried on during the latter part of last week without a coach. This will continue until Graham, who has complete authority makes a new appointment. He intends to engage one new coach to replace the three.

There will be a practice this evening for those caring to "turn up" on Government Paddock at 8.0. p.

THE POPE AND THE SOVIET.

"Horrible Sacrilegious Wickedness."

A dramatic denunciation of the Soviet Government's Policy of religious persecutions and an invitation to Bishops and Catholic Catholics throughout the world to pray for the end of "this moral and material destruction" is contained in a letter from the Pope to Cardinal Poupili.

The letter, which was disclosed on Saturday, condemns in the strongest terms the Soviet authorities efforts stamp out religion and their "horrible sacrilegious wickedness which is being perpetrated against God and the souls of men".

It is also pointed out that the Holy See asked the Governments represented at the Genoa Conference of 1922 to agree to exact the freedom of religious worship and the respect of church property by the Soviet as a condition of their recognition. "But the suggestion dropped" the letter continued "for the consideration of material interests which would have been better safeguarded if the Governments had respected the interests of God."

BRITISH MUSEUM DECEIVED.

For the first time it is believed that the British Museum has been deceived into certifying a literary forgery as genuine.

The book in question was reputed to be a first edition of Izaak Walton's "Compleat Anglor" which was published in 1653 and valued at over £1,000. It was sent to the auctioneers for sale where it was discerned that it was only printed two years ago and is one of the cleverest fakes ever known.

The owner had refused £100 and a percentage for the book. The British Museum official who had the dealings with the book said that it was the book's complete disguise in dirt only that could have thrown him so much off his guard.

The measure is supported by both the "wets" and the "drys" and no objection to the Bill is expected from the Senate.

A YOUNG CANADIAN'S

A pleasant surprise awaited us on the opening of our recent mail. Little did we realise the distant renown of our "Penguin". In our bag we received a letter written from Ontario Lake Lodge School and our young correspondent shows a typically enterprising school-boy hand blended with an initiative which should give him complete satisfaction in his quest.

ANCHOR SEA MYSTERY.

Ship Lost With All Hands ?.

An old Danish sailing ship, the Copenhagen, left Buenos Aires on December 14th 1928 on a voyage to Australia. Since then she has disappeared - and not a trace of her can be found !

What has happened to the old windjammer ? She may have foundered in a storm, or - . But there are a hundred and one possible solutions. The fate of the Copenhagen is a mystery of the sea that may never be solved.

Some years ago the Mary Celeste disappeared under equally mysterious circumstances and was afterwards found floating - a derelict with nothing to show what had happened to the crew. Facts that have come to light recently suggest that the crew of the Mary Celeste mutinied and deserted her.

THE DOWNFALL OF ZACHARIAH WIFE.

A meeting of the Committee of His Excellency's Play was held on Monday evening, the Producers and Trainers also being present. Everybody was very enthusiastic and there is every reason to expect that the March production will be a great show. It is to be hoped so as we understand that the Inspecting Auditor, Mr. R.H. Marshall, is keenly interested in amateur theatricals and will watch the performance with the eye of an expert.

We are glad to report that Mrs. G.R.L. Brown has undertaken the duties of Director of Music in the absence of Captain Coutts, who will be away on leave. Mrs. Brown can be depended upon to maintain the standard of excellence set by the orchestra under Captain Coutts.

There will be no charge for admission and the Committee extend a cordial invitation to all.

ANOTHER BIG ART FIND.

Rembrandt Picture.

The "Daily Mail" Bulletin announces another big art find has been made as a result of the Lord Chesham sale. In addition to the Giorgione "Satyr and Nymph" which is now believed to be an event of unusual artistic importance. The second picture is that of a woman much repainted and bearing the forged signature of Rembrandt. It was sold at the price of an example of a much inferior school but since it has been treated scientifically two layers of background have been removed revealing the authentic signature of Rembrandt.

The face, disfigured by bad painting, is now changed into that of a comely woman.

The "Satyr and Nymph" is now declared to be an undoubted Giorgione. The small panel was so dirty and the subject so obliterated that, although the catalogue stated it to be a Giorgione big bidders were so doubtful that the price obtained for this masterpiece was only £262.

DEFEAT OF PRAYER BOOK ECHO.

"Gravest Challenge."

What has been described by the Bishop of Winchester as the gravest challenge between the Church and State since the Reformation was discussed by the Church Assembly last week at Church House, Westminster.

By voting 302 against 108 the Assembly adopted the resolution submitted by the Archbishop of York, the Most Reverend Doctor Temple, calling for the appointment of a Commission to inquire into the present relations between the Church and State.

The question arose through the defeat of the Prayer Book Measure by Parliament in December 1929 and it may involve the disestablishment of the Church of England.

Among the statements of speakers at the meeting were :
The Church's administration is being conducted perpetually on the edge of a precipice; perpetual anomalies are arising in divergence between the marriage view of the Church and that of the State; lawlessness is beginning to spread in its gravest form in the Church; we do not desire disestablishment.

The public galleries were crowded and many women listened to the debate.

BRITAIN'S HUGE DEBT.

Mr. Snowden And Statistics.

Broadcasting from London to Canada and the United States on Tuesday, Mr. Snowden, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, said that high hopes were entertained that the Naval Conference would reduce the friction and the economic burdens of Naval armaments.

Britain's expenditure on armaments for the last year amounted to £115,000,000 whereas in 1913 it was under £30,000,000. The average annual expenditure of the United States on armaments four years before the war was £92,000,000 and ten years later it had risen to £176,000,000.

The war left Great Britain with a debt of over £7,000,000,000. Every year £350,000,000 is raised from taxation without making any appreciable impression on the amount. At the present rate it would take 140 years to liquidate it. It takes the whole time of Labour's two million workers, year in and year out, to pay the annual cost of the debt services.

ANCIENT EGYPTIAN DISCOVERY.

Flint Razors Cut Excavators' Hair.

The largest tomb ever been found is being excavated by the Egyptian authorities near the Sphinx. It appears to belong to the Ptoch Dynasty of Ancient Egypt. The inscriptions reveal the remains of Ra Ouer, high priest to the Goddess Nekheb. The priest was an intimate friend of the reigning king, he was the king's barber, Keeper of the Royal Ablutionary Water and held many other posts.

The tomb resembles a temple and consists of eighty small chambers with thirty labyrinthine places for statues of the dead. Forty five statues have been recovered while two flint razors have been found the edges of which are still sharp enough to cut the hair on the excavators' arms.

A sensational discovery connected with the finds was the dismembered hand inserted in the coffin of the mummy which contains a beautiful necklace of precious stones besides what were magnificent draperies. A skeleton of a man minus a hand lie near the sarcophagus and it is presumed it is that of a robber who was killed in the act of rifling the coffin and just at the moment that the ceiling in the tomb subsided.

AIR LINER DISASTER.

Burst Into Flames.

A honeymoon couple were among the victims of the French air liner crash which occurred at Staplehurst, Kent on Tuesday.

In a vivid story from a farm labourer named Pearson the "Daily Mail" learned that as the machine appeared over the woods it came down low and then, within twenty five feet of the ground it suddenly flopped. Almost at the same instant as the crash there was a violent explosion and tall towering flames left from the ill-fated machine.

Pearson also said " I thought something was wrong as it came so low and the tail appeared to be wobbling wildly. It seemed as if one of the petrol tanks burst immediately the plane struck the earth and as flames shot out I saw men tumbling out of the machine. The pilot seemed to be pitched clear."

It is believed that one of the injured, a man, will not survive and his death will bring the tragic roll up to four. Mr. Hodges and his wife, the honeymoon couple who were among the dead were only married last Wednesday. Mrs. Hodges was thrown clear of the wreckage but only the charred remains of her husband were found.

Phil Scott is now working with the gloves on at Miami in preparation for his match with Sharkey on the 27th inst. - a fortnight to-day. The British hope is drawing many experts to his camp.

Old Tom Sharkey, who fought Jeffries in his prime watched Scott intently when the Englishman sparred a few rounds. He declared Scott a good, strong and big fellow but criticised the lack of grit in his sparring partners stating that a boxer could not get into trim without opponents as tough as punching balls.

Tom Webster, the "Daily Mail" cartoonist sailed for America yesterday in order to see the fight.

THE SCHNEIDER CUP.

The machines to be used by the British in the next Schneider Cup Competition will be based on the models which were so victorious last year but they will include considerable modifications in the hope of the pilots attaining a speed of at least seven miles a minute.

It is yet of course too early for the selection of the team but it is understood that a number of prominent airmen are being kept in mind and that soon as the designers are satisfied with the broad principles of the modifications to be incorporated, a provisional team will be selected. This will be done in order to allow the team to undergo a period of preliminary training before the men actually selected are asked to take up intensive training.

PRAYERS FOR VICTIMS OF THE SOVIET.

Pope's Invitation.

The Pope's scathing denunciation of the Bolsheviki's attempt to destroy Christianity in Russia has evoked warm approval from the religious leaders in Britain.

Through his Vicar-General, the Pope invites the world to join him in prayer for the victims of the Soviet persecution, the date set aside for this occasion will be March 19th when he will celebrate a special mass. There will probably be services throughout Britain on that date.

Dr. J.A. Sharp, the President-elect of the Free Church Council has said "We have already declared our abhorrence of the Soviet's work."

In Berlin the Pope's letter has made a profound impression where it is pointed out that the Holy See has deliberately cut the last ties of Rome with Moscow.

RACE COURSE RIOTING.

A French "Episode".

From Paris comes the news that serious rioting has taken place on the race course at Vincennes through the mis-management of the events and the resultant confusion of some of the jockeys combined with the corruption of others. Police re-inforcements were rushed from Paris to cope with the situation.

The rioters were in full possession of the field when the police arrived. Pandemonium reigned for fires threatened to burn the stands while the police charged the mobs repeatedly. There was violent fighting all over the course.

When order was restored the stewards announced that the entrance money would be returned. Several arrests were made and eleven jockeys were fined severely or banned from the course. Several of the stewards were also dealt with severely.

COVERAGE IN INDIA.

Attempt On Viceroy's Life.

Bomb On Railway Line.

A dastardly attempt was made recently on the life of the Viceroy of India, Lord Irwin, and Lady Irwin when they were travelling in the vice-regal train near New Delhi. A bomb was placed on the railway line and exploded under the dining carriage, two carriages away from where the Viceroy and Lady Irwin were resting at the moment. No one was injured and luckily the train was not derailed.

From Calcutta comes the news that the bomb was caused to explode by an operator two miles distant by means of an electric wire.

The train was travelling at fifty miles an hour when the bomb exploded under the empty dining car, after the pilot engine had, fortunately, passed. The conspirators evidently calculated that the rails would be destroyed and the train, being derailed would fall over the embankment. All that took place was that the explosion caused a break of about two feet in one of the rails after two coaches had passed. The remaining coaches passed over safely.

WOOL INDUSTRY IN THE CAPE.

OWING to the present condition of the wool industry in the Cape grave concern is being felt and the Government have called a conference of the prominent scollors of Cape Town to meet immediately with the view to exploring the possibility of stabilising prices and facilitating sales.

PARROT SCARE.

Inquest In London.

Although more cases of psittacosis, or parrot disease, have been reported in England the Minister of Health has decided not to prohibit the importation of the birds.

Denmark, Germany, Austria and Switzerland have already stopped parrots being imported to the countries.

At an inquest heard at the beginning of the week in London on a woman who died from the disease it was stated that one of the brothers had caught the disease and was not yet out of danger while the mother had also become infected.

Medical experts are examining a parrot which died at Stepney recently in the hope of finding some clue to the mysterious disease which is baffling the authorities.

FRANCE AND SOVIET ERROR.

Ogpu And Missing General.

The "Daily Mail" correspondent in Paris writes that if the French Government ascertains that Dovgalevsky, the Soviet Ambassador, had a hand in the kidnapping of the leader of the White Russians exiles, General Koutepoff, it is certain that he will be asked to pack his bag and return to Russia.

It is believed that the Ogpu sent two of their most daring and unscrupulous men from Bordun to remove the general.

The disappearance of the general is regarded as the most gravest error the Soviet have made since the resumption of diplomatic relations with France.

A party of detectives have gone to Orleans and La Rochelle to test the clue that suggests that the general had been embarked in a Russian ship and so smuggled from France.

The French Government are taking every step to end the intolerable situation. Police inspectors have visited every house in the vicinity of Versailles and the Steer Maisoulaye inhabited by Russian subjects. The port authorities of La Rochelle have been warned that General Koutepoff may have been kidnapped by persons holding Jewish passports.

In Moscow the Soviet officials state the General Koutepoff has gone to South America with large sums of money belonging to the Russian Monarchist organisation.

"IN A COLLAPSED CONDITION."

Yesterday's Police Court.

Although pleading "Not Guilty", James White was fined 5/- at yesterday's Police Court where he was charged with being drunk and incapable on Ross Road the previous night. The Magistrate was the Hon. M.O. Craigie-Halkett.

The case was proved by P.o. Cowan who said he found the defendant in a collapsed condition outside Mr. Vincent's house. Assistance was obtained and White was taken to the Police Station. White told the Court that though he had had drinks at the "Stanley Arms" and the Ship Hotel he was not drunk and he explained his condition as resulting from suddenly feeling queer.

CHILD'S SERIOUS MISHAP.

Fear Of Glass In The Lung.

We learn with great distress of the serious condition of little Kathleen, aged eighteen months and the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Aldridge, who was taken to the Hospital yesterday morning coughing violently, having apparently swallowed some foreign body.

What is causing the child so much distress has not yet actually been discovered for an X-ray examination fails to reveal any object and, as far as can be judged, it is feared that the child has a piece of glass penetrating the left lung.

The seat of injury cannot be ascertained since an X-ray would not indicate the exact place as glass is transparent and it is therefore not possible, at the moment, for the Principal Medical Officer to perform an operation with any chance of success.

BY THE WAY.

A gentleman with whom I am acquainted related to me an unusual sight seen in Stanley yesterday. It was while preambuling along St. Mary's Walk and wondering how long it would be before the next squall would try to drown his spirits that he became aware of the phenomena.

Dizzily perched at the top of a sixty-foot pole he saw what, for all the world seemed to be Heath Robinson trying out an invention for testing the strength of the roof below, but finding his courage failing him at the psychological moment.

In the change of an instant it seemed that a feathered fury was skylarking in the heavens and, he confidently confided, he could not but call to mind the words of the poet - "Hail to thee, "Blyth" spirit, Bird thou never wert."

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION OF THE ARGENTINE PRESIDENT.

Dastardly Attack In Buenos Aires.

Assailant Killed.

A great sensation was caused in Buenos Aires recently by a dastardly attempt on the life of the President of the Argentine Republic, Dr. Irigoyen, as he was driving in his motor car bound for Government House accompanied by a small escort.

The attempt was perpetrated by an obscure individual, presumably by an anarchist, who discharged his revolver at the President's car as it was passing down the Calle Brazil. It must have been due to a providential circumstance that the Chief Magistrate came off unharmed, for the bullets riddled the hood and the glass of his car and wounded two of his escort - Comisario Pizzia Bonelli, who received a bullet in the abdomen, and Constable Sicilia who was wounded in the leg.

Save for the natural confusion of the first moment, the members of the President's bodyguard did not lose their presence of mind in the emergency, and it was probably due to their rapid action that the aggressor did not succeed in his attempt to assassinate Dr. Irigoyen. Seeing that the would-be murderer continued to fire at the automobile, the Comisarios Bonelli and Donadio with the other members of the Bodyguard fired at him simultaneously with the result that he fell mortally wounded before he could attain his dastardly purpose.

Once calm was restored at the scene of the assault, the wounded men were conveyed to the Dawson Hospital and the body of the assailant was taken to the Police Station where his identity was established as Gualterio Marinelli, an Italian, aged 44 years, who arrived in the Argentine in 1896. He had followed different professions and crafts including those of dental mechanic and barber. He had a police record against him and had served in prison for ten months for fraud and robbery. In 1910 he was arrested in Buenos Aires in connection with an anarchist outrage but regained his liberty for want of evidence.

It is rather a coincidence that the attempt on the life of the President took place two years almost exactly to the hour, after the bombing of the Boston Bank.

The tomb contains rough vases and funeral votive objects.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Lang, has warned the Soviet Ambassador of the rising public indignation, and, at the risk of a misunderstanding, had waited the occasion when a solemn expression could be given on behalf of the Church of England in sympathy with the sufferers and in indignation with the persecution.

The popular blasphemies, obscenities and ridicule encouraged and even ordered by the Soviet Government would insist public opinion in Britain being satisfied that diplomatic relations between Britain and the Soviet must depend not only on material advantages but on even the more commonly accepted principles of liberty and humanity based on international intercourse.

THE CRICGLITH CASTLE LIFEBOAT.

In order to make room for the new Gymnasium a souvenir of a tragic adventure was removed from its accustomed position by the Fire Station a few days ago. It was the lifeboat of the Cricglith Castle which encountered some 200 hundred miles south of the Islands in the winter of 1913.

The tragic story of the boat with its load of eleven frostbitten passengers who had been drifting for eight days in bitter weather and without shelter, is now a thing of the past. But many can remember the thrill of horror which passed through all when the news reached Stanley that the boat had been washed ashore by the Gulch at the Lighthouse.

Mr. Sully, the Lighthouse keeper, with Mr. H. Faice saw the boat approach in the afternoon under sail. The craft was coming up the south coast and when opposite the Point took down the sail in order to pull in. But the survivors were so exhausted that their efforts were unavailing and they drifted out towards the Wolf Rock. Luckily, just before they appeared to be doomed to death within sight of land, the tide brought them into the Gulch.

Included among the survivors were the Captain, his wife and four years' old son. Two of the eleven later died of exposure. The Captain afterwards told Mr. Sully that so bad was their condition that they could not make out whether Mr. Sully and Mr. ... were men or penguins until they spoke.

The doctor - Dr. Brown - immediately rode to the Lighthouse when he was telephoned the news and a nurse was sent out in the "Penguin" which brought the exhausted and pitiful survivors to Stanley where they were placed in the old Cottage Hospital which is now the Harbour-Master's quarters.

General Berenquer, the King's friend, who succeeded Primo as premier is taking elaborate measures to quell the disorders.

HIMALAYAN TROUBLES IN INDIA.

Government To Settle Disputes.

Trouble has arisen between the Nepal and Garzha Kingdom in the Himalayas and Tibet following on the seizure and killing in the sacred temple and city of Lhasa of a man alleged to be a Nepalese trader.

The "Daily Mail" learns that the good offices of the Government of India are being used to endeavour to settle the dispute amicably.

It is understood that a letter of apology to the Nepalese Government which at first was not forthcoming, is now on the way and it is believed that the dispute will thus come to a peaceful conclusion.

The frontiers of Nepal have always been closely guarded against white men. The sole permanent white resident is Mr. W.J.H. Wilkinson, the British Consul. Tibet is a country even more unknown and which has remained impervious to Western influence.

YESTERDAY'S POLICE COURT.

A Tale Of A Chopper.

George Hynam of Rock Cottage, was summoned before the Hon. M.C. Craigie-Malkett yesterday morning for using threatening language at the King Edward Memorial Hospital on Monday 17th inst.

Fairport Sullivan, Clerk of the King Edward Memorial Hospital, said in evidence that he went to the wash house to enquire about a statement the defendant had made. The defendant went into a temper and picked up a chopper from the bench and raised it in a threatening way.

Donald Smith McAskill told the Court that he was present at the time Fairport Sullivan came in. The defendant went to strike the complainant with his fist. He did not see a chopper being picked up by Hynam. When Fairport Sullivan asked him a question Hynam lost his temper. Fairport Sullivan caught hold of the defendant and put him outside the wash house.

In answer to the Court the defendant stated he did not strike Sullivan as the latter had him by the throat.

The Court addressed the defendant and informed him that it was clear that he had behaved in a threatening manner but in view of the fact that the Principal Medical Officer had asked that he should be leniently dealt with the Court would not on this occasion impose a fine. The Court warned the accused as to his future behaviour and pointed out that if he could not conduct himself as he ought it might become necessary to remove him from the hospital.

THE "DAILY MAIL" AND GIALDINI.

Lawyer's Statement.

John Gialdini, who was associated with Hatry and involved in the Hatry Crash, has declined to reply to the list of questions handed to him by a special correspondent of the "Daily Mail" who was sent to investigate the Italian's alleged incrimination.

Gialdini has handed the questions to his lawyer who, in a statement, declared that his client did not "bolt" from England and had arranged, two or three weeks before his departure, to pay a short visit to Italy.

He left in England the whole of his fortune out of which large sums have been paid in settlement of his private engagements and to refunds for loans he had raised from banks on behalf of the Austin Friars Trust.

An account would show that the Trust owes Gialdini some £40,000. He had no knowledge of the irregularities and was misled and deceived.

Gialdini says, so the lawyer went on, that as soon as health permits he will have to look for work in order to earn a living for he fears that there will be practically nothing left of his fortune. The "Mail" declares that the statement is vague and the replies to the questions are evasive and also vague.

THE MIAMI CONTEST.

A Fight To the Finish - No Towel Throwing.

Commission's Decisions.

A proposal by Jimmy Johnston, Phil Scott's manager, to have two judges to assist the referee in the Scott and Sharkey fight has been rejected by the Boxing Commission. Johnston also lost a plea for the use of four seconds, the Commission deciding that three were enough. But the Britisher's manager scored a point in obtaining a ruling that there should be an additional time-keeper.

Neither side, so a message states, will be permitted to throw in the towel. Johnston insists on a special provision being made prohibiting the stopping of the contest for cuts or other injuries he says "it is too important a contest for a referee to stop if one man cuts the other or causes any other injury unless it is a foul."

"Phil", Johnston went on to say, "is fighting for the championship of the world and wants to carry on as long as he is able to keep on his feet. The referee must be instructed not to interfere in any way or command him to strike at a faster pace. Scott is fighting his own fight and all the referee is to do is to enforce the rules and render a fair decision."

PRINCESS AND A COUNT.

Opposition To Royal Romance.

The reported forthcoming marriage of Princess Ileana, the youngest daughter of Queen Marie of Rumania, and Count Alexander Frederick De Hochberg will probably not take place owing to powerful opposition to the engagement which was announced three weeks ago. Count Hochberg is twenty four years of age and the son of Daisy, Princess Pless, formerly Miss Daisy Cornwallis-West.

It is understood that Princess Ileana will shortly go to Egypt with her mother. The Count left Bucharest accompanied to the railway station by the Chief of the Police.

The Bucharest newspaper "Adeveral" which made public the news of the engagement, states that Queen Marie and a few members of the Rumanian Royal family agreed to the betrothal three days before the proclamation. Shortly after the announcement the Count was raised to the rank of a Prince Blood Royal so that the Princess might retain her rank.

"United Empire Party."

A political sensation of the first magnitude has sprung from the old fashioned parties launching forth a new and virile party - The United Empire Party - which has been created.

Over two hundred thousand have flocked to the banner unfurled by Lord Beaverbrook in an Empire Free Trade Crusade. In a manifesto issued by Lord Beaverbrook a direct appeal is made to every man and woman to end the Nation's unemployment and trade troubles. The new party stands for finishing the disastrous policy of free imports while traders are kept out of other countries by an evergrowing tariff wall.

The two main planks of the policy are a sane and industrial policy and the development of the resources of the Empire for the expansion of British trade and an increase in employment.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

Poincare Again ?

The French Ministry has been defeated in the Chamber of Deputies by a vote of no confidence in the Finance Minister, M. Cheron. The vote was taken while the Premier, M. Fardieu, was ill in bed.

For some time past the Department for the Ministry of the Interior has been in a state of unrest owing to the fact that M. Cheron would persist in defending the Treasury reserve needed for the urgent task of reducing the National Debt, against the raids of the Radicals and Socialists.

Following the defeat and resignation of the Cabinet the President asked through the Minister of Justice, M. Hubert, in a note, if M. Fardieu would try to form a new Cabinet but the Deputies pointed out that M. Poincare had now recovered from his illness and was capable of assuming office.

In London it is hoped that the resignation of the French Cabinet will not delay the work of the Naval Conference more than a few days. It is not expected that there will be any radical change in the French Policy as a result of the change of Government.

SCOTT'S HAND INJURED.

Exaggerated Reports.

Excitement was created in Miami on Wednesday by exaggerated reports being circulated concerning an injury to the hand sustained by Phil Scott. These however died down when the British champion resumed his sparring after two days rest.

Information from London reveals that if Scott defeats Sharkoy and then disposes of Schmeling in June, Mr. Jeff Dickson is working behind the scenes to bring the world's championship to London in August by matching Scott and Carnera at Wembley Stadium.

The fight would have to be for the World's Championship for a non-title bout would not be likely to draw a 100,000 crowd which is the attendance aimed at.

"A SYMPATHETIC EDITOR."

What The Falkland Wives Endure.

In a weekly chat to readers of the "Lady's Companion" the Editor of that journal writes the following interesting and sympathetic note :-

"What a lot of women there are of whose bravery and devotion we never hear ! Simple women, living simple, hard working lives and finding happiness in keeping home fires burning and husbands and children loved and cared for.

"I saw in a newspaper a few weeks ago of the women who live in the Falkland Islands, and who have no amusements as we have, no fine shops or busy streets - women who live lives cut off from almost all the refinements of civilisation. And yet - well personally, I've never given a flying thought to the Falkland Islands until I read this article.

"It just shows, doesn't it, what some wives endure - and endure it all with patience and fortitude, uncomplainingly. I think it must be the spirit behind these wives and mothers that make those ordinary little homes really fine places!"

PHIL SCOTT - SOCIETY DEBUT.

Knocked Down While Training.

Phil Scott made his debut in society on Thursday at Palm Beach where he was present at a boxing tea at the Oasis Club. It was the first occasion of the kind held anywhere and after the boxing bouts held in a ring in the club patio Scott dressed and mingled with the guests. In the club he went through his regular training routine before several hundred people.

The British hope is very indignant at the report that he suffered a knock-out from Jack Renault, one of his sparring partners, during his training on Wednesday. "It is ridiculous", he said "What happened was - I stepped out of a clinch and my heel caught an obstruction throwing me to the floor momentarily."

NEW FRENCH CABINET.

Formed By M. Chautemps.

President Doumergue has asked M. Chautemps, chairman of the Radical-Socialist group to form a Cabinet and the latter accepted Thursday evening.

The new Premier promised to submit his list of the Cabinet to President Doumergue yesterday evening following on the ex-Premier, M. Tardieu, definitely refusing to enter any of his Cabinet or to commit his left Republican group to Chautemps' support.

Political tipsters believe that the main offices will be distributed as follows :- Premiership with Home Ministry of Interior - M. Chautemps; Foreign Affairs - M. Brinad; War - M. Painleve; Finances - M. Dumont with M. Bonnet at the Treasury; Justice and Vice-Premiership - M. Steeg; Navy - M. Dumesnil; Commerce - M. Danielon; Labour - M. Loucheau; Agriculture - M. Quenille; Aviation - M. Bynac; Army - M. Rolin.

The last-named belongs to Tardieu's group but whether he has his group's permission to accept office is uncertain.

Since the Cabinet shows a marked inclination towards the Left the Socialists' benevolent attitude is taken for granted but the support of Tardieu's left Republican group is necessary if the Government is to have a permanent stable majority.

It is understood that M. Heriot was asked to join the Cabinet but he refused although he promised his support. M. Tardieu was also asked to join a retain direction of the French Delegation at the Naval Conference but the ex-Premier refused.

A YOUNG MARKSMAN.

From an account in the "Shotley" Magazine, the record for H.M.S. Ganges where our three budding admirals are taking their training for His Majesty's Royal Navy, J. Harries appears to be holding the reputation of the Colony as a centre of marksmen well to the fore.

"The Inter-Divisional Shooting provided some exciting moments" the Magazine states "before our team was eventually placed third with 984 points out of a possible 1,200. This score did not bear out our form on paper, which gave us an average of over 80 per boy; however, the results were not too bad, due to some very fine and consistent on the part of J. Harries, Whitbread, Gould and Dale."

In appended pen note at the bottom of the page Harries writes that he "scored 94 out of a possible 100" - a very meritorious performance - with .305 rifles and a four inch bull.

We learn that our young marksman almost won a silver medal as a result of this shoot but was beaten by one marksman who made a score of 96. We all sincerely hope that in the next competition Harries takes part he will carry off the prize.

Enrolment By The Thousands.

From London comes the news that electors pledging themselves to the support of the new party for prosperity - the United Empire Party - are being received at the amazing rate of forty thousand daily.

Up to Saturday night when the information had been announced for only a few days five thousand offers of personal help had been received in addition to the enrolments.

Sir Alfred Butts, the Conservative M.P. in welcoming the party said that the arguments raised against the new movement concerning its tendency to menace the cost of food which would go up by leaps and bounds were "displeasable lies".

Meanwhile the fighting fund inaugurated by Lord Beaverbrook is growing rapidly. In two days the magnificent sum of £40,000 had been received.

It is stated that the money realised from the sale of the papers is to be devoted to the re-construction of the Institution and the endowment of a fund for research.

The inscription on the fly leaf of the first volume states that the papers were presented to the Institution by John Symmons.

THE DUKE OF WESTMINSTER MARRIED.

Miss Leolia Ponsonby The Bride.

The Duke of Westminster was married to Miss Leolia Ponsonby on Friday by a Registrar in the Board Room of the Westminster Guardians which had been specially furnished for the event.

The bride's father is Sir Frederick Ponsonby, the King's Treasurer, who was present with Mr. Winston Churchill as a witness. After the wedding the ink-stand with the Duke's crest on it and which was used for the ceremony was presented to the Guardians as a memento of the event. It contained ink that would not fade. The Duke arrived with his daughter Lady Ursula Filmer-Sankoy. The bride who arrived with her father wore a dark brown fur coat of mine, the Duke's gift, with orchids pinned to the collar. The ceremony occupied ten minutes and in order to see the bride and bridegroom a crowd of fifteen hundred had waited several hours. One woman came armed with a chair, a flask and some sandwiches.

Secrecy surrounding the destination of the Duke and Duchess of Westminster when they left Deptford on the Duke's yacht "Catty Sark" has been dispelled by their arrival in Paris.

BOY SCOUTS LOCAL ASSOCIATION.

We are glad to be able to announce that the Governor has been pleased to restore to the Stanley Boy Scouts their headquarters in the Colonial Secretary's Office buildings which were recently taken away from them. His Excellency has also been pleased to allow the Boy Scouts the use of the Customs Paddock for drill purposes.

We are sure the Movement will derive a fresh stimulus from this further evidence of His Excellency's interest and sympathy and we trust that the Boy Scouts themselves will prove worthy of the confidence thus shown in them.

We wish both these gentlemen every success in the voluntary labours which they have undertaken in that most laudable spirit of public service.

HOOF BEATS.

In addition to those passengers mentioned in yesterday's issue who took a trip to Darwin in the Dawn motor boat, ready for the sports being held to-day, a number of riding enthusiasts rode out during the past ten days.

One of the first to leave Stanley was Tom Paice, who took with him 'Mister Jim' and 'Bluebell'. The former of the two horses looked very fit and is likely to repeat his splendid performances of Christmastide while the latter should hold her own against the best of the Falkland Island Breds which are competing.

W. Aldridge left on Saturday last and is running his own horses 'Swage' and 'Heather' and Vere Summer's 'Joan'.

The Ascot Cup should prove one of the most thrilling races of the day as H. Jennings' 'Maggie' together with 'Joan' and some excellent dark horses from Darwin and North Arm are entered for this youngsters' race.

'Maggie' is the prime favourite with the Stanley crowd but W. Redmond's 'Sligo' appears to have the backing of most of the Gosse Green following.

R. Rieve, the pilot of the Dawn, hopes to pilot 'Tronador' in his usual style first past the post and thus atone for his defeats last year by the veteran 'Tipperary' who has still a lot of friends including Tom Myles another veteran who hails from a county of the same name.

We have not been able to get much news of most of the horses in training but the trotting race seems to be causing a great deal of speculation as the two former rivals of the last few years - 'Pran' and 'Black Bess' are unable to compete and this should make the race a much more open event.

Mr. P. Coutts should win the Maiden Plate he brought over last year from the Coast while his other horses 'Go Bang', 'Shamrock' and 'Tyrone' should do their popular owner great credit.

It will be remembered that last year the weather was so bad that, at the last minute, the course had to be changed and the races were held on the north side of the valley nearer to Darwin than usual.

This year, however, with the beautiful weather we are having and the glass still rising there is, at the moment of writing these notes, every prospect of a record sports year and we in Stanley sincerely wish our friends in Lafonia every success in their annual sports.

"The only improvement in Philip is his condition. Jimmy Johnston, his astute manager, has certainly got him into better shape than he has ever been before.

"Sharkey may be arrogant, vainglorious and cock-sure but I am probably certain he has that punch. I also feel pretty positive that our Philip is going to have a very difficult three minutes after the first gong is sounded, on Thursday."

DARWIN SPORTS.

"Maggie" Gets The Ascot.

"Tipperary" Overtakes "Mister Jim".

In a splendidly close race for the Ascot Cup "Maggie" with Bill Aldridge up came in first, with "Sligo" ridden by Alex McKenzie, second and "Call Boy" mounted by Murdo McLeod, third. From the very commencement of the 880 yards course the race was obviously going to be a tight one. "Maggie" stretched herself ahead fairly early and kept the lead in spite of "Sligo's" efforts to overtake, and won by about two and a half lengths, with "Call Boy" a close third.

"Tipperary" with Donald McLeod in the saddle, won a thrilling victory from "Mister Jim", ridden by Tom Paice, in the Stanley Cup (700 yards) -- her first event of the day. Towards the end "Mister Jim" led but about fifty yards from the winning post "Tipperary" bounded forward and won comfortably by about two lengths, without whipping. "Tronador" with Mike McCarthy in the saddle, rode for a well placed third.

It was most unfortunate that the day, which promised so well, should have turned out so dismally wet just after lunch and cause the postponement of the final eight of the twenty events. In the last two races the jockeys were soaked to the skin.

The remaining events will take place to-day and included in them is the "Champion Cup". Rumour has it that since this is most likely the last season the veteran "Tipperary" will see on the course it will make every endeavour to vary off the coveted prize.

Full details of the sports will be published as soon as they are available.

PHIL SCOTT.

In more comments on the forthcoming big fight Tom Webster says that if only the four hundred newspaper men who are to be present at the contest will remember to keep to their seats the rest of the hundred thousand will perhaps manage to see something of the fighters.

Scott, he continues, gave the best exhibition of boxing in a twelve round contest on Tuesday that had ever been seen from him. "He was so good I didn't recognise him" he adds. Sharkey has been working too hard and is in condition too soon.

Tunney, who invited Webster to lunch on Tuesday told the British cartoonist over the phone that he believed Sharkey would win. Scott's manager is so sure that Scott will win that he will not bet on the result.

A WIDOW AND "MURDER."

The widow of Herr Bauer, the director of the Dale Shipping Company, was arrested immediately after her husband's burial in Magdeburg cemetery on Tuesday on suspicion of having caused him to be murdered.

Her friend Herr Peter, a private detective, is arrested on suspicion of being the murderer.

Bauer disappeared on December 14th and it was only within the last few days that his body was found in the dock with axe wounds to the head.

It was believed that there were guilty relations between Frau Bauer and Peter and the fact that the murdered man had recently been insured for five thousand pounds has caused suspicion to centre on these two and that they had killed for the money.

GROWING FROM STRENGTH TO STRENGTH.

The United Empire Party.

Over twenty thousand enrolments have been received over the week-end by the first post on Monday and the Fighting Fund is nearing a total of 2100,000.

Conservative Party leaders show signs of coming over to the new movement very shortly. On Tuesday Sir James Watt, the President of the Northernumberland Conservative Association, announced his adherence while Viscount Milbank is giving his support and many other Liberal and Conservative Peers are preparing to follow suit. Of these Lord Brownlow, the great land owner is a notable example. Other supporters include Sir Henry Seagrave, the Countess of Mayo and the Dowager Countess of Mayo.

Early newspaper developments are expected in centres where the local press is giving inadequate support.

"JACK OF ALL TRADES" BARONET.

Sir John Pagge the "Jack of all trades" of Boston, United States, who has succeeded to the baronetcy through the death of his brother in January, sailed for England on Tuesday. His daughter saw him off and he carried only a suit case. She afterwards returned to the lodgings in which she was staying in Boston.

The new baronet, who is sixty one years of age, was living at Pepperell, Massachusetts when the news of his good fortune reached him. He had obtained a living by repairing furniture in the town.

The Baronetcy dates back from 1660 and the baronet's sister in Kentland that the extensive estates belonging to the family in Sussex have been sold. She had only seen her brother twice in forty years. He went to the United States in 1837.

SIR HUBERT WILKINS.

Broadcast Talk from Buenos Aires.

New Discoveries.

Those who have wireless sets of their own and were fortunate enough to be listening in to Buenos Aires late Tuesday evening, experienced a pleasant surprise in that they found themselves listening to the jovial voice of that intrepid explorer and familiar figure - Sir Hubert Wilkins.

Except for occasional atmospheric disturbances reception was perfect. Sir Hubert, who talked in English, after paying his compliments to the charming country and city to whose citizens he had the honour of speaking to that evening through the good offices of the newspaper "El Nation", went on to give a brief outline of some of his recent Antarctic experiences.

It had, he said, been his great privilege to fly over fifteen hundred miles of hitherto unexplored territory, find two new islands and a few peaks and different points.

They were not always doing hard and difficult work but had some amusing experiences. Once, he remembered looking out of the plane when they were making a flight and was very much surprised to see two figures running for their lives over the rough ice and snow. All the time they continually looked over their shoulders at the machine in the air above them. They reminded him of the people he saw in Siberia last year and who had never set eyes on an aeroplane before.

He realised though as they drew closer that the figures were those of two Emperor penguins. That type of penguin stood about four feet tall and looked very amusing as they scurried away frightened out of their wits.

On their flights they saw many penguins and seals. The penguins which were always very timid were by far the more numerous. The seals they saw were however quite indifferent and as they lie basking in the sun merely turned over from their sleep on hearing the whirr of the engine and lazily raised their flippers in friendly greeting.

Sir Hubert's Canadian pilot, Mr. A. Cheesman, also addressed himself to the "unseen" audience but showed that he was obviously more at home piloting machines over unknown wastes than sitting in a chair talking to unknown listeners.

SCOTT AND SHARKEY CONTEST.

250,000 For Tickets.

Fight To Be Called Off ?

The daily bulletin from Miami Beach by Tom Webster shows that interest in the Scott and Sharkey fight is growing daily and crowded trains are arriving from all parts. The authorities report that traffic is twenty five per cent more than anticipated.

Up to Tuesday £17,000 had been paid for tickets but the promoters anticipate when the fight begins there will be £50,000 lurking in their tills.

Gene Tunney, the unbeaten World's Champion who retired in recent times, arrived for the battle yesterday with Grever Whaler, the chief of the New York Police.

Scott gave another brilliant exhibition in a twelve rounds contest, on Tuesday. So good did he appear that he did not look like a heavyweight. Sharkey looks in as good condition as any fighter could look although Jack Dempsey said the contrary. Webster expressed the opinion that Sharkey will win on a quick knock-out.

There is a possibility that the fight will be called off owing to a dispute between Scott's manager and the Chairman of the Boxing Commission over the powers of the referee.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

136 People Trapped In Blazing Factory.

One hundred and thirty six people, over half of whom were girls, were trapped in a fire which occurred at the Straw Hat Works of Vyse and Son, Company Limited, Luton.

The factory is situated in Bute Street of this Bedfordshire town and the outbreak was discovered Tuesday morning. The fire started in the basement and the whole building was a mass of flames within half an hour.

Two men and four girls are missing and it is feared that they have perished. Over twenty others have been taken to hospital suffering from burns and other injuries. Most of them are in a serious condition.

Onlookers were powerless to help the terrified girls who appeared at the upper windows. One of the employees told a press man that "I rushed into the first floor and got one girl through the smoke and then returned. I found another girl lying unconscious on the floor being trampled on by a hysterical rush of others. Almost suffocated myself I at last managed to drag her to safety.

Another said "I saw a girl fall from the third floor window. She crashed through the glass roof of a lower part of the building and immediately, the flames released from within shot out through the hole in the glass. The poor girl had fallen from one part of the furnace to another.

SCORESBY CREW'S DINNER.

Sir Hubert Wilkin's Appreciation.

The crew of the R.R.S. William Scoresby were able to spend a very pleasant evening and enjoy a grand dinner in the Parish Hall on Tuesday given by Sir Hubert Wilkins as a token of his gratitude and appreciation of their services to him during his Antarctic Expedition.

The catering was admirably done by Mrs. A. Hardy of the Bakery and the fourteen sailors could not have been more royally served. Mr. S. Beale, the Chief Steward, presided and after the explorer had been generously toasted several speeches were made.

The youngest member present was called upon to say a few words but his efforts as an orator did not carry him very far until the chairman, in a misguided moment of compassion suggested an opinion on the dinner as a suitable topic. The unexpected and pointed reply "I've never tasted better" brought the speech to an abrupt end amid endless mirth and leg-pulling for Mr. Beale.

After the ladies had been heartily thanked for the excellent menu the rest of the evening was given over to a social programme in which one of the most popular items was the song "Asleep in the Deep" rendered by Mr. G. Bettinger. Before breaking up the party sang "For he's a Jolly Good Fellow" in honour of Sir Hubert.

A Farewell.

It was with more than a tinge of regret that we heard Captain J.M. Creamer who, like Captain and Mrs. Coutts are leaving the Colony to holiday in England.

Mrs. Creamer's charming pianoforte solos and accompaniments and Mr. Creamer's songs which are always popular, will be greatly missed. We sincerely hope they will enjoy their visit at Home.

We can console ourselves in that we still have among us such an artiste as Mr. Gordon Roberts who also entertained us on Wednesday. He is undoubtedly a pianoforte player of considerable promise.

SCOTT AND SHARKEY.

The preliminary skirmishes between Jimmy Johnson, Scott's American manager, and the Miami Boxing Commission have ended in the complete defeat of Johnson and full powers being given the referee to stop the fight.

The "Daily Mail" correspondent writes "there is no doubt in my mind that Scott is physically more adequately equipped for the ring battle than he has ever been before in this country. For once in his life he had no word to say about how he should train and Johnson's domination over him has been complete."

He has not yet however learned how to escape the left hook which is Sharkey's most effective weapon. Scott is also an extremely slow starter whereas Sharkey is noted for his terrific aggressiveness in beginning an attack.

Interest in the fight has increased tremendously during the week and now an $80,000 gate is expected. Scott appears to be supremely confident.

A NEW CUNARDER.

To Beat The Bremen.

The "Daily Mail" Liverpool correspondent announces that plans for the building of a Cunarder of over 65,000 tons and a thousand feet long have reached an advance stage and an announcement that work is to be begun is expected this Spring.

For some time apparently the Cunard Line has intended to build at least one vessel to challenge the Bremen.

Definite information as to the speed of the new liner has not yet been obtained exactly but the designer considers that it will undoubtedly be the fastest liner in the world.

There is a possibility that the Company may receive financial assistance from the Government. It is believed that the new Cunarder will cost in the region of five millions sterling.

SIR ROBERT HORNE AND THE NEW PARTY.

The Imperial cause for which the United Empire Party stands was welcomed by a powerful advocate on Wednesday in the person of Sir Robert Horne who declared his faith in the movement in a speech at the Constitutional Club.

Sir Robert has not however actually joined the party. But his address has caused a sensation among the old fashioned leaders of the Conservative Party who are accustomed to regard the Club as one of their strongholds.

In the course of his speech Sir Robert said "I refuse to accept the view that it is impossible to consolidate the Empire into one economic unit. The experience we have had in safeguarding duties has exposed the futility of Free Trade predictions and the falsity of Free Trade fears."

SHARKEY WINS THE FIGHT.

Stanley Listeners In Hear Ring-side Result.

At a very late hour last night some thirty interested listeners-in heard the result of the Sharkey and Scott fight as it was broadcast from the ring side at Miami where after a contest lasting only 155 seconds in actual fighting the title of the World's Heavyweight Champion remained with America, Sharkey having been awarded a technical knock out.

The listeners in enjoyed this achievement of direct broadcasting from the ring-side of an arena some six thousand miles away through the kind generosity of Mr. Les Hardy. It is the first time in the history of the Islands that reception of a big fight has been accomplished under such conditions, Mr. Hardy's set was one supplied by McMichell and Company and consisted of three screen, three valve set. Although conditions were not very favourable the ring-side commentary was received quite clearly on two loud speakers, the announcements being made in English, Spanish and German.

Sharkey entered the ring first looking very confident and smiling. Scott however, when he appeared a few moments later showed obvious signs of nervousness. The first round was Sharkey's right from the start although Scott was put at a disadvantage almost immediately after the gong went by slipping. A feature of the round was the abundance of foot work in which Sharkey was superior. The second round was also Sharkey's.

After the first minute of the third round Scott was absolutely finished and the American was awarded the fight on a technical knock out, everyone was clamouring for the fight to be stopped. Scott was knocked down three times during the fight. There was an attendance of over 24,000 and the receipts were estimated at 270,000 of which Scott takes one third.

GIRL GUIDES.

Last Night's Sale Of Work.

The Girl Guide Movement in Stanley ventured on new ground by holding a sale of work in their Headquarters at the Tabernacle last night when the opening ceremony was performed by His Excellency the Governor who was accompanied by the Colonial Secretary, the Hon. J.M. Ellis.

The hall presented an animated appearance with its selection of stalls displaying sewing and knitting executed by the girls themselves. Those who assisted at the stalls were Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Kelway with the Girl Guides while the delicious refreshments which had been given by kind friends were under the capable charge of Mrs. Hennricksen and Mrs. McLeod. Among those present were Mrs. Louis Williams (Islands Commissioner), Mrs. D.W. Roberts (Islands Secretary), and Miss A. Felton (Guide Captain.)

In the course of his remarks His Excellency said that he thought Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Roberts and Miss Felton with all the other ladies who had done so much to help were to be heartily congratulated. It was really excellent that the Guides should know how to sew and work, and make themselves self-supporting.

A lady from England had told him the other day that the main object of the Girl Guide Movement was that the Guides should make themselves self-supporting and once they started sales he expected they would hold them annually or more often and by making many articles secure a lot of money.

Weaving was still in its infancy in the Colony but, His Excellency went on to say, they might make it a very valuable institution and emulate New Zealand where so great a progress had been made that they had been able to give all the proceeds to pay for the Nursing Association. His Excellency expressed the sincere hope that the Guides would make quite a lot of money. He would not keep them waiting any longer since broadcasting from the Studio was then commencing.

After the Sale had ended a Ladies Whist Drive was held.

PHIL SCOTT.

"In better shape than he has ever been in his life. On Thursday night he will be crowned champion of the World." In these words Jimmy Johnson summed up the chances of Phil Scott when he meets Jack Sharkey.

After showing little enthusiasm in sparring drills, Scott put in some sparkling work with his sparring partners on Saturday.

THE UNITED EMPIRE PARTY.

Enrolment By Tho Thousands.

From London comes the news that electors pledging themselves to the support of the new party for prosperity - The United Empire Party - are being received at the amazing rate of forty thousand daily.

Up to Saturday night when the information had been announced for only a few days five thousand offers of personal help had been received in addition to the enrolments.

Sir Alfred Butts, the Conservative M.P. in welcoming the party said that the arguments raised against the new movement concerning its tendency to manage the cost of food which would go up by leaps and bounds were "dispicable lies".

Meanwhile the fighting fund inaugurated by Lord Beaverbrook is growing rapidly. In two days the magnificent sum of £40,000 had been received.

WASHINGTON MANUSCRIPTS.

Sale To American Collector.

Over twenty thousand manuscripts including a large number of letters written by President Washington to British officers and up to the present forming a valuable part of the Dorchester Collection of Papers have just been sold by the Royal Institution of Great Britain for a large sum of money to Dr. Prosenback, the American collector.

The Doctor describes the documents which contain the Headquarters papers of the British Army during the war of Independence, as the greatest collection of American papers extant.

It is stated that the money realised from the sale of the papers is to be devoted to the re-construction of the Institution and the endowment of a fund for research.

The inscription on the fly-leaf of the first volume states that the papers were presented to the Institution by John Symmons.

THE DUKE OF WESTMINSTER MARRIED.

Miss Leolia Ponsonby The Bride.

The Duke of Westminster was married to Miss Leolia Ponsonby on Friday by a Registrar in the Board Room of the Westminster Guardians which had been specially furnished for the event.

The bride's father is Sir Fredrick Ponsonby, the King's Treasurer, who was present with Mr. Winston Churchill as a witness. After the wedding the ink-stand with the Duke's crest on it and which was used for the ceremony was presented to the Guardians as a memento of the event. It contained ink that would not fade. The Duke arrived with his daughter Lady Ursula Filmer-Sankey. The bride who arrived with her father wore a dark brown fur coat of mine, the Duke's gift, with orchids pinned to the collar. The ceremony occupied ten minutes and in order to see the bride and bridegroom a crowd of fifteen hundred had waited several hours. One woman came armed with a chair, a flask and some sandwiches.

Secrecy surrounding the destination of the Duke and Duchess of Westminster when they left Deptford on the Duke's yacht "Cutty Sark" has been dispelled by their arrival in Paris.

The Duke and his wife are staying at the hotel where they stayed several days preceding their departure for the wedding in London.

"Prince's" Assertions.

Despite denials Count Hochberg, who has been raised to the status of a Prince Blood Royal in view of his betrothal to Princess Ileana of Rumania, insists that he is still engaged to the Princess.

"I receive telegrams and letters every day from the Princess" he has stated in an interview. "I have just received a telegram from her in which she tells me not to be disturbed by the reports that the engagement is broken off. I cannot believe there is any hitch in our plans. She has asked me to meet her in Cairo. We still love each other very much and it seems preposterous that our happiness should be wrecked by political intrigues. I shall go to Cairo by aeroplane."

THE BISLEY MEETING.

Dogged By Bad Weather.
Shoots Postponed.

Mr. J.W. Grierson Wins Douthwaite Trophy.
Second Stage "King's Cup".

It would be our misfortune to have so promising a spell of weather herald the approach of the Bisley Shoot and then at the actual time of the events - Saturday and yesterday - two of the most despicable of days. And it would be peculiar to the perverseness of the climate to show itself shamelessly yesterday afternoon and evening oblivious to the bad taste it had exhibited before. The shoots had to be postponed until next Saturday.

On Saturday Sappers Hill was almost continually shrouded in a blanket of fog and mist which played unmercifully with the targets particularly on the new range, at times making the bulls-eyes absolutely invisible. The perpetual drizzle did not improve matters and the only consoling feature was the restful shelter of the new pavilion which, paradoxically enough, could not have had a better day for displaying the extent of its usefulness. There was an appreciable wind blowing both days but by itself would not have proved too difficult a contention.

Saturday morning's fog and mist delayed the shoots for over an hour much to the chagrin of doughty competitors who slept in the pavilion overnight in order not to be late. With a struggle the first stage of the "King's" and the Handicap competitions were completed before the close of the day but the 500 and 600 Yards Open did not get a thought although it was included in the day's programme.

Peculiarly enough the First Stage of the "King's" found the standard of shooting very high and there was no room in the Second Stage for those with scores of less than 80. The contest for the Douthwaite Trophy (the best score in the First Stage) was also very keen Mr. J.W. Grierson beating Mr. A.H. Hills by one point and returning winner with a card of 94.

Both Mr. Grierson and Mr. Hills came back to the 600 yards with 62 and both then secured four bulls but the runner-up dropped to a magpie with his fifth shot while the winner kept to inners. Only one other came back with 62 and that was Mr. E. McAtasney who "cooked his goose" with three successive magpies after leading with an inner and making bulls with his last three shots. The 600 yards scores of the first two were :-

Mr. Grierson	5, 5, (sighters)	4, 5, 4, 5, 5, 5, 4.
Mr. Hills	4, (sighter)	5, 5, 4, 5, 3, 4, 5,

The Handicap, for which there were between forty and fifty entries was won by Mr. O.I. King who obtained a score of 111 (91 plus 20 handicap) while the Recruits Cup, incorporated in the same competition, was won by Mr. R.E. Biggs with a score of 73.

At first, the weather Sunday morning when it was proposed to hold the opening shoot at 7.50 a.m. (half an hour earlier than the morning before) in an effort to recover some of the lost time, was not completely devoid of promise but the rain quickly showed its determination to dampen the proceedings and the Committee were compelled to haul down their colours soon after 11 o'clock. The difficulties of the marksmen can well be summed up from the hopeless state of affairs prevailing at the 900 yards in the Bishop's Cup. Out of twenty nine shots only two hit the targets - would be marksmen then pathetically retired, wet through, and disconsolate, burying deeply the futile hope of a pleasant afternoon among the ladies and pic-nic teas. The only thing to keep them going was the expectancy of the dance in the Town Hall this evening which will take place this evening and will, be, we hope as successful as the shoots were not.

The twenty four who will shoot in the Second Stage of the "King's" are :-

J.W. Grierson	94.	R.L. Robson	85.
A.H. Hills	93.	J. Peck	85.
F. Aldridge	92.	H.M. The Governor	84.

THE CHANNEL TUNNEL.

Scheme Before Prime Minister.

The long awaited report of the Channel Tunnel Committee reached the Premier on Friday night in time to go with other important papers to Chequers where Mr. MacDonald considered it over the week-end.

The document is very voluminous for the Committee have exhaustively covered the economic aspects of the project. It is believed to be of such a nature that the Government will call together a Committee of the Imperial Defence to consider the military and naval aspects.

The Tunnel Committee was appointed by the Conservatives in March 1929 and the members include Sir E.R. Peacock (chairman), Lord Robisham, Sir Clement Lindley, Sir Frederick Lewis, and Sir Henry Strakosch.

The Committee's report considers two eighteen foot tunnels under the Straits of Dover, thirty six miles long and one twelve foot drainage, at the estimated cost of £25,000,000. The work would absorb a large number of the unemployed for four and a half years.

SCOTT & ANOTHER FOUL.

A furious discussion has been started in London as to whether Scott was fouled by Sharkey in the extraordinary fight in Miami last Thursday. Sharkey was awarded the fight, this latest report explains, after the referee had taken the unprecedented step of stopping the fight for a minute to allow Scott to continue.

The fight was not only a fiasco but a failure financially, the report continues, only 18,000 instead of 50,000 people paying as expected. The receipts were only £38,000 and the promoters lost £1,000 while Scott only received £6,400.

Tom Webster from Miami states that the final blow which put Scott down was perfectly fair. Although the referee said he saw no fouls it seemed extraordinary that he didn't attempt to count Scott out. Scott really fought Sharkey twice. The first fight should have been won on a foul and a second he lost through a blow to the mark.

A doctor commissioned to examine Scott states that the Englishman was hit foully on the hip, paralysing the sciatic nerve with the result that he could not use the leg properly.

After a restless night during which he had to be given morphia to allay the pain, Phil Scott rested comfortably on Friday in the Miami Solarium where he is receiving electrical treatment for his injured sciatic nerve.

Scott said "I shall soon be all right and will pull off the championship."

In reply to an offer made by Jeff Dickson for Sharkey to meet Phil Scott in London the following cable was received by the promoters on Saturday from Sharkey's manager - "Sharkey will not consider any proposition until after his match with Schmeling."

The D.M. Galloway Cup.

This match-play competition, played over the last two week ends, was won by Mr. C.A. Parkinson who beat the Hon. G. Roberts in the final on Saturday last by four up and two to play. Mr. Parkinson therefore becomes the possessor of Mr. Galloway's very handsome trophy while the Hon. G. Roberts takes the prize for the runner-up, also presented by Mr. Galloway.

Mr. Parkinson won his way into the final by defeating respectively Mr. Morton, Mr. Galloway, and His Excellency the Governor, while Mr. Roberts had a somewhat easy passage in beating Mr. O'Sullivan, the Hon. J.I. Meir and Mr. Ley.

The following competitions remain to be played during the present season :- The Archie Morrison Challenge Cup (Ladies Foursomes), and a competition for a cup kindly offered to the Committee by Major M.V. Hay. The details of these competitions will be fixed and announced in due course.

The chairman of the Committee and the honorary secretary, who are leaving the Colony this week (Mr. Galloway, probably for good, and Mr. Greamer for six months) desire to take this opportunity of thanking the other members of the Committee for their excellent service during the season nearly ended.

The interest taken in the welfare of this Section by His Excellency the Governor, the loyalty of the Committee, and the enthusiasm and good sportsmanship of all the members of the Section have rendered their duties, if sometimes a little arduous, always pleasurable and worth while.

LEADING THE WAY.

Stanley And The Broadcast World.

The following article from the "Birmingham Post" daily paper is reprinted as likely to be of interest to our readers in so much as it shows that the local Broadcast System which has been for some time in regular working order in Stanley is at present being installed for the first time in the progressive city of Bradford where it is regarded in the nature of a novel experiment. :-

"Novel Wireless Experiment

Planned.

Listeners Who Will Need Only

A Plug And A Loud-Speaker.

'Wireless on Tap' is being planned for a Bradford suburb. A company is being formed by two business men, who are to erect a super-receiving set in the centre of a populous district. This set will be working from early morning until midnight. A selected programme will flow out of this miniature station over wires to houses of the company's subscribers, who only need a loud-speaker and a plugging device to tap the best of the day's broadcasts.

The fee for this service will be 2/- a week, and arrangements are being made to wire houses in the district. It is hoped to establish more stations of the kind throughout the city.

It is extremely gratifying for us in this small and isolated Colony to find that our own public services such as broadcasting, are actually in advance of those of one of the leading towns in England and we think that our pride in such an unaided achievement is more than pardonable.

We cannot furthermore forbear the comment that on the ground of cost also Stanley scores. The fee for the service in Bradford is fixed at 2/- a week: in Stanley a charge of 10/- a year is made.

THE VATICAN AND DRESSES.

Immodest Tendencies.

Strong criticisms of the immodest tendencies of women's dress is contained in a letter issued by the Congrégation of the Council of the Catholic Church in the Vatican City. Orders are being given for the setting up of a Council of Vigilance in each of the dioceses of the Catholic bishops throughout the world.

It is suggested that parents should keep their daughters from taking part in public exercises, but if they must they should wear modest clothes. It is pointed out that the heads of schools and colleges should influence the girls to dress decently and teachers should be requested not to admit girls who did not dress properly. Improperly dressed women should be excluded from Holy Communion and from acting as godmothers at baptisms.

THE NEW PARTY.

I.O.U. To Reds.

An extract from Lord Rothermere's article in Sunday's "Despatch" entitled from I.O.U. to Reds, points out that in National affairs as in business success mainly depends upon a strong leadership.

There was far too much weak industrial finance in Britain and in addition it was constructed on the precarious basis of I.O.U. We want to put it back on a firm foundation, he said.

With the United Empire Party in power a fresh issue of capital would be constantly announced. The Stock Exchange which is now stagnant would be working at full capacity to deal with the steady flow of investment in all kinds of productive businesses. At the same time there would be an immense inflow of American capital and organising ability eager to share in the new era of British prosperity.

The great industrial leaders of the United States, finding the British market barred to their products by the high protective tariff, would stream over here and open branch establishments employing British labour.

As trade and wages improved the demand for cheap cars would become so strong that Coventry, Oxford and Manchester would see new works springing up to meet it.

This trade stimulus would combine to put new life in the basic industries of coal, iron and steel.

Entrusted For Sale In New York.

The disappearance of a diamond necklace valued at £20,000 and stated to belong to the Arch Duchess Maria Theresa of Austria is being investigated by the police in New York.

The necklace was reported to have been entrusted, for sale in the city, to a colonel of the British Secret Service after the Duchess had confirmation of his status from the Foreign Office.

A district attorney received a visit from a woman who said she was an intimate friend of the Arch Duchess who sent her with power of attorney to recover the necklace. Her story was that a month ago the Arch Duchess had received a story information that the necklace was sold in New York for £20,000 and although the Arch Duchess tried to find the omisary she has failed to trace him.

THE BISLEY DANCE.

His Excellency's Speech.

Captain Watson And Serious Shooting.

The dance organised by the Defence Force Rifle Association as a grand climax to the Bisley Meeting somewhat mis-fired on Monday night owing to the bad weather having caused the Committee to postpone the shoots until next week. But from the point of view of all gathered in the Town Hall where the dance was held nothing could have been more enjoyable and the event was a complete success. The proceeds which will be devoted to the Local Bisley Fund amounted to over £11. The catering was excellently done by Mr. J.F. Summers and his helpers while the great variety of good music was provided by the Shells Band and the Jazz Band. His Excellency the Governor and Miss Fay were among those present.

In the course of the evening His Excellency made a short speech. In introducing the Governor Captain D.R. Watson (Officer Commanding the Defence Force) pointed out that owing to the severe weather over the week-end they had been able to shoot off only two of the Competitions - the First Stage of the Governor's Cup and the Open Handicap. The First Stage of the Governor's Cup and the Perthwaite Trophy was won by Mr. J.W. Grierson (loud applause) with a score of 94 which considering the conditions showed a very high standard of shooting.. The Handicap was won by Mr. O. King who scored 81. Rifle.

Good Rifles.

"It is most noticeable" Captain Watson went on to say "that this year's Meeting, as far as we have gone, has shown a conspicuously high standard of shooting. The fifty per cent of the men who fired in the First Stage of the Governor's Cup and who succeeded in getting into the Second Stage have scored in each case no less than eighty points. This is very good indeed and I think it is mainly due to the men having gone to the expense of getting good rifles and through the issue of twenty re-barrelled rifles by the Government. I hope, this year, more men will avail themselves of the opportunity which is given them by the Government to send their rifles home and get them re-barrelled. Certainly the man who intends to take shooting seriously and raising himself to a high standard of marksmanship must get his own rifle." (applause.)

Captain Watson then thanked His Excellency for providing the Defence Force and the Rifle Association with so magnificent a pavilion (loud applause.) The week-end proved a very good test for these excellent quarters and he was sure everyone appreciated only too well the benefits of having such a building on the ranges. In conclusion he thanked His Excellency for attending the dance that evening. Unfortunately there were not so many as were expected though this was due also, he thought, to the weather. But it was hoped to hold another dance after the Bisley Meeting had concluded, probably the second night after the arrival of the Delhi in Stanley.

Mr. Grierson And a Shilling.

His Excellency then addressed those present in the following words :- "Captain Watson, Ladies and Gentlemen - I thank you very much for having asked me to your dance to-night and for the kind remarks you have made. I must apologise that my wife is not able to be present since the wind is too strong for her to face. As you know she has only recently undergone a severe operation and, in consequence, I have to look after her very carefully.

"I am sorry we have not finished our Meeting. It is not our fault. The elements are to blame. We shall therefore have to give the prizes later. I would like to congratulate Mr. Grierson on winning the First Stage of the Governor's Cup. I know Mr. Grierson well and there is no keener or more sporting shot in the Colony. I bear him a certain amount of ill-will because in addition to winning the First Stage he also won a shilling from me which I intend to get back next Saturday. (laughter and applause.)

"As you all know I have had a great deal of experience in shooting but I find the older I get the more I have to learn and I am sure I cannot compete with the conditions which all you men find so easy - such as shooting with a wind blowing at fifty miles an hour. But perhaps I may yet learn how to hold a rifle steady under such conditions. It was only by the skin of my teeth that I managed to get through into the Second Stage of the Governor's Cup, and the only chance I have of winning my shilling is that next Saturday is a fairly hot day. (laughter and applause.)

"The most remarkable thing about this Meeting has been the high standard of the shooting and the number of entrants. The general shooting has improved out of all knowledge and the success of the meeting as an annual fixture is now assured. In addition all the details were exceptionally well arranged by the Committee. We were given little cards just like you get at Bisley and we had people scoring our hits or misses on blackboards behind us. Everything was done in the most professional manner.

Hard Tacts.

"I am delighted that you like the new pavilion we have put up. It is indubitably of great benefit to all who use the ranges. I know I have the whole-hearted support of the Defence Force but I fear many other people do not take so much interest in them as I do. I am always prepared to assist and do everything I possibly can to encourage shooting and especially in connection with the Teams we send Home to Bisley.

"Unfortunately many people talk a great deal but when it comes to hard tacts they do very little. The response to the Defence Force appeal for funds has been on the whole disappointing. Many people forget that in time of trouble they would depend on this Force for the safety and protection of their homes, and that a little encouragement would repay the volunteers in some small way for the self sacrifice and trouble they have gone to to make themselves efficient. I think it should be considered a privilege and an honour to help such men. Anyhow, the Defence Force, I am glad to say, is quite able to stand on its own feet and with the loyal friends it has, even if they do not embrace the whole community, the Bisley Team will go home this year on its great adventure, and in future years as well so long as I am Governor." (Loud applause.)

His Excellency then made some remarks on shooting in general and ended by saying :- "If I can do anything else for the Defence Force and Rifle association I hope Captain Watson will let me know. I cannot promise to provide you with free beer on the Range. (loud laughter.) But anything in reason I will do. (loud and continuous applause.)

THE CATHEDRAL.

Installation Of Electric Light.

The hand of progress is gradually but steadily spreading itself over Stanley, the latest outstretched movement enfolding the Cathedral in its expansive embrace. His Excellency has been pleased to approve of the installation of electric light from the Government Supply in the Cathedral, in all the affairs of which the Governor has shown so much practical interest, in the Church Hall and the Deanery.

Such an improvement in the sacred edifice cannot but prove of immense advantage over the old system of dingy oil lamps. And since their parishment to the realms of darkness we trust that the brighter light will attract congregations of such size that those responsible may feel amply rewarded for their action in making this innovation.

Electric light has also been installed in the Colonial Secretary's Office and such an asset towards efficiency will, we hope, stimulate to further activity the endeavours of the staff.

A SLAP ON THE BACK.

Tea Party Incident.

A joke at a tea party had sequel at Hull County Court recently when Mrs. Seaton Smith, a clergyman's widow of Scarborough claimed a hundred pounds damages from Mr. George Reed, a shipping manager of Cottingham and his wife, for injuries.

It was stated that Mrs. Smith was entertaining friends to tea in August 1928 when Mrs. Reed who was a guest jokingly slapped her on the back in such a way that she was almost knocked off the chair. Mrs. Smith was seized with such violent pains in between the shoulder that she had been, ever since, considerably disturbed. Later she also lost the use of her left hand and could not grip anything with it while the upper part of her arm was also affected.

The judge, in awarding 267 damages and costs, said the blow was an actionable trespass and was outside the ordinary usage of social intercourse.

When the princess left Bucharest with her mother it was understood that the engagement with Count Kochberg was broken off and the queen would explain the objections to the match on the way to Egypt.

The history of the affair is that the engagement was announced in January and a few days later the count was raised to the rank of a prince of royal blood. On 19th of February the officials declared that the engagement had been broken off following enquiries having been made into Kochberg's career. When seen at Cannes a week later Kochberg denied the rupture of the engagement.

2500 DAMAGES OBTAINED.

"Defamation Of Character & Wrongful Dismissal."

Mr. E.G. Rowe Before The Supreme Court.

Plaintiff Awarded £16. 2/8.

An action was brought before the Supreme Court yesterday by Mr. James Goodwin of Stanley claiming 2500 damages from Mr. E.G. Rowe, the manager of Messrs. Estate, Louis Williams, for alleged "defamation of character and wrongful dismissal".

The case was heard by His Honour the Chief Justice.

Mr. Rowe conducted his defence and on a ruling of the Court Mr. A. Martin was precluded from appearing for the plaintiff since he was not a qualified barrister. Mr. J.E. Creamer was appointed foreman of the Jury.

In evidence Mr. Goodwin said that on November 14th last year the defendant accused him of taking a bottle of whiskey which he knew nothing about out of the warehouse and dismissed him at a moment's notice saying he would tell all the people why he had done so and until he (the plaintiff) found out who had taken the bottle he could not return. There were no witnesses and while he was employed by the Estate Louis Williams he was getting £11 a month. He was now getting £10 a month in the employ of Mr. Hamilton.

In answer to His Honour plaintiff said he saw the defendant in the latter's office and no one else was present. His Honour - "and unless you told other people no one would have known why you were dismissed?" - "Mr. Rowe told me he would tell other people." His Honour pointed out to the Jury that when it was absolutely a personal communication between master and servant, unless there was proof of actual malice, the occasion was privileged. Whatever Mr. Rowe had said in Mr. Goodwin in his office if he said it without malice it could not be considered defamation of character and it appeared that that part of the case should not have come before the Court.

A Detective Story.

Mr. E.G. Rowe on oath said that he left the plaintiff in control of the warehouse on November 14th and with another man he was put to work bagging beans. Later in the day he (witness) went back to the warehouse and found that the work had been finished, Goodwin being spread-eagled over the barrels while the other man was apparently filling his pipe. He suspected things were not normal for Goodwin, who appeared his usual self, started to string up a bag which had already been tied. He also noticed a bottle of uncorked whiskey and the bottle should not have been where it was.

At this juncture in the proceedings the defendant produced a blackboard in the box and with chalk drew a diagram of the warehouse and the relative positions of the street and Waverley House, with the positions of the two men and the arrangement of the goods in it. Twice during the afternoon he went into the warehouse and saw the bottle in its position still uncorked but just before 4.0 p.m. when he returned again he saw Goodwin's cart standing by the door of the warehouse with hay in it. He went into the warehouse and the bottle was gone.

His Honour :- Just like a detective story, very interesting. Mr. Rowe :- Almost. Continuing, witness said he saw the other man who was with Goodwin and he was quite sober and going home.

Later he saw Goodwin in his office and in reply to his question the plaintiff said "I don't know anything about it". Goodwin had been drinking and witness said to him "You are finished."

Mr. Rowe went on to say that Goodwin entered the employment of Messrs. Estate Louis Williams in 1928 and after being paid hourly for some time he was put on a monthly scale. When he was dismissed he had been paid up to the end of October 1929. The Foreman of the Jury :- Did you dismiss the man for stealing the bottle of whiskey? He was dismissed as a result of a combination of circumstances in that the whiskey disappeared while he was warehouseman and no satisfaction concerning it could be got from him and when he came into my office he had been drinking. I was not satisfied with his services. His Honour :- Was Goodwin definitely in charge of the warehouse? - I did not tell him so but I considered him to be in charge whether he considered himself to be in charge I cannot say. I trusted him. His Honour :- Was his conduct on other occasions satisfactory? - Lost; I was rather fond of him. His Honour :- Wasnt your action rather sudden.? Well Sir, when a man comes into your office in drink - ?

THE Voice In Court.

Evidence was also given by Mr. J. T. Luxton and Mr. J. A. Hamilton who have employed the plaintiff since his dismissal, the one the first week afterwards while Mr. Hamilton said he paid Goodwin £10 a month and a pound a week in lieu of food. Chief Constable S. H. Hcoley, Mr. A. Newing and Miss A. Bossingham spoke of Goodwin acting as under the influence of drink, although he was not drunk on the day in question. In the case of the last witness the question of the huskiness of the plaintiff's voice was brought before the court and Goodwin was asked to speak in order that that the tone might be compared with his voice when Miss Bossingham heard it on November 14th. It was not so husky, in fact yesterday, it was quite sweet was Miss Bossingham's verdict. Mr. B. Fleuret also appeared in the witness box and said that he saw the plaintiff and the defendant on the pavement on the 14th November. Goodwin's breath smelt strongly of liquor and when he handed a key which was in an inner coat pocket to Mr. Rowe he tumbled like a partly drunken man. There was also a large bulge under Goodwin's coat looking like a quart bottle.

Character Clean.

After both Mr. Goodwin, who only asked that his character should be cleared, and Mr. Rowe had been given the opportunity of addressing the Jury His Honour gave his summing up of the case. He quoted two authorities why that part of the case dealing with the defamation of character would not be submitted to the Jury to be considered and he said that he could not see how the Jury could award the plaintiff damages for wrongful dismissal since he had suffered no damage, had obtained employment straight away and was getting better wages.

After considering their verdict the Foreman, for the Jury, pronounced that "No criminal act is proved to account for the plaintiff's dismissal without notice being served therefore his character is clear and we award him one part of a month's wages for the time he was working and not paid and, in addition, one month's wages in lieu of a month's notice in effect - £16. 2s. 6d. The costs are to be divided."

"ONLY JUST IN TIME."

United Empire Party & The Conservatives.

The United Empire Party has been created only just in time to save the Nation from utter ruin. That is the conclusion every thinking man and woman must draw from the publication of the estimates for the Civil Service departments for the coming financial year which shows an additional expenditure of £4,790,000, says the "Daily Mail" press.

The sum was largely the fruit of the late Conservative Government since thirty millions of it represents the further instalment of the cost of derating. To this has to be added the sum of fifteen millions already charged annually to the rate-payers who thus learned what premisses of economy mean in the mouths of the Conservative leaders.

The result is an enormous addition to the membership of the United Empire Party.

Russian Peasants Cross The Frontier.

During the last few days masses of Russian peasants have crossed over the frontier with their families into Poland as a result of the Soviet forcing them to liquidate their private property.

Should they refuse to obey within twenty four hours they have to pay special tax levies or have their entire properties confiscated. Sometimes whole villages have been burnt as punishment.

The Soviet frontier guards have been instructed to prevent their departure by all possible means. Many peasants have been wounded on the way while a considerable number have been killed by the Soviet soldiers.

BRITISH PROSPERITY.

Importance Of Protection.

The vital importance of protection, so a New York Correspondent writes, for the revival of British prosperity is dramatically illustrated by Mr. A. O. Morrison, chairman of the Executive Committee of the American Tariff League, who said "The United States Tariff Policy must be considered as extending to all countries the right to prepare tariffs so as to protect their home industries.

If it were not for the Canadian Tariff the United States would supply Canada with most of its manufactured products and thousands of Canadians now working in American factories in Canada would be thrown out of work.

TARGETS BLOWN AWAY.

Shooting In Antarctic Conditions.

Abandoned In Gale.

Never before could marksmen have weathered such antarctic conditions as on Saturday and Sunday in an attempt to bring the Local Bisley to a close so that the awards could be distributed in time for the Delhi which is due within the next few days. After the postponement from last week every endeavour was made, even when it was found that the meeting could not be brought to an end, to shoot off the second and final stage of the Governor's Cup, while several times competitors for the Bishop's Cup prepared to get their relays fired but without success.

The only competition completed was the Open 500 and 600 yards' won by Mr. J.W. Grierson who was so successful last week.

Shooting commenced Saturday afternoon and with the weather so fine in the morning few expected conditions to become so bad as to compel those who ventured up to the range to give up shooting for the day with only one part of the Open 500 and 600 yards' finished. At times the wind was sweeping over the range at almost fifty miles an hour and hail squalls bombarded the butts with a continual monotony. Time and again the relays took their positions and time and again they were compelled to leave them and make for the welcome comfort of the new pavilion. On one occasion His Excellency the Governor and Sergeant-Major Allan were temporarily blinded by a sudden squall of hail. His Excellency, who still feels the cold severely after spending seven years in the blinding heat of the equatorial regions had to wrap himself round with two blankets in order to attain a degree of comfort. There were several wearing two or three coats.

Sunday treacherously gave a warm welcome to the early faxes on the ranges where shooting started about 9.0 a.m. But it was not long before he showed himself in his true colours and disappeared behind the clouds racing up from the west. At 11.0 a.m. an unusually piercing hail storm scoured the hill side sending everyone helter skelter - now a frequent happening. It was during this outburst that the men, looking out from the warmth of the pavilion caught glimpses of an amazing sight over the hills and out at sea. From the north across Port William and bearing up in the full force of the wind could be discerned a steamer ploughing her way heroically with tremendous seas wash her bows.

When the storm abated somewhat three times details emerged to try and finish the competitions but each time they were driven back by the ever rising winds and sleet. While the fight for the open 500 and 600 was continuing the two targets on the Old range were torn away. However the Second Stage of the Governor's Cup was over with Mr. W. McAtasney top of the list with 94. But time was getting on and the Committee held a hurried Council of War and it was decided to make a last try to finish the Governor's Cup. The twelve highest scorers in the Second Stage were marked off in details of three. In a welcome lapse in the wind and rain, the first detail fired Mr. J.R. Gleadell only, making a passable score with 29. The second detail went down but misses and maggies were frequent while conditions were becoming as bad as ever again. Two of the third detail managed to get down but they were now shooting in the teeth of a bitter wind. Although the wind was blowing down the range only slightly from the right as much as twenty one degrees right had to be registered on the gauge.

Once more a retreat was made to the pavilion - this time to partake of the most enjoyable event of the day. It was the tea provided by the Association and catered for by Mr. J.F. Summers who was admirably assisted by the four following ladies Miss Sylvia Summers, Miss Ethel Summers, Mrs. W. Summers and Mrs. Gleadell. The ladies deserve a special word of thanks for the way in which they braved the elements.

After a good tuck in at the cakes with much merriment and competition as to who could score a possible with the buns, yet another attempt was made on the Third Stage of the Governor's Cup. There were only four, including His Excellency the Governor, to shoot but no sooner had positions been taken than the wind obviated the effort. One by one the three targets on the New Range fell to its fury torn to shreds and - in utter disgust at having to give in, the men made their way homewards leaving the Committee to decide a date for a future attempt to conclude this, the most disappointing of our Bisley Meetings.

The results of the Open 500 and 600 Yards' and the Second Stage of the Governor's Cup with those who entered the Final Stage are given below :-

DEATH SENTENCE.

Justice After Two Years.

Amid tense silence the crowd in Manchester Assize Court on Saturday heard William Henry Podmore, aged twenty nine, an engineer and known as the "man with a scar", sentenced to death by the Lord Chief Justice for the murder of Vivian Messiter, an oil company's agent, in a garage at Southampton in October 1928.

When the jury, after debating an hour and twenty five minutes, pronounced a verdict of "Guilty" women lifted their hands to their eyes and wept but the condemned man stood like a statue.

Previously asked if he had anything to say Podmore said "I still repeat Sir, I know nothing what ever about it."

"THE DOWNFALL OF ZACHARIAH FEE."

By arrangement with the Very Reverend the Dean and the Cathedral Choirmaster, who have kindly agreed to postpone the weekly Choir Practice to Thursday, the Dress Rehearsal for His Excellency's Play will be held on Wednesday the 12th March at 6.0 p.m.. Producers etc. are requested to note the change of date - Wednesday not Thursday.

This alteration has been made in order to enable visitors from the Lobos to attend the rehearsal. The Committee also extend a cordial invitation to all parents of the performers to be present.

It is particularly requested that all members of the cast and orchestra should be ready for a start at 6.0 p.m. prompt.

The actual performance will take place on Saturday, the 15th March at 8.30 p.m.. Our hope that the Bishop of the Diocese would be present seems likely to be fulfilled as His Lordship is arriving on the Lobos. The ship's company of H.M.S. Delhi will have arrived and we hope to see a goodly number of them at the show.

Mr. R.H. Marshall, the Inspecting Auditor, is keenly looking forward to the Play of which he has heard a great deal but has been allowed to see nothing. The Committee are very anxious that this Positively last Performance should beat all records and provide an evening of surprising and delightful entertainment for the numerous and distinguished company which it is hoped will witness it.

The first four rows of seats will be reserved. All other seats will be free and open to all. The seating accommodation is, as usual, in the charge of the Colonial Secretary's Office. Doors Open at 8.0 p.m. Commence at 8.30 p.m. prompt.

AN ADVENTUROUS TRIP IN THE DAWN.

We left the Public Jetty at ten minutes to three on the Saturday morning with a crew and passengers of eleven bound for Darwin to see the sports. We had rather fine weather until we got to Wolf Rock where the wind suddenly sprang up but not too severely to prevent us from continuing our voyage. At quarter to seven we were facing a heavy sea and had to return to Fitzroy dropping anchor there at eight-o'clock. Furious as the buffeting had been there were some on board who proved good sailors for only six out of the eleven were sick.

We spent the whole day at Fitzroy and had a most enjoyable time until four-o'clock in the morning when we continued our voyage to Darwin arriving there at twelve-o'clock having had fine weather for the rest of our journey.

The cargo was unloaded and the ship put to anchor while the passengers went to our lodgings, some going to Darwin and others remaining at Goose Green. The rest of the day and the next was spent fairly quietly. But the excitement began at ten-o'clock on Tuesday when a great crowd had gathered to witness the first race.

The most exciting events were the Ascot, The Stanley Cup and the Champion Cup. The last was won by "Mister Jim" but was disputed since the start was irregular. The race was upheld however though a run over a distance of some five hundred yards took place in friendly rivalry between the winner and "Tipperary" who was left at the post, to prove which was the better horse, the honour falling to "Tipperary" after a tight struggle.

Apart from the races many disappointed with the arrangement for catering for visitors on the coupse but the dances which started at half-past eight and were kept up until two and three in the morning were greatly enjoyed though there were smiles on the faces of the men when a "Whiskey" dance was announced. We formed a tug-o-war team against Goose Green but were beaten after a very good and tough pull. Mr King Jennings was our captain.

The Dawn On Fire.

On Thursday we got ready for our homeward voyage but the wind was too strong and we had to remain there for two days, venturing forth Saturday morning at eight-o'clock having left the two lady passengers we brought with us behind. After cruising for some time we were met by a heavy gale and had to go into Mare Harbour where we dropped the anchor at half-past twelve. At half-past eight when all hands were settling down for the night some already asleep while others were reading an accident took place causing much excitement.

Mr Bob Reives had filled the petrol tank just after arriving in Mare Harbour and Mr John McPhee, not knowing this went out to fill it again, his action causing the petrol to run over. The fumes soon drew the lamp to its full height and caused it to explode spreading flames all round. Luckily everyone got clear without getting burnt. The pram was obtained, and with five in her bullet for the beach of the nearby island while the others stopped to beat the fire down. An extinguisher was used and some geese shot with the prospect of a fine dinner on our arrival home had to be sacrificed to smother the flames, doing so very effectively. Mr. Ballard behaved splendidly and took the matter quite coolly; ironically enough he was reading at the time a book called "Dawn Island" - one moment he was on the Dawn and a few minutes later he, with the others, was making for the island for safety. It was soon pitch dark and rain fell but we had to remain on shore until everything had been thoroughly examined and it was about ten-o'clock before we were on board again.

We left Mars Harbour at six-o'clock in the morning and had a splendid run up passing the Falkland not far off the Wolf Rock. We arrived at the Public Jetty and hurried home for a good hot meal. Before closing let me say that the Dawn is a splendid sea-boat and I am sure no one was the worse for the voyage.

THE SECURITY PACT.

MacDonald Meets Briand.

The Naval Conference will stand or fall by what happens this week. During the week-end a number of private conversations have taken place but by far the most significant is that that has taken place between Mr. MacDonald and M. Briand at Chequers.

They have been discussing the French proposal for the Security Pact in the Mediterranean similar to that whereby at Locarno, Great Britain and other nations guaranteed the peace of western Europe.

Should the Pact come about in the form desired by M. Briand a new obligation will be thrown on Britain. Our naval forces will be bound to assist in the defence of the Mediterranean shores of France, Italy against any aggressor.

France had - perhaps she still has - hopes of inducing the United States to be a party to the Pact but the United States delegates have so far given a stern "No" as an answer.

Two Northampton brothers, E and T. Linnell, crashed in their plane at the water's edge at Brighton on Saturday but though the machine was turned upside down and badly damaged they were unhurt.

A LETTER FROM "THE GANGES."

By kind permission we are privileged to publish a letter received by Mr. A.R. Hoare from Donald Howatt giving a further insight into the happy life that he and the other lads sent who have gone home to join the Navy are enjoying. The letter is dated 7th December 1929.

"I am enjoying myself very much here and I think it would do a few of the Falkland Islands boys good to join the Navy. We get all manner of sports such as football, rugby, hockey and gymnastics. The schooling here is of a very high standard and the examination I have had to pass recently would puzzle a Continuation Class boy. By way of proving that I will send the exam. paper.

My trip home was great and I saw things I learnt in geography in real life at many of the ports we landed at. I would like to know who was head of the School this year.

We have a very large swimming bath here and I have passed out in my swimming test and indulge in a little water polo every week.

Falkland Islands boys don't know what they miss here. Just about a mile away there are two large aerodromes and we have more traffic in the air than we have on land.

Well I will write again. I close wishing to be remembered to all my old School pals."

GOVERNMENT CRISIS ?

Series of Challenges.

Record attendances are expected in the House of Commons this week for a series of challenges to the Government.

Urgent whips have been issued by all the parties.

Lloyd George was expected to lead the attack yesterday on the Socialist unemployment record and Mr. J.H. Thomas was expected to reply. Important divisions were also expected to be taken on the question of the proposed levy on Home coal to help export trade. The Conservatives and the Liberals were expected to join forces against the Government.

A censure vote is tabled by Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Churchill for to-morrow and is mainly directed against Mr. Snowden. It is questionable whether the Liberals will support the Conservatives but the prospect of a Churchill-Snowden duel will crowd the House.

It is stated that there has been too great an influx of the lower class of labour which is largely responsible for the Canadian unemployment.

TERRIBLE FLOODS IN FRANCE.

Hundreds Drowned.

The "Daily Mail" correspondent at Toulouse, South of France, wires that many lives have been lost and damage estimated at millions of pounds has been done due to the worst floods experienced in the South of France since 1875. The flood area extends from Montauban north of Toulouse to Beziers near the Gulf of Leon and north into Auvergne.

Hundreds of square miles of roads have disappeared while bridges have been swept away. The main line from Paris to Toulouse has been cut and trains cannot proceed beyond Cahors. Refugees state that the two populous suburbs of Montauban have been completely submerged, the floods rose quickly trapping them before they could get a chance to gather belongings together and get clear. The water rose fifteen feet in an hour and houses were swept away within a few moments.

Ten soldiers attempting rescues were drowned before the eyes of their comrades. At Castres at least twenty are known to be drowned but it is believed that the number runs into scores.

Later news states that with the withdrawal of the floods waters from the devastated region of the south west of France the death toll grows in horror. Over three hundred bodies have been recovered from the Tarn and the Garonne rivers alone and it is feared that hundreds of others may be found elsewhere.

Great anxiety has been felt for fourteen English girls attached to the Hagenbach Circus which is appearing at Montauban and which was having a show when the town was overwhelmed by the flood. It was found however after investigations had been made that they luckily escaped from the torrents and the Circus celebrated the good fortune with a march through the streets of Toulouse.

Dozens of bodies still lie beneath the ruins of Montauban.

A public appeal has been issued in Paris in aid of the victims of the floods. It is stated that an equivalent disaster cannot be found apart from the catastrophes of the Great War. The damage is estimated at many hundreds of millions of francs and is accompanied by terrible misery and a great deal of unemployment.

AMERICA AND THE SOVIET.

"War On The Bosses."

One of the most damaging indictments on Soviet activities in the United States of America has been issued by the Police Commissioner Whalen who has informed some of the most powerful companies in New York that Communist organisers are busy inside their offices even as departmental heads.

Literature is being broadcast in the schools in the form of blue folders entitled the "Young Rebel". The folder urges the children to fight against the 'terrible conditions' of unemployment caused 'by the bosses.'

SHIPPING NEWS.

Contrary to expectation we understand that H.M.S. Delhi is not bringing a mail for the Colony.

Yesterday the s.s. Falkland was on her way to the West after calling at Double Creek and New Island.

The Barque Favell passed within sixty miles of the Falkland Islands on Tuesday bound for Falmouth from Adelaide. She is the first wheat carrier to have left Australia this season and has been out forty two days without hearing any news since leaving Adelaide. Her commander, Captain Lilla reports all well.

DEFENCE FORCE RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

A Dance will be held in the Town Hall on Monday next (the 17th inst.) at 9.0 p.m.. Prices :- Married Couples 2/6, Gentlemen 2/-, Ladies 1/-. The proceeds will be devoted to the Bisley Fund.

"THE KING OF THE PENGUINS."

In a recent issue of the "Morning Post" the following interesting note appeared :-

Philatelists will be interested to learn that the Falkland Islands have now brought into use a new postage stamp, which is a great improvement on the old design. It gives pictorial representations of two things for which the Islands are famous. The Governor is known as "The King of the Penguins", so that it is not surprising that the penguin is given a prominent position in the new design, especially as it is also the mascot of the Islanders. The rifle team which came from the Islands last year to shoot at Bisley for the "Morning Post" trophy brought a toy representation of a penguin with them with which to decorate the scoring board.

The Islands are an important centre for the whaling industry, and this has brought the whale also into the design. The vignette of the King is extraordinarily well done. The colours of the stamps too, are distinctive.

MAGALLANES WEDDING.

Mr. E.J.O. Peart And Miss W. Spencer.

The wedding of Miss Winifred Spencer and Mr. E.J.O. Peart was solemnized at St. James' Church, Magallanes on Sunday, 23rd February last at 4.0 p.m., the Rev. C.M. Francis officiating.

The bride, who is the only daughter of Mrs. Spencer and the late Mr. E. Spencer who lost his life on active service in the Falkland Islands in 1914, wore a dress of white satin trimmed with pearls and orange blossom, a wreath of the same blossom and a flowering veil which ended in a graceful train setting off a neat pair of silver shoes; she carried a beautiful bouquet of roses and ferns and was attended by the Misses Malvina Davis and Normana Duncan as bridesmaids, Miss Sylva Cadiz being the train bearer.

The maids of honour wore wreaths of sweet peas, apricot crepe-de-chine dresses with stockings and shoes to match and carried baskets of sweet peas intermingled with roses and ferns. The bride was given away by Mr. H. Hardy, Mr. J. Hutt carrying out the duties of best man with his usual good humour and efficiency.

Quite a large number of friends had gathered to witness the ceremony and as the bride was escorted up the aisle a sea of smiling faces were turned in her direction and one immediately saw that her charming appearance combined with her maidenly grace had endeared her to all hearts.

Being of the sterner sex too much must not be said of the bridegroom but one had only to see him as he stood at the altar rail with his well set up figure, frank and open countenance to feel assured that both the bride and bridegroom were well met. The bridesmaids looked very charming and I would not be in the least surprised if more than one bachelor heart missed a beat as those ladies passed by.

As a final touch to this pretty scene we have Miss Sylva Cadiz, whose fairy-like face and figure, would, with the traditional bow and arrow, make one believe that Cupid indeed was indeed a reality.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Mrs. Millar's house where the many guests were banquetted right royally and where they could also view the large variety of presents both beautiful and useful that had been sent to the happy couple from their many friends in the Falkland Islands and Magallanes.

THE NORTH CAMP ROAD.

Road work on the track leading to the Admiralty Wireless Station at the head of the Harbour and then on to the North Camp has commenced with fencing and ditching with the new stone crusher placed into position on a light concrete bed to the west of the first gate. This work has been considerable and credit is due to the Public Works Department for the manner in which has been performed.

GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

Vote Of Censure To-day.

For the first time since it assumed office in June last year the Government has been defeated in the House of Commons. The issue was the Conservative amendment to the Coal Bill.

The Liberals and Conservatives combined and the Government was defeated by 282 votes to 274. Remarkable scenes followed the announcement of the figures. Conservatives packed every gang-way and crowded round the Speaker's Chair. When Mr. Baldwin hurried into the House he was loudly cheered and asked the Premier whether he proposed to proceed with the Bill.

Mr. MacDonald jumped to his feet and said "I am amazed at the question. The Right Honourable Gentleman has the opportunity two days hence of moving a Vote of Censure. I shall be glad to accommodate him by suggesting that should he make the Vote of Censure general then we will accept the decision."

The "Daily Mail" political correspondent states that though the Government has affected to take the defeat light-heartedly actually it came as a severe blow of defeat when Mr. Baldwin moved the official Vote of Censure. The debate is to take place to-day and might lead to the resignation of the Government though that result is not anticipated since the Liberals are expected to refrain from voting.

TWO NEW CUNARDERS.

Oil Driven Diesel Engines.

Orders for two giant cunarders to give an average speed of twenty-eight knots are likely to be placed about the end of May. The estimated cost is over six million pounds sterling each and the new vessels are expected to attain a top pressure speed of thirty knots making them the fastest liners afloat.

In addition to the many new departures in design helping to give this high speed there is the important factor of their being fitted with oil driven diesel engines instead of turbines. They will take about three years to build.

GANDHI.

Self Created Saint.

Douglas Crawford, the Bombay correspondent of the "Daily Mail" writes that India is on tip toe in the expectation of what will happen when Gandhi sets out on his pilgrimage with which he opens his Civil Disobedience Campaign.

This course is the last throw of the self created saint whose influence is not exactly what the world would believe. It is a facile proceeding to quell Gandhism by mere incarceration but what cannot be so easily exorcised is the terribly inherent evil spirit in the extremists. The Communist movement is quite distinct from Gandhism.

It is plain that the British grip which has been slackening must and can be tightened. The extremists are working intensively getting the youths in their clutches. They educate them in anti-British ideas inculcating doctrines which do not stop at any crime attaining the desired end.

In response to Police Commissioner Whalen's revelations New York business men are taking active steps to rid their organisations of Communists.

Whalen has assured them that Communists are lodged in some of the largest companies in the City and the Chamber of Commerce has replied to the challenge by forming a committee to fight the Red Menace.

Alien agitators are to be deported and all employees are requested to find out the Communists in the offices and factories. Communists are replying that the committee men are gullible morans who are swallowing Whalen's cheap melodramatic mystery yarns. The City's unemployed are now trying to form a central body apart from the Communists who they assert are using unemployment for their own ends.

THE TARN VALLEY FLOODS.

Girls' Story.

From Toulouse comes a graphic story of the twelve English circus girls' courage in the Tarn Valley floods. One told the "Daily Mail" correspondent - "After the performance at Moissac we found water in the next street to where our caravan was stationed. We were making our way back when we heard a great scream and then water poured into the streets in torrents and houses fell like matchboxes. The circus men told us to make for the hills which we did after great difficulty and remained there for two days wet through and without any food."

"THE DOWNFALL OF ZACHARIAH PEE."

Through the kindness of His Excellency the officers and crew of the Lobos with their commander Captain Galloway, saw the Dress Rehearsal of the Governor's Pantomime held in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening when there were also present some of the parents of the children taking part.

From the beginning it was obvious that the sailors and the rest of the privileged audience which also included Captain and Mrs. J.M. Coutts and Mr. and Mrs. Langdon, were gripped with expectancy for though the Pantomime has been running so long so many new and clever ideas have been incorporated in it that it has lost none of its original piquancy. And through the continual endeavours not only of the cast but of the instructors and producers as well it has attained so excellent a standard of efficiency that the final performance to-morrow evening, given in honour of H.M.S. Delhi, cannot but be "par excellence" - never to be rivalled.

It would not be fair to Saturday's audience to go into the details of the new features suffice it must be that Mr. A.W. Beardmore, as Zachariah in his many guises, has by his "wizardry" culled some remarkably clever and funny turns while such master-pieces as the Bedroom scene, the Schoolroom scene, the Fairies, Stanley Girls and the Ochorus appear anew though as of old with the same delight and charm. One must make a special note of Beattie Braxton who takes on her small shoulders the hard piece assigned to Olive Felton remarkably successfully. Olive who is going Home on the Lobos and will thus not be able to appear, will be greatly missed. But Beattie, has shown us undoubtedly that she is quite capable of the part and can carry on the turn without our being the slightest bit concerned.

During the interval His Excellency spoke a few words of welcome to the officers and crew of the Lobos hoping they had enjoyed the Pantomime and pointing out that it was completely an amateur production. He also eulogised the services of Captain Coutts who had done so much to bring the play to its present high standard, acting in the capacity of musical director. Captain and Mrs. Coutts were going Home in the Lobos. At the conclusion Captain Galloway expressed on behalf of the officers and men his profound admiration of the Play. Three cheers were then given for His Excellency who in turn called for three cheers for the Lobos and Captain Galloway.

THE NAVAL CONFERENCE.

Approaching Crisis.

The Naval Conference in London is fast approaching a crisis and the prospects of a successful issue are gloomy. The French building programme remains the crux of the situation and in an interview with journalists on Wednesday night M. Briand appeared to consider the Conference will come to an unsuccessful conclusion within a fortnight.

The hopes that remain are largely based on the anticipated visit of M. Tardieu this week-end. Inspired communications from British sources continue to aver that the French demands are larger than the British Government consider suitable for the situation must if maintained, result in increased building in Great Britain.

The French protest that they have made their contribution to the success of the Conference with the offer of the Mediterranean Security Pact but since it is definitely refused by the United States they are not disposed to modify the demands although many suggestions were made to them during the afternoon on behalf of the Americans.

It was announced that M. Briand would receive journalists from all nations to explain France's position. Subsequently it was announced that the statement was confined to French journalists, the change being made at the request of the heads of the other Delegations who desire to postpone if only for a day the final rupture. At Wednesday's meeting of the heads of the Delegations there was a sharp exchange between the French and the Italian delegates.

Strenuous efforts, so last night's wireless news states, were being made to save the Conference from disaster. The crisis continues however and no real solution of the difficulties caused by the French tonnage demands is in sight.

Mr. MacDonald, the premier, said last evening that he was encouraged by the events of the day and M. Briand retracted the announcement that his work at the Conference was finished.

NON-ARRIVAL OF MAILS BY H.M.S. DELHI.

An Explanation.

On enquiry made of the Captain of H.M.S. Delhi it transpires that the warship asked at Monte Video whether there were any mails for delivery to the Colony and was informed that there were none for the Falkland Islands awaiting despatch in the Post Office at Monte Video.

From this we can only conclude that some hitch in the transmission of our mails must have occurred in the United Kingdom. The more-so as it is understood that the Royal Mail liner Asturias which arrived the day before the departure of H.M.S. Delhi brought with her no mails at all.

GANDHI ON THE MOVE.

"Let Government Arrest Me."

Shouts of "All Hail Gandhi" rose from crowds upon crowds of white capped members and supporters of the All-India Congress as they welcomed Gandhi and his eighty picked volunteers in Bombay on Thursday as they set out at dawn to start upon their campaign of civil disobedience.

Remarkable scenes were witnessed over-night for thousands of passive resisters thronged the road many sleeping on the way-side before the march began. As the little band set out Gandhi was presented with a white horse by Indian women.

Though the send off was impressive Gandhi had little real support from the multitude the majority of whom were interested in the event only.

In a message to his followers Gandhi said "Let the Government arrest me." He added he was possibly addressing them for the last time.

From Lahore comes the news that a vast new conspiracy is to overthrow British rule in India by crime and violence has been discovered by the Punjab Police following the arrest of seven alleged plotters.

Meanwhile Gandhi's so-called "Non Violence" campaign is now in full swing. The march on the salt pans on the Gulf of Cambay has been resumed by the pilgrims. Eleven arrests have been reported at Jullundur, eighty miles east of Lahore and two bombs have been seized.

BAN ON STREET FOOTBALL.

Centuries Old Custom.

The authorities at Chester-le-Street are trying to abolish the popular street game of football and when the match was played this Shrove Tuesday ten men were arrested in the effort to prevent the ball being kicked about the street. Fifty policemen were at one time struggling with the surging crowd.

The event has been looked upon as the world's most amazing football match. For hundreds of years it has been played and until this year with the support of the local trades people who barricade their windows. But on this occasion the tradespeople objected and the police stated they would arrest anyone throwing the ball into the main street where the match takes place.

In spite of this the ball was thrown from a car and the game began immediately. The police destroyed the ball but others were found. Arrests were continually being made throughout the day and it was not until after dark that all was quiet.

He pulled out his note-book and took the number of the car directing the Prince to stop in the side road just by.

At that moment something distracted the policeman's attention and while his back was turned the Prince quickly drove away.

SATURDAY'S PANTOMIME.

Audience Rock With Laughter.

Finest Performance Yet.

Throughout the performance of His Excellency the Governor's Play - "The Downfall of Zachariah Jee," - given free and held in the Town Hall on Saturday in honour of H.M.S. Delhi, the audience which packed the Hall rocked in spasms of laughter and mirth alternating with a deep and sincere appreciation of the artistic and histrionic ability of those taking part. There was not a single dull moment and the scenes effected a well balanced contrast.

Among those present were Mrs. Hodson, His Lordship the Bishop, Major Hay of Seaton, Miss Hay, Captain W.E.C. Tait and the officers of H.M.S. Delhi. There was a large number of sailors in the Hall. A great debt of gratitude is due to Captain Tait for allowing the ship's band to assist with selections of delightful music during the evening.

The Chorus Girls and the Stanley Girls immediately made a deep impression on the sailors whose sincere admiration we know will last as long as they remain in Stanley and well the girls deserve it for their acting was perfect and they were encoered time and again. The fairies were also great favourites and little Alma Jones who had to take the part of the Fairy Queen at the last moment provoked loud applause. Through an unfortunate and deeply regretted accident Miss Purdie was unable to take her usual part having sustained so severe an injury while playing golf in the afternoon that a stitch had to be inserted in her forehead. The delightful toe dancing of Nellie Pitaluga brought this talented young lady back before the footlights more than once while the Apache Dance by Miss E. Atkins who was presented with a bouquet, and Mr. M. Robson was all that it could be. Mr. Robson again gave his Charleston Exhibition with the unknown lady but if her features are as charming as her dancing we can see the Navy taking her by storm leaving the girls of Stanley desolate and her dancing partner inconsolable. The Scotch lassies (Ellen Lellmon and Gladys Pettersson) with Nellie Pitaluga and Muriel Hardy in the Crinoline Dance were happily unconcerned with the intricacies of their steps and thus were able to give natural and smooth interpretations of the movements. Then there was the Horn Pipe Dance by Mr. Browell and his lassies bringing the house down and Mrs. Kelway's Maypole Song could not but deserve the encore it received. Mr. Byron and his Penguins were as good as ever though we missed the inimitable walk of Billy Catten. Once more loud applause greeted the "Shots and singing" by the Sweet and Low quartet - Williams, Howatt, Hansen and Hutchinson. But the outstanding effort of the evening, apart from the Sea Shanties by Mr. J.W. Davies in the final tableau, was the new version of the School-room scene showing Beattie Braxton, Mr. A.W. Beardmore and his erring pupils Howatt and Williams as stars of the first order. The Bedroom scene in which Beattie took her usual prominent part drew forth tremendous applause while Mr. Beardmore as "Zachariah" with his assistant who was "made to tremble" by the way he was pulverised came in for their share of encores.

The expectation that the Pantomime would surpass any previous performance was fully realised and this fact is due not only to the cast and helpers but also to His Excellency's keen and unflinching enthusiasm. A word of deep gratitude must be extended to Mrs. Brown for the way she stepped into the position vacated by Captain Coutts, the Musical Director, who has just gone Home on leave. Mrs. Brown with Mrs. Vincent as leader and the other members of orchestra, in company with the lighting effects, gave this excellent show its final touches.

at the conclusion. Mr. A.R. Hoare, speaking as General Manager, said that there was one thing about the Play which he claimed was unique. He believed that the Falkland Islands was the only Colony in the British Empire which produced a play written by the Governor and personally conducted by him at the performances. Those among the audience who did not live in the Islands would find it hard to realise what a great benefit it had been to the Colony especially in the winter. It had been of immense benefit to the children, the girls and the older performers since it had the object of training them to a high standard of perfection.

In response His Excellency said that this would not be the last performance of the Play because there had been a special request that H.M.S. Dragon, which was visiting the Colony later on, should be able to see it. He believed the Admiral had heard of the new chorus and was coming down to the Colony. Thanks were not due to him but to the cast which had taken so much trouble to make the performance so successful. He believed few Colonies in the whole of the British Empire could turn out a cast of one hundred and forty people to act and dance as well as they did not receiving anything for it except colds in the head for coming out at night. (loud applause and laughter.)

THE BONNER CUP.

Exciting Shoot.

After a fruitless attempt to continue the Local Bisley on Saturday when the targets were blown down for the second time a effort was made to shoot off the Bonner Team Cup on Sunday when conditions proved to be more favourable and the competition very keen with an exciting finish. A tricky wind and light at the 600 yards' intensified the hazard and at the end it was found that the winning team had obtained the trophy by only two points while the second and third had the same total and the position was decided by the better score at the 600 yards'.

HIS LORDSHIP THE BISHOP.

Address At Church Parade.

His Lordship the Bishop gave the addresses at the Cathedral on Sunday when, at Matins, a church parade of men from H.M.S. Delhi was held under Lieutenant Lampard. Captain Tait with other officers from the Ship were present while the padre, the Rev. R.R. Evans, assisted the Dean with the service. Captain Tait read the first lesson.

In the course of his remarks, His Lordship, who took his text from the 143rd Psalm, likened life to the Maze at Hampton Court London where a number of blind alleys made up of hedges were arranged together and the object of the public who entered them was to reach the man who sat in the centre in a position to see when one was completely lost and so as to be able to direct him on the right way. That maze like Life had many blind alleys and the man in the centre was God who would not interfere until he was appealed to and one would only be able to carry on by following his instructions implicitly.

In the course of his address in the evening His Lordship the Bishop gave a special message which was broadcast.

FOOTBALL.

H.M.S. DELHI 4 : STANLEY 3.

In a very fast and keenly interesting game H.M.S. Delhi met Stanley Athletic on Sunday afternoon and won by the narrow margin of 4 - 3 with the issue in doubt right up to the last moment.

The teams were :-

H.M.S. Delhi :- Torp. McGougan; Mae Heather and Mech. Johns; L.S. Wilson, A.B. Mellon and L. Stoker Mann; P.O.I. Baillie, O.C. III Freestone, Mne Benwill, Stoker Chretien and Mne Holmes.

Stanley :- G.M. Creece; D. Fleuret and M. Robson; W.J. Davies, A.I. Fleuret and J. Mercer; R. Campbell, L. Aldridge, F.A. Byron, J. O'Sullivan and H. Thomas.

Winning the toss for Stanley; D. Fleuret gave the ship the advantage of the wind in the first half. From the kick off the sailors pressed strongly and gave the Stanley forwards very few opportunities of breaking away. The first goal to be scored came within a few minutes of the start and was scored by Chretien with a shot which Creece fumbled. The Stanley goal-keeper was also unlucky enough to misjudge another ball later on and as a result Stanley found themselves two down. It seemed that the visitors were going to completely rattle their opponents and the home forwards, in despair fell back in the hope of relieving the tention on the defence but only hampered the latter in their attempts to clear. A.I. Fleuret, however held on to his position at centre-half tenaciously admirably supported by Davies while Mercer "barricaded" his opposing wing man well and the two backs played determinedly. The sailors' forwards showed an excellent combination well fed by their halves and Stoker Chretien, Marine Benwill and P.O. Baillie were always a source of great danger. Able Seaman Benwill made an excellent centre-half and dealt effectively with any of the spasmodic attempts made by Byron and his men though on one occasion Thomas who had come in to the inner position from the wing missed an open goal from an excellent centre by Campbell. Before the end of the half which was completely in the ship's favour two more goals were shot by Freestone (who had obtained the second) and Mann who played a daring game. At half time the score was 4 - 0 in the ship's favour.

With the teams now changed about and those who had the wind finding themselves playing against it, a different complexion appeared over the game. Stanley became the continual attackers and gave Johns and Heather no peace while McGougan had a dose of what befell Creece in the first half though the Stanley forwards did not take full advantage of the chances given them and McGougan did not bring off such spectacular saves as some of those which fell to the lot of the Stanley goal-keeper. But the Stanley forwards showed that they had a tremendous amount of energy to disgorge whereas the Delhi's men were beginning to feel the effects of the wear and tear but they clung to their men doggedly giving away as little ground as possible. But three good goals from O'Sullivan, Thomas and Davies steadily being scored showed that they were now playing a losing game and it seemed that only time robbed the Islanders' team of victory. Like the home team in the first half, although considerably rattled, one or two glorious efforts took them to within the range of Creece's goal but weak finishes robbed them of goals, Benwill also missing what seemed an absolute certain point. The result was therefore 4 - 3 in the Delhi's favour.

CHARGES AGAINST GIALDINI.

"Missing" Hatry Director Arrested.

Legal proceedings are being taken against Gialdini, who was arrested in Milan on Sunday, and are to be commenced in Rome to-day when he appears before the magistrate for examination. There are two charges against him namely - he is accused of participating with other persons in frauds and forging public bonds.

It is understood that Gialdini denies both charges and maintains he had no share in forging municipal bonds and was not even aware of the intentions of Hatry and his associates in this regard. He throws the whole of the responsibility on Hatry and the others claiming that they took advantage of his good faith and used him as a cat's paw in their criminal schemes. If guilty the maximum sentence Gialdini could obtain would be over 17 years.

Gialdini has been lodged in Sanvittoria prison and at his request has been given a separate room and choice of food. It is a coincident that his arrest took place on the eve of the appeal of Hatry against his sentence of fourteen years.

The man chiefly responsible for the Italian's arrest, Sir William Jowitt, has caused a sixty page dossier to be sent to Sir Roenld Graham, the British Ambassador at Rome. At first the long indictment was considered by Mussolini not to hold sufficient evidence to justify an arrest.

Whole village populations are being dr: phod off to archangel forests to cut timber which is being sold to English syndicates.

MONDAY'S DANCE.

A Crowded Hall.

A more successful dance could not have been staged than the one in the Town Hall on Monday evening when the proceeds were in aid of the Bisley Fund and amounted to about £20. His Excellency the Governor, accompanied by the Hon. J. H. Ellis (Colonial Secretary) with His Lordship the Bishop, Miss May and Captain Tait and officers of H.M.S. Delhi were among those present. An invitation free of charge had been made to the Company of H.M.S. Delhi whose sailors, with their usual overwhelming fascination, took the floor and the girls by storm.

The bands providing the delightful music were "The Melody Sheiks" and the "Jazz Band" while a band from the ship also contributed to the great enjoyment of all. The excellent refreshments were, as usual, served under the capable management of Mr. J.T. Summers.

During the course of the evening speeches were made and after being introduced by Captain Watson His Excellency, who was received with loud applause, pointed out that the Colony always deemed it a great pleasure to welcome one of His Majesty's ships. In addition to the social side, these visits made them, who lived in a Colony so far away, realise in reality what the British Empire stood for and her strength. Sometimes they were apt to forget that they entirely depended on the British Navy.

"In the papers His Excellency continued, "we read of Naval Conferences and Peace Pacts but we are not in the least alarmed for whatever the result might be we know that the Navy, even if it is cut down would still be able to perform its duties and it is an undoubted fact that one British warship is worth two of any other Power." Sometimes the people at Home did not realise the Colony's importance as a strategical centre but His Excellency felt sure that this impression was losing weight and people were beginning to realise what a valuable asset the Falkland Islands and the Dependencies were to the British Empire, not only owing to its importance as a Naval Base but also for the valuable products obtained such as whale oil, wool et cetera.

On Wednesday they were going to have a battle and they were taking it very seriously indeed. All the movements and every incident occurring are to be placed before the Imperial Defence Committee in London who will study them from every point of view. His Excellency added that he had implicit confidence in his men. They were not proud and they wanted to learn something from Captain Tait and his officers who, he was perfectly certain, would give many valuable hints towards that complete efficiency which they desired to obtain. The Governor concluded his speech with a few witty and pertinent remarks which "brought the house down" with laughter and he resumed his seat amid loud and prolonged applause.

Captain Tait then rose saying he wanted to thank the people of Stanley for the wonderful reception they had given the ship. "Although the Governor" he added, "has every confidence in his soldiers I have every confidence in my men." In concluding he thought the only way they could adequately show their appreciation was to give three hearty cheers for His Excellency the Governor and the Falkland Islands. Then followed three such rousing cheers the like of which only the Navy can give.

"THE BONNER CUP."

Detailed Report.

The match for the Hon. George Bonner's Cup, the brief results of which were given in Monday's issue, was shot off on Sunday when the Local Bisley was continued after being hampered so considerably for the last two week-ends. The thanks of the whole shooting community are due to the Hon. George Bonner for the continued interest and support he has given to the Meeting; it is no exaggeration to say that there is no more popular competition than the one in question and which has been so well won this year by Mr. J.R. Gleadell's team with a score of 362. The members of the winning team are :- Messrs. J.R. Gleadell, R.L. Robson, J. Peck and M. Campbell.

At the early hour of eight-o'clock in the morning the first teams made their appearance at the range and, to the general satisfaction, the elements appeared to be promising and not of a nature apt to turn out treacherously - a disconcerting habit of the Falkland Islands' climate.

The outstanding feature of marksmanship was the brilliant score of R. Campbell, of Mr. A.I. Fleuret's team, who scored 34 at the first range - a feat seldom accomplished with a five inch bull. The highest individual scores at the 200 yards' were :-

R. Campbell	34.
His Excellency the Governor	32.
Sgt-Mjr Allan (H.E.'s. team.)	32.
J. Peck (Mr. J.R. Gleadell's team)	32.
J. Ryan	32.

On proceeding to the 500 yards' a difficult and tricky wind sprang up making shooting hazardous and necessitating skillful judgment if anything of a score was to be made. The chief individual scores here were :-

E. McAtasney (Mr. A.I. Fleuret's)	34.
His Excellency the Governor	33.
M. Campbell (Mr. Gleadell's)	32.

At the 600 yards' the wind was even trickier and many of those taking part came back to find their otherwise excellent scores spoilt in the process of this trying shoot. The climax was reached when His Excellency the Governor took his position on the butts for it was shown that the Governor needed a score of 34 to put his team on a level with the leading quartet. But he failed by the narrow margin of two points with the result that his team tied for the second place with Mr. A.I. Fleuret's team but secured the honour of runners up on account of a better score at the 600 yards'. The best scores this time were :-

His Excellency the Governor	32.
R. Campbell	32.
G. King (Mr. A.I. Fleuret's)	31.

Throughout the Competition the shooting was to be highly commended. His Excellency made the highest aggregate score with a brilliant 97 while R. Campbell ran very close as second with 96. The ten leading scores given in detail are :-

	200	500	600	Total.
His Excellency	32	35	32	97.
R. Campbell	34	30	32	96.
E. McAtasney	30	34	30	94.
J.R. Gleadell	33	31	28	92.
M. Campbell	29	32	30	91.

J. Summers	30	31	30	91.
W. Browning	29	31	30	90.
W. Moatasney	31	30	29	90.
Sgt-Mjr Allan	32	31	27	90.
J. Peck	32	31	27	90.

1. Mr. J.R. Gleadell's Team	122	125	115	362.
2. His Excellency's "	120	122	118	360.
3. Mr. A.I. Fleuret's "	122	123	115	360.
4. Mr. J.W. Grierson's "	120	117	109	346.
5. Mr. G.L. Challen's "	108	119	110	337.
6. Mr. C.G. Allan's "	104	117	109	330.
7. Mr. J. Ryan's "	105	93	78	276.

already next year's competition is being eagerly looked forward to and it is more than probable that the record entrance this year of ten teams will be increased. Such a position of affairs must give great pleasure to the Hon. George Bonner, whose state in the Colony is so considerable, to see his efforts to add to the social enjoyment of those in the Colony so sincerely appreciated.

FOR THE CATHEDRAL LIGHTS.

Tuesday's Dance In The Town Hall.

The Speeches.

Over 482 people attended the dance held in the Town Hall on Tuesday when the proceeds, amounting to £11 after the expenses had been cleared, were in aid of the Fund for the installation of Electric Light in the Cathedral. In addition, a sweepstake realising £1. 14s. 6d. also for the Fund was held and won by a sailor whose name we think it prudent not to mention for fear he has to treat the ship. The arrangements for the dance were made by a committee of the following gentlemen :- Mr. A. Newing (honorary secretary), Dr. Jones, Mrs. H. Thompson, G. Browell, C. Lellman and J.E. Richardson while the excellent catering was under the charge of Mr. J.F. Summers assisted particularly by Mrs. E.J. Gleadell, Mrs. F. Berntsen, Mrs. John Peck senior and Mrs. T. Mills. The usual high standard of dance music was given by the "Melody Sheiks" and the "Jazz Band" while Mr. S. Browell was M.C. with one of the sailors. Among those present were His Excellency the Governor, His Lordship the Bishop, Miss Hay, Captain Tait and the Very Reverend the Dean and Mrs. Vaughan.

The Bishop A Colonel.

During the evening speeches were made His Lordship the Bishop, who has an irresistible penchant for mirth, commencing. But first of all he welcomed the Captain, officers and men of H.M.S. Delhi and explained that the object of the dance was to introduce into the Cathedral that which was going to be of the utmost necessity and advantage. For the moment the Cathedral was becoming a mass of ladders and all sorts of contraptions though they hoped to accomplish their object within the next two months.

"But" he added, "In the meantime a great many things are taking place. Last night you had a dance for the introduction of arms and weapons of war and to-morrow - I don't know what is going to happen. Two years ago I was appointed Chaplain of the First Class which ranked as a colonel. I look like one don't I" he interpolated amid roars of laughter and applause, "The colonel remains at the base and I was put in a very painful position by the Colonial Secretary who asked me if I were going to the 'front' for unthinkingly I said yes. But while the Islanders are wresting the Wireless Station from the Delhi I am going to attack the Referees' luncheon basket." (loud laughter.)

His Lordship hoped all were enjoying themselves at the dance and thanked Mr. Summers for the catering mentioning specially the four ladies who by their unstinted endeavours had done much in the furtherance of the evening's fun. In conclusion the Bishop pointed out that the Church was deeply indebted to His Excellency for allowing the installation in the Cathedral to take place now in preference to providing light for the new gymnasium thus making it possible for the congregations to obtain the early benefit of this acquisition.

A Delectable Lunch.

His Excellency then rose amid loud applause. It was a truism, the Governor said, that history repeated itself for it would be remembered that on the eve of the battle of Waterloo the Allied Forces danced. (laughter and applause.) After explaining the plan of the morrow's campaign which was going to be a battle in real earnest with both sides trying to bribe the umpires for a decision, His Excellency added that he himself was going to direct operations from Government House and he invited Captain Tait to be there to see the naval men annihilated. To the sailors and marines he would say that His Lordship the Bishop was preparing a most delectable lunch and it would be far better to fall into the hands of the Bishop than to fall into the hands of the Falkland Islanders. (loud laughter and applause.)

He was glad to see so many present to help on so worthy a cause and he thought a special word of thanks was due to Mr. F. Byron who was in charge of the installation of the lights in the Cathedral. The other night he was afraid he had given a wrong impression of the Colony. Although the Falkland Islands themselves were small he would like to tell Captain Tait that with the Dependencies they covered an area of over three million square miles - nearly twice the size of India. And the task before Captain Tait was rather more difficult than he might have thought at first.

His Lordship the Bishop of whom they were all very proud was going Home to an Episcopalian Conference which is to be held in London and they were all delighted to think that among the hundred prelates who would be there His Lordship would not be the least either in his own person or in the territories he represented. In conclusion His Excellency called for three hearty cheers for the Bishop and Captain Tait and these were given vociferously by the crowded hall with, in addition, one for luck also called for by His Excellency who sat down amid loud applause.

Captain Tait then gave a breezy speech in which he expressed his thanks for the warm welcome extended to the ship and wished the scheme which the dance was in aid of every success.

Referring to Saturday's Pantomime he went on to say that he thought it was perfectly wonderful and the first thing he asked the Governor was when was the play going to be produced in London or, at least, at the Plymouth theatre where the Delhi men could go to see it. He pointed out to his men who were present that the Governor's remarks were all propaganda. His Excellency wanted to put the Falkland Islanders' tails up and the Navy's down. "I am not downhearted are you", he asked. "No" was the crashing reply and as the sound of the band faintly started up out of the chaos of this explosion with its laughter and applause the music swelled in strength holding sway until the early hours of the morning.

THE SWAM FIGHT.

Fierce Attack On Stanley.

(By Our War Correspondent.)

The clanging of the Cathedral bells, the shriek of the Fleurus' hooter and the blare of bugles roused everyone in a state of alarm about 7.30 yesterday morning. And when the members of the Defence Force were seen quickly mobilising the "vague" rumours of an impending attack on Stanley were confirmed. The assault was imminent. H.M.S. Delhi had landed a strong party on the other side of York Bay and after a rapid advance were believed to be in possession of the Eastern Wireless Station. From this point they were attacking Stanley. Soon after 8.30 a.m. the Defence Force set out to stop the enemy and if possible drive them off - at least to do the former at all costs. They were headed by the band and equipped with ammunition and haversacks. Captain Watson was in command with Lieutenants W. R. Jones and J. Morton. His Excellency the Governor personally conducted operations from Government House by telephone or other means of communication.

At 10.0 a.m. a halt was called under the rocks beyond the "Little Road". The three platoons then moved off to their respective positions around the highly placed peat banks commanding a clear view of the rocks near the Wireless Station where the enemy were thought to be holding an impregnable position but they could be seen advancing quickly. All was quietness until about 10.30 when the splutter of Lewis guns and the rattle of rifles broke the stillness of "no man's land" where none but umpires dare to merely saunter up and down.

Defenders Staunch And Impenetrable..

Frantic searching with glasses revealed one of the Defence Force platoons retreating from an advance position drawing the enemy after them along the low lying land on the harbour side. Then came the news of action on the right where the Bluejackets tried to force a way through staunch and impenetrable defenders sporting the mocking Diddle Dee sprig in their caps. One section of the Defence Force had been placed hors de combat and a Lewis gun was lost but word went round that the Marines had been wiped out and that another of the Naval sections had been annihilated by their fellows who surged forward in never ending masses (perhaps that is a slight exaggeration.) Excitement was now intense and even the umpires were getting (it) hot. One it is understood walked ten miles. In the back-ground His Lordship the Bishop accompanied by the Dean and Mr. Slaughter held a prominent position but a sly investigation failed to reveal a sumptuous feast though a solitary "Tommy" was seen to be wolfing the remains of a sandwich - perhaps the remnants of the "repast".

The enemy were attacking hotly and while the umpires might bowl men over one by one the faces of the defenders brightened and their jaws set when they heard reinforcements were expected from the Camp. Although suffering heavy casualties the Bluejackets still persisted in attacking while the Defenders refused to budge and about 12.50 an impasse was reached. Cross fire was sounded and with the armistice declared friend and foe mingled before forming ranks and marching home to the strains of the Defence Force Band. While over the hill, having viewed the battle from afar, Captain Tait and Major Hay of Seaton drew near to count the cost of the carnage.

In a final note one must heartily congratulate both the attackers and the defenders for the splendid exhibition they gave and, speaking as a patriot, the Defence Force showed a fine conception of effective tactics thanks to the intensive and expert training of Sergeant-Major Allan.

LORD BALFOUR DEAD.

The wireless press announced last night the death of Lord Balfour who passed away peacefully yesterday morning. He was conscious to the end and at dawn said "'Tis very near now."

The King has addressed the following telegram to Mr. Gerald Balfour the late statesman's brother - "The death of Lord Balfour will evoke throughout the Empire and many other parts of the world feelings of deep sorrow which the Queen and I fully share. It is a national loss of a great statesman, the last of Queen Victoria's ministers." Both Houses of Parliament adjourned yesterday as a mark of esteem. Mr. Churchill in tribute in the press says that Lord Balfour was the greatest member of the House of Commons since Gladstone while Sir Austen Chamberlain declares that the Nation has lost the finest mind given to Politics in our generation. Lord Balfour will be buried on his estate in Scotland on Saturday and a memorial service will be held in Westminster Abbey. There remain now only two ex-premiers - Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Baldwin.

ASSAULT-AT-ARMS.

Last Night's Skillful Display.

Every available space was filled in the Drill Hall last night when an Assault-at-Arms with a Brill Display was given there, the former by men from H.M.S. Delhi and the latter by the Children of Government School under their Instructor Sergeant-Major Allan. Among those present were His Excellency the Governor, His Lordship the Bishop, Captain Tait, Major Hay of Seaton, the Hon. J.M. Ellis, (Colonial Secretary), Officers of the Delhi, Mr. L.W.K. Young and Mr. T.G. Slaughter.

The first event of the evening was the Drill Display by the children followed by a smart series of apparatus exercises. The whole performance was an exceptionally well prepared selection of items executed with an accuracy which would do credit to a class of much older standing than the one last evening. For their efficiency a deep word of praise is due to Sergeant-Major Allan. After a short mass drill exhibition straddling and vaulting items were given over the "Horse" the last-named being confined to the boys of the class while straddling and a short-arm roll on the parallel bars concluded the performance. As each child took a turn he or she was deservedly clapped while the smallest member who did particularly well - Vernon King - received a special ovation.

Next on the list was a relay of bouts in bayonet fencing, the combatants in their elaborate guards giving particularly spectacular fights. There were three altogether the first being between Leading Seaman Moody and Marine Tailor the former winning by three points to two. In the next "round" - a bout in which more activity though one would not say more skill was exhibited, Marine Maidment beat Marine Woodward by three points against two. In the final round Sergeant-Major Allan met Marine Crook the latter winning after an interesting duel also by 3 - 2.

After the unusual spectacle of the bayonet fencing with heavily guarded fighters the lithesome manoeuvres of boxers came as a more familiar change. Three bouts took place each consisting of three two minute rounds. In the first event when A.B. Guy opposed A.B. Molloy both men made a great deal of in-fighting tactics, the event being of the Middle Weight variety. The next, the most popular since an Islander took part in it, was a Light Weight bout the opponents being Stoker Francis and Corporal C. Evans of the Defence Force. Owing to Francis' spectacular movements this exhibition created a great deal of amusement although a good show was put up by Evans who was obviously more than a mere novice with the gloves. Lastly a Light-Heavyweight contest took place between A.B. Johnson and Marine Wheelton. And one could almost picture the Scott v. Sharkey bout with the exception that a cleaner contest could not be found anywhere. The whole Display was undoubtedly an unusually interesting show.

At the conclusion Captain Watson pointed out that they owed a deep debt of gratitude to Captain Tait for allowing his men to give so fine an entertainment. He hoped the men in the Islands would take up the boxing during the winter and probably, when the Delhi came on the next occasion some good rival bouts might be staged. He was very pleased to see one member of the Force come forward for a few rounds with one of the men from the ship.

The proceeds were in aid of the Bisley Fund.

GOVERNMENT SAFE.

Although three days ago it was evident that a General Election was imminent the "Daily Mail" states that it could assure the public on the highest authority that, despite such evidence that remains to the contrary, there is now no prospect in that direction.

The Liberals and Socialists are getting together and the former will not assist the Conservatives to defeat the Government a second time on the Dear Coal Bill. The points of the Liberal and Socialist agreement will probably include some scheme of electoral reform with a fairer representation for Liberals and a working agreement to avoid disastrous contests in constituencies.

It must be remembered that Mr. MacDonald is anxious to remain in office another year and is harassed by difficulties in his own party and opposition obstruction. The Free Trade programme opposing the Conservatives Protection would be a rallying point.

THE CHURCH PARADE.

His Excellency Takes The Salute.

A smarter parade than yesterday' morning's combined march of the detachments of H.M.S. Delhi and the Defence Force to the official service held in the Cathedral, could not have been witnessed.

His Excellency the Governor, accompanied by his private secretary and the Hon. J.M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary) occupied his usual seat, next to him being Captain Tait. There were also present the officers of the ship and members of the Legislative and Executive Councils with their wives. The rest of the cathedral was completely filled with Sailors, Marines, members of the Defence Force with the Stanley Boy Scouts and Girl Guides under their respective officers.

The service was conducted by the Very Reverend the Dean with whom was the ship's padre, the Rev. R.R. Evans, while His Lordship the Bishop gave the address. The first lesson was read by Capt. Tait and the second by His Excellency the Governor.

In the course of his remarks the Bishop, who took his text from Joshua, chapter 24, verse 15, pointed out to the members of the ship's company who were present in the vast majority that the next day they were leaving for Magallanes. The Chilians were a critical people and many were the navies that visited their ports. He was glad to say that the British navy was held in high opinion by them. Free thinking had stimulated into activity the broadmindedness of Britishers and it was shown throughout the history of the Homeland that religion had held an uppermost position in our minds. As religion had been a national forethought so it should take a front position in the lives of individuals and he urged upon them the necessity of religion in helping them to maintain the prestige of the Empire and for their own sakes.

After the service the Naval detachments, the Defence Force and the Boy Scouts paraded outside the Cathedral and were inspected by His Excellency who then took up his position by the flag staff on Victory Green for the March Past. The Governor was accompanied by Captain Tait.

SHOOTING MATCH.

Naval Marksman & The Rifle Association.

In dismal and foggy weather teams from the Falkland Islands B.F. Rifle Association and H.M.S. Delhi met on the ranges yesterday afternoon to fire off an Aperture Sight Match and an Open Sight Match. To make matters worse a very tricky wind blew from the south-east causing great difficulty to the marksmen. At times the fog came down from the hill side and the targets were not discernable thus delaying the matches considerably besides handicapping still further the already numbed members of the teams who felt the cold eating into their bones. The ship's team were at a great disadvantage in the Aperture Sight Match when only one of their men, Commissioned Gunner Broom, had an aperture sight attached to his rifle. The remainder were firing with their service rifles and service sights. Again the ship only put up eight men while the Association had sixteen. The ship's eight fired in both matches.

His Excellency the Governor was one of the members of the Association's Aperture Sight Team while Captain Tait of the Delhi was also present taking a great interest in the proceedings and chatting with both teams. The result of the shoot showed the Association with 717 points as against 611 in the Aperture Sight Match while the ship's team lost the Open Sights Match by twenty-two points the scores being 629 as against 607. The highest individual scores were: His Excellency the Governor 93, E. McAtasney 93, R.L. Robson 92, M. Campbell 90, P. Hills 91, Commissioned Gunner Broom 88, J.R. Gleadell 87, Captain D.R. At the end of the shoot Commissioned Gunner Broom thanked Capt. Watson and the Rifle Association for the facilities put at the disposal of the ship for their practice this week. He went on to say that while at Bisley in 1928 when His Excellency the Governor was present he listened to the reply he made to Admiral Jellicoe about bringing a team from so far as the Falkland Islands but did not expect then that he would meet any of those concerned at Stanley. He hoped that if the team went Home this year it would bring the Kolapore Cup back to the Falkland Islands and that one of the team would win the King's Cup. He brought with him two little mementoes to present to the highest scorers of the Aperture Sight Competition and the Open Sights Competitions. The mementoes, consisting of ash trays with the Delhi's badge were given to Mr. J. Peck and

Breezy Jack Tars.

The Town Hall was packed for the concert given there on Saturday evening by H.M.S. Delhi. Among those present were His Excellency the Governor, Mrs. Hodson, Major Hay of Seaton, Miss Hay, His Lordship the Bishop, Captain Tait and officers of the warship. Throughout the performance of an excellent programme well arranged and nicely ballanced a breezy freshness pervaded and the Delhi's Jack Tars showed even a higher measure of talent than that which we look upon as an integral part of their lives.

In the opening chorus when the troupe introduced themselves attention was keenly rivetted. Mr. Reg. Weeks and L.S.A. Attwater made a great hit with "Great Scott" while Midshipman Ross with his boy from Port Edgar (Marine Heather) did well until their interloper came on the scene and added to the merriment. After the four Italianos Mr. Weeks, L.S.A. Attwater, O.S. Wells and Marine Heather who were loudly applauded came a delightful quartet of singers - C.T. Bowers, E.R.A. Davison, C.E.R.A. Spikins and L.S.A. Attwater. Midshipman Ross and Cambell appeared to the great delight of all in the sketch "Raspberry-ade" "Bob-Slaying" (with Mr. Weeks) and "Night". O.S. Wells well deserved the ovation he received for his songs "Sleepy Valley" and "Louise" while Marine Heather as "One of the Lads" aged 93 was no less popular. "Incredible Happenings" was perhaps the star turn of the evening with Mrs. Crabbit's Scandal and the benevolent Scotsman with a padlock on his sporan. Most of the company took part in this. "Elocution and Execution" however was an individual item admirably performed by Mr. Weeks whose Cotney version of the end of Mr. Wotsname provoked loud applause. One of the most enjoyable events of the evening was the Glee Party's harmony in the second half. Those taking part were C.E.R.A. Spikins E.R.A. Philp, E.R.A. Willey, E.R.A. Paul, E.R.A. Beer, E.F.A. Davison, C.P.O. Olds, G.P.O. Tel. Burrows, S.H.P.T. Wikson, Mech. Johns, L.S.A. Attwater, L.D.G. Stoker Walker. We can imagine that the Party will be one of the mainstays of the ship's concerts programmes where-ever they might be. There are three members of the Concert Party yet to be mentioned and they are S.A. Hodges who presided so ably at the piano, Schoolmaster Sullivan who had a great deal to do with the success of the show and lastly but by no means least - the Padre - the Rev. R.R. Evans who was mainly responsible for that delightful evening's entertainment.

At the conclusion of the performance His Excellency the Governor in a witty speech and one that greatly appealed to the sailors thanked the ship for the concert and Captain Tait responded.

H.M.S. DELHI.

With a thick fog overhanging the harbour H.M.S. Delhi left Stanley yesterday morning just before 9.0 o'clock. Although invisible practically from the shore the band played from her deck, the strains of the music being followed up the length of the harbour. From the top of the hill the ship presented a phantastic though inspiring picture as for a moment she shook off the fog banks and with her bow ploughing the water aside disappeared again almost immediately. It was only the previous evening that the band had given an excellent concert in the Town Hall and to hear again so shortly afterwards their message of farewell brought back regretfully happy memories of the last few days. As the warship passed by hurrahs were heard penetrating the fog from the shore.

BRITAIN & THE NAVAL CONFERENCE.

Scapegoat ?

The Sunday Despatch says that the failure of the French Premier Tardieu to return to London this last week-end as was originally proposed is believed to have put out the last ray of hope of an effective Five Power Treaty as a result of the Naval Conference.

That view has been taken in official quarters and Mr. Stimson, the chief of the American Delegation has made a definite proposal for a Three Power Pact between Great Britain, the United States and Japan.

Mr. Tardieu's attitude now is that until some offer is made by Italy it is useless for France to continue the discussion on Naval programmes at the Conference. Italy refuses to make a move until it secures the admission of her claim for naval parity with France. This means a great deal of manoeuvring is going on to throw the blame on some other party and Great Britain has got to be very careful she is not made the scapegoat.

Al Capone, once rated as America's greatest gangster has been cast out from his chosen home town of Chicago for he has been ordered to quit.

After ten months' imprisonment "Scarface" Al is no longer ruler of the gun-man to whom is attributed hundreds of underworld murders. He finds himself also unwanted in Florida where he owns a ducal palace. When he appeared before the Assistant State Attorney Capone said plaintively "I am not so bad as I am painted. I get the blame of everything that goes on here". He added that all he wanted was the assurance that he would not be arrested. "You are out of luck and your day is done" was the retort of John Stoge, the City's chief detective.

11,000 Miles Away.

Transmitting power by wireless from his yacht Electra at Genoa, Senator Marconi will switch on electric lights in the Electro-Technical Show in Sydney some 11,000 miles away to-morrow.

The experiment will be conducted with the aid of a special new apparatus invented by Marconi. Discussing the invention Marconi said "My discovery consists of transmitting power of sufficient force to close a circuit. Therefore it is not a question of transmitting power capable of lighting the whole of the illumination system of the Show in Australia but only the transmission of a small amount of energy sufficient to close the circuit in particular places.

LORD BALFOUR.

Funeral In Scotland.

The mortal remains of the Earl of Balfour were laid to rest in a moss-lined grave on his estate in the East Lothian on Saturday when, at the same time, an impressive Memorial Service was held in Westminster Abbey. The central figure of a large and distinguished company of mourners was the late Earl's aged sister Lady Rayleigh who was completely overcome with grief. The Duke of York, the Premier Mr. MacDonald and the Ex-Premier Mr. Baldwin are among those present.

The early part of Lord Balfour's political work was intermingled with party controversy but his principal actions were national and commanded the respect and gratitude of all. The Liberal and Labour leaders speak of his charming personality which endeared him to even bitter opponents. Mr. Clynes, the Home Secretary, said "I do not think he has left a single enemy. He had the restraints of a philosophical mind and though subtle was sincere in a higher degree than other men. He combined power with charm and had an agility of mind rarely surpassed in the House of Commons." Messages have been received from a number of foreign governments conveying condolences.

From Jerusalem it is stated that the grief over Lord Balfour's death is perhaps nowhere more widespread and genuine than in Palestine among the Jews for whom the memory of the British Statesman who signed his name to the British War Cabinet's declaration favouring the Jewish National Home will for ever remain green no matter how practical the aspects of Zionism work out.

False Rumours of Disaster.

Rumours are widely current that Kaye Don and his "Silver Bullet" car have met with grave disaster at Daytona. No explanation as to what gave rise to the report is forthcoming but it gained a remarkably widespread circulation. On Sunday night the Sunday Despatch rang up Kaye Don at Daytona.

Don who is alive and well answered the telephone himself and said there was not a word of truth in the rumour of the disaster. He was feeling quite O.K. and in every respect the car was perfectly all right but the weather was very bad and that was what was holding him up.

He added that he was feeling very confident that he will break the record.

"FREETHINKING."

The Bishop's Disclaimer.

To the Editor : Sir, I notice that in your issue of Monday in which you mention the address I gave in the Cathedral last Sunday morning, I am supposed to have said the following, "Free thinking had stimulated into activity the broadmindedness of Britishers."

Now, Sir, I am aware that the word "Freethinking" is not used here in its technical Theological sense, but I cannot let it pass without comment because if anyone thought that I had really made that statement I should be rightly the subject of very adverse criticism. Freethinking in the Religious sphere is like Freethinking in the secular sphere, it begets anarchy. Communism in its worst form is the result of freethinking. A Freethinker is probably the worst danger the Church and, by implication, the State can have. Broad Mindedness is also a word I can never grasp the meaning of. A Clergyman should be broad minded. That is, I suppose, play in with both sides and not to be too particular about either. No Sir, let us be definite, What I did say was that our English character was different from any other country's because we have an active form of faith, and all our disputes and quarrels really break no bones and in spite of everything the good old Church of England has still a ministry that can hold its own in argument, but has no truck with the so-called Freethinker who probably never thinks at all. Hoping you will be good enough to insert this disclaimer,

I am, your obedient servant,
N.S. Falkland Isles.

Delhi for the many kindnesses we have received during our visit to Port Stanley. In particular I would thank Your Excellency for the services of H.M.C.T. "Penguin", without the use of which it would have been impossible for the ship to provide sufficient trips for her own men not to mention the occasions on which people of Port Stanley were entertained on board. I have the honour to be, your Excellency's obedient servant, W.E.O. Tait, Captain.

25th March 1930.

Gandhi's aim is apparently considered by the Committee to be too wide for adoption but it is understood they have decided to ask the Congress to take steps in time to keep the Civil Disobedience Movement alive.

DANCER'S TOMB DESECRATED.

News from Marseilles announces that the tomb of Gaby Deslys, the famous dancer who died in 1920 has been desecrated by ghouls and body snatchers.

The wardens of St. Pierre's cemetery discovered that the masonry vaults containing the remains had been broken open and a hole made in the wall of the chapel. Where the door of the chapel opened an obvious attempt had been made to raise the slab of granite covering the vault. The desecrators were foiled by the solid steel doors protecting the coffin. It was possible that the ghouls were searching for jewels or attempting to gather evidence of the dead girl's identity.

Fate Of "Silver Bullet".

A remarkable position has arisen at Daytona where Kaye Don is making trial runs with his car "Silver Bullet" preparatory to attempting to beat Sir Henry Seagrave's record for it is reported that serious differences have come between Don and Louis Coatalen, the designer. The American authorities have expressed their dissatisfaction with the position but it is now officially announced that the difficulties have been "smoothed out" and "no further trouble" is anticipated.

During the conference Val Haresnape, the director of the trials is understood to have told Don and Coatalen that no measured times would be taken unless the difficulties were straightened out quickly and the sanction of the Association would be withdrawn. It is known that Don and Coatalen have had differences of opinion on questions of alterations to the "Silver Bullet".

MR. T.G. SLAUGHTER'S ACCIDENT.

We hear with deep regret of the accident to Mr. T.G. Slaughter who broke his leg while out riding with Mrs. Slaughter on Tuesday between Bluff Cove and Mount Pleasant. Apparently the horse fell when crossing some soft ground and before Mr. Slaughter could jump clear the animal had pinned him down. In spite of the injury which was to his right leg he pluckily mounted again and after an agonising two hours' ride reached the car which he drove home some twenty miles. On examination it was found that the brooch bone of the leg was broken.

NEW GOLF RECORD.

His Excellency's 34.

A new record was set up for the Stanley Golf Course on Monday when His Excellency the Governor, playing against the Hon. J. Innes Moir in the "Hay Cup", went round in 34 for the nine holes.

His Excellency's score was :-

Hole	1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.
Score	4.	4.	4.	4.	3.	4.	4.	4.	3.	Total 34.

Excellent though this score is, it was only bad luck on the greens which prevented the Governor from denting the record to the tune of 31. We wish to congratulate His Excellency on this fine achievement.

TRACKS TO THE CAMP.

Interesting Development.

Our readers will be aware that for some time past it has been possible by reason of the initiative shown by Mr. T.G. Slaughter, the Camp Manager of the Auckland Islands Company to proceed by motor car if not all the way at any rate for a great portion of the distance between Fitzroy and Darwin.

Conversations have now taken place with His Excellency between the Hon. L.W.H. Young, Mr. Slaughter and the Hon. G. Roberts (Colonial Engineer) with the object of the construction of a track from Stanley to Fitzroy so as to complete this form of communication between Stanley and Darwin.

We understand that the Hon. G. Roberts proposes shortly to make a surveying expedition from Stanley to Darwin by means of the six-wheel Morris motor lorry recently imported for this object by the Public Works Department. We are sure that the results of the Hon. G. Roberts' experimental survey will be awaited with great interest throughout the Colony.

While we fear that metal roads may prove prohibitive in cost we are yet optimistic enough to think that before long it will be possible to drive in moderate weather conditions by motor car between Stanley and the principal Stations in the Islands.

THE MISSING RUSSIAN.

Soviet And A "Plot" By Britain.

"L'Humanite", the official organ of the Communist movement in France professes to believe that the kidnapping of General Koutepoff, the leader of the White Russians, and the placing of him on board a steamer is the result of a plot staged by the British Intelligence Service to discredit the Soviet Government and to create tension between the workers of Russia and France.

The inference they sought to convey was that the kidnapers will later produce the general and say that the Soviet, frightened by the attitude of the civilised nations, released him.

"La Liberte" in Paris declares that the general is in Lubianka Prison, Moscow and says that Dorgalevsky, the Soviet Ambassador had better not show himself to the public as it will see that he gets a fitting reception.

Have you heard this one ? An old lady who paid a visit to the Aberdeen Infirmary was highly impressed with everything being so clean and tidy about the wards, and was particularly struck with the young students in their long white coats. While leaving to go home, she met a young man with a long white coat on, coming out of the main entrance. "You will be a student," she said "are you coming out for a doctor ?" "No mum," replied the young man, "I'm the painter, coming out for a pint."

One way of looking at it.

Here is a story of Oriental logic. A man had employed a Chinese cook for many years and one day, after a particularly good dinner, decided to raise his wages. When the Chinese cook received the increased money at the end of the week he was very surprised.

"Why are you paying me more ?" he asked his master.
"Because you have been such a good cook," returned his master with a smile.

"Oh !" the Oriental frowned, "then you've been swindling me for years, eh ?"

THE ARMY.

War Minister's Revelations.

Speaking in the House of Commons at the beginning of the week the Minister of War, the Right Honourable Tom Shaw, said that the actual number of forces, exclusive of India, was 148,900 compared with 842,000 in 1921 and 186,400 in 1914. As regards the 60,000 men in India he pointed out that actually there was one British soldier for every five thousand of the native population.

He drew special attention to these figures as he was afraid somewhat exaggerated opinions were held regarding the number of white troops in India.

Referring to a motion demanding annual extensive reductions in the army he said the Prime Minister had specifically declared that Great Britain stood for a reduction of armaments by agreement. It was the method of the League of Nations. It was assumed by some theorists and speculative philosophers that if Britain reduced considerably and consistently without regard to other nations the nation would help along general disarmament.

It seemed to him that if one thing had become clearer than another since the war it was that both economically and politically whether they liked it or not, they were bound to an international system.

With regard to the question whether public money should be spent on officers training corps and cadet corps at public schools Mr. Shaw said he had come to the conclusion on definite expert advice that the officers training corps were really valuable organisations for the proper supply of officers. So long as the army existed on a voluntary basis there would have to be some such form of army recruiting.

No compulsion was exercised by the Army Council or on the part of the Government to compel any boys to join these corps. The officers training corps would continue to receive Government grants. He could not, however, take the same attitude with regard to the elementary and secondary schools which appeared to be in the majority of cases against this particular training on educational grounds. He agreed with those representatives and intended, with the consent of the House, to cease to give War Office assistance to these bodies when the existing contracts expired.

EARL BALFOUR'S WILL.

The will of the late Earl Balfour was lodged in the Register House, Edinburgh on Monday. The document reveals that as a result of a family conference a plan had been devised to save the estate as much as possible from the drain of death duties. The Earl's brother, Gerald, who succeeded to the earldom and who will be seventy seven next month was originally given the sole right to use for life Whittinghame, the Earl's Scottish seat together with the entire residue of the estate. But the late Earl altered the condition with a codicil appointing his brother's son Viscount Traprain, aged 28 years in place of the father. The codicil declares "I wish to say I made the alteration to save my heirs as much estate duty as possible.

WINNER OF THE LINCOLN.

Least Fancied Of French Horses.

The winner of the Lincoln Handicap was the French horse "Leonidas" at 40 to 1 odds. The horse was one of the least fancied of the five French animals taking part in the race and had not run in England before.

M. Boussac, the owner, races on a large scale in France but was not present to see the addition of these important laurels to his renowned stable. The trainer, Sam Darling, expected the horse to run well but thought it had too much weight and, in the absence of stable backing the public had ignored "Leonidas".

UNEMPLOYMENT CRISIS.

Cabinet Differences.

The "Daily Mail" political correspondent writes that owing to the Government's inability to stem the rising tide of the workless which now numbers 1,621,800, an increase of 439,546 on the situation a year ago, has caused grave differences of opinion both in the Cabinet and the Labour groups.

The situation behind the scenes is strained and the anxious forwards among the rank and file are no longer satisfied with the orthodox methods of Mr. J.H. Thomas though he is supported by the Premier, Mr. Snowden and other Ministers.

Apparently the leaders of the campaign against the Government will be satisfied with nothing less than millions being spent on development work and the costly removal of the very young and old from the industrial market.

At a Cabinet meeting called to deal with the situation a day or two back Mr. MacDonald found Mr. Thomas ready to tender his resignation. Some friends of the Lord Privy Seal state that the resignation has actually been tendered. They say also that he is worried by the absence of response to his efforts and irritated by the campaigning support of his assistants & Mr. Lansbury, Sir Oswald Moseley and Mr. Johnston - expressed in a recent memorandum.

Mr. Thomas' friends also declare that he is a victim of treachery supplemented by intrigues of the inner circle of Ministers and that it would surprise no one if a sudden change of plan revealed a rupture really existing inside the Socialist Party.

SWITCHING ON LIGHTS

14,000 Miles Away.

Signor Marconi, in a telephone talk to the "Daily Mail" on Wednesday from Genoa said "To-day, I have had the remarkable experience of switching on the lights at the Sydney Exhibition in Australia from my yacht "Electra" in Genoa.

"Using a transmitting apparatus about the size of a small wardrobe, I pressed the handle and sent out a signal or impulse. The signal was picked up at Somerton in Somerset and passed on to London by land-line from thence to the Beam Station at Grimsby from where it was flashed to Rockbank in Australia finally reaching Sydney by land-line. The impulse travelled 14,000 miles and flashed through space at the speed of 186,000 miles a second.

"I have been talking daily by wireless telephony from my yacht to Australia @ 9,000 miles away. The experiment means, if the right apparatus is used, that anyone may telephone from Europe to Australia or to any other continent while people on ships at sea may telephone to any part of the world.

"Hitherto the longest ship-to-shore talk has been 2,800 miles."

The Course A Bullet Takes.

An extremely novel but nevertheless interesting demonstration with tracer bullets was given on the New Range on Saturday afternoon when, under the able supervision of Sergeant-Major Allan, the course a bullet takes from the moment it is fired till the time it reaches its objective was made plainly visible to the naked eye.

There was quite a number of enthusiasts present while His Excellency the Governor, Major Hay of Seaton, Captain R.H. Marshall, Captain D.R. Watson and the Hon. G.R.L. Brown also watched the proceedings.

The first practice was at 1,000 yards where the practical theory of Small Arms Fire was clearly explained and one could easily follow the course of the luminous bullet. At the next range used in the demonstration, the 500 yards, a glass firing target was put up and again the course of the bullets was visible to the naked eye. The number of hits registered was 38 including five bulls. A word of praise is due to the two marksmen using the Lewis Guns for the demonstrations - Privates G. Fallini and J. Watts - who have been so efficiently trained by Sergeant-Major Allan.

In conclusion a demonstration was given with two Lewis Guns firing obliquely at two flag-poles representing the enemy position. The arms were manipulated by Captain Marshall and Sergeant-Major Allan, the range being at 500 yards. At a given signal both guns using drum fire kept up a continual stream of bullets on the objectives, the proceedings deeply impressing everyone. The bullets used are made visible by a coating of magnesia and phosphorus which is ignited by the excess of heat in the machine-gun barrel.

ON THE TRACK TO DARWIN.

Dogged By Bogs.

Lorry Arrived Last Night.

Early Saturday morning saw the beginning of an adventure opening up great possibilities for the improvement of communications between the different Stations on the Islands. Under the capable management and supervision of the Colonial Engineer (the Hon. G. Roberts) the six-wheel Morris motor lorry left Stanley for Darwin in order to fix, if possible, a track for such vehicles to pass between the two places.

The personnel of the expedition included also Mr. E.J. Gleadell, Mr. R.H. Ballard, Mr. P. Smith and Mr. T. Paice while the lorry carried about a ton of equipment and timber, the latter for the purpose of assisting the lorry over the soft spots. In mapping out the itinerary deviations were allowed for in order that the best track might be found. The way taken was through Port Harriet, Bluff Cove, Hillside and Mount Pleasant, the worst part of the journey being expected between Hillside and Mount Pleasant. Though the ground was covered not quite so quickly as anticipated the Hon. G. Roberts set out on this enterprising journey under a happy omen for Saturday was Mrs. Roberts' birthday.

Throughout the week-end the keenly interested townfolk of Stanley have uttered the perpetual question "How are they getting on on?" As the news has filtered through the slow but sure progress of the lorry overcoming its difficulties has been visualised. Not unnaturally set-backs were to be encountered the worst apparently being at Bluff Cove two and a half miles from the house and by the stone run where they were bogged for about two hours. At the first stream in Robson's Camp another delay occurred but just before 6.30 in the evening Hillside was reached, the darkness having set in while rain was falling.

Early again yesterday morning they continued their journey arriving at Mount Pleasant about 10.30 a.m. Up to that point the lorry had travelled with the creeper track attached to enable it to traverse the boggy ground more easily but it was soon found that it would have to be replaced. Bad luck dogged the expedition for besides being bogged Mount Pleasant and Swan Inlet a great deal of time was lost in strengthening the light bridges over the streams, leaving the structures afterwards as they found them. Consequently their destination was not reached until about 4.30 yesterday afternoon when everyone in Darwin gave them a warm welcome, the lorry being a source of intense interest. Many too were the expressions of pleasure at the success of the adventure.

The return journey is being started upon to-day The Hon. G. Roberts hoping to arrive at Bluff Cove this evening and Stanley late to-morrow afternoon, if the weather still continues to favour them.

PAMPHLETS DROPPED ON PARIS.

Two aeroplanes flying over the Paris Chamber of Deputies during the debate on the Ratification of the Young Plan on Friday, dropped thousands of leaflets printed in red, protesting against the ratification.

The leaflets declared that if the Chamber approved of the Plan "German aeroplanes and zeppelins would be flying over Paris dropping bombs within three months". The leaflets have been produced by the "Action Francaise", the French Royalist Military Organisation.

During the debate the young Royalists demonstrated against the evacuation of the Rhineland by Franco. M. Tardieu was interrupted several times and anxiety was manifest as to what France could do in the event of Germany failing to carry out the Plan. M. Tardieu said that if Germany failed to recognise her obligations France could appeal to the League of Nations.

DE VALERA AND IRELAND.

Cosgrave Resigns.

Following the resignation of Cosgrave's Irish Free State Government De Valera may be proposed as President of the Executive Council. The Government was defeated in the Dail on Friday by sixty six votes to sixty four on a Bill for extending the old age pensions introduced by the De Valera party. The Bill was opposed by the Government on the grounds that it would involve an extra cost of from two hundred and fifty thousand to three hundred thousand pounds yearly. The Bill was supported by the Labour party and some of the Independents.

On Saturday Cosgrave announced that the Government would resign and on his motion the Dail adjourned until next Wednesday when it will proceed with the election of the President of the Executive Council - the position just vacated by Cosgrave.

O'Kelly, who is acting as leader of the De Valera party in the absence of De Valera who is on his way home from America, said the Party was prepared to nominate De Valera as President. The general belief in Dublin is that De Valera will be defeated and Cosgrave will be re-elected. Cosgrave was elected to the Presidency in 1922 and re-elected in 1927.

When interviewed in Chicago De Valera said that if he were elected he would resume efforts for a complete Irish Independence.

THE GRAND NATIONAL.

The winner of the Grand National which took place on Friday at Aintree was "Shaungoilin", owner Mr. W.H. Midwood and jockey Cullinan. "Millerays Belle" owner W. Wilson and jockey Mason, was second with "Sir Lindsay" owner J.H. Whitney and jockey Williams, third. The starting prices were :- 100/8, 20/1 and 100/7.

Brilliant sunshine favoured the meeting and the gaily coloured dresses made a wonderful setting for a thrilling race, the most exciting for many years for the winner won the prize only by a neck while one and a half lengths separated the second and third. Only five of the forty-one starters finished, twenty-one dropping out the first time round the course. The crowd was estimated at 250,000.

"Shaungoilin" is of Irish bred and of unknown pedigree once being sold for twenty-two guineas while the owner is a Liverpool cotton broker who never bets. Robin Goodfellow selected "Shaungoilin" as a probable winner.

Goodfellow is the "Daily Mail" racing expert who says that it was the most stirring finish the Grand National had produced in his time.

So close was it that Mason, the little known rider of "Millerays Belle" rode into the enclosure set aside for the winner. "I caught the expression on his face" Goodfellow goes on to say, when he was called to make way for "Shaungoilin". I shall never forget it."
