NEWS IN BRIEF.

- London : A deputation from the Chambers of Commerce have laid suggestions before the Secretary of State for Air, the Marquis of Londonderry, for the improvement of the air mail services, stating that it was necessary to speed up night flying and to employ daily planes at a speed above 100 miles an hour.
- London : Owing to the change in the British Tariff policy the Empire Marketing Board is closed down as redundant.
- Bombay : A satisfactory operation has been performed on the Maharaja of Nepal's daughter-in-law by the "flying surgeons." It is understood that the chartering fee for the 6,000-mile aeroplane trip was £1,500 with high additional professional fees.

PRACTICE MATCH.

The Practice Match on the football field yesterday, which resulted in a draw of 1 - 1, was spoilt by the fairly high wind. The goals were obtained by D. O'Sullivan for the "B" Team and by D. Williams who put between the posts a fine corner kick by L. Aldridge for the "A" Team. Both points were obtained in the second half.

A BALKAN BLEND.

Commenting on the significance of the present movements of the smaller European States, the Daily Telegraph points out that developments are taking place which should make for an enduring peace with the possible formation of the much talked of "Balkan Union."

It is apparent that far reaching decisions have been reached at the Little Entente Conference which has just concluded at Sinaia, attended by the Jugo-Slavian and Czecho-Romanian monarchs and the Jugo-Slavia and Czecho-Slovak General Staffs.

The process of unification is proceeding with the possibility of extension to military affairs.

The Czech-Slovakian Foreign Minister Benes is shortly visiting Rome as the group's spokesman and the Roumanian Foreign Minister Titulesco is proceeding to Ankara in a similar capacity to confer with the Turkish Government.

Benes will discuss with Mussolini the Danube State's future and Titulesco is presumably seeking Turkish collaboration for the purpose of completing the pacification of South Eastern Europe, with a view to economic construction by a common effort including Hungary, Bulgaria and Greece.

REICHSTAG FIRE TRIAL DRAGS ON.

According to a message from Leipzig following on the admission of Vanderlubbe that he is guilty of firing the Reichstag and his refusal to explain his actions, his earlier confessions have been read.

These stated that the accused used fire-lighters after gaining admission by smashing the restaurant window. Many fires were started by lighting tablecloths and towels and placing them adjacent to combustible fittings. The task occupied twenty minutes after which he endeavoured to make his escape but he could not find an exit and was arrested in the Bismark Hall.

The court then adjourned until Wednesday but so far there has been no establishment of Vanderlubbe's connection with the Communist Party nor any light shed on the alleged "Terrorist Plot;" while there has been no evidence against the three Bulgarians and the Torgler case is vague.

DUKE OF ATHOLL'S PROJECT.

It is reported from London that the Duke of Atholl states that approximately 200,000 have responded to his appeal subsequent to the banned sweepstake project in aid of British Hospitals, adding that an apportionment would be based on the district response.

From Dublin it is learned that the Irish Hospitals Sweepstake on the Cambridgeshire would probably reach a figure over £3,000,000.

The Austrian Government has announced to press representatives that an internal lottery loan of approximately 300,000,000 schillings will shortly be issued.

IRISH CENSURE VOTE.

The Dail was again heavily guarded on Friday when McDermott's vote of censure was debated.

The Labour leader Norton indicated early in the proceedings that his party would support the Government thus ensuring success for de Valera.

McDermott in introducing the motion referred to the Public Safety Measure, which had been re-imposed, as an "act of appalling severity," and its present enforcement as "a ridiculous Guy Fawkes drama."

TANGANYIKA & THE LEAGUE.

The League Council met at Geneva on Thursday last to listen to an extensive report on the World Economic Conference. The report was read by the German delegate Von Keller. It was emphasised that the agreement which had been prepared by the Conference and which in the meantime had been concluded - at least as far as price levels, and what constituted the maximum of wheat supplies - could be accomplished under present conditions.

The Czecho-Slovakian delegate then read the report of the Mandates' Commission which disapproves of the British scheme for an administrative union between the Mandated territory of Tanganyika and the neighbouring British Colonies of Kenya and Uganda.

The German delegate expressed gratification at the position taken by the Commission and demanded that the plan for the administrative union should be definitely abandoned as incompatible with the conception of Mandates.

The President of Danzig, Dr Rauschnigg, gave a survey of the negotiations between Danzig and Poland which have resulted in the recent treaty concerning the sharing of Poland's maritime traffic between Danzig and the Polish Port Gdynia.

more 62/A of .us R 59101 MEMORIAL.

The moving ceremony at the unveiling of the R. 101 Memorial at Beauvais on Sunday was attended by the French Premier, M. Daladier, the British Premier, Mr Ramsay MacDonald, Lord Londonderry (British Minister of Air,) the Australian Air Commodore Williams and Lady Cobham with other notables and all the survivors of the disaster in which the Air Minister Lord Thomson, Sir Sefton Brancker, and forty-six others lost their lives in 1930.

The entire countryside assembled with a detachment of infantry, and Gendarmes' band and a detachment of the French Air Force.

M. Daladier referred to the "death met in an endeavour to blaze the British Empire trail" which "was the highest form of heroism," while Mr MacDonald in expressing the nation's thanks said that the memorial to those pioneers of progress would "have more influence and effect in creating a new understanding than scores of documents."

Simultaneously a memorial service was held at Cardington, Bedfordshire where the ill-fated airship was built, and this was attended by over fifty relatives and friends of the victims.

YESTERDAY'S POLICE COURT.

A £5 Fine.

In the Police Court yesterday morning Benjamin Browning was fined £5 - the maximum penalty - for supplying liquor to a prohibited person on the 30th of September last. The case was the sequel to a hearing the previous day when Thomas Robson, a prohibited person, was sentenced to one month's imprisonment for being under the influence of drink.

The accused pleaded guilty and the Magistrate, in imposing the fine said "I am compelled to sentence you to pay £5. If I do anything less than that I shall be doing less than my duty. It must be made quite clear that the law in this respect as regards the Black List must be obeyed, not only for the sake of public order and decency but particularly because it is doing untold harm to the person who gets the drink."

During the course of the case the Magistrate said that the section of the Ordinance No. 11 of 1882, under which the charge had been made read as follows : "Any person who sells, supplies or distributes intoxicating liquor to a prohibited person shall be liable to a penalty for the first offence not exceeding £5;" and then further, section 40 went on to say that "Any person convicted under this section on a second or subsequent conviction shall be liable to imprisonment not exceeding six months." These had been read out to the accused in order to bring home to him the serious nature of what he had done. No doubt he had no criminal intention at all but if he had thought about the matter he would have realised the seriousness of what he had been doing. The poor fellow in the court the previous day and to whom he had admitted supplying liquor, was in a terrible condition. He had been put on the Black List on the recommendation of a medical man who had said that alcohol was harmful and dangerous to him.

CHANCELLOR DOLLFUSS SHOT.

On Tuesday, Herr Dollfuss, the Austrian Chancellor was wounded in the arm and chest by two point blank shots fired by, it is alleged, an ex-soldier holding Nazi convictions, whilst he was walking through the Parliamentary Lobby.

Chancellor Dollfuss walked to his car after being shot and proceeded to hospital returning home shortly afterwards. The gunman was thrashed by spectators before being handed over to the police.

The Daily Telegraph correspondent states that the second shot of the would-be assassin entered Dollfuss's body two inches above the heart and was potentially a fatal shot but it was deflected by a waistcoat button, lodging against a rib and was easily extracted. He is expected to be out of his sick bed within two days and back at his office. His assailant is a twenty-two year old ex-corporal of the Austrian Army named Rudolf Dertil.

CAMP SOCIAL NEWS.

Gathering Of Neighbours At Douglas.

Two Nights Dancing.

(Contributed.)

What is Douglas Station's Talisman ? Assuming that thirteen is an unlucky number, then some counter charm worked great success on the nights of Friday and Saturday, the 22nd and 23rd of September, when dances were held in the dining room of the Cook-House - organised and given by thirteen of the Station's employees. Douglas, of course, is ideal for a North Camp gathering of neighbours. It is central, and the dancing space with the comfort of the men's quarters (thanks to the Farmhouse for the loan of sofas, easychairs, decorations and so on) is all that could be desired. On these two memorable occasions a representative number of people from Port San Carlos, Teal Inlet, San Carlos, San Salvador and Rincon Grande attended.

On Friday about 8.0 p.m. the first dance began and in less time than it takes to tell was in full swing; the dancers moving in rhythm with the happy lilt of the music.

At the first interval in the dancing a duet by Masters R. Stefansen and G. Clifton (accompanied on the accordion) was sung. These songsters "put their stuff over" like "old-stagers" without a nervous tremor in their young voices. A spontaneous burst of applause followed the last word of the song.

A. Tattoo On The "Timbers."

"Orchestra, on with the dance music !"

Orchestra ? Yes: and why not, with our collection of musical talent in the Camp ? Need we recourse to ready made music ? Certainly not ! No less than three violins, two mandolins, an accordion, a "saxophone," a ukalele and a drum - not to mention a certain Cook playing a tattoo on the "timbers" - keep us all merrily busy. However, the "Chef d'Orchestre" (Mr Allan Anderson) has dancing men in his band so he relieves them to do "their steps," while he, manipulating an accordion, is a complete band in himself; although he too is relieved by other well-known players of this favourite instrument to play special dance tunes.

At midnight refreshments, a glorious array of the baker's art, are partaken of, and Mesdames A. Noble, G. Short and A. Biggs deserve a word of praise on their excellent work. Recipes, we fear, will be in big demand from visitors. Albeit, Mr H. Biggs, among the first to see the set tables and wanting more than a pleasing memory picture, with the agility of a press-photographer, breezes off for his camera, returns - and flashes a light.

During this midnight interval Messrs Allan, Anderson, J. Butler and R. McKay each in turn entertain us with songs - jolly good songs and singers too.

Refreshed, the couples gaily gambol round the room on the "light fantastic toe." Here joins one who to show his appreciation and unbounded vim, swings his hands in an attempt to keep time with the dancers' feet. He continues thus unnoticed by the dancers so, to draw the M.C.'s attention, he claps his hands together just below his keyhole eye at 4.20 a.m.. The last dance is announced; danced - and so to bed.

Thursday, 5th October, 1933.

DOING THEIR "DAILY DOZEN."

This is an actuality and "no such stuff as dreams are made on" when we say that before 12.0 o'clock noon, Saturday, certain dancers of the early morn are seen doing their "daily dozen" over the Douglas Golf Course; and as the day advances to afternoon others of the not-quite-so-energetic type turn out to do their rounds. But times flies, and so

None o'clock sees us all back in the dance room and "on the floor" dancing just as joyfully as on the night before. At about 11.0 o'clock Mrs Greenshields proposed a toast to the newly-weds - Mr and Mrs Browning of Limpet Creek, who were among the visitors. The party then drank the couple's health; but, permit us to ask, did we see some of the young "bachelor" ladies put the portion of wedding cake served, carefully and guardedly aside? We wonder why!

At 11.55 (pip emma, please note) the M.C. announced - No. That would be a crammer, better just say the two dances combined, covered some sixteen hours.

All the world and his wife know (or should know) that Camp Dances are by way of variety more interesting and entertaining than the dances held in our Metropolis. We dance from the Patrone and Mazurka to the Scotch Dances; from the English Country Dances to the Fox Trot and Waltz. So, Stanley, a suggestion from a friendly Camper - Why not get a copy of a Camp Dance Programme, then have a dance and enjoy our pleasures.

AN AMERICAN KILLED IN CURA.

Over 500 people were injured in street fighting in Havana which became general on Monday following the opposing of the bombardment on the National Hotel where 400 officers opposed to the present regime are besieged.

Troops armed with rifles, machine guns and supported by artillery and armoured cars opened the attack but were met with a heavy return fire.

A truce was arranged for the evacuation of British and Americans from the danger zone and this was eventually achieved though one American spectator was killed by a ricochet bullet. The American Secretary of State, Mr Hull, is satisfied that the victim needlessly exposed himself.

The Daily Telegraph adds that shortly after the resumption of firing a white sheet was hoisted over the hotel as a token of surrender and it was learned subsequently that between 30 and 40 of the besieged officers had been killed and a large number wounded.

A BALKAN "LOCARNO."

The Daily Telegraph correspondent at Istanbul states that diplomatic interest on Wednesday centred on the arrival in the city of the Jugo-Slavian King and Queen - Alexander and Marie - who are paying an official visit to Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the Turkish President.

It is understood that the way is being prepared for a visit by M. Titulesco as the representative of the Little Entente, who consider the time ripe for a Balkan Locarno, and Alexander is presumed to be desirous of discussing the proposal with Kemal.

It is felt that if they are in agreement on the main terms of the proposed Pact its conclusion will be comparatively easy. All efforts to persuade Bulgaria to join the tri-partite agreement with Greece and Turkey have been unavailing but if the Pact is completed without her it is thought that she will eventually be obliged to join the neighbouring group of nations.

CHANCELLOR DOLLFUSS.

There are signs, states the Daily Telegraph correspondent in Vienna, that the attempted assassination of Dr Dollfuss is likely to usher in a fresh reign of Nazi terrorism throughout Austria and significance is attached to the statement issued from Munich - the headquarters of the fugitive "Nazi Commissar for Austria" Habicht - to the effect that the Nazi headquarters for Austria decline all responsibility for the new wave of violence which the Dollfuss policy is likely to cause in the near future.

The State Secretary for Security is insisting on the establishment of greater precautions for the protection of the Chancellor who continues to make favourable progress and is conducting his full day's business from his bed.

There is a strong official movement, supported by business associations for the re-introduction of the death penalty.

The President of the League of Nations and the Governments of Britain and France have sent telegrams congratulating the Chancellor on his escape while official circles in Germany deplore the attack.

From Geneva it is considered that had the attack been fatal a grave situation would have arisen in Europe but in the circumstances Dollfuss will enjoy a considerably enhanced prestige.

Subsequent to the broadcast by Vice-Chancellor Fey shortly after the affair, reassuring the country of the Chancellor's condition, Dollfuss himself spoke from his sick bed ascribing his escape to the intervention of providence and stating that he was continuing to attend to the State business and expected to return to his office desk in two days time.

DE VALERA APOLOGISTS.

A silent Dail listened on Wednesday to de Valera's apologies to General Mulcahy for the statements made before the Chamber last week alleging that Mulcahy, the former Chief of Staff of the E. S. Army had recently been in communication with Lord Hailsham, the British Secretary for War.

De Valera said "I regret deeply that I should have given publicity to this falsehood and tender my apologies to Deputy Mulcahy. At General Mulcahy's request I agreed to set up a tribunal of inquiry but since then the informant has refused to come forward to give evidence, confessing that it is untrue."

COTTON & QUOTAS.

The Daily Telegraph correspondent at Simla reveals that while the cotton growers and mill-owners agree that the Textile Conference must find a solution on the "quota Basis" in relation to Japanese imports, they dispute the character of the quota.

The agriculturists suggest that the quota should be one-third of the value of the Japanese purchases of Indian cotton, but the mill-owners insist on quantities instead of value in the proportion of 1,800,000 bales bought to 300,000,000 yards.

The mill-owners are distrustful of the Lancashire and Japanese talks, arguing that all must adhere to the tripartite plan.

The Conference discussed the linking of the Japanese import quota with an agreement to take a minimum quantity of Indian cotton annually; applying the quota system to other Japanese imports; and the possibility of future rupee and yen exchanges affecting the arrangements.

The French airmen Assolant and Lefevre landed safely at Karachi on Thursday but in so doing they failed in their attempt to beat the long distance record. Shortage of petrol was the reason for their coming down. Travelling for thirty-six hours they covered, non-stop, 4,415 miles.

Sir Kingsford-Smith landed safely at Baghdad on Thursday as per schedule on route for Australia.

THE DE VALERA APOLOGY.

Dealing with de Valera's Daily apology on Thursday, the "Irish Times" says "The charge and general attitude shockingly reveals the condition of de Valera's policy has brought the Free State's relations with England when Irishmen are asked to believe that the two countries are so hostile now that Ministers and ex-ministers cannot talk together without treachery. The new party must preach faithfully, and without intermission, the wanton, unnecessary and disgraceful nature of the economic war."

The Northern Ireland Minister of Finance, speaking for Viscount Craigavon in the North Ireland House of Commons, emphatically denied signing an agreement for providing for the consideration of means for securing Ireland's unity.

ELIMINATING INCOME TAX FRAUDS.

With the intention of eliminating income tax frauds in the United States, the Internal Revenue Bureau Chief, Mr Baradel, has circularised brokers informing them that a questionnaire relative to customers transactions will shortly be submitted with particular application to the 1929 - 1932 period, says the Daily Telegraph correspondent in New York.

It is reported from Washington that the Senate Banking Committee will shortly have revealed to them, along similar lines, the causes of the 1929 Stock Exchange smash, explaining how pools were formed to promote the sale of doubtful securities and how investors never regard themselves as permanent owners of the securities purchased but hold for a rise or fall.

GERMAN "DISARMAMENT" NOTE

A message from Geneva on Friday stated that the German Government that day made known to the British and Italian Governments its standpoint on the chief matters connected with disarmament discussed in the negotiations that have gone on at Geneva during the last few weeks.

It is not a matter of new German proposals nor even complementary demands but merely a clear definition of the fundamental German conceptions as already expressed in the negotiations that have already taken place.

In this note the German standpoint is maintained unreduced - namely that, according to the principle of the equality of rights accepted by the great powers there should be a far reaching diminution of armaments among the heavily armed States so as to bring about an approach to the present state of Germany's undertaken or failing that, Germany must be given permission to possess such weapons as her national defence requires.

A later message from London stated that there was a new and dramatic development in the Disarmament Conference on Saturday following the announcement the previous day of Germany's uncompromising attitude.

On Saturday, at the last moment, the conversations between the representatives of France, Italy and the United States were resumed at Geneva, states the Sunday Times correspondent, and that the French Government, while not ready to grant all the demands made by Berlin, is prepared to concede a number of points sought by Germany; notably a drastic reduction in French forces before the end of the proscribed period of four years.

The Sunday Times, however, says that as the control of armaments has not been defined Germany would now try to divide the Powers on the question of definition.

Germany's attitude is causing anxiety to America. If Germany should re-arm the United States Government consider that they have good grounds for making representations under the Treaty which ended hostilities between the two countries.

The problem which has faced the negotiators is that Germany has refused to accept international supervision with regard to armaments during the four-year period unless allowed power to use weapons so far forbidden.

MUSSOLINI & DISARMAMENT TALKS.

Considerable comment has been aroused in Paris by Mussolini's article in "Excelsior" outlining disarmament views wherein the Duce expresses a belief that an agreement will be concluded at Geneva but if it so happens that the endeavours fail then the League of Nations is doomed.

He also declares that if France is attacked the Locarno Guarantees will be immediately applied. This expression is being widely applauded by the French press.

It is inferred that Mussolini is widely relying on the Four-Power Pact envisaging therein a framework whereby the French and German standpoints will be finally coalesced.

The Duce recognises that Germany has lately indulged in untimely demonstrations but he does not anticipate that she would consider war at the price of a new catastrophe.

ATTEMPT ON GERMAN AIRMAN'S LIFE.

Through the watchfulness of the Paris police an intended attempt on the life of the celebrated German aviator Fieseler, was narrowly averted on Friday.

Fieseler was supervising arrangements for an aviation duel with the famous French aviator Detroyat to have taken place within a few days on the flying ground of Villa Coublay when each aviator would be trying to out-do his rival in aerial evolutions and tricks. The event was being looked forward to with great expectation in France.

On Friday afternoon a twenty-six-year-old unemployed workman, whose conduct had attracted general notice, suddenly confronted the commandant of the aviation ground who had just finished giving a demonstration in the air, asking whether he were the German flyer Fieseler. As the commandant gave no answer but returned to the administration offices, the unknown workman went over to the aeroplane hangar where Fieseler and Detroyat's machines were stored.

The mechanics grew suspicious and informed the police who took the workman into custody. A revolver and fifty cartridges were found in his possession. Asked what he had intended doing the unknown workman declared that he wanted to make good certain injustices afflicting the world.

It is assumed that the person concerned is mentally deficient and in a muddle-headed way believed that death to the German Fieseler would in some way remedy, more or less, imaginary ills.

The police then took all possible precautions to protect the the German aviator from further molestations.

"N I U O N E T"

U.S.A. RECOVERY CAMPAIGN.

According to a message from Washington Sunday night, public buying within the next three weeks will decide the success or failure of the National Recovery Act.

It is generally agreed that the National Recovery programme cannot continue as planned unless it is proved by actual statistics that the increased production of recent months is going into the hands of the consumers, says the Daily Telegraph correspondent.

At the moment there is a great advertising campaign urging Americans that "Now is the time to buy." Behind this campaign to which merchants and manufacturers have pledged their support, there is an executive and authoritative president with immense powers conferred on him for the purpose of the restoration of prosperity.

General Johnson, the Recovery Administrator, denies the report that he is resigning.

Labour disturbances increased over the week-end despite the President's warning that this was no time for either capital or labour to seek special privileges.

In a firm display of executive authority the President told the coal owners and steel executives that they must agree among themselves, and quickly too, or he will act himself.

The American public understands that the "Buy now" campaign represents a crisis in the history of the "N.I.R.A." Campaign and the question to be decided is whether the consumers are prepared to buy large quantities of goods which are marked with higher prices than during the past few weeks to cover the heavier labour costs.

The President on Saturday signed the Silk Code which provides for a minimum hour-week and wage.

FRENCH FINANCE.

An important reference was made by Premier Daladier in an address on France's financial situation to the Radical Socialists at Vichy on Saturday, writes the Daily Telegraph Paris correspondent.

There is to be neither deflation or inflation of the franc the Premier stated. The Chamber will be called upon this week to approve of another fiscal effort.

Should such refusal be refused another Government would have to take up the task of balancing the budget, he declared.

Referring to disarmament, the Premier said that France had voluntarily consented to sacrifices in armaments without precedent in history and he declared that France would not dream of menacing or humiliating any nation, whatever its regime; the French Government was resolved to attempt no new reductions in the country's forces without an international agreement which would organise progressive disarmament by the establishment of a permanent and automatic control, effectively guaranteed.

PROTECTING GENERAL O'DUFFY.

Extraordinary precautions were taken at Castlebar, County Mayo, on Saturday by the Free State authorities in Ireland, at General O'Duffy's meeting there to prevent a repetition of the disorders of the previous day when General O'Duffy's meeting was attacked by hostile mobs. Two armoured cars with machine guns mounted and two lorry loads of soldiers in battle order and with steel helmets were kept in reserve while a large number of the Civic Guards patrolled the streets. The meeting passed off without any serious disturbance.

DANUBIAN AFFAIRS.

According to a message from Rome the text of the Italian Memorandum for the better organisation of the economic affairs of the Danubian States, issued on Sunday, states that Signor Mussolini's object is to create a profitable foreign market for the Danubian States, especially Austria and Hungary.

The chief measures advocated are :-

- 1, Bilateral agreements;
- 2, Preferential treatment of all agricultural produce from the Danubian States together with industrial products from Austria;
- 3, the improvement of trade budgets;
- 4, the use of the natural outlets of Trieste and Fiume for their exports.

It is understood that the Memorandum is intended as a basis of negotiations for all interested powers.

The previous world record was made by Flight-Lieutenant Boothman at 551.8 k.m..

INDUSTRY FOUNDED ON GRIEF.

Four years ago a broken-hearted mother took up rug weaving after losing her only son. From that hobby has grown one of Portugal's most prosperous industries. The woman, who is the wife of a prosperous farmer in the village of Beiriz, found that the brightly coloured rugs and carpets she made were so popular that before long she engaged six apprentices to help her.

Now her little home workshop is a big factory, employing three hundred weavers and scores of men engaged in the preparation of the wool and transport.

A MODERN CAVE-MAN.

Long unemployment caused an Austrian man to revert to the ways of life of his ancestors.

Tourists on the Eichenberg, near Gloggnitz, Lower Austria, came upon a wild-looking man in a cave among the rocks.

At first he fled from them, but eventually spoke to them and proved to be an educated man born in Vienna.

Long unemployment had caused him to flee the haunts of man. He lives on berries and mushrooms, and says that he is so happy that he has no desire to return to civilisation.

EMPLOYMENT INCREASE.

The recent optimistic reports from the manufacturing centres are supported by the Ministry of Labour figures issued from London on Monday night.

The figures are based on the estimate of the 25th of September which indicate an 86,000 increase in employment over the previous month, 658,000 compared with eight months ago and 792,000 a year ago, while the registered unemployed have dropped steadily with a total decrease for the year of 521,284, sixty-five per cent of the unemployed being on the register less than six months.

Over nine months the increase in employment and the decrease in unemployment have been consistent, the figures now standing at 9,943,000 and 2,336,727 respectively.

While coal-mining, iron and steel manufacturing and general electrical engineering have all improved, there has been a marked impetus in pottery, motoring and boot industries while the midland toy makers state that the German monopoly has been definitely frost with trade brisker than ever with an emphatic "flood" demand for British products.

Besides many factories taking additional labour and being extended the industrial leaders are confidently optimistic with regard to the future of trade, particularly in the motor industry.

THE HAPSBURGS COMING TO LIGHT.

In pointing out the trend of the monarchist feeling in Austria the Daily Telegraph correspondent in Vienna says that the friends of the House of Hapsburg are daily becoming more active and the latest developments include a statement that the Government proposes to alter the decree against the Hapsburgs at an early date while in Hungary the Regent, Admiral Horthy, has warned the legitimists to "lie low."

It is indicative of the monarchist feeling that most of the members of the Dollfuss Cabinet are active supporters while outside, practically all the clergy and Heimwehr leaders are ardent believers in the Hapsburgs.

It is reported from Innsbruck that the municipal council of Imst, which six months ago conferred the freedom of the town on Hitler has unanimously ordered the removal of his name from the roll.

Many shooting affrays, bombings, the defacement of public buildings by painted swastikas mark the new Nazi terrorism throughout Austria.

There is every indication that the Conservatives will sweep the polls with the women's vote completing the swing of the pendulum.

FOOTBALL.

Yesterday evening "A" and "B" teams of the Defence Force met in a practice game on the Government Paddock field the former being the victors by 6 - 3 after a good game.

The evening was refreshingly calm though a steady wind blew directly up the field from the east and gave the "A" team a considerable advantage in the first half when they had it behind them.

A feature of the match was the combination of the "A" forwards who were continuously harrassing the opposing goal. Once or twice the "B" forwards managed to get away but they did not give back much trouble. At half time the score was 6 - 0 in the "A's" favour and with their gaining another point almost immediately on the resumption of play it seemed as if they would eventually reach double figures.

"B" Team, however, now favoured with the wind, rallied considerably and as the result of rushes decreased the deficit by three goals before the final whistle.

The goals were scored by S. Atkins (4), M.G. Creece and L. Aldridge for the winners; and F. White, D.O'Sullivan and C. Clifton for "B" Team.

SINGAPORE COTTON DEADLOCK WAR

According to a press message from Singapore, the official talks between the Indian and Japanese delegates at the Cotton Conference have ended with a deadlock, the Indians refusing to table alternative proposals in view of divergent outlooks.

It is considered that the only possible means of negotiations is through official channels with the governments, taking wide views nationally, unhampered by the pressure of conflicting interests.

TENSE RUSSO-JAPANESE RELATIONS.

The Daily Telegraph diplomatic correspondent, a message from London reports, reveals that interested circles in close touch with Tokio anticipate the establishment of an openly military and naval government during the coming year, taking the form of a Cabinet composed mainly of generals and admirals with a few civilian financial and economic experts.

In view of the critical outlook in the Pacific and on the Manchurian border, the General Staffs have long tended to claim for their nominees full authority and the responsibilities of a National Government against a civil power parliament and diplomacy and the frequently over-ruling Foreign Office.

The attitude adopted connotes an extremely radical form of State Socialism calculated to curry favour with the masses, winning them over to a strong Chauvinistic foreign policy.

It is stated from Tokio that there is a grave possibility of the severance of diplomatic relations with the Soviet owing to the latter's publication of purported secret Japanese documents with reference to the alleged projected seizure of the Chinese Eastern Railway; this is described by the Japanese press as "inexcusable and a serious breach of international faith."

While many steel and coal strikers returned to work on Tuesday 10,000 cotton, lettuce and grape growers in California struck and the strikers in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Alabama mines still maintain their attitude.

In the Anthracha district of Pennsylvania five strike pickets were taken to hospital on Tuesday and the deputy sheriff with several of the State police was injured.

M.R.C. DANCE SPEECHES.

A very enjoyable time was spent by those present at the well attended dance organised by the Miniature Rifle Club and held in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening when His Excellency the Acting Governor, accompanied by Major the Hon. J. Innes Moir (Aide-de-Camp) presented the prizes and Shooting Shield to the various winners whose names have already been published in the Penguin.

Among the assemblage was the Hon. G. Roberts (Director of Public Works) who recently acted as Official Witness during the shooting off of the cards entered for the Colonial Small Bore and the Dominions Miniature Trophies.

In introducing His Excellency Lieutenant W.M. Allan (Adjutant of the Defence Force) spoke of the very successful season the Club had just concluded. There was a membership of 54 and shooting had been taking place on three nights a week for various prizes and in different competitions. Some exceptionally good shooting had been done, notably by Mr Len Reive who had set up a record he believed by obtaining as many as 40 possibles during the season (applause.) Next to him came Mr E.J. McAtasney with a total of 20 possibles (applause.)

During the season 42,000 rounds of ammunition had been fired off and in addition to the Colonial Small Bore Competition which they had won for the year 1932 the members had entered for the Dominions Competition and had obtained a score only one decimal point below that of the winning team last year; namely 87.9. In conclusion he thanked His Excellency for honouring them with his presence.

After distributing the awards His Excellency remarked upon the feeling of pleasure it gave him to be among them that evening. Miniature Rifle Shooting which they all knew was carried on throughout the winter season, he said, was a very good thing especially for those keen on range shooting; it enabled them to keep in trim and in good form for the shooting out-of-doors during summer time.

As everyone knew the Colony's Miniature team had won the Small Bore competition last year - the first time it had been competed for - and lately they had done the necessary shooting for the competition this year. Although the members probably had not shot so well as in some of the practices they had attained a high standard and had made eight more points than the previous year. With this score His Excellency thought the team had a reasonable chance of winning the Trophy again.

A team had also been entered for the Dominions' Miniature Trophy and the members in this had also made a score which should put them well in the running for the prize. The Acting Governor then reminded those present of the laurels the Colony's marksmen had secured for the Falklands by winning the Junior Kolapore Cup and he saw no reason why they should not win it again (applause.)

In conclusion His Excellency commended the members of the Club on the very creditable way they were keeping alive the miniature rifle shooting which Sir Arnold Hodson had instituted. It was also a good thing for the Colony that there was so much proficiency and he hoped the Rifle Club would continue to have further successes; in particular he hoped they would win the competitions for which they had just entered.

TEXTILE AGREEMENT HOPES.

According to a message from Simla it is probable that a textile agreement between the British, Indian and Japanese delegates will be announced next week.

The Daily Telegraph correspondent states that there is a growing impatience with the Japanese impracticable proposals, but it is emphasised that this feeling is confined to unofficial circles.

The most workable suggestion that has yet emerged from the Conference is that the Indian tariffs on Japanese imports should be regulated on a sliding scale based on Japanese currency fluctuations while Indian opinion supports superseding the "most favoured nation" clause by this scale.

Allegations are made that the Japanese are taking advantage of the extension of the Trade Convention to dump vast quantities of manufactured goods, especially woollens, and the Australian wool purchases by them are pointed out as indicative of this intention.

FURTHER AUSTRIAN MONARCHY TREND.

A message from Budapest states that the ex-Empress Zita of Austria arrived at Rome on Wednesday and was temporarily "enthroned" in her hotel, receiving a deputation of Austrian monarchists headed by Duke Rohenberg, the son of Archduke Ferdinand whose assassination led to the Great War.

The ex-Empress gave audience to seventy-five monarchist aristocrats who were presented in order of rank following the strict ceremonial of the former Viennese Habsburg court.

Her visit to Rome is considered to be politically important in view of the long interview she had with Mussolini and her visit to the Italian King and Queen. But while there is much Budapest speculation the ostensible reason advanced for the ex-Empress and the nobilities' presence in Rome is for the Holy Year Pilgrimage.

SOUTH AFRICAN FUSION.

On Wednesday General Smuts at Capetown, and General Hertzog at Bloemfontein, simultaneously addressing congresses on the fusion issue, adopted remarkably similar approaches to a question that is now recognised as being of vital importance to the welfare of the Dominion.

Each declared in almost identical words his adherence to the country's real before his party with national unity as the aim. General Smuts condemned the formation of a "Racial bloc" while General Hertzog said he would not be party to "dishonesty and hypocrisy on the part of the Afrikaans speaking people." The latter also on Wednesday formally relinquished the leadership of the Cape Nationalist Party, considering himself free of any relation or duty to it.

Both speakers were given a great ovation.

SIR ARNOLD HODSON'S GOLFING WIN.

The Badenoch Record of the 26th of August last published the following account of the final of the Wolfenden Cup played off on the Kingussie Golf Course on the preceding Saturday:

"The finalists in the Wolfenden Cup competition, the chief event on the Kingussie course last week, were followed by a large gallery. Sir Arnold Hodson (15), a visitor, had as his opponent Jack Gibson (4), a prominent young local player. In the afternoon round Gibson gave a good exhibition and finished 3 up. The general opinion was that he would be able to annex the trophy, but in the evening his play fell somewhat below the standard he had set up. His opponent ran out winner by 2 and 1.

"Mr Donald Cattanach, captain of the club, presided at the presentation ceremony and congratulated the visitor on his success. On behalf of the club he hoped that Sir Arnold would return again next year to Kingussie to defend his title.

"In accepting the trophy, Sir Arnold Hodson said his victory in winning that handsome cup was something of a surprise to himself. He just wondered whether it was the salubrious air of Sierra Leone or the good Scotch porridge since coming home to their beautiful highlands that accounted for his phenomenal success. At any rate, he considered himself very lucky. He also paid a warm compliment to his young opponent in that day's match, and said he would look forward to another visit.

"Sir Arnold Hodson is Governor of Sierra Leone and a former Governor of the Falkland Islands.

Cupid has been found "lurking" aboard H.M.S. Durban, Commodore R.H.O. Lane-Poole's Flagship which patrols the southern waters of the America and West Indies Station and is well-known to all in the Falklands.

Recent numbers of the Buenos Aires Herald announce: in one instance the marriage of Lieutenant Commander F.N. Craven and in another, the engagement of Lieutenant D. Dreyer.

On September 15th last the Herald stated that the previous day Lieutenant Commander F.N. Craven of H.M.S. Durban was married to Miss Elisa Gonzalez Laplane. Lieutenant Commander Craven is a son of Mr and Mrs J.N. Craven of Scotland while the bride is a daughter of Mrs Luisa Laplane and the late Mr S. Gonzalez of Buenos Aires. The bride was given away by her brother while Commander P.E.F. Walker, a fellow officer of the bridegroom was the best man.

On September the 10th last the Herald reported that Lady Chilton announced the engagement of her elder daughter Miss Elizabeth Chilton to Lieutenant Desmond Dreyer of H.M.S. Durban.

THE GERMAN PROBATION PERIOD.

The Anglo-American compromise for the reduction of Germany's "probation period" to two years still awaits the acceptance of Paris while Rome and Washington realise that the prospect of securing a disarmament convention agreed to by Germany will be probably jeopardised by the refusal to concede her slight increases in medium-sized tanks, guns and eastern frontier fortifications.

Germany is apparently asking for more than a few "samples" which Britain, America and Italy were prepared to concede before the advent of the Nazi regime and this is creating a difficulty.

The Berlin press is proclaiming "England's treachery" by the supposed endeavour to alter the MacDonald Plan which is the equivalent to a repudiation of the original formula.

France is understood to be definitely opposed to a reduction of the "probationary period" for Germany while Berlin reports state that no proposals will be acceptable unless based on principles of equality. But the German delegates at Geneva are distinctly nervous at the prospect of isolation and having to shoulder the responsibility for ruining the Disarmament Conference.

AUSTRIA'S "PATRIOTIC FRONT."

An agreement has been reached, states a Reuter message from Vienna whereby the entire Heinvwehr is joining the Chancellor's "Patriotic Front" with Dollfuss nominated as the leader and Prince Starhemberg as his deputy. This definitely ends an equivocal position and creates a powerful triumvirate for Dollfuss, Starhemberg and Fey.

STANLEY'S WHALEBONE ARCH.

An impression of the Whalebone Arch on Cathedral Green, copied from a photograph taken by the Hon. G. Roberts.

Monday, 16th October, 1933.

A CENTENARY COMMEMORATION.

The finishing touches are now being made to the imposing arch of four Blue Whale jaw bones erected by the Public Works Department in the form of an arch on Cathedral Green commemorating the gift of the land to the Colony by the Falkland Islands Company on the occasion of the Centenary.

Standing about 20 feet high on a base about 21 feet square the Arch is approached from Ross Road by a flight of concrete steps set off by curbing and three box-wood shrubs on each side. There are diagonal seats of concrete stretching between the opposite bones and inserted in one of them, overlooking Ross Road is a "snow-concrete" block with the following inscription :

"This Plot of Land was given to the Government by the Falkland Islands Company Limited, to commemorate the Centenary of this Colony as a British Possession 1833 - 1933."

The bones - unusually large - were brought to the Colony from the South Shetlands about 1922 and were originally intended to form exhibits in a Whale Museum. Two of them have been lying on Victory Green for some years while the others have been kept in the Government Dockyard along with the head of a killer and a sperm whale which latter were transported to the British Museum about three years ago by one of the calling whaling factories.

The Green itself is being returfed and curbed; this work, now almost completed gives the Commemoration an attractive appearance and reflects great credit on those who have been associated with its construction.

SERIOUS DISARMAMENT POSITION.

Germany To Withdraw

From Conference & League Of Nations.

Following a speech at Geneva on Saturday by Sir John Simon in which he said the United Kingdom took the view that a Disarmament Convention could not be reached on the basis through which Germany received permission to re-arm, Germany startled the world and dealt a severe blow to the disarmament movement by announcing her withdrawal from the League of Nations and the Disarmament Conference.

On Friday last it was announced through the press that a critical situation had been reached concerning disarmament and that the matter would be discussed at a meeting of the Bureau of the Disarmament Conference on Saturday.

It has been stated that recent conversations revealed the fact that France and the United States fully share the view of the British Government that the immediate re-arming of Germany could not be countenanced and that a programme of disarmament by stages is essential.

The conversations also showed that during the preliminary period a control of armaments and military expenditure would be exercised and this would lead, after an interval, to a substantial disarmament of the heavily armed powers and equality for Germany in regard to permitted weapons.

Following Germany's announcement the Reichstag has been dissolved by President Hindenberg's special order and a general election will be held on the 12th of November to give the people an opportunity of expressing an opinion of the government's decision.

At Geneva the general consternation is not unmingled with relief and Paris, following this lead, finds comfort in a position with Brussels which is now quite clear.

The announcement was a bombshell in Washington while Rome expresses surprise and disappointment that Germany cannot take a reciprocal part and it is thought that Mussolini may call a hurried consultation of the Four Power Pact signatories.

Austria makes no comment but throughout the world there is general surprise and reaction. The Washington message on the subject says that the United States Government is seriously disappointed and regard Germany's act a shattering to the disarmament team-work.

Paris says that Germany has torn off the mask, and trampled underfoot fourteen years of work for the organisation of peace, and is isolating herself from the rest of the world, throwing open the doors for a new armament race.

The Little Entente spokesman says that Germany has committed another blunder such as characterised her conduct of the late war with a complete inability of apprehending the psychology of the rest of the world.

A Club practice was held on the Old Rifle Range, Stanley, on Sunday when there were fourteen members present all of whom took part in the shoot. The weather from the spectator's point of view was glorious, the sun shining brilliantly throughout the day.

Some excellent shooting was witnessed down to 500 yards. At 600 yard, however, a gentle but tricky south-east wind rendered accurate marksmanship somewhat difficult, and as a result that wretched "magpie" was frequently on the wing.

The scores registered were as follow :

THE DISARMAMENT IMPASSE.

Official circles in London were singularly reticent on Monday relative to Germany's action at Geneva, says the Daily Telegraph, pointing out that, while there is no immediate threat to Europe's peace, judgment will be suspended until after to-day's (Wednesday) Cabinet meeting when Sir John Simon is expected to make a report.

It is portended that the current week will witness an exchange of views by the leading powers, through diplomatic channels, as to the necessary precedent to the resumption of the Disarmament Conference on the 26th of October.

No intimation has been received of the immediate calling of a Four or Five Power Pact meeting, though there is a strong probability that such a meeting will have to be held in the near future.

Washington messages indicate that the United States will be holding to the attitude of its alignment with Britain and France in support of the December 1932 Disarmament Formula, with the side issue that Germany's action makes the United States entry to the League of Nations more improbable than ever; for, without the representation of Japan and Germany the League can have no longer a working mechanism.

The German Foreign Minister, Baron Von Neurath, in addressing the foreign press representatives on Monday evening described the "Trial Period" imposed on German armaments as an "insulting slander" and declared that the highly armed powers are obviously determined on a "second disarmament of Germany." He accused Britain of having led the Reich to expect a concession and then having dealt "another serious disappointment."

A Reuter message states that the ex-Kaiser has expressed his approval of German action.

Reuters summary of the world reaction to Germany's withdrawal from the League and the Conference presents mixed views, but there is a general appreciation of the difficulties created.

The German press unanimously acclaims Hitler's "flaming appeal for peace, equality, liberty and honour," and it is not at all doubted that the nation - the whole nation - will support the Chancellor's foreign policy at the polls.

France condemns the withdrawal while the situation is considered extremely grave but not necessarily fatal, with the possibility of Britain, Italy and the United States being drawn closer.

Hitler's speech has not shut the doors to a settlement is the official Italian view but a general adjournment of the Disarmament Conference is considered essential with the Four Power Pact as providing the way out.

The United States Government and press are preponderantly gloomy, the New York Times considering the situation "the worst since the end of the World War," while State Secretary Hull declares that the United States is "seriously disappointed and deeply regretful."

Germany's decision is regarded in Tokio as a sign of the League's incompetence though the Foreign Minister's view is that the Disarmament Conference will not collapse though the difficulties will be increased.

Little surprise is expressed in the Polish press but that an alarming situation has been created and is as summarily condemned.

A possible return to the pre-war armaments race is envisaged in Sweden and the opinion is held that Germany's withdrawal is a danger to the world peace.

The government opposition in Hungary approves of Hitler's decisions but the pro-government press, although acknowledging Hungary's rights as being identical with Germany's, declares that the nation will not follow suit.

STORM TROOPER ASSAULTS.

"To Be Suppressed."

The Daily Telegraph correspondent in Berlin states that the storm-troopers concerned in the assault of the United States citizen recently have been sentenced to six months imprisonment.

This is the first time that a sentence of this nature has been recorded by the Nazi press.

Many foreign diplomatic representatives are in communication with the German Foreign Office regarding the attacks on their nationals. Those of the United States number thirty persons assaulted; the nationals of countries adjacent number considerably more, and in one case 1,000 persons are involved.

The Minister of the Interior, Captain Goering, has issued an order that "Foreign citizens are to be under police protection and in every respect officers are charged to act with special reserve, circumspection and civility" with the extension of every interpretation of hospitality. Assaults of this nature are to be suppressed with the greatest severity and every effort is being made to prevent a repetition.

U.S.A. KEEPS A FREE HAND.

The U.S.A. delegation at Geneva issues a statement saying that they are not interested in the political elements of the European aspects of the question and non-alliance politically with the European powers is emphasised.

America is mainly interested in the equity purpose existing in the domain of world disarmament it is added, with President Roosevelt's principles advanced in May last still outlining the United States policy.

Reuter states that there has been no contact between Mussolini and foreign ambassadors since Saturday and that he is taking no initiative until the situation is more definite from Italy's point of view. He is adopting a "wait and see" policy.

SHOOTING A "VAMPIRE."

It is reported from Vales, in South Serbia, that to get rid of a vampire which had long haunted his house a man named Prynarevitch recently engaged the services of an old man with the ominous name of Vampirop.

Vampirop demanded a rifle and some musicians and then called in the neighbours to dance.

When the usual chain dance had started he suddenly fired a shot and then explained that this had killed the vampire, which, unknown to the dancers, had joined in the chain.

It is stated that the dancers subsequently found on the ground a substance resembling brown which they concluded to be the remains of the vampire, and further that the nightly disturbances in the Prynarevitch house have ceased.

TUNNY FISHING.

Tunny fishing is all the rage in Britain now. There are Tunny Clubs in many of the seaside resorts while the rules laid down have been drawn up "to give the fish a sporting chance."

Recently Lord Egerton, one of the number of tunny fishers off Scarborough, returned to port overnight with a catch of three. Two of them were caught at the same time, one being entangled in the line while the other was caught on the hook.

The weights of the fish being 625 lb, 647 lb and 595 lb.

THE FRENCH BUDGET.

Notwithstanding the fact that the French budget proposals are regarded as the most drastic for many years they will probably be passed with the minimum debate, says the Daily Telegraph Paris correspondent, the Chamber having already agreed upon an "extreme emergency procedure."

By strict enforcement and a greater vigilance to prevent the evasion of the tax payments, the Government expects to save six million francs, it is estimated, above the new impositions. But the programme has met with a mixed reception with the opposition's opinion being that there is too much new taxation and not enough economies.

It is pointed out on behalf of the Government that if the deficit is not immediately covered it will be impossible to appeal to the public for credit or for the issue of further loans, with the necessity of a consolidated loan conversion next year to meet the November 1934 Treasury Bills which is a problem yet to be confronted.

Simultaneously the trade figures for the first nine months show a big decline as compared with 1932 over the same period. The exports are down 1,094 million francs, and the imports 502 millions.

Rumours that France is abandoning the Gold Standard have resulted in a considerable weakening of European currencies on the New York Exchange.

COTTON CONFERENCE HITCH.

Following cabled representations by the Osaka mill-owners to the Japanese delegations at Simla opposing the minimum purchases of Indian cotton in return for tariff concessions, a hitch occurred in the Official Indo-Japanese Conference on Wednesday.

The mill-owners want a "Gentleman's agreement" and to remain the main purchaser of Indian cotton as future market conditions permit.

It is understood that the Indian Government insists on linking the Japanese import quotas with the cotton purchases but it is not prepared to insist on guaranteed minimum purchases. It is also stated that the Government is prepared to fix a basis textile tariff at a comparatively low figure with a 10 % Imperial tariff.

HITLER UPHOLDS GERMANY.

Addressing Nazi leaders in Berlin on Wednesday, Hitler again stressed the point that his government has pacific intentions, adding "so long as Germany is not treated as an equal, she will not attend any conference, nor join the League's conventions, nor sign anything."

The German press continues to make further inspired attacks on Sir John Simon, stating that he is more determined to defend his own Geneva action than the British Government's attitude.

Reuter reports from Paris that the Foreign Affairs Commission has agreed the Four Power Pact is unapplicable on account of Germany's severance from the League.

According to diplomatic circles in Rome the German decision to leave the Disarmament Conference was taken before the Bureau speeches made on Saturday.

A PAUSE FOR GENEVA.

The Daily Telegraph points out the need of a pause at Geneva, allowing the controversialists time to review the position with calm, as a first essential.

British diplomatic circles hold that the French opinion with reference to the non-applicability of the Four Power Pact is dangerous. Should Britain and Italy act on this contention they could claim that the Locarno and other treaties linked with the League have also been "killed" by Germany's withdrawal.

Both from the legal and practical standpoint the Four Power Pact was devised precisely to avert or remedy such a deadlock as has arisen, for under Article III it is laid down "the contracting parties undertake to make every effort to ensure the success of the Disarmament Conference."

Formal notification of Germany's withdrawal from the League of Nations was presented on Thursday.

TAX ON FOREIGN EMPLOYEES IN FRANCE.

According to a message from Paris the French Budget proposals are experiencing a difficult passage with interest centring on the proposal of a 10 % tax on the earnings of all foreign workers; this is affecting the employees of banks, restaurants and business houses.

There is a strong opposition by motorists against the petrol tax with a greater antagonism to the collection of dividend taxes in advance.

The proposals are being subjected to much political intriguing and bargaining with practically all the clauses being opposed by differing parties.

EARL BEATTY & THE FLEET.

Replying to the toast of the Navy at the Nelson Day Dinner of the Navy League on Thursday in London, Earl Beatty, who commanded the Grand Fleet from 1929 to 1936 and was subsequently the First Sea Lord, said that Britain's standard of naval strength to-day is insufficient to make her an attractive ally or play the part of a world power.

Battleship replacement, he said, was overdue, the oil supplies were inadequate and the personnel insufficient to man the vessels.

Regarding cruisers Britain should never again bind herself to the unsafe limit of the London Treaty but build for the exceptional responsibilities she held.

Summing up the position, Earl Beatty declared, that financial credit had been restored as the price of weakened defences.

A JAMBOREE JOKE.

An error made by some of the scouts at the Boy Scouts World Jamboree at Godollo, Hungary has set the whole camp laughing.

A Hungarian visitor making an early round found one patrol of scouts making their early morning cocoa in a receptacle which aroused his astonishment.

He learned that they had found it placed in their camp, and not being able to read the Hungarian word on the side had believed it was meant for cooking.

The incomprehensible word, however, was explained to them to mean "dustbin."

It should be pointed out that so spotlessly clean was everything kept in the camp that even such articles of the equipment were made to shine like a new pin and this standard was maintained the whole time.

It was estimated that over 20,000 scouts from all parts of the world attended the Jamboree at Godollo.

The town constable is perturbed, for the council has left it to him to decide just where the chest begins and what length is knee length.

The two proposed roads to the south of the Battle Memorial are to be called "Canopus road" and "Cornwall road."

The new road to the north of Davis Street extension running east and west, is to be known as "Kent road" while the new road (north and south) linking up Davis Street extension with the "Kent road" is to be called "Glasgow road"; these two roads form a part of the new building site to the east of Stanley.

TEAL INLET MAKES MERRY.

(Contributed.)

"Sail-o!" The age old cry rang out sharp and clear, followed by a general rush to doors; window and casement curtains are thrust aside, and eyes aglow with excitement behold the "Paloma" gliding up to a safe anchorage on the afternoon of Saturday, the 14th of October.

With a generous exchange of cambrie flutterings and cheery badinage, visitors from San Salvador and Rincon Grande are enthusiastically welcomed to Teal Inlet.

During the afternoon (amid general whooping) riders from Douglas Station and Port San Carlos arrive.

Precisely at 8.0 p.m. one and all grope their way through the darkness towards the myriad of lights - the men's quarters; the dining room which is decorated gaily with paper garlands - a phantasmagoria of colours yet with a harmonising effect.

In their natural setting "Mon" and his accordeon were ready to give of their best when, the Misses E. Felton and E. Halkett (the organisers and M.Cs) announce the first waltz.

Thenceforth these energetic young ladies kept the ball rolling - Fox trots, Reels, Nine-pins - every dance these vivacious M.Cs could think of, followed briskly one after another, with much vigour.

About midnight the assemblage retired for refreshments; Miss Felton and Miss Halkett proving their efficiency in the noble art of cooking by the super-abundance of delicious viands, which, though partaken of with gusto diminished but little in quantity.

Meanwhile Miss Halkett gave the children a romp in "Sally Water"; judging by the look of some of the children's whiskers, they are fast growing up.

Mr J. Clifton here stepped up to the "footlights" as an entertainer - the songs sung were appreciated and received a full measure of applause.

At the first dance following the interval, Mr Alan Anderson and his virtuosos, the "Humming Bs" render the waltz "The Mountains of the Pine" with an expressive rhythm, the dancers cannot resist and so the Dance goes on to the grand finale.

Loud "Ahs" of dissension were heard following the announcement of the "Charivari;" but followed later by a spontaneous burst of "Three Cheers for the Ladies" - from the appreciative dancers - "Hip! Hip! Hip!

"Spectator."

The total receipts of the Irish Hospitals Sweepstake on the Cambridgeshire were, a message from Dublin reported on Saturday, £2,726,628, the lowest amount received since the first two sweepstakes, and nearly £1,500,000 below the peak receipts for the Derby in 1932.

The amount available for prizes is £1,707,717, making 19 first prizes of £30,000.

THE REICHSSTAG FIRE.

Interest in the Reichstag fire developed on Saturday, reports a message from Berlin.

Count Helldorf, now the Potsdam Police Chief and formerly leader of the Nazi storm detachment of Berlin, was cross-examined by the accused German Communist Torgler.

Obviously embarrassed Helldorf said he had ordered the arrests of the Socialist and Communist leaders on the day following the fire on his own responsibility without receiving instructions.

In reply to the Bulgarian Dimitroff he said that the grounds for making the arrests were that, in his view, "the State's criminal elements were generally Marxist."

Other questions relative to the expectation of the working classes rising and whether the arrests were made on a general suspicion or on the basis of observed facts were easily answered.

Dimitroff's further questions were disallowed and on his protesting he was ordered by the judge to "be silent."

THE END OF THE SANDLITZ.

The Falkland Islands battle is recalled by the announcement that the liner Seydlitz is to be broken up.

A North German Lloyd vessel, she served as a supply ship with Admiral von Spee's squadron in the early days of the war and was the only German ship to survive the Falklands Battle.

She was interned in an Argentine port and repurchased by the North German Lloyd after the war. She was the first ship to resume that line's service to South America in 1921.

CARNERA WINS.

A bulletin from Rome announces that on Sunday Carnera beat Paolino Uzcudun on points in a fifteen round contest.

Mussolini attended the fight and there was tremendous enthusiasm when at the end he embraced Carnera who is being made a Commander of the Crown of Italy.

Carnera's superiority was evident from the beginning of the first round. He was all over the Basque but the latter made good his boast that the man was unborn who could knock him out.

In an earlier contest the same evening the Italian Locatelli won back the European lightweight championship from the Belgian Sybille.

FRENCH BUDGET CRISIS.

A message from Paris Monday reported that with the fate of the Government depending on the Budget voting, the debate was continued throughout the day and the Premier demanded an all night sitting.

The Chamber was placed under a special guard and a cordon of 2,500 police blocked the entrances to the building.

After many hours' deliberation only minor taxation proposals were passed and M. Daladier appealed for a decision pleading that "If there must be a battle, let it be at once so that the country may know what is ahead."

Points of contention include the providing for payment in advance of dividend taxes and salary and pension cuts ranging between 3 and 9 per cent.

COTTON CONFERENCE OPTIMISM.

On Monday an optimistic atmosphere was prevalent at the resumption of the Indo-Japanese Conference when the Japanese delegates accepted in principle the linking of Japanese imports with the purchases of raw Indian cotton.

The tentative figures are 350,000,000 yards of Japanese piece goods as imports with the Japanese purchases fixed at 15 lakhs of cotton bales.

No progress has been made by the mill-owners in their attempts to reconcile the point of view with reference to the Lancashire preference.

It is officially stated from Moscow that M. Litvinoff is travelling incognito to the United States of America in response to President Roosevelt's invitation to open trade negotiations.

It is reported from New York that the Soviet is seeking credit to the extent of 500,000,000 dollars for the purchase of raw cotton and machinery, but nothing is yet officially settled.

"N I U D K E" DISARMAMENT ADJOURNMENT.

A pessimistic feeling prevails at Geneva with reference to the Disarmament Bureau, particularly with regard to yesterday afternoon's meeting and the sitting of the General Commission to-day (Thursday.)

There seems to be an air of finality about the proceedings which are dealing with the question of whether the Commission should be adjourned "sine die" or temporarily for a short time with the possibility of fixing a date for its resumption.

The Daily Telegraph correspondent states that the American, Mr Norman Davis, has pleaded with Mr Henderson for the continuance of the discussions with a view to reaching a convention, but the latter has pointed out that the British Cabinet is in favour of the temporary adjournment, while the absence of the responsible French Minister makes the situation more difficult.

FRENCH RAIL DISASTER.

The death roll in the rail disaster at Evreux, France on Tuesday is now stated to be thirty while over 120 are injured with three of these in a critical condition.

It is understood that no British or Americans are involved.

Some of the deaths are due to drowning since the debris at the place of the catastrophe has dammed the river creating a high water.

It is feared that many bodies are still amidst the wreckage and under water.

DOYLE'S £200 A WEEK.

Jack Doyle, the Irish heavyweight, who was disqualified in his fight with Jack Petersen, the British champion, on the 12th of July, is getting along quite nicely, though debarred from earning anything in the boxing ring.

The young Irishman is earning as much as £200 a week crooning Irish melodies to Irish folk.

He has extensive theatrical engagements in Ireland and there is a packed house to greet him at every performance.

Doyle's case against the Boxing Control Board is to be heard this week. He has taken advice from Sir Patrick Hastings, K.C., and his leading counsel is Serjeant Sullivan, K.C..

The case is to test the legality of the board's action in confiscating Doyle's purse of £3,000 and suspending him for six months following his disqualification.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

Following on the defeat of the Daladier Government in France says the Daily Telegraph Paris Correspondent, President Lebrun held consultations with the party leaders throughout Tuesday in a vain effort to solve the crisis. Nevertheless it was expected that before last night a new Premier would be chosen.

Well informed parliamentarians expressed the opinion that M. Caillaux was the most favoured but other names prominently mentioned were M. Chautemps (Minister for the Interior) and M. Sarraut (Minister of Marine).

The problems of finding a new government and the balancing of the Budget are coupled, in the national view, with the necessity of securing the position of the franc and maintaining the sanctity of French soil.

A solution must be found without delay or, according to Daladier, within six weeks the franc will be forced off the gold standard.

The Foreign Minister, M. Paul Boncour, stated that the Cabinet crisis does not affect France's position at the Disarmament Conference where he is being temporarily represented by M. Massigli.

---o---o---

COTTON CONFERENCE DEADLOCK.

It is reported from New Delhi that a deadlock has developed in the Cotton Conference relative to Lancashire preference.

The Bombay mill owners apparently favour a pro-Lancashire gesture, but Ahmedabad, Delhi and Calcutta state that they are unable to reach an agreement on the current questions as the Lancashire and Japanese delegations demands are too high.

---o---o---

THE DOLLAR & GOLD.

A message from Washington states that the American financial press have adversely criticised President Roosevelt's break from "sound money" and while there is less confusion relative to the President's Gold Purchase Plan, it is generally accepted that his move marks the final severance from the conservatives who stand for financial orthodoxy, with the "Brain Trust" of Professors Warron, Rogers and Sprague in the ascendancy.

The first purchase of gold newly mined at prices slightly above the world's levels were made yesterday (Wednesday) inferring that the official estimate of the dollar's worth and that of the gold prices are to the ultimate detriment of commodity prices.

CZAR'S DIARY FOUND.

A message from Riga reports that the personal diary of Czar Nicholas II has been discovered at Sverdlovsk, where the Russian Imperial Family was shot.

The diary is said to cover the final stage of the Czar's captivity under the Bolsheviks, with the last entry written only a few hours before the arrival of the executioners.

Nicholas II, Czar of Russia, with the Czarina, the Czarévitch and other members of the Imperial Family, were shot by Bolsheviks on the 16th of June, 1918.

A DEAD MAN RETURNS.

The strange case of a dead man who returned to life for one day is reported from Keoskomet in Hungary.

Tivadar Forgacs, a twentyfour-year-old shop assistant, died in a taxi on his way to the station at two o'clock in the morning. The young man had been ill for some years, and his state had become so serious that his relatives had arranged for him to enter a Budapest sanatorium.

When the taxi driver brought the body back to the house a wake was kept, but at seven o'clock in the morning the young man sat up in bed, in his grave clothes, and told his relatives quietly that he had returned to be able to say good-bye to them. Rising and dressing in his ordinary clothes he breakfasted, repaired his bicycle, and proceeded to work as usual. He returned to his home for dinner, and then remained in the shop until closing time.

In the evening, when retiring to his room, he told his relatives that he was now going back to the place from which he had returned to them. In an hour or two a doctor was called in, and the young man was found to be dead.

FOOTBALL.

Instead of to-night a Practice Match was held on the Government House Paddock last evening when the "A" Team had an easy win over their opponents. In the first half the "As" did all the attacking and although they scored some seven goals they should have had more. In the second half the "Bs" were given an extra man and play was more even each side scoring several times. Play on the whole was scrappy and unconvincing.

BAYING THE MOON IS LEGAL.

Should dogs be allowed to bark at night? The Mayor of Herblay, near Paris, was emphatic in asserting that they should be kept silent, and issued a decree to the townspeople calling on them to keep their dogs within doors between the hours of 10.0 p.m. and 7.0 a.m.,

One of the dog owners expressed the general indignation of the rest by going to law about the matter. The case provided much scope for counsel to discourse eloquently in favour of dogs.

Barking, it was remarked, was a matter for subtle distinctions. For instance there were loud baritone dogs. There were also sweet-singing tenors. If the latter barked to the moon they hardly made as much noise as the cock heralding the dawn.

In short, it was claimed that the Mayor, in order to achieve his laudable object of reducing noise, might have used a little more discrimination.

THE VALUE OF THE DOLLAR.

The United States Government on Wednesday took the first step in its new monetary policy of fixing the gold price by purchasing at 31.36 dollars per fine ounce, which is 1.56 dollars above the previous American quotation and makes the dollar worth 66 cents in gold terms on the basis of the old American parity.

Uncertainty as to the dollar's future is causing funds to flow from America into gold and gold securities.

In London the views on the new price, which is 13 pence above the local rate, are somewhat confused with the result that the dollar fluctuated erratically.

FRENCH "STOP GAP" GOVERNMENT.

Following protracted conversations with the President the late Minister of Marine, M. Sarraut, has been called upon to form a new Government says the Daily Telegraph correspondent in Paris.

It is anticipated that the Government will only be a "Stop-gap" as, on the supreme question of finance, they will probably follow their predecessors did on the economy and increased taxation problems.

M. Sarraut says that the existing situation will be cleared up with the least possible loss of time and he is seeking the best informed opinions in political, financial and economic circles, and as soon as the Government is formed the budget problems will be tackled.

NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENT ARRESTED.

According to a message from London, Sir Eric Phipps, the British Ambassador in Berlin handed a note to the German Government on Wednesday asking for an explanation of the arrest of the Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Munich.

Such a note has been rendered necessary as a result of the attitude adopted towards the British Consul General at Munich.

The correspondent, Noel Panter, was arrested on Tuesday "on suspicion of espionage" at the Storm troop parade held at Kelheim last Sunday.

Panter's personal correspondence and money has been taken from his flat by the political police and he has been refused permission to see a lawyer or other visitors, while the Bavarian authorities have also denied him access to the Consul General, giving no reason for the action.

It is understood that the Nazis are particularly incensed by Panter's revelations relating to the extraordinary precautions taken to suppress militaristic reports and photographs of the parade.

HITLER'S ELECTION SPEECH.

On Thursday Hitler delivered an election speech at Cologne amid intense enthusiasm, with tens of thousands crowding into the city though uniforms were conspicuously absent.

Processions paraded the city all day and the venue of the assembly was decorated with laurels, festooned with flowers and mottoes with the inscription "We want Peace, Peace with Equality."

The form of the speech closely followed those previously made, maintaining that the victor nations had not fulfilled their part in the Disarmament Treaty while Germany had complied up to the hilt.

He reiterated his challenge to the world to show proof of Germany's aggressiveness and reasserted her longing for peace.

BRITISH TRADE.

Further evidence of the continued recovery of British industries is shown by reports from Sheffield says the Daily Telegraph correspondent, the daily production exceeding last year's by 1,000 tons while foreign orders for marine machinery have also increased.
 The export of wool tissue has improved 48 per cent during September, and 12 per cent for the first nine months of the year compared with corresponding periods.

THE DOLLAR'S MOVE.

The second day of the Roosevelt Monetary Plan was marked on Thursday by an eighteen cents rise in the government gold prices to 31.54 dollars to maintain a level above the world prices, though the administration announces that the increase is not necessarily continuous.

The New York Times suggests that the President may be endeavouring to create an inducement to foreign countries to make overtures for a new Monetary Conference on his own lines but White House remains reticent on its future policy.

Wall Street is trying to understand Washington's financial ideas of stability based on the commodity price level but uncertainty exists while it is agreed that no attempt at currency stabilisation is likely until higher commodity prices are attained; the new policy is not greatly affecting the dollar.

The dollar recovered in the market though the shares reacted, but the developments were apparently based only on hope says the Daily Telegraph correspondent.

THE FRENCH CABINET.

M. Sarraut has accepted the Premiership of the French Government and has formed a Cabinet with the same complexion as M. Daladier's, says the Daily Telegraph Paris correspondent, adding that its financial policy will probably be "new and bold", with the Premier acting on the theory that economy and reduction in taxation must go together, believing that the latter will stimulate economic life.

M. Sarraut has declared that his Government will refuse to undertake direct negotiations with Germany on Disarmament, and "We intend following the foreign policies of Ms. Briand, Daladier and Paul Boncour, with all roads leading to Geneva."

The personnel of the Cabinet is understood to be :-
Premier and Minister of Marine - M. Sarraut, Foreign Minister - M. Paul Boncour, Minister for War - M. Daladier, Minister of the Interior - M. Chautemps, Minister of Finance - M. Bonnet, Budget Minister - M. Palmade, Minister of Agriculture - M. Queuille, Minister of Commerce - M. Eynac, Minister of Public Works - M. Yaganon, Minister of Labour - M. Frot, Minister of Education - M. Denongue, Minister for the Colonies - M. Dalimier, Minister of Air - M. Cot, Minister of Merchant Marine - M. Ric, Minister of Pensions - M. Ducos (or M. Dormann), Minister of Health - M. Bonne-vay, The Ministers of Justice and Post & Telegraphs are not yet known.

"K I U D N E T"
WEDDING OF MISS ELLEN BERNTSEN.

Great interest was taken in the town on Saturday in the wedding of Miss Sarah Georgina Ellen Berntsen, the only daughter of Mrs A.J. Berntsen and the late Mr F. Berntsen, and Mr Stanley Fulbrook, the third son of Mr and Mrs A.G. Fulbrook of Newbury, Berkshire.

The bride is a well-known and popular Stanley girl who for the past two and a half years has been a nurse probationer at the King Edward Memorial Hospital and prior to that assistance for two years with the printing of the Church Magazine, being on the staff of the Magazine when it lapsed after a life of some forty years. Miss Berntsen had been a member of the Cathedral choir for nine years and until she took up duties at the Hospital she was also a Sunday School teacher.

The bridegroom came to the Falklands about eight years ago and originally worked at Darwin but joined the crew of the s.s. Falkland and was one of those who went home two years ago to bring out to the Islands the s.s. Lafonia with which he has been since.

The marriage was solemnised in the Cathedral Church and was conducted by the Very Reverend the Dean, the ceremony being fully choral. The bride, who was given away by her eldest brother, Mr Nathaniel Berntsen, and attended by her cousin, Miss Grace Miller, looked charming in a dress of white satin and wore an orange biscuit wreath with a net veil; to complete the picture she carried a delightful bouquet of flowers provided by several friends. The bridesmaid was happily attired in a dress of pale and dark blue with a biscuit hat and carried a bouquet of flowers given by Mrs Smith, while the bride's mother was dressed in red and white swede crepe with hat to match. The best man was Mr Ernest Berntsen, the second brother of the bride.

After the service which was attended by a congregation that filled the Church, and the taking of photographs by Mr Binnie, the bridal party drove in Mr A. Mercer's car (kindly loaned for the occasion) to the Town Hall. There some five hundred guests assembled for the reception which took the form of a "The Damsel" commencing at 4.0 and ending at 9.0 p.m. with the chairing of the happy couple and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne." Not the least enjoyable moment for all was the tasting of the handsome four tier wedding cake made by Mr J.F. Summers.

The happy couple, who have had a bungalow built by Messrs G. & J. Bowles, were the recipients of some 300 wedding gifts including presents from His Excellency the Acting Governor, Major the Hon. J. Innes Moir (Principal Medical Officer) and Mrs Moir, the Hon. L.W.H. Young (Manager of the Falkland Islands Company, Limited,) and Mrs Young, the Hon. G. and Mrs Roberts, Dr and Mrs H.G. Edmunds, Mr and Mrs S.W. Harding, Miss C. Wells (Nurse-Matron of the Hospital,) the Very Reverend the Dean and Mrs Lumsdale, the Choir, the members of the Staff of the Hospital and the "Lafonia", besides a special cake given by Mr J.F. Summers to be sent home to the bridegroom's parents.

Royal Marines 2 : No. 3 Platoon 2.

Yesterday afternoon the Royal Marines of H.M.S. Dauntless met No. 3 Platoon of the Defence Force and after an even game in which the Defence Force players were slightly more persistent in their attacks the match ended with a draw, the Marines scoring the equalising goal within two or three minutes of time.

The teams were : Royal Marines - Pritchard; Rayner & Pettitt; Brown, Seaton & Freemantle; Aslett, Dunbar, Tanner, Bennett & Webb. No. 3 Platoon - Thomas; Pike & D. Atkins; Evans, D. Fleuret & Wallen; Thompson, White, A.I. Fleuret, Beardmore & Grierson.

Winning the toss the Platoon's captain elected to kick with the favourable wind though Tanner, who has a great reputation, nearly scored almost directly after the kick off. Pritchard was then tested but cleared well and exchanges were afterwards frequent between the two goals, the forwards, however, failing to drive home their attacks. On both sides the defenders put up a good show and for the home team D. Atkins, who was prominent throughout the match, quickly showed himself to be on the top of his form. For the most part of the first half play lacked vim neither side's forwards being able to get near the goal except on one or two occasions. Webb sent a stinging shot against the upright for the Marines while in retaliation A.I. Fleuret sent in a hard ground shot which, Pritchard saved well.

The visiting forwards did not seem to be able to get into their stride and though they made a number of efforts their shots lacked direction. The Platoon's forwards were inclined to indulge in too much close-in passing and were apt to dally with the ball.

At half time the score sheet remained clean but fairly early in the second half Tanner opened the score with a low shot the goal-keeper failed to hold. Play brightened considerably and though Seaton worked hard to manœuvre the ball for his wingers the persistent and dogged work of the Platoon's inside forwards ably supported by the halves and backs brought several exciting melees to the Marines goal mouth from one of which White equalised, making the score 1 - 1.

The direction of the wind had changed and had increased in force favouring one team no more than the other and during this period Pritchard had to keep an alert eye on the ball for the opposing forwards were pressing to some purpose whereas the Marine forwards could only manage to make an occasional break-away. In another scotie in the visitors' goal-mouth an adept piece of passing gave A.I. Fleuret his chance and with a difficult first timer he put the Platooners ahead. Soon afterwards the Platoon's goal had a lucky escape. Freemantle having stopped a rush by Thompson and White, Seaton passed the ball ahead to Tanner who broke through and had only the goal-keeper to beat. Unfortunately for him his shot was deflected over the cross-bar by the latter's head as Thomas came out to intercept.

Soon afterwards Pike was instrumental in nullifying a dangerous move by Bennett and Webb while at the other end Beardmore's header was neatly countered with a good clearance by Raynor. Pettitt then sent Aslett and Dunbar away on the left wing but a smart interception Wallen gave Grierson a good chance on the left wing but his centre from near the corner post was smartly punched away and then cleared by the Marine's goal-keeper. Evans who stuck well to his man robbed Freemantle of a good opening but a well judged movement engineered by Seaton whose pass to Tanner was quickly returned to Tanner gave the last named his equalising goal within two or three minutes of time so that the game ended 2 - 2 after a well fought contest.

FRENCH MINISTERS' COUNCIL TO-DAY.

The new French Cabinet differs very little from that of M. Daladier and from a political standpoint there is to be no change. But the main question seems to be how will M. Sarraut, the Premier, persuade the Chamber to adopt the proposals as similar as they are to those of the last Government.

A meeting of the Ministers is to be held to-day in Paris and it is believed that the Government's plans are to be fully discussed at this council; though it is not expected that their conclusions will be submitted to the Chamber until Friday.

RECOVERY REACTION.

According to a message from New York the American Government has advanced the price of gold to 31.76 dollars per ounce, this being 1.96 above Tuesday's price last week and 41 pence above London's. In spite of this the dollar again failed to respond.

A reaction to the Recovery Drive has settled on American business, says the Daily Telegraph correspondent, the official returns proving that a substantial general decline in business has occurred.

COTTON AGREEMENT REACHED.

Agreement reached between Lancashire and India

A message from Calcutta reports that the conditions of the Agreement between the Lancashire cotton delegates and the Indian mill owners are: The Indian protective tariffs should be higher against the foreign than the British imports; no fresh proposals are to be made regarding the British piece goods duties when the present surcharges are removed; and Indian goods should participate in any advantages secured for British goods in the Empire markets.

The Lancashire delegates are pleased with the results of the negotiations while India generally welcomes the official report favouring such a solution of the trade problem in relation to Japanese rivalry by common consent.

Meanwhile discussions revolve about the exchange fluctuations and these may result in specific duties being agreed on the present rupee and yen exchange basis.

The "Times of India" hails the Anglo-Indian Agreement as being more important politically than economically, but the Ahmedabad mill-owners and other textile centres are denouncing the Bombay mill-owners' action.

THE SUBMARINE QUESTION.

The Daily Telegraph states on reliable authority that in view of the probability of Great Britain again urging the total abolition of submarines at the next Naval Conference, Japan is ready to scrap her submarines with the abolition of aircraft carriers also.

This is the attitude of the Japanese Naval Staff which is now virtually able to frame its own policy and, with Britain, the United States and Japan now agreeing the possibility of the under-water arm being outlawed is becoming less remote.

FRENCH FINANCIAL RECONSTRUCTION.

The first Cabinet meeting of the new French Government was held on Monday with the object of preparing a programme for presentation to the Chamber on Friday.

Realising that there can be no delay in dealing with the financial question the Government has decided to ask for 5,000 million francs immediately says the Daily Telegraph correspondent.

The prevalent idea is the presentation of a Bill on Friday to be sent to the Senate and voted for, practically without discussion, within a few hours of leaving the Chamber. It is thus hoped to secure the passing of the financial reconstruction scheme which is to be put in hand, leaving the Budget as a whole for a later discussion.

It is hereby notified for general information, that the following arrangements have been approved by the Acting Governor for the observance in this Colony of armistice Day, the 11th of November, 1933.

Divine Service will be held in the Cathedral at 10.20 a.m. at which His Excellency will attend officially and will be supported by Captain C.O. Alexander, R.N., of H.M.S. "Dauntless" and the Honourable Members of Councils. The Band and five Platoons from H.M.S. At the end of the service the Governor and the several bodies on parade will proceed to the Cemetery. At 10.58 a.m. a gun will be fired by H.M.S. "Dauntless". The customary Two Minutes' Silence will then be observed after which at 11.0 a.m. a second gun will be fired and the Last Post sounded at the Cemetery by a Bugler from H.M.S. "Dauntless". His Excellency will lay a wreath at the foot of the Cross of Sacrifice, and the Ceremony will terminate. Wreaths may then be laid by private individuals at the foot of the Cross of Sacrifice and on the Naval and Military graves.

It is hoped that as many of the public as possible will be present both at the Service in the Cathedral and at the Ceremony at the Cemetery and that Heads of Departments and Government servants generally will make a special effort to attend.

The Children from the Government School will not be present at the Cathedral, but will be assembled and drawn up in readiness for the Ceremony at the Cross of Sacrifice.

By Command,

Stanley,
1st November, 1933.

A.I. Fleuret,

NATURE IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

Fourteen countries were represented at the International Conference which opened in the House of Lords on Monday to consider means of preserving and protecting the flora and fauna of Africa.

Lord Plymouth, the Under Secretary for the Colonies, in welcoming the delegates, emphasised the needs for new methods to control the indiscriminate destruction of wild life. The British Government felt that this problem was urgent and the work of the Conference might well afford a basis for the protection of nature in other parts of the world.

A general discussion followed the conference which was to be resumed yesterday.

£1½ MILLION HARBOUR OPENED.

Secretary Of Colonies Palestine Address.

The magnificent new harbour at Haifa, the first to be constructed in Palestine since Herod built the great Caesarea in honour of his imperial patron, was formally opened on Monday. It transforms the upper roadstead which is unprotected into the finest harbour in the Levant.

The opening of the harbour, which has cost about £1,250,000 and which includes an area of 400 acres, was on Monday the occasion for an exchange of wireless messages between the High Commissioner, Sir Arthur Wauchope, and the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Sir Phillip Cunliffe Lister.

The High Commissioner expressed his belief that the harbour would result in increased prosperity to Palestine whose rapidly expanding trade it was designed to serve. He also referred to the fact that it would not have been built had not the British Government guaranteed the loan raised by the Palestine Government to provide the necessary capital.

The Colonial Secretary, after congratulating the Harbour Works Department and the consulting engineers, Messrs Rendel, Palmer & Tritton, mentioned that during the four years of the harbour's construction Arabs and Jews had worked together and about seventy per cent of its cost had been spent in Palestine itself.

Having referred to the great value such a harbour must be to Palestine, the Colonial Secretary made an outspoken reference to the recent riots. He said "To-day's ceremony is overshadowed by the deplorable disturbances which have taken place." He would speak very plainly to the people of Palestine. Thirteen years ago Great Britain accepted the Mandate of Palestine. The Mandate carried with it a clear duty to the Arabs and the Jews. That duty will be discharged truly and fairly without fear or favour.

U.S.A. DISTURBED BY FAR EAST NEWS.

The Daily Telegraph states that the United States "Ambassador at Large," Mr Davis, is returning to Washington for instructions relative to the Disarmament discussions and will not return until December.

Diplomatic circles regard Mr Davis's departure as significant, being more pronounced since his Geneva deputy will not intervene in the European arms dispute. The opinion is widely held that Washington is seriously perturbed over the communications from the Far East which threaten to paralyse the United States influence in the western world.

German opinion regards Mr Davis's departure as a triumph for the Reich inasmuch as it signifies that America considers the disarmament questions as solely affecting European countries while elsewhere Mussolini's adherence to the Four Power Pact is cited for the belief that Italy requires signatories to the agreement before further steps are taken.

---o---o---

A TOKIO DENIAL.

The Japanese Naval Department Spokesman, in referring to the Daily Telegraph's statement that Japan is willing to abolish submarines, says that the proposal cannot be considered for a moment.

Naval opinion in Japan agrees with the abolition of offensive vessels like aircraft carriers but cannot countenance the scrapping of submarines which are definitely of a defensive nature.

London opinion is that this official disclaimer does not affect Japan's attitude but is made as an indication that the time is not opportune for a formal declaration of the national attitude.

The Japanese War Minister, Count Araki, has suggested that Japan should call a Far Eastern Peace Conference to which the powers mainly interested in the Orient should be invited and this meets with German approval.

FURTHER DOLLAR CHANGES.

Official circles at Washington foresee that there will be further changes in the United States monetary policy as a result of the confusion and uncertainty prevailing in banking circles.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation on Wednesday was offering 32.12 dollars an ounce for gold, which is an increase of sixteen cents over the previous day. Simultaneously London prices dropped as much as $7\frac{1}{2}$ pence.

The dollar has proved unresponsive to American buying and the chief reason ascribed to the Finance Corporation's inability to make the policy effective is its inability to buy sufficient gold.

THE PERONILLE MYSTERY.

Tragic Disappearance Of The Crew.

What appears to be a most distressing tragedy that has cast a deep gloom over Stanley has been revealed by the urgent journey of the schooner Perfecta Garcia to the Volunteer Point on Thursday. It is believed that the captain and crew of three of the schooner Peronille have been drowned but under what circumstances no one at present can tell.

The names of the unfortunate men are : Mr Jim Davis (captain) Mr Tom Binnie jnr., Albert Whitney and Roy Davis. Both Mr Davis and Mr Binnie are married and each has a little daughter.

The Peronille left Stanley on Sunday, the 22nd of October, to go egging and since no further word had been heard of her anxious enquiries by telephone to Port Louis revealed on Thursday morning that the schooner was anchored off the Volunteer Lagoon with her pram smashed up on the beach and although the vessel was hailed there was no response and no sign of life.

The Perfecta Garcia set out about 12.30 p.m. on Thursday under her captain, Mr Jack Davis, among those on board being Messrs D. Davis, F. Davis, B. Ratcliffe, Jack Alazia, Andreas Bonner and N. Whitney, and returned mournfully about 11.30 p.m towing the ill-fated Peronille but without any comforting news about the missing men. It was silently and sadly that the large crowd of people who had collected on the Public Jetty dispersed.

We understand that Mr Andreas Bonner volunteered to remain behind to assist in the search of the beaches being made by men from Johnson's Harbour and Port Louis.

In due course an Enquiry will be held but at the moment no light can be shed on this terrible mystery which has brought catastrophe to the homes of these unfortunate men; to their relatives we tender our heartfelt sympathy.

COTTON CONFERENCE DOUBT.

While the outcome of the Indo-Lancashire cotton negotiations are regarded as satisfactory it is feared that the Japanese delegates will leave without reaching an agreement, says the Daily Telegraph Bombay correspondent.

Prospects of a settlement are becoming rapidly worse and the Indian authorities are considering an alternative programme to continue from the expiry of the present convention on the 10th of November.

There is a feeling that too much has already been conceded to Japan but the quantitative gap in respect of textile imports is under discussion and amounts to 100 million yards.

BRITAIN CONTINUES TO RECOVER.

Striking evidence that Britain and the Empire are recovering from the depression has been proved in several quarters, says the Daily Telegraph.

The opening day of the Commercial Motor Transport Exhibition resulted in new records in the value and the number of orders received, two firms alone securing sales totalling over £300,000.

The Sydney wool prices are almost double compared with 1932 with the result that the farmers will receive over £20,000,000 more for the season's clip while the Commonwealth's Postal and Customs revenue is a quarter of a million above the corresponding period of for 1932.

The South Africans have a favourable trade balance up to £19,250,000 millions with imports of £10,500,000 and exports of £2,250,000 above last year's for the same period.

Canada's nickel export is almost quadrupled to £800,000 as compared with 1932, supplying ninety per cent of the world's demand.

FRENCH POLITICAL PROGRAMME.

Facing the Chamber for the first time on Saturday, M. Sarraut, the new Premier, immediately presented his programme to the deputies. The main points of the programme were : administrative economies forthwith; relief from excessive taxation to encourage trade activity; schemes for further public works and the development of transport, and the extension of the French colonial markets.

In the course of his speech M. Sarraut said "France will not allow herself to be diverted from the task she assumed at Geneva in complete solidarity with all the Peace Treaty signatories and of the League of Nations' Pact, thus pursuing the work undertaken on essential bases agreed upon in principle by Great Britain, the United States and with the full accord of the other friendly nations."

These "friendly nations" mentioned in approving terms "in a world in disorder" were Great Britain, the United States, Italy, Russia, Belgium, Poland and the little Entente.

The Premier also referred ambiguously to a "fiscal reform" which will be necessary in the near future with national economy needing a charter and a set of statutes.

U.S.A. & THE DOLLAR.

According to a message from Washington on Saturday the Finance Corporation advanced the price of gold 21 cents to 32.57 dollars with the London price falling one penny to 133/2d.

It is reliably stated in Paris that the Bank de France sold ten million francs in gold for the American account on Saturday.

The New York Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution demanding an immediate governmental action towards the restoration of a permanent gold standard, expressing the view that delay would impede recovery and emphasising the importance of an unequivocal announcement that automatic or managed commodity dollars would not be accepted.

The Treasury figures indicate that for the first six months legal beer has produced seventy-five million dollars and the full year is expected to produce over 150 million dollars in taxation.

ITALIAN GOVERNMENTAL CHANGES.

It is stated from Rome that all Italy is speculating as to whether Mussolini will announce the doom of the Chamber of Deputies in the Council of Corporations to be held on Wednesday.

It is believed that the Council will be given the control of the economic activities of the nation; in which event there will be three legislative bodies with that of the Chamber being considered superfluous.

With the object of giving young officers a better chance of higher command, in the Italian army, navy and air force, the Government on Saturday nominated four generals and four new admirals to the Senate. Eleven generals were nominated to the Senate a week ago in order to speed up promotion.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Estimates For 1934.

The principle business at the Legislative Council Meeting held in the Court and Council Chamber of the Town Hall on Thursday last was the passing of the Bill providing for the Service of the year 1934.

In reviewing the Estimates before the Council proceeded with the enactment of the Bill, His Excellency the Acting Governor, who presided, said that so far as the Colony proper was concerned, the Estimates for the coming year had been made to balance. The Ordinary Revenue amounted to £51,978 and exceeded the total expenditure by £46. This result had been obtained without the necessity of imposing extra taxation.

The Acting Governor remarked upon the need of extreme caution made necessary in the preparing of the Estimates. The figure for the ordinary revenue for 1934 showed a decrease as compared with the £55,957 in 1933. This decrease had been more than accounted for by the anticipated falling off of import duties on Wines and Spirits - due to smaller importations, - of the export of Seal Oil, and to the reduction in the amount received in the sale of stamps consequent upon the withdrawal of the Centenary issue at the end of the year. It was shown that an increase of £550 had been provided for in the Hospital and Medical Department, the increase being due mainly to the contribution of £400 from the West Falkland Farmers towards the salary of the newly appointed Government Medical Officer for the West Falkland.

Expenditure Decrease.

His Excellency went on to say that the expenditure for 1934 had been estimated at £37,292 under the twenty ordinary heads, or less than £924 than the approved estimate for 1933; and that under all heads it amounted to £51,932 or less by £3,389 than the approved estimate for 1933. The estimate of ordinary expenditure had not been below this figure since the year 1926 when it amounted to £36,678.

The reduction in the proposed expenditure had been made possible by the proposed re-organisation of the Post Office, the Electrical and Legal Departments, and by the retrenchment of the office of Veterinary Officer. In addition it was proposed to abolish the office of First Clerk to the Post Office and to appoint the present holder, Miss F. M. Carey, to be Postmaster with a salary in the scale of £250-£110-£300 and a Personal Allowance of £30 in recognition of her length of service.

For reasons of economy it was also proposed to abolish the office of Superintendent of Electrical Department and to suggest the appointment of the Senior Wireless Operator to be Chief Electrician with an allowance of £50 per annum, and further, to create a new office of Electrician and to regrade the salary of Telephone Linesman. On the (other hand it had been suggested that the Electrical Department should be placed under the Director of Public Works. But until a definite decision had been arrived at Mr Butcher would continue as Officer-in-Charge.

The duties of Magistrate and Registrar General and so on, and of Harbour Master, were to be performed by the Treasurer and Collector of Customs without additional remuneration and those of Registrar of the Supreme Court, by the Chief Clerk in the Treasury and Customs Department with an allowance of £50. The office of Veterinary Officer had been substituted by that of Inspector of Stock with salary in the scale of £300-£225-£350, and a horse allowance of £12.

Public Utility Schemes.

With regard to the extraordinary expenditure the estimate of expenditure had been drawn up primarily with an eye to the unemployment problem which, as yet, had shown no indications of any appreciable alleviation, and to this end provision had been made for various schemes of public utility.

The Dependencies' estimate showed an anticipated revenue over expenditure of £3,590. As compared with 1933 the estimate of the revenue showed an increase of £1,325 and the estimate of the expenditure a decrease of £1,453.

In conclusion His Excellency said "I can say, I think, with confidence, that the estimates have been framed on sound lines and the revenue carefully calculated. Furthermore, I am hopeful that the expenditure will suffice to meet all demands."

Tariffs & Currency Notes.

Two other Bills were passed by the Council. The first was a Bill to amend the Tariff Ordinance, 1900, as amended by the Tariff (Import Duties) Amendment Ordinances, 1929 and 1931, enacted by the direction of the Secretary of State for the Colonies for the purpose of defining the term "British Empire" with relation to Empire Tariffs. The second was a Bill to amend the Falkland Islands Currency Notes Ordinance, 1930 whereby the "A" and "B" series of notes would be declared void.

JAPAN'S NEW MOVE.

The official announcement from London that Japan has decided to construct an aerodrome on the island of Saipan, with the object of studying the atmospheric conditions, promises to have certain political reactions says the Daily Telegraph Naval correspondent.

Saipan is the principal island in the Marianne group southeast of the islands formerly belonging to Germany and controlled by Japan under a mandate from the League of Nations.

Japan's withdrawal from the League takes effect in 1935 but it has been already intimated from Tokio that Japan is not prepared to evacuate the island.

Saipan lies across the direct route between the United States and the Philippines and in proximity to Guam, the United States insular base, and Japan's move is likely to be viewed with considerable interest in the United States.

A Reuter message from Riga announces that ten Japanese military planes including scouts and bombers, penetrated into Soviet territory on Friday last and, according to a Vladivostok report it is understood that the Soviet are making a sharp retort.

EMPLOYMENT AT HOME.

The Ministry of Labour figures issued in London on Monday evening showed that employment in the United Kingdom is steadily increasing with the October returns 44,000 above the September, 640,000 more than in January, and 537,000 more than a year ago.

The number of unemployed registered was 37,947 less than the previous month and 448,252 below the corresponding date in 1932.

The coal-mining, engineering, metal works, cottons, woollens, hosiery, pottery, shoe industries show improvement.

Tributes From Stanley.

A deeply impressive though sad Naval ceremony was witnessed in Stanley yesterday afternoon for the first time for a number of years, with the funeral of the late Acting Leading Seaman Arthur R. Fairburn of H.M.S. Dauntless, who died on board ship on Monday.

The Funeral Parade, under the command of Lieutenant F.M. Beasley, formed up at 2.0 p.m. outside the King Edward Memorial Hospital where the deceased sailor had been taken. In the van was the Firing Party under the charge of Chief Petty Officer Hamblyn, with the Marines' Band, their drums draped, and led by Bandmaster Weller next. Petty Officer Elkins was in charge of the gun carriage and crew while the Escort, consisting of messmates and representatives of each branch of the ship was commanded by Lieutenant J.H. Dathan. Master-at-Arms Hathaway was in charge of the mourners and these were followed by a detachment of the Royal Marines under the charge of Sergeant Anglin and a platoon of the Falkland Islands Defence Force commanded by Lieutenant W.M. Allan (Adjutant) and Second Lieutenant A.I. Fleuret.

The officers of H.M.S. Dauntless who also followed in addition to Captain C.O. Alexander R.N., commanding the ship, and Major the Hon. J. Innes Moir, representing His Excellency the Acting Governor, were : Commander G.H. Faulkner D.S.C., Lieutenant Commander E. St V. Sherbrooke, Lieutenant Commander H.G. Dickinson (G), Lieutenant A. Kirkconnel (E), Surg. Lieutenant Commander Keevil, Paymaster Commander ...E.A. Bagar, Commissioned Gunner Goldfinch, Gunner Cook, Warrant Shipwright Sharp, Schoolmaster R.B. Hollis, Midshipmen J.D. Sutcliffe, P.M. Rhodes and M.M. Collings and Pay-Sub-Lieutenant T.G.P. Luxmoore.

The Funeral Parade, followed by a large number of the public, passed along St Mary's Walk, Middle Road and to the Cemetery to the strains of the music of the band. At the grave-side full Naval honours were accorded the dead man and the burial service was read by Captain Alexander, the touching ceremony concluding with the sounding of the "Last Post" by Bugler Clethemo. The bearers of the coffin which was covered with the Union Jack, were : Petty Officer Gunner, and Leading Seaman Anderson, Brooks, Riche, Legg, Walker, May and Lawrence.

Acting Leading Seaman Fairburn, who was twenty-seven years of age, has a home at Portsmouth where he is survived by his widow and little child to whom we extend our deepest sympathy in their loss.

FOOTBALL.

H.M.S. Dauntless 3 : Defence Force 1.

The long looked for match between H.M.S. Dauntless and the Defence Force took place yesterday evening when the Ship won comfortably by 3 - 1. Though the game was not exactly replete with thrills, it provided a number of exciting situations in which the Ship's forwards were generally most prominent. Had the Defence Force forwards been able to give as convincing a display as the Ship's a different tale might have been told.

The weather in the first half of the game, when the home team's captain elected to kick against the wind, was bad and, to make matters worse, was punctuated with bitter hail squalls. It was soon obvious that the Sailors were to play forcefully and the Soldiers goal was well tested. Hemming almost "drew blood" with a perfect corner which had the goal-keeper beaten but the ball was headed out from the goal line by D. Fleuret who, throughout the match played an excellent game at back. Once or twice the Defence Force forwards broke away but they were unconvincing against Moore and Nicholson. Then came a piece of bad luck for the Defence Force. A hand was awarded the Ship in the penalty area and Cooke (the captain) scored easily from the spot.

Quickly opening the play from the centre and giving a display of combination which, unfortunately, was not to be repeated during the rest of the game, Williams got away on his wing and Vennell was tested. But before the goal-keeper could clear he found himself surrounded and Grierson scored from the melee. A little later a penalty was awarded the Defence Force but Vennell saved the shot which was taken by A.I. Fleuret.

The ball was not long before it was down the other end of the field and though the home defence worked hard to clear their line and open up the game for their forwards the Ship's marksmen were too attentive to allow them many opportunities and those they did get were well checked by Moore, Morellec and Nicholson. Downs had Aldridge well covered while Tanner did not allow Williams much freedom. Hemmings and Dorricott kept well down their wings and some smart and dangerous centres were coming from them in spite of the strenuous work of Sullivan, a sterling player at centre-half, and the remainder of the Defence who were all in good fettle. Shortly before half time, after many efforts to get ahead Dorricott scored a fine goal from a pass by Hemming, making the score 2 - 1 in the Ship's favour.

With the wind in their favour in the second half the Defence Force should have given a better account of themselves but they failed to show their best form and many times disappointed the spectators. It was not for the want of effort, for they certainly tried often enough, but they just could not show any combination nor could they seem to ease the pressure being brought to bear on their own defence by the opposing forwards; there was a definite lack of coordination. On the other hand the Dauntless team worked well together, covering each other and passing accurately. Dorricott was always dangerous on his wing while the centre-forward, backed up well by Grant and Cairns, gave Pike, who played well, Sullivan and Wallen a trying time, not to mention the backs and the goal-keeper. Eventually the sailors again found their objective Cooke breaking through between the backs to shoot. The goal-keeper failed to hold the ball which rebounded on to the centre-forward's foot and was then unhesitatingly put into the goal making the score 3 - 1 in the Ship's favour.

It was not until ten minutes from the end that the home forwards were able to find themselves but they were even then unable to defeat Vennell who brought off several smart saves, one particularly good one from a close shot by Aldridge. The Defence Force were still attacking when the final whistle blew.

THE FLANDERS POPPY.

Earl Haig's British Legion

Appeal Fund.

Haig's Fund rose out of the ashes of the Great War and stands to-day as our greatest and most human memorial to the million who gave their lives for the Empire.

The Fund owes its birth to the late Field-Marshal Earl Haig who realised only too well that peace with victory would not bring its just reward to the men who made it possible.

In their need these men, helpless through the sufferings and privations of the war, have looked to Haig's Fund, and Haig's Fund can truly be said to amply justify the hopes of its gallant and very human founder, as with the aid of the ever generous British public throughout the Empire, work of the first importance has been carried out in alleviating distress amongst ex-Service men of all ranks, their dependants, and the widows and children of those who fell.

Haig's Fund, therefore, appeals most earnestly for the very generous support of all to-day, the fifteenth anniversary of the Armistice, when Flanders Poppies are being sold in remembrance of those who fell.

DO YOUR BIT AS THEY DID THEIR'S - AND BUY A POPPY.

AFGHAN'S NEW KING.

The seventeen year old son of the assassinated Nadir Shah Ghazi has been proclaimed king of Afghanistan and according to a message from Bombay on Wednesday the declaration of allegiance was received unanimously.

A Peshawar message on Thursday states that the Nadir Shah was killed by servants of the royal household when he was leaving the harem, being shot three times. Still surviving he was dragged away and despatched with daggers. The murder occurred about 15.00 o'clock on Wednesday.

The exiled king Amanullah, who is now in Rome, states the "Nadir was a danger to the people and Afghanistan and I cannot help feeling a little glad that he is gone. I am ready to return if my people desire it."

The Daily Telegraph correspondent in Bombay states that while the Indian Government communique discounts the probability of Kabul rising, the outlook is not without anxiety as there is a possibility of the disaffected elements supporting some "strong man" against the new king. Nevertheless the Premier, who is now absent from the capital, is popular and a loyal supporter of the new king.

SLASHING ATTACK ON LEAGUE.

Coincident with General Goering's departure from Rome, Sgr. Davanazi has made a slashing attack on Geneva in the newspaper "Tribuna". Davanazi is a member of the Fascist Grand Council.

It is emphatically stated in the newspaper that "International embulations are perfectly harmless" and Germany's departure from the League and the Disarmament Conference must be taken as a political problem of the relations between Britain, Italy, France and Germany and the relations ought to be loyally defined."

The writer adds that those who rely upon the juridical and cavalling propositions of a "Useless Disarmament Conference and a more languid League of Nations" must realise that Germany's departure is of limited importance because these institutions are without the slightest efficacy.

In suggesting the Balkanising of Europe Davanazi says the nations "must find again that world sense which has been lost in the progressive imbecility of juridical affirmation."

The article manifests Italy's anxiety to bring disarmament away from Geneva into the ambit of a Four Power Pact.

FOOTBALL.

Defence Force 2 ; H.M.S. Dauntless 0.

Yesterday afternoon in a return match with the Ship, the Defence Force revenged their defeat of the previous Thursday by beating the Dauntless 2 - 0. This is the first time for over two years that a Stanley team has achieved the distinction of winning a match against a man-o'-war.

The weather was not at all propitious. An awkward and strong wind blew obliquely across the ground throughout the game and made ball control difficult but in spite of this handicap both sides maintained a fair standard of play.

Winning the toss the Ship's captain elected to kick with the wind in his favour. Quickly assailed, the home team's goal had two narrow escapes within the first five minutes. Once Cairns was in front of an open goal but in taking a pass from his centre-forward he handled and forfeited his chance. The second time, Tanner's shot hit the post and bounced off on to the foot of Cooke but before this player could drive the ball home Wallen got his foot to it and cleared.

Throughout the half the Dauntless did most of the attacking but on one or two occasions, through good combination on the part of the Defence Force forwards Vennell, the ship's keeper, found his goal threatened in a determined manner. But the solid work of his backs relieved him of any fear of danger and when called upon himself he cleared easily.

Morellec, the sailors' centre-half placed the ball well for his forwards and several times the home goal was hotly attacked. Once a fine shot by Hemming was, unfortunately for the ship, tipped over the bar while several melees in front of goal were cleared only after some very anxious moments. D. Atkins and D. Fleuret played well for the home team and O'Sullivan (as the pivot) with the half backs did a great deal of good work.

Partly owing to the wind the Defence Force forwards were not often in the picture this half but their offensive tactics did much to relieve the pressure for the defenders so that Cooke and his forwards were unable to make the pace which stood them in good stead in the previous match. And, in spite of the advantage of the wind several good chances were missed by the ship's forwards so that at half time no goals had been scored.

In the second half there were signs of the ship trying to develop an intense short passing game but their efforts were admirably frustrated by the Stanley defenders who were so effective that the goal-keeper was hardly troubled. The halves and forwards, in contrast to the previous game, were showing a good understanding and A.I. Fleuret, at centre-forward was able to use his wingers to good advantage; the two inside forwards were also playing smartly.

Continuous onslaughts were made on the ship's goal and although the sailors' forwards tried their utmost to break down the Stanley defence the ball always quickly returned to harass their own backs. In one of these onslaughts, about twenty minutes after the re-start, so exciting was the effort that Nicholson overstretched his privileges and punched the ball over the cross-bar in order to stop a certain goal. But the moment was only delayed a few seconds for F. O'Sullivan made no mistake with the resultant penalty. Excitement almost reached bursting point with the new development of Stanley taking the lead and though the ship's forwards made several spirited efforts to equalise they found the opposing defence impenetrable, and the wind playing uncouth tricks with their passes so that the ball was not long out of their own half at any time. Fleuret, Creech and S. Atkins were now working with such determination that it was obvious they were not content to win the match on a penalty. The chance came about a quarter of an hour from the end when a high bouncing shot completely deceived Vennell. The ball hit the ground just in front of Vennell and the goalkeeper had the mortification of seeing it sail up over his head to hit the cross-bar and rebound on to Creece's chest into the goal. When the final whistle went the score stood at 2 - 0 in the Defence Force's favour.

MACDONALD'S APPEAL.

The Premier, Mr Ramsay MacDonald, took the opportunity at the Lord Mayor's Banquet in the Guild Hall last week, to make an eloquent appeal to Germany to rejoin the Disarmament Conference, stating that the British Government are prepared to do everything possible to bring about the confidence which alone could result in a satisfactory Convention.

The Premier said that the German withdrawal from the Conference and the League had increased European fears and suspicions, and her failure to understand had been Germany's fatal mistake.

Her act had almost amounted to a repudiation of the world's peace machinery and while some of the terms of the Peace Treaty may have left some irritating grievances the policy she had adopted had made the removal of these more difficult.

Von Neurath has indicated that his government had some proposals, said Mr MacDonald, adding "We should like to have them. They will receive the most favourable and impartial consideration."

---o---o---

FRENCH FRONTIER ATTITUDE.

German armaments was the subject of a powerful attack by the Deputy Mendel in the French Chamber on Thursday last week. He declared that Germany was no longer hiding her intention of recovering by force her territories lost in the war.

According to the Daily Telegraph Paris correspondent, Mendel suggested that Germany intended abolishing France's margin of armament superiority, subsequently demanding a revision of the treaties and the rectification of the frontiers. But, he argued, war was not a French instrument; she was relying on the comity of nations.

EUROPEAN REACTION TO GERMAN MOVE.

Responsible Italian circles, a message from Rome reports, consider that the time has not yet arrived to resume the examination of the disarmament problem in the light of Germany's departure from the League. This view emanates from a semi-official statement dealing with the Hitler Letter.

It is pointed out in the letter which General Goering handed to Mussolini that there could be no question of concrete proposals being made at present, and the document was only a retrospective examination of the situation explanatory of Germany's action.

While Berlin appears to be unmoved by Mr Ramsay MacDonald's Guild Hall speech, which has aroused a fresh access to self-complacency in certain quarters according to a Daily Telegraph message, there have been fresh outbursts in the French Chamber relative to Germany's alleged armed state.

M. K. Taitlinger, the leader of the Right group, dwelling on France's need of allies said that London could be destroyed within a few nights and England's fate settled in three weeks according to German specialists and therefore, Britain, "who has gone far along the disarmament way, cannot isolate herself from Europe and should be with us."

The Belgian senator, M. de Dordalot, stated before the Foreign Affairs Committee in Brussels on Friday last that Germany had not disarmed and produced a secret dossier based on the final report of the Inter-Allied Control Commission. Considerable speculation was aroused but it was later established that the document was seven years old and without immediate significance.

---o---o---

CUBAN SITUATION.

A message from Havana on Friday last stated that the rebels occupying the Atares fortress surrendered after being shelled. This submission disposed of the threat to sack the British and American premises with the avowed purpose of forcing American intervention.

A later report states that the capital is now returning to normal and the defeated insurgents are now gaoled to await a court-martial. It was estimated that 150 were killed and 300 wounded in the battle at the Atares fortress while the prisoners numbered approximately 1,000.

It is understood that the former president de Cespedes is taking refuge in the foreign legations while news from Tampa announces that the United States battleship Wyoming has been despatched to Havana.

DOLLAR FINANCE.

A London message reports that the dollar fell more sharply at the end of last week and the general belief on both sides of the Atlantic was that President Roosevelt will force the currency to a more depreciated level.

While there was a continual mistrust of the French financial position American money was pouring into London for the purchase of leading British industrial shares and this was likely to continue stated the financial experts in London.

BOLSHEVISTIC UTTERANCE AGAINST JAPAN.

The Daily Telegraph Moscow correspondent quoted on Friday last a speech made by the Japanese Bolshevik Okano, at a compatriot's funeral which was made the occasion of a demonstration against the existing Japanese regime.

Okano declared : "We swear to turn war on Japanese imperialism if its hand is lifted against the Soviet, in civil war for freeing the Japanese workers and for overthrowing the monarchy of military policemen."

Stalin's chief lieutenant Kagonovitch also stated "The Japanese shall only fight against the landlords and the bourgeois of their country."

VATICAN PROTEST.

According to a Reuter message from the Vatican City, the Holy See is making a protest to the German Government as the result of General Goering's election speech in which he described Catholics as "Black Moles" and added in reference to Catholic officials in Germany that, for fourteen years they had used the pulpit and confessional "to exercise pressure where-ever possible."

The speech was broadcast and heard by the Household Prelate who reported it to the Pontiff who later summoned the State Secretary General, Cardinal Pacelli, with whom he remained closeted over half an hour.

From Munich the Daily Telegraph correspondent states that serious difficulties have long been existing between the Vatican and the German Government on the question of Concordat, the exact details of which are unrevealed.

O'DUFFY COSGRAVE POLICY.

According to a report from Dublin the policy of the United Ireland Party, headed by General O'Duffy and Mr Cosgrave, has been issued. The main point in the policy outlines the voluntary re-union of all Ireland in a single independent State without abatement of Irish sovereignty as a member of the British Commonwealth.

The programme also seeks an advantageous settlement by direct negotiations of the financial dispute with Britain and a trade treaty securing favourable terms for Irish goods in British markets.

An unconditional opposition to Communism is declared and a repudiation of any "self declared" army or dictatorship to exercise political authority.

NEW DOLLAR RECORD.

Six To The Pound Envisaged.

Breaking all post-war records the dollar on sterling reached 5.34 (21/11 $\frac{1}{2}$ d) in New York on Tuesday, but rallied later to 5.27 exceeding the drop which arithmeticians had calculated on the gold price.

Washington had fixed the gold price at 33.56 which was eleven cents above Monday's while in London it dropped 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ d.

There is considerable speculation as to how far Britain will permit the pound evaluation before applying the brake. Many observers are envisaging a six dollar pound if the capital's flight is unchecked.

MUSSOLINI SPEAKS OUT.

"The League Absurd."

Addressing a general assembly of the National Council of Corporations on Tuesday Mussolini was thunderously applauded when he attacked the League of Nations which he declared as "absurd" and condemned parliament as an "Anachronism," says the Daily Telegraph Rome correspondent.

The Duce said "The League of Nations was started with good principles but it lost all political meaning or historical import with the withdrawal of several of the great powers, while the nation which invented it never joined."

In stating that parliaments were contrary to national mentality he said that the present parliament would be presupposing the "world" that had been demolished.

The Chamber of Deputies would be superseded by the creation of National Council Gulias to legislate all national economic matters.

In the course of his speech Mussolini referred to the Japanese exports creeping in everywhere and he stressed the need for political unity in Europe for meeting the situation when recourse would necessarily be made to the Four Power Pact.

---o---o---

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR LANCASHIRE.

Simultaneous with the announcement in Manchester and Delhi on Tuesday of a new agreement to be negotiated between India and Britain concerning trade was the outstanding feature of Sir W. Clare Lees' (Chairman of the Lancashire Delegation to India) report to the leaders of the cotton and silk industries in Manchester.

Sir William said that the Indian Government had given assurance that they would enter into negotiations with England immediately the Japanese negotiations had been concluded. The door had been thus opened, said Sir William, for a new and improved basis for trade relations, the advantages of which to both parties were significant.

It is suggested that Lancashire should immediately increase its Indian cotton takings as a desirable measure of economic reciprocity with an agreement constituting the best safeguard Lancashire could obtain; but it is essential that Lancashire should cooperate wholeheartedly.

GERMAN PLEBISCITE RESULT.

Decisive Moment In European History.

Voting passed off peacefully in Germany, a message from Berlin reported on Monday with the following results given at a late hour that day: Reichstag 23,602,301 votes of which 22,000,198 were Nazi; there were 1,602,103 spoiled papers.

The polling booths were situated in taverns which were well frequented under the supervision of Nazi storm-troopers and the bulk of the votes were polled early in the day.

According to the Daily Telegraph correspondent the insignia of the dissolved political parties were not displayed.

In the late afternoon storm-troopers visited private houses demanding the production of the metal badges which had been provided to qualified inhabitants who had voted.

At midnight the figures were : Reichstag 30,861,242, Nazis 28,499,572; Plebescite 31,303,035 "Yes", 29,234,070 "No," with 1,539,775 spoiled papers.

The final position announced on Tuesday was : Reichstag election 45,141,954; of these 42,988,152 polled, 39,688,789 being Nazi while 3,549,363 papers were spoilt.

According to messages from all parts there is no spontaneous surprise except in the German press where it is claimed to a "triumph for Light over Darkness."

Paris await M. Paul Boncour's announcement but it is indicated that France's policy will be a continuation of Geneva cooperation, no tete-a-tete rapprochement with Germany, and no application of the Four Power Pact.

Realising that the results were a foregone conclusion Rome declares that the world must understand that it is impossible for Germany to recede from the position she has now taken up and that the moment is a decisive one in the history of Europe. Nevertheless Italy regards the situation as a victory for the Fascist idea.

The United States comments upon Hitler's chance to discard the republican constitution and ratify a new one with an election as the result of a "Tribute paid by the German people under ruthless regimentation."

Geneva awaits the next move with interest, expressing mild surprise that five per cent of the German population dared to indicate their disapproval of the Nazi policy.

A Reuter message states that there will be a political amnesty in Germany and all the concentration camps will be opened. The new Reichstag will consist of 661 members without an opposition, or women or Jews.

U.S.A. INSISTENCE & THE U.S.S.R.

It is reported from New York that President Roosevelt is insisting on a detailed understanding of all the important issues to be reached before America accords the Soviet any recognition.

It is understood that Russia's claim for reparations on account of American intervention in Archangel in 1919, exceeds the combined American debt and private claims, and Litvinoff is consulting Russia on this point.

The negotiations are likely to be further prolonged.

CABINET & ARMS DEADLOCK.

The Daily Telegraph states that at a late meeting on Wednesday the Cabinet considered the present arms deadlock in view of Germany being outside the Conference, and it was generally admitted that the present situation is extremely disturbing and must be remedied.

The Premier and the Foreign Secretary are concentrating on methods of ending the impasse while rumours that Sir John Simon is resigning are definitely denied.

The Foreign Secretary believes it possible to make a fresh start on the basis of the agreement already reached when Germany left the Conference, and the Cabinet discussion centred about the best method of achieving the object in view although the difficulties are not undated.

There will probably be the necessity of the governments of the various countries meeting one with another in the different capitals before the resumption of formal negotiations can be possible. It is definitely agreed that a quick solution is impossible.

HENDERSON & HIS RESIGNATION.

It is reported from Geneva that Mr Arthur Henderson may be invited to participate in the disarmaments conversations in Paris between M. Paul Boncour and Sir John Simon as the President of the Disarmament Conference outside Geneva.

It is understood that failing the arrival at Geneva of any of the important representatives of the Ministers who have taken part in the recent discussions, Mr Henderson will insist on handing in his resignation to the League Council.

According to a message from Brussels it is understood that following the disclosures of M Dorlodot from the final report of the Inter-Allied Commission of Control, the reference to German disarmament has been given publicity in which it is stated that Germany has hidden arms and stores, has erected new fortifications contrary to the provisions of the Peace Treaty, and has endeavoured to compensate for the reduction in her regular forces by militarised police and youthful military training.

The Report was kept secret and was only revealed to the Allied Governments in 1927. Senator Dorlodot's revelations are made in support of his campaign against the Belgian Government's foreign policy.

U.S.A. & SOVIET RECONCILIATION.

On Saturday the wireless press announced that President Roosevelt has made it known that the United States intends to resume normal relations with Soviet Russia and the exchange of ambassadors. The decision was reached at 23.50 on Thursday, says the Daily Telegraph New York correspondent.

The President has published a series of letters which have passed between himself and Litvinoff dealing with propaganda, religious freedom, legal protection and prosecutions of economic espionage, and it is estimated that there will be a speedy settlement on all outstanding questions.

Religious freedom for all United States residents in Russia is particularly stressed while it is definitely agreed that the Soviet will waive all claims rising out of the Siberian expedition.

William Christian Bullitt, a former journalist and the American member to the Commission to negotiate for Peace 1918 - 1919 and of the American Diplomatic Mission to Russia in 1919, has been appointed the United States Envoy, but Litvinoff remains silent relative to the Soviet's appointee.

It is understood that Litvinoff is remaining in Russia for several more days.

FRENCH TREASURY REQUIREMENTS.

A press message from Paris states that the Minister of Finance, M. Bonnet, has outlined France's financial position to the Chamber, emphasising the seriousness of draining gold from the Bank de France which, he states, is due more to psychological than to technical causes.

The Treasury's requirements for 1934 are estimated at seventeen milliards francs of which the Treasury is obliged to borrow a considerable part.

Opinion is divided on the subject of the loan, some stating that it should be made on London while others flatly contradict the necessity. Meanwhile the Finance Commission maintains a hostile attitude towards the Government proposals.

The French trade figures for the first ten months of the year show that the imports have decreased 1077 million francs to 10,245 million, while the exports have dropped 1773 million to 23,646 million francs.

THE SPANISH ELECTIONS.

Sixty political groups flooded Spain with pamphlets on Saturday, says the Daily Telegraph Madrid correspondent. In the city excited students marched in bodies through the streets while the atmosphere was heavy with presage of impending disturbances at the elections due yesterday (Sunday.)

The former Socialist Premier, Sr. Azana, and other party leaders have already threatened to resort to violence should the results prove unfavourable with the Fascists adopting a like attitude.

In Barcelona there is a strong measure of royalist support and shots have been exchanged between the opposing parties while the Syndicalist leader, Sr Pestana, states that the "Right" party is prepared to attempt a coup-d'etat.

- Geneva : Sir John Simon embarked on Saturday on a "Voyage of Exploration" designed to show the world that Britain takes the lead in the efforts now being made to bring Germany back to the Disarmament Conference. M. Poincaré has stated to the press that nothing has changed since the declaration of October last, so far as France was concerned and though the departure of Germany from the League and Conference was to be regretted it did not change his country's views on the situation.

THE SPANISH ELECTIONS.

Rats For The Ladies.

Considering the stirred up political passions of the people, Spain's election day on Sunday passed off fairly quietly. Disturbances in Seville and Valencia involved four fatalities while in Bilbao a Fascist was killed.

The disturbances were sufficiently widespread to influence the political destiny of the country the Daily Telegraph correspondent states although a picture of the trend was hardly obtainable so early in the election returns.

The Right has certainly registered perhaps significant gains in hitherto Socialist constituencies.

The women have flocked to the polls in greater numbers than anticipated. What they most resented in the Socialist regime has been the persecution of the Church.

The cathedral and churches in Madrid have been filled to overflowing with men and women, rich and humble, praying fervently.

In the Socialist stronghold at Bilbao where there has been a Nationalist triumph, the women supporters of the Right soundly smacked the face of Senor Prieto, the Socialist leader and a former Minister.

Despite the intense campaign of intimidation the women were the first in the queues and even the threats of the Socialist Liberate army of putting rats in the election booths failed to stop them.

A later message states that the earliest results give every indication of a great victory for the extreme Right wing. Their candidates have won in Seville, Cadiz and Asturias while victories are expected in at least twenty of the provincial centres.

To-day Parliament assembles and prominent members of the Government hope that in the debate following the opening address the Premier will take the opportunity of denying the rumours of Cabinet differences on the Disarmament policy.

A message from Geneva reports that representatives of Italy, Britain, France and America met at a tea party at Mr Henderson's headquarters on Sunday afternoon for a conference lasting three hours.

FINE ARTS DISCLOSURE.

A French Fraud?

According to a message from Paris the judicial inquiry prompted by the Department of Fine Arts has disclosed the possibility that some priceless fourteenth century stained glass from the Abbey Fechamp has been sold to America and the windows filled with modern imitations.

The windows were removed in 1928 for restoration and were replaced after seven months.

That two old stained lights have recently been sold in America is not denied but it is suggested that the American purchaser and not the Fechamp Abbey has been imposed upon.

A chemical analysis is necessary before there can be any certainty as to whether the glass is ancient or modern.

ITALIAN RUMOUR DISCREDITED.

A Reuter message from Rome states that the rumours that Italy is leaving the League of Nations are entirely discredited.

The rumours apparently arose from a speech made by Mussolini in which he remarked that the League was founded on a principle which was absurd.

But the Duce favours a Four Power Pact which can only be worked through the framework of the League.

HIDDEN MOSAICS REVEALED.

Portions of the magnificent Byzantine mosaics of the sixth and ninth centuries, hidden for five hundred years, have been revealed in the wonderful mosque of St Sophie, Constantinople.

Kemal Pasha has resolved to ignore the old Moslem prejudice and authorise the removal of the plaster with the result that the mosaics were unveiled on Sunday. All the mosaics are of glass and gold and represent Christ seated on a sumptuous throne.

FALLAND ISLANDS DEFENCE FORCE.

Annual Class Firing.

On Saturday and Sunday No. 1 Platoon put in their annual Class Firing. The turn out was poor, only seventeen members being present.

Slight alterations have been introduced in the course this year with a view to improving the marksmanship of the Force.

The "Rapid" practice has been increased from 5 to 10 rounds and a Figure target has been substituted in place of the ordinary Service Target in the "Snapshooting" Practice. Both these practices are now fired from a trench.

In the Slow, Rapid and Snapshooting practices, which are fired at 200 yards, the bayonet is fixed. A practice has also been introduced at 500 yards; previously this practice was fired at 300 yards. The Grouping practice at 100 yards is the same as in previous years.

Points for Classification have also been changed. The Marksman's Badge which was obtained with 80 points or over out of a possible 100, is now required 100 points out of a H.P.S. of 120.

To be a First Class shot it is necessary to obtain 90 points and to qualify a member must get 70 points.

The leading scores for the week -end were :

THE SPANISH ELECTIONS.

According to the Daily Telegraph correspondent in Madrid the general opinion is that the women's vote has been overwhelmingly in favour of the Right, combining the Traditionalists, the Monarchists and the Catholic Conservatives, as a result of which by the latest semi-official figures they have won 200 seats with the Radicals 90, Socialists 60 with the next four parties 30, 18, 4 and 2 respectively.

Owing to the complicated system of counting the final result cannot be known for some time but it is unlikely to affect the main trend.

The result confirms the Right's optimistic expectations and is ascribed to the "women's revolt against the destruction of the Spanish family and the negation of religion," which they hold most sacred and above politics.

The Cabinet has been in session and it is understood that it has dealt with the question of maintaining order as it is persistently rumoured that the Socialists are preparing to engineer a general strike.

Six Ministers in the present Cabinet are unseated while the Radical Senor Campocamor who was responsible for the suffrage for women has also been defeated. Senor Gil Robles, the leader of the "accion popular" is regarded as the probable Premier.

FRENCH FINANCIAL BATTLE.

According to a report from Paris the political groups have mobilised for a financial battle in the Chamber with the Finance Commission favouring semi-inflationist measures and more nickel coinage. The battle is expected to take place to-day.

It is anticipated that a compromise will be arrived at but M. Caillaux has declared against inflation and advocates the balancing of the budget by "bloodletting", while other former Finance Ministers hold that the moment has arisen for energetic action though they emphasise that the franc must be kept intact.

The Government will be fighting for its life but the issue will remain doubtful until the last.

THE PERONELLE MYSTERY.

OFFICIAL INQUIRY.

Magistrate's Report.

An Inquiry was held in the Council Chamber and Court Room of the Town Hall on Friday, the 17th of November, concerning the loss of the four men of the schooner Peronelle, conducted by Mr A.R. Hoare J.P..

Before commencing the proceedings, the official report of which is given below, Mr Hoare said "I wish, as the Magistrate appointed by the Governor to conduct the proceedings, to express my sympathy with the relatives of the four men in this case."

The Report states :

"The evidence showed that the Peronelle left Stanley on Sunday, the 22nd of October, 1933, bound for the Volunteer Lagoon for the purpose of collecting penguin eggs. There were on board - Richard James Davis, age 33, married; Thomas Binnie, age 30, married; William Albert Whitney, age 20, single; and Roy Charles Davis, age 17, single.

"The vessel was expected to be away for about a week, but on the 31st of October, after nine days had elapsed, anxiety was felt, and a message was sent to Johnson's Harbour (on which station Volunteer Lagoon is situated) asking the Manager to investigate.

"Early on the 2nd of November the Manager reported that there appeared to be no sign of life on the Peronelle and that the schooner's boat was lying broken up on the beach. Arrangements were immediately made for the schooner Prefecto Garcia to proceed to the place, and she left Stanley the same afternoon, under the command of Mr John Davis and with Mr A.E. Ratcliffe, Tugmaster of the G.L. Penguin, and others, on board. The Prefecto Garcia returned to Stanley that night with the Peronelle in tow.

The Log Book.

"Mr Ratcliffe and others had gone on board the Peronelle on arrival at the Lagoon and had found nobody on board. There were signs of a meal having been eaten, the tear-off calendar showed the date 22nd of October, there were four loaves of bread and part of another (six loaves were taken from Stanley,) and a supply of cooked and uncooked meat and other eatables. There were only four or five penguin eggs.

"The owner's log-book or diary was found, and had the appearance of having been regularly made up. The last entry was dated 21st of October; the date 22nd of October had been written for that day's entry.

"Mr Ratcliffe and others went on shore and searched the beach, finding the remains of the boat but no cans and no sign whatever of the men. One of the party, Mr Andreas Bonner, was left to continue the search. The Peronelle was towed back instead of being sailed because her steering gear and sail were damaged. A witness was of the opinion that this damage had been done after the Peronelle arrived at the Lagoon.

"The Prefecto Garcia with a search party on board returned to the Lagoon on Sunday, the 5th of November. A thorough search was made of the north and south beaches at the entrance of the Lagoon and of the Lagoon itself but without any new discovery. The party returned to Stanley on Thursday, the 9th of November.

- 3 - Thursday, 23rd November, 1933.

"Mr A.E. Ratcliffe and Mr John Davis, both of whom are well acquainted with the locality, were of the opinion that the four men had left the schooner in the pram and that between the ship and the shore the boat had capsized and the four occupants had been drowned; and that the disaster occurred on the day they arrived at the lagoon, the 22nd of October. There was a strong south-east wind at the time which would make a rough sea. The pram was provided with only a pair of oars, and if one got broken or lost the boat would be unmanageable.

"It seems to me that in the absence of direct evidence of what happened, the facts stated by the witnesses - for example the plentiful supply of food on the schooner, the date on the tear-off calendar, the date of the last entry in the log book, the absence of penguin eggs on board, the wreckage of the boat on the beach - point to the likelihood that the four men were drowned while going from the schooner to the shore on the 22nd of October, 1933."

A BULL FIGHTER'S SALARY.

Stiff income tax assessments are the basis of a lawsuit that star bull-fighters of Mexican arenas have instituted against the Ministry of Finance.

The Matadors are fighting the Ministry's rule classifying them as professional sportsmen instead of artists.

Classified in the former category these men are each obliged to pay some £1,250 as income tax on their earnings during the season last year which extended over four months. These Matadors each received as fees upwards of £10,000 during the season. They contend that they should be classified as artists - which would fix the amount of income tax each would be required to pay at approximately £250.

Interviewed by a "Matin" journalist on Wednesday Hitler renewed overtures to France and stated that he was convinced that once "the question of the Saar is settled there is absolutely nothing that could oppose Germany to France," adding that in regard to Alsace and Lorraine "we definitely renounced it."

Stating that Germany morally only desired absolute equality of rights, Hitler added that if he were told what he could do for France he would gladly do it so long as it did not involve dishonour or danger for Germany, even to the supplementary security of the French defensive alliance with England.

Germany's departure from the League was a necessary act and she would not return to Geneva where misunderstandings were aggravated instead of cleared, he said, but the nation was always ready to begin negotiations with those really wishing to do so.

A SHOWER OF GOLD.

Ilia Ibescu, a poor peasant from near Temeshvar, and his daughter were recently attacked by robbers, who tied them up to a beam in an outhouse while they plundered the cottage. As they struggled, the beam gave way and they fell, and, to their great astonishment, a shower of gold coins fell with them.

It seems that an uncle had hollowed out the beam and hidden away the coins many years before. There were 110 of them, and, particularly as the robbers found only a few small coins in the house, the peasant finds himself much the richer for his painful experience.

FRENCH FINANCIAL FIGHT.

A message from Paris on Thursday announced that the Government's fateful day opened with the Chamber rejecting by 410 against 138 votes, the Socialist counter-proposal to the financial measures, which would have resulted in a heavily increased direct taxation.

After an all-day discussion the Chamber adjourned until 9.0 p.m. with the main question revolving on a levy on Civil Servants salaries which the Government declares necessary to balance the Budget with the Socialists unalterably opposed.

The stage was prepared for the crisis on the resumption when it was evident that the Government would be in a tight corner on a confidence vote. Nevertheless when the vote of confidence was taken the Government gained a majority of 89.

The Budget proposals were still under discussion at 2.0 a.m. Friday.

U.S.A. BOND INQUIRY.

Striking evidence was provided in New York on Thursday in support of Professor Sprague's statement that "many issues of Government Bonds are below par". But it was announced that only three were now below as compared with seventeen in that position on the 18th of November.

The Treasury was endeavouring on Thursday, says the Daily Telegraph correspondent, to check this fall by pouring Federal Funds into the Bond Market while a rigid inquiry is proceeding to ascertain which members of the Federal Reserve Bank are selling bonds short as alleged in some quarters.

The Reserve Board Advisory Council, comprising twelve of the leading bankers, have passed a resolution urging a speedy return to a gold basis currency and they are warning the Government that "the depreciating and fluctuating currency value will not adjust itself to the existing price level discrepancies."

The Hearst press alone attacks Professor Sprague, expressing the belief that fifty per cent devaluation for the dollar is desirable, and accusing the Professor of being the "Bank of England and Mr J.P. Morgan's puppet."

The gold price in Washington remained unchanged on Thursday at 33.76 while in London it dropped to 125/8d.

A Reuter message from Tokio announced on Thursday that from Friday the Bank of Japan was increasing the gold purchase price to 2.60 yen which is twenty-eight sen above the previous rate, while simultaneously abandoning buying on the yen dollar exchange and adopting a pound yen rate owing to the dollar's fluctuation.

OBITUARY.

It is with deep regret that we have to record the death of Mrs W. Peck who passed away yesterday in the early afternoon.

THE POSITION IN FRANCE.

Wanted - Another New Cabinet.

The French Government was defeated on Friday following on several minor votes of confidence which led to the expectation that the final round with the Socialists would end in a victory for the latter with Herriot and Flandin appealing for governmental support.

President Lebrun spent Saturday searching for a new Premier and among the numerous "possibles" interviewed, says Reuter's correspondent, was Herriot who has already been Premier three times (but it is believed that he will refuse on "doctor's orders" as it would be inconvenient for him to hold power when the War Debt instalment to the United States falls due as he favours payment;) then Tardieu was among the President's callers - he sees salvation in a government similar to Poincare's in 1926; Barthou is of the same mind as Tardieu; the Socialist leader Blum favours a National Union Government; Caillaux and Daladier are also mentioned as candidates, while there is a strong feeling for the Radical Socialist Chautemps who was the Minister of the Interior in the last government.

Statesmen agree that the situation is particularly serious and that a strong government is necessary but the main anxiety is to avoid the dissolution of the Chamber against which there is a deep-rooted prejudice.

A later message stated that M. Chautemps had agreed to attempt the formation of a Cabinet. M. Herriot had refused on the grounds of ill health.

In view of the grave situation arising from the repeated failures to balance the Budget the position is regarded as exceptionally serious. It is considered that Chautemps may be aided by the growing recognition that France is becoming perturbed by these "ninepin" ministries and their effect on foreign opinion while the press suggests that the patriotism of the French Parliament is a cause for laughter in Berlin and is causing concern in London.

FIRST MOVE BY GERMANY.

A Daily Telegraph message from Berlin on Saturday stated that Germany had taken the first move in the solving of the disarmament problem with the reception of the French Ambassador, M. Poucet, by Hitler. The interview was a long one and concerned with the methods of conducting conversations on the problem. It is understood that negotiations will be projected as soon as the French Government is in the saddle.

The interview, which it is believed Hitler sought, was most amicable and there is a general feeling that the way has been opened for direct talks.

DISARMAMENT AT GENEVA.

According to a message from London on Saturday, Britain's new lead in disarmament negotiations was outlined by Sir John Simon and his statements were warmly welcomed abroad while French, German and Italian reactions are entirely favourable.

As a result it is understood in France that direct negotiations with Berlin have already begun with Germany regarding it as a step in the right direction and Italy finding the only obstruction being the French Cabinet crisis.

On Saturday, the League of Nations Secretary General, Avenol, had an hour's conversation with Mussolini, but though no official statement has been issued it is considered significant that Avenol decided to remain in Rome for two days while the German Ambassador left Rome for Berlin for instructions.

U.S.A. INFLATION SCARE.

According to a report from Washington, college professors, writers and business men have endorsed the warning of the bankers in expressing the view that inflation will injure the nation and public confidence which was essential to economic conditions recovering stability. They also urge that the recovery will be obtained more quickly by a return to the gold standard.

CONCERN IN AUSTRIA.

The Austrian political situation, says the Daily Telegraph correspondent in Vienna, is again critical in view of the increasing bitterness between Prince Starhemberg, the leader of the Heimwehr, and the Farmers' Party leader, Herr Winkler.

Both parties support the Chancellor (Dollfuss) but there is a threat of a division owing to the farmers militaristic attitude against Fascism.

LITVINOFF TO VISIT ROME.

It is understood that Litvinoff's visit to Rome is due to the Duce's desire to bring the Soviet back into the comity of European nations with possible participation in the projected Powers' Conference envisaged by the Italian policy.

The question of the improvement of trade relations may arise as Italy would like Russia to take more textiles in exchange for petroleum.

AUSTRO-GERMAN FRONTIER INCIDENT.

The first action taken under the Martial Law proclamation in Austria was on Sunday when six Nazis were arrested for bomb-throwing at Ried.

Germany has addressed a protest to Austria relative to the frontier incident on Saturday when a German Nazi was shot though conflicting reports have been made as regards to his position relative to the frontier when the incident occurred.

NEW POTATO NEWS.

It will be remembered that we published on Monday last, the interesting news item that new potatoes were served up for dinner at Teal Inlet on Saturday last, the 25th of November.

Now we learn that not only have our Camp readers culled this delicacy already but that the Gardener at Government House produced on the same day new potatoes of quite a fair size.

The "earliest new potatoes" honour thus seems to stand divided between Government House and Teal Inlet. Perhaps other of our Horticultural readers can rival these claims or, as we remarked before, it will be interesting to learn which of our readers can pride themselves on being second this season.

FOOTBALL.

In a return match which took place in Government House Faddock yesterday evening the Stokers of H.M.S. Dauntless defeated No. 1 Platoon of the Defence Force by three goals without getting any response from the Soldiers.

Winning the toss Dorricott defended the west-end goal thereby taking advantage of the south-westerly wind with the result that the home forwards hardly got outside their own half. It had been decided that thirty-five minutes should be played each way and at the end of the first half the Stokers were winning 2 - 0.

With the wind in their favour in the second half the Defence Force attacked well but it was obvious that their opponents were far superior to them although it was to their credit that the Sailors did not score more than one goal in this period.

The goals were scored by Bligh, Wade and Morrillac.

The teams were :

H.M.S. Dauntless Stokers - Snook; Moore, & Nicholson; Kirconnel, Morrillac & Ogston; Johnstone, Wade, Bligh, Cairns & Dorricott.

F.I.D.F. No. 1 Platoon :

ANARCHIST CONSPIRACY IN SPAIN.

On the information of two or three women and men the Spanish police have uncovered the details of an anarchist conspiracy which was planned to break out on Monday in Madrid, writes the Daily Telegraph correspondent.

Evidence of a widespread organisation has been revealed with its headquarters at Huesca where quantities of dynamite, bombs and ammunition, besides a large amount of incendiary material, have been seized.

It is reported from Barcelona that two bomb outrages marred the election activities, causing considerable damage, while strikers, tradesmen and transport workers are embittering feeling.

It is forecasted that the new government will be composed of Radicals, Catholics and Agrarians, under Sr Lerroux with Sr Villanova as speaker.

A London daily paper, issued sometime in October last, publishes the following interesting article concerning Sir James O'Grady's daughter, Miss Margaret O'Grady, and his eldest son, Mr James G. O'Grady : -

"Another romance in the family of Sir James O'Grady, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Falkland Islands, who is now recovering in London from a serious illness, was revealed last night.

"His eldest son, Mr James Gerald O'Grady, has become engaged to Miss Winifred Irene Berridge, of Park Road, Hampton Hill, Middlesex, and the wedding has been provisionally fixed for the 28th of October.

"It was only three weeks ago (the 23rd of September) that Sir James's daughter, Miss Margaret O'Grady, was married to Mr Frank Hughes of Rudloe-road, Clapham Park, London, whom she has known since childhood.

"Mr James O'Grady, who has been a rubber planter in Malaya for five years, is at present staying on leave with his father at Cavendish-road, Clapham, London."

ENGLAND'S CHRISTMAS

OF FOREIGN GOODS.

It is reported from London that the British industry is disturbed by the relative trade developments elsewhere, particularly in the matter of increasing imports of American typewriters which are overcoming the protective tariff through the depreciation of the dollar.

In the Christmas toy market British manufacturers are fighting hard against the flood of cheap Japanese produce, purchasers being misled when the country of origin only is stamped on the box and the article displayed without packing.

It is stated that Japanese electric lamps are being wholesaled at a penny for five.

DOLLAR STABILISATION OUTLOOK.

According to a message from Washington the 27th instant was the first Monday since gold buying has been inaugurated to have passed without any change in price, but in London gold dropped from 14 to 12 pence to 125/3¹/₂d with the dollar fluctuating wildly in the markets.

It is believed that the administration is quietly considering the best path for an early stabilisation but it is doubted whether there will be a change of front until the 15th of December when new bonds become saleable.

Nevertheless there is a growing belief that the administration is bent on working out an understanding with Great Britain for definite stabilisation early in 1934.

TO-MORROW'S SPORTS,

To-morrow an Athletic Sports Meeting, in which the Ship's Company of H.M.S. Dauntless and the members of the Defence Force will take part, will be held on the Racecourse with kind permission and under the patronage of His Excellency the Acting Governor and Captain C.O. Alexander, R.N..

The Sports are to commence at 1.30 p.m. but if the weather is unsuitable red flags will be flown from the Ship and from the Defence Force Flagstaff indicating that they have been postponed until next Saturday, the 9th of December.

Besides a number of Defence Force events already mentioned in the Penguin, there is a variety of ladies and children's races with novelty numbers such as the Blindfold Race. Altogether there are twenty-three items in the Programme and of these five are Inter-Part contests which count points towards the Divisional Sports Cup, at present held by the Forecastle Division. A Tug-of-War and a Relay Race between the Ship and the Defence Force will be two of the most important attractions while there is also a Horse Race which should prove popular. Throughout the afternoon the Royal Marines Band, under the charge of Bandmaster Weller, will play selections while Mrs A. Hardy will provide at reasonable prices light refreshments for all who require them.

Friday, 1st December, 1933.

We cannot but congratulate the Ship on the organisation of so interesting a Programme and we have no doubt whatever that the Sports will be thoroughly enjoyed by competitors and spectators alike, particularly if the day is favoured with really fine weather. Copies of the Programme will be obtainable on the course.

We have been asked to point out that dogs will not be permitted on the Course or in the Paddocks adjoining and it is hoped that owners will be careful not to let these animals stray tomorrow afternoon.

SOVIET OVERTURES TO THE POPE.

There is a suggestion, the Daily Telegraph Rome correspondent reports, of an informal contact being made between the Soviet Minister Litvinoff and the Pope, the arrangement being on the condition that the Duce is assured of the Soviet's readiness to extend the principle of "Free Worship" to followers of all religions - a point already conceded by them in the United States Agreement.

A Moscow message states, however, that Religion is the Soviet's private domain.

FLYING ANTS.

A few days ago the small town of Dunafoldar was invaded by flying ants. The insects, which measured from twenty to thirty millimetres, and were coloured greyish brown, took three hours to pass over the town, and during that time the view was entirely obscured and the traffic was unable to proceed.

WEATHER FORECAST COMEDY.

An extraordinary reason is stated to have brought about the stoppage of the weather forecast of the Meteorological Station at Warsaw.

It is said that just before he set out on a journey one of the Ministers consulted the official weather forecast and read that the "sun will shine all day and the temperature will be warm." He went out and got wet.

This so annoyed this authority that he had the forecasts stopped altogether.

32 MILES UNDERGROUND.

An important addition to London's Underground railway facilities recently came into operation, when a new through train service connected Uxbridge with the West End and North-East London.

Piccadilly Line trains now run from Uxbridge through central London by way of Piccadilly, Leicester-Square and Holborn, to Wood Green, Arnos Grove, and Cockfosters, a distance of thirty-two miles.

TREASURE IN SEWING MACHINE.

A dress-maker living at San Remo decided to teach her little girl of ten how to use a sewing machine. As she needed her own for constant work she brought down from the attic an antiquated one that had fallen to her as a share of her mother's property before she married. It was so rusty that she began to take it to pieces to give it an oil bath.

Removing it from its little table she found a roll of dirty papers inside. On inspection she found the papers to be old Italian Treasury Bonds. The rat had gnawed some of the edges, but to her intense relief a man at her bank said they were still good, and that, with the accumulated interest of thirteen years, were now worth £700.

THE INTERNATIONAL SITUATION.

The Belgian Foreign Minister, M. Hyams, discussing the international situation at a political gathering in Brussels on Thursday, made an emphatic plea for close cooperation, insisting that the Disarmament Conference should not abandon its tasks, and adding that Belgium ought to combine with Britain and France to maintain the Locarno obligations as the Treaty was not compromised by Germany's secession and could not be denounced unilaterally.

It is authoritatively denied from Geneva that the Duce is contemplating the formation of a seven-power group for world peace.

---o---o---

THE GOLD PRICE.

According to a report from New York the price of gold was advanced eight cents to 33.93 dollars on Thursday while in London it remained at 125/6.

It is understood that the Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, Mr Black, is submitting to President Roosevelt the draft of an agreement between the Federal Reserve Bank and the Bank of England for the "de facto" stabilisation of the dollar between 5.25 and 5.35 to the pound. But considerable doubt is cast in many quarters on the possibility of an Anglo-American "negotiation."

Czecho-Slovakia has offered a token payment of her war debt instalment due in December of 150,000 dollars.

It is reported from Washington that the United States intends using the allocation of the liquor quota from imports as a trade weapon for lowering tariffs.

INDIAN GOVERNMENT CRITICISM.

Criticism of the Indian Government in granting an extension of the Indo-Japanese Convention without insisting on the withdrawal of the boycott on Indian cotton, was voiced at New Delhi on Thursday in the Legislative Assembly when the Viceroy's Executive Council met to review the position relative to the cotton talks.

THE SPANISH ELECTION.

A message from Madrid on Saturday night stated that on the eve of the second ballot which was to have taken place yesterday, utter confusion reigned in the Spanish elections situation.

The election fever has diminished in face of the victory of Right wing parties but a supreme effort was being made by the Socialists to minimise their defeat by capturing as many seats as possible in the sixteen constituencies where the second poll was being held.

There were hundreds of candidates for seventy-odd seats.

The present position of the parties is : Right Wing 167, Centre 125, Left 60, many of the party members are fanatical monarchists eager for the overthrow of the Republic.

THE SHIP'S CONCERT.

▲ Happy Evening In The Town Hall.

Whenever one of His Majesty's Ships produce a concert in Stanley the entertainment is always of a high standard and thoroughly enjoyable, and that of the Ship's Concert Party of H.M.S. Dauntless, given in the Town Hall on Thursday last week with the kind permission of the Commanding Officer, was no exception.

The hall was full and among those present were His Excellency the Acting Governor and Captain C.O. Alexander, R.N. of H.M.S. Dauntless, under whose patronage the show was given, while the proceeds were devoted to the Dependants of the Missing Men of the schooner Peronella.

First of all the Marines Band, under Bandmaster Weller, rendered some sprightly selections which were followed by an appropriate opening Chorus of "Hullo Stanley" by the company. A syn-copated banjo solo "Savoy Rag" by G.G. Sims was well applauded while a clever sketch, smartly acted by D. Gale, F. Adcock, Paymaster Commander Eagar and C. Allen, produced a slightly embarrassing contre-temps for the husband who thought the "Brown" eyes of his wife were blue, and for the Mr Brown hiding behind the screen.

Although all the artistes were well applauded none received a greater measure than A.F. Ford who, as a musical entertainer with his "yard of music," completely held the audience under his sway. In his explanation of how famous songs were composed he proved in a most convincing manner that there was nothing new under the sun - not even bananas.

As a change A.F. Wright in a nice toned voice, heard at its best, added a sentimental touch with the song "Glorious Devon" which was well encored. Then F.T. Martin and F. Adcock in their "Stilted Conversation" gave a rough and tumble burlesque which brought tears of laughter to the eyes of many; in view of the entertainment with which they regaled us we sincerely hope they did not suffer throbbing brows the morning after the night before.

In our mind the outstanding feature of the evening was the cutlass swinging by G.L. Lickiss. Not only from the point of view of novelty - for we believe this is the first time that an item of this description has been staged in Stanley - but also from the point of view of the skilful manipulation of the performer was the turn so refreshing, while the effect was considerably enhanced by the coloured lights playing on the shining blades.

"Broadcasting" was an item with some compromising slips in the musical, mechanical, bakery and - was it the baby-care? - departments of the ship. F. Adcock, W.E. Bayley, J.A.T. Bowen and W. James, we think, must have had something to say to the wireless department about this! We take our hats off to "Professor" Pragnell and his worthy assistant "Carmo" Freeman in their conjuring number. In spite of the fact that they did all they could to show us how "it was done" we were left non-plussed and, personally, almost inclined to put our hands in neighbouring pockets to see if our pennies were there. Luckily, however, our attention was taken up with the truly nautical "Songs of the Sea" rendered in an excellent manner by the whole company and afterwards the lights went up for the interval leaving us more self-possessed.

After some more well rendered selections by the Band the second half opened with "The Cheer Song", composed by A.F. Ford and sung by him with the company (had Ford been a musical hall artist we should not have hesitated to say that he had a future before him - but his lucky star sent him into the Navy so that we derive the benefit from his entertainments instead of London audiences.)

The opening number was followed by a "thriller" entitled "The Ware Murder Case" with some tantalising obstacles which confront all super-Sexton Blakes simply illustrated by W. Snook, W.E. Bayley, Paymaster-Commander Eagar, G.F. Richards and T. Foster. Although poor Snook was let in for the next number (the management always apologise humbly on such occasions) we were thoroughly worked up with his clever turn - clever because his song was a memorable memory effort. The words were delivered with such tantalising regularity that going home the next night even we (again we hasten to emphasise that the pronoun is expressly personal) found ourselves looking for a chick-chick here, a quack-quack there and a bow-wow somewhere else so that we despaired of getting to bed.

The "Dauntless Comrades" in selected Gloss made a great impression and are to be congratulated on their harmony. Those who helped to make this item so enjoyable were F. Nixon, E.D. Gale, G.F. Richards, W. James, W.F. Bayley and C. Allen. After another well applauded song by A.F. Wright, W.E. Bayley & G.F. Richards though they were placed in a setting of real interest set us a puzzle trying to find a title for their number and we contented ourselves with giving them the hearty praise they deserved. W. Snook & T. Foster were another pair of popular men before the foot-lights and we were glad the "management" were "too late" in their efforts to dissuade them from appearing.

After Paymaster-Commander Eagar had given a clever impersonation of Cohen at the Telephone A.F. Ford gave an astoundingly realistic imitation of Church Bells on his accordion. One could almost hear the calling of the different changes in the peals.

To conclude the programme - racy and full of salt sea breezes - the company acted a clever burlesque on opera entitled "Antonio". with true operatic fervour and thoroughness, killing each other off to the chagrin of the audience which had so thoroughly enjoyed the performances of one and all.

It would seem we should now write "finis", but there are several members of the company who have yet to be mentioned, not least among them being H.G. Hathaway, who introduced each item to the audience and whose talents as a raconteur proved him to be an invaluable asset to the Party, while A.F. Brown, the accompanist, though not very much in the picture, played a sterling part towards the success of the production as did also T.W. Home who was in charge of the lighting effects.

Finally we have to congratulate Paymaster-Commander A.E.A. Eagar (director) and the whole company on their most enjoyable concert and peppy show.

THE DUKE OF ATHOLL ON SWEEPSTAKES.

Supporting the Duke of Sunderland's motion in the House of Lords on Monday, favouring the amendment of the law with regard to sweepstakes, the Duke of Atholl delivered a lively attack. He said that the present law made the country the world's laughing stock and was unjust and hypocritical.

Millions and millions of pounds were sent out of the country, some into openly disloyal hands.

The Duke of Montrose also supported the previous speaker saying that prohibiting "a little fun and excitement" presaged a crash similar to that of another country which "tried to stop a little refreshment."

H.M.S. DAUNTLESS SPORTS.

Defence Force Lose Tug-o'-War.

On Saturday afternoon last a most enjoyable Athletic Sports Meeting, organised by H.M.S. Dauntless and held with the assistance of the Falkland Islands Defence Force, took place on the Racecourse with kind permission. The events were run off with alacrity and to make the proceedings more enjoyable the weather was kind.

The outstanding features of the Sports were the relay race and the tug-o'-war between the Ship and the Defence Force, both events being won by the Dauntless. The Dauntless have the honour of being the first of His Majesty's Ships visiting Stanley to beat the Defence force in the tug-o'-war event for several years, although it must be said of the latter that they did not have their strongest team out.

At the conclusion of the day the prizes were presented by Mrs Craigie-Halkett for whom Captain C.O. Alexander, R.N., called three hearty cheers which were given spontaneously by the large crowd there. In return His Excellency the acting Governor called for three cheers for Captain Alexander and the "Dauntless" and these were given heartily.

REFORM THE LEAGUE.

A message from London states that the chief topic in diplomatic circles is Mussolini's "Ultimatum" to the League of Nations which is welcomed by Germany, viewed with apprehension by France while the United States remains non-committal.

The Daily Telegraph Rome correspondent states that it is authoritatively announced that the Fascist Council's resolution was not a proposal but a "precise and clear-cut definition of Fascist opinion" and Mussolini now awaits the acceptance of his challenge by other League members, he being prepared to take an active part in the reformation of the League but he will not draft a plan.

Britain is likely to make every effort to save the League from collapse but Geneva, while recognising the fundamental basis and the commonsense of the Italian views and favouring a revision of the Covenant, considers the League at the parting of the ways.

On Thursday the gold price remained unchanged at 34.01 while London rose sharply seventeen pence to 126/11d.

Washington reports that President Roosevelt has established a National Emergency Council for the centralising of information relative to the various government agencies.

MANSION FIRE CALAMITY.

A message from Andover, the United States reports the American millionaire L.J. McCormick's country mansion "Heronry" was destroyed by fire early Saturday morning with the loss of the lives of the Duc de la Tremille, the premier duke of France, and Captain the Honourable James Rodney, a brother of Lord Rodney.

The Duc was trapped in the burning house; frantic rescue attempts proved unavailing and his charred body was recovered later.

Captain Rodney and his wife jumped from windows, the former dying in hospital as a result of his injuries while his wife is in a critical condition with a fractured spine.

The fire fighting efforts were considerably hampered by intense frost.

HITLER'S FRENCH "DEMANDS."

It is reported from Paris that the Government and the French Foreign Office are still studying Hitler's demands and while it is stated that no official reply will be immediately made semi-official sources declare that the proposals are "not acceptable."

---o---o---

THE DISARMAMENT DEADLOCK.

A London press report states that the Cabinet Committee on Disarmament has been three days exhaustively surveying the present problem with material in the shape of the reports of the British Ambassadors at Berlin and Rome on the Hitler and Mussolini discussions, together with Lord Tyrell's verbal explanation of France's difficulties which arise from the uncertain fate of the French Ministry.

According to the Daily Telegraph France is unlikely to take any definite action in foreign policy for some time since Herriot and Daladier are favouring direct conversations with Germany while Tardieu and Flandin are opposed. It appears that French opinion is opposed to direct negotiations on the ground that this will weaken the League Versailles Treaty and the Locarno Pact while suspicion of her eastern allies has been aroused.

It is understood from Rome that Mussolini wishes to know Hitler's views on the League and disarmament. The ambassador, Von Hassell, has returned from Berlin without any proposals so the Italian Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs, Sgr Surich, has left for Berlin conveying the "spirit and form which should characterise the new international organisation for the consolidation of a just and fair peace."

THE FRENCH BUDGET.

In the French Chamber on Friday Article Six was submitted and passed by 403 votes as against 63. With this Article disposed of the way is now clear for a "Budget Victory" with the principle of cuts in pay established.

Prior to the opening of the third day's debate on the Bill, Premier Chautemps issued a grave warning that the prolongation of the political crisis might lead to a growing unrest in the country and international speculation in an attack portending catastrophe.

After the Budget voting M. Tardieu launched an attack to which M. Herriot replied, but the situation is still that the Bill must be submitted to the Senate with, however, the certainty of amendments in the direction of more economies and less taxation before returning to the Chamber for the second reading.

Until the next stage is passed Disarmament and the League of Nations questions cannot be dealt with.

UNITED STATES TREASURY MOVE.

It is reported from Washington that important monetary decisions are foreshadowed by the new presidential move and, according to press reports, these are to the effect that the Radical group of the Treasury is to be given freer play with the anticipation of the gold price being temporarily fixed with silver purchases to offset the inflationary onslaught.

The Administration is concerned with the fact that the daily gold quotation is known in London before it has been officially transmitted from Washington and the Treasury is instituting an investigation.

SERIOUS POSITION IN SPAIN.

According to news from Madrid the Government claims that a gigantic anarchist rising that has been festering with the object of confiscating all property and overthrowing the present regime, has been mastered but a state of alarm has, nevertheless, been declared throughout the entire country.

Street fighting, the derailment of trains and bomb outrages are general with many casualties over a wide area.

The press message continues that a "Soviet Republic" has been proclaimed while Huesca and Seville are resembling armed fortresses under the control of the police and soldiers.

At Catalan the municipal elections have been postponed while Barcelona is in a state of siege without any trains running and work suspended.

THE BENEFITES VARIETY SUCCESS.

Old Favourites To The Fore.

Once again our jovial friends of the Benefites Concert Party have come to the front and provided Stanley with a happy evening, for on Thursday last week, under the patronage of His Excellency the Acting Governor, Mrs Graigie-Halkett and Captain C.O. Alexander, R.N., of H.M.S. Dauntless they held a Variety Concert in the Town Hall, the proceeds being in aid of the Dependents of the Missing Men of the schooner Peronelle and the widow of the late Leading Seaman Fairburn of H.M.S. Dauntless.

The reputation of the Concert Party was sufficient to ensure a large and appreciative audience and the good cause to which they devoted their talents was a further incentive for the Hall being well filled.

After a rousing Opening Chorus by the Party the Band, under the leadership of Mr J. Watts, gave a well applauded "Medley." Then Fred Davies, whose capabilities as a humorist are second only to those of Billy Catten, told us quite a lot about beer while Billy himself, gave a new item in which the inner workings of a plumber's life were put to us in a manner explaining all too clearly why these unfortunate upholders of household bliss are afflicted with bad memories, assisting him were Messrs E.J. Gleadell F. Davies and R.L. Robson not to mention the numbers on the doors.

In Mr J. McNicoll we saw a favourite of many years standing giving some of the old songs; and they proved to be no less popular than they were when this well known singer first delighted Stanley audiences.

"Soothing Syrup" - a real piece de resistance - gave Syd Summers (as Johnnie Potts) another opportunity of showing us his prowess in badinage with that delightful rough and tumble touch which could not be left out of any concert. His antics brought screams of laughter while Mr R.H. Hannaford, as the distracted agent, gave him excellent support. Fred Davies (Shakespeare Irving), Jock Jennings (Madame Trillo di Patti), Fred Coleman (Grippo) and Mr R.L. Robson (Bowery Bob) also contributed their share to the fun with real zest.

The most popular turn of the evening - from the sailors' point of view - was the appearance of six charming ladies in a number entitled "Light of Feet." Shades of Zachariah Fee still linger and with this vivacious turn the ladies showed they had in no way lost the art of wringing from their audience the thunderous applause they commanded in the old days; and with that applause we would like now, to add our own mood of appreciation of the efforts of our former Stanley Girls - Mrs Fulbrook, the Misses D. Atkins, A. Clifton, M. Duffin, B. Newing and M. Petterssen.

In the final item before the interval the Song of the Volga Gunmen, by the Village Boys, first of all left us wondering as to why so old and charming a tune should be shorn of its artistic effects, and it was not until the "V.Bs" were well advanced on the stage that the "beauty" of the skit could be appreciated. The raison d'etre of the ponderous "wailing" showed itself all too clearly in the surprisingly well made model of the Scupper's Hill gun. Everybody - and not least of all Captain Alexander, the officers and men of H.M.S. Dauntless present - clearly enjoyed the joke.

The opening number of the second half was a pleasant Pot Pourri Selection by the Band followed by a selected song rendered by Mr M.J. Luxton who was well applauded for his effort.

In "Engaging a Maid" we had two favourites appearing before us and the resultant sketch left tears or laughter in the eyes of all. Mrs Pallini is a character turn unequalled while Miss M. Summers as the mistress, played her supporting part engagingly.

We hardly had time to recover before Mr E.J. Gleadell - who might well be termed the man with the india-rubber face - set us off again in a comic song which, even though costing him an effort, must have given him the satisfaction of knowing that he had added full well his quota of jollity to the concert.

After another graceful exhibition by the Dancing Ladies we had a great but exceptionally happy surprise with the appearance of Mrs E. Summers who several years ago was one of the most popular of local artistes. But of late Stanley audiences have had no opportunity of listening to her captivating voice and we hope, now that her return to the stage has once more materialised, she will continue to charm all at future concerts. We can assure her she will not fail to capture the admiration and applause that is rightly her due.

"The Camp Fire" - the type of turn which so happily finds favour among Stanley audiences - was then heard, those taking part being Messrs D. Williams, E. Summers, J. Jennings, and A. Pettersen with Masters Billy Catten and Barry Goss. Though fresh in people's minds, since the Benefites made a hit with it at their last performance, the number had lost none of its freshness and the artistes well deserved the applause they received.

The more we see of Billy Catten, the more we want to, and it was with a satisfied mind that we listened to him in yet another of his inimitable characterisations in "His Missis" but with a sense of regret that the next item in which the Village Boys thoroughly manned the capstan, would be the last we should see of him and his merry Party that evening. The Finale was most effective and left us thoroughly happy and conscious of an evening well spent.

Before ringing down the curtain we must express our deep appreciation of the worthy effort of the Concert Party who, one and all, have done their share in a deserving cause. Particularly would we like to congratulate Mr Catten, Mr Hanford and Mr Davies, the chief organisers, assisted by Mrs Catten and others. With them also we should like to associate one who has not yet been mentioned or even been seen in the limelight but without whose real assistance the concert could not have been the success it was. We refer to Mrs R.L. Robson, the indefatigable accompanist, whose work at the piano could not have been more suitable.

THE SPANISH UPHEAVAL.

According to messages from Madrid the Red revolutionaries, although facing almost certain defeat, are still terrorising Spain with the leading anarchist organisation proclaiming a revolutionary strike throughout the country this week.

Since the rising commenced on Saturday last there has been much bloodshed and property damaged, and though the full extent of casualties cannot be known for some time, it is certain that there are over 100 dead.

Infuriated by the Conservative-Monarchist election victories the Reds are making a desperate bid to establish an extreme regime, among the chief outrages perpetrated being the wrecking of the Seville-Barcelona express with the loss of twenty lives, the burning of convents and churches in Granada, wholesale bombing, and the destruction of electricity plants plunging cities into darkness.

The troops are remaining loyal with a few minor exceptions while, with the gallant aid of the police and the Civil Guard, the revolt is being kept in check.

The capital and Seville are remaining comparatively calm, but the provinces of Huesca, Castellon, Toledo and Alicante, and the towns of Gijon and Elda are remaining uncontrolled with many of the women helping the insurgents who are equipped with vast quantities of bombs, firearms and incendiary material.

From Saragossa, Lograno, Corunna, Villaneuva, Ciega and Alfajar there are reports of continued fighting with a regime of terror existing while no news can be received from many points isolated as a result of the destruction of communications.

ST PAUL'S CATHEDRAL.

A message from London states that investigations reveal that the margin of safety for St Paul's Cathedral is small owing to the existence of a large pond underlying the subsoil over a wide area.

---o---o---

GEORGE LANSEBURY'S ACCIDENT.

It is reported from London that Mr George Lansbury, the Socialist opposition leader in Parliament, fell at Gainsborough on Saturday and broke his thigh. He was removed to London by motor-ambulance. It is anticipated that the operation which will have to be performed will result in a permanent limp.

ITALO-GERMAN RELATIONS.

The German press is emphasising the ties of friendship between Italy and Germany in view of the visit of Sgr Suvich, the Italian Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs, who is regarded as Mussolini's personal confidant. It is recognised that he brings the Duce's personal view of the present European situation, especially regarding disarmament and the League of Nations.

Suvich has already visited the Foreign Minister Von Neurath, and the Ministers Von Papen, Goering and Goebbles and on Wednesday he dined with Von Neurath while yesterday he was to be received by President Hindenburg and Chancellor Hitler says the Daily Telegraph correspondent.

It is generally hoped that the outcome will be a greater harmony between the views of Hitler and Mussolini.

A report from Moscow states that the Russian foreign trade returns for the period January to October, 1933, amounted to 296,660,000 gold roubles for imports. On a monthly average these are less than half for 1932 and less than one-third for 1931.

A WASHINGTON DENIAL.

An official denial has been issued from Washington that stabilisation overtures have been made to the British Government by the American London ambassador. The U.S. Under Secretary of State also says that the question has not been raised with the British Ambassador in Washington.

Nevertheless, the Daily Telegraph correspondent says that the "leakage" is likely to be regarded with favour because of its indication that unofficial conversations have been progressing between the Banking representatives,

It has also been stated that the Bank of England has declined to participate in stabilisation negotiations appropos the dollar-pound on two occasions in view of France's interest.

O'DUFFY CONTRADICTIONS.

A message from Dublin on Wednesday stated that the Free State was concerned over the whereabouts of General O'Duffy who was supposed to be in hiding evading an arrest order in force for defying the Government ban on his organisation.

It was understood that General O'Duffy would remain "on the run" until plans had been perfected for the Blueshirts future campaign.

A later message from the same source stated that General O'Duffy reappeared on Thursday and presided over a meeting of the Exclusive Council of Blueshirts held in the evening. He stated that he "was not on the run and has no intention of evading arrest."

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales concluded his three days' tour of Yorkshire on Friday evening.

In Bradford which has suffered much from the wool depression he learnt with keen satisfaction that the number of local unemployed had fallen from 36,000 in 1931 to fewer than 14,000.

At the occupational centre in Morley the Prince worked a hand loom on which the members were making scarves, one of the scarves being presented to the Prince. Similar centres at Huddersfield and Penstone were visited.

THE FRENCH FINANCE BILL.

According to an item from Paris the Senate Finance Commission has maintained its amendments to Articles VI & XII of the Finance Bill, but in this form it will not be acceptable by the Chamber is the opinion of most authorities.

But it is considered that to-day's debate will either result in a majority vote for the Chamber's text, or a compromise which will be acceptable to both houses. The principal objective at the moment is to try to avert another Cabinet crisis.

The information has been confirmed that the Finance Minister intends to seek authority to issue an early loan to cover the Treasury commitments for 1934, estimated at twenty milliard francs.

SATURDAY'S SURPRISE FOR THE CHILDREN.

Uncle Ralph's Xmas Box.

As the children were settling down to enjoy their weekly hour of broadcasting on Saturday, they had a happy surprise. Uncle Ralph announced that if they called at the Studio during the evening they would receive an Xmas Box in the form of a bag of sweets. What joy! And what a busy time Uncle Ralph and his helpers had dealing with the anxious crowd of youngsters - some shy, others bold - who were seen to disappear into the Town Hall, and emerge a few moments later with beaming smiles on their faces and a little paper bag in their hands. The looks of contentment and delight must have made many of the grown ups wish they were children again. We learn from Uncle Ralph that over 140 bags of sweets were given away.

A HARD WINTER AT HOME.

A message from London on Monday reported that Europe is experiencing one of the hardest winters ever recorded with large parts of England icebound and London's River Thames frozen from Oxford to its source.

France reports 41 degrees of frost at Chalon-sur-Saone with wolves entering St Dizier while tanks were called into operation for clearing the snowdrifts on the Paris-Marseilles road.

The Rhine is frozen from bank to bank at Lorelei Narrows and an ice festival is being held on the river Mosel at Winnegen.

Blizzards are being experienced in Morocco and an isolated military outpost in the Atlas Mountains is marooned with rescues being effected by Foreign Legionnaires in response to a wireless S.O.S..

Snow has caused the collapse of an aerodrome hangar with the destruction of eight planes at Barcelona and in Jugo-Slavia it is reported that hunger-maddened wolves are attacking villages and killing cattle while wine stocks are frozen in Hungary.

The hard weather following on the summer drought has reduced the River Thames' flow at Teddington to one sixth of the normal rate and this is a "statutory minimum" below which the Water Board must restrict withdrawals.

ST MARY'S BAZAAR.

Yesterday's Takings.

As a result of the strenuous efforts of the stall-holders and generous patronage of the public the first day of St Mary's Roman Catholic Church Annual Bazaar which opened yesterday evening realised £55. 7s. 11d.

The opening ceremony was performed by His Excellency the Acting Governor at 8.30 p.m. when, accompanied by Mrs Craigie-Halkett, His Excellency was received by Father Kenny and the Sister Director.

In his remarks His Excellency said :-

"Sister Director, Father Kenny and Ladies and Gentlemen. It gives me great pleasure to come here to-night to open the Bazaar because it is for a good cause - that of aiding the Roman Catholic Mission in this Colony.

"A short time ago at the Prizegiving Ceremony at St Mary's School I mentioned the fact that the Mission received no State aid and that it had to depend upon its own resources. We all know that Father Migone has done his best, even in very difficult circumstances, to make both ends meet; therefore I ask all of you to-night to endeavour to make this Bazaar a success. Then, there is the forthcoming Sale of Work - I do not know the exact date of it but I expect it will be announced later on; I ask everybody to support that also.

"Now I do not think Sister Director wishes to say anything and so, I think, with her permission I will thank all those ladies and gentlemen who have been so generous as to give things to this Bazaar and who have assisted it in any way. They have been very good and I would assure them that Father Migone, though not here to-night, deeply appreciates all they have done and on behalf of Father Migone and the Sisters I thank everyone who has done anything in any way for the Bazaar.

"I have very much pleasure in declaring the Bazaar open."

WANTED - A 100-FOOT WHALE.

Plans For Polar Expedition.

If a Polar expedition which is now the subject of keen discussion is finally decided upon and proves successful, London will, within a year or so, house the largest cast of a whale which has ever been made.

To capture, stuff, transport and set up amid realistic surroundings lions and tigers is child's play almost compared with the collection and assembling of whale specimens, and yet it is no empty boast that at the Natural History Museum, Cromwell-road, London, is the finest collection of whale material in the world.

But the Museum authorities are ambitious. They have now a new whale hall; and so it is desired to obtain an accurate plaster cast of one of the big whales, for instance, a Blue Whale upwards of one hundred feet long. And since the new hall is 120 feet long the fit is likely to be a nice one.

Mr M.A.C. Hinton, Deputy Keeper of the Natural History Museum, in an interview with a Sunday Observer representative recently, said that the expedition was still in an early stage.

"Where and when we shall capture the blue whale, or right whale from which our cast will be made is not yet decided, but a mould will be taken at the spot where the whale is killed and dealt with, and then the cast itself will probably be made here at the museum."

PARLIAMENTARY QUESTIONS.

In reply to a question in the House of Commons on Monday, Mr Antony Eden, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, said that so far as he was aware it was not a fact that the strength of the aircraft of most of the European countries was being increased as far as bombing specifications were concerned.

He understood that all types of aircraft might be to some extent used for bombing. It was to meet this difficulty that Articles 34 and 35 of the British Draft Convention had been designed. The proposals contained in those Articles continued to represent the policy of the British Government. In their view the whole problem of disarmament was vitally urgent and every effort was being made to achieve a general agreement covering all aspects of the problem.

The Prime Minister was asked in the House of Commons on Monday if he favoured the appointment of a committee to draft proposals to be submitted at Geneva for the reform of the League of Nations, with a view to preventing further secession from the League and promoting adhesion among all the great powers.

He replied "No sir. I am not in favour of such a course."

FRANCE & HER BUDGET.

According to a message from Paris the first day's debate on the Financial Bill was adjourned after statements by the Ministers relative to the situation.

After outlining the difficulties which the Treasury faced following upon the Chamber's rejection of the former Government's financial proposals, the Minister of Finance, M. Bonnet, said that stabilisation in Britain and America would shake the money market and therefore France must balance her budget before January.

M. Ragnier, the Finance Commission Rapporteur, said that the solidarity of France was unquestioned and only a little confidence was required to resuscitate business. Criticising the Chamber's Bill as not cutting expenditure sufficiently, he objected to lotteries as demoralising and bad for trade with the extension of nickel currency as paving the way to inflation.

It was anticipated that the debate would last three days and that the Bill would be finally passed by both houses by this week-end much on the lines of the Chamber's text.

THE CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS.

Since there were again no sports this Christmastide under the aegis of the Stanley Sports Association, Stanley was looking forward to a quiet Christmas. But the weather turned out trumps and the Holiday was filled with interesting events that made the few days break from work pass all too quickly. Saturday evening there were parties while on Christmas Eve a rowing race Stanley team versus the Sea Rovers resulted in an easy win for the former, and up on the Shooting Range a large number turned up for the Defence Force shoot. On Christmas Day a return rowing race resulted in Stanley winning by a very narrow margin (1 second); a comic football match attracted a large crowd in the afternoon while in the evening His Majesty the King's Empire message was heard after an attempt to relay it in the morning had failed to be successful. On Boxing Day there were the much looked forward to sports of the Stanley Benefit Club with the half of a hundredweight of sweets distributed to the children. In the evening R.R.S. Discovery II beat Stanley at football 3 - 1, the Research ship having arrived in Port late Christmas Eve. At night a successful dance, held in the Town Hall brought the holiday to an end. Detailed reports of the various functions will be published in due course.

FALKLAND ISLANDS DEFENCE FORCE.

Report On The Annual Class Firing, 1933.

As in previous years firing has been carried out under Platoon arrangements. Each Platoon was allotted a week-end to do their firing with notification as to date, time and other details which were published in the weekly training programme.

It is regretted that the attendance this year was unsatisfactory and owing to members not turning out as squaded by platoons the Class Firing Season was prolonged with many unnecessary visits having to be made to the range to put casuals through their course. In addition further expense in the form of Markers' wages had to be met.

As a whole the standard of shooting was good. Out of the 85 members exercised seventy qualified. At the Platoon shoots, when firing was carried out under the supervision and coaching of N.C.Os, very good results were obtained, but the same results were not forthcoming whilst the Casuals were firing as supervision was difficult and no N.C.Os were present.

The table of results is : -

"STANLEY CUP" COMPETITION.

Trophy Won After A Tie.

The Stanley Cup and Prize shoot held by the Falkland Islands Defence Force Club was shot off on Christmas Eve when thirty-six active and former members took part in it after the competition had been postponed from the 8th of December.

The event was keenly contested and it was only after a tie had been shot off between Privates H.H. Sedgwick and A.H. Hills that the former secured the Trophy. Each of them had made 96 but in the further shoot H. Sedgwick, who is to be heartily congratulated on his success, secured three bulls as against his doughty opponent's three inners; both had sighters which marked the bull.

No possibles were scored at any of the ranges and the only 34 returned was that made by H. Sedgwick at the 200 yards where he was unfortunate enough to drop one point in his fourth shot to count. An exceptionally good effort was made, however, at the 500 yards where one of the recruits, Private E. Ashley, with open sights and no sling returned a 32. After sighting for a magpie he made two bulls, dropped one point on his third shot, then made two more bulls, and finished up with two inners.

A close runner up for the third position was Private L. Reive, one of the younger members of the Force, who fired consistently well throughout the shoot.

The choice of sights was optional and a number of firers used the open service sight with wind guage and sling. The day was particularly fine for shooting and thirteen competitors made 90 or over as compared with only two on the 8th of December, 1932. But though the firing was of a very high standard the attendance of members was not all that could have been desired and it had been hoped that a much larger number of marksmen would have made a point of competing in this important competition.

APPALLING TRAIN DISASTER.

Hundreds Of Christmas Traveller Casualties.

French Catastrophe.

A Reuter message sent from Paris on Christmas Eve tells of an appalling disaster which involved the Paris-Strasbourg express during Saturday night's fog near Lagny, seventeen miles from the French capital.

The first news reported over 180 killed with some 300 injured.

It appears that the Paris-Nancy train which left the Gare de L'Est some two hours late was stationary when the Paris-Strasbourg express crashed into the rear of it at over sixty miles an hour, plunging through six passenger coaches crowded with Christmas travellers and the rescuers had to work in the red glare from the improvised fires of the shattered woodwork with the cries of the victims trapped in the debris drifting through the fog.

Throughout a bitterly cold night the Bishop of Meaux moved among the wreckage comforting the injured and giving benediction to the dying and dead.

There were many children in the trains going home for their holidays and full of pathetic implications amid the terrible scenes was a brown woolly teddy bear seated neglected on the permanent way with a label round its neck "For Marine from Mother, Christmas, 1933."

There were heart rending scenes as streams of frantic relatives flowed all Sunday through the Gare de L'Est where the dead had been brought for identification.

Faul Morel, a former Under Secretary of State and the Deputies Rollin and Schleiter are among the dead; the latter was Mayor of Verdun. One American and several Europeans are among the victims; The rest are French.

A still greater tragedy was averted by the presentiment that something was wrong by the driver of the Chalons express approaching Paris. He pulled up his train only a hundred yards from the wreckage.

The British Ambassador called upon the French President on Sunday to express his Government's horror and deep sympathy.

There have been no such terrible casualties in a railway disaster since the British Cretna collision between passenger and troop trains in 1915 when 224 were killed and 246 were injured.

A further message on Sunday stated that the last body had been recovered from the wreckage and the track had been cleared but there were still thirty-five bodies unidentified. The death roll numbered 195 with approximately 300 injured of whom 100 were in a serious condition with many of them not expected to live.

The French press were demanding an improvement in the automatic signalling and rolling stock regulations and conditions while an enquiry has been opened at Meaux by the Farquet assisted by three railway experts. The cause of the wreck is alleged to be due to the late functioning of the combined light and detonator signals while the driver and fireman state that the signal showed a white (all clear) light when the train passed.

According to the Daily Telegraph special representative on Tuesday the disaster death roll now numbers 220 while twice that number are injured, but so many of the bodies are mangled beyond recognition that it is impossible to issue complete casualty lists though it is ascertained that no British are involved while there is one American dead.

The preliminary examination shows that the express's speed indicator was registering over 65 miles an hour and that thirteen of the fourteen coaches making up the Nancy train were destroyed. It is understood that the driver and fireman of the wrecked express have been examined by a magistrate on the spot of the catastrophe and were, as a result, placed under arrest.

FALKLAND ISLANDS DEFENCE FORCE.

Annual Prize Shoot.

Those who took part in the various competitions in the Annual Prize Shoot held by the F.I.D.F. on Boxing Day spent a most enjoyable time. Shooting commenced about 8.30 in the morning and with the exception of a brief period at about 10.0 a.m., when a wet mist came down over the ranges, the day was ideal. Thirty-seven members competed.

In addition to the usual Slow, Rapid and Snapshooting practices carried out, a new competition was instituted this year in the form of an Iron-falling Plate Team event which received a very popular reception. Nine teams of four members entered and since the shoot was of the knock-out variety considerable speculation was caused as team met team.

His Excellency the Acting Governor, the Hon. M.C. Craigie-Halkett paid a visit to the range during the Snapshooting Practice and the firing at the "Bobbing Man." Being an old Volunteer himself His Excellency expressed his real pleasure upon the exhibition of so much keenness which produced so high a standard of shooting. He was also present for the Team competition and enjoyed the fun greatly.

HIS MAJESTY THE KING'S

CHRISTMAS MESSAGE.

Though conditions prohibited the distinction of more than one or two words of the speech actually broadcast from Sandringham on Christmas Day by the King, and the later relay from Buenos Aires could not be completely taken down, we give below an outline of His Majesty's message to the Empire that day.

"Through the efforts and the marvels of modern science I am able this Christmas Day to speak to all My people throughout the Empire. I take it as a good omen that wireless should have reached this state of perfection at a time when the Empire has been linked in closer union with its immense possibilities of making this union closer still."

In inspiring words His Majesty then alluded to the past, present and future of the Empire and concluded with words such as the following :

"My life aim has been to serve as I might. Your loyalty and your confidence in Me has been My abundant reward. I speak now from My home and from My hearth to you all - to those men and women so cut off by the snow, desert or the sea that only the voices of the air can reach them; to those cut off from the fuller life by blindness, sickness or infirmity; and to those who are celebrating this day with their children and grandchildren; to all and to each I wish a Happy Christmas and God Bless You."

We feel sure we are expressing the sentiments of all our readers in stating how keen the disappointment was that we were unable to hear completely, through no fault of our own, of the Local Broadcast Station or of the B.B.C. authorities at home, His Majesty's Most Gracious Message. Nevertheless, that we should have the opportunity of listening to His voice by our own firesides so far distant, and to learn of His deep personal interest in our well-being was a happy consolation. In future years we sincerely hope all difficulties will be overcome so that we may enjoy to the full His Majesty's cheering and inspiring words.
