STOCK SHOW FOR STANLEY.

A Centenary Feature.

A meeting of the Centenary Stock Show Committee was held in the Colonial Secretary's Office on Wednesday morning under the chairmanship of the Hon. J.H. Ellis (Colonial Secretary).

It is understood that a draft was drawn up of a provisional programme for a Stock Show and Sheep Dog Trials to be held at Stanley in February 1933 on the occasion of the Celebration of the Colony's Centenary. In due course the details of this provisional programme will be published.

The Stock Show Committee appointed by the General Committee comprises the following: The Hon. J.H. Ellis (Chairman), the Hon. G.J. Pelton J.P., the Hon. L.W.H. Young, J.P., Mr R.C. Polo-Evans J.P., Mr. W. Luxton J.P., with Mr. A. Kowing as Hon. Secretary.

It was also decided at the meeting by those present to co-opt to the Stock Show Committee the following additional members: Mr. T.G. Goddard J.P., Mr Hugh Harding J.P., Mr J. Bonner, Mr. M. Cameron, and Mr. A.G. Barton J.P.,.

THE WEATHER BREAKS DOWN -

BUT IS NOW MAKING GOOD PROGRESS.

Apparently overcome by the exertions imposed on his frail nature over Easter in maintaining brilliant sunshine for practically five days, the Clerk of the Weather had a serious relapse on Wednesday and the Skies vent their grief in no uncertain manner by deluging Stanley - and possibly most of the East Falklands if not the West - with a flood of water.

Within twenty-four hours over 1.3 inches of rain fell, almost an inch being collected within the last twelve hours. To make matters worse the wind blew from the North East at storm force most of the day and at times reached a velocity of sixty-three miles an hour.

The poor condition of this "venerable worthy" decidedly had its effect on the inhabitants of the town whose spirits were sadly damped. (particularly if they ventured outside the door for five minutes.) Yesterday's bulletin, however, was much more cheerful for up to the time of going to press there was hardly a cloud to be seen and there was every indication of the bright and warm sunshine remaining the whole day. We learn on good authority that the patient is now making good progress - pro tem.

LONDON. The engagement of the twenty-one years' old Earl of Warwick and Miss Margaret Whigham, announced at the beginning of March, has been broken off.

INCREASE OF CRIME

PARTICULARLY AMONG YOUNG PEOPLE.

The Home Office crime statistics for 1930 issued on Wednesday reveal a continued increase in crime, particularly among young people and in areas where unemployment is most acute, says the "Daily Telegraph". The total crime known to the police in 1930 was 147,031 cases - the highest this century. It was 121,450 above 1929 and 68,784 higher than the average for 1900 - 04.

Two outstanding facts emerge from the report: the greater part of the increase is due to crime against property. Two-fifths of all the people convicted of crime were below the age of twenty-one and two-thirds under 30. Only one-quarter were between thirty and fifty and only seven in a hundred above fifty.

The Report ascribes the growth of crime to war and industrial depression. Faced with an increase in crime the Courts have passed longer sentences.

ANOTHER BLOW FOR DE VALERA.

From semi-official sources in Canada, de Valera has been informed that should he carry out his intention of abolishing the Oath of Allegiance and thereby cause a rupture with the British Government, he or his representative would be refused a seat at the Imperial Conference at Ottawa.

This news has caused Mr. De Valera to delay the despatch of his reply to the British Note. A prominent Free State politician said on Wednesday that de Valera is now realising that the standing of the Free States among the Nations of the world is dependant upon the extent to which they can rely upon her honour and good faith.

De Valera's reply will probably be despatched to-day (Friday.)

NEWS IN BRIEF.

VIENNA.

The Vienna Civil Courts have begun the examination of the famous violinist - Jan Kubelik, and his wife, whose liabilities are estimated at 9,000,000 schillings, and assets at 800,000 schillings. Kubelik attributes his difficulties to the depreciation of his American and French shareholdings.

DURBAN.

The defeat of the 1931 members of the South African Davis Cup Team in the South African Lawn Tennis Championships has confounded all experts who now predict the beginning of a new era for the game in South Africa.

BOMBAY.

The meeting of the Cotton Brokers' Association held on Wednesday decided to allow transactions in July and August for the future. Hitherto however, most, if not all transactions were restricted to three days weekly while non-trading with the principal British firms as specified in the Congress Bulletin, continues.

IS PARIS TO LOSE HER ENTERTAINMENTS ?

Paris was to have been deprived of all kinds of entertainment after last Tuesday. It was understood that the Cinema proprietors were joining the theatre and music hall managers in a general strike pending reduced taxation.

The Premier, M. Tardieu, took part in the discussion about it & a suggestion that the taxation should be reduced by half or more met with practically no opposition.

The Controllers' Amusement Industry means business but it was expected that the whole dispute would be settled before long.

The theatres' Strike Committee decided to postpone the lock-out from March 29th to April 4th, whether the Government grants a satisfactory reduction in the taxation affecting the entertainments or not.

CHANCELLOR OF THE EXCHEQUER'S APPEAL TO B.B.C.

The "Daily Telegraph" understands that the Treasury will shortly be asking the British Broadcasting Corporation to make a financial sacrifice beyond the £150,000 which it has already agreed to forego in the interests of National Economy.

It is expected that the B.B.C. will readily accede to the Chancellor of the Exchequer's request and a substantial cut will be effected in the £1,366,000 which the Corporation was to receive from the Licencing duties.

This sacrifice will not involve any loss in efficiency in the service or any lowering of the standard of the programmes.

FINANCIAL TROUBLES IN AFRICA.

A message from Cape-Town states that the Finance Minister, Mr. Havanga's last budget statement on Wednesday showed a deficit of £1,200,000 for the year about the close.

Most of the branches of revenue showed heavy declines. The estimates for the coming financial year were : Expenditure - £27,480,000; Revenue £25,845,000. To the estimated deficit of £1,635,000 must be added the deficits brought forward making a total of £3,735,000 to be provided for. The new taxation proposals provide £3,535,000 additional revenue leaving a deficit of only £200,000. Referring to the Gold Standard question Mr. Havanga said that the Government would not fall into line at all with inflation.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT VERSUS FASCISTS.

A conflict between the German Government and the Fascists has arisen and is undoubtedly serious. President Hindenburg has proclaimed a Federal Truce to April 3rd and until then all political demonstrations are illegal.

Herr Hitler, however, has arranged to address 7,000 people at Brunswick on Saturday and the authorities have taken no steps to prevent him. The Fascists claim that the meeting is to be composed of party members and will be "private", but General Groener declares that the meeting is "public" and must be prevented.

It is semi-officially stated that the Government is determined to assert its authority in this case and as Hitler has been emphasising his political "legality" it is not likely he will suddenly swing round and flagrantly defy the law.

emphasis on the invaluable work done by the Arauchian Mission which the Church in Stanley helped to maintain.

In referring to the advent of the new Dean His Lordship said that they had a great acquisition in the Very Reverend H.E. Lumsdale, and he was delighted to see the way in which they had rallied round him during the Easter Festival; he felt sure the Dean would rise to the occasion and he felt certain that he would still be doing so at the end of five years or, perhaps, even ten.

People said "Oh yes! A new broom!" But what he himself had seen of the Dean and Mrs. Lumsdale they were people who did not talk of what they were going to do unless they meant to do it, and, if they did not succeed it would not be their fault.

A PIPE FOR MR. T. BINNIE.

Mr. T. Binnie.

Presentation At Bishop's "At Home".

All who know Mr. Tom Binnie feel that a more deserving testimonial could not have been accorded him than the presentation of a pipe and a "purse" by His Lordship the Bishop in the Town Hall on Thursday evening. This token was subscribed for among the members of the Church in recognition of his devoted services to the Cathedral from the departure of the late Dean up to the arrival of the Very Reverend Dean Lumsdale.

During this time it fell to Mr. Binnie's lot to bear the weight of a responsible task to which acquittal of his duties His Lordship the Bishop, and the Dean, laid deserving tribute.

In his modest and homely response Mr. Binnie expressed his deep thanks for this recognition of what to him was "simply his duty". He concluded by calling for three hearty cheers, given wholeheartedly, for His Lordship to whom they were deeply indebted for the happy evening they were all spending.

The presentation took place during an "At Home" in the Town Hall, given by the Bishop to the people of Stanley. The evening was taken up with dancing to the music of the local bands while Mr. J.F. Summers was responsible for the refreshments. There were about 400 people present including His Excellency the Governor, the Hon. J.M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary) and Mrs. Ellis.

THE BUDGET BALANCED

And 2364,000 Surplus.

The National Financial year concluded on Thursday with, a message from London reports, the following result : Revenue - 2770,963,000, Expenditure - 2770,599,000, Budget Surplus - 2364,000.

The year closed more favourably than Lord Snowden anticipated when he introduced the Emergency Budget last September, says the "Daily Telegraph". He forecast a surplus of 21,821,000 but planned to appropriate the entire £3 millions sterling remaining in the Dollar Exchange Account.

Actually Mr. Neville Chamberlain, Lord Snowden's successor as Chancellor, has used only 212,750,000 from this account. Had the full sum been brought into the Budget Surplus this would have made the total 210,614,000.

The soundness of the British financial situation is in contrast with the conditions in the two principal countries which remain on the gold standard.

In the United States feverish efforts are being made to raise the revenue to meet the estimated budget deficit of 1,220 million dollars, while in France it is officially estimated that the budget will result in a deficit of 3,968 million francs.

It was announced on Thursday that the 2700,000 balance of the Credits which the French bankers advanced to Great Britain during the crisis last August, has been repaid. The remaining 4,000,000 credit from the United States is expected to be repaid by Tuesday next.

DE VALERA'S REPLY.

Free State Cabinet Considers It.

It was officially announced from Dublin on Thursday that the draft of de Valera's reply to Britain concerning the Oath of Allegiance and the Land Annuities was to have been considered by the Free State Cabinet last night. It was impossible to say when the reply would be sent.

It is understood that there has been a serious division of opinion in the Cabinet and that de Valera's original draft has been entirely remodelled.

A Government official said that the consideration of the draft may involve further changes and yet another meeting of the Cabinet to approve of the final wording of the document says the "Daily Telegraph".

It is reported that the Free State Cabinet has decided to levy a tariff of 33 1/3 per cent on all foreign imports which can be manufactured in the Free States. The tariff on British and Dominion products is to be 25 per cent.

The new tariff policy is to be carried out gradually during the next few months.

GERMAN BUDGET DECREE.

President Hindenburg has signed an emergency decree extending the Budget Year by three months from yesterday (April 1st.)

During this period salaries will remain unchanged but other expenditure will be reduced by 20 per cent.

One of the reasons for the extension is to make the end of the financial year coincide with the expiration of the Hoover Moratorium on June 30th.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Canberra : The Federal Government is abolishing the Cotton Yarn Bounty as from July 1st. It is expected that the Commonwealth will thus save £120,000 and that the new duties which are being imposed on a sliding scale will give industry sufficient protection.

Cape Town : Work ceased on Thursday at the De Beer's Diamond Mines at Kimberley and at the Premier Mine at Victoria. A skeleton staff is being retained to keep the mines dry and to look after the plant.

Stockholm : The Government has granted the application of the Kreuger and Toll Combine for the prolongation of the Moratorium for one month, until the end of April.

Sao Paulo : The Brazilian Minister of Finance has placed his signature to a contract for the purchase of German coal dependent on Germany buying 300,000 sacks of coffee.

Washington : It is expected that the House of Representatives will vote upon the new Tax Bill in its completed form on Saturday.

Detroit : In introducing his new eight cylinder motor car for 460 dollars, Henry Ford declared on Thursday that he was prepared to back his faith in the imminent return of brighter times with the whole of his fortune.

Paris : Without warning the French authorities established on Thursday a quota for various kinds of cotton goods. Lancashire, Yorkshire will be particularly affected.

Cape Town : Two gunmen who carried out the raid on the Plumstead branch of the Standard Bank of South Africa and seriously wounded two clerks who resisted them, were sentenced on Thursday : Aaron Barlow, aged twenty, to 20 years hard labour with 12 strokes of the "Cat", James Leo, a coloured American, to 15 years hard labour and 12 strokes of the "Cat".

LIFTING THE CURFEW AT SHANGHAI.

Conditions Nearly Normal.

Following the lifting of the Curfew and the opening of the Stock Exchange at Shanghai, conditions were nearly normal on Friday. A skeleton force of regulars is being maintained round the International Settlement.

These signs of a returning peace are, however, in direct contrast with the gloomy predictions made regarding the Peace Conference which was being renewed on Saturday and which were expected to break down.

CANADIAN RAILWAY BILL.

To meet the Canadian National Railway's deficit for the past fiscal year, and provide for debenture obligations maturing during the coming year, a Bill authorising the issue of Canadian National Debentures, amounting to sixty-one and a half million dollars, is being introduced in the House of Commons at Ottawa.

U.S.A. & THE DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE.

A Reuter message from Washington announces that Mr. Stimpson, the United States Secretary, left on Friday for Geneva to join temporarily the United States Delegation to the Disarmament Conference.

It is understood that he will make no speeches nor take part in the discussion on debts but intends to remain in Geneva only two or three weeks for a brief survey of the conditions, and then return to America.

BEATING HITLER'S DRIVE.

The German Socialists, so a report from Berlin states, are planning an extensive campaign as a counter attack on Hitler's drive in the Presidential Election.

"The Iron Front" of the Socialists' Organisation, formed to oppose Hitler's "Private Army", is to be particularly active.

From Saturday, when the Pastor Truce ended, until the 10th of April - the date of the Presidential Election - the Socialists are expecting to hold some 75,000 meetings in support of Eindhoven's candidature.

MR. BALDWIN SPEAKS.

Speaking at Worcester on Saturday, Mr. Stanley Baldwin referred to the forthcoming conference at Ottawa, and said "We are at cross-roads in Imperial Fiscal relations for the natural destiny of our country is an economic union with our own flesh and blood. If that cannot be accomplished it may well be that we shall be driven to look towards Europe."

EMPIRE DISAPPROVAL OF DE VALERA.

Round Table Conference Proposal.

The Free State Cabinet met on Friday night to decide finally, on the terms of the reply to England and it is expected that the Note will reach London to-day (Monday.)

It is stated that the new draft is more friendly in tone and, while insisting upon the demand for the abolition of the Oath of Allegiance and pressing the claim for the retention of Land Annuities, leaves the way open for an amicable atmosphere for negotiation, says the "Daily Telegraph".

Indications are forthcoming that the whole Empire strongly disapproves of de Valera's proposals.

Sir Thomas Inskip, the Attorney General, in a speech said there was no reason to believe that in any part of the Empire was there any sympathy with de Valera's intentions or outlook.

A message from London on Saturday night states that the view of the British Government regarding the suggested Round Table Conference with the Irish Free State Government is, that should Mr. de Valera seek such a conference the proposal would receive careful consideration.

In the meantime, the New Zealand Government has expressed the hope in a message to the British Government that the Free State will do nothing to jeopardise her present partnership with the British Commonwealth.

The New Zealand Government says: "The Government feel that the Statute of Westminster affords every guarantee of equality for the partners of the British Commonwealth." This expression of apprehension follows closely on the message sent by the Australian Federal Cabinet.

While Mr. de Valera denies that there is any split in his Cabinet it is admitted that more than a little difficulty is being experienced in the drafting of the reply to the British Government in order that it will not give offence to one or the other of the various interests concerned.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Financial Report & Recommendations.

The Financial Committee's Report which a special meeting of the League Council will consider at Geneva on the 12th of April, was published on Friday night.

The Report urges that instant measures should be taken for the economic re-construction of Central Europe. The Committee declares that the position of Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria and Greece is "very serious", says the "Daily Telegraph".

In the case of Austria and Greece, the Committee recommends an immediate advance of 100 million schillings for Austria and the suspension of all foreign debt payments by Greece for a year.

Regarding Bulgaria, the Committee recommends transfers for the whole of the payments respecting their external debt to be reduced fifty per cent during the six months April to September.

It declares that the postponement of the Lausanne Conference on the general question of Reparations caused a serious deterioration in world conditions.

N.P.'s. TRAGIC DEATH.

Mr. Edward Marjoriebanks, aged 32, the Conservative M.P. for Eastbourne and a grandson of Lord Tweedmouth, was found shot dead on Saturday night in the billiards room of Carters' Corner Place, Hailsham, Sussex, the residence of his step-father, Lord Hailsham.

There was a gunshot wound in his chest and a gun lay beside him. He had been in ill-health and suffering from insomnia and overwork.

A brilliant Oxford scholar, Mr. Marjoriebanks, wrote the life of the late Sir Edward Marshall Hall, and was engaged on the life of Lord Carson at the time of his death.

He was a barrister of distinction and as a politician he had a brilliant future and was regarded as one of the foremost of the younger men of the Conservative Party.

THE OLD TOWN SINKING.

Strange Italian Drama.

A message from Naples states that a strange drama is being enacted at Santo Stefano, the oldest town in Italy, which is sinking into ancient caves upon which its foundations were laid before Rome herself was built.

During last week-end sixteen houses collapsed, fortunately without loss of life. The whole town is apparently doomed.

Soldiers and firemen are engaged frantically, in sending the 2,000 inhabitants of the sinking town to safety.

Centuries of infiltration of water have corroded the rocks whereon the inhabitants built their dwellings from pre-historic days.

The destruction has been going on so quickly that it was not until Friday night that some of the peasants and shepherds were terrified to see the walls of their primitive houses suddenly crack.

LITTLE "WILLIE" AS PRETENDER

TO GERMAN THRONE.

The ex-Crown Prince of Germany has again intervened in the Presidential election campaign. He appears not as an aspirant to the Presidency, but as a Pretender to the throne, using an illegal title. He says in his manifesto to the nation -

"Abstention from voting in the second ballot of the Presidential Election is incompatible with the idea of a Nationalist front. As I consider an unbroken front absolutely necessary I shall vote for Adolph Hitler in the second ballot. Wilhelm, Crown Prince."

This utterance, is signed "Crown Prince" despite the fact that on December the 1st, 1928 he "expressly and finally renounced all rights to the throne of Prussia and to the Imperial throne." The use of the title is a claim to such a right.

The ex-Kaiser's eldest son is entitled to call himself only "Wilhelm, Prince of Prussia," a title which he hitherto used.

MOSLEMS V. CONGRESSITES.

Another Aspect In India.

Maulana Shaikat Ali, the famous Mohammedan leader declared in Bombay on Saturday - "We Moslems do not believe in the Congress programme."

He added "If the picketing of Moslems in Bombay is not withdrawn there will be trouble. It means the declaration of war, for I am determined to stop this bullying. Unless the picketing is withdrawn Moslems will start picketing the Congress-men's houses."

Should this piquant situation arise there is every likelihood of serious trouble because the communal element would be introduced for the Congress is practically entirely Hindu, says the "Daily Telegraph."

It is understood that an ultimatum has been sent to Mistress Haidu, the present head of the Congress, for the immediate withdrawal of the pickets from the Moslems' shops, or the Congress must take the consequences.

But they must be earnest in their desire for help and look to the Holy Eucharist, not go on waiting to be pulled back."

60 HORSES FOR THE COLONY.

From about 11.0 a.m. to after 6.0 Monday evening, Mr. R.C. Pole Evans with the help of Mr. W. Morrison and Mr. S. Miller and two men were engaged in unshipping some sixty horses from the m.v. "Laguna", brought to the Colony for the Falkland Islands Company and which, having since been taken out to Darwin.

The scene on board the ship resembled a glorified Rodeo in miniature and the spectators watched, thrilled to the marrow, the strenuous endeavours of the horsemen at their task which, at times, left them exposed to no little personal risk.

For although the animals were in a comparatively subdued condition on account of their journey their wild nature made the handling of them difficult, and great credit is due to the "broncho Busters" for the expedite and efficient manner in which they succeeded in unloading this awkward cargo.

GOLD IN SWEDEN.

Rich Mines Already Being Worked.

According to official statements, the coastal stretch of Swedish Lapland contains very rich ores of copper and gold. An application has now been made to the Government for a substantial grant in order to carry out the work of surveying the area.

The ore districts of Kuorbeavare and Malaa belong to the State, and the rich gold deposit of Boliden belong to the Krauger and Toll concern. In Kuorbeavare the Adak mine contains strata five yards wide, holding important percentages of gold and copper.

At Boliden, where a little township has grown up in the midst of the woods, the ore has already been exported and smelted with surprisingly good results. The ore contains an average of twenty grams of gold and sixty grams of silver to the ton, and has a copper content of two per cent.

Despite these circumstances, there has been no "gold rush" in Sweden, although the new mines have already absorbed a large number of workers.

Thursday, 7th April, 1932.

Stanley,
Tuesday, 6th April, '32.

My Dear Friends,

Before I leave the Islands I want to give you a little fare-well message.

I am very sorry indeed to have to go away so soon, but I have been away from my centre, Valparaiso, since the 1st of February and a great deal awaits me there. There are many troubles and difficulties confronting the Clergy in the Northern part of the Diocese so I must get back and see to it.

I have been very much impressed with the way in which things are developing in Stanley. There seems to be a drawing together both spiritually and socially. These two things are not to be divorced the one from the other. Religion must, if it is to be considered genuine at all, leaven the social life of the Community in which it works. Furthermore, it is the duty of the Church to present Religion in such a way as to make it a real power for the purpose of Raising the people both morally and intellectually.

I rather think that the new Dean and his wife will make themselves felt in the course of time, and they are even now, beginning to identify themselves with Stanley and the Islands generally in their joys and in their sorrows.

It was very encouraging to note the increasing number of those who attended the Celebrations of Holy Communion during Holy Week and Easter. The Devotion of the Three Hours' Service was also very striking from the point of view of the numbers that attended. The Response of the People so far has not been lost upon the Dean.

Coming as I do, like a Comet flashing in and out of Stanley, I cannot penetrate very far below the surface of Church Life here.

But certain things stand out very clearly and distinctly. I refer to the way in which Mr. T. Binnie, the Diocesan Lay Reader, Mr. J.F. Summers, the Verger, and all his family, the Members of the Various Church Committees as well as a very definite and sound Congregation, not perhaps large but very solid, all vie with one another in the wholesome competition of preserving and conserving the outward and visible Strongholds of Religion and Worship. In spite of a number of outside influences and interests, some of which are calculated to draw people away from the Public Acknowledgement of Him from Whom all Blessings flow, this remnant are doing a greater work than they know of and it is not escaping the eye of Him whose Work it is.

Lastly, I would urge upon you all the great necessity of regarding the signs of the times with a view to putting God in His right place in the World's scheme of things. What we are forgetting is that God must be The Supreme Authority as he is The Supreme Organiser (if I may reverently use such an expression) of the World's Life. That being so, it is up to us, each one, to "do our bit" in the attempt to put first things first, which can only be done by the definite support of that which is the great public witness of God's love as exemplified by the Great and Supreme Sacrifice of which we have in the very name of our Cathedral.

I give you all my Blessing and I trust that I may be allowed to return next year at the time of the Celebrations.

Your faithful friend and Bishop,

F.S. Falkland Isles.

Is Stimson Staying ?

It is rumoured at Geneva that Mr. Stimson, the United States' Secretary of State, who is arriving there on the 18th of April, is bringing with him some new proposals for the success of the Disarmament Conference, says the "Daily Telegraph".

The correspondent goes on to say - "I'm told, however, that this is not quite accurate. A high authority states that on Stimson's observations will depend the United States attitude towards a reduction of War Debts.

"Stimson is coming in order to report to President Hoover and the Senate the real spirit of the Conference.

"If during April and May, Mr. Stimson is satisfied that certain continental powers are really prepared to agree to a reduction and limitation of armaments, he will probably remain at Geneva as an observer at the Lausanne Conference on Reparations and War Debt, in June.

A NEW DECREE

Holy See And Mixed Marriages.

The Holy Office has issued a decree which affects all Catholics who have married or are about to ask for dispensation to marry Protestants or non-Christians.

It really explains, and aims at enforcing, those codes of Canon Law which lay down to condition that wives must promise to fulfil before they can obtain dispensation.

The Church complains that these conditions, especially the one which obliges the children of such marriages to be brought up in the Roman Catholic Faith, are not being strictly observed, and calls upon Roman Catholic Bishops and priests to watch over them carefully, and only to admit applications for dispensation when applicants solemnly undertake to keep their promises.

In future, the Decree says, those wives who fail to keep the promises made when they begged for dispensation will run the risk of having their marriages declared null and void by the Church, as not having taken place.

500 FEWER ROAD DEATHS.

Effect Of The New Act.

When the complete figures for the street accidents in Great Britain for the year 1931 are published it is believed they will show that there were well over five hundred fewer persons killed last year than in 1930.

Some two hundred and twenty out of a total of about two hundred and forty returns from the Chief Constables in England, Wales and Scotland, beyond the Metropolitan area, have already been received by the National Safety First Association. They show for the full year, a reduction of about 9½ per cent in the number of persons killed, and an increase in the returns of the numbered injured amounting to 12 per cent. This increase in the returns of the number of persons injured is attributed to the new regulation that accidents, however trivial, have now to be reported, whereas formerly, in country districts especially, many minor accidents escaped official notice.

These more satisfactory returns are attributed, in the first place, to the Road Traffic Act, which has legalised, especially in the Highway Code, certain safety measures that had previously been advocated, and, in the second, to an extension of further safety first activities during the year.

A third cause may be found in the reduction of vehicles. Though there were thirty thousand more private cars, and fifteen thousand more lorries, there were ninety-five thousand fewer motorcycles, and twelve thousand fewer hackney cabs.

Leith Win Admiral Fuller's Cup.

The first event on the following day was Putting the Shot. This event was won by Helge Evoslef, Husvik. The next on the programme was the final of the 100 Metres. Stanley Atkins again registered a win for Grytviken in 12.9 seconds, winning by 4 metres from Thorbj. Thorgersen, Leith, and Einar Henriksen, Husvik. The Javelin Throwing resulted in a great win for Grytviken, who took the first three places. The winner, was Anker Jorgensen, followed by Haakon Jonsen and Erling Andersen.

The 400 Metres Relay for Admiral Fuller's Cup was won by Leith in 53.7 seconds. S. Atkins running last for Grytviken was left with too much leeway to make up to catch the Leith sprinter T. Thorgersen. The Hop Step and Jump was won by Thorbj. Thorgersen, Leith, followed by Gunliof Ree, Grytviken, and Edvin Enholm, Leith. The High Jump also went to Leith, Edvin Enholm clearing 5' 1½". Helge Evoslef, Husvik, was a close second and Gunliof Ree was third. The last of the field events was the 1,500 Metres. It was unfortunate that Johannes Samuelsen, Leith's last year's winner, was unable to start owing to his injured ankle. Leith, however, still had Erling Eorgen to represent them and he won a great race finishing strongly and sprinting the last fifty metres. Stanley Atkins, who was unfortunate in having his shoe torn off early in the race, finished second and Leif Hartveit, Grytviken, was third. The winner's time was 5' 1.4".

Footballer Plays On With Broken Rib.

The concluding event was the football match between Grytviken and Leith. The game was very evenly contested, Leith generally having most of the play but Grytviken being usually more dangerous. The first half ended with Grytviken leading by 2 goals to 1. On the resumption Leith pressed hard for an equalising goal and after fifteen minutes their reward came. Continuing still to press Leith again scored. Grytviken strove desperately to regain their lost lead and the Leith goalkeeper was kept busy, in the end, however, after about twenty-five minutes, Grytviken drew level. Five minutes or so later Leith were, perhaps, a little fortunate in scoring once again. Grytviken tried hard to draw level but Leith were now playing better than at the commencement and were lasting better. The end came with Leith leading by 4 goals to 3.

The outstanding men for the winners were the left half, who, handicapped by a broken rib, put up a grand game, the goalkeeper and the outside left. For Grytviken, the centre forward strove hard and played an exceptionally fine game.

The Results.

In the field events Grytviken and Leith tied with 23 points each, but Grytviken was declared the winner on the international points basis. Husvik and Stromness, combined as Husvik, put up a great show and did exceptionally well in obtaining 14 points.

The Committee are to be congratulated on the splendid way in which the sports were run. Everything went off without a hitch. Thanks are also due to the Grytviken Manager, Captain A.H. Abrahamsen, for the excellent arrangements made for the catering and housing of the competitors and spectators.

The enthusiasm evinced in previous years has not abated and was just as keen as it ever has been.

THE GERMAN ELECTION.

The result, after one of the most bitter elections that have taken place in history, is likely to result in an overwhelming victory for Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, who narrowly missed an absolute majority in the first ballot a month ago.

One estimate of the second ballot gives him 19 million votes against 12½ million for the Fascist leader, Hitler, and 4 million for the Communist, Thaelmann.

Although the result of the election has been considered a foregone conclusion the vote secured by Hitler, who has been openly supported by the ex-Crown Prince, is likely to have a profound effect on the equally important elections for the Prussian Diet and thus dominate the principal State in the German Empire.

His success would involve the resignation of the German Cabinet and in the ensuing general election Hitler might win control of the Reichstag.

Hitler's overwhelming defeat might destroy this prospect.

A press message received on Saturday night reported that while Germany was in the throes of the election of the new President, an attempt was made on Friday night to assassinate the President of the Reichsbank, Dr. Luther while he was waiting with members of the German delegation to the Disarmament Conference for the Basle train.

Several shots were fired but only one hit Dr. Luther, slightly scorching his arm.

Two assailants were arrested. They both admitted formally, that they belonged to the Nazi Party. Last October they brought an action against Dr. Luther and the directors of the Reichsbank for high treason, the falsification of entries and jobbing with Bills of Exchange against the public interest.

This indictment was stopped by the Public Prosecutor and it is believed that they attacked Dr. Luther, enraged at the failure of their action against the Reichsbank and wished to draw public attention to their case.

Dr. Luther has been twice German Chancellor and signed the Locarno Pact.

REPLY TO IRISH FREE STATE.

The British Government's reply to the Irish Free State sent on Friday night, does not close the door to further discussion.

The "Sunday Times" understands that the main points of the reply are that the policy of the Oath cannot be relaxed. The Oath is an integral part of the Imperial Constitution. Its abolition is not a matter solely for discussion between Britain and the Free State but the whole Commonwealth.

In replying to the Australian Government's message expressing grave concern, Mr. de Valera says that the equality of rights is the only possible basis of friendship.

South African Republicans have expressed indignation at the cable sent by General Hertzog to Mr. de Valera, hoping that nothing would disturb the friendly co-operation between the sister States in the Empire.

HINDENBURG WINS.

A Great Triumph.

The second ballot in the German Presidential election has resulted in a great triumph for Field Marshal Von Hindenburg.

In the second ballot the candidate with the biggest individual poll is elected, but Field Marshal Von Hindenburg secured a substantially absolute majority. If he had done this at the first ballot the second would not have been necessary.

Hitler secured the support of the former Nationalist candidate, states the "Daily Telegraph" as well as, it is understood, a large number of Communist votes, thereby increasing his total by nearly 8,00,000 votes.

LINDBERGH LOOKING FOR HIS SON.

It is believed that Colonel Lindbergh's flights to Marthas Vineyard, off the Massachusetts coast, last Sunday and Monday, were for the purpose of conferring with the kidnapers' emissaries, and Cuttyhunk Island, was designated as the rendezvous for the return of the baby.

Six days and nights of nerve shattering suspense was followed by a cruel deception.

Apparently Lindbergh, in notifying the authorities, says the "Daily Telegraph", and possibly endangering the child's life, believes that there is a danger in trying to pass any of the ransom money before the bargain is kept but by so doing he may force the kidnapers' hands.

A one year moratorium for short term foreign debts of the German Federal States, municipalities and communes, was signed in Berlin on Saturday.

The agreement covers credits for terms of less than one year to a total of 250 million marks.

The interest at which the money was originally borrowed ranged from 8% to 11%. It will now vary between 6% and 8% in relationship to the official discount rates of the creditor countries.

The reduction in the interest will bring about a total annual saving of about 7½ million marks to the debtor country.

FRANCE ATTACKS THE DOLLAR.

Attacks on the Dollar, particularly by France, were criticized by both branches of the United States Congress on Friday, states a message from New York.

Such attacks, declared Senator Smoot, were based upon unwarranted and exaggerated fears abroad that the American Budget will remain unbalanced.

"If a foreign government desired to make America's task more difficult they go about it in the right way by playing upon American fears regarding the safety of securities and economic structure," continued the Senator.

Representative Dyer, of Missouri, charged France with trying to undermine and destroy the American dollar, instead of showing gratitude for the millions lent her during the war.

SMUGGLING JOHNNIE WALKER INTO U.S.A.

A woman paying a visit to the Zoo, came across the kangaroos, and turning to a keeper, she said, "Can you tell me, mister, what is the name of them animals, and where they come from?" "Yes, madam," the man replied. "They are called kangaroos, and they are natives of Australia." "Well, now," exclaimed the old lady, "To think of that; and a cousin of mine married one of 'em."

A suspicious-looking individual applied for work. "How long were you in your last place?" he was asked. "Seven years," he replied. "What were you doing there?" was the next question. "Seven years," said the man.

THE VOLCANO ERUPTION.

Feared Many Lives Lost.

A message from Valparaiso states that many towns and cities in Chile and the Argentine have been shaken by the eruption of a volcano on the frontier of the two countries, which was considered extinct but is now pouring out flames, dust and stones.

The inhabitants in the mountain villages are in flight and ashes are falling thickly over the city of Mendoza.

An amazing feature is that a vast area is affected, reaching Patagonia whilst Buenos Aires, eight hundred miles away, was covered on Monday with a rain of light grey ashes and sand, causing much excitement.

Volcanic cinders have also fallen on Monte Video in Uruguay.

It is feared many have been killed but details are lacking owing to the disturbances disorganising the telegraphic communications. Aeroplanes flying over the Andes are trying to locate the damage.

Trains are unable to run in many places owing to the heavy fall of ashes. Dense clouds of smoke and ashes have darkened the evening sky for towns in the Talca City region, some one hundred and seventy-five miles south of Valparaiso.

LINDBERGH DOUBLE-CROSSED.

Two Ransoms Paid.

The reappearance of the mysterious "Jafsie" advertisements in the New York papers, asking for better directions, is regarded as indicating that Colonel Lindbergh is not abandoning hope for the re-opening of negotiations which previously ended with the payment of £10,000 to the kidnapers.

Their failure to restore the boy on the receipt of the money is believed to be partly due to the fear of a trap, and partly to test the Colonel's promise to do nothing to injure the abductors.

It is now revealed that two sums of £10,000 have been paid to the kidnapers.

Mr. John Condon, the supposed author of the "Jafsie" advertisements, believes that the kidnapers will forgive and understand Lindbergh's action in communicating the numbers of the bank-notes to the Government after a week's wait.

He expects them to renew the negotiations to exchange the notes for gold or for different notes says the "Daily Telegraph" correspondent.

SOMETHING NEW FOR DE VALERA.

Ulster Alarmed.

It is stated in Dublin that Mr. de Valera and his colleagues have never heard of the 1923 Agreement quoted by Mr. Thomas, the Dominions' Secretary, in his last note, and a search is being made for a copy.

The Agreement concerns the Land Annuities and was described by Mr. Cosgrave, when he was Minister of Finance, as satisfactory in every way to the Free States, says the "Daily Telegraph".

Ulster is also, apparently, alarmed at a passage in Mr. Thomas's note referring to the possibility of a United Ireland, and a question on the subject was asked in the Ulster House of Commons on Tuesday.

In reply, the Premier, Viscount Craigavon, said he had not had time to digest Mr. Thomas's note adding "No change has taken place in the determination of the present Government to remain an integral part of Great Britain and the Empire.

THE SOUTH AMERICAN ERUPTIONS.

Eight Volcanoes Active.

The area affected by the eruption of the volcanoes in the Chilean Andes and Patagonia, stretches from Valparaiso, Chile, across the continent to Buenos Aires, representing almost half of South America.

The extent of the damage and the possible consequences remain a mystery.

Ashes fell throughout Tuesday on three capitals - Buenos Aires, Argentina, Santiago, Chile, and Montevideo, Uruguay.

At Malarque and in the San Rafael Province of Chile, Montevideo Province in Uruguay, and the Province of Mendoza, an appeal has been sent for oxygen owing to the gases and the dust making the air unbreathable.

Near Malarque huge fissures threaten to swallow the town. It is reported in certain areas that the fall of ashes is diminishing.

Direct press messages from South America on Tuesday evening refuted the information gleaned from other sources that lives had been lost and stated that the fall of ash had abated while the underground rumblings, with the electrical disturbances, had almost stopped.

The villages, however, close to the scene of the eruptions, particularly at Malarque, were experiencing a "downfall" of volcanic ash which had been deposited in the streets to a depth of about twenty inches.

Eight volcanoes are apparently in activity and the one which is causing most trouble is Descabezado.

THREAT TO THE WHALES.

Are Females In The Minority.

Are female whales in a considerable minority as compared with male whales? Interesting statistics published of the catch of whales during the season 1929-30, so a message from Oslo states, show that there were killed about 1,000 fewer female whales of the blue whale type than male whales, and of finbacks about 1,400 fewer.

Experts declare that they cannot answer the question till statistics are available for a period longer than one year, but if there are now really fewer female whales than male whales, the existence of the whale is threatened.

But figures, however, may show that the orders to the whalers never to kill a female whale with cubs if it can be avoided are being obeyed.

Whales killed in the Ross sea, statistics tell us, have an average length of 82.10 feet, and are bigger than whales killed in any other area, but the average number of barrels of oil from these whales is considerably smaller than that from whales killed in the West-Arctic, where the animals have an average length of 30.19 feet. The average number of barrels respectively are :- 88.5 and 109.6.

The highest number of barrels produced from a whale killed last season was produced from a whale killed in the West-Antarctic - 137.7 barrels.

A comparison between the different hunting areas places South Georgia on top of the list with an average of 110.7 barrels of oil per whale; next come the North Atlantic Ocean and the Arctic with 74 barrels, then Walvis Bay with 61.8 barrels, and finally South Africa with 59 barrels.

185 MARRIAGES ANNULLED.

In the Czechoslovak community of Kuncitz a priest has officiated for many years. But it is now discovered that he was not legally qualified to perform marriages.

The legal authorities of the town, after examining the matter, have nullified the 185 marriages carried through by him. This has caused a great popular commotion, since it may lead to unforeseen consequences.

SEA OTTERS IN THE FALKLANDS.

Interesting Experiment At Weddell Island.

An enterprise to be highly commended has been initiated by Mr. J. Hamilton of Weddell Island, in the form of the introduction of Tierra del Fuego Sea Otters to the Falkland Islands.

For some years Mr. Hamilton has been trying to get Sea Otters to breed on one of the smaller islands in the neighbourhood of his farm at Weddell Island, off the West Falklands. But in the past his troubles and difficulties have only resulted in the death of the animals.

At length, however, he has succeeded in bringing across by the "Penelope five Sea Otters which were safely landed. His intention, originally, was to keep them in captivity and to hand-feed them until they became thoroughly tame. But this idea had to be abandoned because the Otters fought so much together that it was considered advisable to give them their freedom.

When released the "new colonists" disappeared into the sea-water like a flash of lightning. Whether they will survive and prove a useful asset to the Colony, time alone will tell.

Little Known Animal.

The Sea Otter is not to be confused with the River Otter. It is considerably smaller than the latter which frequents the channels further north of Tierra del Fuego, but its skin is much more valuable according to local prices in Punta Arenas.

The question is whether these animals will remain in local waters or return to their native place eastwards to the north-west of the Cape Horn district. Needless to say, it is hoped that they will prove adaptable to the Falkland Island waters and surroundings.

ULSTER PREMIER GOES TO LONDON.

De Valera's Reply Causes Anxiety.

The Premier of Northern Ireland, Lord Craigavon, and his Attorney General, Mr. Babington, have journeyed to London from Belfast and on Wednesday had a meeting at the House of Commons with the Dominions' Secretary, Mr. J.H. Thomas, and the Home Secretary, Sir Herbert Samuel.

The Home Office is, technically, responsible in the House of Commons for the Northern Ireland administration. It is understood that the Ulster Ministers were desirous of discussing the aspects of the present controversy raised by the attitude of the Irish Free State to the Oath of Allegiance and particularly one passage in the Dominions Secretary's reply to de Valera's despatch, in regard to which some anxiety has been voiced in Northern Ireland.

The passage in question stated "It is true that the 1921 Settlement did not result in the establishment of a United Ireland but the Treaty itself made the necessary provision for a union, at that time, of the two parts of Ireland if both had then been ready to accept them. As to the future His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom feel it sufficient to state that, in their opinion, there can be no conceivable hope for the establishment of a United Ireland except on the basis that its allegiance to the Crown and its membership of the British Commonwealth will continue unimpaired."

These words were used only as a reply to de Valera's statement that the Agreement of 1921 "meant the consummation of an outrage of the partition" in Ireland, and they do not indicate any change, in the actual or contemplated, in the British policy regarding the Ulster and Irish Unity.

It is expected that Lord Craigavon, as a result of his visit to London will, on his return to Belfast, make a reassuring statement to this effect in the Northern Ireland Parliament.

The experiment, however, is all the more precarious in so much as very little is known about the Sea Otter and its habits. Otter hunters themselves, supply contradictory evidence and the best knowledge available would seem to be that obtainable from the Comanche Indians.

In spite of all these apparent drawbacks we wish Mr. Hamilton every success in this praiseworthy venture which we are sure, will be watched keenly by all. It is desired, of course, so far as is possible, to record any information which may be collected by observers in the Camp, and any person who sights, or thinks he sights, one of these Otters would be doing a great service by forwarding his remarks to the "Penguin" Office.

THE SOUTH AMERICAN BREVIATION.

The rain of ashes from the simmering volcanoes in the Andes has now ceased falling in the Argentine, and the wind has changed to the south east.

A prominent geologist considers now that there is no possibility of an earthquake.

Although the rain of ashes has ceased San Rafael is under a smoke pall and the darkness is affecting business and traffic and the schools, the last of which are closed. The Mendoza Province Governor has arrived there to organise relief work.

In some districts of western Argentina where the grass is thickly covered with ashes the starving cattle are being hurried southward. The government and the Red Cross have decided that it is not now necessary to send relief expeditions.

AUSTRALIAN BUDGET DEFICIT.

The Australian Premier, Mr. Lyons, speaking at the Premiers' Conference, which opened at Melbourne on Thursday, said that the Treasury officials estimated that the Commonwealth and the States Budget deficit for 1932-33 will total twenty-one or twenty-two millions sterling, not allowing for the five millions interest due in event of the Hoover Moratorium not being prolonged.

He appealed to the Governments and the workers of the States as a whole to carry out the experts report on unemployment which, declares that the cost of production must be reduced by twenty per cent.

BRITISH INDUSTRY.

More Employed In 1932.

The encouraging results of the recent surveys of British Industries were reviewed by the President of the Board of Trade, Mr. Walter Runciman, during a debate in the House of Commons on Thursday evening.

He said Britain was the most highly industrial country in the world. In the West Riding of Yorkshire there was greater activity than there had been for years past. Mills had ceased short time and a great number were working overtime.

There was some revival in the cotton trade but not in all branches. Manufacturers of electrical machinery were regaining their foreign markets as well as retaining the home customers.

But the iron, steel, coal and shipping industries still showed no signs of improvement and there would be no chance of a revival until the resumption of world trade.

On the other hand there had been nearly a quarter of a million more employed in 1932 than in 1931. This remarkable change the position of the country while every other country showed a heavy decrease in the number of employed.

TUESDAY NEXT - BUDGET DAY.

To Maintain Financial Equilibrium.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, has now completed his plans for the Budget which will be revealed in the House of Commons on Tuesday next.

Income Tax - no reduction in the standard rate but possibly a certain slight modification of the revised scale of allowances laid down last September.

Beer Tax reduction.

Land Values tax scheme dropped.

The Chancellor's intention in framing his Budget is to maintain the financial equilibrium established by the National Government last year.

He believes that following a prudent course now will make it possible to reduce substantially the burdens on the tax-payer during the life-time of the present Parliament.

- o -

The press message goes on to state that in view of the important decisions likely to be reached at the Lausanne Conference on Reparations and War Debts, and the Ottawa Conference, and the prospect of the great Conversion Scheme next Autumn, it is probable that a second Finance Bill will be necessary this year.

COMPANIES' CONTROLLERS ARRESTED.

Grave Charges.

A message from Stockholm reports that grave charges have been outlined in the indictment against the three "secret controllers" of the Krueger Companies who were arrested in that city on Friday night.

The indictment alleges the foundation of banks and companies for the fraudulent transfer of funds; the forgery of documents relating to State monopolies and loans, and the appointment of "dummy directors" whose sole purpose was to do what Krueger told them.

The whole theme of the indictment against the arrested men is that a series of complicated transactions, commencing 1925, was engaged in in order to give the appearance that the Swedish Match Company and its associated companies, was better than it was in reality.

It is established that since 1928 Krueger & Toll issued shares and debentures exceeding 900 million Swedish crowns, the Swedish Match Company 400 million, and the International Match Corporation 550 million.

BUDGET ALLOWANCES.

A further press message on the Budget proposals states that the Chancellor of the Exchequer's Budget will allow some extension of the Income Tax, a reduction of the Beer Duty and the re-imposition of tariffs on manufactured and semi-manufactured goods, including iron and steel. This information is taken from the "Sunday Times".

The Chancellor's Budget speech is to be made in the House of Commons to-morrow (Tuesday).

Mr. Chamberlain will have to provide for a total expenditure of 2792,000,000.

His Budget, therefore, will be the first below 2800,000,000 since 1924. This is due to the economies effected since the National Government Cabinet came into being six months ago.

M. Tardieu said that French industries passed safely through the crisis largely because of the Government's policy of curbing the imports. The time had not yet arrived for the open door policy.

Dealing with the possibility of concluding trade treaties, although he did not specifically refer to Great Britain, the Premier said that France was seeking international commercial treaties whereof she had already concluded forty.

AMERICA'S BUDGET PROBLEM.

Critical Situation In The U.S.

The problem of America's Budget is raised in even a more acute form than hitherto by the official estimates now published for the year ending June 1932.

These are :

Other figures now available which illustrates the critical situation in the United States are :

Trade, both foreign and domestic, - decreases 20/30 per cent .

Bank profits decline in 1931 of 82.6 per cent.

In view of the recent statements by "Al." Smith and Dr. Nicholson Butler on the subject of the Allied War Debts to the United States, the present official attitude of the Washington Government should be emphasised, says the "Daily Telegraph" diplomatic correspondent.

The new United States Ambassador, Mr. Mellon, has had a number of private conversations with British Ministers and officials, and with some of his fellow ambassadors on the subjects.

It is understood that Mr. Mellon has made it perfectly clear that it would be futile for America's European debtors to endeavour to raise the question of any revision - whether by cancellation or reduction - of their obligations under this head.

THE BUDGET SPEECH.

Mr. Chamberlain's Far Happier Conditions.

No Reduction In Beer Tax.

Tea & Sugar Preferences.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, in the House of Commons yesterday, made his first Budget statement in financial conditions far happier than those which confronted his predecessor, Lord Snowden, a year ago.

At that time the Country was borrowing a million pounds weekly to finance the Unemployment Insurance Fund and Lord Snowden was confronted with a large prospective deficit.

Hard facts were faced and drastic remedies were applied by Lord Snowden in the previous Budget last September with the result that Mr. Chamberlain, yesterday, was able to face a crowded House with the knowledge that the Budget had not only been balanced but had achieved a small surplus and that a quarter of a million more workers than a year ago had been found employment.

The Prince of Wales was amongst the many distinguished people present in the Gallery at the House.

Expenditure Exceeds Revenue.

The Chancellor spoke for an hour and three-quarters. Last year's national accounts published on March 31st showed a revenue of 2770,963,000 and the expenditure 2770,599,000.

Mr. Chamberlain, yesterday afternoon, disclosed that the estimated expenditure for the year ending March 31st, 1933, amounted to 2765,000,000 and the revenue from existing sources 2764,300,000 - a deficiency of 21,700,000.

With his various new proposals he estimated a Budget balance, at the end of the year, of £796,000.

The changes in taxation were neither numerous nor large. They included no relief for the income tax payers and no reduction on the beer tax. "Although," he said, "we are beginning to see the light between the trees, we have far to go before we emerge into the highways."

Sugar & Tea.

He proposed :

An increase during the next five years, of one shilling per hundredweight in preference on all Colonial sugar duties; Foreign and Dominion sugar remaining at their present rates.

In addition a special supplementary preference equal to a further shilling on a limited quantity of Colonial sugar, to be allocated by the Colonial Office among all the sugar producing Colonies in proportion to their total export. These concessions would cost £1,100,000 in the present year.

There would be a renewal of the duty on Foreign tea of four-pence a pound and on Empire tea of two pence a pound, anticipating therefrom £3,600,000 per annum.

A flat excise duty of two pence a pound on tea stocks already in the country.

A reduction from January next on the tax on motor-cycles to fifteen shillings, thirty shillings and three pounds, according to whether the engine had a capacity not exceeding 150 c.c., or exceeding 250 c.c., or exceeding the latter figure; this change was made in order to give the designers a freer hand.

The Chancellor's most important announcement related to a measure for preventing fluctuation in the sterling. He also announced that a small impartial Committee of Inquiry would be set up to go into the matter of the taxation of Co-operative Societies.

AUTO-GIRO FLIGHT TO SOUTH AFRICA.

A young pilot, late of the Royal Air Force, intends to fly to South Africa in an auto-giro. This will be the first long distance auto-giro flight and, as the machine is for safety and not for speed, he will not attempt to break any records.

He thinks that he will be able to dispense with proper landing grounds as the auto-giro machine is suitable for undeveloped country.

EDUCATION ESTIMATES.

Effect Of Economy Cuts.

When the Minister for Education, Sir Donald MacLean, presented his Department Estimates in the House of Commons on Monday, he said that they provided for an exchequer expenditure of 242,892,676 which shows an economy of five and a half millions on last year.

In 1906 the Estimates were about two and a half millions. With sums raised from the rates by Local Education Authorities there is about 100 millions for educational purposes in Great Britain - more than half the total expenditure for the year before the war, in the national budget.

He doubted whether there was any country in Europe to-day whose budget contained so generous a provision for education. Regarding the recent economies, Sir Donald MacLean said there had been reductions under every head except teachers' pensions and scholarships to students.

The King and Queen attended on Monday the wedding in Westminster Abbey, of Lord Hyde, the King's god-son and the heir of the Earl of Clarendon, and the Honourable Marion Clyn, the daughter of Lord Welverton.

Lord Clarendon, who is Governor-General of South Africa, was unable to leave his official duties but Lady Clarendon travelled from Cape Town to see her son married.

LIVING ON INSURANCE.

Companies' "Teg"acy.

In a short time a strange case will be heard before the Civil Court at Prague. The chemist, Josef Skoula, is suing two insurance companies for 250,000, in consequence of an accident.

According to the chemist's statement he was obliged to get his leg amputated. The insurance companies, however, held that after the accident he purposely worsened his wound by various manipulations, so that finally the leg had to be taken off.

Skoula has chiefly lived on insurance monies for the last twenty-five years. In 1907 he cashed an insurance for a broken leg. Thirteen years later he sprained his left foot and cashed another insurance. After another year his factory was burned to ashes, and he received 216,000. Several years later he stepped on a rusty nail with his left foot, and got blood poisoning. After another two years his eye was hurt by a splinter of glass, and he nearly lost his sight. He was indemnified by 21,600.

Last year he insured himself simultaneously with those two companies who are now suing him, for 250,000, paying one year's premium in advance. Five days later he slipped on a flight of stairs.

ILL-FATED LEGATION.

A Difficult Post.

Egyptian circles in Cairo are somewhat exercised by the ill-luck which seems to dog the footsteps of members of the Egyptian Diplomatic Corps appointed to the Egyptian Legation at Teheran.

The first minister nominated when the Legation was first created some seven years ago held the post without incident until he was promoted to Angora.

His successor had barely taken possession of his post than he had a sudden apoplectic fit and died. The third minister took over, and very shortly afterwards likewise succumbed.

The last minister to be appointed has suddenly returned to Cairo begging to be transferred elsewhere. It appears that on his way between Damascus and Baghdad he had a motor accident, which killed his chauffeur and compelled him to go to hospital with a damaged eye.

No sooner had he installed himself in the Legation at Teheran than the ceiling of his office collapsed on him and he narrowly escaped with his life.

It is not surprising that the Egyptian Ministry of Foreign Affairs should now find some difficulty in persuading anyone to take over the duties of this ill-fated post.

THE BUDGET.

Framed On Strictly Orthodox Lines.

The soundness of the Chancellor's proposals in his Budget Statement on Tuesday, were unchallenged in any quarter of the Lobby of the House of Commons that evening.

The "Daily Telegraph" political correspondent says that a member closely identified with the city described Mr. Chamberlain's measures as "wise, prudent and far-sighted."

They mean that for another year taxpayers have to "bite on the bullet," while the process of the re-establishment of the Country's financial stability proceeds.

That, in view of the existing conditions and the future uncertainties, the Chancellor could have taken no other line, was the opinion of all experienced members. They agreed that it was a "Treasury Budget" - a Budget framed on strictly orthodox lines with the closest regard for realities of the present day position.

It was pointed out in Ministerial circles that the Chancellor might easily have won immediate popularity by some spectacular stroke, but his Cabinet colleagues are firmly convinced that he is not in the least too cautious in declining to run risks.

The re-imposition of the Tea duty and the changes respecting the taxation of sugar were welcomed as calculated to benefit inter-Imperial trade.

THAMES BRIDGE TRAGEDY.

Father Follows Child.

An all day and night search of the Thames has failed to reveal any traces of the body of the baby daughter of Mrs. Alexander G.S. Collins.

Mr. Collins, the father of the child, was drowned near Hammersmith Bridge on Monday. He was the son of Sir Godfrey Collins, the Liberal Member of Parliament for Greenwich since 1910.

Soon after 8.0 p.m. on Monday people crossing Hammersmith Bridge saw a man standing by the parapet. A moment later, the baby which he was holding, fell from his arms into the river and the man followed.

His body was soon recovered and identified but no trace of the baby could be found.

KREUGER REVELATIONS.

The Kreuger Enquiry in Stockholm continues to yield new surprises. It is now clear that Kreuger's war against the Soviet Match Trust cost him enormous sums. Apparently he had, in order to beat the Soviet opposition, to dump his matches on the world market at a loss and in order to obtain the monopoly in various States he had often to have recourse to bribery on a vast scale.

The Committee of Enquiry, it is stated, have come to the conclusion that the following enterprises particularly, have been bolstered up by forgeries and malversations: 25,000,000 of Kreuger & Toll, 224,000,000 of Swedish Matches Corporation, and 221,000,000 of the International Match Corporation.

A CLERGYMAN TURNS TO CARICATURE.

The "Low Of Scandinavia."

In the Swedish newspapers have recently appeared some excellent drawings by a new caricaturist, Mr. L.E. Ullman, who was formerly a vicar of the Swedish State Church.

The drawings, characterised by fine craftsmanship and much satirical humour, have created widespread attention in Scandinavia, since the artist has given up his ecclesiastical calling to become a cartoonist.

Mr. Ullman belongs to a family, the members of which have been bishops and clergymen for several centuries. Only lately a few members of the family have appeared as novelists and painters, much against the wish of the traditionalists.

Mr. Ullman is about forty years of age, and the experts foretell a brilliant future for him as the "Low of Scandinavia."

A HUNGARIAN HORSE.

The recent fall in the price of cattle has led to some incongruous sums being accepted in Hungarian markets. Good milking cows could be bought for from two or three pounds each, whereas a few years ago the price reached forty pounds.

Five cows at one of the fairs were sold for one pound each, and as the merchant who bought them required nothing but the skins he presented the meat to the poor of the village.

It is stated that in some parts farmers are killing their cattle to save fodder, and are cooking their meat as food for the pigs.

GOLD IN THE DANUBE.

Scheme For Dragging River Bed.

The problem of dragging the bed of the Danube for gold is one which for decades has interested experts in Hungary.

The valley of the Danube has been exhaustively examined, and it has been proved that every cubic meter of its soil yields at least one half-gramme of gold.

According to the estimates twenty thousand million pengos worth of gold could be dragged from the river, and three financial groups from London, New York and Boston are reported to be interested in the question and to be holding conversations with Mr. Paikort, the expert who has worked out a plan for the dragging of the river-bed.

In view of the present crisis in the country, the one million pengo capital necessary would be difficult to find, though the calculations show that a return of 0.5 gramme of gold per cubic meter is enough to assure a profit of about fifty per cent.

His journey to Geneva, where he is to make an important speech at the Disarmament Conference was to be continued that night. Before leaving London he was seen by his occultist.

"QUALITATIVE DISARMAMENT."

British Motion.

On Wednesday the British delegate at Geneva, Sir John Simon, moved that, without prejudice to other proposals for discussion "under later heads the Conference expresses the approval of the principle of qualitative disarmament namely, the selection of certain classes or descriptions of weapons with a view to prohibiting by international convention their possession or use by any state.

He expressed the view that qualitative disarmament was more effective as the most important thing was that no State should live under a system in which all classes of armament were allowed.

A proposal on the lines of Sir John Simon's resolution is before the Conference in a plan put forward by Italy and the United States.

Another plan for the international control of certain armaments have been advanced by France.

The Yugo Slav delegation supported the latter scheme on Wednesday and Sir John Simon's resolution was approved by the German delegate, Herr Madolny. It was also supported by Sir Thomas Wilford, New Zealand, and Signor Grandi, Italy.

The debate was then adjourned until Thursday.

The occasion was marked by an outspoken protest against the measure by Deputy McDermott, the Independent Member for Roscommon.

M. Tardieu announced immediately afterwards that he had decided to accompany Mr. MacDonald to Geneva, and the two left the Gare de Lyon at 9.50 p.m., says the "Daily Telegraph".

M. Tardieu said, "I was delighted to have a conversation with Mr. MacDonald. We talked about almost everything, particularly about Geneva. We shall continue our talk on the train journey."

M. Tardieu added that he expected to return to Paris either Thursday or Friday evening.

THE NEW IMPORT DUTIES.

Committee's Proposals.

Details of the new imports duties to be imposed on the recommendation of the Tariff Advisory Committee were announced in the House of Commons late on Thursday night.

They relate almost exclusively to articles solely or mainly manufactured, says the "Daily Telegraph." They are divided into four classes.

Articles of a luxury or semi-luxury character - total duty of twenty-five to thirty per cent.

Limited number of manufactured goods for which a lower rate is considered appropriate - total duty fifteen per cent.

The steel trade is regarded as being in a position of special National importance and accordingly a thirty-three and a third per cent ad valorem duty will be borne by semi-finished steel.

All the new duties come into operation at midnight on Monday. Simultaneously abnormal duties will lapse.

Picture Rejected.

Much interest in political and artistic circles has been aroused by the action of the Selection Committee of the Royal Academy in rejecting a portrait of Gandhi by Oswald H. Birley while accepting one of Lord Irwin, the ex-Viceroy of India by the same artist.

Sir William Llewellyn, the President of the Royal Academy, interviewed by a "Daily Telegraph" representative, said that the portrait of Gandhi was submitted to the Academy in the ordinary way and was not accepted for the usual reasons. He wished to make it perfectly clear that the action of the Selection Committee was entirely without any political significance.

Contributed.

As the clock of the Cathedral in Stanley tolled the hour of mid-night on April 5th, Captain Roberts bestirred himself, listened for a moment, and then remarked to the guests in his cabin - "That is twelve o'clock."

The engine room telegraph rang out the "Stand by," the gangway was pulled ashore, and the ship was away from the Jetty.

The good ship "Lafonia" thus began her week's voyage round the Islands and to Magallanes. A Bishop, a Dean and a pig were sufficient to account for any delinquencies on the part of the ship, and the passengers were prepared for anything that might occur. It was rumoured that some slept in their clothes as the ship, bound for Teal Inlet first of all, slipped out of the Harbour in the Stygian darkness.

The wind turned to the north east and as the voyage proceeded Captain Roberts maintained that, as far as the ship was concerned, all would be well, but that, with the three birds of ill-omen, he would not guarantee anything; so great was the anxiety that a certain feeling of relief went through the ship when it was announced that the pig had gone ashore.

At North Arm the Dean was passed into the waiting motor-boat and the ship seemed to shake herself in sympathy. It was only when the Bishop was left alone that the skies cleared, the glass rose, the wind shifted and all was well.

Half way across to Magallanes the merits of the ship became the topic of general conversation, and it was universally agreed that the "Lafonia" was a right little, tight little ship.

His Lordship the Bishop, commenting on the voyage, said that he did not profess to be a practical sailor yet he had spent most of his life in ships large and small, but he could wish for nothing better than the s.s. "Lafonia" for safety and for comfort. For steadiness she was as steady as any ship could be under adverse conditions.

STRAINED SITUATION IN IRELAND.

The visit of the Lord Mayor of Dublin and Alderman Byrne to the Irish Free State Minister of Finance, Mr. Macentee, has resulted in a strained situation between the Mansion House and the Government.

The Lord Mayor sought Government assistance for the distressed unemployed in the city and on leaving he informed the waiting press men of his mission but gave no inkling as to what had passed between him and the Minister.

Mr. Macentee says that the Lord Mayor abused his courtesy in letting the newspaper men know the reason of his visit to the Government buildings and now he feels that henceforth it will only be possible to receive the Lord Mayor in the most formal way.

The Mayor said he had followed the practice of the past ten years without previous complaint.

GIRL GUIDES' BAZAAR.

Excellent Result.

The St. Paul's Stanley Girl Guides are to be heartily congratulated on their enterprise and initiative in organising, under the superintendence of their able Captain Miss B. Felton, the sale of work which was held in the Tabernacle on Saturday afternoon.

In spite of the wretched weather which must have kept many people from attending £20. 10s. was raised for the funds.

The Guides themselves acted as "salesmen" and very capably did they carry out their self-imposed duties while a word of praise is due for the way they all rallied round in procuring articles for their stalls. Many of the articles were made by themselves while mothers, aunts and at least one grandmother, so we learn, responded nobly to their appeals.

The only adults who actually took part in the Bazaar were Miss A. Felton (Acting Commissioner), Mrs. J.D. Creamer (Islands Secretary), and Mrs. S. Harding who was in great demand as The Gypsy Fortune Teller. Before Mrs. Harding arrived Miss Felton "lent a hand" with this important task.

Newcastle 2 : Arsenal 1.

Over 92,000 enthusiasts witnessed the final of the Football Association's Challenge Cup Competition at Wembley Stadium on Saturday between the Arsenal and Newcastle United in the presence of their Majesties the King and Queen who were accompanied by the Duke and Duchess of York. After an excellent game Newcastle won by 2 - 1.

Some comment was aroused when Allen scored Newcastle's first goal. Boyd screwed the ball round near the goal line for Allen to put it into the net. There seems to be some doubt as to whether he had not passed over the line before Boyd centred but the Arsenal made no demonstration when the referee signalled for a goal.

The referee was interviewed after the game but he said there was no doubt that it was a goal and he gave his decision according to the rules and regulations.

ST. GEORGE'S DAY CEREMONY.

Shakespeare Memorial Theatre Opened.

The Shakespeare Memorial Theatre was opened by the Prince of Wales on Saturday - St. George's Day.-

The Prince described the Theatre as the world's tribute to Shakespeare and he mentioned Britain's special appreciation of the very generous help which has been forthcoming from America.

"The American people share with us the great treasury of our language and all the noble works that the language enshrined," His Royal Highness said.

"The ships that sailed westward had not set forth in any numbers before Shakespeare's time and, therefore, the world's master dramatist, historically as well as spiritually, is to be numbered among the ancestors common to the two English speaking peoples.

"Shakespeare was, above all things, an Englishman and his magic verse strikes back into the very heart of our history with all its pageantry and daring. His genius is yet universal and evokes the homage of the men of all nations.

"Shakespeare was too much in love with living ever to become engrossed with the mere theories about life."

The Memorial Theatre takes the place of the theatre burnt down six years ago and all the world contributed to the cost of £183,000.

GREAT BRITAIN STILL LEADS THE WORLD.

Way Other Nations Now Look

To Us More Than Ever.

How does Great Britain stand in the world to-day? Her Fleet is less overwhelming; her wealth shrunken; her commerce no longer dominates the globe; the streams of gold that used to flow into her heart and pour forth again, enriching the earth, have dried up.

Yet in the eyes of her own people and of other peoples her stature is not diminished and her great tradition remains. How is this?

The secret lies in her fundamental sanity, generosity and balance and in her long practice of finance and publicity.

So, though many foreign nations misunderstand her, there is not one that, if it could not lead the world itself, would not prefer Great Britain as a leader to all others. And others have plainly failed to take her place.

Lethargy Ended.

For a time it seemed that the United States might succeed her. Throbbing with energy and confidence, swollen by prosperity won from the opportunities of the Great War, America sought at the same time to isolate herself from the quarrels and embarrassments of Europe and to become the chief country in the world by the use of her stores of gold.

But she lacked experience. By insisting on gold payments she has impoverished her debtors, and by refusing to lend them she has made them incapable of buying from her; so that her export trade has collapsed and brought down her internal trade with it. She has lost for the time her chance of becoming the main centre of international finance.

In the meantime, Great Britain has splendidly retrieved her reputation as Invicta Britannia. Shaking off the lethargy of pessimism, she has confronted the world with a constructive Government chosen by an unprecedented majority.

And she is forging the weapons of a scientific tariff and of Imperial Preference, with which to induce foreign nations to lower their Customs barriers and to bind closer to herself the other members of the Empire and those foreign states with which she has most in common.

By the self-sacrificing enthusiasm of her tax-payers and workmen in balancing the Budget, she has turned into an asset what looked like the catastrophe of her fall from the Gold Standard.

The tide of her export trade has turned, and she is securing the home market for herself; while the constant fall in the gold price of raw materials and the fact that most countries which supply her with food have accompanied her off the Gold Standard, enable her to obtain the imports necessary for her manufactures and her food at unenhanced sterling prices, in spite of the depreciation of her sterling in terms of gold.

After a short eclipse, sterling bids fair to become again the accepted standard of most of the world, and the geographical position of Great Britain between Europe and America combines with the long acquired financial skill and farsightedness of London to make the position of Great Britain as the world's great monetary centre impregnable.

Reviving confidence and re-accumulating wealth will gradually provide British funds for external loans, and London will resume its generous practice of lending on easy terms abroad.

SEPARATION ORDER GRANTED.

Yesterday's Civil Court Case.

In a Civil Court action heard before the Registrar, Mr. G.R.L. Brown and the Hon. M.C. Craigie-Palkett J.P. yesterday, Mrs. A.E. Martin was granted, subject to the decision of the Supreme Court, a separation order with maintenance against her husband Mr. Alexander Martin.

The hearing commenced at 10.30 in the morning and did not end until after 3.30 in the afternoon. The Court was adjourned from 1.0 to 2.30 p.m. for lunch.

Mr. V.A.H. Biggs appeared on behalf of the plaintiff while the defendant conducted his own case.

Mr. Biggs based the application for a legal separation on the grounds that the defendant had, by sundry annoyances, caused the plaintiff mental anxiety and worry, which had affected her health for the past five years especially during the last seven months, thereby making the situation unbearable for Mrs. Martin who had an affected heart.

Evidence was given by Mrs. Martin, Dr. A.G. Edmunds, Mr. J.S. Barnes, Mr. W.J. Hutchinson, Miss M. Martin and Mrs. E.F. Bundes who were called by the plaintiff, and Mr. G. Martin, Miss C. Parrin and Mrs. A.M. Stevenson who were called by the defendant.

"Robbing Him Of Money."

In her statement Mrs. Martin said that the defendant had continually accused her of robbing him of money and when she denied it he had caused rows by calling her a liar, cursing her, and sometimes going so far as ordering her out of the home.

Mr. Martin alleged that Mrs. Martin had some 2250 or 2300 to her credit somewhere and this he considered he was entitled to; he thought he was entitled to a share of the profits of the store which was run at the house. Any time he mentioned money to Mrs. Martin there was trouble. He thought he had done everything he possibly could to help, especially in former years and if ever there had been a man who had tried to live peaceably it was he.

The Judgment.

In giving the Judgment of the Bench Mr. Brown said that the plaintiff had pleaded persistent cruelty and wilful neglect but from the evidence heard the Court was unable to find that either of these charges were proven to the degree necessary for the final judgment of the Lower Court. Nevertheless in the opinion of the Hon. M.C. Craigie-Palkett and himself, there had been a degree of cruelty and neglect which would form grounds for an action for judicial separation in the Supreme Court and subject to the concurrence of His Honour the Chief Justice, they were prepared to grant a separation order with maintenance.

In giving the grounds on which the decision was based Mr. Brown said : "It is in the interests of both parties that they should be separated. The unhappiness arising from this ill-assorted marriage, maintained by constant contests and retaliation renders the interposition of the Court necessary before some actual mischief is done. We have been unable to find that there is any affection between the two parties. On the contrary there have been continual bickerings and sullenness, and in the past some violence. Added to this the wife's health requires that she should be protected from living under such conditions. We are of the opinion that there have been faults on both sides and that the present unhappy state of affairs has arisen from an inadequate sense on the part of both parties of what the relations between husband and wife should be. We cannot see that a reconciliation is possible.

"In the event of a Separation Order being sanctioned by the Judge of the Supreme Court, the wife must leave the home within a week. The maintenance ordered will be at the rate of £3/- a week until a fuller investigation can be made by the Court."

GREAT BRITAIN STILL LEADS THE WORLD.

(Concluded.)

The Dominions, Colonies and foreign countries, threatened with financial enslavement to America and France, will at last receive the tonic for which they have so long waited.

And their returning prosperity will, after mutual tariff concessions between themselves and Great Britain, brought about by the new British policy of adjustable tariffs, enable them to pay their debts in the goods which they are best fitted to produce.

In the political sphere the prospect for Great Britain is no less favourable. Her reputation abroad, immensely enhanced by the outburst of reasoned patriotism shown at the last General Election, has been fortified by the firmness and liberality of her attitude towards the three great problems of disarmament, German Reparations and Debts, and India.

In disarmament, she heads the world, having already much reduced her expenditure on defence, taking grave and acknowledged risks, while almost all other nations, including the United States have increased their forces.

In the matter of reparations and war-debts Great Britain ever since the issue of the Balfour Note, has proclaimed her conviction that they should be completely abolished, and that the world cannot recover until this is done.

Great Britain's policy towards disarmament and debts has healed the breach made by the war between her and Germany, and has strengthened the bonds that have always held her to Italy.

Suspicion Dispelled.

In her dealings with India Great Britain's Asiatic prestige has been completely restored. For a time her persistent conciliation had seemed pushed to the verge of weakness; but it is now plain that it was the self-restraint of strength.

With the modern weapons at her command and with the support of the great Chiefs and agricultural interests, she could, if she willed, ruthlessly crush all opposition and again make India mere a rich possession.

But now she has shown that, while determined to enforce order, she is equally determined to make India into a partner and a friend, and to fulfil to the uttermost the promises made in the war, provided that the Indians themselves will abate the internal divisions.

In Iraq too, Great Britain has splendidly demonstrated the sanctity of her pledges. After securing Iraq, at great expense and by firm diplomacy, against the former ambitions of Turkey and of the Wahibi kingdom, she now leaves her to complete independence friendly with the neighbouring States. Never has a conquering nation shown herself so generous.

In Egypt agitation has ceased, and a strong Government maintains excellent relations with Great Britain. Turkey, Persia and Afghanistan are friendly.

As Others See Us.

In effect the policy of Great Britain in Asia has swept away the sullen suspicion with which that continent regarded her many years after the war. Even Russia, absorbed in carrying out the Five-Year Plan seems to have modified the hostility of her propaganda.

The United States looks on Great Britain with deep confidence, justified by the similarity of our policies towards most great international questions and by the probity of our finance; while Latin America, long attached to us by sentiment and interest shows a growing desire to keep step with us. Scandinavia draws closer to us.

Lastly, the great Dominions are fired by expectation of the measures of mutual help and development which are to spring from the Ottawa Conference. Great Britain has regained her throne in the hearts of the nations and is about to lead the world among the paths of civilisation.

Thursday 28th April, 1932.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor, "The Pongouli",

The Deanery,
Port Stanley,
26th April, 1932.

Sir,

In a short time the Centenary is to be celebrated. This will be an occasion for something of a lasting nature to be done. There have been many benefactors in these Islands who have left their impression upon the place and people, but one stands out above all others.

There is no one who has done more for the people in these Islands, nor left a more lasting impression than the Very Reverend Dean Lowther E. Brandon, the first Dean of Christ Church Cathedral which graceful pile he raised in our capital city. There is no name more loved, no memory more cherished than Dean Brandon's.

Time will be when those who love him will wish to raise a memorial to him as they did to Bishop Sterling. This must be something no less worthy than that to the Bishop. Possibly it should be even better.

Why wait till that Saint of the earth has gone to his rest when a grander occasion presents itself? Why not mark the Centenary with a Memorial of the old Dean's work during his lifetime, so that he may see and know?

This matter has been publicly stated in the Cathedral and further published round the Camp and has always met with a generous response.

The Dean's, the Archdeacon's and the Canons' stalls remain to be erected to finish the Chancel, and some choir seats. This should be possible and would be a worthy memorial. True the work could not be completed for the Centenary but the money might be raised by then. It would still mark the Centenary and the greatest name of the century in the Islands.

The oldest and the youngest, the richest and the poorest, can contribute to this. Everyone will wish to do so.

Some will give a lump sum, some will give a promise of a certain amount on a certain date. Some will give much; some will be able to give but little. Those who find it easier can save so much a week in the Savings' Bank and draw it out on the Centenary Day and give the amount to the Fund. Some may even try other ways to do this.

What is wanted now is a Dean Brandon's Memorial Committee. Will the people of Stanley and the Camp please take up the task and get a Committee to work as soon as possible? A strong efficient Committee, not too numerous, with a first rate Chairman, Secretary and Treasurer is all that is required and it is certain this will be in existence in a minimum of time.

None will be missing from the effort to complete Dean Brandon's Cathedral for the Centenary so that he may know his greatest desire is completed before he dies.

By this mail a letter has been sent to Canon Mackain, the Bishop's Commissary in England, with matter for insertion in prominent London papers. The object is to found an Association of Friends of Stanley Cathedral on the same system as some of the Cathedrals in England have done. It will greatly assist if residents in these Islands who have friends in England will write to join this, telling them to give their names to Canon Mackain, The Royal Empire Society, Northumberland Avenue, London, S.W.. The outgoing mail would serve to stir friends to do this.

Yours faithfully,

Harold E. Lumsdale.
Dean.

SLOW PROGRESS AT GENEVA.

Indefinite Adjournment Of Commission ?

The various world problems under consideration at Geneva are moving very slowly. Throughout the present few days private talks between the statesmen are replacing open debate, states that "Daily Telegraph".

With regard to Disarmament although the General Commission has adjourned for a fortnight there is a possibility of an indefinite adjournment.

The report of the Technical Committee on qualitative Disarmament is expected to take weeks to prepare.

The League Committee of Nineteen, dealing with the situation in the far east, had received a cablegram from Sir Miles Lampson stating that an "Agreement in principle" had been reached at Shanghai. He added that definite proposals for the agreement would be drafted for signature yesterday.

Preparations for the Reparations' Conference at Lausanne are proceeding by many private conversations between the statesmen concerned. As a result of the meetings between Mr. Stimson, Doctor Brüning and Von Bülow and Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, the British Premier has decided to remain at Geneva until the French Premier, M. Tardieu, returns to-morrow.

BRITAIN & NAVAL TREATY.

Straight Words.

In a statement made at Geneva on Wednesday by a "high British Authority" it was clearly indicated that unless France and Italy adhere to the principles of the London Naval Treaty the British Navy will not be maintained at its present strength, says the "Daily Telegraph".

The suggested date when the two countries should sign is 1955 when the next Conference meets. The present signatories to the London Treaty of 1930 are - Britain, the United States, and Japan.

Ever since the Conference it has been pointed out that Britain has done her utmost to induce France and Italy to sign.

The Three-Power Agreement had brought about a real reduction. Without Franco-Italian support Britain would be obliged to avail herself of a clause enabling her to build above the Treaty level.

Another important development in the Disarmament Conference on Wednesday was the enforced postponement of the private talks on the French and German military position, at Geneva. A sudden attack of acute laryngitis prevented M. Tardieu, the French Premier, from leaving Paris. The other parties to the talks - Mr. MacDonald, Mr. Stimson and Dr. Bruening - are, therefore, returning home.

DEFEAT FOR DE VALERA.

Cosgrave & "Political Chicanery".

De Valera's Government was defeated in the Dail on Wednesday by 74 against 66 votes on the question of procedure, so a Dublin message reports.

It was evident that the defeat had a disturbing effect on the Ministers and their supporters.

Subsequently, de Valera, in moving the Second Reading of the Bill to abolish the Oath of Allegiance to the King, again declared that the Free State had every right to pass the measure, even under a treaty. He said he wasn't going to be drawn into negotiations in this matter.

The opposition leader, Mr. Cosgrave, described the Bill as "one of the greatest pieces of political chicanery in history." He said the Treaty could only be altered after agreement between the two countries.

The final judgment of the famous case between the Bank of Portugal and Messrs. Waterlow and Son, has, at last been delivered.

The case commenced in 1922 when the Bank contracted with Waterlow's for printing Portuguese bank-notes.

The bank alleged that in a breach of that contract, or negligently Messrs. Waterlow's printed a quantity of 500 escudos bank-notes and handed them to an unauthorised person - a Dutchman, named Marang - whose associates put them into circulation.

It was stated that Marang used the forged documents when he placed the order.

In delivering judgment Lord Sankey said that Waterlow's, like the bank, were the victims of the Marang fraud.

The case has lasted forty-three days in three courts and the taxed costs are likely to exceed £100,000.

FRANCE & HER INVASIONS.

A Geneva Passage Of Arms.

A lively passage of arms took place between the German and French delegates at the Disarmament Conference at Geneva on Thursday, says the "Daily Telegraph" correspondent.

The French Minister of Marine, M. Dumont, recalled the fact that France had suffered from four invasions. The German delegate retorted that the Napoleonic Wars constituted one of the greatest invasions in history. He added that he hoped the Committee would work in the spirit of conciliation and not go far afield into controversial historical matters.

TRADE INTERESTS IN BRITAIN.

A London message reports that it was announced in the House of Commons on Thursday, that the advisory Committee of Tariff Duties had decided that the duties imposed by the recent order should not, in general, be reduced during the next twelve months.

Major Elliot, the Secretary for the Department of Overseas Trade, who made a statement in reply to questions asked, that in the general interests of the United Kingdom trade, however, some modifications may be found necessary even within that period if it should prove possible to secure, in return, important reductions in foreign duties which would promise substantial advantages to our own export trade.

The Colonial Secretary, Sir Phillip Cunliffe Lister, said that he was in constant touch with the varied trade interests of the different groups of the Colonies and was in communication with all the Colonial Governments on the possibilities of the extension of trade between the Colonies.

EX KING MANUEL'S HOME RANSACKED.

Thieves Big Haul.

It was discovered on Saturday morning, so a message from London reports, that burglars had broken into and ransacked many of the rooms at Dulwell Park, the home of ex-King Manuel of Portugal. Dulwell Park is near Twickenham.

The thieves took a haul worth many thousands of pounds, including a Romney picture "A Child Fast Asleep," oil paintings, miniatures, a number of antiques and silver and gilt vases.

Both the ex-King Manuel and Queen Augusta Victoria were in residence but heard nothing of the burglars.

The famous library which contains Portuguese literature which His Majesty is building up and which is considered to be the most famous collection in the world, being insured for over 250,000, was not touched.

JAPANESE BOMB OUTRAGE.

Tokio Decision.

A message from Tokio states that the Government there has come to the decision of treating the Sino-Japanese Treaty agreement and the Shanghai bomb outrages on Friday last when a number of Japanese were killed, as two entirely unrelated matters. This decision has been reported to the Throne following a conference of the Ministers of Foreign Affairs and War as well as the Navy.

It has been determined not to make any change in the Japanese attitude towards the Truce negotiations but to endeavour to accelerate the conclusion of the agreement.

The reaction to the outrage is studiously moderate in all responsible quarters. No protest to China is being contemplated by the Japanese Government as the scene of the outrage was temporarily under Japanese military occupation and the bomb thrower was a Japanese subject.

Mr. Shigemitsu, the Japanese Minister in China, despite his severe injuries dictated on Saturday a number of despatches to his Government stressing the importance of concluding an agreement with China.

One of the victims of the outrage, Mr. Kawabata, the Chairman of the Japanese Residents' Society, died of his injuries on Saturday. General Uyeda, another victim, has lost the toes of his right foot. It is not yet known if Mr. Shigenitsu's leg can be saved.

THE BATTLESHIP QUESTION.

Germany Agrees To A Sacrifice.

A message from Geneva reports that Germany is willing to sacrifice her "pocket battleships" if other powers agree to scrap their battleships of over 10,000 tons.

Baron Rheinbaben, the German delegate, states the "Daily Telegraph", made this announcement at a meeting of the Naval Commission of the Disarmament Conference on Friday last.

The United States Senator, Mr. Swanson, urged that the battleship was a defensive weapon. He said that the United States Navy was wholly defensive and that the United States considered the battleship the backbone of the navy.

THE FRENCH ELECTIONS.

Tardieu's Appeal For Union.

The first ballot for the French General Elections took place on Sunday says a message from Paris.

No decisive results will be reached, however, until the second ballot next Sunday when the bulk of the returns will be made, explains the "Daily Telegraph".

There are 3,617 candidates for 515 seats and there are about eleven and a half million electors, all men.

At last Sunday's poll an absolute majority was necessary to secure an election but at the second ballot only a relative majority will be required.

While the Premier, M. Tardieu, who is supported by the centre and the right, appeals for "national union", to fight the crisis, the parties of the left are trying to overthrow him.

Premier Tardieu is the leader of the Radical-Socialists and has been returned with M. Herriot and M. Reynaud, the latter is the Minister of Justice.

At Bordeaux, the sitting member, M. Lorin, collapsed and died while awaiting the result. He is the third candidate to succumb since the nominations.

The defeated candidates so far include the well known Communist, Marty, and M. Faure, the Secretary General of the Socialist Party, M. Pumesnil, the Minister of Marine, during the London Conference, and the blind Deputy, M. Scapini, have been re-elected.

Should they persist in this attitude and vote against any of the clauses, de Valera's majority might be reduced to one.

The Dail is composed of the Fianna Fail and Labour 79, and the members of the opposition the number 73.

THE VOTE IN INDIA.

Extension of The Franchise.

The report of the Franchise Committee of the Round Table Conference sitting at Simla, was signed on Sunday.

The Marquis of Lothian, the chairman, said that though he was disappointed on account of the fact that the report was not quite unanimous, he was convinced that it would prove extremely valuable and a practical contribution to the constitutional development of India.

It is understood that there was unanimity on the main question referred to the Committee - the extension of the franchise. This may now embrace thirty per cent of the adult population. One fifth of the voters will be women.

The principal point of dissent was the question of franchise for the All India Assembly, the majority favouring about four per cent of the adult population while three dissentient Hindu members demanded fourteen per cent.

The British members on the Committee are leaving immediately for England except Lord Lothian who is staying at Simla for a week.

HONOLULU MURDER TRIAL.

U.S. Opinion Shocked.

Public opinion throughout the United States is shocked over the manslaughter verdict returned against four Americans - Lieutenant Massie, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mortenson, and two United States ratings, Lord and Jones, at Honolulu where they had been indicted for the murder of a native.

President Hoover has been inundated with demands that they should be pardoned on the grounds of justifiable homicide.

Bitterness has been aroused by the verdict in the white colony at Honolulu and throughout the whole of the United States but it is expected to be held in check until the extent of the leniency of the judge is known.

A suspended sentence for a period of a prison term would, it is felt, be the best solution of this difficult problem.

THE FRENCH ELECTIONS.

All Eyes On Herriot.

All eyes in France will be turned, during the week, on M. Herriot, the leader of the Radical-Socialists' Party and the Mayor of Lyons.

The outcome of the French elections is likely to depend upon the attitude of his party in next Sunday's ballot.

But while there has been a trend to the left, everything depends on how the different parties may or may not combine for the second ballot. Until Thursday when the nominations close, definite indications of this poll are unavailable.

The burning question now is, whether the Herriot party will make a common cause with the Socialists for the purpose of Sunday's ballot, against the groups of M. Tardieu's majority.

Under the Hawaiian Territorial Law if the jury disagree a second time the accused are acquitted. The second of the Senate measures is designed to prevent this.

HITLERITE REVEALATIONS.

Dictatorship Suggested.

A Berlin message reports that the official news letter of the Bavarian People's Party publishes the story of a plot to overthrow the Bruening Cabinet and replace it by a Military Dictatorship under the influence of the Hitlerites and headed by General Schleiker.

The communication says that Schleiker and General Von Hammerstein, the Executive Commander of the German Army, are working to undermine the position of General Groener, the War Minister.

Apparently they are being supported by Herr Meisner, the Secretary of State and Permanent Adviser to President Von Hindenburg. Their immediate motive is disagreement with Groener's dissolution of the Hitlerite Army, but they aim at a radical transformation of the Government.

The news letter adds that the Chancellor is to be General Schleiker himself, whose past exceedingly close associations with Hitler, Kbhlm and their associates are to be utilised to introduce national-socialist personalities into a new Military Cabinet.

TOLE OF ROAD ACCIDENTS.

"Exceedingly Serious" Position.

The Home Secretary, Sir Herbert Samuel, in the House of Commons on Monday night revealed that in 1931 eighteen persons were killed on the roads every day in Great Britain, says the "Daily Telegraph".

The figures were : killed 6,691, a decrease of 614 compared with the previous year; injured 202,119, an increase of 24,224 on 1930. Despite the decrease in the number of killed, he added, the position was "exceedingly serious."

The Metropolitan Police area returns for the first three months of 1932, issued on Monday night emphasise the seriousness of the situation. These are : total killed in the first quarter of 1932, 314 as compared with 289 in the first quarter of 1931; the total injured being 10,865 as compared with 9,945 the previous year; the pedestrians killed number 224 as against 216.

OPERATION ON PREMIER'S RIGHT EYE.

Not To Be Delayed.

After further consultation in London on Tuesday it was decided that the operation on Mr. Ramsay MacDonald's right eye should not be further delayed and the Premier entered a nursing home yesterday evening for the operation which is to take place to-day.

The Premier will be unable to leave the nursing home for a fortnight and thereafter will go to Lossiemouth for a holiday.

He is expected to return to Downing Street at the end of the second week in June, says the "Daily Telegraph".

One of the reasons for proceeding with this second operation is that Mr. MacDonald wishes to complete his period of convalescence so that he may attend the Lausanne Conference on Reparations, fixed for June the 16th.

The Premier, however, will be unable to carry out his intentions of returning to Geneva for the resumption of the Disarmament discussions, arranged for the 13th of May.

COTTON CONDITIONS

Employers To Fix Wages.

A message from Manchester reports that the decision of the Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers' Association to terminate all agreements with the Unions has been carried by vote, to the extent of ninety-eight and a half per cent of its membership.

This drastic decision, which ends the system of collective bargaining in the cotton industry, has resulted from the failure of prolonged negotiations with the workers for a reduction in wages and more economical methods of working.

It means, that, in future, each employer will fix the wages, working hours and conditions for workers in his factory without reference to the conditions obtaining elsewhere.

GERMAN DIFFICULTIES.

A message from Berlin reports that Chancellor Bruening has two serious crises to solve before the Reichstag assembles on the 9th of May, says the "Daily Telegraph".

One is the conflict of opinion between the Minister of Trade, Herr Warmbold, and the Minister of Labour, Dr. Stegerwalk, regarding the increase in unemployment. Herr Warmbold has already tendered his resignation and although this has not yet been accepted it would not be difficult to find a successor.

The other problem concerns an attempt which is to be made to get rid of General Groener, the Minister of Defence, and through him strike down the whole Cabinet and its policy. This crisis is particularly serious because it involves the relationship of the President with the members of the Cabinet.

The existence of the attempt referred to is officially denied but the press of all parties agree that a dangerous intrigue against Mr. Bruening is afoot. The only difference is to the persons primarily responsible and also regarding the ulterior objects of the schemes.

"J.D.F., of Donald, Washington, U.S.A., October 30th, 1931, colour white, aged thirty, considered good looking, and looking for a rich widow for a wife."

IMPORT DUTIES' DEBATE.

The debate on the order imposing the recent import duties was opened in the House of Commons on Wednesday evening and was continued yesterday.

The feature of the debate which gave it special interest was the exercise of the right of the Free Trade members of the Government to express views at variance with those of the majority of their colleagues.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, referring to a passage in the report that the Committee did not intend to recommend a reduction in the general level of protection for twelve months, said that the commercial treaties with foreign countries were the function of the Government and not of the Committee. The Government were, therefore, not precluded from entering upon or concluding even negotiations with any foreign country with whom it might be desirable. But Ottawa must come first.

THE FRENCH ELECTIONS.

The nominations for the second ballot in the French general elections closed at mid-night on Wednesday and, as a result, some 364 deputies will be elected on Sunday next.

The new candidates may stand at the second ballot and any who failed to secure election at the first ballot may withdraw. So far only fifteen new nominations have been given.

The Radicals, led by M. Herriot, are co-operating with the Socialists during the second phase of this contest. Radical candidates are withdrawing in constituencies where Socialists have a better chance and, in some cases, the latter are returning the compliment.

If the Radical hope of securing 150 seats is fulfilled they will be the predominant party in the coalition which will be required to form a government majority. M. Herriot and his followers will not decide their course of action until May 18th.

M. Tardieu, who is still confined to his room, broadcast a final address to the electors from his flat on Wednesday.

FRENCH PRESIDENT ASSASSINATED.

"Madman's" Action.

The President of the French Republic, M. Doumer, who was shot at point blank range on Friday by a Russian student, while opening an Exhibition of books in Paris, has died as the result of his wounds.

It is believed that the assailant is a madman.

Owing to the President's advanced age which was sixty-five, slender hopes for his recovery were entertained.

His death has caused a profound sensation in Great Britain, and His Majesty the King, who has been kept in close touch with the French authorities since the outrage, was deeply distressed when informed of M. Doumer's death. A message of sympathy on behalf of the King and Queen has been sent to Madame Doumer through the British Embassy in Paris. The Royal Family cancelled a proposed visit to a theatre on Saturday evening as a result of the tragic news.

The outrage occurred outside a house in the Elysee where the President was attending a public exhibition of books by ex-soldier authors. The assailant, upon whom the infuriated crowd immediately fell, had to be protected by the police. It is reported that eight shots were fired.

Slight injuries were suffered by Claude Farrerre, and H. Paul Richard, the Director General of the Municipal Police.

IRISH FREE STATE BUDGET.

British Tariffs & The Oath.

Sweepstake Taxed.

Two matters, one of widespread public interest and the other of great political importance affecting the Irish Free State, were announced on Wednesday, says the "Daily Telegraph".

The Irish Government has decided to levy one-sixteenth of the proceeds of the Hospitals' Sweepstakes.

The British Government has announced that should the Bill to abolish the oath be passed it will not be prepared to negotiate any tariff agreement with the Free States delegates at Ottawa.

The latter statement means that failing any change in the situation Irish goods sent to Britain, which represents the bulk of the Free States trade, will become subject to the new British tariffs.

The Sweepstakes proposal is contained in the Free States Budget which was introduced on Wednesday night.

The present Derby Sweep, and that on the last Grand National are to be included.

The amount to be levied is to be 25% of the hospitals' share leaving the prize money untouched.

In future people buying Irish Sweepstake tickets will thus be helping to pay the Free States taxes.

HITLERITES HIT OUT.

Uproar In Reichstag.

Two sensational events occurred in the German political world on Thursday, says the "Daily Telegraph".

As a sequel to the murderous assault by four Hitlerites on a Socialist journalist in the Reichstag building there was such an uproar in the House that the Speaker, Herr Loebbe, had to adjourn the sitting.

The police afterwards cleared the Chamber of angry Nazis and arrested the alleged assailants.

The resignation of General Groener of the post as Minister of Defence was also announced that day.

This is said to be due to the hostility of the generals in his department who object to his action in suppressing the Nazi storm troops.

In securing the resignation of General Groener the Hitlerites have won another victory.

General Groener, for the present, retains the post of Minister of the Interior, but there is a strong probability that this is only a tactical move to save the face of the Cabinet.

Monday, 16th May, 1952.

Whale-catchers because those boats had regular routines, and except at those times they did not listen in. The next routine would have been at 4.0 o'clock in the morning.

In an effort made to get more water into the shelter deck holes were cut out in the flensing platform but there was so much smoke and flame, and so much iron work obstructing the men, that they were forced to give up their efforts in this direction.

Though four hoses were being used at full force - three were being manipulated from the deck lines and one from the cargo pumps - no impression seemed to be made and all the time the fire was getting fiercer; by now the engine room and the wireless house were so full of smoke that they had to be abandoned.

Gunpowder.

At first, Captain Granoe, thought he could successfully cope with the situation but the flensing platform, all wood, soon caught fire and the conflagration spread both fore and aft. One pressure boiler burst within a quarter of an hour and was followed immediately by another. At approximately 12.15 a.m. orders were given to abandon ship. All the pressure boilers were full of material and these, when they burst, gave fresh fuel in the form of whale oil. Nothing further could be done and as there was about a ton and a half of gunpowder aft, which could not be removed, there was every chance of it exploding and killing some of the men.

At the time the ship was abandoned the midships and some of the cabins with the radio house had caught alight. The fire was gaining appreciably when they pulled clear and the remaining boilers could be hear exploding while, within an hour of this, the gunpowder went up with a vivid flash.

They were found by the whale-catchers about six o'clock in the morning.

It cannot be determined how the fire originated. Apparently it started in the shelter deck round the pressure boilers but there was no material about which could catch fire on its own account. A possible cause of the fire could have been a spark from the electric wiring for this was just below the deck.

LANG DISMISSED.

A message from Sydney reports that the New South Wales Governor, Sir Philip Game has dismissed the Lang Labour Ministry. He has asked the leader of the United Australia Party, Mr. Stevens, to form a provisional Government pending the dissolution.

"I've been sacked. I am no longer Premier, I am a free man," was Lang's comment as he left the Governor's residence after what is described as a tense interview.

Sir Philip informed Lang that his action in inducing State Officials to disobey the Federal State's Financial Agreement Enforcement Act was illegal and could not be tolerated.

Lang declined to accept the Governor's view and Sir Philip demanded the Ministry's resignation.

It was after Lang had declined to resign that the Governor dismissed his Government.

The finances showed that the Association had a balance of £206 as against £218 the previous year while the Executive Committee's report gave the membership roll as 73.

In reviewing the position of the Association, the Chairman drew attention to the decrease in the number of entries which had dropped in 1931 to almost half those in 1929 when there were 176. In 1930 there were 169 and last year only 95. The entries in three or four races were the same while the Ladies Trotting Race had increased by one. The Douglas Plate showed a loss of about 30 per cent, the Governor's Cup Sweepstake was down about 25 per cent and the Christmas Dance showed a 25 per cent deficit. Roughly speaking the Association had had to bear losses to the extent of twenty-five per cent in this sphere of activities. It seemed, taking the situation right through, they were suffering, as others, in this unfortunate period of general depression.

The nett result, however, appeared more promising than the previous year Mr. Greenfields said, and in his concluding remarks wherein he thanked the officers and all who had given of their best during the year, the Chairman touched upon a more optimistic note with regard to the future.

Doctor : "Well - er - humour him."

A few howlers :

"The masculine of dam is dash." "The climate of this island is damp, but embracing." "Charles II told the people they could get get drunk or gamble, or do what they liked. This was called the Restoration."

Two countrymen on a visit to town, noticed for the first time a plate with the word, "Chiroprapist."

"What's a churropodist, Geordie?" asked one; and the other replied, "Why a churropodist is a man what teaches canaries to whistle."

The population is terror stricken but there has been no panic.

JAPANESE PREMIER SHOT.

Assailants Surrender.

A Tokio message reports that the Japanese Premier, Imikai, was shot and fatally wounded on Sunday by a party of young militarists who burst into his residence.

Facing them Imikai said "Don't shoot. I'll listen to your demands" says the "Daily Telegraph" correspondent.

But a number of shots were fired at him. The assailants then proceeded to the police headquarters.

A Cabinet Council was held at the premier's death-bed and it was decided that the Minister of Finance, Takahashi, should take his place. He expired at 11.35 p.m..

Meanwhile other terrorists bombed a number of important buildings in the capital the bombs did little damage, the object of the demonstrators being apparently to inspire alarm.

The outrages are regarded as a part of the campaign by Fascists who are dissatisfied with the Government's policy in Manchuria. They form the climax to a series of assassinations including the former Premier, Hamaguchi, the ex-Finance Minister Hanyu, and the prominent banker, Takuma.

FLYING "PROFESSOR."

He Provides A Strange Interlude.

A so-called Oxford professor, who said he had never flown an aeroplane before, created amazement at Cleveland, U.S.A., by taking up a biplane during the national air races there.

"Professor Charles Beresford Smythe," dressed in a tail coat and wearing a silk hat, hung his umbrella on the wing of the plane and started off. He bounced along the ground, scraping one wing after the other, to the horror of the petrified crowd, and finally succeeded in coming down with a frightful jolt.

It was then revealed that the professor was really Flying-Officer Atcherley, the former British Schneider Trophy pilot, and that it was all part of a rag.

MAN WHO SAVED SUEZ CANAL.

Oriental Friend Of Allies Dead.

The Agha Petros Ellour, a mysterious and picturesque friend of the Allies during the Great War, has died in hospital at Toulouse. Born at Stamboul in 1880, he ranged himself on the side of the Allies when Turkey entered the war.

He organised an army of Assyrians and Chaldeans. When the Turks and Germans marched through Palestine to attack the Suez Canal in the hope of cutting off Allied communications with the East, he and his men allowed them to get into mid-desert and then fell on them from the rear. The enemy, his communications cut by the desert raiders, was thus obliged to retreat, leaving the Suez Canal zone free.

After the war Ellour lived on an estate near Toulouse, which, according to some reports, was presented to him as a mark of appreciation of his services in defence of the Suez Canal. With him lived his wife, five children and thirty of his picturesque followers.

THE DEAN BRANDON MEMORIAL FUND.

Correspondence.

The Editor,
"The Penguin".

Port Stanley,
18th May, 1928.

Sir,

I gather that the Dean Brandon Memorial Fund, mentioned in today's "Penguin", is expected to absorb the somewhat startling total of some 2700 to 2800.

What follows may deeply shock some people, but I think it fair to ask the question - "Is such expenditure justified IN THESE HARD TIMES?" The principal industry of the Colony is in a more parlous state than ever before; seeling us at a standstill, and whaling practically so; the Government is hard put to find sufficient employment for the people; wages have been cut in the Camp, and short time is being worked in Stanley. To canvass people, living under these conditions, for so large a sum of money in order to adorn the Cathedral with oak panelling, may show a commendable optimism in those who are soliciting the funds, but, looking at it from an entirely unbiased point of view (I particularly wish to accentuate that) and even from an elementary Christian standpoint, one feels bound to ask whether such a sum (if, indeed, the people have got it to spare), could not be put to a more suitable purpose and still serve as a Memorial to Dean Brandon, whose great work in the Colony I should be the last to belittle.

I am aware that I shall be told that there can be no greater purpose, or better use for money, than beautifying the House of God. But on whose authority are we told this?

Certainly not on the authority of Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, whose whole life and teaching was the inspiration of simplicity, charity, and help of the poor, unadorned by exhortations to lavish expenditure on the outward show of Religion. In fact, His teaching was so utterly opposed to that outward show, as practised by the various Jewish sects, that they put him to death because of it.

If money, generously given and properly administered, can do anything to alleviate some of the distress we know exists in our midst; if it can bring happiness or relief from domestic worry to a number of families; if it can help us do something to prepare a future for the children who are now growing up under the shadow of the threat of unemployment; then, let us give generously, let us administer carefully, knowing that we are giving to God in that very manner advised by Christ himself to a certain young man - "Go, sell what thou hast, and give it to the poor."

I am, Sir,
Yours faithfully,

"OPEN-MINDED."

MRS. PUDDLEDUCK'S ADVENTURES.

Special Interview.

By Our Social Wale.

Stanley,
20th May, 1938.

This morning I was fortunate enough to secure an interview with the celebrated Mrs. Jemima Puddleduck who greeted me in her spacious apartments with a beaming "quack" and hastened to tell me how much she looked forward to the daily "Penguin" which she read with great interest.

Wearing a delightful black gown which set off her lily-white neck to perfection, and preening herself to the manner born, she prattled away prettily with a "joie de vivre" only to be acquired on an emancipation such as hers.

She told me how, thirsting for adventure, she eluded the vigilant eye of her guardian and set out one evening for the dazzling city lights. It gave her a tremendous thrill to parade up and down the renowned Ross Road Promenade. But she was so disappointed; she did not meet or even see any of her acquaintances except Mr. and Mrs. Logger and Mr. and Mrs. Shag who entertained her sumptuously at their town residences. She was fascinated by the electric lights, "Cute little things," she gurgled; and the shops - "Oh, how chic;" the motor traffic and the young bloods on motor-cycles caught her eye in an instant.

Finding city life pall, she bade her friends a fond farewell and set out for the wide open spaces, intent on venturing as far as the vast whiteness of the great Antarctic. But while staying in one of the palatial hotels at Mullet Creek, the celebrated Stanley Spa, she came under the patronly care of Mrs. Upland whose influence was so profound that Mrs. Jemima gave up the idea of travelling to foreign climes. There were bad things being whispered round about the penguins of the south; Mrs. Seal, Mrs. Upland had said, had had it from Mr. Seal who was all "au fait" with current events because he knew the Whales. So she packed up her trunks and took the first aerial passage homewards, alighting at Lagie Rock for a short stay.

There, she was the guest of Mrs. Snipe and the Misses Snipe who were deeply concerned about Mr. Snipe. They had heard it rumoured that he had made the acquaintance of a certain Mr. Setter with whom he had taken himself off to the city of dazzling lights. Mrs. Snipe had snapped that she would undoubtedly make a meal of him if nobody else had already done so.

Mrs. Puddleduck, now distrusting "worldliness", was determined to take her leave as quickly and as politely as she possibly could, at the same time expressing in her own charming manner how sincerely she hoped Mr. Snipe would return home safely, and how she hoped Mrs. Snipe would write and let her know.

Booking by the next airways connection she eventually saw her beloved home again, nestling far below, and circling round several times she landed amid jubilant greetings from her sisters who she had not seen for three weeks.

"But I'm so glad you came, Mr. Reporter," Mrs. Puddleduck said as she threw me one of those exquisite glances of hers. "I've just been dying to tell someone all about my adventures." With these parting words ringing in my ears I took my leave with that deference due to so sweet a lady, but outside I met her guardian who told me confidentially that he would see she did not fly off again; he would clip her wings.

DUEL PROSPECTS FOR LAUSANNE.

As a result of the new political development in France and Germany, prospects of the Lausanne Conference on Reparations are not regarded very hopefully in diplomatic circles in London, says the "Daily Telegraph".

The French Radical leader, M. Herriot, who is now likely to form his cabinet with the aid of the centre parties, has indicated his approval of the attitude towards reparations taken up by the Tardieu Government.

He was received by the President, M. Le Brun, on Thursday, but his ministry is not likely to be completed until June 10th, only six days before the Conference opens.

In Germany a strong trend to the right still prevents Councillor Bruening from accepting the extended Moratorium followed by the resumption of payments.

The third unfavourable outlook for Lausanne is the unwillingness of the United States to contribute even to the third section of the Conference at which currency questions will be considered.

LIBERIAN ATROCITIES.

Appeal For League Administration.

Terrible atrocities were admitted at Geneva on Thursday by a representative negro to the special committee of the League, says the "Daily Telegraph".

These barbarities, which have been committed by the Liberian Frontier Force, included: setting forty-four villages on fire; the slaughter of 81 men, 49 women and 29 children; the burning alive of many more persons in blazing villages.

The Committee had met to discuss the report of the experts sent by Great Britain, the United States and France to investigate conditions in Liberia. This report stated that the burning of villages had forced over 12,000 inhabitants to take refuge in the bush where they remained without food or shelter because they feared the authorities.

It is understood that the Council of the League of Nations will recommend the appointment of a special Commission, with the approval of the United States, to take over the administration of Liberia and place the Republic under the protection of the League.

These subversive movements were taking advantage of the world-wide misery to combine in a war against God and on the struggle for daily bread.

HOPE FOR U.S.A. TRADE.

Large Sums Of Money Released By Banks.

New hopes that the tide of depression in the United States will be turned, have been aroused by the news that vast sums, estimated as much as 7,500 million dollars, are to be made available for business development, says the "Daily Telegraph" correspondent in New York.

A Committee of twelve leading bankers, headed by Owen D. Young, has been set up.

The Committee will devise methods for utilising large sums of money now being released by the Federal Reserve banks through the heavy purchase of Government securities. It will also cooperate with the 2,000 millions dollars Reconstruction Corporation and other agencies to secure cooperation between the bankers and industrialists.

The formation of the new Committee has caused a wave of buying in Wall Street, which for weeks has been marking time or sinking to new low levels.

THE KREUGER CRASH.

Tremendous Liabilities.

It is officially announced from Stockholm that steps are now being taken to have the Kreuger and Toll Company declared bankrupt.

The official investigation of the company's affairs disclose that there will be little if anything for distribution to unsecured creditors.

The investigation revealed that Kreuger's personal liabilities are on an immense scale. The following circumstances are disclosed.

The Kreuger Company has a claim of at least 211 millions on Kreuger's estate.

THE CARRI BILL.

What Will The Senate Do ?

A message from Dublin reports that of the sixty-six members of the Senate, de Valera's supporters number about ten while there are about six Labour members.

The remaining forty-four are either Cosgrave supporters or Independents.

The attitude of the Senate to the Government's abolition of the Oath is very doubtful. There is a feeling that the Senate will probably defeat the Bill and be prepared to take the consequences.

De Valera could then, if he wished, appeal to the country for the approval of the Bill and for power to deal with the Senate. If he is successful he could institute machinery whereby he could obtain the necessary support for the Bill.

TERRIFIC STORMS IN BRITAIN.

Three People Drowned.

A message from London reports that three people were drowned and hundreds of thousands of pounds worth of damage resulted from the very serious floods following the week-end torrential rain. There have been clud bursts in many parts of England and the rain during two days has been more than the average for the whole month of May.

The Derby floods are the worst for the past ninety years, the water in the streets being more than five feet deep, while more than six hundred telephone lines are out of action.

In eight counties residents experiences surpassed anything within living memory.

At Nuneaton the centre part of the town is under four or five feet of water. Thousands of people are marooned and in many parts of the town the electric light is cut off.

INTER PLATOON FOOTBALL.

Last Year's Champions Win First Match.

Hard Luck For No. 2.

Although the ground was damp, and a drizzling rain fell a part of the time there was very little wind to interfere with the League match between Numbers 1 and 2 Platoons on Sunday afternoon, so that altogether a most enjoyable game resulted. The play itself was of a mediocre standard, neither side being able to settle down to constructive work, and a beginning of the season atmosphere prevailed. In extenuation, however, it can be said that No. 1 were playing three reserves while No. 2, for most of the first half, had only ten men.

Winning the toss No. 2 Platoon elected to defend the west end goal while their opponents had the pleasure of kicking off with the new ball presented to the Club by Messrs. McAtasney and Sedgwick.

Considerable life characterised the work of No. 2 who set last year's champions defence a difficult task in coping with their sallies. Once or twice Peck's goal had some fairly lucky escapes.

But No. 1 sustained their forward line well so that the play was by no means one-sided and from a corner ceded about a quarter of an hour after the start Allan scored the opening goal, his shot being deflected through the posts in a melee by one of the backs. With a number of spasmodic bursts the "Two's" inside forwards penetrated the "One's" defence and eventually Beardmore scored a good equaliser; shortly afterwards the same player had a "cert" at his feet, but was given offside.

In the second half the "Two's", although having been re-inforced with an eleventh man from the spectators to fill the gap caused by the absent player, began to feel the strain imposed on them by the extra work entailed in the first half, and their attacks, though as stimulating as ever, lacked the essential drive to send them "home".

Matters were not improved for them when No. 1 Platoon obtained an opportune, if somewhat lucky, goal when the ball rebounded off Aldridge as the goal-keeper was trying to clear, and went between the posts. Later Allan put the issue beyond doubt by scoring a third easily, within two yards of the goal line.

On the run of the game No. 2 Platoon certainly deserved a much better fate and had the honours been divided, the result would have been fairer, particularly in view of their work in the first part of the match.

A noticeable feature of the play was the tendency on both sides to concentrate activities in the centre of the field: comparatively speaking there was no really effective wing play. The outstanding men for the losers were Shackel, the captain, and O. Pike, at centro-half, while F. O'Sullivan worked hard and effectively for No. 1 Platoon. Both teams included new blood and these men showed promise in spite of the fact that they must have felt somewhat estranged.

The teams were :

No. 1 Platoon : J. Peck; J.J. Harries & C.L. Pallini; E.G. Biggs, F. O'Sullivan & B. Fleuret; H. Evans, L. Sedgwick, L. Aldridge, C.G. Allan & J. King.

No. 2 Platoon : D. O'Sullivan; G.W. Butcher & A. Shackel; W. Browning, O. Pike & W. Summers; L. Reive, C. Skilling, A.W. Beardmore, H. Thomas & C. Thompson.

The Free States Communications Department gives the time as 15 hours and 39 minutes. Miss Earhart calculated 13 hours and 15 minutes. In any case it is a record.

In a farewell note to her sister before the flight she wrote "I've tried to play for a large stake and if I succeed all will be well. If I don't I shall be happy to pop off in the middle of such an adventure. I have made my will and have left my house in order."

Captain Eden, the British Foreign Under Secretary said at Geneva on Saturday that the British Government had intimated that it was not possible to guarantee loans for Austria as recommended by the Financial Council of the League. In order to avert a breakdown last summer the Bank of England, made an advance whereof 100 million Schillings are still outstanding.

Britain, France, Germany and Italy jointly rejected other recommendations including a 200,000,000 loan to Greece on the grounds that such measures are temporary and unsatisfactory palliatives.

PROFESSOR TARRIED & FEATHERED.

"War, Wine And Women,"

A Reuter message from Pretoria reports that Professor H.P. Lamont, a member of the Pretoria University Senate, was tarred and feathered and thrown out of his motor car in the main square of the town on Monday. He was clad only in a pair of bathing slippers and had a placard slung on his back inscribed "War, Wine and Women." Later four young men confessed to the police that they perpetrated the outrage.

The incident marks the climax of a wave of indignation which lasted several weeks over a war book entitled "War, Wine and Women" which is said to be derogatory to the Dutch community in South Africa.

A young man called at Professor Lamont's home on Monday and demanded to know whether he was the author. Lamont agreed to discuss the matter with the students' representative and accompanied the young man to the door where, it is alleged, he was attacked by visitors and three other men. He was soon over-powered and driven to the heights above Pretoria where the outrage was committed.

LIFE SAVER HONOURED

Presentation By His Excellency.

A memorable event marked the occasion of the first night of the Stanley Benefit Club's Seventy-third Annual Dance, on Monday when, during the course of the evening His Excellency the Governor presented Mr. Iver B. Steen with the Bronze Medal and Certificate of the Royal Humane Society.

The ceremony took place about half-way through the dance, His Excellency being introduced by Mr. V.A.H. Biggs (Chairman of the Club.) There were also on the platform the Hon. J.M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary), the Hon. L.W.H. Young, Mr. G.H.L. Brown (Private Secretary) and Mr. E.V. Dixon (Secretary of the Club.)

In welcoming His Excellency Mr. Biggs touched first upon the long life of the Club since its foundation in 1859, and upon its successful operation by the working men themselves. Continuing Mr. Biggs lamented the fact that, for economic reasons, no Public Holiday was being granted the following day, Empire Day, and, fresh from his visit to the Argentine, wondered whether this indicated the coming of the Argentine to the Colony next year.

A Signal Act Of Courage.

After stating that he did not wish to make a political speech, His Excellency spoke with enthusiasm of the good work done by Friendly Societies such as they had in Stanley, promoted by the working men for the working men.

The Governor went on to say he was present that evening for a very special reason, and that was to present Mr. Steen with the Bronze Medal and the Certificate of the Royal Humane Society for his heroic action at Johnson's Harbour last June, when he rescued the young man Rowlands - only twenty years of age - from certain death by drowning.

Mr. Steen, who was a Norwegian, had not hesitated a moment before plunging into the bitterly cold water, fully dressed as he was, and wearing thigh boots. He swam out through the kelp & after a stern struggle brought Rowlands, who could not swim at all, safely to shore.

It was a signal act of courage, and he, himself, could not think of anything grander than the bestowal of an award such as that of the Royal Humane Society by one country to a man of another country. The medal was only of bronze but therein lay its value. The most coveted award any Britisher could possess was of bronze and worth nothing more than sixpence. He alluded to the Victoria Cross. This could never be won for a premeditated deed, and by a man counting the gain to be acquired, but for a spontaneous act of supreme gallantry in which he who risked his very all, did so without considering what the sacrifice would be.

The Governor went on to impress upon his listeners the importance of being able to swim and in referring to the want of facilities in the Falkland Islands spoke of the great hope he entertained for the erection of a swimming bath in Stanley before the expiration of his term of office.

Amid long and loud applause His Excellency presented Mr. Steen with the Medal and Certificate, shaking him warmly by the hand.

The dance then continued until 1.0 a.m. when the revellers departed from the gaily bedecked Hall. The excellent music was provided by the Local Bands while members of the Stanley Benefit Club Committee ably carried out the duties of M.C. and stewards.

JOE HARRIES WASIED OVERBOARD.

A Narrow Escape.

Joe Harries, the Falkland Islands boy who is a sailor on H.M.S. "Dragon" recently had a thrilling adventure which but for his own presence of mind and the prompt action of his mates, might have ended tragically.

A friend of his, A.B. Fred Bowman, writes that when the ship was returning to Bermuda from Jamaica it encountered very bad weather and on Saturday night, the 27th of February last, during the middle watch "Hato", as Joe Harries is known among his friends, was assisting to secure the first cutter which had broken adrift, when a great sea came inboard and knocked him and his mates over. When the sea had rushed out again Hato was right outboard, hanging on to a rope's end which he had had the presence of mind to grasp.

Seeing his predicament his pals dashed after him as he was swaying over the side of the cruiser and pulled him inboard again. If he had fallen into the sea or had not managed to hold on to the rope they could not have sent the lifeboat after him on account of the awful conditions. Under the circumstances, writes Bowman, that was about the nearest squeak Hato will ever have.

In his own letters Joe does not seem to consider the incident of sufficient importance to mention but he speaks of how he was made an A.B. three months previously and was then waiting to take his examination for Leading Seaman.

THE OTTAWA CONFERENCE.

Empire Day Message.

Mr. Stanley Baldwin, the Acting Premier, stated in the House of Commons on Wednesday, that the British delegation to the Ottawa Conference would include the Minister of Agriculture, Sir John Gilmour. Until it was possible to estimate the length of the present Parliamentary Session and of the Lausanne Conference, it was impossible to say whether two or three Ministers given in the earlier list, would be available.

The Dominions' Secretary, Mr. J.H. Thomas, assured the members that the question of migration as an essential element of Imperial economic cooperation would not be overlooked by the United Kingdom delegation at Ottawa.

Mr. Thomas stated that he had now received the agenda of the Conference from the Canadian Government.

In the Empire Day message read at the Canadian Chamber of Commerce Luncheon in London on Wednesday, the Canadian Premier, Mr. Bennett said "In a few months the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa will form a part of our history and, I am convinced, a memorable part.

"Determination is evident throughout the Empire to utilise this opportunity to place our economic relations on a mutually advantageous and enduring basis, and it is assured that before another Empire Day arrives definite action will have been taken which will contribute materially, to the revival of trade and industry in every part of the Empire and, I trust, aid in the re-establishment of confidence and the concerted action necessary for the restoration of prosperity to the world in general."

A slight earthquake tremor, which it is suggested may have been due to the floods, was felt at Sheffield and some parts of Derbyshire on Thursday.

RIVERS STILL RISING.

Flood Distress.

A press message from London reports that further flood distress was caused on Friday in Yorkshire, Nottinghamshire and Lincolnshire. The rivers continue to rise in these areas as a result of the rains and the outlook had increased in its seriousness.

"MISS ENGLAND III" SLOWER.

In deference to the wishes of the local authorities at Gardcuno, that he should remain until the end of the regatta, Kaye Don postponed his departure until to-day (Monday.)

On Friday he said in an interview that "Miss England III" was definitely slower than "Miss England II" and "in my opinion," he added, "speed has been sacrificed to safety."

"Fantasia Fortissima."

Just a few music lovers assembled in the Paddock yesterday to listen to the Symphony Platons in their programme of the "Mudlarks' March" and "Fantasia Fortissima". But the latter proved too overwhelming so that even the players agreed to leave (pp.4).

"By Gaw. You're not going Home?"

Eliminating Competition.

The London, Midland and Scottish, and the London and North Eastern Railway Companies have agreed on a scheme to eliminate competition between them.

Under the scheme it is proposed, from July 1st, to pool the receipts of the Companies from the traffic between the points where they are in competition.

The proceeds of the pool will be divided between the two companies according to the ratio of the receipts of the years 1928, 1929, 1930 and 1931. As a result of this economies will be assured and the public will benefit in various ways.

The scheme must have the assent of the Minister of Transport who has referred the matter to a committee of three which held their first meeting on June 28th.

THE WALKER DUEL.

Evidence Concluded For Mayor.

Mayor James Walker of New York concluded his evidence before the Hofstadter Committee which has been investigating allegations of municipal corruption for over six years, says the "Daily Telegraph."

On Friday New York and the Nation generally were weighing up the evidence and awaiting the decision.

Judge Seabury, who questioned Walker's honesty, and the Mayor himself are confident of the result of their verbal duel.

The Governor of New York State, Mr. Roosevelt, is to decide whether Walker should remain in office or not. The Mayor's removal would mean that Joseph McKee, the President of the Board of Aldermen, would become Mayor temporarily.

GIRL GUIDE MOVEMENT'S 21st ANNIVERSARY.

Stanley Company Keeps The Occasion.

May 29th, 1932, was the official Coming-of-Age of the Girl Guide Movement; and Imperial Headquarters in England were planning a great Girl Guide Reunion in honour of the occasion. Guides from all over the world were invited to attend; and they would have had a wonderful time.

Meanwhile, the economic crisis was revealed, and it was decided to postpone the celebrations until the Guides reached their quarter-centenary; and to simply set aside the week from May 23rd to May 29th, as a special Guide Week when clergymen of all denominations would be asked to hold special services for Guides, or to make mention of them in their churches, and to use the special prayer for Girl Guides, composed for the occasion.

In Stanley on May 29th, the Guides' Service was incorporated in the Cathedral, and in St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church the special Guide prayer was used.

Alice Felton,
Assistant Islands' Commissioner.

- 0 4

On Sunday evening the Cathedral was practically filled when the service opened with the presentation of the Colours to the Dean by Patrol Leader Joyce Turner (bearer) escorted by Guides Irene King and Phyllis Davis.

In his address the Very Reverend the Dean, who took his text from the Guide Law "A Guide is a Friend to all", pointed out that the Guides shared that law with the Scouts who had paraded that evening to join in the festival of the Guides' Twenty-First Anniversary - a special occasion that could never occur again in their lifetime or in anybody else's.

A part of that Law, he continued, stated that the Guide, or Scout, was a friend to all but he had heard it described in a beautiful manner - A Guide, or Scout was a little friend of all the World.

Once upon a time man was the "Friend of God" and he would tell them that evening how they could help man to become again the Friend of God.

For the past twenty-one years, in the case of the Girl Guides, and longer in the Scout Movement, they had been growing up to achieve this ideal standard - to try to uplift mankind.

"You are cultivating," the Dean emphasised, "developing and growing, and perhaps carving human nature so that you can make out of it human stature. It does not matter if you are big and strong, little or weak, sick or poor, or if you are a cripple or healthy. Each can cultivate and carve human nature."

"By your example, your prayers, your influence, your nobleness you can help mankind to become again the Friend of God. If every Guide, and every Scout put their mind on this intent they would raise the generation in which we live and make ours a little more a world of love and bring mankind nearer to being a Friend of God in their every day efforts of being "Little Friends of the World."

At the conclusion the Colours were returned and the National Anthem was sung. The Assistant Islands Commissioner, Miss A. Felton was present. The Guides were under the command of their Captain, Miss B.L. Felton, while the Brownies were under the charge of Miss J. Miller (Brown Owl) and Miss F. Turner (Acting Tawny Owl). The Scout Troop was under the command of Mr. E.D. Frewin, Group Scoutmaster.

On Saturday afternoon the Church Hall resounded throughout with the merriment of the Guides and Brownies who, with their friends, were having the time of their lives with games and sing-songs. Tea time, at 3.30 brought a change, however, and for a brief while quietness reigned. Afterwards the "fatigue" patrol washed up and packed up everything quickly and efficiently to return once more to take part in the merriment which ended, to the regret of all, at 5.0 p.m.. The party was organised by the Guides and Brownies officers.

BOY SLUGGED & KIDNAPPED.

A message from Cleveland reports that the police there and at Chicago were investigating on Sunday the story of a Cleveland boy, who declared that he had been slugge& and kidnapped in Ohio City on Friday.

He told the Chicago police that three men had forced him into a car and took him to Hammond where they hurled him from the car. He gave his name as Holmes Osborne, aged fifteen.

AIR SMASH - 4 KILLED.

A Rome Reuter message reports that H. and M. Langwellar, who were passengers aboard the liner "Georges Phillipar", were killed while flying home from Brindisi to Marseilles on Sunday. Both the French pilots, Coulette and Moureau, were killed at the same time.

Coulette was the hero of the record flight from Paris to the Cape in three days and eighteen hours, last month.

The School's Aim.

Your work is carried out under different conditions to ours. Our village is situated in the Newy Woollen District (Mr. Hoare will at once add, "Of which Dowsbury is the centre!") where factories resound with machinery making various kinds of cloth. The picture we have formed from the vivid description given us to-day of your surroundings is vastly different, with your large sheep farms and homesteads far scattered, in many cases isolated on islands.

The aim we had to set ourselves was to cut out the aids given in our factories by mechanical inventions, and unearth the principles of the processes through which wool passes from the sheep's back to our own. In your case, unhampered by reminders of machinery being dinned into your ears daily, you would travel the straight course from the shorn wool to the spinning wheel as simply as possible.

Up to and including spinning we work as you do, except that as yet for the last operation we are confined to hand spindles made in the school. This makes our spinning a slow process; but then we are surrounded by such rush and bustle that you will readily agree it is a good lesson for us to have to exercise patience, and go slowly! Like you we have used vegetable dyes, though now, by the kindness of a neighbouring firm of dyers, we are equipped with a range of aniline dyes capable of providing us with all conceivable shades. The vegetable dyes, though limited in range, have a softer tone of colour and fibres of wool dyed by their tints are not so harsh as those chemically dyed.

"Baa, Baa, Nice Sheep."

Undoubtedly you have the advantage over us as regards supply of wool. Our last fleece was cut off a lamb's skin bought at a local butcher's shop; the first wool we used we obtained from the south of England, two hundred miles away; our next, we hope will come from the Shetland Islands, some four hundred miles north. If we can manage it we now hope one day to handle "Falkland Island" fleece! Your wool, maybe, comes to offer itself at your door; you sing, "Baa, baa, nice sheep, have you any wool?" and there you are!!

From your Ambassador to our school we learn that after spinning the use of your yarn is confined to knitting. So far, we have not used ours for knitting; but now we shall try it. We continue the processes which follow spinning in the mills right on to the finished cloth - not suit lengths yet, but some day, perhaps -!

After being spun, there is a stage before weaving having as its object the process of arranging the length of the cloth in strict order so that the wool will pass through the weaver's loom without the least bit of confusion. So arranged, the threads are called the warp, and are entered into the loom through gearing which is worked to lift up the warp threads in a given order. Cross threads, named the weft, are inserted by means of a shuttle, and on the order in which the warp threads are raised for the shooting of the shuttle much of the pattern depends. After being woven, the material is well soaked for some hours, thoroughly impregnated with soap, and then punched with fists, sticks or other hard substance until the fibres become felted, like stocking feet become after being worn. It is then well pressed, and cloth is the reward. By means here very briefly outlined, we have in our classroom made such cloth.

"Well, sir," said the man, "I've just been investigating, and he says his name is Smith."

A Babu clerk, who has just lost his wife, writing to his chief : "Honoured Sir, I regret I cannot come to the office to-day. Not to put too fine a point on it, the hand that rocked the cradle has kicked the bucket."

A Present.

Our object in studying woolcraft, besides giving us craft work of a very useful nature, is to get a grasp of the principles underlying one of the country's greatest industries. Your object, we gather, is the occupation of spare time in a profitable manner, and we are glad you have taken up this particular craft, for we think you couldn't beat it. We heartily agree it asks for patience, and then more patience. But the pleasure it gives! It is worth keeping going and extending, and we hope to hear from time to time that your wool-craft work becomes more and more interesting. From our experience we are convinced of its genuine value, and we are indeed pleased to have such a link joining us here in the Homeland with the Island Colony thousands of miles away.

We have no living representative who can return the visit of Mrs. Roberts, so as our ambassador we ask you to receive a specimen of our home-weaving on one of our home-built looms. The colours are our school colours, red and white. The wool is not home-spun, as you will at once see, so I add a pattern of cloth in the same colours, to give you an idea of what we have made from raw wool.

The top-class pupils, about three dozen boys and girls whose ages range from twelve to fourteen years, send their hearty good wishes to the scholars of the Falkland Islands and all who are working for the further progress of woolcraft.

NO. 3 HEAD THE LEAGUE.

In obtaining three goals on Sunday against No. 1 Platoon, last year's champions, No. 3 Platoon placed themselves at the head of the League (for the time being) with their very first game.

The match did not produce good football and this can almost completely be blamed to the weather which was appalling. Underfoot the ground was more like a morass while intermittently rain fell and drenched the players. The winners owed their success to the more persistent work of their forwards who certainly exhibited a degree of combination, their backs kicked well too. No. 1 made the fatal mistake of playing on the defensive too much thereby giving the "Threes" the welcome opportunity of crowding their goal where anything might (and did) happen with so slippery a ball and so uncertain a stand underfoot. All the goals were scored in the first half those obtaining them being Grierson (2) and C. Thompson.

The teams were :

No 3 Platoon : F. Coleman; J. Pettersson & D. Fleuret; D. Atkins, A.I. Fleuret & G. Pearson; C. Thompson, E. Pettersson, W.J. Grierson, F. White & E. Kirtle.

No. 1 Platoon : J. Peck; A. Maheridge & D. Williams; G.F. Pallini, F. O'Sullivan & B. Fleuret; B.G. Biggs, H. Campbell, L.W. Aldridge, C.O. Allan & L.A. Sedgwick.

THE IRISH ANNUITIES.

The Secretary for the Dominions, Mr. J.H. Thomas, said in the House of Commons on Monday in reply to a question that, he did not think it desirable to make any statement as to the policy His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom would adopt in the event of the non-payment of the Irish Land Annuities, unless and until, such a situation had actually arisen.

ATTEMPT AT AIR RECORD.

Italian Effort.

A message from Rome reports that four high speed aeroplanes are being secretly tuned up at Desenzano, Lake Garda, for an official attempt on the world's air speed record of 407½ miles an hour, established by Flight-Lieutenant Stainforth in 1931.

The 1st eside hangars are surrounded by armed guards who will allow nobody to approach to within a mile of the machines.

The official attempt will be made, it is understood, between June 5th and June 15th. General Balbo predicts a flying speed of 625 miles an hour to be reached within the next ten years.

PACIFIC FLIGHT ENDS ABRUPTLY.

H.A.T.C. Browne started on Sunday to fly from Seattle, U.S.A., to Tokio but had to return after reaching Vancouver Island owing to a broken oil-pipe.

On Monday his aeroplane crashed in flames in Elliott Bay. But both Browne and his mechanic were picked up by a speed boat.

THE LAUSANNE CONFERENCE.

A Washington message reports that the suggestion that the extension of the Lausanne Conference should include a discussion on world commerce is being favourably received there.

It is known that President Hoover favours an international conference for this purpose, says the "Daily Telegraph".

If such a programme is introduced at Lausanne it may mean the participation of America in the Conference on the grounds of "international emergency."

Nothing is to be done officially, however, until the Congress has balanced its budget.

We are specialising South American peaches on Saturday; - not the kind of peach shown above because they don't pack them in tins - but an edible peach, also very palatable. In fact they are so far ahead of the usual tinned peach from South America that, taking price into consideration, you will realise that they compare favourably with the better class English and American fruits.

Try them - and You'll wish You'd bought more,

A schoolmaster was trying to explain the word "widower" to his class. "What would you call a man who had just lost his wife?" he asked. "Very careless," was the reply of a bright boy.

A very dear old lady went to live near one of our big naval ports, and shortly afterwards a battleship fired a salute of ten guns. The old lady, who lived alone, got out of her chair, smoothed down her dress, patted her hair, and said sweetly, "Come in."

THE SITUATION IN INDIA.

Bombay Riots.

The situation in India during the past week was reviewed on Monday by Sir Samuel Hoare, Secretary for India, in answer to a Commons question.

As regards the Civil Disobedience Movement there had been little change. During the week there was communal rioting in Bombay City. The latest information is to the effect that the position is still unsatisfactory. The affected areas are being patrolled by the military. The transfer of troops brought into the City has been suspended and a number of motor patrols have been added to those already on service.

JAPANESE WORKMEN IN DISTRESS.

A Reuter message from Tokio reports that nearly 100,000 Japanese workmen are now unable to draw wages due to them, owing to business depression. In many cases the owners of the mines, and factories where they work cannot even pay back the men's savings which they banked with them.

The Home Office instituted a full enquiry into the matter which revealed that on April 1st, there were 838 mines and factories in arrears with the payment of wages or savings. It is said that 95 per cent of the defaulting factories are cotton mills.

The Home Office has taken stringent measures to compel the employers to pay the wages and savings due, where-over possible. Where it is not the directors are requested to make the necessary payments out of their private pockets.

NATAL IN SOUTH AFRICA.

The greatest political interest in South Africa centres on the Congress for the secession of Natal from the Union of South Africa, which is now sitting at Haritzburg. It represents what is regarded as the most important movement since the Union Convention concluded.

This movement which appears to have gained strength during the past three or four months is inspired by complaints concerning the attitude of the present Union Government towards Great Britain and the Empire, the language question and other grievances.

It is alleged that the partnership conditions under which Natal entered the Union, have been frequently violated.

CHILD SWALLOWS RADIUM NEEDLES.

An inquest held on an eight months' old child, says a message from London, revealed a flaw in the method of radium treatment, which, for years past, has been regarded as fool-proof.

The child swallowed three radium needles which were being applied in a plaque to the lips at the St. Ormond Street Children's Hospital. The needles were recovered after an operation but the child died sixteen days later from enteritis.

THE FREE STATES & OTTAWA.

It is understood that the Irish Free States will attend the Ottawa Conference at the invitation of the Canadian Government.

In making a statement in the House of Commons to this effect on Thursday, Mr. J.H. COAL RESTRICTIONS.

Replying to Parliamentary questions regarding coal restrictions, Mr. Colville, the Secretary of the Overseas Trade Department, said in the Commons on Thursday, that a reply had been received from the German Government to representations respecting discrimination against Britain in their quota, which could not be considered satisfactory, that they had now made certain new proposals which were under consideration. Representations had also been made to the French Government.

THE GERMAN CABINET.

A message from Berlin reports that the new Von Papen Cabinet was sworn in on Thursday and had its first meeting. The dissolution of the present Reichstag is expected to take place within the next few days.

Count Schwerin von Krosigk becomes the Minister of Finance. The only alteration to the Daily Telegraph forecast on Thursday is that Kerr Guertner becomes the Minister of Justice instead of Dr. Joel.

While Schleicher remains the dominating influence there will be no fascist march on Berlin. If the "Brown Shirts" are tolerated it will be only as a valuable fighting unit.

According to the Frankfurter Zeitung, the Schleicher junta believe that in the election under their auspices Hitler will lose his adherents. Further, they believe that the centre party will gradually become more accommodating.

But if these calculations prove false and the Hitlerites are returned in the Reichstag with an absolute majority, or if the centre party refused to coalesce in the Cabinet, then the Schleicher dictatorship is likely to become open instead of a disguised one.

Surprising Race Won By "April 5th".

The race for the Derby Stakes was run at Epsom on Wednesday in perfect weather and in the presence of an immense crowd.

The King, the Queen, the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York, Prince George and Princess Royal with Lord Harwood, watched the race from the Royal Stand.

Orwell started favourite. Owing to heavy backing his price shortened to 5/4 before the race and his defeat caused a great surprise. Twenty-one horses ran.

The result was :- Tom Wall's April 5th was first at 100/6, the Aga Khan's Dastur second at 18/1 with Lord Roseberry's Miracle third at 100/9. The winner came in three-quarters of a length ahead of the second horse, while a short head separated Dastur and Miracle. Royal Dancer was fourth and Orwell came in ninth.

April 5th's sire was Craig-an-cran.

In the big Irish Swoopstake April 5th was drawn by an assistant to a pork butcher of Oxford market and when he received the news he was in the act of handing a pound of sausages to a customer.

Orwell, who so disappointed his backers, has been a hot favourite for weeks.

INTERESTING STATEMENT IN COMMONS.

An International Economic Conference ?

Exceptional interest was displayed in the House of Commons on Thursday in the reply given by the Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon, to a private notice question put by the leader of the Opposition, Mr. Lansbury.

Mr. Lansbury asked whether Sir John Simon could state the present position regarding an International Economic Conference which, according to the press, was favoured by the Government of the United States of America.

Sir John Simon said, "Within the last few days conversations have taken place between His Majesty's Government and the Government of the United States, on the suggestion that an International Economic Conference should be called to consider methods to stabilise world commodity prices."

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY PARADE.

Impressive Town Hall Ceremony.

His Majesty the King's Birthday was commemorated on Friday, the 3rd of June in a fitting manner in Stanley with a Grand Parade of the Defence Force, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, Wolf Cubs and Brownies in the Town Hall. There was a large number of people present to watch the impressive ceremony though, it was a matter for general regret that, owing to the uncertainty of the weather, it had been decided to hold the Parade indoors instead of on Government House Parade.

The parade was excellent in regard to strength and the soldierly appearance of the men was the subject of much appreciative comment. The Defence Force was under the command of Captain D.R. Watson, the following officers being on parade - Lt. H.G. Edmunds, Lt. S.H. Harding, 2nd Lt. F.A.W. Byron (Colour Officer), and 2nd Lt. A.I. Fleuret. The Scouts were under the charge of Mr. M.L. Frewin (Group Scoutmaster), the Wolf Cubs under that of Miss M.L. Reeve (Cubmistress), while Miss A. Felton (Assistant Commissioner) was the senior officer present of the Guides who were led by their Captain Miss B.L. Felton with the Brownies under the care of Miss J. Miller (Brown Owl) and Miss P. Turner (Acting Tawny Owl.)

At 11.0 o'clock, His Excellency arrived, accompanied by the Hon. J.M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary), Mr. G.R.L. Brown (Private Secretary), the Hon. L.W.H. Young, the Hon. G. Roberts and the Very Reverend the Dean.

His Excellency then inspected the Parade and, after three hearty cheers had been given for His Majesty the King, he expressed his great pleasure and said how proud he was of one and all.

At The Force Headquarters.

At the conclusion of the Parade the Governor and his staff visited the Defence Force Headquarters where His Majesty's health was toasted.

Captain Watson then addressed the company and stated how pleased he was with the men. It was not the number so much that mattered as the spirit with which they had turned out. He also expressed his appreciation of the honour done them by the Governor in coming to the Headquarters with his staff.

The War Medal.

Captain Watson then referred to the fact that no medal had been awarded to the members of the Volunteers who had been on active service at the beginning of the war. He said that the conditions under which they had served were arduous and that, in any case, they had simply done what they were told. He, himself, could see no reason why the medal should be withheld. He knew representations had been made in the matter by previous Governors, but he was going to ask their present Governor if he could not reopen the matter and do something for them.

In reply His Excellency expressed his pleasure at being with the Force that day and thanked Captain Watson, the officers and men, for the cordial welcome given him. He then sketched his own career from his early days and in greater detail gave an outline of the part taken by him during the war, including visits to France into the danger zone on official missions, special service in Russia and subsequently, as Captain of the Royal Munster Fusiliers, on recruit work in Ireland. Despite this, he went on to say, he, himself, had no medal and was, therefore, in the same position as themselves. He could not understand why he had not received the medal - nor why they had not had the medal - but he had always been told that was because he had not actually served overseas although, apparently, it was sufficient for a man to go over to France carrying despatches and remain perhaps but a few days in the country and be awarded the medal.

He would certainly look into the matter and do anything in his power to meet the desire expressed by Captain Watson on behalf of the 1914 men.

In the evening His Excellency held a dinner at Government House. The guests were : the Hon. J.M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary), Mr. G.R.L. Brown (Private Secretary) and Mrs. Brown, Captain C. Mrs. D.R. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Luxton, Lt. and Mrs. H.G. Edmunds, Lt. and Mrs. S.W. Harding, 2nd Lt. and Mrs. F.A.W. Byron, 2nd Lt. and Mrs. A.I. Fleuret with the Very Reverend the Dean and Mrs. Lumsdale.

A GEORGE III HALF CROWN.

What is believed to be a George the III half-crown is in the possession of Mr. A. McLeod of Stanley whose wife made the find after he had been digging the garden recently.

When shifting a fence post Mr. McLeod noticed that he had turned over something hard and round in the soil but believing that it was the capsole of a bottle dismissed it without another thought.

The next morning he was surprised when Mrs. McLeod handed him the coin which she had noticed glittering in the sun - apparently the over-night rains had removed some of the dirt - while she was out in the garden.

Although there is still a lot of soil adhering to the coin, it is in excellent condition and the date "1818" is clearly distinguishable as is also the head of the monarch with the design on the reverse side.

NO. 2 TURN THE TABLES.

A Needle Point Game.

In ideal weather conditions, with only a slight south-west wind blowing, the large crowd of spectators on Government House Paddock on Sunday afternoon witnessed what was perhaps the best inter-Platoon League game played since this competition was started last season. While, perhaps it would be too much to state that No. 2 sprang a surprise they certainly exhibited a form that hardly their most sanguine supporter could have credited; nevertheless it was there and they beat No. 3, who went down with colours flying, by a superior display in a needle point game.

The opening goals for both sides were, perhaps, more opportune than brilliant. No. 3 scored the first point as a result of the ball bounding off Grierson while the Two's goal-keeper was trying to clear. The equaliser came shortly afterwards from a moola in front of the goal at the other end of the field when Bonner dashed in from the wing and gave Coleman no chance. Shortly afterwards No. 2's goal had a narrow escape when the keeper was beaten but W. Summers filled the breach and cleared the ball practically on the goal line. From an attack on the right wing the "Green 'Uns" took the lead with a goal scored by Sullivan, but this was short-lived for after admirable combination among the inside forwards of the opposing team, Grierson retaliated and shot an excellent goal, making the score 2 - 2. Backwards and forwards the ball passed, from wing to wing, and the game increased in excitement. Pike engineered another opening on the right and J. Gleadell sent a rasper past "Threes" goalkeeper with the precision and fatality of one of his bulls-eyes on the ranges.

What would happen in the second half was completely a matter of conjecture and had to be left in the laps of the Gods. No. 3 were determined to retain an unbeaten face while No. 2 were just as adamant in retaining their lead. Both centre halves worked skillfully and every man on both sides strained himself to the utmost. The ball was never still and both goal-keepers had plenty of work to do, providing the spectators with hair standing alarms. However, neither citadel fell again and the game ended with the score 3 - 2 in No. 2's favour.

The winners forwards, when they got the ball showed great life and fully deserved their goals while the defence towards the end of the game held the fort nobly. No. 3's forwards also showed tremendous dash but somehow they failed to finish off their attacks; with a little more alacrity they might have doubled their score. Coleman usually contrived to be where he was required and the backs worked hard to a man.

The referee was Mr. J.D. Croamer.

DOMINIONS & WAR SECRETARIES

VISIT TO DUBLIN.

De Valera's Invitation.

Lord Hailsham, the Secretary for War, and Mr. J.H. Thomas, Secretary for the Dominions, crossed the Irish Channel on Monday night, and on the invitation of Mr. De Valera will discuss the difficulties relating to the negotiations at the Ottawa Conference.

The invitation was received in London through the High Commissioner for the Irish Free State.

Mr. Thomas stated in the House of Commons on Monday that as a result of the invitation he and his colleague, Lord Hailsham, proposed crossing to Dublin that evening. Mr. de Valera had agreed to resume the conversations in London on Friday. Mr. Thomas's statement created much interest.

Replying to supplementary questions Mr. Thomas said that the Government had received intimation from de Valera that he desired consultation on the difficulties arising out of the statement repeatedly made in the House of Commons that further negotiations either in London or Ottawa, were impossible while the Free State adopted its present attitude. The Government had frequently stated that they were not opposed to any discussion and as de Valera had intimated a desire for such a discussion, the Government felt - rightly, in his judgment - that they had no alternative but to accept.

ATLANTIC AIR LINE THROUGH ARCTIC.

Ski And Sky.

Details of an attempt to blaze a new Empire air route from Britain to Canada, and, incidentally, to make the first solo flight from east to west across the Atlantic, have been unfolded by Mr. Gray of Toronto.

Mr. Gray who is thirty-eight, is a native of Kirn, Argyllshire, He will use one of the smallest machines in the world for his flight, which, weather permitting, will start at the end of this month.

"My route will be from Howar, in the north of Scotland," he said, "through the Faroes, Iceland, Greenland, Baffin's Land, Quebec Province to Toronto and New York. - 4,065 miles in eight or more hops.

"I am having both wheels and skis fitted to the machine, and in case of emergency I should cut down the aeroplane skis and use them on my feet.

"The longest part of my flight will be down the Labrador coast, In a plateau in the heart of Northern Quebec a second 'plane is coming to meet me with fuel, and the pilot will camp on the spot and send up smoke signals until I arrive.

"I see no reason why, with a relay system of fast 'planes, a regular service could not be run on this route, doing the journey in two and a half days. This would mean using beam wireless during blind flying, but most of the trip could be made above the snowfalls.

SAIL-ER MEN DELAYED.

"It is grotesque that nearly every other maritime nation should insist on some training in sailing ships for its mercantile marine officers. Britain, who depends more on the sea than any other nation, has no sailing ship for such a purpose."

This declaration in effect has been made to a press representative by Sir William Garthwaite, one time owner of the famous fleet of "Garths" sailing ships, who is now endeavouring to provide opportunities for the training he regards as essential through the Sea Lion Training Ship Society.

ONCE IN A 1,000 YEARS.

Treachery Of Tame Beast.

How little trust can be placed in "tame" jungle animals has been made clear at a Manchester inquest on Captain D. Purchase, a circus tamer aged fifty-four years, who has died on wounds inflicted when a lion mauled him. He was on the point of slipping through the escape when a pet lion, aged four, which he stopped to pat, seized him by his wooden leg, threw him down, and began to bite his neck. At the inquest it was said that such a display on the part of an animal would not happen once in a thousand years.

GLASS TO WOOL.

Irish City's Industrial Prospects.

Waterford, once famous for its exquisite glass and, more recently for its export trade in Irish livestock and food-stuffs, may presently find in woollens a new avenue to increased prosperity.

It is stated that an important English woollen firm has been making enquiries as to factory accommodation in Waterford.

If the plan matures it is proposed to import some £20,000 worth of manufacturing plant and to send from Yorkshire the managers, departmental heads and technical experts necessary to set the factory going.

It is stated in official quarters that while industrial developments likely to compete with existing Irish industries are not too warmly encouraged, schemes that will provide further employment for Irish workers will be afforded all reasonable facilities.

De Valera refused to compromise on the three main points which were : 1 Determination to proceed with the Bill for Abolishing the Oath; 2 Refusal to pay Britain Land Annuities; 3 The Incorporation of Ulster in the Free State.

Owing to the breakdown in the negotiations the British Government have now no alternative but to refuse to enter into further agreements says the Daily Telegraph.

No. 2. FALL.

In Sunday's Inter-Platoon match No. 1 took the glamour out of No. 2's victory over the "Threes" the previous week, by beating them decisively to the tune of 5 - 3. Sporting circles argued loud and long over what the outcome of this latest contest would be and there seemed to be a general feeling that if No. 2 maintained their form, No. 1 would be keeping, at least for a little while longer, their position at the bottom of the League. But the unexpected happened, and while No. 1 did not exhibit a sparkling display, in their effort to checkmate the opposing "dark horse", the "Twos" failed to show that co-ordination, dash and precision which gained for them their popular victory against the "Threes."

The result of the match on Sunday, 5 - 3, was a fair reflection on the comparative merits of the elevens and though the game was not outstanding to any degree, from the point of view of team work, the individual rushes of the winners' first line gave them the vital advantage over the apparent sluggishness of the opposing defence. Throughout the game the "Twos" could not get rid of that unsettled atmosphere which tended to arrest movements seemingly full of every promise. There is no doubt that the "Ones" owed their success mainly to the continuous onslaught of "Pop" and his inside men, and to the failure of the opposing defenders to stop their progress. On the other hand, the "Twos" forwards did not shine as might have been expected and the ball was not distributed sufficiently to upset the stolid opposition of Litheridge and Pallini at back.

The weather was dull, and the slippery ground certainly mitigated against brilliant episodes, these being conspicuous by their absence until practically the last ten minutes of the game, when, curiously enough, excitement became intense despite the fact that the light was failing fast. The "Ones" were leading 2 - 4 at this period when Jim Cleadell, of whom more might have been seen, scored another of his bulls-eye goals. But this endeavour to bring the game to an even end was short lived; the "Twos" had the mortification of seeing their citadel fall again as a result of a well-placed shot from L. Sedgwick who sent the ball neatly between the posts, just inside the upright.

The score at half time was 2 - 1 in the "Ones" favour. Aldridge opened the account with a lightning run through shortly after the start. For a long time the "Twos" tried to equalise but it was not until O'Sullivan managed to elude Coleman that they were successful. But as a result of another lightning effort by Aldridge Williams gave last year's champions the lead again.

In the second half a number of dangerous onslaughts characterised the opening stages of the play but these lacked the finish to turn them to account. The "Ones" made their lead more certain by another goal from Aldridge but this was reduced by O'Sullivan again from a free kick and hope began, once more to spring in the breasts of the Greens supporters, only to sink down again when Pop shot his third and the side's fourth goal. Enthusiasm up to this point had not been white hot but the crowd began to find its lungs when Cleadell scored his goal and up to the time Sedgwick retaliated for the winners, excitement was intense.

Otherwise his play was faultless and he only came to grief when tackling a difficult cannon in which one ball was in baulk and the other practically on the cushion at the opposite end of the table.

TEAL INLET - THE MAGIC LAND.

A Glorious Week Of Revelry.

Once again the Spirit of Carnival was abroad in the North Camp, this time choosing Teal Inlet as his base of operations. On the night of May 24th, a throng of merry folk gathered at the Cook-house at the request of the men of Teal Inlet.

Nearly the whole of the population of Douglas Station and Salvador were present - straining the capacity of the quarters to the utmost.

The weather was cold but that did not chill the spirits of the strangers who had come from tropical lands to visit our Island.

Among them were two fascinating little ladies from the South Sea Islands, dressed in abbreviated grass skirts and bright garlands of flowers, several ladies of the harem, a veiled Bluebeard's wife, two Eastern dancers, a vivacious Lido Lady, a pretty Japanese girl, a tall and graceful maiden representing Wild Flowers - all these joined in the merry march together with a very hairy Trotsky, a Balloon Man, several Harlequins and a very animated Christmas Cracker. A Gypsy was ready to tell fortunes but perhaps the strangest visitor was a very mischievous monkey who capered about in great glee and seemed very inquisitive about the prettiest girls.

An Indian Squaw had come in from the Reservation in Arizona, a peasant from Portugal, three Cowboys from the wild and woolly West, while the Blue Bird of Happiness fluttered amongst the throng and surely she accomplished her mission well that night.

It was strange to see a lady's handbag dancing in such a graceful way. A fish wife from Sunny Spain had strayed a long way from home but was accompanied by a very efficient chaperone - an aged lady with snow white hair and a long flowing skirt from under which peeped, I am sorry to say, very decided men's boots - something fishy about that couple!

The Queen of Night was seen conversing with a most pleasing Vanity Fair and several Pollies, Pierettes and pierrots stripped the light fantastic toe with the best of them. Even a most delightful doll, complete with box and a label "I walk and talk" marched in the procession. Perhaps Father Christmas brought it as he was present in his red gown.

A Sailor from H.M.S. "Durban" and a much smaller replica, a Red Indian, a diminutive but very fierce cowboy with two pistols, a little girl with long plaits, sunbonnet and voluminous white skirts, a little girl in an old fashioned dress and pantalottes - our old friend Johnnie Walker - really we could not mention all the personages who had come to Teal Inlet that winter's night. It was a very lucky thing that a band of nine musical instruments was available to play for them; but such was the case.

There were so many perfect costumes that when voting time came it was very difficult. When at last the votes were counted the prizes which were given by Mrs. Nelson were presented by her to :

- 1st Miss Marjorie Fleuret (Wild Flowers.)
- 2nd Miss Grace Perry (South Sea Islands Girl.)
- 1st Mr. Henry Newing (Old Lady.)
- 2nd Mr. Jack Halliday (Monkey.)

The Spirit of Carnival stayed only one night but that of Holiday took its place for the rest of the week. For four nights the people of the three Stations made merry until the small hours of the morning. One night the dancers stayed until six o'clock and one lady was heard to say that the only reason why she did not remain until seven was because the dancing stopped!

"LITTLE JACK HORNBER SAT IN A CORNER."

Why do you think he sat there ?

Well, you see, he had a bottle of Johnnie Walker and he knew that if any of the others found that it was Johnnie Walker, he'd get no peace until he'd passed the bottle round. 'That,' he said, 'is a waste of good whiskey.'

A big fish bit a man in the face the other day, it is reported, because he was watching its antics with bated breath.

An expert says a golfer's individuality shows most in his putting. Or in his remarks as he continues putting.

The school master had been explaining that an anecdote was a "short tale", and asked his pupils to write out a sentence bringing in the word and its meaning. One boy wrote "The rabbit is a small animal with four legs and an anecdote."

"The question that troubles me," said the amateur poultry-keeper, "is whether, when a hen cackles, it is laying or lying."

On Friday night a whist drive preceded the dancing. Mr. J. Howitt won the 1st Gentlemen's prize and Mrs. R. Runbolds, the Ladies' first prize. Several guests kindly sang songs and Mr. A. Watson of Salvador made a speech thanking Teal Inlet for its hospitality. Three cheers were given for Mr. and Mrs. Folton who both thought that, instead of receiving them they should have given them to the people who had organised the entertainments and carried them out so well.

Cheers were then exchanged between the guests and the hosts; Auld Lang Syne was sung and regret expressed that a very happy week had come to an end.

On Saturday and Sunday many groups of riders departed and a very full boat-load went over the water to Salvador leaving Teal Inlet very desolate.

All declared it was the happiest May Week they had spent and hoped such gatherings might become a permanent feature of North Camp life.

THE OTTAWA CONFERENCE.

The consultations between the Canadian Government and other Governments to be represented at Ottawa are not yet complete but the Dominions' Secretary, Mr. J.H. Thomas, stated in the House of Commons on Monday that during the debate this coming Friday all the information available will be given.

Mr. Thomas was asked whether, as a result of the recent conversations with the members of the Irish Free State Government, it was now proposed to conduct further negotiations in preparation for Ottawa.

He had nothing to add to the official communique issued on Friday last except that he understood that it was likely further communications would be received from the President of the Executive Council of the Irish Free State after he had had the opportunity of discussion with his colleagues.

SHANGHAI ROUND-TABLE CONFERENCE.

A London message reports that surprise has been caused in diplomatic circles by a concerted demand to the Powers' Ambassadors at Shanghai for the purpose of postponing the Shanghai Round-Table Conference.

The reason given for this move is that the Japanese Government desires to exclude China from fully fledged representation and the insistence of America on Chinese participation on an equal footing with the other Powers.

There is also a fear that China, if a member of the Conference, would raise the question of Manchuria thereby provoking a further sharp controversy between America and Japan.

CHICAGO REACTION NOMINATIONS.

Prohibition Question.

The re-nomination of President Hoover in the Republican National Convention at Chicago is a foregone conclusion, but an extensive fight is expected on the question of prohibition.

The dry leaders were alarmed when given to understand that they are likely to fail in obtaining the support of Hoover in resisting the growing sentiment on the question of prohibition being submitted again to the national electorate.

The probability of Senator Borah being unable to attend the Convention after his failure to secure support for the opposition's resubmission, from President Hoover, has also discouraged the prohibitionists.

ASSASSINATE ARRESTED.

Angelo Abardello, the would-be assassin of Mussolini, has made a full confession revealing that a plot has been matured in Brussels and Paris, while money to the extent of 2,485 lire has been provided through an agency the owner of which is believed to be a prominent member of the group of Anti-Fascists in London.

Abardello, who was "caught in the act", said that this was the first attempt he had made in an effort to assassinate Mussolini. The first was in October last year when the Duce failed to appear, the second was on April 1st when there were too many police about. On this, the third occasion, he was waiting for Mussolini outside the latter's house but was arrested.

THE SITUATION IN CHILE.

British Government's Action.

The grave view taken in Britain of the confiscatory measures outlined in the decrees of the new junta in Chile was expressed on Tuesday in the House of Commons by the Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Japt. Eden, in reply to parliamentary questions.

He said that the President Monteros Government was overthrown on the 4th of June, as a result of a coup d'etat by the Air Force and the Army, and had been replaced by a junta of three persons who had appointed a Cabinet.

Decrees had been issued; firstly, declaring the Central Bank to be the State Bank, retiring the shares of Chilean and foreign banks and private individuals at their nominal value and giving bonds in exchange; suppressing the directorate and arrogating complete control to the junta; and secondly, similarly taking over all foreign currency deposits in all banks.

The Under Secretary went on to say "His Majesty's Government have not entered into official relations with the present Government of Chile, but the Chagge d'Affaires has been instructed to inform them that His Majesty's Government takes a most serious view of these confiscatory measures and if they are carried through, will strongly support a demand for full compensation for the British interests affected."

The British cruiser Durban, attached to the America and West Indies Squadron, and flying the broad pennant of Commodore Lane-Poole, is proceeding to Callao, Peru, in order to be ready in case of need, for the protection of British interests in Chile.

PRESENTATION TO MR. E. E. FREWIN.

Stanley Scouts

Mark Of Appreciation & Remembrance.

Mr. E. E. Frewin, the Groupmaster of the Stanley Troop of Boy Scouts, was the subject of a touching tribute at the weekly meeting held at the Headquarters on Thursday when the Hon. J. M. Ellis (Chairman of the Local Association), who, was accompanied by Mr. W. Barlas, paid a surprise visit and presented him with a handsome Toilet Case on behalf of the Troop. The Very Reverend the Dean and Mr. Thomas were also present.

The presentation which came as a complete surprise to Mr. Frewin, was made at the conclusion of one of the usual Patrol competitions.

Mr. Ellis, in addressing the boys, said that activities in the Scout Movement were rather dead when Mr. Frewin arrived in Stanley but he put his heart and soul into the work of reviving it and, as a result, it was now a really live body with twenty-eight scouts in the Troop. Although their present flourishing condition was partly due to themselves, it was primarily due to the man who led them - their Scoutmaster.

In a small way the Local Association of which he was the Chairman, and the Dean and Mr. Thomas members, had done all they could to thank Mr. Frewin and to recognise his work and perpetuate his memory; they had awarded him the greatest mark of appreciation that one Scout could bestow on another - the Thanks Badge in the form of a gold Swastika - and they had also recommended to Imperial Headquarters that he should be awarded the very prized distinction of the Medal of Merit for his Scout Work in Stanley.

But he was delighted when, that morning, one of the boys told him that the Scouts wished, themselves, to express their respect and affection for Mr. Frewin in a lasting form and so, on behalf of the Troop, he would ask their Scoutmaster to accept a handsome Toilet Case inside of which was the inscription - "To Mr. Frewin, as a mark of appreciation and remembrance of many happy hours spent together, wishing him the best of luck, from the Troop."

Mr. Frewin who was overwhelmed by so warm a token replied feelingly and thanked the Troop from the bottom of his heart for the appreciation they had shown him for the small amount of work he had done. He feared he had not accomplished the ideals he had set himself when he first came to the Falklands but that did not matter so long as they saw clearly the ideals for which they were striving and finally achieved them.

He was sure there was nothing better or more worthy the effort than striving for the goal of world peace and happiness through the Brotherhood of Scouts.

In conclusion he thought there could be nothing more fitting than to honour Mr. Ellis with the "terrible cry" they had learnt and which had been taken from the war cries of the African natives among whom their Chief - Lord Baden Powell - had spent so many years teaching them the ways of the white man and civilisation.

With a deafening shout the Troop then gave their War Whoop - "SHEE. A. N. L. E. Y.. Stanley, Stanley. The first, the last, the best. Yah!"

May the "Penguin" also add this tribute in appreciation of Mr. Frewin's sterling work for the boys of Stanley and with them wish him every happiness and prosperity in his future life and pleasant memories of his Scouting Days in the Falklands.

HEROES OF THE STORM.

Two members of Lymeouth (Devon) lifeboat crew, who are retiring, took part in what was, perhaps, the most heroic task ever performed by lifeboatmen.

They are Messrs Richards and R. Burgess. Both were present in the memorable launch of the lifeboat "Louisa" from Porlock Weir. The lifeboat on its carriage was hauled over Countisbury Hill, 1,300 feet high, in a raging storm, and in being lowered down Porlock Hill had to be taken across a field. THE SITUATION IN CHILE.

From a statement emanating from Santiago it is stated that British Subjects who had made arrangements for leaving Chile fearing the results of a revolution have now decided to remain in view of the success of a Moderate Revolutionary Party, under Don Carlos Davila, which is keeping a firm hand on the Communists.

According to the Newspaper "La Prensa" Ex-President Ibanez is returning by aeroplane to Chile from Mendoza on Sunday.

From New York it is learned that strict censorship is being observed in regard to the political situation in Chile, but it appears that the greater part of the Air Force and Navy has remained loyal - However, the Railway workers have "Struck" and the train service is being maintained by the Army.

The main streets of Santiago, and the Palace, are being heavily guarded by Machine Gun Sections.

AMERICA.

In a message from New York General Dawes voiced his belief that America's tide of depression was on the ebb.

The Trade records had shown that the Country was more active as regards business than for many weeks.

He stated that his recent position of President of the Finance Reconstruction Corporation had enabled him to observe an improvement in the sales of the smaller businesses. It is further stated that Wall Street does not share his opinions, but is inclined to think that the improvement in retail sales is due to the flurry of orders in anticipation of the increased Government taxes which are to become effective this week.

COURT LIKE A SHOP.

A Long table was loaded with groceries, dresses, shoes, and a variety of other articles, which it is alleged had been stolen.

The Prosecutor said that the two women went shopping, carrying a large bag. They purchased a small article for a penny or so, and then proceeded to steal all the articles they could lay their hands upon.

Each woman was sentenced to six months hard labour, and ordered to pay £25 each or an extra three months in lieu.

DICKENS'S DOG.

"This is the grave of Mrs Bounce, the best, the most faithful and most loving of all dogs. Born November 5th, 1869, died August 9th, 1875 Her happy life was passed with the exception of the last four years at Gadshill Place, Higham by Rochester."

SPECIAL BROADCAST FROM S.S. "LAFONIA"

Stanley Listeners last night were delighted with the clarity and excellence of the programme broadcast by the S.S. "Lafonia". We feel sure that we are voicing the opinion of all Stanley residents when we say that every credit is due to Mr. Norman McLeod, the Wireless Operator of the "Lafonia", for his delightful programme, and to the Local Broadcasting Staff for the manner in which it was received and relayed.

One of the features of the broadcast was Mr. Prewin's farewell speech - In the course of his remarks he said he could not allow the opportunity to pass without again thanking those who had presented him with souvenirs of his stay, and with expressions of goodwill. The day of his arrival in Stanley was marked by heavy rain and he did not then realise that he would develop a love for the Islands, but however, he was leaving the Falklands and many friends in all spheres of life with much regret. He would like to thank them all individually for their kindness to him but as that was impossible he hoped they would accept his expression of gratitude collectively. Continuing, Mr Prewin said he would especially like to mention "The Crowd", that is to say the Boy Scouts, for their presence on the East Jetty to give him such a rousing "Send off".

At the time of broadcasting the "Lafonia" was 30 miles North of the Lighthouse experiencing a North Easterly wind with a heavy swell. Later information received indicates that she is now in good weather.

STANLEY ROVER SEA SCOUTS.

We have been asked by several residents to publish for the information of the public generally some particulars regarding the aims of the local troop of Rover Sea Scouts.

It would appear from information furnished to us, that the organisation, in the first place, was brought into being to provide profitable occupation, during their leisure hours, for youths of 18 years of age or thereabout who have at some time or other been members of the scout movement; but it is necessary to explain that past membership is not essential for enrolment in the present instance.

It is intended to train the lads in the art of seamanship, rowing, sailing etc., and to provide them with sufficient knowledge of fire drill and fire fighting appliances to enable them to assist the Local Fire Brigade should the occasion arise.

As is usual in these cases finance plays a large part in making its activities successful, and with this view in mind it is proposed to form the nucleus of a Fund from the proceeds of a Dance which is to be held in the Church Hall on Friday next the 24th June.

Notices advertising this Dance have been placed in prominent positions in the Town, and we are asked to extend a cordial invitation to the Public to attend, and thus aid so deserving a cause.

From Greenland's icy mountains comes the news of further trouble with the Danish/Norwegian fishing community. The North Greenland Council has telegraphed the Danish Government on the lines of an energetic protest against the penetration of the Country by Norwegians, and particularly against the methods they employ in whale and seal fishing.

It is asserted that if the present rate of ruthless slaughter is maintained there is grave danger of the extinction of these two valuable animals in Greenland seas.

So ruthless has been the slaughter, it is alleged, that the inhabitants of Greenland find themselves in great difficulties in providing sufficient clothes and food for themselves.

The body of the girl was found in the Woods near her home, two days after she had been reported missing.

When Read was arrested, says Reuters, the indignation of the people was such that the Sheriff had to intervene several times to prevent a lynching.

The Governor of the Gaol says that at first he refused to give up the keys to the mob, but finally surrendered them when they commenced to batter the walls with telegraph poles.

THE NEW DISCOVERY OF DR. LEAKE.

Arising from a News item in Wednesday's "Penguin" a resident of Stanley has contributed the following article, which we feel sure will prove of interest to our readers :

During the last ten years much progress has been made in discovering relics of ancient man. Kenya is considered by Sir Arthur Keith to be the "key position" for discovery. There was found the "Oldaway" man - He is a relic of the Pleistocene age - This age was from 200,000 B.C. to 100,000 B.C. and lasted 100,000 years. Much could develop in such a period. The "Oldaway" dates from the early Chollian times. This was during the 80,000 years between 200,000 B.C. and 120,000 B.C. That was as much as Sir Arthur Keith would say in 1931.

The new discovery on Lake Victoria being one step further back than Oldaway would still be early Chollian, that is between the ice age of Gunz and the ice age of Mendel. He is described as Modern because a crude civilisation and organisation of life and means of life had begun to show. He could not be called civilised but the germs of order were beginning to show.

There have been other discoveries of the first man that would take us back possibly 1,000,000 years. Pithecanthropus, the erect man ape, who could walk and talk - found in Java. Early this Century a relic of a man of this period was found in Sussex, called the Piltdown man. The London Skull found at London Wall about 20 years ago would be a relic of the same period.

Sir Arthur Keith claims these last two are the early ancestors of Modern Man. The most ancient relic does not date back beyond a million years; and the remains in question would be about 200,000 B.C.-120,000 B.C. with a preference for the earlier date.

Keith in his latest lectures (1931) improving on those of 1924 states that the relics are not negro but the fore-runner of the black woolley haired type.

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE.

Important conversations were continued yesterday between Delegates to Reparations and Disarmament Conference at Lausanne, which were centred in an interview between British and French Prime Ministers which lasted two hours. Later French Minister of Finance had a long conversation with the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, and Mr. Walter Runciman, and all three then joined Mr. Ramsay McDonald and M. Herriot. A communique was later issued which stated that conversations between British and French Delegations had continued in a useful and friendly way. They have been suspended in order that the French and German Delegations might have an opportunity of consulting each other. Reports from Lausanne state that Mr. Ramsay McDonald and M. Herriot have reached a tentative agreement on four questions of principle in regard to Reparations, (1) Solution must be final, (2) It must result in a revival of World confidence, (3) Germany must not be asked to pay now or during the period of her recovery, (4) If payments are resumed they must be of such nature as not to upset normal Commercial interchange. It is further reported that French and German Delegates will open discussions on basis of these points immediately. The proposals of President Hoover are being embodied in the conversations which are taking place.

INQUEST.

The second sitting of the Inquest on the death of the late Mr. William McPherson, adjourned from Thursday the 16th June, was opened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and with an interval for lunch continued until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. It is expected that the Enquiry will be completed at the Sitting opening at 10 a.m. today.

The witnesses examined yesterday were Mr. A.H. Hills, and Mr. DeLoche, both of whom gave evidence at the previous sitting; Mr. Norman Kenney, Mr. James Clarke, Mr. Louis Richards, and Mr. Richard Wallin. This concludes the evidence of those actually present at the accident.

Before the commencement of the proceedings yesterday Captain D.R. Watson asked leave to represent the family, which permission the Court granted.

FOOTBALL.

During the last year or two local interest in the Football Association League and Cup Competitions has been intensified - Admittedly, mainly through the medium of "Swoops" - and such names as "Villa" "Arsenal" Grimsby and "Brom" are almost household words in Stanley nowadays. No doubt many of our readers would like to know more about the teams which week by week during the season "They draw out of the hat", and upon which they place (or misplace) high hopes. We therefore propose to devote a little space week by week to this subject, and cannot do better than start the ball rolling with the great and glorious Club - Notts County.

To Notts County falls the honour of being the oldest Football League Club in the World, for it was founded in the year 1862, and in 1893 entered the Second Division of the English League. Success crowned their entry into this exalted sphere, for in their very first season The "Magpies" (So called because of their black and white striped jerseys) won the English Cup by defeating Bolton Wanderers by 4 goals to 1, at Goodwin Park on the 31st March, 1894,

Two years later they gained promotion to the 1st Division of the League. Their activities in the "Select Circle" were somewhat short lived, but in 1913 they again earned promotion by winning the Championship of the 2nd Division.

During the Great War the Football Competition was suspended, and on the resumption of the League's activities in 1919, in common with other Clubs, Notts County had difficulty in building a side fit to combat the giants of the 1st Division, consequently they had a sorry time of it after the War, and accompanied Sheffield Wednesday they descended to the 3rd Division, only to gain promotion once more in 1922. Since then they have gone down the Scale even as far as the Northern Section of Division 3, but returned to Division 2 in 1931. Thus Notts County can be said to have had their "Ups and downs", always either fighting for promotion or striving to avoid the "wooden spoon". Anyway, those who have flocked to Meadow Lane Ground, overlooking the silvery Trent at Nottingham, can say for surety that they have had their money's worth of excitement during these struggles. RECOVERY OF GOLD FROM THE LINER "EGYPT"

On Thursday a further consignment of gold was recovered from the steering room of the liner Egypt. Forty bars valued at £256,000 were raised to the surface together with 1249 sovereigns, making the total now recovered nearly £500,000. Already the load of gold on board the Salvage ship "Artiglio" is more than sufficient reward for the protracted salvage efforts.

With fine weather it is expected to recover the whole of the gold amounting to over £1,000,000 within a month. The proportion due to the Italian Salvage Corporation is believed to be 62½%. Lloyds, The Underwriters, owing to the higher price of gold may receive 50% of the amount underwritten.

INQUEST ON THE LATE MR. McPHERSON.

CROWDED COURT.

The Court was crowded and the long sitting lasted from 10 in the morning to 9 in the evening, with a brief interval only for lunch. Mr. W.J. Allan was Foreman of the Jury, and Captain D.R. Watson was present to represent the relatives. Mr. A.J. Barnes, Mr. H.J. Bonner, Mr. J.S. Barnes, The Honourable George Roberts, Director of Public Works, Mr. T. Waghorn, and Mr. T. Hannah, (Sr) gave evidence centring on the question of instructions given to the Deceased in the work of blasting, the reliability of chilled gelignite, and broken cartridges from the point of view of safety and the methods in practice for the issue of cartridges and detonators..

THE SUMMING UP.

At the commencement of his summing up, the Coroner, The Hon. G.R.L. Brown, expressed on behalf of the Court a very deep and sincere sympathy with Mr. McPherson's relatives and friends, in which, he said, the Gentlemen of the Jury must wish to be associated.

As to the cause of the accident there had been no evidence on which they could form a definite conclusion. Why the charge went off at the time it did was a matter of conjecture and in all probability would always remain undiscovered. They might have many theories supported but by no means proved by any evidence they had been able to collect. The most probable explanation was percussion when the tapping rod was being used either by a hard substance in the bore or by a sudden unconscious jerk in the movements of Deceased. The possibility of cause from a chilled cartridge or a broken cartridge had been fully investigated. Whether or not chilled or broken cartridges were safe were matters on which they could not pass a definite opinion. On the one hand they had the evidence of witnesses who had experience of blasting in the Colony, and of another witness who had worked in an explosive factory in England that both were dangerous. On the other hand they had contrary evidence from the Director of Public Works formerly an Officer in the Admiralty Service (who had wide and varied experience in the use of G-lignite not only in the Colony, but in England and Gibraltar) as an explosive which he had operated with his own hands as fully and as individually as any workman. Furthermore he had personally demonstrated the use of the explosive in blasting to at least one of the men who has given an opposite opinion. Then there was the leaflet of instructions received with the gelignite. The Coroner admitted that these instructions might really be construed as confuting Mr. Roberts' opinion, but Mr Roberts' had given his explanation of the meaning of those instructions and that explanation they must accept, or else assume the knowledge of a higher authority than he was, that he thought none of the Gentlemen of the Jury would be so unwise as to do. Briefly these matters were, not matters on which they could be called upon to make a decision with the evidence at their disposal. As regards instructions there was no evidence to show that the Director of Public Works had any reason to believe otherwise than Deceased knew all about the handling of a charge of gelignite that should be known. There was evidence to show that the Deceased had instructed one man of his gang to press the charge home gently, and there was evidence to show that he himself did not always follow this advice. Deceased came to Mr. Roberts seeking employment. He was told he was expected to blast and he was given to understand that he was regarded as a man capable of blasting. It would be just the same in the case of a man given similar employment in a small quarry in an out of the way place at home. Mr. Faghorn's experience referred to a quarry near a populous district. The Deceased had his credentials in the form of the experience which the Director of Public Works knew he had had in blasting. In this case Mr. Roberts knew Deceased had charged and fired numerous shots and so far as could be ascertained he had no reason to doubt that Deceased would not carry out the work efficiently. What more could be expected of the Head of an active Department like the Public Works.

VERDICT.

The Jury retired at 8 o'clock and returned after an hours absence with the verdict "Death from Heart failure following shock sustained by an explosion of a charge of gelignite in the Government quarry on the 14th June, 1932, due to the lack of instructions and knowledge to carry out the dangerous work of blasting" and a Rider to the effect that in future trained men only should carry out all operations of charging and blasting, and that full precautions should be taken in general with explosives."

The Coroner stated that he disagreed with the Verdict as contrary to the information of Mr Kenny and Mr Hennah. The Jury again retired and returned with the verdict unaltered.

The Coroner in thanking the Jury for the vigorous and thorough way in which they had carried out the difficult and important task, and he would in duty bound record their verdict, but that he was sorry that they had not seen fit to abide by his direction. At the conclusion of the Proceedings Captain handed the following note to the Clerk of the Court: "I wish to express on behalf of the relatives of the late Mr. McPherson their appreciation of the manner in which this enquiry has been conducted, they are grateful for the permission so readily granted to me by the Court to represent them.

THE LATE MR. MCPHERSON.

Stanley,
26th June, 1932.

Sir,

Mr. Allan, Foreman of the Jury, has told me how sorry he felt at my saying that Mr. McPherson was foolhardy. I do not remember exactly what I said, but I remember using the word "Foolhardy". I explained to Mr. Allan that I did not use the word in any sense of disparagement to his general character. On the contrary I stated that I looked upon him as a very fine fellow. It is not in human nature to be ever fond of a very cautious man - rather the reverse. Though I did not know Mr. McPherson intimately I often admired his well built figure and frank and manly bearing. I should like other people to know this.

Yours etc.

(Sgd) G.R.L. Brown.

When the Italian Salvage ship "Artiglio" arrived at Plymouth on Sunday with the gold salvaged from "Egypt" a Chief Preventive Officer, acting on instructions from Admiralty, formally arrested the treasure. It is alleged the Italian Salvage Company's operations were based on his calculations, but the Company refuse to recognise the claim. The gold was guarded on Sunday night by Customs Officers, but it was hoped that permission would be granted on Monday to release it on Lloyd's Bond, the bullion will then be sent to London, and Artiglio will return for further salvage operations.
