To fit 14 to 17½ inch collar size. We have put everything we know into the making of this wonderful shirt. There is more in quality shirt making than merely making a shirt at a price. We examine many hundreds of shirting patterns to select one that will stand up to our very exacting tests. It has been scoured to see how it withstands the strain of hard washing. The cut and finish is identical to that of many shirts costing twice as much elsewhere, and we are confident it will give you extreme comfort throughout a strenuous day's work. A special feature is the loose soft collar to match to allow you to be neatly dressed at work or when leaving for home. The woven colour stripes on white grounds are neat and attractive.

Because "Snowdonias" are made in a construction no other can boast—an infallible construction with extra-super components that endow them with more months of wear than you will get in any other... a construction which makes them impregnable... slip-proof... warm and comfortable... and definitely the most hygienic rubber boot in the world!! There isn't a job on the road, the farm or the high seas that can master these massive "Snowdonias" Rubbers that even abusive wear can't destroy! Why, the dull, "live" gum rubber uppers are double the thickness of ordinary makes, and more, are strengthened with even quadruple super reinforcements in the parts that get the hardest wear, further, with genuine "Uskide" heel stiffeners that will never break! And the corrugated thick rubber toecap, also surround, it not fancy work... it's sound common sense put there to protect the toes, put round the edges to withstand the brunt of rough wear! And you've never seen, never known another sole to stand the hard graft of the "Snowdonia" Bulwark Sole. It's not heavily "loaded" with chemicals like most, nor is it just the ordinary thickness... it's a super rolled edge, diamond mesh Sole of live Gum Rubber double the thickness of any other, reinforced with giant cleats—a sole worthy of a man's highest praise. Again, "Snowdonias" are lined in thick wool "Iceland" stockinette, and have extra broad cleated, solid rubber heels! Then to seal the work of human hands, "Snowdonias" finally go through a secret process moulding them into one inseparable whole to guarantee them 100 per cent. waterproof and as acid-proof as man can!

Snowdonia. Brand Rubbers of Value

"TO BE FOREWARNED IS TO BE FOREARMED" The Doctor said it was "Flu"—Granny knew it was! How did Jack's wife get it? She told me she had to go out shopping and "got such a perishing," and her feet wet, too; and to make matters worse she went out again to meet Margaret and Jim with umbrellas to protect them from the rain and hurry them home from school. Granny agreed that was the cause!

Umbrellas can't keep one's legs cosy and one's feet dry—but "SNOWDONIAS" WILL!! Of all Wellingtons there isn't another boot that can be compared with "Snowdonias" for wear, reliability or value! They're made of fresh Gum Rubber, are twice as thick in the upper and in the famous slip-proof "lightning" bar solid rubber rolled edge sole than any other make to withstand the hardest wear anywhere, also are lined throughout with extra durable thick and extra cosy wool stockinette, not commonplace cotton fleeces!! Again, they're genuinely reinforced not with one or two, but with several extra thicknesses of rubber to give additional reliability and still longer wear, are fitted with unbreakable "Uskide" heel stiffeners, with an extra protective corrugated rubber toecap also surround complete with a solid rubber heel (not hollow as most) to give utmost satisfaction! Small wonder they're health protecting! snug!! impenetrable to water!! almost indestructible and guaranteed to save you money!!! That is an "insurance" flimsy substitutes cannot give, but which cost you as much, which wear—triply can't wear half as long as "Snowdonias" will!

"To be forewarned is to be forearmed!" Why risk health—why pay twice as much (elsewhere) for the self-same satisfaction? Then, be wise, fit up the whole family—father included—for only 8/- down, see page 172—then you'll leave all your Rubber Boot and Health worries behind you!

STANLEY SPORTS ASSOCIATIONDANCE AND PRIZEGIVING.

The Stanley Sports Association Dance and Prize-giving was held on Saturday at which His Excellency attended. He was introduced by Captain D.R. Watson, who said that the association wished to thank His Excellency for the very keen interest which he had shown in the sports.

In continuing Captain Watson then said how the Association appreciated the fact that the Falkland Islands Company had allowed their men together with horses to come in for the sports and he added that this had helped a great deal to make the sports so successful.

His Excellency was then asked to present the prizes.

After the distribution of prizes which occupied about forty minutes and as in the past called for a great amount of applause His Excellency addressed the gathering as follows :-

"Mr. Chairman, Captain Latham, Ladies and Gentlemen, it gives me great pleasure to be here this evening as it is twelve years since I attended a Sports meeting in Stanley. I was able to remain the whole of the first day but unfortunately on the second day of the sports other duties called me away.

"His Excellency said that he felt sure that everybody highly appreciated the good work done by the Treasurer and Joint Secretaries of the association and also the greater number of entries combined with the fine sportsmanship of all those taking part in the numerous events.

"If you will allow me to leave the Sports Association for a few moments I would at this stage like to mention how much we have enjoyed the visit of the French cruiser and I hope that when the warship visits us again she will come earlier and remain over the Sports. As you know we played football with a team from the ship which succeeded in defeating the Defence Force team. We would all like to see a return match. I hear that they have a wonderful goalkeeper."

In concluding His Excellency thanked the Sports Association for inviting him that evening to distribute the prizes.

The Chairman of the Sports Association the Hon. N. Keith Cameron, thanked His Excellency for his many kind words with reference to the Association and for consenting to come and present the prizes, and then on behalf of the Association he thanked the donors of prizes for their generosity.

As chairman he wished to express his appreciation to all those members of the Association who had worked so hard and so cheerfully to make the meeting a success.

The chairman then called for three cheers for His Excellency the Governor and this was answered by rousing cheers from the whole gathering, and followed by cheers for the chairman.

After the prize-giving and speeches the band once again struck up their lively tunes and the many people present continued to enjoy their last dance of the Xmas holiday, many of whom had to prepare for their long ride back to camp duties, but I think everybody will agree that it has been one of the most enjoyable Sports and holidays that we have experienced for several years.

Let us hope that the spirit of happiness and goodwill shown throughout this holiday will continue throughout the New Year (1936) and will be met again at next year's holiday and sports.

DISCOVERY II.

New York: Two ships carrying aeroplanes the "Wyatt Earp" and Discovery II are converging on the Antarctic to search for Ellsworth and Hollick Kenyon who disappeared a month ago during a flight across the Antarctic.

The search being first made at Charcot Island, then Little America will be the fliers objective.

BEATS THE BAND.

Surely this takes the cake and the biscuits as well so far as goals extraordinaire are concerned. Pearson, the West Bromwich goal-keeper, went for a shot, but collided with a goalpost. He knocked himself unconscious, but as he fell prostrate to the ground, the ball struck his body and was deflected into the net for a goal! The Albion are now definitely assured that this IS their unlucky season.

HELP FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN.

A gift of £125,000 by Lord Nuffield for research and treatment of crippled children announced yesterday is one of the largest individual benefactions made by Lord Nuffield, who in the last decade has made gifts to various institutions which newspapers state amount to nearly £1,000,000.

It is understood that a large part of the latest gift will be devoted to establishing a scholarship in orthopaedic surgery.

THE CARNEGIE FUND.

A Case of remarkable courage in despite of physical incapacity has been recognised by the trustees of the Carnegie Hero Fund in an award to Alfred Brennan of Thurso a one-legged man who last September rescued a woman bather to whom a lifebelt had been thrown but who was drifting out to sea.

Brennan went through the surf on his crutches which he then discarded and swam out and towed the helpless bather back to the shore.

GERMANS OUST BRITAINS.

"Peaceful penetration" back into what was previously a part of German East Africa is being continued steadily by German settlers in the Northern Province of Tanganyika.

They are steadily buying up British owned farms and causing much harm to British trade interests in the territory.

Wear a WILLIAMS' MADE BOOT for SATISFACTION and ECONOMY

They're of HARDWEARING SOLID LEATHER

The soles of this ordinary make (not used by Williams) are held entirely by screws and a row of stitching

1. Riveted to uppers
2. Lockstitched
3. Triple soles are screwed through to innersole.
4. Finally, soles compressed under power machines to seal as one.

They're BUILT DIFFERENTLY to endure!

SUPER WEAR COMBINATION Moorland CHROME UPPERS

NB 104 No cap with LEATHER SOLES SIZES 5 to 11

ALL ONE PRICE 10/11

It's no exaggeration, Men! Think it over!! Not some unknown imitation of the genuine stuff offered you here but "High-grade" British made products, "Ingles" soft-to-the-foot "Moorland-Scotch-Grain" double chrome leather uppers with a "Garston" super solid leather outsole as with a "Dunlop" Motor Tread sole, which specifications are not exceeded by any other boot in the world for dry, to stand and end the best wear for any man—made by one who will not let you get the best of the best for less than the best. And you will like them all with solid leather stiffeners, smooth, durable leather lining, a solid solid leather innersole and great triple soles—each having two undersoles in a solid solid leather outsole with the "Garston" patented leather outsole in the alternative with Dunlop sole, providing extra substantial wear and a perfect surface measuring evenly all-round. The soles are made in Williams' "Triple-construction" method, which means, even when they will not be made in Williams' "Triple-construction" method, they will be the best in the world as to durability. Try a pair—know the proof is in the wearing!

Grand Work Boots these will prove you can't get anywhere else nor the satisfaction in wear or reliability at anything like a moderate cost and expense. The uppers are in Ingles' selected genuine "MEMEL" Grain Hide Leather that is pliant and wet-resisting and even tough to stand rough wear. You won't find others fitted with double tongues to out the wet or constructed with solid leather stiffeners with a solid innersole foundation of tip-top solid leather and thick triple outsoles, with the best sole of Ingles' famous double-wearing waterproof "Invicta" leather innersole made of sturdy as other leathers in a choice of two kinds of soles. NB105 is impregnated with fat-headed resin from the back, which should only can't fall out—NB106 is lightly hob-nailed, while both have heel-plates in the solid leather heels. And remember Williams' "Triple-construction" method of manufacture is 100 per cent. foolproof. So they're bargains and no mistake! Both styles in Sizes 5 to 11.

FLOODS STILL INCREASING.

Floods due to recent heavy rains is still increasing in seriousness and extent.

The Thames continues to rise all along its course from Oxford down to Teddington where the rate of flow this morning reached 7,500 million gallons per twenty-four hours. This is a rise of one million gallons on Tuesday's rate of flow.

Wide areas in Sussex and Kent, around Bristol and in the East Midlands as well as in the Thames Valley are under water to depths varying from ten inches to over two feet.

Near Windsor the Thames is over a mile wide.

Many roads are impassable in all these areas and traffic has been diverted to higher roads after

TERRIBLE AIR DISASTER.

12 killed.

We regret to have to record a terrible air disaster.

The death of three members of the crew and nine passengers including two women in a crash of the Imperial Airway liner "City of Khartoum" is now confirmed.

The sole survivor is the pilot who was picked up after being six hours in the water and is lying seriously ill.

The flying boat had already wirelessly its time of arrival at Alexandria on its way from Crete when it plunged into the sea a few miles short of its anchorage yesterday evening.

Until the pilot can make a statement and the wreckage has been examined by experts the causes of the accident will remain unknown. Salvage operations are already in progress and the sunken machine may be brought to the surface within a few hours.

Sussex : A gold medal for 67½ years' service on one farm was awarded to Ephraim Burton Judge, of Vines Croft, Sussex.

Walsall : A bomb discovered at the rear of offices in Bradford-street, Walsall, a zeppelin missile, has been dumped in a large pool.

DEMONSTRATIONS CONTINUE.

Cairo : New anti-British demonstrations were held by students on New Year's Day but were prevented from assuming proportions by the action of the authorities of the raising of all bridges over the Nile except one which was kept open for traffic and strongly guarded by cavalry and infantry.

Feeling is still running strong among the students extremists against England and also the Egyptian Government. This is due in some measure so newspapers state that Eden replied evasively to the note of National United Front demanding that negotiations should be commenced on basis of draft constitution updrawn in nineteen thirty.

The British Foreign Minister it is stated answered that some time would be necessary in order to investigate the question thoroughly.

Mr Eden added however that this would be done in a friendly spirit and that further communication would follow shortly.

POLISH DENIAL.

Warsaw : Official circles state that the report in the British press and also printed in certain French newspapers that the Polish Government declared itself ready to place at the disposal of the League of Nations her air force in case of need is unfounded.

England who would choke Italy never informed Mussolini as was necessary of her intended change in policy regarding Abyssinia.

WAR NEWS.

Rome : The bombardment which took place on the Somali front was fully justified by the fact that two Italian aviators who fell at Dagabur were decapitated and their heads carried in triumph at Harrar.

Italian planes did not have Swedish redcross tents for objective or of other redcross although it is now a notorious fact that Abyssinian chieftains take refuge under redcross tents as soon as Italian planes appear on the horizon.

Reports about the numerous dead is not yet ascertained, but the attempt to exploit the event for the purposes of propaganda is not well founded in view of the Abyssinian methods of warfare which has already been brought to the notice of the League of Nations.

Addis Ababa : The Emperor sent another telegram of protest to the League of Nations in which he asserts that the Italian flyers had again employed poison gas bombs in an attack on troops on the southern front on December 13th.

The telegram also refers to the bombing of a Swedish redcross unit but merely mentions that the Swedish head surgeon, Doctor Hylander as having been seriously wounded. Reports reaching here from Dolo on Wednesday reiterate however that nine members of the Swedish unit including three women have been killed Stockholm : A telegram received by the Swedish redcross from the Swedish Consul at Addis Ababa appears to indicate that earlier reports concerning the bombing of the Swedish redcross unit near Dolo some what exaggerated.

The latest information from the Abyssinian Foreign Ministry also awakens hope that the results of the bombing are not quite so serious as at first reported.

French liner Normandie made £200,000 profit on last year's trips.

involving considerable detours.

Damage due to inundation is steadily mounting.

The Great Western reported last night that a large bridge in Wiltshire carrying Devizes-Salisbury road over the main line is subsiding and a section of the line has had to be closed as a precaution and traffic diverted to other routes.

DUCHESS OF YORK ILL.

Windsor : The Duchess of York has been ill at the Royal Lodge since December 16th.

It was stated last night that she is suffering from influenzal pneumonia which is now resolving.

CHIEF SCOUT.

Speaking of the civilising influence of the Italians in the territory which they have already conquered and of the help of every kind to Abyssinians who never had such help, care and attention before, and they look on the Italians as liberators.

NOVEMBER is so closely bound in our thoughts with Armistice Day commemorations that we rarely think of it as a month with many interesting associations for British people.

It was on November 14, 1922, for instance, that broadcasting was inaugurated in Great Britain, a date which, no doubt, future historians will accord more importance than we do at present.

The Suez Canal is much in the limelight these days, and the 17th of November was the sixty-sixth anniversary of its opening for traffic.

Its great engineer, de Lasseps, was born on November 19, 1805. It was characteristic of his practical nature that he was opposed to delaying the official opening ceremony to coincide with his sixty-fourth birthday.

The Duke

The most imposing funeral ever seen in Britain, apart from Royalty, was that of the Duke of Wellington, who was buried in St Paul's on November 18, 1852.

He died on September 16, but had lain in State in Chelsea Hospital for over three weeks and for a week at the Horse Guards. The funeral procession started at 7 a.m. and it was not until 3 p.m. that the body was finally lowered beside that of Nelson.

CHRISTMAS TRAGEDY.

Copenhagen : The Christmas celebrations held on Tuesday in the Community House of Iceland Village, Keflavik, near Rejkjavik, and in which one hundred and eighty children and also twenty grown up people participated ended in a tragedy when the Christmas tree caught fire and the flames rapidly enveloped the entire building.

Many of the panic stricken occupants were unable to escape owing to the fact that the main entrance had somehow become locked and had to be broken down.

WORMS IN SHEEP.

The penalty of the injudicious stocking of land with sheep is well known. Intestinal worms flourish and lambs do not thrive as they should. Writing in the Journal of the Ministry of Agriculture, Mr. E.L. Taylor summarizes the information available about the causes of parasitic gastritis in sheep. The worms responsible for this disease occur wherever sheep are kept, but do not cause any apparent harm unless they are present in very large numbers. Whereas the number of parasites in healthy lambs is only a matter of hundreds, some 15,000 or 30,000 are necessary to induce disease. Since overcrowding is so obviously of importance, it might be thought that parasitic gastritis is merely the outcome of consistent overstocking with sheep. Field observations show that this is not so. One farmer may keep a high concentration of sheep to the acre without any apparent harm, while another farmer with only half as many sheep to the acre is continually having trouble. Turning in the surface of the soil with the plough appears rather to favour the survival of the parasitic worms than to bring about their destruction. The loose soil of tilled land favours them more than the hard surface of a permanent pasture, the larvae remaining alive in the soil for more than 10 months. The occurrence of disease in lambs that are close folded and not allowed to run back on to the ground that has already been cleared is often found where sheep were folded only six or 12 months previously, leaving a heavy residue of infection behind them. It is recognized that a prolonged period of drought favours the development of the disease among lambs on pasture. The control of the disease is still an urgent matter for scientific investigation and is not likely to be achieved until some safe, cheap, and effective treatment is discovered. Copper sulphate is freely used for drenching lambs suffering from worms, but copper sulphate only kills the twisted wireworms, the several other species of worm causing the disease being untouched by the treatment.

WORMS IN SHEEP.

To the Editor of The Times.

Sir, - In The Times of October 21 under the heading "Worms in Sheep" in the Agricultural column, it is suggested that little can be done to remedy the troubles caused by the small species of intestinal worms that so frequently give rise to serious troubles in lambs and I feel that this should at once be contradicted. If farmers would only use copper sulphate and nicotine sulphate mixed in the correct strength, administer very carefully, and, of course, prescribe the quantity in accordance with the age and size of the sheep they would find the treatment almost infallible.

The veterinary department of the South Eastern Agricultural College at Wye, near Ashford, Kent, has for some number of years been carrying out experiments in regard to this particular subject with very great success. In June a flock of 80 lambs was selected and evenly divided, half of which were treated with the mixture to which I have referred and the other half were left as controls; both lots of lambs ran together on the same land in Romney Marsh, which is a very bad place to attempt to winter them, and received precisely the same treatment with the exception of the dosing, and in the following April the two lots of lambs were sold at the same sale by auction. Of the treated lambs three died of parasitic gastritis and the remainder realized £72 12s.; of the controlled lambs 18 died of the same complaint and the remainder realized £31 15s., so that the treated lambs realized well over 100 per cent. more than the untreated.

I have made similar experiments during the past two years with this mixture on well over 10,000 lambs each year with the most amazing results, which have been just as convincing as the experiments carried out by the Veterinary Department of the South Eastern Agricultural College at Wye. From my fairly large experience with this remedy I am convinced that all sheep should be treated; I dose all my breeding and fattening sheep as well as lambs, and it may be interesting to note that I was able to treat in June, with great success, lambs that were born in April, and I feel that the discovery of this mixture by the Veterinary Department at Wye is one of the greatest boons that graziers have had for a very long time and every sheepowner should know of this treatment and make full use of it.

I am yours faithfully,
HUBERT F. FINN-KELCEY.

NOVEMBER.

January.)

The funeral carriage, a magnificent vehicle, was drawn by twelve richly caparisoned horses and attended by thousands of soldiers and eminent persons in all ranks of life. Over a million and a half people watched the procession.

Canada will have a special interest in November of last year, for it marks the golden jubilee of the Canadian Pacific Railway. On November 8, 1885 the first through train arrived at Vancouver from Montreal, one of the great events in Canadian history.

As an American wit has said, "Heaven may have made the United States, but the C.P.R. made Canada."

Twenty-five years ago this November Count Tolstoy, the great writer, met his lonely and tragic death, which shocked the world. How the philosopher, old and feeble, left his home unknown to his wife only to die in the cottage of a stationmaster makes a drama surprising anything Tolstoy himself ever wrote.

On November 12, 1847, Dr. Simpson, of Edinburgh, first used chloroform as an anaesthetic.

The boon that chloroform has been to mankind can only be fully appreciated by those familiar with the dreadful and agonising scenes which took place daily in hospitals before its advent.

In November one-hundred-and-one years ago the first municipal elections were held in England under the epoch-making Municipal Reform Act.

Guy Fawkes's attempt to blow up the Houses of Parliament in November, 1605, is now celebrated by fireworks, but had the explosion taken place the whole future history of Britain might have been radically changed.

The Marble Arch, London, had its usual huge crowd of frequenters last November, but few of them will know that the last public execution at Tyburn was on November 7, 1783.

OFFICIAL REPORT ON BOMBING.

London : As the British Legation in Addis Ababa is in charge of Swedish interests in Ethiopia the Swedish Government have made urgent request that the British Minister should obtain on their behalf from the Ethiopian Government an official report on the bombing of the Swedish Redcross unit alleged to have occurred on Monday on the Ogaden front.

The request of the Swedish Government will be forwarded immediately to the British Minister in Addis Ababa.

FLOODS IN SOUTHERN ENGLAND.

London : Floods in many parts of Southern England were further aggravated yesterday by heavy rain.

Weather forecast indicated that rain will again become general.

The extension of the flooded area has become serious in many parts of the Thames Valley.

At Eton and Windsor the floods are the worst experienced since 1929 and the river which at Windsor Bridge is fifty inches above normal and is still rising.

The town of Eton is surrounded by water and the playing fields of the college and Windsor racecourse are under water.

Many roads are still impassable and in river valley's many houses and bungalows can only be reached by punts.

London : Road accident figures for Great Britain during the week ending December 21st were 108 killed and 3,954 injured and for the week ending December 28th, 145 killed and 3,524 injured.

FURTHER WAR NEWS.

Addis Ababa : The Daily Telegraph correspondent states that a telegram from Ras Desta commanding the Southern armies gives details of the Swedish redcross bombing when an ambulance leader Doctor Hylander was wounded in the right side and an assistant in the face, two patients were killed by bombs while machinegunning from planes. killed 28 patients and wounded 50 native orderlies, two lorries containing drugs, surgical instruments and medical stores have been destroyed. The entire unit is plainly marked with the redcross, and the first bomb landed in the operating tent. No warning was given and machineguns were directed against all ambulance tents.

Geneva reports the receipt of the Abyssinian note threatening reprisals against Italy by the seizure of private property if international violations continue.

A Rome communique admits that the bombing is a reprisal for barbaric against prisoners while a semi-official comment is that the bombers cannot be expected to hit their desired objective while military encampments are placed nearby.

THE AIR DISASTER.

Alexandria : The wreckage of the "City of Khartoum" has been found by sweeping and salvage operations with the result that three engines have been raised states the Daily Telegraph correspondent.

Divers fixed grapnels to the hull but owing to the heavy swell the machine slipped back when partially raised.

It is understood that the divers will recover the bodies and mail when conditions are favourable and then the wreck will be abandoned.

NOVEMBER.

A slab with an inscription marks the exact spot of the Tyburn Tree, only a few yards away from where "spouters" of all kinds daily gave forth their views.

November is not a popular month with most people, but King Edward had a partiality for it, for it was his birth month. He was born on November 9, 1841.

The Kaiser

The popular Duchess of Kent is also a November child, being born on the 30th according to the old Greek calendar.

In November, 1907, the German Emperor and Empress paid a State visit to London, and they received a warm welcome. It was this visit and the conversations with the ex-Kaiser which ensued that convinced King Edward of his nephew's determination for war.

With the exception of his visit for King Edward's funeral in May, 1910 the ex-Kaiser has never since set foot on British soil, although his friends at Doorn say that it is now the wish of his old age to revisit this country, the home of his mother and grandmother.

To many mystics and students of the occult November is a month of special significance, as it is the eleventh month of the year and 11 is regarded as a very potent number.

The late Lord Fisher was strongly superstitious about November, and more than once during the war he declared that victory would come to Britain in that month. He was delighted at his prophecy coming true, and would point out to his friends the coincidence of the Armistice being signed at the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month.

(Concluded.)

MR. HORE-BELISHA.

London : In speaking on road safety the Minister of Transport Mr. Hore-Belisha in a broadcast talk last night emphasised that real salvation lies not in regulations and mechanical devices but in personal care and restraint.

Since the speed control regulations have been in force however, the situation has shown a definite improvement. There were 822 fewer people killed on roads of Great Britain last year and 12,805 fewer injured than in 1934. Figures for the past year were 6,521 killed and 218,798 injured.

Since the invention of motorcars said Mr Hore-Belisha accidents had mounted in unbroken ascent during every normal year and if 1935 had continued the tendency there would have been a further increase of 15,000. Further there had been an average addition of 450 motor vehicles every day throughout the year. In spite of this whereas in 1934 ninety-nine persons were killed or injured for every 1,000 vehicles on the roads.

WAR NEWS & NOTES.

Addis Ababa : The greatest number of air attacks ever launched in a single day were made on Saturday by Italian fliers. Bombs were literally rained on all positions. Observers estimate that all available bombing squadrons were engaged. Reports of the attack state that the majority of the bombs were gasbombs. Abyssinian rifle-fire was so effective that one of the attacking planes crashed in flames, both occupants being killed.

The surprising activity of the enemy airforce is taken as an indication that the Italians are preparing to advance along the Sudan frontier, the object being to cut off extensive deliveries of arms and ammunition to Abyssinia by caravan routes from Sudan.

Other reports state that Italy is endeavouring to gain an important strategical position along the Sudan frontier in case the tension between England and Italy becomes more acute.

Daggah-Bur was also bombed on Saturday, this is their third visit from the Italian bombers in two weeks, nothing remains of the town of Daggah-Bur except a heap of ruins.

It is now reported that an Egyptian redcross unit was bombed on Friday when all instruments and stores were destroyed.

It is further stated that no lives were lost in this attack but at the same time the attack of the redcross unit has caused very bad feeling in Egypt against the Italians.

Rome : Deep resentment reigns at the international repercussions caused by the bombing of the Swedish redcross unit.

The atmosphere of tension has been greatly increased in consequence and Italy's withdrawal from the League of Nations is being seriously considered.

"The air of Geneva" is becoming inbreathable for Italy declares the semi-official Sunday newspaper Voce Ditalia and many people are asking why we still remain there.

The answer to this is that Italy will remain in the League as long as she feels equal to withstanding the strain, but her powers of resistance have a limit and everything tending to bring Italy nearer this limit.

The powers participating in "Sanctions" are accused of exploiting the Swedish redcross incident in order to tighten the screw on sanctions and nobody in Italy is under any delusion about this propaganda leading eventually to an oil embargo. The powers participating in "Sanctions" are accused of exploiting the Swedish redcross incident in order to tighten the screw on sanctions and nobody in Italy is under any delusion about this propaganda leading eventually to an oil embargo.

Addis Ababa : Doctor Lundstroem one of the two Swedish physicians who were wounded in the Italian bombardment of the redcross unit has since died of his wounds.

Doctor Hylander the chief surgeon of the unit who was also wounded has now arrived in the capital where he is receiving hospital treatment.

It is reported by the Suez Canal Company that 35,000 Italian troops have been transported home sick and wounded and it is assumed that Italy will have to mobilize another 100,000 men in order to meet requirements in East Africa.

Geneva : A new Abyssinian note has been received by the League of Nations.

Though the text of the note has not been published it is understood that the note requests that a commission of investigation be despatched to Abyssinia in order to observe with their own eyes what the Italians describe as "Gruesome methods of warfare".

Rome : According to the Daily Telegraph correspondent, Marshal Badoglio has asked for reinforcements in East Africa as relief is essential for many troops who have served above ten months under arduous conditions.

AERIAL WARFARE.

As we have been publishing a great amount of news referring to aerial bombardments we take pleasure to publishing a report on the aerial bombardments of 1914/1918 which shows the terrible death roll by such warfare.

During the Great War (1914-18) there were 37 aeroplane and 54 Zeppelin raids upon fortified towns in England and Scotland. The first aeroplane raid occurred on Dec. 24, 1914, and the first Zeppelin raid on Jan. 9, 1915. The total number of people killed in air raids on England and Scotland during the war was 1,272 and 3,128 were injured, but the total result of enemy air raids was small from a military point of view. Several enemy aeroplanes and Zeppelins were brought down. British and French reprisal air raids on German towns were effective, and the British Flying Corps rendered immense service on the battle fronts.

SURVIVORS OF THE BATTLES OFCORONEL & THE FALKLAND ISLANDS.

In our issue of the "Penguin" on Monday we mentioned the new 10,000 ton German pocket battleship, it was announced from London last night that the ceremony on Monday was attended by survivors of the battles of Coronel and the Falkland Islands, the latter in which Admiral Von Spee met his death.

THE NEW DEANERY.

On Monday, 6th January, the Foundation stone of the New Deanery was laid by His Excellency the Governor, H. Henniker-Heaton Esq., C.M.G.

On his arrival, accompanied by the Misses Henniker-Heaton, he was received by the Dean-elect, the Rev. Dr. R.T. Wade and members of the Cathedral Council. The Dean-elect offered a short prayer.

Having expeditiously performed his task and declared the stone "well and truly laid", His Excellency in the course of a short address, referred feelingly to the arduous, self-sacrificing and ever memorable labours of Dean Brandon and others who had occupied the old Deanery.

A vote of thanks to His Excellency was moved by Mr. T. Binnie, seconded by Mr. R.H. Hannaford and carried by acclamation.

The contractors Messrs. J.W. Grierson and C.F. Thompson had rigged up a block and tackle to carry the foundation stone, and had decorated the structure with bunting. Over all the Union Jack waved gaily.

Beneath the stone was placed a sealed bottle containing a vellum roll bearing the names of The Lord Bishop, of His Excellency, of the Office-bearers of The Cathedral, and of the contractors. The vellum was subscribed by the C.S.O., the waterproof ink by the P.W.D., the sealing-wax by the Post Office. The list of names is as follows :-

LOCAL BISLEY MEETING 1936.

RULES AND CONDITIONS.

1. The Trigger pull of every rifle used in any competition shall not be less than 5 lbs. This will be strictly adhered to.
2. The marking may be challenged once only before any other shot has been fired at the same target, on payment of the sum of one shilling (1/-) to the Range Officer. If, on examination, the marking in question is confirmed the deposit shall be forfeited without appeal; if, on the contrary, the objection proves well founded, the deposit shall be returned to the Competitor who has paid it, and the score altered in accordance with the decision received.

Note. In the event of no signal being made, if the firer does not exercise his right to challenge the marking, he shall be credited with a miss, but the Competitor whose turn it is to fire may have the target examined and cleared before he fires. The result of such examination shall not be signalled by the marker.

3. On a challenge being made, the named target will be lowered and will be personally examined by the Butt Officer, after which:
 - (a) If any correction in the marking has to be made or if any shot has to be signalled, it will be signalled in the usual way; or -
 - (b) if the Competitor has claimed a hit and none is found, the target will be patched and sent up without any spotting disc; or -
 - (c) if the Competitor has claimed a hit of a higher value than that signalled, and no hit of higher value is found, the target will be sent up in exactly the same condition as when lowered.

The result of each such examination will be verified by telephone in addition to being signalled as above.

4. Coaching and Spotting in not allowed in individual competitions and no person, except the Range Officer or the Register Keeper, may speak to a Competitor after he has taken his place at the firing point.
5. No person is allowed to make any Noise or Disturbance likely to affect a Competitor, and the Range Officer may have any person infringing this rule removed from the vicinity of the firing point.
6. In Team Competitions the members of each Team are permitted to "coach" or "spot" for each other.
7. A Register Keeper may tell a Competitor the position of the spotting disc but may not give any information or assistance in the nature of "Coaching".
8. If a Competitor's firing, through no fault of his own, has been interrupted in the opinion of the Range Officer for more than ten minutes, the Competitor, may, after notifying the Register Keeper, fire one sighting shot before resuming.
9. Competitors must, after firing each shot, pay attention to the score called out by the Register Keeper, and see that the proper entry is made by him on the blackboard before any other shot is fired at his target.
10. In all Individual Competitions and Tie Shooting in which each shot is separately signalled, the time Allowed to a Competitor within which to fire a shot is one minute from the time at which the target was clear.
The time allowed at all distances counts from the Register Keeper's caution to "carry on" in the case of the first shot and from the time the target is clear in the case of all subsequent shots.
11. A Competitor observed to be firing too slowly in an Individual Competition in which any shot is separately signalled shall, after being cautioned and timed by the Range Officer in person, be liable to forfeit the value of that or any subsequent shot where the time limit is exceeded.

WAR NEWS.

Addis Ababa : The Emperor is still convinced that he is capable of repulsing the invaders, and adds that the increasing air-raids are not affecting the discipline of his troops, but that the Abyssinian's policy of attacking by night is severely trying the nerves of the Italian troops.

London : Confirmation has been received in London from the British Minister in Addis Ababa, Sir Sydney Barton, of reports in circulation over the week-end that another ambulance unit in Abyssinia had been bombed by Italian aircraft.

The unit attacked was the Ethiopian redcross ambulance number one, situated at Daggah-Bur, which is staffed by Egyptian and British personnel. The unit was bombed and machine-gunned by an Italian aeroplane on January the fourth.

It appears that there were no casualties among the foreign staff. During previous bombardments of Daggah-Bur the redcross unit, which was at some distance from the town had been respected.

London : A broadcast appeal made on Sunday night by the Very Rev. Dick Sheppard, for £5,000 to enable an additional British redcross unit to be sent to Abyssinia, has met with quick and generous response according to the British Red Cross Society.

Rome : Monday's war bulletin states that in a small fight in the Tembien district the Abyssinians were repulsed, the Italian losses being two white soldiers killed while one officer and two Askaris were wounded.

After the receipt of a report that Abyssinian troops were gathering at Areri on the right side of Canale Doria a bitter fight occurred resulting in the capture and destruction of the Abyssinian camp who left over 150 dead and wounded on the field of battle. The Italians claim their losses to be one soldier and one Askari killed with fifteen others wounded.

Addis Ababa : Torrential rains brought all military activity in North Abyssinia to a standstill with the Dessie area particularly affected thus interrupting the continuance of surprise attacks upon the Italian troops.

The death roll of the Swedish redcross bombing is now 50.

A Rome communique states that patrol actions are continuing while Abyssinian concentrations in Areri have been dispersed by armoured cars, inflicting heavy losses.

The airforce remains active on all fronts.

The condition of Hylander, the wounded Swedish Doctor, who was brought to Addis Ababa on Saturday, is improving.

BRITISH WARSHIPS MOVEMENTS.

Athens : Seven British destroyers arrived in Greek ports on Tuesday.

The Electra, Export, Express and Exmouth have anchored in Piraeus while the Escape and Asp are lying in the roadstead.

The Hood and Renown were expected to arrive sometime Wednesday.

This concentration of British warships in Greek waters is attributed to the Italian military preparations in the Dodecanese Islands.

BACKING ABYSSINIA.

Zagreb (Yugoslavia) : Betting on the results of the clash between Italy and Abyssinia is in full swing in the cafes here.

The general off-the-course rate is at present 6 to 1 on Abyssinia.

THE DUCHESS OF YORK.

The condition of the Duchess of York shows steady improvement and convalescence is approaching.

MEN KILLED & INJURED DURING GALE.

A great gale during which gusts of 100 miles per hour were registered swept the south-west coast of Great Britain on Sunday night and yesterday morning, and shipping received heavy buffeting.

Tremendous seas were running in the Irish Sea and the Holt liner "Ulysses" was hit by huge waves. During this brief period of the storm while the crew were battening down hatches two gigantic waves swept the deck knocking the men down. Three men were killed and four injured.

The "Ulysses" which is carrying 130 passengers and is bound for Brisbane put into Swansea but it was seventeen hours after her arrival in the Bay before the vessel could enter dock. This was effected this morning. Meanwhile despite several attempts it was found impossible owing to the gale to land the injured men.

Three small vessels damaged by the gale put into Falmouth for repairs last night. Three of the crew of one of them were injured including the chief officer who had been swept off the bridge. Many other casualties to small craft are reported.

A NEW NAVAL BASE.

Jerusalem : Despatches from Beirut state that the French government has in agreement with the British government decided to establish a naval base in a Syrian port.

FLOODS IN FRANCE.

A message from Paris states that the Seine is still rising and that the floodwaters have entered Quaidorsay.

Hundreds of villages and thousands of acres are under water.

Many landslides have occurred with the Loire area the worst.

Nantes suspension bridge has been swept away and a further rise of twenty inches will completely swamp the lower half of the town.

GERMAN COLONIES.

London : The return to Germany of her former colonies was unequivocally advocated by Lord Downe in a speech he delivered at York on Tuesday and which is attracting considerable attention throughout the British Isles and also Germany.

Lord Downe served in the army until recently and is regarded as one of the coming men of England's political life.

OFFICIAL ENQUIRY.

London : The official enquiry into the loss of the flying boat City of Khartoum is to be opened forthwith.

Captain Mansell chief inspector of civil aircraft who has been appointed by the Secretary for Air to investigate the accident and is now at Alexandria, will examine the wreckage and collect such evidence as may be available.

FURTHER WAR NEWS.

Rome : No war communique was issued yesterday but a Royal decree provides for Blackshirt formations to replace those on active service while 17,000 crack Alpine troops sailed in the last 48 hours.

An Istanbul message from the Daily Telegraph correspondent states that Italian activity in the Dodecanese is giving rise to Turkish apprehensions and foreigners are not allowed to land. The Leros Island entrance is netted against submarines.

The French press considers that the Italian bombing of the Swedish redcross unit has closed the case against Italy.

Rome. (Noon Wednesday) : A report from the Commander-in-Chief of the East African forces states that the Italian artillery heavily shelled the Abyssinian concentration in Amba Aradam, South Makale.

Following the recent patrol action in the Tembien sector the Abyssinians fled leaving behind twenty-two dead.

Aircraft carried out a bombing action in the sector of Lake Ashangi, when the Abyssinian troops saw the planes they displayed, painted on the ground three large Red Crosses and all the troops gathered round these for protection.

ENGLAND TO CAPETOWN FLIGHT.

Plane wrecked flier safe.

Paris : The British flier Lt. Rose who left London on Tuesday on an attempt to set up a new record from England to Capetown came to grief when he ran into a violent storm and he was forced to land near Abbeville on The Somme. His machine was wrecked but Rose himself received only minor injuries.

THE PRIME MINISTER.

The Prime Minister Mr Stanley Baldwin has returned to London from his home in Worcestershire where he spent the Christmas holiday.

Most of the other Ministers are still absent from London and will return in time for the Cabinet meeting next week.

Meanwhile the international situation and other current questions are the subject of less formal discussion between Ministers more directly concerned.

In accordance with the usual practice followed when a new Foreign Secretary takes office, courtesy calls on Mr Anthony Eden are being paid this week by about sixty Ambassadors and Ministers in London of foreign powers.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S NEW GOVERNOR.

Admiral Sir Humphrey Walwyn the new Governor of Newfoundland, will sail from England on January the ninth to take up his appointment.

BURIED KITTENS ALIVE !

For cruelty to five kittens by burying them alive in a garden, William Samuel Webb, aged fifty-three, was fined ten shillings at Chatham.

NAVAL CONFERENCE.

The Naval Conference met again for about two hours yesterday afternoon.

Three plans were submitted by the French, United Kingdom and Italian delegations respectively providing for quantitative limitation of naval armaments by means of notification and exchange of building programmes, were examined by the first committee.

The French and Italian delegates proceed to elaborate their plans and the Japanese delegation offered their observations on certain features of the plans.

Discussion was adjourned

MINERS WAGE DISPUTE.

The negotiations on coal miners wages were resumed on Wednesday afternoon in London when the Mineowners met representatives of the Executive of the Mine Workers Association.

The miners claim an advance of wages of two shillings per shift for adults and one shilling for juveniles, but the owners proposals for advances in wages vary in different coalfields.

Some have already been made public, in Scotland and Nottinghamshire the advances are nine-pence and a shilling respectively and are already in force.

Later message.

The joint discussions between representatives of the Coalowners and the Mineworkers were not concluded and they were resumed again on Thursday.

Detailed offers of the increase of wages which the District Associations of Mineowners have made in response to the demand for advance vary from one shilling per day by Lancashire, North Wales Leicestershire, North Staffordshire, Shropshire and Warwickshire.

South Wales offer of advance in wages being five-pence per shift. The Miners representative were dissatisfied with these offers and last evening before reporting to the Executive of the Mineworkers Federation they had an interview with the Secretary for Mines Captain Crookshank and asked for temporary assistance by the Government but it is now understood that they were told that no such assistance could be given.

At Thursday's meeting the Mineworkers intended to again press for a uniform advance for the whole country.

Cheshire : Backgarden excavations in the village of Great Budworth revealed alluvial gold deposits and metal has been found in local hills and streams but the deposits are considered to be commercially unworkable.

HOME FLEET MOVEMENTS.

London : The Admiralty announces that "certain units of the Home Fleet comprising of His Majesty's Ships Nelson, Rodney, Furious, Cairo and the twenty-first destroyer Flotilla will in accordance with the normal annual practice undertake a Spring Cruise beginning about the middle of January and simultaneously the Home Fleet units now at Gibraltar comprising of the Hood, Ramillies, Orion and Neptune will return to the United Kingdom."

FENCE BETWEEN EGYPT AND TRIPOLI.

Alexandria : A two-hundred mile fence of barbed wire, fifteen feet broad and over six feet high now marks in an unmistakable manner the frontier between Egypt and Tripoli according to press reports here.

Machine gun posts are distributed at intervals all along this formidable barrier which is electrically charged.

Morning and evening British and Italian observation planes patrol their respective side of the frontier.

ITALIAN PROPAGANDA.

Addis Ababa : Leaflets calling on the population of the Northern Provinces to revolt against the Addis Ababa government have been dropped from Italian planes along the whole north front.

These leaflets assert that the central government is ruining the economic life of the provinces and raising taxes which only went into the pocket of the Negus.

The Addis Ababa government it is added has no right to the term of Government of the whole of Abyssinia and therefore Abyssinians are under no obligations to sacrifice themselves for the Emperor.

The first batch of Italian prisoners from the North front have now arrived at Dessie. The prisoners have no complaints regarding their treatment.

RADIO AND JUTLAND.

The Empire has been mourning the loss of Earl Jellicoe of Scapa, one of the last of the Great War leaders. As each of these great men passes on, it is only natural that we also remember the outstanding episode of national importance for which he was supremely responsible. Thus in the case of Lord Jellicoe the name "Jutland" will ever be coupled with his own.

Radio played an important part in the Battle of Jutland - in fact, one of the most significant preliminaries to the battle was the reception of enemy naval signals from a direction which indicated that the German Fleet had moved from its base and was possibly putting out to sea. These signals were received at the Admiralty Wireless Direction Finding Station at Lowestoft, one of three erected along the East Coast of England and Scotland for war purposes.

It may, at first sight, seem strange that much importance was attached to this change of bearing, but it must be appreciated that the direction-finding apparatus was extremely accurate and that the habits and bearing of each of the German ships were known to our operators. In order to determine the actual geographical position of a station transmitting a signal, several suitably placed receiving stations are necessary. Each line of signal direction indicated by the D.F. apparatus is marked on a special map and the point of intersection of the lines denotes the required position. The three Admiralty stations mentioned above were situated at Lowestoft, Flamborough, and Aberdeen. It will be seen that, so placed, their simultaneous observations provided the best possible position-finding combination for Germany and a certain part of the North Sea.

It will be interesting to reflect on the type of apparatus on which the Jutland signal was received, and other direction and position finding observations were made. It was crude in some respects when compared with modern equipment, but, by virtue of continuous research and extreme care, direction readings correct to half a degree were obtained during daylight. It will be readily agreed that this was phenomenal at that time.

WARSHIPS MANOEUVRES.

Paris : Referring to sensational reports in the British press to the effect that the programmed manoeuvres of the French Mediterranean Fleet off Corsica is the first tangible result of the Franco-British mutual aid negotiations but the French Naval Ministry issued an official declaration on Wednesday night that fleet movements in the Mediterranean were not connected with current events.

Rome : Immense interest has been aroused by the news of the proposed movements of the British Fleet.

Responsible Italian authorities decline however to make any statement until the ultimate destination of the ships leaving England is known.

10 MEN FEARED LOST.

Lowestoft : A wreckage which has been washed up near Milford Haven gives rise to the fear that the Lowestoft drifter "Shore Breeze" which left Plymouth last week has foundered in a gale off the Welsh coast and that her crew of ten have lost their lives.

Another Lowestoft fishing vessel the fate of which was causing anxiety, reached port yesterday under tow.

London : The lawn tennis champion Perry arrived from Australia for injured back treatment and will not play for another three months.

GALE CONTINUES.

In the gale which swept Great Britain yesterday several people lost their lives while many more suffered injuries and much material damage was done.

Full severity of the gale was experienced in the Irish Sea and on the coast of Wales where the wind reached 100 miles per hour. Several coastal vessels caught in the storm were in danger and the 200 ton cargo boat "Bradda" foundered at the entrance to the Mersey with a loss of five members of her crew. Three lifeboats went to the assistance of a small French steamer in distress off Bolt Head, Devonshire, but when the sea moderated slightly she was able to ride out the storm and await the arrival of the tugs.

The storm on land resulted in several deaths and injuries owing to falling trees and masonry. When the gale was at its height in Manchester, the chief constable broadcast a wireless warning to the public to remain indoors until the storm abated.

The suspension bridge which is the only line of communication for road traffic between the Island of Anglesey and the mainland had to be closed to traffic owing to the unseating during the gale of the axle on which the end of the bridge rests. Scores of motorcars many of them belonging to merchants who had been attending the weekly markets on the Island were left stranded. It will probably be some days before repairs are effected.

The windows were broken in carriages of the London-Manchester express which fouled the upper branches of uprooted trees near Stafford.

Later message.

It is now known that fifteen people lost their lives in the tremendous gale which swept the British Isles last night and on Friday which reached a speed of eighty-eight miles an hour, extensive floods followed in its wake.

Some of the outer suburbs of North London are seriously affected. Early morning train passengers from Gospel Oak found their way to the railway station cut off by the floods. Windsor racecourse is waterlogged and to-day's and to-morrow's racing have been abandoned.

A hundred and fifty animals were drowned in Gloucestershire while two thousand pedigree chickens at Lydd, Kent were burnt to death through the gale turning over a lamp.

GERMANY'S NEW ZEPPELIN.

Friedrichshafen : The original intention of the German Zeppelin Navigation Company that the maiden voyage of the new airship "LZ 129" would be to North America has now been changed so that the first long distance flight will be from Friedrichshafen to Rio de Janeiro.

This decision is intended as a mark of appreciation felt by Germany towards the Brazilian Government for the interest shown in airship traffic and the financial participation which led to the building of an airship port at Santa Cruz near Rio de Janeiro.

BRITISH SEAMEN'S GALLANTRY.

The French Minister of Mercantile Marine has awarded silver medals of salvage and diplomas to the men of the Barry-Dock lifeboat for gallantry in the rescue of the crew of the French schooner "Goeland" in the Bristol Channel last September.

London : The High Commissioner for New Zealand, Sir James Parr stated that the Dominion has placed a further order of £72,000 for British railway material.

To-day's striking thought :-

"We all wish the week would end but not the week-end."

A BRIDE FROM THE FALKLAND ISLANDS.

Married at Presbyterian Church.

Miss Agnes Small, and Mr. S.M.
Franks.

The marriage took place at the Presbyterian Church, Heene-road, Worthing, on Saturday, of Miss Agnes Bessie Small, niece of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, The Falklands, 98, St. Lawrence-avenue, Worthing, and Mr. Stuart Martin Franks, of Guildford, son of Mr and Mrs W. Franks, of Battle.

The bride was given away by a brother of the bridegroom, Mr A.R. Franks, who deputised for her uncle. She was wearing a dress of white crepe trimmed with lace, and attached to her coronet was a veil that had been in the family for many years. She carried bronze chrysanthemums.

SCHOOL LEAVING AGE.

London : Big administrative changes made necessary by the government's coming bill for the raising of the school-leaving age to fifteen years and the improvement of education services are announced.

They include firstly the reorganisation of elementary schools to provide extra accommodation required to remedy defective premises and to reduce the size of classes, secondly an increase from 300 to 360 in the number of state scholarships from secondary schools to the university and an increase in the value of each scholarship from £80 per annum to a figure not yet fixed.

SHIPPING NEWS.

The m.v. Loriga left for Magallanes at mid-day Friday.

The s.s. Lafonia expects to arrive in Stanley between 9 and 10 a.m. and leave again for Montevideo about noon.

STUDYING WHALE LIFE.

The Royal Research ship William Scoresby, has left London on an Antarctic voyage of seventeen thousand miles to enable one man on board to study the habits of whales.

This man is Mr. G.W. Rayner, of the Discovery scientific staff. Mr. Rayner has a laboratory with equipment that will enable him to make an exhaustive study of the movements and habits of whales.

One of the crew said : "We reckon we'll have a jolly time. We've a library, a gramophone, and a huge stock of records, a wireless set and all sorts of table games. Best of all, we have several instrumentalists on board. Our Antarctic orchestra will consist of two mandolines, a ukulele, four mouth organs and a crooner."

With due acknowledgment to the F.H.

CITY OF KHARTOUM ABANDONED.

Cairo : Salvage operations on the wreckage of the air liner City of Khartoum are now completed.

It is understood that seven of the recovered victims died instantaneously from fractured skulls, no other bodies were found in the wreck.

All mails and luggage have been salvaged and the wreck will now be abandoned.

ROME, RADIO LITTORIOWIRELESS BULLETIN.

The Minister for Press issued the following communique : Large groups of the enemy on the Southern front endeavouring to reach Gabat were dispersed by artillery fire.

The air force carried out light bombing actions upon armed groups of Abyssinians sighted north of Tellemi.

Nothing special to report on other fronts.

The system of false information inaugurated by the British agency "Reuter" is increasingly deplorable. The news concerning the departure of the Alpine troops from Merano is absolutely without foundation. All detachments left in perfect order and amid enthusiasm of the population.

This continual flow of untruths dishonours the British agency and is not such to better the present atmosphere.

Rome : London with full page title "If Italy succeeds in this, sanctions only serve as loss of time". The Evening Standard published the following article.

Synthetic wool production in Italy from milk, following the struggle against sanctions has stupified British technicians.

Industrialists of Yorkshire examining a sample of this wool, said, that if Italy succeeds in producing wool of this kind from milk it is absolutely a loss of time to talk of sanctions.

It is no doubt a marvelous result. It is in fact produced exactly similar to wool and contains fat product, very warm and of long duration utility.

Addis Ababa : Heavy rains are evidently paralysing military activity on both the northern and southern fronts, no important operations being reported from either.

On the northern front skirmishes occurred between patrols, while on the southern front General Graziani's offensive appears to have come to a standstill.

According to despatches received here Graziani is apparently awaiting for reinforcements.

Large quantities of war material have again reached Addis Ababa from Jibuti in the course of the present week and their arrival contributed to stimulate optimism among the population.

Addis Ababa : It is officially claimed that the entire Tembien district west of Makalle has been recaptured with the Italians offering no resistance and burning all villiages during their retreat.

Rain is falling over a vast area of North Abyssinia and roads have been washed away, and rivers are in flood.

According to the Daily Telegraph correspondent official circles consider the maintenance of steady gains while the country holds three years food supply will result in the Italians being driven out by July and before oil sanctions are effective.

BRITISH SHIPBUILDING INDUSTRY.

The publication called "British Shipbuilding Industry" for 1935 issued by the Shipbuilding Employers Federation in referring to shipping now under construction in British yards says that the new vessels will be able to pay their way where older ships could only run at a loss.

It proceeds "improvements in hull form and in machinery resulting from extensive research and experiments have made it possible for British shipbuilders to offer modern ships capable of carrying twice as much freight paying cargo for each ton of oil consumed compared with cargo vessels built eight or nine years ago."

The report adds that the lukewarm attitude of some shipowners to the scrap and build scheme is lessening.

THE BISHOP'S TROPHY.

The Bishop's Trophy Competition was shot off on Saturday the 11th January, 1936.

Although the weather was pleasant in many respects, it was not ideal for long range shooting.

The Commanding Officer, Major the Hon. M.J. Stewart visited the range and followed the competition with keen interest, remaining until the end. He fired several rounds at 900 yds.

The Hon. R.L. Cheverton, made his first appearance on the range as a competitor and showed great promise, finishing 14th out of 29 competitors.

With a slight variable left wind at 900 yds. the conditions were not too easy for the majority of competitors, although Sgt. J.J. Harries made a possible of 35 and Jim Gleadell 33.

At 1,000 yards the conditions proved even more difficult and many bad scores were registered owing to a tricky fish-tail wind. Sgt. J.J. Harries maintained his lead and finished an easy winner with a grand total of 62, four clear points ahead of Pte. W.J. Summers, who was 2nd with 58 and Pte. H.H. Sedgwick 3rd also with 58.

It is hereby notified for general information that Grazing Licences for the depasturing of Stanley Common will be issued by the Chief Constable up to and including the 15th January, 1936.

WAR NEWS & NOTES.

Addis Ababa : Doctor Junean of the International Redcross Geneva has ended his investigation into the bombardment of the Swedish redcross station at Dolo and has returned to the capital.

Addis Ababa : Fighting around Makale continues.

The conflict is especially violent about twelve miles west of Makale and the main Abyssinian attack is against Abaro which is about fifteen miles north of Makale.

The Italians position there is said to be very precarious.

In consequence of a fortnights continued rainfall all old roads and even the new roads built by the Italians are totally unfit for transport work and the Abyssinians are taking full advantage of the Italians predicament.

Rome : Reports that Italian troops are being concentrated along the French frontier is officially denied.

Dessie : The situation on the Northern front still remains obscure. While the reports of the recapture of Makale appear at least to be premature, the pressure by the Abyssinian troops seems to be increasing and according to news received here Italian experts consider it possible that Headquarters might be compelled to withdraw the small garrison from Makale.

In well informed circles it is not believed that the Abyssinians will attempt any frontal attack on Makale and opinion prevails that they will apply themselves to the task of cutting off of enemy communications, whereby their efforts will probably be concentrated on the Tembien region which is already a scene of embittered fighting.

The general mobilisation for the whole of Southern Abyssinia has been ordered by Ras Desta and it is expected that this measure will increase his forces by two hundred thousand men.

Genoa : 30,000 voluntary workers left Genoa on Friday for East Africa on board the steamer "Gabbiano".

BOXING.

New York : The State Athletic Commission has sanctioned the contest between Jack McAvoy the British middleweight champion and the negro J.H. Lewis for the world cruiser weight title which is at present held by Lewis.

COMMUNISTS & CATHOLICS.

Dublin : Communists and Catholics had a severe encounter on Sunday.

Communists tried to hold a meeting at which Pollitt the chief of the British communist party was to speak.

When Pollitt tried to begin members of the Catholic youth organisation unfurled a banner and then began to hurl all kinds of objects at the speaker.

Communist stewards tried to eject the demonstrators whereupon hand to hand fighting broke out, chairs, sticks, bottles and glasses being used as missiles.

Several of the fighters are still in hospital.

NAVAL OFFICERS DINED WITHKING OF GREECE.

Athens : Naval officers belonging to the British destroyers taking part in manoeuvres off the coast of Greece dined with King George on Saturday evening.

55 NEW SUBMARINES.

Stockholm : Extensive Soviet Russian armament programme announced at the Session Central Executive Committee, Moscow, although bringing no new revelations is causing some anxiety in Swedish political circles.

Newspapers call attention to the projected great system of canals destined to link up the White Sea and the Baltic with the Black Sea and Caspian as well as to the recent increase of forces in the Leningrad military district.

Soviet Russia's Baltic fleet will also be strengthened according to newspapers which points out that a submarine fleet will comprise of fifty-five entirely new craft in nineteen thirty-seven whereby Soviet Russia's political influence in all Baltic States including Sweden must necessarily be augmented

SIR ERIC DRUMMOND.

The British Ambassador in Rome Sir Eric Drummond who has been in England on leave is returning to his post in a week or ten days time.

Yesterday afternoon he saw the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden at the Foreign Office, he also paid a courtesy call on the Prime Minister.

COLONIAL JUBILEE STAMPS.

Empire Silver Jubilee stamps have been so popular that 35 out of the 44 Crown Colonies which issued special stamps have had to reprint some or all of the values. Antigua, Ascension Island, British Guiana, Solomon Islands, Gibraltar, Grenada, Nigeria, St. Helena, St. Lucia, Seychelles, Trinidad and the Virgin Islands have all reprinted their entire issues. Jubilee stamps are now selling in London for three or four times the face value at which they could have been purchased only a few months ago at the various Colonial post offices. Zanzibar currency is changing over from cents and rupees to cents and shillings, and an entire new set of postage stamps is to be issued shortly.

SPEECH BY THE COLONIAL SECRETARY.

The Colonial Secretary, J.H. Thomas referred in speech at Newport, Monmouth, last night to the improvement in the situation arising out of miners claim for wages increase following a meeting on Thursday between representatives of the Central Mining Association and Mine Workers Federation and said in his long experience as leader in tradesunion movement he did not remember the occasion when a tribute to men's leaders was more justified.

It was a case where men knowing the strength of their cause and the great difficulties they had to face were determined to show they were not unmindful of their obligations to the nation.

The miners leaders had correctly interpreted the minds of the people and courage shown by the coal-owners was equally deserving of praise.

WAR NEWS

Assisted by heavy rains, now general throughout the Country, the Abyssinian Forces are making strenuous efforts to drive back the Italians. After fierce skirmishes in the Tembien Region, they claim, says the 'Daily Telegraph' correspondent, to have captured a front line dump of flour and rice amounting to 10,000 sacks, together with a number of tanks and machine guns. Rumours persist that on the Southern Front Ras Seyum has attacked and retaken Makalle.

It is reported that Ras Desta has advised the Emperor to order the mobilisation of a further 200,000 men for service on the Southern Front.

On Sunday a proclamation was read in the Churches giving warning of the probability of an Italian air attack on Addis Ababa between January 22nd and 24th, when the Capital is expected to be crowded during the Epiphany celebrations.

A message from Rome states that Baron Alberto Ostini and two other airmen were killed at Asmara when their Bombing machine crashed on Sunday

Over 9,000 Italian troops passed through Suez Canal cutward bound between January 3rd and 9th, and over the week end three further troopships left Naples.

"THE LAND, TODAY AND TOMORROW"

The above book, by Professor R.G. Stapledon, of the Plant Breeding Station, Aberystwyth, recently published by Faber & Faber at 15/-, has been hailed by leading Agriculturists and Press alike as a work produced at the most opportune moment.

Professor Stapledon, accepted universally as the greatest living authority on the improvement of grassland, gives facts and figures from farms which have improved out of all knowledge by his methods of modern science and machinery.

He states that reasonably good grassland may be expected to repay interest and capital expenditure of £5 to £7 per acre in five years, poorer land £7 per acre in nine years, and some of the poorest £20 per acre in fifteen years.

This book, written by a man who understands thoroughly what he is talking about, is stated to be both refreshing and stimulating.

AMBASSADORIAL VISITS TO M. LAVAL.

Paris, Monday. M. Laval received visits from the Ambassadors of Italy, United States, Belgium, Japan, and Argentina, but complete official reticence was maintained on the subject under discussion.

FIERCE FIGHTING IN THE TEMBIEN AREA.

Asmara, Monday. An Italian Army Correspondent reports fierce fighting in the Tembien area during the past forty-eight hours. Large forces of Abyssinians are pressing home attacks in the vicinity of Makalle, but with the aid of aerial support they are being repulsed.

FAMILY OF NINE BURNT TO DEATH.

Tyldesley, Lancashire, Monday. Tragedy enveloped a dwelling house here today, when a woman and her eight children, whose ages ranged from thirteen years to thirteen months, were burnt to death.

Wrapping the children in blankets and instructing his wife to throw them to him, the father jumped fourteen feet to the ground; the woman, however, fainted, and the children were rendered incapable by smoke. The father, frantic in his efforts to reach his family was unable to regain entrance owing to the doors being locked.

DEFENCE FORCE RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Many ardent devotees of the Association attended the New Range on Sunday only to be disappointed by the vagaries of the weather.

Fifteen had completed the 200 yards stage when a blanket of fog descended and obscured the targets. Operations were perforce suspended, and it was not until almost 12.30 p.m. that conditions improved sufficiently to warrant a resumption.

In the interim quite half of those who had anticipated a good day's sport had repaired to their respective homes. The remainder continued on the New Range, where, it was observed, visibility was much better.

Perusal of the scores will show that the tedious wait had no adverse reflection in the marksmanship.

Pte W. Aldridge secured first place with 99 of a possible 105, while Lieut. A.I. Fleuret was runner-up with 97, despite a most unfortunate and inexplicable miss at 600 yards.

Mention should be made of Pte W.J. Grierson who, with his new rifle, registered a commendable 95.

Pte Grierson, incidentally, one of the Colony's foremost miniature rifle shots, has been handicapped for some time with a 'dud bundock'. It is hoped that his success on Sunday will inspire him to even greater efforts.

COMMENCEMENT OF LAST SESSION OF PRESENT FRENCH CHAMBER.

Paris. Tuesday. The last session of the present French Chamber opened today, with the possibility of M.Laval again fighting for ministerial life before the week-end.

The militant Radicals talk of another mass attack on the Premier's general policy, while the Socialists consider raising the entire Abyssinian question, and Communists wish to revive the Limoges squabble.

A meeting of the Radical party is fixed for Sunday, when, it is said, if M. Herriot resigns from the Cabinet, the Government can hardly survive.

LINK WITH WELL KNOWN WARSHIP RESTORED TO VIEW.

On Saturday last, the 11th January, sixteen members of all units of the 1st Falkland Islands' Scouts set sail from the Watering Jetty in the good ship "Sea Wolf" determined to bring to view a once familiar landmark, "Beagle", situated on the North shore of Stanley Harbour.

The crossing was without incident and soon all hands were busily engaged discharging stores and gear necessary to the expedition. No time was lost in launching the attack on the site, and gradually -very gradually - one by one the letters were exposed. Work continued until night-fall when the party retired to the camp, and the time honoured camp fire was soon blazing cheerfully.

The pangs of hunger allayed, and doubtless, inspired by the glories of the night, the party burst into song, so lustily, indeed, that there were among them some who entertained fears for the peace of the community.

"Lights out" sounded and peace reigned until 7 o'clock the following morning. Work was then resumed and the whole process of renovation completed by 4.p.m., when the party returned to Stanley, conscious of having well and truly restored a link with "an old ship", well known to the older inhabitants of the Colony.

The Scouts were in charge of Scoutmaster Clarence Evans, who was ably assisted by Messrs Barnes and H. Bennet.

FORTHCOMING CHILDREN'S SPORTS.

A Children's Sports Meeting, which has been organised by the Working Men's Social Club, will take place on the Stanley Race Course (by kind permission of the Colonial Govt and the Falkland Islands Co. Ltd.,) at 2.p.m. on Saturday or Sunday the 25th or 26th January, 1936, weather permitting.

Should either of these days prove unsuitable, the Meeting will be held at the same time on the first fine Saturday or Sunday afterwards.

On the day appointed for the Sports, a Red Ensign and Pennant will be flown from Mr. J. Ratcliffe's flagstaff.

All children under the age of 16 years are eligible to enter. Prizes will be provided from a portion of the retained percentage of takings in connection with the Club's English Football Sweepstake.

FARM NOTES.

The following extracts from reports issued by the Imperial Bureau of Animal Genetics are published as being of local interest.

CENSUS OF SHEEP IN ARGENTINA.

Of the 44,413,221 sheep in Argentina, 215,580, or 0.5% are purebred. There are 14,504,005 Lincolns, 13,191,306 Argentine Merinos, 1,132,607 Australian Merinos, 7,556,531 Romney Marsh, 3,397,469 Corriedales, 368,382 Hampshire Down, 24,667 Oxford Down, 10,852 Shropshire, 1419 Karakuls, and 4,225,983 sheep not specified. No distinction has been drawn in the census between the Argentine Lincolns and the smaller fine-woolled Lincolns imported from New Zealand during recent years.

Comparison of Rambouillet, Corriedale, and Columbia sheep under Intermountain conditions.

A comparison was made recently in the United States of the 8 years' performance of 664 Rambouillet, 426 Corriedale, and 439 Columbia sheep at the Idaho Station flock. The body weight of the three breeds was (order as given above) 116-129 lbs, 106-122 lbs, and 123-141 lbs. The number of lambs per 100 ewes 99, 102, and 106. Number of lambs weaned 72, 85, and 78. Weight of lambs at weaning 71, 69, 77 lbs. Number of lbs per ewe bred, 51, 59, 60; the Rambouillet are lowest owing to the small number of lambs weaned, and the Columbia high because of the high weaning weight. Average staple length was 2.33, 3.41, and 3.44 inches, and the yield of clean wool per ewe, 4.83, 4.68, 5.86 lbs. Lamb mortality to weaning was 27.2%, 17%, and 26.8%. Under range conditions, the Rambouillet are large and vigorous, suitable for stocking and feeding; the fleece is fine or half-blood. Corriedales though of moderate size, produce desirable lambs; the fleece is relatively heavy in clean wool and predominantly of 3/8th grade. Columbia are large and rugged, producing rapidly growing lambs, but are less suited to sparse ranges. The fleece is heavy and predominantly of quarter blood.

ITALIANS MAKE RECONNAISSANCE OVER DJIBOUTI RAILWAY

Addis Ababa. Tuesday. It was announced today that a force of Italian 'planes had carried out a reconnaissance flight over the Djibouti Railway, as a preliminary to its bombardment in the near future.

Italian bombers were also active over Desie with the object, it is believed, of collecting information regarding the Emperor's movements.

The village of Sakota situated 60 miles south west of Makalle was this morning destroyed by bombs. Ten worshippers in the Church were killed when the building was razed to the ground.

The French Press commenting on the Ethiopian situation states that a rapid solution of the problem is unlikely, and suggests that International diplomacy is inclined to allow the military activities to follow their own course.

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED IN CANTON.

Hong Kong. Tuesday. The 'Daily Telegraph' correspondent reports that martial law has been brought into force in Canton following violent anti-Japanese rioting by students.

All schools, as well as the Sun Yat Sen University, are being guarded by strong detachments of troops, and the city is being patrolled by armoured cars.

The British and French Concessions are being subjected to a consular curfew at 8 o'clock nightly.

HAUPTMANN'S APPLICATION REFUSED.

Trenton. New Jersey. Tuesday. It was announced tonight that Hauptmann, who had applied for a writ of Habeas Corpus, has been refused.

EMIGRATION OF BRITISH SUBJECTS TO AUSTRALIA.

Melbourne. Tuesday. The 'Daily Telegraph' Correspondent states that a great controversy is raging over the question of the resumption of emigration from Britain to Australia, and that this question will receive the consideration of the Commonwealth Cabinet during the current month.

Although individual States differ in attitude, the general view is that emigration is essential but that the errors of the past should be avoided, and that in the interests of Australian expansion prospective settlers should be self-supporting.

M. LAVAL AND FRENCH ELECTIONS.

Paris. Tuesday. It is stated that Monsieur Laval at the Ministerial Council meeting today expressed a preference for an early election for the purpose of settling the present political uncertainty. A definite decision, however, was deferred until the week end.

The Government, it would appear, is anxious to test the Chamber feelings, and to watch the Group manoeuvres, but the result lies with the Group meeting which is being held tomorrow.

Although M. Laval will in all probability ask for a vote of confidence, the result is expected to be fatal.

TELEVISION BROADCAST SERVICE.

London. Tuesday. It was announced today that preliminary private tests for television broadcasts from Alexandra Palace will commence in March.

It is anticipated that a regular programme service will be put into operation by June.

PROPOSALS FOR FIVE YEARS'
PEACE IN THE MINING INDUSTRY

London. Tuesday. The tentative proposals put forward by Mr. Jones, the President of the Mineworkers' Federation, as the basis for five years' peace, were favourably received by all sections of the Mining Industry. Mr. Lee, the Secretary of the Mining Association, stated that the proposals will be considered at the next joint meeting which is to be held on the 23rd January.

UNITED STATES' SENATE APPROVE
BILL FOR THE PAYMENT OF BONUSSES.

Washington. Tuesday. The Senate Finance Committee today approved, by fifteen votes to two, a Bill for the payment of soldiers' bonuses by fifty dollar 'Baby Bonds' convertible into cash at Post Offices throughout the Country.

The Treasury estimates that eleven thousand million dollars will be needed to meet the liabilities during the next seventeen months.

SEQUEL TO A DECISION OF THE
THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

Washington. Tuesday. It is argued in Government circles that the decision of the Supreme Court, in the Louisiana Rice Mills case, was exceptional, and that other relative suits before the Court of Claims can only be brought with the consent of the Government. Meanwhile, Congress might pass legislation with the specific purpose of closing the Claims Court to processing tax claimants, as has already been done in the case of gold clause claimants.

Despite the utmost confusion which obtains in the Agricultural Department, it is expected that the Bankhead Cotton Bill will be administered until ruled as being unconstitutional.

R.M.S. QUEEN MARY

The "Queen Mary" is the first British merchant ship to be launched in the presence of the King and Queen, and the first to be named by a reigning Queen of England.

To get an idea of the "Queen Mary's" length (1,018 feet overall), imagine her in Trafalgar-square with her stern wedged into the Strand: her bows would then bottle up Pall Mall.

One of the "Queen Mary's" promenade decks is 750 feet long - twice the length of the facade of Buckingham Palace.

The "Queen Mary's" funnels are larger in diameter than any of the railway or vehicular tunnels under the Hudson River, New York.

The height from her keel to the top of her forward funnel would dwarf St. Paul's Cathedral, cross and all, and her masthead rises 54 feet above her funnels.

The "Queen Mary" is really two ships: one inside the other. Between the outer and inner bottoms there is everywhere room enough for a man to walk erect, while the outer sides are separated from the inner by anything up to 20 feet, and more in parts. This double skin runs to a height of 40 feet.

In this way 160 completely watertight compartments stand between the inner structure - the inhabited ship - and any damage that may occur to her outer skin.

Luxury born of utility is the motto in this ship. All the state rooms, from the suites de luxe to Third-class cabins, are provided with running hot and cold water. All Third-class berths are comfortable beds; above each is a carefully concealed light enabling the passenger to read without disturbing the occupant of the other berth.

The inner man is a source of constant concern on board. We hate waiting for our meals. That is why the First-Class Restaurant seats over eight hundred people. Thus all First-class passengers can be served at one sitting, and leave some seats to spare.

As this gigantic Restaurant is not less than 160 feet long by 118 feet - the full beam of the ship - the tables are comfortably spaced so that ample room is left for the service which can proceed without inconveniencing the diners.

Three Royal Scot engines abreast could pass through one of the "Queen Mary's" funnels.

To cater for men and women of different tastes and different moods, different needs and different purses - and to think for twenty-five years ahead - has been the Cunard White Star Line's aim in planning every detail of this unprecedented vessel. Their unrivalled experience has enabled them to achieve without waste an ideal that might be summed up in three words:

Efficiency - Comfort - Distinction.

Efficiency is the sole source of Comfort in any venture, be it noted.

The Local Bisley Meeting will be held on Saturday and Sunday, the 18th and 19th January, provided the 'Losada' is not working on those days.

The signal denoting that the meeting is on will be both Club flag and streamer hoisted on Headquarters' flagstaffs at 7.a.m. on Saturday morning, and shooting will commence at 8.a.m.

In the case of weather conditions being doubtful the flags may be hoisted after 7.a.m., but not later than 9.a.m. and shooting will commence one hour after the signal is hoisted.

If the 'Losada' is working on Saturday, and not on Sunday, the Meeting will commence at the same time on Sunday.

The Committee wish to emphasize the fact that competitors must be on the firing-point, ready to lie down at the times stated on their squadding cards, or in the case of delayed hoisting of signal, in time for the detail to which they are squadded.

All monies for ammunition will be collected by the Hon. Treasurer any time after the Meeting, but not on the Range.

At a Committee meeting held on Wednesday evening the following Rule was made :-

"In the event of a Competition having to be abandoned owing to weather conditions after it has been commenced only the scores of the distances actually completed shall stand."

ITALIANS HEAVILY ENGAGED ON SOUTHERN FRONT.

Rome. Wednesday. The lull on the South Abyssinian Front is broken, and Graziani's forces have been heavily engaged since Sunday with Ras Desta's troops occupying positions between the Rivers Ganale, Dnye, and Dowa.

Today's communique claims that Ras Desta's army, which has been endeavouring to bring pressure to bear on the Italians in the Dolo Sector, has been driven back and is being pursued, but an Italian advance is not anticipated.

Intense aerial activity is reported over the entire Eritrean front.

Rumours are current that the Italian Commander-in-Chief, Badoglio, is likely to return to Italy, as the high altitudes are affecting his health.

It is said that his successor will be either Graziani or Baistrocchi, who is at present Under Secretary for War.

SEVENTEEN DEATHS IN AIR CRASH.

Goodwin. Arkansas. Wednesday. The 'Daily Telegraph' Correspondent reports that the Transcontinental Airliner 'Southerner' from New York to Los Angeles, plunged into a swamp during the night and now lies buried in five feet of mud.

It is thought that all on board were killed instantaneously.

The machine was manned by three men, and carried fourteen passengers, including four women and a child. Among the victims was Mr. F.C. Hart, the millionaire oil magnate.

Bodies and wreckage were strewn over a wide area, and many of the dead wore life belts, which is indicative of the crash being anticipated.

BRITISH CABINET MEETS TO DISCUSS OIL EMBARGO AGAINST ITALY.

London. Wednesday. As a preliminary to the meeting next week of the League Council, the Cabinet today considered its attitude towards the oil embargo against Italy. According to the 'Daily Telegraph', it is generally felt that the financial sanctions are proving effective, while the oil embargo could have no practical effect for some time on the East African campaign, as Italy already holds a seven months' reserve supply.

Simultaneously, a message from Bucharest states that Italy is purchasing vast quantities of Roumanian petroleum for which payment is being made on the gold basis, since credit balances are non-existent.

From Hamburg it is reported that Italy will neither be able to obtain oil from German sources nor from the American Oil Refinery in the 'Free Port'.

CONFIDENCE.

Paris. Thursday. The Chamber of Deputies today accorded M. Laval a vote of confidence, the voting be 315 to 252. The Government is, therefore, considered safe until Sunday, when the Radical Executive party meets.

It is felt that the Radical Deputies may prefer to lay the onus of defeating the Government on the Committee, but in some quarters the view is held that the Committee will in turn shirk the responsibility of creating a further crisis with possibly more serious results.

HALF OF NEW YORK
INTO DARKNESS.

New York. Thursday. Last night short circuits resulting in a series of fires in Generating Stations in the Metropolis, plunged half the City into darkness.

ROYAL RESEARCH SHIP 'DISCOVERY II'
LOCATES AMERICAN EXPLORER.

London. Thursday. A wireless message from the R.R.S. 'Discovery II' suggests that the American Antarctic explorer, Ellsworth, who has been missing for about seven weeks, has been located.

The message, partly incoherent, is sufficiently clear to indicate that Ellsworth and his machine were sighted in the Bay of Whales.

The message was repeated, and intimation given that further news could be expected shortly.

A message broadcast from London yesterday (Friday) confirms the location of Ellsworth and a Canadian companion, and that both men had been taken on board 'Discovery'.

Ellsworth is reported to be suffering from a slight cold, but otherwise neither he nor his companion are suffering any ill-effects from their long exposure to the Antarctic elements.

A FURTHER RESPITE FOR HAUPTMANN.

It was reported today that following the Supreme Court's refusal to grant Hauptmann's appeal for a stay of execution, Governor Hoffman, in consultation with the Attorney General, has granted a process, which means literally a suspension of the verdict for three months, and on the expiration of which Hauptmann must be re-sentenced.

THE QUEEN MARY'S COMMANDER.

The Directors of the Cunard-White Star Company have announced that Captain Sir Edgar Britten, now in command of the Berengaria, and Commodore of the Fleet, has been appointed to command the "Queen Mary" which is scheduled to make her maiden voyage to New York from Southampton on May 27th of this year.

News of the appointment was received by Sir Edgar, while the Berengaria was in mid-Atlantic. In a wireless message to Reuter, he stated "I deeply appreciate the honour and trust bestowed on me by the Directors. My earnest desire is that this fine and magnificent steamer, the largest ever constructed in the United Kingdom, will fulfil every aspiration of her owners and builders!"

The "Queen Mary's" commander is one of the few Captains holding a Master's certificate for both sail and steam. He started as an apprentice in a barque in 1892.

Joining the Cunard Line as 4th Officer of the Ivernia in 1901, he was appointed in 1913, to the command of the Phrygia. The same year he was transferred to the Lusitania as staff captain. Next he was given command of the Campania.

Throughout the War Sir Edgar Britten was engaged in transport and hospital ship work. He acted as staff captain of the Aquitania, and commanded other ships.

Subsequent commands were the Samaria, Franconia, Mauretania, and Aquitania. He succeeded Commodore Sir Arthur Rostron as commander of the Berengaria in 1931.

Sir Edgar Britten was knighted in 1934.

TWO WEIGHTS FOR OXYGEN.

The discovery by Professor Malcolm Dole, Professor of Chemistry at the North Western University, New York, that oxygen is heavier in air than in water threatens all established chemical formulae. All atomic weights have been based on oxygen, and hitherto this weight has been accepted as 16. While comparing the weights of water in Nevada and Lake Michigan, Professor Dole found that the weight of oxygen in water was 16.00000 and in air 16.00005.

Three types of oxygen with different atomic weights of 16, 17, and 18, are known, but hitherto it has been assumed that atomic weights were the same in all media. Professor Dole has disproved this by putting oxygen from water through identical electrolytic processes, while eliminating, it is believed, all possible factors which might cause error in the result.

THE RAND'S WEMBLEY.

A monument 14 feet broad at its base and 120 feet high, which illustrate the total volume of the One thousand two hundred and fifty million pounds worth of gold taken out of the mines of the Witwatersrand since they first began working in 1887, will be one of the exhibits at the South African Empire Exhibition to be opened next September at Johannesburg.

SCHOOL-BOY HOWLER. ASSUREDLY DOGGISH

A Teacher in a rural school was taking an English lesson, the subject being "Prefixes."

"Strange as it may seem," she said, "quite a number of flowers have the prefix 'dog'. For instance, there is the dog-rose, and dog-violet. Can any of you name another?"

A happy look illuminated the face of one youngster as he shot up his hand. "Please, Miss," he called out, seemingly proud of the knowledge, "Please, Miss, Collie-flowers."

GREEK ELECTION CAMPAIGN.

Athens. Saturday. The general election campaign is in full swing, and it is anticipated that there will be either a National or Coalition Government under the present Premier, M. Demerjis. The Venezilists and Condylists have already clashed, resulting in one person being killed, and another wounded.

HIS MAJESTY THE KING'S ILLNESS.

London. Saturday. The gravity of His Majesty's illness is resulting in widespread expressions of sympathy. Early today women alighting from a saloon car, read the bulletin, and then knelt in prayer before the gates of Buckingham Palace.

The Principals of the Church of England, the Roman Catholic Church, the Jewish Church, have issued instructions to the followers of their respective faiths to offer special prayers for His Majesty's recovery.

In France the King's condition has taken precedence to the political situation there; while Germany's sympathetic feelings have been expressed in a telegram from Herr Hitler.

American Press, and Cable Offices are inundated with sympathetic enquiries.

The Italian press expresses the Nation's personal concern in the gravity of the situation.

All cables and telegraphs are choked with traffic relevant to His Majesty's condition; and the greatest difficulty is being experienced in handling the messages which continue to pour in from the Dominions, Colonies, and Protectorates; while Norway, Sweden, and Denmark, watch with almost family interest.

The bulletin issued at midnight on Saturday had nothing to add to that of 15.30, other than to state that there was no change to report.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS MEETING
TODAY.

London. Saturday. It was announced today that the League Council meeting which is being held on Monday will deal exclusively with the Abyssinian demand for an inquiry into atrocities, including the bombing of hospitals, committed by the Italian forces.

Matters dealing with sanctions, particularly the proposed oil embargo, will not be discussed, but it is felt that British influence will have some effect on the Committee of Eighteen when it meets to discuss these matters.

JAPAN AND THE NAVAL CONFERENCE.

London. Saturday. It is understood that Japan has not yet replied to the invitation to send observers for the purpose of furthering the interests of the Naval Conference.

This is ascribed to the lack of warmth contained in the invitation, and which has probably hurt Japanese feelings.

ITALIAN SUCCESS IN ABYSSINIA.

Rome. Saturday. Today's communique states that Graziani's victory is becoming more decisive, and pursuit of the Abyssinians is being continued without serious resistance. Motorised columns have completed an advance of 125 miles from the base.

It is estimated that Ras Desta has lost 5000 men, while the Italians have sustained only 500 casualties, mostly wounded.

It is also claimed that the caravan route from Kenya, which has been used for the conveyance of arms, has been cut.

An Asmara correspondent reports the Italians to be 'digging in' before the rains hamper their progress.

Aerial activity is reported over all areas, but nothing noteworthy has occurred.

ENFORCEMENT OF UNITED STATES'
NEUTRALITY ACT.

Washington. Saturday. Today, State Secretary Hull submitted to the Attorney-General, the names of several 'rebel' munition companies who have not yet registered with the Department under the Neutrality Act., with a view to appropriate action being taken in the matter.

FURTHER WAR NEWS.

London. Badoglio's communique reports complete victory in the Ganale area.

The Abyssinians are fleeing in a north-westerly direction.

According to a cable from Sir Percival Phillips, who is at Djibouti, Ras Desta kept his main army away from the Italian forces, and that the retreat is apparently a strategic move to lead Graziani's troops into a region where his communications would be vulnerable.

The Abyssinian losses are ascribed to massed counter-attacks, which were launched against the General's orders, meeting concentrated machine gun fire.

A message from Addis Ababa states that Somali deserters brought there, say there is constant friction between the Fascisti troops and the Regulars, resulting in serious outbreaks.

The Emperor, it is said, is confirmed in his attitude that the Italians must be expelled before any peace terms can be discussed.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. The Italian note, handed to the Swedish Minister, formally rejects the allegations in respect of attacks being deliberately made by Italian airmen on Red Cross Units in Abyssinia, contests the passage in the Swedish note supporting the credibility of Swedish witnesses.

Addis Ababa. The 'Daily Telegraph' correspondent states that the Abyssinian official communique describes the Dole operations, and alleged Italian victory, as unimportant, and the extent of the advance and the number of casualties as ridiculous.

The Abyssinian positions have been changed owing to continued bombing and gas attacks, and a new line has been taken which provides for better protection.

Rome denies the aerial bombing of a Red Cross Unit under British Command, and adds that no air raids have been carried out in the Dessie region since December 6th.

FRENCH POLITICAL CRISIS IMMINENT.

Paris. Sunday. The Executive of the Radical Socialist Party met today in a turbulent atmosphere.

M. Herriot declined to allow himself to be nominated for the Party presidentship, whereupon M. Daladier was unanimously elected.

M. Herriot appealed to the Party to be satisfied with his own resignation, but the members by a vote of 42/14 adopted a resolution approving the resignation of other Radical Cabinet Ministers.

It is unlikely that these resignations will take effect until M. Laval returns from Geneva when a crisis is likely to materialise.

ITALIAN EFFORTS TO MOBILISE EXCHANGE BALANCES.

Rome. Sunday. According to the 'Daily Telegraph' Correspondent the Government has ordered Italian holders of Danubian Transport Bonds to hand them to the Bank of Italy for an equivalent value in Treasury Bonds, thus marking a further step in the policy of mobilising Italian holdings of foreign bonds so as to secure exchange balances.

A message from Naples reports that thirty-two Exchange Brokers have been arrested for foreign currency trafficking, one of whom was fined five million lire.

EMPLOYMENT IN BRITAIN.

London. Sunday. The Ministry of Labour Gazette states that the number of employed persons in Great Britain between April and the end of last year is the highest for fifteen years, while the average wage level rose 1 1/2%, which is the highest net increase since 1924.

Working hours have increased on average by 1 1/2 weekly for 2,300 workers, but have been reduced by 3 hours for 31,600.

ULSTER AUTHORITIES AND SMUGGLING ON BORDERS OF FREE STATE.

Dublin. Sunday. The Ulster Authorities are taking drastic steps to counter smuggling on the Free State Border.

Police, patrolling the frontier have vested in them full powers of Officials of Customs for the arrest and detention of goods.

THE COLONIAL QUOTA SYSTEM.

The imposition of restrictions on the importation of rayon piece goods of foreign, and particularly Japanese, origin into the Crown Colonies has had a most beneficial effect upon the British export trade. In April 1934 (the last complete month before quotas were imposed), United Kingdom exports of all rayon piece goods to all destinations totalled only 778,750 square yards, but by October, 1935, the total had risen to 1,556,248 square yards. In April, 1934, not one of the "Quota" markets with the single exception of the Gold Coast (4,859 square yards) imported United Kingdom rayons to an extent of over 3000 square yards. In October, 1935, there were the following shipments; Gold Coast (71,382 square yards); Jamaica (29,828 square yards); Trinidad (22,045 square yards); Other British West Indies (65,410 square yards); British Guiana (50,705 sq. yards); Nigeria (27,387 square yards); Ceylon (6,877 square yards); Straits (6184 square yards); Sierra Leone (5635 square yards); Bermuda (3622 square yards); Cyprus (3255 square yards) and Mauritius (3221 square yards).

Improving economic conditions have contributed to the above remarkable results, but without the quota no such development could have taken place.

In other markets we have also made progress, notably Australia, Irish Free State, South Africa, and Denmark, in all of which cases exchange stability, coupled with better trading conditions have come to our assistance.

JAPANESE ACTIVITIES IN NORTH CHINA.

Shanghai. The Press here is inferring that the Japanese activities in North China are being hastened before sanctions obtain definite recognition, and that the military are 'making hay while the sun shines'.

In conformity with a desire expressed by Japanese representatives General Sung Cheekyuan, Head of the North China Administration has agreed to the non-remittance to Nanking of the Hopei railway and salt revenues.

KING EDWARD VIII THE FIRST ENGLISH SOVEREIGN TO FLY.

London. Tuesday. The new King made history today when he flew from Sandringham to London in order to attend a meeting of the Privy Council.

ARGENTINE TRIBUTES TO KING GEORGE V.

"We are indebted to Mrs E. Gannon Rowe, Manager, of the Est. Louis Williams, for the following items broadcast from Buenos Aires :

"George the Fifth, Sovereign of the most powerful Empire the world has ever seen, has passed away."

"... due to the peculiar elasticity of the British Constitution, and the facilities which democratic progress can thereby continue side by side with the old established nobility, The House of Windsor, as represented by George the Fifth, descendant of a long line of monarchs, came through the Great War with increased prestige and strength, while other Thrones throughout Europe toppled down."

"... George the Fifth's reign will go down to history as a most remarkable one embracing as it did, the Great War, the World Depression, and the eventual emergence of the British Commonwealth of Nations with unimpaired strength out of the financial chaos."

"The deceased Sovereign will not only be remembered for his regal position, but also for his many homely contacts with his subjects, of which an episode in 1902, (when he was still Prince of Wales), he wielded a pick in a Yorkshire coal-mine; and again when he as King took tea in a Welsh labourer's cottage, are only two small examples."

WAR NEWS.

Rome, Monday. Today's communique states that Ras Desta's army has suffered defeat at Ganale, and that the Abyssinians are being pursued. Graziani's troops are reported to have entered Galla Berana territory, and occupied Filtu, 83 miles from Debo.

On the Eritrean front, aircraft, artillery and reconnoitering contingents are active along the whole of the Makalle-Takazzi line.

The 'Daily Telegraph' correspondent at Abbis Ababa reports that elaborate preparations for the Epiphany celebrations have been cancelled owing to the fear of air raids.

An announcement from Geneva states that Mussolini has given an assurance that every effort will be made to avoid the further bombing of Red Cross units, and would welcome investigations of the allegations which have been made.

MANCHUKUO WARNS MONGOLIA.

Dairen, Tuesday. It was announced today that Manchukuo has sent what is virtually an ultimatum to the Republic of Mongolia, warning them that continued frontier violations may result "in dreadful consequences". This is the sequel to a strong Mongolian protest demanding that Manchukuo should cease despatching military detachments into the former's territory.

In view of the fact that Mongolia is a protégé of the Soviet, and Manchukuo of Japan, the situation is regarded as serious.

RESIGNATION OF M. LAVAL CONSIDERED AS CERTAIN.

Paris Monday. The 'Daily Telegraph' correspondent reports that M. Laval expects to leave Geneva on Tuesday night for Paris, and that his resignation is certain to take effect on Wednesday, when the Cabinet meets. It is also probable that the seven Radical Ministers will tender their formal resignations as demanded by the Executive Party. This, it is thought, will be followed by M. Laval's visit to the President to inform him of the Ministry's resignation.

DRAMATIC INTERRUPTION BY U.S.
SECRETARY OF STATE.

Washington, Monday. The Senate's Munitions Investigations Committee was today dramatically interrupted by Mr. Hull, a Secretary of State, ordering the return of twenty of the State's confidential documents, on the ground that the Committee's promise to maintain secrecy had been violated.

One of the documents is the 'Balfour Memorandum on a meeting of the Imperial War Council', and Mr. Hull stated that the United States had kept faith with Foreign Governments, and that the Committee had been trusted to keep faith in turn.

The Proclamation of the Accession of King Edward VIII was read at Victory Green at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the presence of His Excellency the Governor, The Misses Henniker-Heaton, the Members of Councils, and a large gathering of the general public, including Government officials.

A strong contingent of the Falkland Islands Defence Force was on parade under the command of Capt. W.M. Allan (Adjutant).

Punctually, as the first chime of the Cathedral clock signalled the hour, Lieutenant A.I. Fleuret, The Falkland Islands Defence Force, in his capacity of Clerk of Councils stepped forward and read the Proclamation as reproduced hereunder :-

"WHEREAS it has pleased Almighty God to call to His Mercy Our late Sovereign Lord King George the Fifth, of blessed and glorious memory, by whose Decease the Imperial Crown of Great Britain, Ireland and all other of His late Majesty's Dominions is solely and rightfully come to the High and Mighty Prince Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David, We, Herbert Henniker-Heaton, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor, Commander-in-Chief and Vice Admiral of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, Montagu Cecil Craigie-Halkett, Esquire, Officer of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire, Colonial Secretary, Malcolm John Stewart, Esquire, Colonial Treasurer, Reginald Leslie Cheverton, Esquire, Senior Medical Officer, George Roberts, Esquire, Members of the Executive and Legislative Councils of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, Albert Rawlinson Hoare, GOD SAVE THE KING.

Given under our hands at Government House, Stanley, this 22nd day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six.

THE PRIME MINISTER'S SPEECH.

BROADCAST TO THE WORLD.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, in a broadcast address on Tuesday night said " It was because King George had served his own generation by the will of God, that the news of His Majesty's death had been heard everywhere with personal grief, not only at home, but throughout the Empire and far beyond its bounds.

It was less than a month since the voice now silent was heard around the world. The King addressing his subjects, - a father seated with his family - speaking to his people, - members of his wider family - words of wisdom, courage, and of deep human sympathy. It was as members of a family that they mourned him today."

After voicing the sympathy and affection of the people with Queen Mary, Mr. Baldwin spoke of the late King's personal relations with his people, and with his ministers, and revealed as an example of how constantly His Majesty's love and care for his subjects was in his mind, that in his last hours on returning into brief intervals of consciousness, he turned to his Secretary and asked "How is the Empire?" , the Secretary replied "All is well, Sir, with the Empire".

"King George, it was true had inherited his position, but he had won his own way into the hearts of his people". Behind the pomp and pageantry incidental to his Kingship, he laboured night and day in doing his duty". We can best honour the noble memory of King George by gathering around and sustaining the young King upon whom has now fallen one of the heaviest burdens that can rest upon the shoulders of mortal man. He is no stranger to public duty, but he is now summoned to face responsibilities more onerous, exacting, and continuous than he has hitherto been asked to discharge.

" He comes to them in the prime of his power, already known throughout the length and breadth of his Empire. His great gifts of mind and heart he is now called upon to consecrate to his people."

" He inherits the example of Kingly conduct, of virtue, of wisdom, and of endurance, that marked his father's reign.

" King George's reign was marked by far-reaching Constitutional and Parliamentary changes, but he hands down to his son the throne he received from his father with its foundations strengthened, its moral authority, its honour and its dignity enhanced. It is an incomparable and all inspiring inheritance. The young King knows the confidence we all repose in him, and that the affection and prayers of countless multitudes are with him at this hour."

SOUTH AFRICAN REVENUE.

Capetown. Tuesday. The National revenue from taxation has reached the highest point in history with the figure of £29,324,546, which is 242% above the 1914 figure.

KING EDWARD'S MESSAGES TO THE SERVICES.

In a message to the Royal Navy, His Majesty said :-

" I cherish the recollection of the intimate personal association so long subsisting between my family and that profession to which my father devoted his youth and early manhood, and in which I and two of my brothers received our early training.

" Conscious as I am of the great trust reposed in you, and confident of your determination never to disappoint that trust, I shall always regard your efficiency and well-being as matters of the highest importance, and I shall take deep interest in everything that concerns them."

THE ARMY.

" I desire on my accession to the Throne to express my thanks to the Army for its devoted services to my beloved father. I recall with gratitude the noble response which the Army made, during the Great War, to his proud confidence in its loyalty, valour, and steadfastness. Its welfare was ever in his thoughts."

After reference to His Majesty's own associations with the Army, and to the comradeship during the War with soldiers drawn from every part of the Empire, the King concluded :-

" I shall be strengthened in the discharge of the great responsibilities which lie before me, by the confidence with which I know I can rely on the unswerving allegiance of all ranks of the military forces of the Crown throughout the Empire."

FLYING FORCES.

In a message to the Flying Forces at home and abroad, His Majesty recalled that the "Flying Services" were first created during the reign of my beloved father, and it was with close personal interest that he watched their rapid growth from small beginnings to their unification under the stress of war and subsequent development into a powerful instrument of defence, which shares with the other Services the honourable duty of safeguarding these shores and the Empire."

The King made mention of the value he attached to his association with the Royal Air Force, and declared that though young, the Air Forces of the Empire had already achieved high tradition.

" I shall", said the King, "watch their further progress with keen personal solicitude for their welfare, and with entire confidence that they will show that pride of service and unswerving loyalty to the Crown, which they have displayed since their inception."

WAR NEWS.

Addis Ababa. Tuesday. The populace has today been summoned to the Palace by the beating of the 'Great drum', which is only used on exceptional occasions.

The Chancellor then read a Proclamation, which, virtually, means the mobilisation of every able-bodied Abyssinian capable of bearing arms. The Proclamation also embodies an allegation against Italy of bombing Red Cross Units, and the use of poison gas in open towns.

Despite all this, it is claimed that the Nation's morale remains intact.

In Rome an official statement admits the loss of another aeroplane in the Makalle region.

IRISH FREE STATE REMOVES 5% DUTY ON BRITISH COAL.

Dublin. Tuesday. An official announcement today states that the Irish Free State Government has removed the customs duty of 5% on British coal with effect from Friday next; but Mr. Cosgrave, an ex-president of the Council, said that the best asset for making bargains with Britain was the Coal monopoly which Mr. Devalera's Government had now mortgaged.

He also condemned the abolition of the Senate as a retrograde step, reducing the Free State to the level of a third-class Country.

THE NATION'S DEBT OF GRATITUDE TO KING GEORGE V.

The period in which fell the reign of King George V was perhaps the most stormy and critical in the annals of mankind. It saw the most terrific of wars, which shook the structure of almost every State in the World. It witnessed the wonderful manifestation of devotion to an immortal cause which led the people of Great Britain to accept compulsory service, and the Dominions to despatch hundreds of thousands of their gallant sons to Europe to fight for King and Country.

For the triumph of the Allied cause in the War, for the survival of the British State in a world where so many of the mighty were cast down from their seats, the Nation owes an immense debt of gratitude to King George. At no point was he found wanting when tried in the furnace, - and that is not the verdict of flatterers, but of dispassionate foreign authorities who weighed their judgements most carefully. His Majesty added lustre to the fame of a family pre-eminent among the Royal Houses of the world for its record of service, and surpassing them all in antiquity. The late King's lineage can be authentically traced back through forty-eight generations without a break to that Cerdic who landed in Wessex in 495, and laid the first puny foundations of English power.

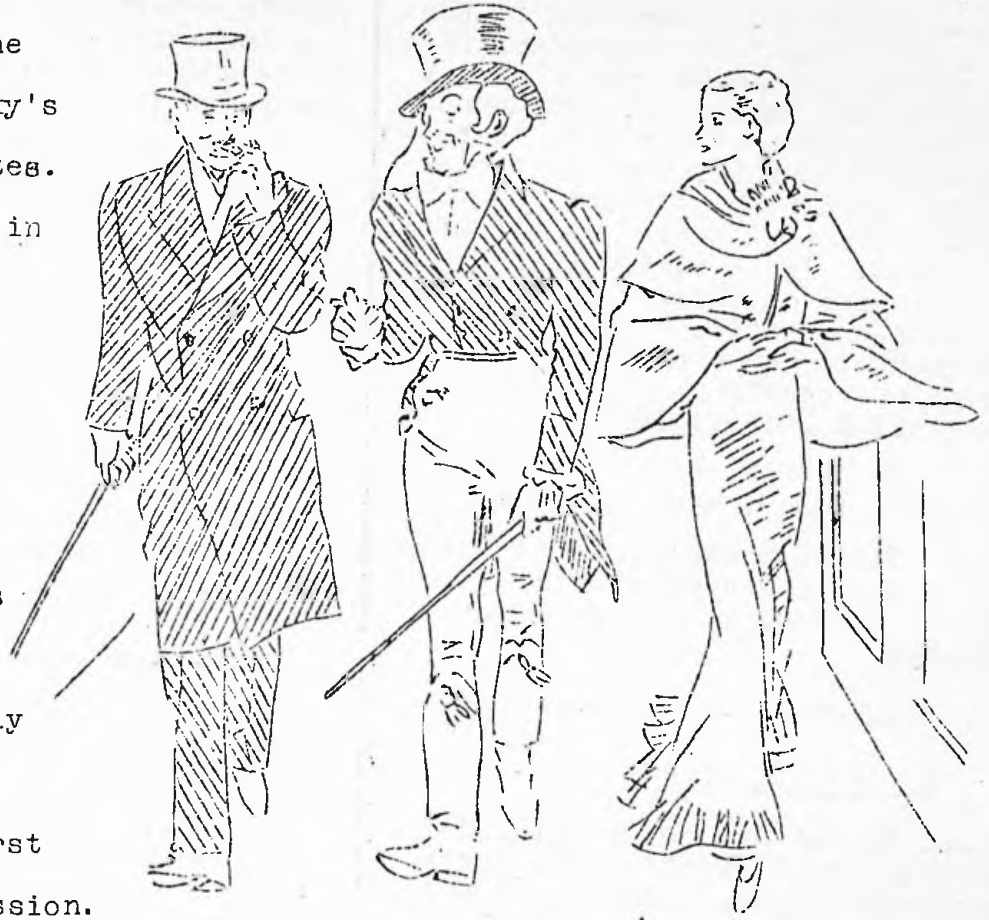

The sky was black, indeed, when King George ascended the Throne. The new King in his address to his first Privy Council spoke with a voice 'broken by emotion' of the very heavy responsibilities which had fallen upon him. Events were to show that His late Majesty brought to the performance of his task no ordinary equipment of head and heart. During the long years of his training in the Navy his sense of duty - always powerful - was confirmed and strengthened. He was patient, tolerant, and sympathetic with the humblest. Certainly there was no false pride in the King's character.

Thus there rapidly grew between the King and his people mutual confidence which was strengthened as the years passed. His faith and hope were nobly expressed in the words of his message after the Coronation ceremony "Whatever perplexities or difficulties may lie before me and my people, we shall unite and face them resolutely, calmly, and with public spirit, confident that under Divine guidance the ultimate outcome will be to the common good." In his reign he was to realise to the full, and indeed surpass, all the aspirations which Bolingbroke strove to evoke in his vision of a "Patriot King".

BRITISH DOMINION CLUBS' TEAM COMPETITION.FALKLAND IS. TAKE FOURTH PLACE
CAPT. W. BROWNING GETS POSSIBLE.

The fourth year of this Competition increased the entry, and 33 teams entered as against 25 in the previous year. Clubs situated overseas in many and widespread parts of the British Empire were represented in the competition.

A feature of the match is that whilst the three top scores are not so outstanding as last year, the margin of difference throughout is not nearly so wide, and there is not one really bad score.

This time the A team of North Toronto are the winners with 594 x 600. The same Club's B team were winners last year with one point more, the record for the competition. With the .22 gauge there were three teams sharing second place with 589 each. After the application of the .25 gauge, however, Wellington, New Zealand, Lukenia, Kenya, and Falkland Islands "A" emerged in that order.. Thus these teams improved on their last year's score and position. Last year's winner drops to 5th place, and the seconders drop to 6th place.

Individual honours go to the scorers of 'possibles' for their respective teams. Last year there were 11, this year the number increased to 13.

In the 'Honours' list appears the name of Corporal 'Bill' Browning of the F.I.D.F., to whom we offer our heartiest congratulations on so splendid an achievement.

The Colony entered two teams for this Competition, and it is pleasing to record that the "A" team obtained 4th place and the "B" 8th, with a difference of 5 only in the total scores.

A remarkable effort of which we and they have every cause to be proud.

The scores are as follows :-

- (1) North Toronto, Canada, with a score of 594.
- (2) Wellington South, N.Z. with a score of 589.
- (3) Lukenia, Kenya Colony, with a score of 589.
- (4) FALKLAND ISLANDS "A" - 589.

TOTAL. 589.

- (5) North Toronto "B" 587.
- (6) Lower Hutt, N.Z. 586.
- (7) Bloemfontein, S.A. 585.

TRAGIC END OF WELL-KNOWN LOCAL RACE HORSE.

Early yesterday morning one of Stanley's old favourite race horses came to an untimely end.

"Beauty", owned and trained by Mr. Ernie Aldridge, was for many years a successful competitor at the local Race Meeting. Starting her career in 1922, she was not only a popular "Tote" horse, but secured for her owner a number of much sought after trophies.

Among her victories can be claimed Mount William Race (twice), the Louis Williams Cup (twice), the Stanley Cup (four times), the Murrel Plate (four times), and the Ladies' Race.

She took second place in the Colonial Secretary's Plate on no less than three occasions, besides innumerable money prizes of which no record has been kept.

The animal, which was recently brought in from the Camp, was on Thursday night being ridden, and when approaching Mr. Aldridge's house stumbled and fell, breaking a leg in the process. After receiving attention a hope was entertained for its recovery, but during the night it was discovered that in an attempt to move it had broken another limb necessitating its destruction.

FUEL RESEARCH.

During the past twenty-five years there has been a substantial increase in the efficiency of practically every process for which coal is used. This fact is brought out by the latest return of the Fuel Research Board. In the generation of electricity, in steam raising generally, the gas and coke even industries and in that great reservoir of consumption, the domestic grate, thermal efficiency is substantially higher. To take only one example, in 1910 about $4\frac{1}{2}$ millions tons of coal were required to produce 2,500 million units of electricity, while for the 16,100 million units required in 1934 only 11.4 million tons were necessary. If the efficiency of production of electrical power had remained the same, 29 millions tons of coal would have been used in 1934.

ANGLO-IRISH AIR SERVICE.

An air service between the Irish Free State and Great Britain will be established in the near future.

The first service will be between Dublin and Liverpool and Dublin and Bristol, connecting with fast express trains serving those ports.

After a short time it is hoped to extend the service to London and to Cork.

First details were announced by the Free State Minister for Industry, who said that arrangements had been entered into with Olley Air Services, Ltd., of London, to work in conjunction with the Free State Cross Channel Air Transport Co, the Directors of which would be nominated by the Free State Government.

3000 TONS OF LOCOMOTIVES SHIPPED TO CHINA.

EGYPTIAN POLITICS.

Cairo. Thursday. It has been officially announced that all attempts to persuade the Nationalist leader, Nahas Pasha, to form a Coalition Government have failed.

The main objection put forward by the United Front to the formation of a Government before the elections, is that polling would not be free.

A suggestion to overcome this difficulty is an agreement allocating Party seats in the Chamber.

NEW AIR SERVICE - LONDON TO SCANDINAVIA.

London. Thursday. The first unsubsidised Air Transport Service carrying mails on Continental routes is being inaugurated within three weeks, when the British Airways open a new daily service between London and Scandinavia, with stops at Amsterdam, Hamburg, and Copenhagen.

WAR NEWS.

Addis Ababa. Thursday. The biggest battle of the war is raging on the Northern front, where the Abyssinians are claiming an extensive victory capturing large quantities of stores, and the destruction of a triple-engine Caproni bomber.

The attack initiated by the Italians was intended to flatten out the Makalle salient, coincided with an Abyssinian effort to cut off the town and the forces attacking it. Both armies met on Monday and continuous fighting has resulted.

The 'Daily Telegraph' correspondent in Rome, reports that Italian communiques indicate that an offensive had been commenced in the Tembien region, but other than that skirmishes had taken place on the Eritrean front, no further news had been received.

ARCTIC WEATHER CONDITIONS IN ENGLAND.

London. Thursday. Arctic conditions are reported to exist in the North of England and Scotland. Villages in Banffshire and Morayshire are isolated and have been three days without food, mails or newspapers, owing to twenty foot drifts of snow.

All Northern areas report losses among sheep, but from the Derby Fells is understood to have suffered most.

Shepherds are working to a point of exhaustion digging out animals, which when extricated are found to have three to four inches of frozen snow adhering to their bodies.

THE COLONIAL RIFLE ASSOCIATIONS' SMALL BORE MATCH.

FALKLANDS' TEAM TAKE SECOND PLACE.
CORPORAL BROWNING AGAIN TO THE FORE.

With a record score of 1958 for the match, Kenya won the fourth annual team match for Colonial Rifle Associations.

There were twelve teams competing, one less than last year.

The outstanding rivalry in this match undoubtedly is between Kenya and the Falkland Islands, as in the first and third year the latter team won, and in the second and present year Kenya carried away the trophy. Each year after the first has yielded a higher score for top place, and keener competition throughout.

Last year Kenya was second with 1939, and this year Falkland Islands occupy this position with 1943.

The top individual score was that of A.Orchardson of Kenya, who made 199 of a possible 200, Major E.C.B.Elliott of the same team, Corpl. W. Browning of the Falklands, and Mr. R. Phelps of Trinidad, each made the next best of 198.

Seven ladies shot in the competition, of whom the best were Mrs A.M. Irvine and her daughter Miss A.E. Irvine, who made 195 each.

The scores are as follows :-

150,000 FILE PAST CATAFALQUE IN WESTMINSTER HALL.

London. Saturday. One hundred and fifty thousand people today filed past the catafalque in Westminster Hall, where the body of His late Majesty King George V lies in state.

Many had waited for hours in the rain in order that they might enter and pay homage to the memory of the late King.

The Canadian Premier announced by proclamation that Tuesday would be a public holiday, and that a two minutes' silence would be observed in the Dominion at 13.30 (local time) on that day.

All trains throughout India will be stopped for five minutes during the time the memorial service is in progress.

In Uruguay, Tuesday has been appointed a day of mourning, and guns will be fired at 15 minute intervals from noon until sunset.

RADICAL LEADER FORMS CABINET.

Paris. Saturday. After prolonged negotiations, M. Sarrant, the Radical leader, has formed a Cabinet, which will probably meet in the Chamber after the return of the delegation attending the British Royal funeral.

The principal appointments are Vice-Premier, M. Delbos, Foreign Minister, M. Flandin, Finance Minister, M. Regnier, War Minister, M. Maurin, League of Nations M. Boncour, Minister of Commerce, M. Bonnet, and Marine, M. Pietri.

M. Sarrant is considered to be a Moderate, and is generally trusted, but M. Flandin is believed to be opposed to the application of sanctions to Italy. It is understood that the Sarrant Government will pursue a "Pro-British, Pro-League, Pro-franc" policy. The Press as a whole supports it, and competent observers expect the Govt to command a majority of about 100 until the elections in April.

WAR NEWS.
CONFLICTING REPORTS.

Rome. Saturday. Marshall Badoglio claims to have defeated the Abyssinians all along the line South of Makalle.

The "Blackshirts" are reported to have successfully defended the Narieu Pass, which throughout the day the Abyssinians made desperate efforts to take.

After hard fighting the Eritreans have captured Lata Mountain. The Italian losses in these actions are stated to be 34 officers, 389 Italian, and 310 Eritrean soldiers killed and wounded, whilst the Abyssinian casualties are claimed to number 8000, including 4000 captured.

An official report issued in Addis Ababa states that the battle around Makalle has resulted in a complete victory for Abyssinian arms. In a flanking movement the Italians were driven from two strongly fortified positions, and after fierce hand-to-hand fighting retreated leaving the Abyssinians in possession of ten heavy guns, 100 machine guns, and a large quantity of rifles and ammunition.

The report sets the Italian losses at several thousand.

It was announced, unofficially, that fierce fighting is still being waged in the neighbourhood of Makalle.

THE MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR HIS LATE MAJESTY KING GEORGE.

No words of ours can express the impressively simple dignity and solemnity which marked the service, conducted by the Dean-elect the Reverend Dr. R.T. Wade, held yesterday morning in Christ Church Cathedral to commemorate His late Majesty King George V.

Long before the service started the seating accommodation available for the public was fully taken up, and many people were, in consequence, compelled to stand throughout the proceedings.

In addition to His Excellency the Governor, the Misses Henniker-Heaton, Members of Councils, their wives, there were present representatives of the various local bodies, including a strong muster of the Falkland Islands Defence Force.

The service opened with the singing of the hymn "For all the Saints who from their labours rest", which was followed by prayers, and the General Confession.

The commencement of the "Two Minutes' Silence" was signalled by the firing of the gun on Victory Green. It was a 'felt' silence, broken only by the sound of the second round which marked its termination.

Psalm XC ('Lord thou hast been our refuge') was sung, and His Excellency then read the Lesson from I. Corinthians XV, verse 20 onwards.

Preceding the Address, by the Dean-Elect, which is given in full below, the hymn "Lead kindly Light" was sung.

THE ADDRESS.

Ephes. IV, 25, "Ye are members one of another." There is a statement whose truth we find it very difficult to realise as a rule. There seems to be something or other constantly cropping up to separate us into parties; event after event which makes demands on our individual judgement finds us in disagreement. Divergent interests call us apart; different tastes separate us, different dispositions sunder us; different ways of looking at things, different tendencies, different circumstances, different training; everything seems to hinder fellowship. In Church, in State, everywhere we see separation, party against party, clique against clique, neighbour against neighbour. At first sight nothing seems less true than this confident assurance of the Apostle "Ye are members one of another".

But there are times when it comes over us with irresistible force that after all the Apostle is right; that what we have regarded as insuperable barriers are but the thinnest of partitions: there are times when the one thing that is clearest of all is our essential fellowship, and our dependence the one on the other.

A time of great national rejoicing is such an occasion. We realised that last year, when our common affection for the King and Queen closed up all our ranks and we were conscious only that we were one great commonwealth, loyal and devoted to those who wore the crown so royally and so worthily.

But there is nothing that brings men closer than sorrow, and nothing closer than the crowning sorrow. No disagreement can endure in the presence of death. Our discussions, our opinions, shrink into infinitesimal dimensions when death appears opening out Eternity before us; then as we realise the pettiness, the emptiness and the futility of much that appeared so important before, we realise, too, our common destiny, our common humanity, our common interests, our real oneness and we long with all our heart to be indeed "Members one of another".

And that is our condition today; suddenly a great sorrow has come upon us, suddenly death, which has lately stolen from among ourselves here a father, there a young mother, only just now a child, has summoned from us, too, our very greatest, our King, and for the moment at any rate, we of the British Commonwealth of Nations, are as a single family with a common great sorrow. Indeed, in a wider view we see all Nations of the world brought closer to each other. No event that has happened in recent years has brought out more clearly than the passing of our King, the sense of the common humanity of all Nations. Honoured representatives from all parts have gathered today to honour him whom we have lost, and as we see them there, surrounding him, sharing thoughts full of respect and admiration for him, do you not think that we might say with no unreality but earnestly and honestly, truly you Nations although your aims and customs are different, yet you are "Members one of another". Speaking now of him who has passed from us, we have said a thing of no little significance when we remark that we can today use language which often enough is only conventional, and use it with sincerity and truth. Our regret at the passing of our beloved King is deep, sincere, and heartfelt. The word 'beloved' is no mere ornamental epithet, he was beloved by all, he was beloved by each one of us individually; his death fills each of us with a sense of personal loss. That has been the outstanding feature of his reign, the wonderful way in which the hearts of his subjects were turned to him. One saw this tide of feeling at its full, when in the heart of London last year. As one moved, ever so slowly, with the immense multitudes which packed the streets, the whole atmosphere was charged to the full with affectionate personal attachment to the King. But it was not necessary to be at the Empire's centre to perceive it, it was evident everywhere; nor was it necessary to wait for the Jubilee Year to be aware of it, it has been very evident for many years. Mr. Lloyd George in his War Memoirs says :- "There can be no question that one outstanding reason for the high level of loyalty and patriotic effort which the people of this Country maintained was the attitude and conduct of King George. In 1917 the King not only maintained, but greatly intensified his efforts to come into personal contact with the workers on the home front, and to encourage them in their tasks. Wherever sorrow fell or trouble threatened the King made it his business to look into the matter personally, and the loyalty of the people was heartened to a new vigour by the presence of their Sovereign in their midst, and by the warm personal interest he showed in their work and their anxieties..... and the unremitting diligence with which he set himself in those dark days to discharge the functions of his high office." That refers to the years of the Great War, but it is true of all the years of his reign; they have revealed a man who realised to the full the tremendous responsibility that was laid upon him (Did not the Prime Minister speak of it last week as the heaviest burden that can rest on mortal shoulders?); a man who rose to that responsibility with splendid courage and manly great-heartedness; a man whose simple and unaffected manner and genuine interest in the welfare of all his people as individuals, has garnered for the Crown, in a fashion unsurpassed in any era, an unswerving affection and loving allegiance.

With respectful and loving sympathy we remember what must be the intensity of the sadness in the King's home, but while on the one hand we forbear to intrude on that sorrow, we know from the simple Christian faith which was one of the many virtues manifested in the life of the Royal Family, that they will not be sorrowing as those without hope, but will be drawing consolation from the words of Saint Paul which we have heard read today. "Now is Christ risen from the dead, and is the first fruits of them that slept", and so on throughout the whole chapter. Summarised, the faith expressed there, the Christian faith, is this :- Man consists essentially both of body and soul. Body is the organ for the self-expressing spirit. The body we now possess is adapted for life under earthly conditions. It is a marvellous instrument, but it is never adequate to the full expression of personality. The future state will not be a disembodied soul; the spirit will be in possession of a body suited for life under its new conditions, and endued with capacities which we cannot even remotely imagine, but so glorious that St. Paul strains language to the utmost in his endeavour to represent what he calls the spiritual body. "There is a natural body", he says, "and there is a spiritual body", and later "For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written "Death is swallowed up in Victory, O Death! Where is thy sting? O Grave! Where is thy Victory?" Thanks be to God who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

A memorable service was brought to a close with the Benediction. Miss Muriel Summers officiated at the organ, and played appropriate music before and after the service.

HALF A MILLION PEOPLE PAY HOMAGE

TO HIS LATE MAJESTY.
London. Sunday. Four after hour a procession passed through Westminster Hall to pay homage to King George. The queue was in some places ten feet deep, and stretched 2½ miles in length. By midnight half million people had passed the bier. On Tuesday the procession will start at 9.45 a.m. proceeding at slow march, with King Edward following the bier on foot, en route for Paddington, four miles distant. Silver tipped Venetian masts, bound with purple, line the route.

King Edward spent a quiet week-end at Fort Belvedere, his country home, but visited Windsor on Sunday in order to witness the final burial arrangements.

King Leopold, King Carol, and King Christian arrived in London on Monday.

London Hotels were heavily booked by foreign visitors, most of whom were French..

The "Daily Telegraph" states that it is unlikely that the term "Queen Mother" will be used, but that Her Royal Highness will still be referred to as Queen Mary.

MEMORIAL SERVICE IN ITALY.

King Victor Emmanuel and Ex-King Alfonso attended a Memorial service for His Majesty King George, at All Saints Church, Rome, on Tuesday.

Two thrones were erected near the Altar for the Royal mourners.

KING FUAD DISALLOWS POLITICAL

Cairo. The Waft proposal for the selection of a neutral Cabinet to run elections in March with a delegation under the Waft leader, Nahas Pasha, has been disallowed by King Fuad, on the ground that an election campaign is inadvisable while a treaty is being negotiated.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Tuesday. Tonight's communique announces further fighting on the Somaliland front, and this, says the 'Daily Telegraph' correspondent is received with surprise, since it was generally believed that the territory between Daura Parma and Ganale had been 'swept' by Graziani's troops.

On the Eritrean front, despite repulses, the Abyssinians are reported as able to worry the Italian troops.

News of casualties is vague, but it is stated that 10,000 Abyssinians have been killed, while 'some hundreds' of the Italians have been killed or wounded.

A communique issued in Addis Ababa states that the bombing of towns and villages in open country is general. Twelve Squadrons operated on one day, and killed many women and children, as well as cattle. Further 'Red Cross' bombing is alleged, and Hospital units now resort to camouflage rather than display the red cross.

A message from Mombasa reports the Kenya Government is preparing a large concentration camp for Italian native deserters, three hundred of whom recently crossed the Border.

SOUTHAMPTON TO HAVE ITS OWN

HERR HITLER AND COLONISATION.

Munich. Tuesday. Herr Hitler addressed the Students Association today on the subject of colonisation, and said that "White Races" were destined to rule, and Colonising Nations regarded it as a duty to set undeveloped people on their feet, citing as an example the British policy in India. He criticised strongly the actions of Powers who excused themselves for capturing Colonies with the apology that they were civilising barbarous peoples.

OIL FROM COAL IN CHINA.

Dairen. Monday. Japanese surveyors and engineers are studying the North-China coal measures with a view to the discovery of supplies available for conversion into oil.

LOCAL BISLEY MEETING.

Indifferent weather has so far attended the Local Bisley Meeting. On the first day, shooting had occasionally to be suspended on account of heavy squalls, while the second day's programme was, towards the end, marred by heavy rain.

Considerable excitement was felt in the latter part of the First Stage of His Excellency the Governor's Challenge Shield and Silver Bowl Competition, when Privates L.Reive and H. Sedgwick tied twice for first place, an honour which carried with it the "Douthwaite" Trophy. The last 'round' proved successful for Reive, who scored a 'bull' as against Sedgwick's 'innor'.

Some really good scores were recorded, and seventeen aspirants for the Shield succeeded in entering the Second Stage of the event.

The Falkland Islands Company's Handicap Cup was secured by Cpl F. O'Sullivan, with Privates S. Newman, and W.J. Grierson close runners-up. The prize presented by Major the Hon. M.J. Stewart for the best score made in the premier event by a man with a maximum service of five years in the Defence Force was won by Pte. W.J. Bowles.

On the completion of the first range of the 'Open Five and Six Hundred' the Meeting was adjourned until Jan, 26th.

Sunday, the 26th augured well, and the keenest interest was evinced in every item of the programme, but particularly the Second Stage of the Governor's Shield, which, after close competition, resulted in Mr. J.R. Gleadell heading the list, and incidentally taking the Cheverton Shield. Twelve competitors qualified for the Final.

There were eight teams of four men entered for the Bonner Cup, which was won by Pte L. Reive's team with a score of 357, only one point ahead of Pte W. Aldridge's team. In this competition Mr. J.R. Gleadell registered the highest score with 100 points, while Lieut. A.I. Fleuret was a very close second with 99.

Ptes E. Harvey, D. Lehen, and W.J. Grierson took the first three places in the Consolation Handicap.

The Meeting, weather permitting, will be continued on Sunday next, when it is hoped to complete the 'Open 5 and 6 hundred', and the Final of the Governor's Shield.

The scores are :-

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Tuesday. Marshall Badoglio in his statement on the three days battle in the Tembien region, indicates that the Italians were forced to attack by the Abyssinian dispositions, and although Ras Desta's and Ras Seyoum's armies failed to make an impression, actually the engagement ended in a stalemate for the belligerents. The communique suggests that both Abyssinian Commanders are massing their forces for a fresh attack, but great space is given to an allegation that five Swedish Red Cross lorries were examined and found to contain twenty-seven cases of ammunition.

It is reported from Capetown that Norwegian transports, with 6000 tons of aviation spirit destined for East Africa, are expected to call there shortly.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF MESSAGE OF CONDOLENCE.

With reference to the publication, in our issue of the 22nd inst., of a telegraphic message of condolence on the occasion of the death of His Majesty King George V, we are now privileged to publish the following acknowledgement received by His Excellency the Governor;

From the Secretary of State for the Colonies.
Telegram. 20th January, 1936.

"I have laid before the King your telegram of condolence with His Majesty, and Queen Mary, and the members of the Royal Family on the death of King George. I am commanded by the King to convey to you, the Government, and people of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies an expression of deep gratitude for the kind message of sympathy."

QUEEN MARY'S MESSAGE TO THE NATION AND THE EMPIRE.

The text of Queen Mary's message to the Nation and the Empire, which was broadcast on Wednesday night, is reproduced hereunder :-

" I must send to you people of this Nation, and the Empire, a message of my deepest gratitude for all the sympathy with which you have surrounded me. It is, indeed, gratitude so deep, that I cannot find words to express it; but the simplest words are best, I can only say that with all my heart, I thank you.

In my own great sorrow I have been upheld not only by the strength of your sympathy, but also by the knowledge that you have shared my grief; for, I have been so deeply moved by the signs so full and touching, that the passing of my dear husband has brought a real sense of personal sorrow to all his subjects.

In the midst of my grief, I rejoice to think that after his reign of twenty-five years, he lived to know that he had received, in overflowing measure, the loyalty and love of his people.

Although he will no longer be at my side - and no words can tell how I shall miss him - I hope, that with God's help, I may still be able to continue, in some part at least, the service, which for 42 years of happy married life, we tried together to give to this Great Land and Empire.

During the coming years, with all the changes they must bring, you will, I know, let me have a place in your thoughts and prayers.

I commend to you my dear son, as he enters upon his reign, in the confident hope that you will give to him the same devotion and loyalty which you gave so abundantly to his father.

God Bless you, dear people, for all the wonderful love and sympathy with which you have sustained me.

Mary."

THE INFLUENCE OF NUTRITION ON THE GROWTH OF WOOL.

The Rowett Research Institute, Aberdeen, has during the last few years, given a considerable amount of time to research into the growth of wool.

The workers there have come to the conclusion that the maximum quantity and the optimum quality of wool grown by a sheep is determined by its genetic condition, that is to say the hereditary characteristics of its breed. Maximum weight, length, and density of fleece are inherited characteristics, and the importance of nutrition lies in the provision of materials enabling the full expression of genetic potentialities. It follows that nutritional experiments can only affect wool growth by producing a dietary deficiency, or by remedying a deficiency already present. It is clear that a surplus of food will not result in a surplus of wool. If extra food is given and the wool growth increases, then the previous diet was deficient in quality, if not in quantity.

The influence of nutrition on wool is limited, in that the maximum yield for any given breed cannot be increased by pure nutritional factors. Changes in wool production must be sought for in the provinces of genetics, and endocrinology, that is in breeding and not in nutrition.

The report of the Institute goes on to say that it is recognised by all that a favourable grazing season will result in a heavy clip, and that conversely unfavourable nutritional influences may reduce the wool harvest depending on the intake in sufficient quantity, or otherwise, of certain basic elements in the food responsible for the building of hair.

The thickness of the wool that is to say its fibre diameter, appears to be more susceptible to nutritional influences than the fibre length. This is seen in the varying thicknesses of a single strand of wool, the variation being due to the different nutritional value of the pastures where the sheep has been grazing. These differences may be seasonal, or due to actual change of pasture. Thus a break in the wool is directly due to nutritional factors.

Experiments in Australia and South Africa confirm these views. In addition observation in New South Wales has shown that the growth of wool in the first three months after shearing is greater than that of any other three-monthly period, therefore favourable grazing is most essential at that time. (Contributed)

NEW PLANES FOR AIRWAYS AND AIR FORCE.

The South African Airways and the Union Government have placed an order with Airspeed, Ltd., of Portsmouth, for the delivery to South Africa early this year of seven 'Airspeed Envoy' aeroplanes.

Four of these machines are to be used by the South African Airways on the feeder services, which are being developed, and three for the South African Air Force. The machines for South African Airways have been ordered with conversion sets, by which they can be converted within a short time to military purposes.

Two of the Airways machines will accommodate six passengers, and the others five passengers each. The military machines will each carry a crew of three; the machines are monoplanes, and will be fitted with two Armstrong-Siddley 'Cheetah Six' engines. All are designed for a top speed of 211 miles an hour, and a cruising speed of 189 miles an hour at an altitude of 7300 ft.

"WHALES" STRANDED AT THE CAPE.

The school of two hundred false Killer whales which recently committed suicide at the Cape by heaving themselves ashore on the Darling Coast, have been pronounced by Mr. G.W. Rayner, a whale expert on the staff of the British Museum, as a species of dolphin and not whales at all. Commercially they are useless, and their only claim to distinction appears to be their suicide mania.

(Mr. Rayner will be remembered locally as a member of the Scientific Staff of R.R.S. "William Scoresby").

WORLD WOOL SITUATION.

According to "Wool Intelligence Notes" estimates of the wool production for the season 1935-1936, in the five chief exporting countries (Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, Argentina and Uruguay) point to an aggregate decrease of over 85 million lbs, or 4%, as compared with the previous season. The chief decreases are in Australia and Argentina. The only country where larger production is anticipated is in South Africa, where it is expected that production will be about 30 million pounds higher than the abnormally low output of last season.

PRICES.

The sixth series of London Colonial Wool auctions opened on the 19th November. About 124,600 bales were on offer. At the opening, competition was well distributed between Yorkshire and the Continent. Prices of Merinos were from 7½ to 10 per cent dearer than the September closing rates, but the outstanding feature was the keen demand for Cross-breds. Fine grades rose by about 10%, medium grades 10 to 15% and course about 15%. As the Sales progressed, values for many descriptions, particularly pieces, hardened. Prices continue very firm on the Australian Market, and competition keen for all qualities. Yorkshire, the Continent, (Including Germany), and Japan are all participating. There are also some American orders. France and Germany are reported to be dominating the South African Market, and prices are very firm. The New Zealand selling season opened on the 26th November, with prices 20% above the closing rates of last season. Continental purchasers predominated.

In South America demand is active for the supplies that are coming slowly into the Market. Germany and the United States interest predominates, and the tendency of prices is somewhat above the general parity of values.

TWENTY CONVICTS INCINERATED.

Scottsboro, Alabama, Saturday. A lorry conveying twenty negro convicts to a labour centre today, burst into flames when a petrol drum ignited by contact with a bucket fire, which was permitted owing to the intensity of the cold. The prisoners were unable to escape from the locked wire cage and were incinerated, while rescue efforts were impossible owing to the fierceness of the blaze.

FIRST DRILLING FOR BRITISH OIL.

Portsmouth, Saturday. The first test drills for British Oil will be carried out Portsdown Hill this month by a subsidiary Company of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co, who are also to commence drilling operations in Sussex.

Widespread tests are being carried out in the South of England, while surveys are being made in the Midlands and the North.

U.S.A. TRAIN PLUNGES INTO RIVER.

New York, Saturday. The Pennsylvania-New York Express left the track today when crossing the the Susquehanna Bridge. The engine and two coaches plunged into the river, and four people were killed and thirty-two injured.

PARIS TAKES ADVANTAGE OF PRESENCE OF DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

Paris. Saturday. The presence of numerous Central and East European personalities in Paris on their way home from London, was seized upon by the French Government to conduct, with six Powers, important diplomatic conversations. Questions discussed included security in the Danube basin, the Franco-Russian Treaty of mutual assistance, and Trade credits to Russia; the Franco-Roumanian Trade Pact is believed to have been discussed, when King Carol had conversations with M. Flandin, the Foreign Minister. M. Litvinoff, the Russian Foreign Minister also discussed with the King the possibility of a Russian Roumanian Trade Pact.

MOUNT EVEREST EXPEDITION'S ADVANCE PARTY LEAVE ENGLAND.

London. Saturday. The Advance Party of the 1936 Mount Everest Expedition sailed for India today, under the leadership of Mr. Hugh Ruttledge. There are many who believe that the Expedition has better chances of reaching the summit than any other of the four previous Expeditions.

The Expedition plans to establish the seventh and last camp at a height of 27800 feet, a third of a mile nearer the top than the highest camp in 1933. From this spot two climbers, picked from a party of seven, will make an attempt on the summit. Members of the party have been chosen with the expert assistance of Medical Authorities on effects of rarified atmosphere, and the Committee has concentrated on obtaining maximum physical efficiency. One woman, the wife of Dr. Noel Humphreys, one of the Party and leader of the 1934 Ellesmere Land Expedition, is accompanying the Advance Party as far as Darjeeling.

THE LATE KING'S RACEHORSES.

His Majesty had, however, agreed to the leasing to him of the late King's horses until the end of the present racing year.

THE NAVAL CONFERENCE.

London. Saturday. The first Committee of the Naval Conference today examined and adopted a report submitted by a Technical Sub-Committee on the question of advance notification of Naval programmes, and the exchange of information. In accordance with its intentions, expressed at a previous meeting, the Committee then decided to set up a new Technical Committee to prepare a report on the definitions of various categories of vessels, on standard displacement, of all naval combatant vessels on age limits to be applied to such vessels, and on qualitative limitations to be included in the Treaty. The Sub-Committee is holding its first meeting on Monday afternoon. If the proposals of a report adopted by the First Committee receive the general acceptance of Naval Powers, a great advance it is felt will have been made in the removal of suspicion, and since suspicion is such an important factor in causing competitive naval building, considerable contribution will have been made to quantitative reduction of naval armaments throughout the World.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Saturday. Today's East African Communique refers only to the consolidation of the positions in the Neghelli Region, and to some reconnoitering flights over the Eritrean area. It has, however, been revealed that a picked Division of Alpine troops have already left Italy for the front, and that the period of military service has been extended from six months to eighteen.

The 'Daily Telegraph' Addis Ababa correspondent states that reinforcements in the south of Abyssinia have checked the Italian advance at Wadara, where it is anticipated there will develop a stalemate.

A further message from Addis Ababa states that the Military Headquarters claim the biggest victory of the War in an action in the Tembien region. The official communique declares that 3000 Italians were killed, and 5000 wounded; one Blackshirt Division wiped out, and a large number of rifles, ammunition, guns and tanks captured. The Abyssinian losses are placed at 1200 dead and wounded. In Rome the statement is declared as "False and absurd".

FASCIST GRAND COUNCIL MEET.

Rome. Friday. The Fascist Grand Council met late tonight to discuss last month's League meeting on the question of an oil embargo. No report of the meeting has yet been issued, but it is expected that it will contain a declaration to the effect that Italy will regard an oil embargo or naval blockade as an "Act of War".

SUDDEN DEATH OF GENERAL
CONDYLIS.

Athens. Saturday. Rumours are flooding the Capital, following the sudden death of General Condyllis, the "King Maker", of a possible coup d'etat. The possibility of risings by the Venezelists or military monarchists is discounted in well-informed quarters, but it is generally thought that the death of Condyllis is bound to affect the political situation.

CHILDREN'S SPORTS MEETING.

Exceptionally fine weather favoured the Children's Sports Meeting, organised by the Working Men's Social Club, on Saturday afternoon last, the 1st February.

An excellent programme had been prepared, and every event was keenly contested. A remarkable feature was the very close finish to practically every race.

The sensational event of the meeting was the Donkey Race, in which, it was observed, many of the Jockeys found difficulty in retaining their seats, indeed, some failed to do so !!

The finish proved somewhat exciting, Miss Aiken's 'Joe' winning by a short head from Ivan Hannaford's 'Bobby', who just managed to obtain 2nd place, again by a short head, from Miss Doreen Sedgwick's 'Dad'. The favourite for this item, 'Hon. Sec', was 'an also ran'. During the afternoon, the children were refreshed by a liberal supply of lemonade.

A most successful function was brought to a close with the presentation of a 1/2 lb bag of sweets to every child present.

We are asked to state that if sufficient contributions are forthcoming from the proceeds of this Season's sweepstake, it is the intention of the Club to organise a Children's Party.

TWO PERSONS KILLED IN AIR
MISHAP AT LIVERPOOL.

Liverpool. Sunday. A private aeroplane nose-dived into the Mersey a few minutes after leaving the Air Port at Speke. Despite immediate efforts at rescue, both occupants, who were experienced aviators, were killed. The machine, it is said, had dual control.

INCREASED TENSION IN GREECE.

Athens. Sunday. Increased tension is reported throughout Greece following the defection of the War Minister from the King's supporters. General Papagos presented a demand of the Officers League that the Venizelist Cabinet should not be formed, to which the King replied by issuing a stern order against officers meddling with politics.

MUTINY IN MANCHUKUO.

Peking. Sunday. The Manchukuoan mutiny is believed to be due to a revolt of the peasants against inadequate prices paid for large areas of sequestered farmlands to provide settlements for Japanese colonists.

A communique from the Kwantung Army states that the revolt is due to Soviet influence with mutineers, who are led by twenty mounted officers.

THE POLISH CORRIDOR.

Warsaw. Sunday. It is reported that Polish officials are visiting Germany to discuss a tentative plan for the settlement of outstanding debts amounting to 80 million zlotys in respect of the use by German Railways of the Polish Corridor. Poland threatens sanctions by stopping traffic if a settlement is not reached by Friday.

THE U.S.A. NEUTRALITY BILL.
VIOLENTLY DENOUNCED BY LAW EXPERT.
Washington. Sunday. A leading authority on International Law, Mr. John Basset Moore, violently denounced the Neutrality Bill as calculated to involve the United States in war through cooperation of the League, and though statement was intended to remain a secret, the Chairman of the Committee for Foreign Affairs, Mr. Johnson, insisted on a Press publication. Mr. Moore described the Bill as a curious blend of homicidal and suicidal mania, but through its general incoherency its aim was to use cooperative-coercive measures to enforce peace. A plan to permit the President to curb the export of war materials would obviously bring the United States into any war to which it applied.

ITALY DISPENSES WITH FOREIGN INSURANCE OF LINERS.

London. The Italian Government's decision to dispense with Foreign insurance of the liners 'Rex' and 'Conte de Savoia', means the taking over of a liability approximating £2,300,000.

In the expiring policies, the ships are insured for £1,300,000 each, of which Lloyds covered one million with English Companies. £300,000 approximately is at present coverable in Italian markets.

FINAL STAGES OF LOCAL BISLEY MEETING.

The final stages of the Local Bisley Meeting took place on Sunday last. Fine weather prevailed throughout the day, but an exceedingly strong wind - at times necessitating wind scale adjustments of from 30 to 40 feet - made holding very difficult. Despite this, shooting was of a high standard, and as will be seen by the scores published hereunder, competition was extraordinarily keen.

BERLIN EXPRESSES ANXIETY OVER BRITISH DEFENCE PROPOSALS, BUT GERMANY STILL RE-ARMS.

London. The German Press is expressing anxiety over the British Defence proposals, but according to Reuter, there is no slackening in Germany's rearmament plans. It is estimated that she will have 55,000 Regulars, and a total force of 1½ millions by the end of 1936, while her Air Force has almost reached parity with that of Britain. Aircraft factories in Germany are rapidly attaining a potential production of 4000 'planes annually.

Brussels' news papers estimate the German front line force at 2¼ million in 1937, with a million trained troops in reserve. The number of men who have undergone military training is estimated at seven million.

issues are unlikely until the end of the present year, but, it is understood, new coins will be minted earlier.

MOTION THAT SOUTH AFRICA SHOULD NOT PARTICIPATE IN SANCTIONS SUFFERS DEFEAT.

Capetown. Monday. The Nationalist Leader, Mr. Malan, today tabled a motion in the House of Assembly that South Africa should not participate in sanctions which might extend Italo-Abyssinian war, while the Labour Party Leader, Mr. Madely, forwarded an amendment for the imposition of all sanctions which might terminate the conflict.

General Smuts, the Deputy Premier, in his speech opposing the motion, issued an emphatic warning against the dangers of failure to cooperate with the League, and stressed the need of keeping and strengthening the friendship existing towards the British Commonwealth. 'There was no defence in the world today', he said, 'except by cooperation'. Mr. Malan's motion was defeated by 98/14 votes, and after the Labour amendment was lost, the Government's policy was endorsed by a vote of 94 to 14.

GOVERNMENT NOTICE.

No.17. Colonial Secretary's Office,

 5th February, 1936.

With reference to Government
 Notice, No. 84, of the 22nd of July, 1935, it is hereby notified, for

MR. W. BARLAS, J.P.,

Magistrate, South Georgia, was absent

 both dates inclusive.

HOMEWARD MAIL.

We understand that intimation has been received to the effect that the mail, despatched on the 11th of January, arrived in the United Kingdom on the 4th instant.

ARGENTINE SHEEP CENSUS.

According to estimates recently published by the Argentine Ministry of Agriculture, sheep numbers in Argentina have fallen from 44.4 million in 1930 to 38.0 million in 1935, the main causes being increased employment of the soil for agriculture, depreciation of flocks, and losses due to unfavourable weather conditions. Wool production in 1935-36 season is estimated at about 350 million lbs, of which about 313 million lbs is shorn wool. The percentage of Merino in the latter figure is placed at 14%, as compared with 15% in 1930.

WOOL SUPPLIES IN GERMANY.

Germany's demand for wool on the world market was not greatly reduced in 1935, as compared with previous years, despite the efforts made to promote the use of home-grown wool, and substitutes. In view of the fact that exports of tissues were smaller than in any recent year, due probably to high conversion costs which led to a decline in German competitive power on the world's markets, it would appear that the pressure of home demand for wool increased, or that stocks of finished goods were accumulated.

PARLIAMENTARY NEWS.

London. Wednesday. In the House of Commons this afternoon, Mr. George Lansbury, former leader of the Opposition, moved a resolution in favour of summoning, through the League of Nations, of an International Conference to deal with economic factors which, the motion claimed, are responsible for world-wide preparations for war; such as, the necessity for access to raw materials, markets, migration. Mr. Lansbury declared he had no faith in any system which relied on force. When war broke out it was impossible to preserve any balance of fairness to opponents, and nations lost all sense of right and wrong; and when at last a settlement was reached by force, it was always such that, sooner or later, it had to be reviewed and modified. The economic conditions of the world should be brought under review. He was not proposing to share out the British Empire; he wanted an entirely new conception of world unity, under which the raw materials of the world would be organised by International authority for the service of all nations of the world. If Governments could organise to destroy, then, surely, it would be easier to join in carrying out this humane proposal.

After a Conservative amendment had been moved expressing confidence that the Government would take all practical steps to promote International prosperity, and a better understanding among the peoples, Mr. Lloyd George spoke in support of the proposal for an International Conference to consider raw materials, and Colonial problems. After a review of the disappointment in recent years of hopes founded on the Treaties of Locarno, he referred to the recent increases in world armaments, and the situation of tension, uncertainty and menace they created, he said that two great Countries in Europe were apprehensive of encirclement - Germany and Russia - Germany was frightened of Russia and France, and Russia was frightened of Germany and Japan. He asked was it not possible to break this circle of fear, before it was too late. Elsewhere, economic conditions were of great importance, and mentioned Japan's activities in the Far East, and Italy's resort to war in East Africa.

He was not in favour of giving away bits of the British Empire, but in the course of his review of the Colonial problem, he suggested the reconsideration of the distribution of League Mandates.. He asked the Government to consider if the time had not come when the Nations should be summoned together, and asked to put their cards on the table, and say what they wanted.

Mr. Amery thought the proposed conference would be foredoomed to futility. What hope was there of any Powers coming to the Conference prepared to surrender territory, or to alter the economic policies.

The Government reply was made by Lord Cranborne, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs. He said the Government was not in disagreement with Mr. Lansbury; if they differed, differences were of degree, and of faith, rather than of substance. All people viewed with grave concern the preparations that were being made for war. If Great Britain - the last of all Nations to do so - was reconsidering the state of its armaments, it was not because it wanted to go to war, but with a view to strengthening the forces of order against the forces of disorder; but if the situation changed and the opportunity came for all-round reduction of armaments, the Government would grasp it with both hands. Referring to Sir Samuel Hoare's pronouncement at Geneva on the problem of raw materials, Lord Cranbourne said the Government still believed International discussion of these issues would be immensely valuable, but could any one say the time was quite ripe for the discussion of these exceedingly complex questions.

They must avoid a repetition of the disastrous failure of the 1933 International Monetary and Economic Conference.

WAR NEWS.

Addis Ababa. Tuesday. A communique issued today explains the cause of the Abyssinian withdrawal from the Dolo region. It is stated that Italian attacks appeared imminent, and as the advance positions were unsuitable, a general retirement was ordered to points more capable of defensive action. Owing to imperfect communication, orders were badly executed, and in consequence the Italian forces surprised certain convoys. The main army, it is said, retired in good order, and no attempt was made to resist the advance of the enemy.

A message from Rome states that Marshal Badoglio's reply to the Abyssinian claim that the fall of Makalle is imminent, and that a battle had been raging for forty-eight hours is "Nothing to report".

LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Geneva. Tuesday. It is reported that considerable headway has been made by the Committee of Petrol Experts, and, if the present rate of progress continues, its report will be complete within a week. A meeting of the Sanctions Committee will then take place almost immediately.

It is stated in authoritative quarters that there is every likelihood of an enforcement of Petrol Sanctions at an early date.

SECRET TALKS ON AUSTRIA AND SOUTH EAST EUROPE.

Paris. Tuesday. Secret talks on Austria and South East Europe were continued today at the luncheon party given by King Carol.

According to the 'Daily Telegraph' correspondent, M. Flandin met Prince Starhemberg, and Crown Prince Paul of Jugoslavia.

It is understood that Prince Starhemberg assured M. Flandin that all ideas regarding the restoration of the Haps-burgs had been indefinitely postponed.

M. Litvinoff, Soviet Foreign Minister opposed the regional combinations for the safeguarding of Austrian independence, and advocated that her defence should be a part of the League of Nations' general security scheme.

MARKED INCREASE IN SHIP BUILDING.

London. Tuesday. Lloyds Register figures indicate a marked increase in ship-building throughout the world during 1935. The figures of 1302080 tons represent an increase of 34.6% on 1934.

On January 1st, British Yards were handling 743086 tons under construction, the largest quarterly figure for five years, while 1935 launchings totalled 499,000 tons.

Germany takes second place with 226,343 tons.

The world tonnage laid down in 1935 exceeded the launchings by 300,000 tons.

NEW YEAR PEERS.

London. Tuesday. Titles taken by New Year Peers are, Lord Trenchard, Viscount Trenchard of Wolfeton, Sir A.S. Benn, Baron Glenravel of Kensington, and Sir J. Gomer Berry, Baron Kemsley of Farnham Royal.

NAZI REPRESENTATIVE MURDERED.

Geneva. Tuesday. German Gustoff, a Nazi representative appointed to Switzerland, was today assassinated, in his home at Davos, by Jen Frankfurter, a Jugoslavian, who surrendered to the Police, and stated he disagreed with the German policy.

SOVIET CONSTITUTIONAL REFORMS.

Moscow. Tuesday. The Constitutional Commission, under the Chairmanship of M. Stalin, has produced recommendations embodying a secret ballot, the abolition of discrepancies between town and country representation, and direct election. It is believed that the proposed reforms will be enacted and ratified during 1936.

INTERNATIONAL FOOTBALL.

London. Wednesday. In the International Association Football match held today at Wolverhampton, Wales beat England by two goals to one. Phillips and Jones scored for the winners, and Bowden for the losers. Drake, the Arsenal and England centreforward, was injured and had to retire from the game just before the interval. England was leading one nil at half-time.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE CALLED UPON TO PAY WAR DEBTS.

Washington. Tuesday. Senator Lewis, of Illinois, addressing the Senate today called upon Britain and France to make an effort to pay their War Debts, and suggested that they should enter into an obligation to issue bonds of small denomination, payable to the United States, to the value of six billion dollars.

FOOD.

Food is very much more than something that satisfies our hunger: its importance to our health and general well-being is so great, that it has been suggested that short articles on the subject should be published from time to time in the "Penguin".

There are three chief different classes of food ingredients. The first supplies the necessary energy for our daily work, it is a Fuel ingredient, used by our bodies in the same way as machines use fuel. The second type of ingredients supplies the necessary material for rebuilding the parts of the body which get worn out in daily life and for growth in children; it is a body-building ingredient. The third type of ingredient helps to protect us against infection, and to keep the body in a state of good health, it is a protective ingredient. Unfortunately, foods are not simple things. They all contain, in some measure, fuel, body-building and protective ingredients, so we have to classify them according to the ingredient of which they contain the largest quantity. When we eat a Fuel Food, besides giving us energy, it is possibly also helping to build up our bodies and protect them. The same with Body-Building, or Protective Foods, but only one food, milk, contains these three ingredients in quantities properly balanced for perfect health. That is why milk is the perfect food. Milk is at once, fuel, body-building, and protective.

In every-day life, the appetite is a rough guide to the amount of food we need, but it does not tell us which are the best foods to supply the need, and the needs of different individuals vary. For instance, a working man needs a larger proportion of Fuel Foods, a growing child needs a larger proportion of Body-Building Foods, and an invalid needs a larger proportion of Protective Foods; but we all need a certain quantity of each kind of food.

It is hoped in these articles to show the best way of choosing and combining food in order to get the very best value out of it; so that it shall not only be satisfying but also healthy, in that each meal will fuel, re-build, and protect the body

IF MEN DID NOT SHAVE.

A Yorkshire man states that assuming that each time a man shaves his beard is one-sixtyfourth of an inch long, he removes seventy-one yards of beard between the ages of twenty and sixty-five. Allowing ten minutes for a shave, he spends sixty-four days and nights shaving.

WAR NEWS.

Rome, Wednesday. The 'Daily Telegraph' correspondent reports that today's communique states that while Graziani has made a new advance northward, his left wing is being strongly engaged by the Abyssinians, who are offering a firm resistance.

As evidence of Italy's determination to continue the East African campaign, Signor Mussolini's son-in-law, and a number of other prominent personages are proceeding immediately to the War zone.

The Propaganda Ministry has issued a categorical denial of the Abyssinian claims in reference to Makalle's impending fall.

The blazing wreckage flew in all directions, particularly affecting the Augustineer Beer Hall, at the doorway of which all casualties occurred. The second machine fell two miles away outside the Schwabinger Hospital, but without serious damage.

Flying squads of ambulances, and Fire Brigades were called out immediately, and all streets leading to the scenes of the disaster were cut off. Warnings were issued by the Police that disseminators of information would be liable to imprisonment.

PARLIAMENTARY NEWS.

At the commencement of public business in the House of Commons yesterday twenty-seven members who were successful in the ballot for the right to present Bills, introduced them for the first reading.

It is unlikely that more than eight of these will have the opportunity to move the second reading before the end of the Session.

Today, Rear Admiral Sir Murray Sueter, Conservative Member for Hertford, moved the second reading of a Bill 'To subordinate the three Fighting Forces to a Ministry of Defence'. A fortnight hence a Labour Member will move the second reading of a Bill to 'Amend the law relating to Workmen's Compensation.' It is pointed out that private members Bills rarely reach the Statute Book unless they are taken over by the Government.

Mr. A.P. Herbert, the well-known Novelist and Humourist, whose return as an Independent Conservative for Oxford University in the last election, was considered to be an outstanding feature, secured a place in the Ballot, but too far down to have any hope of a second reading of his Bills, which he introduced today, relating to Marriage, Licensing, and Gambling, with which subjects he has been for many years a prominent advocate.

The debate in the Commons on Wednesday on Mr. Geo. Lansbury's motion in favour of a World Economic Conference, and references of many speakers to Colonial problems, has aroused disgust in some quarters, which will find expression in both Houses of Parliament during the next few weeks.

Opposition to implied suggestions, contained in some speeches, of redistribution of Mandated or Colonial Territories is voiced by two schools of opinion, one of which is concerned at the possibility of danger in any transference which might be contemplated in the principle of trusteeship to which Colonial administration generally conforms in practice, and which is embodied more formally in League's Mandate system. The other school repudiates any idea of cession of responsibilities that Britain has assumed, and deprecates doubts which may be created in the Colonial areas by such discussions.

In the House of Lords, Viscount Elibank proposes to call attention to some of the misgivings and unrest that is being aroused in the minds of the inhabitants of the British Colonies by suggestions now being made in letters to the Press and elsewhere for the handing over of British Colonies to other Nations either directly, or indirectly, under the League of Nations' Mandates, and will ask His Majesty's Government to declare its policy in the matter.

The Motion will be debated in March.

Throughout the Middle West the temperature dropped forty degrees below zero in less than an hour. Trains were brought to a standstill, and snow drifts cut communications in many places. At Albion, Nebraska, a train was frozen fast on the track. It is reported that twenty persons have succumbed from the cold, and hundreds of motorists are stranded. Twelve passengers, and twenty-five railworkers are reported to be imprisoned in a snow-bound train in Nevada.

A message from Charleroi, Michigan, states that coastguardsmen had to dynamite 300 feet of ice in order to launch the lifeboat to attempt the rescue of three men who are adrift on Lake Michigan. It is not known whether men are on an ice-floe, or in a small boat.

According to the latest weather forecast no relief can be expected until Wednesday.

WAR NEWS.

Djibouti. Sunday. Unusual activity is being shown by both Italian and Abyssinian Armies behind the Southern front, which suggests that preparations are being made for another big battle. Abyssinian reinforcements are being moved up rapidly in large numbers to the Sidamo region, and troops are now occupying positions on both sides of the Webbe Shebeli.

Sir Percival Phillips, The 'Daily Telegraph' Special Correspondent learns from an authoritative source that the Emperor's policy of holding the Italians on both the Northern and Southern fronts by checking every attempt at advance by raiding their lines of communication, has so far yielded substantial successes.

A message from Addis Ababa states that seven Italian 'planes raided Dessie early today, and for sixty-five minutes rained high explosive and incendiary bombs, some of which exploded near the Emperor's Palace. It is believed that the raid was directed against the Emperor, who it is stated fired anti-aircraft missiles at the 'planes. The City was practically deserted at the time of the raid, and no casualties resulted.

FIRE AT ELSTREE FILM STUDIOS.

London. A fire which broke out at the Elstree Film Studios today, is the most disastrous in the history of British motion pictures, and the most spectacular.

Damage at the British and Dominions Studios is estimated at £300,000, and that at the British International Pictures to be £150,000.

Clouds of black smoke filled the sky, and flames leaping over a hundred feet in height were seen miles away. Steel girders and corrugated iron sheeting were twisted into fantastic shapes by the intense heat.

Two thousand employees of the two Companies, actors, technicians, and others will be temporarily thrown out of employment.

THE LAST PLAGUE OF EGYPT.

The inner history of Russell Pasha's campaign against the illicit drug traffic in Egypt, is told by Baron Henry D'Erlanger in a volume entitled the 'last Plague of Egypt', published last month by Lovat Dickson. When Russell Pasha, the Chief of the Egyptian Central Narcotics Intelligence Bureau, and Commandant of the Cairo City Police, appeared at Geneva before the League Advisory Committee on traffic in Dangerous Drugs, his address, tracing the appalling growth of the evil in Egypt since the War, with 500,000 addicts to a population of 14, million, produced a profound impression. The story of Russel Pasha's subsequent activities has been compiled from the reports of the Secret Police of many Nations.

NEWCASTLE'S ELECTRIC SIGNS.

Newcastle-upon-Tyne claims to be one of the most brilliantly illuminated cities in Great Britain. The main thoroughfares are almost a continuous blaze of light, owing to the popularity of electric signs.

Now, one of the leading firms, Messrs Elders, Walker, & Co, of Gateshead, responsible for the illuminations are finding it necessary to extend their premises in order to cope with the demand for neon signs. Work is, therefore, now in progress on new premises which will give the firm about 3000 square feet of additional floor space.

CENTRAL EUROPE'S FUTURE.

London, Monday. In a discussion regarding the future of Central Europe, Prince Starhemberg expressed to a 'Daily Telegraph' correspondent, his fear that 'Pan-Germanism' would range Europe into opposing Camps with 'Pan-Slavism' antagonistic to German influence.

The restoration of the Hapsburgs did not belong to the immediate future, he added, for Austria looked only for peace, and tranquillity amongst its neighbours.

If the Monarchy were to be restored in later years, then only a Hapsburg could occupy the Throne.

While ideal was 'United States of Europe', Prince Starhemberg stated that his most serious concern was the weakening of Italy by the Abyssinian War, which might disturb the balance of power, particularly in Central Europe.

A message from Paris reports the continuance of conversations between M. Flandin and the Czechoslovakian Premier, M. Hodga, who later will confer with M. Titelescu, the Roumanian Foreign Minister.

WAR NEWS.

Rome, Monday. The 'Daily Telegraph' correspondent states that today's communique announces that since January 1st, the Italian casualties number 844. Paris. Monday. An animated debate is expected to take place in the Chamber on the subject of the ratification of the Franco-Soviet Trade Pact, which despite bitter hostility in some quarters, is almost certain to be approved.

Meanwhile Polish anxiety over the Pact is diminishing, while the Press express doubts regarding its efficacy.

The Moscow Press is attacking Japan and Germany for provocative policies towards Countries interested in preserving peace, and so adds interest to the French debate.

UNITED STATES' SENATOR ATTACKS JAPAN.

Washington. Monday. Senator Pittman, Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, today made a violent attack upon Japan, alleging that "she intends closing the door in China against the United States, even if it necessitated war to accomplish it."

The Government made every effort to dissuade Senator Pittman from making the speech, says the 'Daily Telegraph' correspondent.

The speech, it is thought, is almost certain to be resented by Japan, and may even lead to Diplomatic exchanges. It is now emphasised in official quarters that the attack is merely an expression of personal opinion, and reflects the Pacific Coast States' hostility towards Japan.

Simultaneously, however, the War Department reported favourably on the largest appropriations in peace-time history.

The estimates provide 375 million dollars for the Land Forces alone; 45½ millions for aeroplanes, while the Sea defences on the West Coast are to be improved at a cost of three million dollars.

The grand total of the Appropriations amount to 543,341,506 dollars.

RANDOM NOTES ON WORM INFESTION IN

Recent experiments under the Australian Research Council show that the increased risk of parasitism, anticipated on theoretical grounds owing to heavier stocking on improved pastures, is frequently more than compensated for by the improved nutrition of the sheep. Nevertheless, it must be recognised that where improved pastures are injudiciously managed or overstocked, risk of grave parasitic infestation may still exist.

.....

Ross, in his paper in the Australian Veterinary Journal, 1933, on the nutritional factors affecting resistance to Haemonchus contortus (Wire worm), writes that although immunity often occurs, lambs may still remain susceptible after a heavy infection. Diet deficiencies had to be severe enough to lower the weight of old sheep before the resistance to the parasites was lost, while in some cases, certain types of resistance were found, which could not be influenced by nutritional factors, these were genetic in origin.

Fraser and Robertson, in the Empire Journal of Agriculture, by experiments have shown that well fed lambs have a higher degree of resistance to infection than poorly fed lambs.

Ortlepp, in Farming in South Africa, points out that the failure to eliminate worm diseases is due to :-

- (i) identify the species involved.
 - (ii) the application of wrong treatment.
 - (iii) postponement of treatment until the sheep are very weak.
 - (iv) over-stocking.

The Journal of the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research of Australia, shows that Research workers after extensive trials, have proved that the sodium arsenate and copper-sulphate administered in licks and drinking water to be valueless in the treatment of certain worm diseases.

NEW STRAIN OF GRASS.

Professor R.G. Stapledon, of Aberystwyth, who lectured at the Agricultural Conference at Oxford last month, announced that the Welsh Plant Breeding Station, had produced, and would distribute in the near future, a new strain of grass which would stand cutting several times a year, and would give prodigious results.

BEST ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUN.

It is reported that Messrs Vickers' Technical staff had designed an anti-aircraft gun, which in competition with the world, had proved its preeminence.

It is understood that it is a land gun, and not the multiple 'pom-pom' which is mounted in some of the biggest units in the Fleet.

Such is the rapidity of its fire that it can lay a barrage of shells in the path of attacking aircraft.

WAR NEWS.

Addis Ababa. Tuesday. According to a 'Daily Telegraph' Correspondent, the bombing of Dessie continues, but the Emperor is still in the town, and assisting in salvage operations. Further bombing raids on Korem, Ahedgi, and Waldia in the Maichio District have resulted in three deaths, and the destruction of several huts.

In a heavy poll, with a total of 4000 above the General election, Mr. MacDonald was within 183 of an absolute majority, while Dr. Thomas forfeited his deposit, a fate which Mr. Churchill escaped by only 167 votes.

EUROPEAN POLITICAL ATTENTION FOCUSSED ON FRANCO-RUSSIAN TRADE PACT.

Paris. Tuesday. European political attention is focussed on the Chamber Debate relative to the Franco-Russian Mutual Assistance Pact, which was opened today, and thereafter adjourned until Wednesday.

The Chamber was packed, and the public galleries filled to overflowing.

It is reported that the Pact is supported by the members of the Government as being in harmony with the Covenant of the League of Nations, and the Treaty of Locarno; its object being the security of France for the sake of Europe.

The former Minister for Finance, M. La Steyrie, moved a resolution that Russia should not be granted credit facilities until a debt question had been settled, but M. Flandin interjected that such problems were extraneous, and could not be allowed when National security was being discussed.

The Berlin Press describes the Pact as an inevitable evil, and directed as a military measure against Germany.

ITALY'S STOCKS OF PETROLEUM.

Geneva. Tuesday. The report of the Technical Committee of Experts will probably reveal Italy's stocks of oils are not as large as were at first anticipated.

The actual stocks are reported to be in the region of 800,000 tons, and are sufficient only for two and a half months instead of six.

It is believed that the report, which will be available on Thursday, will show that the difficulties attending the imposition of Oil Sanctions are not so formidable as originally anticipated.

GERMANY'S FASTEST AEROPLANE.

Germany claims to have the fastest and, relatively, most capacious passenger aeroplane ever constructed. It is a two-engined Heinkel monoplane, He. III, with accommodation for 10 passengers and their luggage, and a maximum speed of approximately 240 miles an hour.

The He. III is designed to supersede the He 70, hitherto the fastest plane in the Luft Hansa service, with a maximum speed of 225 miles an hour, but room for four passengers only.

It is claimed that in normal circumstances the new Heinkel machine will be able to fly over 900 miles without landing, at an average cruising speed of 210 miles an hour. It can climb in 2½ minutes to a height of 3000 feet, and land at 60 miles an hour. Its two motors are 660 h.p. each.

The Dominion of South Africa Rifle Association is arranging to send a Team of fifteen to Bisley this year. This will be the first visit of a South African Team since the triumphant invasion of 1924, when both the Kolojore and Mackinnon trophies went to Capetown.

official communique, however, was issued.

Abyssinian reports indicate that the positions in the Tembien region are being held despite enemy attacks, and that revictualing of Makalle is becoming more difficult. The Southern front is said to be quiet.

WAR NEWS.

Addis Ababa. Wednesday. The 'Daily Telegraph' Correspondent states that during an Italian Air-raid on Waldeba, bombs fell within one hundred and fifty yards of a British Red Cross Station, but unit was not damaged. Two British Red Cross lorries on their way to Korem were subjected to an attack from the air.

It is reported from London that Whitehall has received no official news of the incident, but it was pointed out that the position of the unit has been officially communicated to the proper authorities.

AMERICAN SENATE APPROVES NEUTRALITY BILL.

Washington. Wednesday. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has approved the abridged Neutrality Bill, which extends the present arms embargo to May, 1937. This Bill omits the empowerment of the President to impose peace-time quotas on war material exports, neither does it include any direction to the President to proclaim all trade with belligerents to be at the traders own risk, but he may put an embargo on credits to belligerents.

Mr. Roosevelt's message envisaging a Pan-American Conference is considered to be a plea for a League of American Nations, with a multilateral treaty as an outcome, and by which the Continent could affirm a 'handsoff' policy as provided for in the Monroe doctrine.

THE FRANCO-SOVIET PACT.

Paris. Wednesday. M. Flandin, Foreign Minister, in a speech today stated that if Germany made the Franco-Soviet Pact a pretext for establishing garrisons in the Rhine demilitarised area, the matter will be immediately submitted to the League of Nations. M. Flandin added that France would demand that Germany be found guilty of violating her obligations.

In any case, it was pointed out, the Pact is not automatic, and is only effective after an appeal has been made to the League, while it does not conflict with the Treaty of Locarno.

BANK OF ENGLAND SAFES.

Of the many thousands of pedestrians who daily pass the Bank of England in Threadneedle Street, few realise that sixty feet below the ground there is proceeding the biggest and most expensive building operation ever undertaken in the City of London. More than £20,000,000 is being spent in converting the Bank into the World's safest bullion fort. The work has been proceeding for the past ten years, and nearly five more years will be needed to complete it. These strong rooms will then house the Bank's gold valued at present at more than £150,000,000.

The Bank of England will be the first important building in London with all-welded steel girders. This particular system of framework has been chosen to eliminate deafening noises. No hammer blows are heard during the day; any noisy work is carried out at night. The workmen have all been specially selected, and no night-shift man may leave until the day-shift man arrives.

Besides the officials and guards the General Foreman is the only man who knows the Bank's counter-sign, which is changed every night.

Throughout the night the Bank is guarded by Firemen, watchmen, Detectives, and soldiers; on the roof are armed guards. The main gates of the Bank are controlled by code-locks which open at set times. The vaults which have cost £6,000,000 and are sunk three floors below street level, may be flooded for security against invasion, fire, riot or bombardment. They have reinforced concrete walls, two feet thick, with armour plating surrounding the inner walls and ceilings. They are surrounded by the waters of the subterranean river, the flood gates of which can only be operated by two electrical switch keys, which are entrusted to two men only.

He advances the opinion that the ceaseless stream of reinforcements indicates that Ras Kassa, Ras Seyum, and Ras Simbu, contemplate a further offensive which may carry the Ethiopians to the Eritrean border.

WAR NEWS.

Addis Ababa. Saturday. A report from the Northern Front states that the Italians are unceasingly bombing villages, which are of little or no military value.

The Crown Prince is said to be conferring with the Emperor and will shortly take over the command of the Southern Front.

A message from Ras Desta states that desertions are taking place from the ranks of the Italian Native troops. No fighting is in progress on either front, but the Abyssinian commanders state that the enemy lack dash, and is showing a disinclination for hand to hand fighting.

Addis Ababa. Sunday. A report based on the Dessie communique announces that Makalle is now isolated by the cutting of the Adowa-Makalle Road, and that the disposition of the Abyssinian forces along other roads to the Eastward makes the position most difficult for the Italians. It is claimed that the Italians are provisioning the Makalle garrison by using parachutes.

Troops at Jebaken, South of Aksum, defeated an Italian column, resulting in the capture of guns, and pack animals. A message from Rome states that an attack has been launched from the Eritrean border with the object of breaking through to Makalle, but the Abyssinians are putting up a stern resistance. Marshal Badoglio's reports patrol engagements south of Makalle, and that the Somaliland front remains unchanged.

Blum may result in social outbreaks are still acute, and strong forces of mobile guards fully armed are parading the streets. It is believed that the Royalists will resist by every possible means the enforcement of the decree ordering disbandment.

A film taken by an amateur photographer has been seized by the Police for use as evidence.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT FROWN ON WAR TRADE.

Washington. Saturday. It is stated in authoritative circles that the Government still frowns on the wide-open trade with Italy and Abyssinia, despite the failure to include a ban in the Neutrality Bill, which has now received the approval of the Foreign Affairs Committee.

Nevertheless Rome emphatically refutes the finding of the League of Nations Committee of Experts on Oil on the quantity of Italian stocks, and states that the supplies are sufficient for a much longer period than three months.

SOUTH GEORGIA.

The Compania Argentina de Pesca expect to conduct sealing operations from the 1st to 20th March, after which their Station at Grytviken will close down for the Winter.

The South Georgia Company's Station at Leith Harbour will, it is thought, complete its operations by the 18th March. On Sunday this Company caught nine whales.

The Compania Argentina de Pesca ceased whaling on Saturday. The total catch during the Season amounts to 944 whales, of which 660 were Blue, 261 Fin, 22 Humpbacks, and 1 Sperm. The Whale Catchers 'Marval', 'Morsa', 'Orca', 'Foca', and 'Dom Miles', caught 212, 199, 183, 181 and 169 whales respectively.

Sailings from South Georgia in the near future are as follows :-
For Europe: 'Harpon' and 'Coronda' on or about the 20th March; For Buenos Aires by 'Tijuca' on the 21st March.

The s.s. 'Harpon' arrived at Grytviken at 9.p.m. on Friday bringing two Norwegian lady passengers, and 37 bags of mail, which included letters posted in the Falkland Islands in the latter part of November; they had been sent via Copenhagen.

The floating factory 'Salvestria', with the following Falkland Islanders on board, Messrs J. Jones, R. Courtney, E. Goodwin, R. Hirtle, and W. Watts, was expected to reach Grytviken on Monday afternoon.

It is unofficially reported that 'Salvestria', with eight catchers, will continue whaling operations off the coast of Peru.

WEST FALKLAND NEWS.

Fox Bay, Saturday. "Are you going to the Sports?", that seems to be the question on everyone's lips these days.

Port Howard, where this year the Sports Meeting is being held, presents a scene of feverish activity. Gangs of men are engaged in putting up corrals at the Race Course, and also harvesting one of the heaviest crops of oats seen for many years.

Nineteen horses were sent yesterday from Port Howard to Port Purvis in readiness for the Pebble visitors expected today. It is understood that Mr. Steen is also voyaging to Port Howard in his motor boat.

Last week end there were 16 visitors at the Wireless Station, some en route to Port Howard, and others seeking treatment of the Dental Surgeon.

Mr. Joe Faria, who, it will be remembered fractured a leg last November, is again at work, carting peat.

On the West the weather has for the past ten days been warm and sunny, with little or no rain.

KING CAROL AND EUROPEAN AFFAIRS.

Paris. Sunday. The Roumanian King, Carol, today gave a frank exposition of his views on the affairs of Europe to a 'Daily Telegraph' correspondent.

On the termination of the Official talks, His Majesty declared that collective security by unity with France and Great Britain in making the League of Nations more effective, was the basis of Roumanian policy, for while the Little Entente was not prepared to move alone in the preservation of Austria's independence, they would fight alongside France to this end.

The King expressed the view that if disaster is to be avoided, there must be some measure of economic co-operation among the Central European States, connoting a reduction of the tariff barriers. While the Little Entente could not admit frontier revisions, and the rights of the Hungarian minorities in Roumania being fully respected, it was on an economic basis that an understanding could be reached.

Finally King Carol expressed his satisfaction on the question of the Hapsburg restoration.

The Altar was held by the Pastors forming a bodyguard, but no action was taken by the Police stationed at the Church door.

A large congregation was present, and the text of the sermon was "If God be for us, who can be against us?"

Simultaneously in Munich thousands of people gathered and spontaneously demonstrated their loyalty to Cardinal Fautchaber, who is the most prominent critic of Nazi religious intolerance. It is reported that the Police made no efforts to disperse the crowd.

From the spectators' point of view the weather was fine, but the conditions for shooting were most unfavourable, a strong wind making accurate marksmanship extremely difficult. At 600 yards the wind gauge read 16 degrees.

The match was keenly contested, but the 'Youngsters' won easily, finishing with a lead of 29 points. The highest score was compiled by L.Reive, who registered 94 for the "Young 'Uns", while W. Aldridge took the honours for the 'Veterans' with a score of 91.

THE SPANISH ELECTIONS.

Madrid. Tuesday. Dramatic scenes, which are unparalleled since the declaration of the Spanish Republic five years ago, are recounted by the 'Daily Telegraph' Correspondent as having occurred in Madrid when it became known that the Popular Front had won the General election by a majority of 65 seats.

The general feeling is that the election confirms the Republic and that there is every possibility of a stable Government being formed.

THE TENNESSEE VALLEY CASE.

Washington. Tuesday. It was announced today that the Supreme Court has decided the Tennessee Valley case in favour of the Government by eight votes to one, and ruled that the sale by the Government of surplus power from the Wilson Dam was a Constitutional act.

Experts agree that the judgement means the Government is empowered to proceed with other vast hydro-electric schemes.

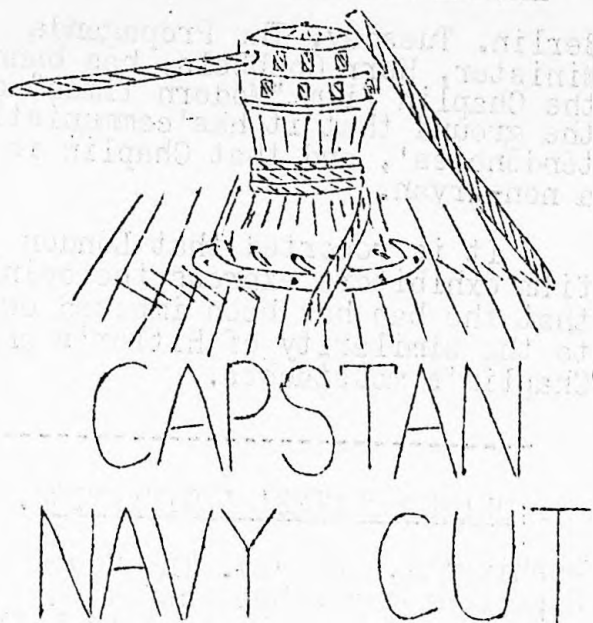

Wall Street speculators, in anticipation of an anti-Roosevelt decision, bought 'electrics' heavily, but are now finding a sharply reversed trend.

The market was overloaded, and it is reported that one and a half million shares changed hands while the decision was being read.

In Addis Ababa the Italian claim to have secured the control of the Tembien region is discounted, but the possibility of heavy losses in the Battle of Makalle is admitted.

THE CORONATION OF KING EDWARD

London. Wednesday. The Prime Minister stated in the House of Commons today that he could not at this stage make any announcement regarding the arrangements for the Coronation of His Majesty King Edward VIII.

THE KING VISITS OLYMPIA.

London. Wednesday. His Majesty the King paid a visit today to the British Industries Fair at Olympia, and stayed for about an hour.

AVIATION ACCIDENTS.

London. Wednesday. Sir Philip Sassoon, Minister for Air, speaking on the two aviation accidents which occurred this morning, said that in the one case the aircraft was engaged in night operations and failed to return to its base.

The Air Ministry was later informed that an Air Force machine, with a crew of four, had alighted on the sea near Le Havre. It was stated that the unit lost its way completely in the darkness, and that its fuel supply was exhausted in an endeavour to find a suitable landing place, and so fell into the sea.

It would appear that the s.o.s. sent out was not received by the W/T Station at Le Havre, but was picked up in England, and transmitted to Le Havre. Arrangements were quickly made for the launching of a lifeboat, but in the meantime, two fishermen, who had noticed lights off the shore, made investigations by rowing out in a leaky canoe, and rescued one of the 'plane's crew, Flying Officer Page, who was taken ashore.

The rescuers, themselves, had a narrow escape as they were forced to swim for their lives when their canoe overturned.

A further report states that no trace, as yet, has been found of the three missing airmen, but it is learned that the French Naval authorities at Cherbourg have been instructed to take charge of the necessary operations for the recovery of the bodies and the 'plane.

The other machine belonged to No. 10 Squadron. At approximately 1 o'clock this morning it struck a hill in Sussex, and resulted in the death of three passengers.

It is reported that the Pilot was only slightly injured, but he has not yet been questioned as to the accident.

The maximum temperature registered in London yesterday was 53, and the minimum 45.

Satisfaction is expressed that the new Director-General brings to his post an intimate knowledge of the Territorial Army.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Tuesday. During the celebrations of the Abyssinian defeat, a demonstration was attempted outside the British Embassy but was checked by the Police.

The British Ambassador, Sir Eric Drummond, called on Signor Mussolini, and gave precise details of the position of the British Red Cross unit operating in Abyssinia.

An official decree issued today appropriates 1500 million lira for extraordinary expenditure in East Africa.

Addis Ababa. Wednesday. It is reported that the Emperor arrived at Dessie today to discuss the serious position which has arisen as the result of the Battle of Enderta.

The heroic resistance of, and the appalling losses sustained by, the Abyssinian Army are accounted for by the fact that the units had sworn an oath to die rather than retreat before the Italians. This oath which was at first taken by the troops, and their individual leaders, was afterwards taken by the aged Commander-in-Chief, Ras Mulugeta.

It is now stated that the Italian Aeroplane, which crashed near Dessie, had five occupants who were killed instantaneously, while a sixth was so badly injured that he died soon after he had been extricated from the debris.

The great rains have already set in, and showers have been falling continuously for the past four days. Addis Ababa is said to have been turned into a morass which effectually prevents the passage of any type of vehicle, or horse-transport.

RIOT IN THE CHAMBER.

Paris Wednesday. The debate on the Franco-Soviet Trade pact was resumed, but a riot developed when M. Herriot said that the Communist Deputies were being paid by Moscow, and the meeting had to be suspended.

On the resumption of business the question of rapprochement with Germany was mentioned, but the premier debate was postponed until Thursday. It is thought that it cannot now be concluded until next week.

It is, however, thought that the transfers will be spread over a period of eight weeks.

THE TENNESSEE VALLEY JUDGEMENT.

New York. Tuesday. It is considered that Wall Street will not immediately interpret with finality the full meaning of the Tennessee Valley Judgement, both in relation to the further development of the area and the future of the Public Utility Concerns.

Today was marked by buoyant trading with all-round rises, and many stocks reached record levels.

The Supreme Court finding still leaves the issue between the Government and the Utility Companies, and has done nothing to check trade and industrial expansion.

"A BONNY WEE ETHIOPIAN BABY"

General Sir Ian Hamilton, ex-Lord Rector of Edinburgh University, recently received from the students the highest tribute they could offer - Honorary Life Membership of the University Union.

During his speech of thanks, he told an interesting story of the British punitive expedition led by Lord Napier, which was sent into Abyssinia in the latter half of last century.

When the British Army advanced on the Magdala Plateau, the only living thing they found was a 'bonny wee Ethiopian baby' just able to crawl.

The baby became the mascot of an Indian Regiment, and was such a credit to his schooling that he was sent for a course of study to Glasgow, and later to register as a student in Edinburgh. The present Minister of the Emperor of Ethiopia in Britain was the hero of this story.

To the Assembly, Sir Ian read a message from His Excellency Dr. Martin, Ethiopian Minister, expressing pride in his possession of an Edinburgh diploma - 'the best in the world' - and sending good wishes to the students.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Wednesday. News is eagerly awaited of a fresh victory. Marshal Badoglio's communique states that the retreating Abyssinians are being bombed southwards, and attempts are being made to entrap Ras Kassa and Ras Sevoum in Tembien, by cutting their line of retreat.

The Italian Press claims the fall of Amba Aradam, which has a political as well as a military significance, being regarded locally as a guarantee of national integrity, and it is thought that in consequence the Emperor's authority will now be quickly undermined.

A message from Capetown states that a contract for the supply of 10,000 tons of meat for delivery to Italian Somaliland, has been concluded with the proviso that shipment shall be effected by Italian freighters.

FRANCE SIDESTEPS NAVAL CONFERENCE.

London. Wednesday. According to the 'Daily Telegraph', France has sidestepped the Naval Conference by referring the British enquiry relative to the tonnage limitation of battle-ships direct to the United States, but it is believed that President Roosevelt will not modify the American view that a 35,000 ton maximum must be maintained.

It is reported from Washington that President Roosevelt's reply to France indicated that all such matters should be addressed to the United States' Ambassador-at-large, Mr. Davis, who is now in Europe.

WEST FALKLAND NEWS.

The Sheep-dog trials at the West Sports meeting were completed on Wednesday, and were witnessed by a large number of visitors.

Of the fourteen dogs entered, a large percentage represented the progeny of Welsh importations.

Competition was very keen, but when the three Judges, Messrs H.C. Harding, S. Miller and W. Llamasa, had compared notes, the honour of first place was awarded to "Glen", worked by Mr. C. Robertson. This dog, therefore, won for its master, the Silver Cup presented by Mr. J. Robertson, with 98 points out of a possible 120. "Tramp", owned by Mr. C. Butler, and "Queenie" by Mr. G. Hall, took second and third places respectively, with 96 and 95 points.

The course was laid out on one of the Port Howard grass patches, and spectators had an uninterrupted view of the whole proceedings. Some rain fell, but not sufficient to cause any inconvenience.

As is only natural in Sheep-dog Trials, a certain amount depends on the good nature of the sheep. Five sheep can be very obstinate when it comes to putting them into a pen about six feet long and four feet wide, erected in an open field, and neither the second nor third prize winner succeeded in penning their sheep. One or two non-winners, however, managed to effect this, but lost too many points for run out, lifting, fetching, driving and style.

Great interest was shown in the Trials, and there is but little doubt that they have come to stay as a prominent feature of the West Sports.

RANDOM NOTES ON WORM INFECTIONS IN SHEEP.

No. 2. During recent years the question of the relationship between the mortality and the incidence of worm infections amongst lambs has given considerable cause for thought, not only amongst the Agricultural Research workers but also amongst farmers themselves. Advances in Helminthology have gone hand in hand with pastoral investigations, and recent results of the two must be closely allied and put into practice when it is desired to produce sound stock.

Belscher, in the Agricultural Gazette of New South Wales, 1934, describes an experiment wherein 180 wethers were fed on poor Lucerne and stubble, 40 died within three weeks as a result of internal parasites.

Supplementary feeding at the rate of 1 lb of chaff and three ounces of oats per head per day, with a small amount of cod liver oil, had a very pronounced effect on the health of the lambs and no subsequent deaths were noted.

Ross, in the Journal of the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, Australia, 1934, stated that in an enquiry into the factors preventing the satisfactory rearing of young Merino sheep, he came to the conclusion that the degree of worm infestation is of less importance than malnutrition. He quotes in support of his views that the evidence of malnutrition is shewn by the way the sheep eat bones and carrion.

Therefore, the policy recommended is to maintain the nutrition of lambs rather than to rely on drenching treatment when disease is obvious and losses have occurred.

J. Stewart, in the Report (3rd) of the Director of the Institute of Animal Pathology, points out that heavy infestation with Nematodes (Round worms) seriously affects the digestion and absorption of the crude protein in food. This is followed by injury to the stomach wall, prevention of secretion of digestive juices, the absorption by the parasites of the secreted juices, or the excretion by the parasites of a substance which neutralises the gastric juices; the poor condition of the lambs heavily infected with worms thus being accounted for.

Shearer and Stewart in the same report shew that the presence of large numbers of Nematodes, chiefly Haemonchus Contortus in the intestine of lambs affects the utilisation of Calcium and Phosphorus, the essential salts in bone formation, with the direct result of stunted growth.

AEROPLANES FOR ETHIOPIA.

Four small United Kingdom aeroplanes are to serve as a sort of communication flight attached to the Imperial Staff in Ethiopia. The order for these machines has been placed with the Percival Co, and is the outcome of the use of a machine of the same type by Press Photographers in Ethiopia. The Emperor's attention was taken by this machine, he had enquiries made and the result is an order for four similar models. The type is the Percival Gull, a three-seater low-wing cabin monoplane, fitted with a Gypsy Six (200 h.p.) engine. Its top speed is 170 miles an hour, and it cruises at about 150 miles an hour, carrying sufficient fuel for 640 miles at that speed. A machine of the same type was used lately by Miss Jean Batten for her fast solo flight across the South Atlantic, although in that case the passenger space was occupied by extra petrol tanks.

The Gulls for the Ethiopian Government will be standard in all respects, and since they will carry no arms will rank as civil aircraft.

It is intended to use them for carrying messages and for the transport of members of the Imperial staff.

WAR NEWS.

Addis Ababa. Thursday. It is unofficially reported that fighting has been resumed on the Northern Front, where Ras Kassa, and Ras Seyoum, are opposing Black-shirts in the Tembien Region.

The Italians are said to be using heavy mountain artillery, but this is ineffective on rock shelters. The Abyssinians are retaliating by silent bayonet attacks at night. The new Abyssinian positions are considered to be favourable for the intensification of native tactics.

THE SPANISH PREMIER BROADCASTS TO THE NATION.

Madrid. Thursday. The Socialist Premier, Snr Agana, in a Nation-wide broadcast tonight gave assurances that the Government would work for the prosperity of the Country. One of its aims would be the reforming, and reorganising of the forces of law and order.

Promotion in the Forces will be by selection, and not by seniority as hitherto.

Amnesties are being granted to 30,000 prisoners who were implicated in the 1934 Revolution, but it is pointed out that no persecution of opposing politicians will be countenanced.

A SEQUEL TO THE MONGOLIAN BORDER INCIDENTS.

Moscow. Thursday. Following up a suggestion originating in Tokio, the Press, officially and otherwise express the view that no objection can be properly raised to the proposed visit of M. Litvinoff to Japan with a view to discussing the Mongolian Border incidents.

Such a course, it is thought, will be regarded as a victory for the Japanese Peace Party, but the Pessimistic school considers these overtures to be merely pugilistic handshakes before the opening of the fight.

WORKERS ACCEPT WAGE PROPOSALS.

Liverpool. Thursday. The Shipyards Trades Unions have accepted the Employers' Federation offer of an increased wage of 2/- per day as against one of 2d per hour put forward by the men.

EXTRACTS FROM BRITISH CONFIDENTIAL DOCUMENT PUBLISHED IN ITALIAN NEWSPAPER.

London. Friday. A statement will be made in Parliament on Monday regarding the publication in an Italian newspaper of extracts from a British Confidential document, which is said to be the report of an Inter-Departmental Committee under the chairmanship of Sir John Maffey.

The Committee was set up by the Government early last year to investigate if, and to what extent, British interests would be affected if an Italian invasion of Abyssinia, which was then threatened, resulted in Italian control of that country.

The published extracts state that the Committee found that British interests would, in fact, be unaffected in such circumstances.

Foreign newspaper comments indicate that the same view is taken as that of the British Press, namely, that the published extracts cannot be regarded as a cause of embarrassment to the British Government.

Typical of the comments of the foreign press is that of a Parisian newspaper, which states that "Rome has brilliantly demonstrated that the attitude of Britain in reference to the Italo-Abyssinian dispute has been completely disinterested."

Milk is the most perfect food that exists; but it would not be sufficient for a child or adult; even for babies it is necessary, after the first few months, to add a little fresh fruit juice to a milk diet. This is because milk does not contain a sufficient quantity of one of the six protective ingredients. To maintain good health in babies this ingredient is added in the form of orange or tomato juice, or the strained juice of raw swedes.

A purely milk diet would also be very bad for a child or adult, because it would not make him use his teeth, which are given to us to bite with. We all know how babies snatch things to chew them, that is a very healthy and natural instinct. We all need to bite and chew our food, not only in order to digest it more easily and completely but also to keep our teeth and gums in good condition. So to help our digestions and general health, every day, when we are well, we should eat some foods which need biting and chewing and not only soft foods which can almost be swallowed whole.

Besides extra fruit juice, a child or adult would need some iron to prevent the anaemia which would result from a purely milk diet. Babies do not need extra iron in addition to their milk as they are born with a reserve stock, taken from their mothers' blood, but children and adults, especially mothers, would need iron to supplement a purely milk diet.

Our bodies need many mineral salts, which are usually found in minute, but sufficient quantities in an ordinary mixed diet. The chief mineral salts which may be lacking in an ordinary mixed diet are calcium, phosphorus, iron, and iodides. Milk and milk products are one of the chief sources of calcium, or lime, which is so necessary for the building up of the bones and teeth. That is why milk is so essential for babies and growing children. Unfortunately, lime is almost lacking in the soil of the Falkland Islands, and so the supply in drinking water is lacking too. So we should take as much milk, butter and cheese, as possible to make up this deficiency.

SOUTH GEORGIA NEWS.

Grytviken. Friday. Five hours of sunshine were recorded today.

It is not expected that Leith Harbour will be represented at the Annual Sports Meeting which is to be held on Sunday at Grytviken. The only British competitor is Stanley Atkins, who is well-known in sporting circles in Stanley, and who has successfully competed in former South Georgia sports events.

It is reported that s.s. 'Sourabaya' expects to finish her operations on Tuesday next.

A message dated Saturday, the 22nd February, states that the floating factory 'Salvestria' is due to leave the Dependency on Sunday night or early Monday morning for Peruvian waters via the Magellan Straits. She will be accompanied by eight whale catchers.

Leith Harbour reports that owing to the stormy weather, which prevailed throughout the day, the 'catch' was nil.

COMMITTEE OF EIGHTEEN TO MEET EARLIER THAN WAS ANTICIPATED.

Geneva. Saturday. The Committee of Eighteen is to meet a week earlier in March than was anticipated, in order to consider the question of an oil embargo, but the prospect of one being adopted is considered doubtful, as such a measure, without American co-operation would merely make oil more expensive to Italy. Under the provisions of the United States Neutrality Bill, oil exports from that country are uncontrolled.

GERMANY AND FRANCO-SOVIET PACT.

Paris. Saturday. Germany's denunciation of the projected Franco-Soviet Pact is causing some concern on the ground that Germany will make the pact a pretext for militarising the Rhineland zone.

In official quarters in Berlin, it is considered unlikely that Germany will take any hasty action, and ratification of the Pact will call forth nothing more than a vigorous protest from the Press.

WINTERY CONDITIONS IN ENGLAND.

London. Saturday. The maximum temperature registered in London on Saturday was 45, while the minimum was 28.

Heavy falls of snow are reported in many parts of the Country, particularly in the Midlands, Wales, and Devonshire.

THE CO-ORDINATION OF THE FIGHTING SERVICES.

London. Saturday. It was announced today that the Cabinet had given special consideration to the question of the proposed co-ordination of the three Fighting Services, and although the proposal that a Ministry of Defence should be established to control all three has been turned down, it is understood that a new Minister will be appointed, in whose hands the responsibility of co-ordinating the Army, Navy, and Air Force expenditure will lie. As no new Department will be created, the Minister will work through the Committee of Imperial Defence.

PROJECTED AMERICAN NAVAL PROGRAMME.

Washington. Saturday. Today, Senator Trammell submitted a Bill envisaging a thirty million dollar programme for the construction of a Naval Station, which will include aerodromes, munition depots, and hospitals.

MR. NORMAN DAVIS CONVEYS PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO FRENCH DELEGATES.

London. Saturday. It is reported that Mr. Norman Davis, the American Ambassador-at-large, conveyed to the French delegates to the Naval Conference the American decision to standby the demand for 35,000 ton battleships.

FEARED ICE-BLOCKADE OF SWEDEN.

Stockholm. Saturday. A complete ice-blockade of the Swedish coast is feared if the present cold weather continues. The temperature in Stockholm today is 10 degrees below zero, while that of Northern Sweden is 28 below.

FLOODS DRIVE 12,000 PEOPLE FROM THEIR HOMES.

Seville. Saturday. Twelve thousand people have been driven from their homes by the flooding of the river Guadalquivir, which is 35 feet above normal.

From Lisbon it is reported that the Tagus has flooded some of the richest agricultural centres, and houses have been swept away. Women and children are marooned in tree-tops, and Government tugs are patrolling the streets of the town effecting rescues, and carrying food to the refugees.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Saturday. It is announced that Marshal Badoglio claims to have occupied the Buie Plain without opposition, thus completing the occupation of 775 square miles of territory since February 10th.

An Addis Ababa messages relates belatedly to the Battle of Inderta. According to War Minister Mulugesta, the Italian attack was launched when a pre-arranged withdrawal of Abyssinian troops was taking place. Smart skirmishes occurred in which the Emperor's forces lost 147 killed and 268 wounded, while the enemy losses were much heavier. Further desertions of Eritrean troops are said to number 1500. Italian air forces are said to be making a concentrated attack on Magalo.

KING EDWARD'S CORONATION.

London. Saturday. The 'Daily Telegraph' announced today that it is understood that the Coronation of King Edward VIII will take place about the middle of May.

VICTORY FOR AMERICAN NEW DEAL IN ELECTRIC POWER POLICY.

Washington. Saturday. An important victory for the new deal electric power policy was effected by a decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals, which at Charlotte, North Carolina, denied the Duke Power Company an injunction to prevent the construction of a three million dollar plant, subsidised by Government funds.

The Court also declined to determine the constitutionality of an entirely Public Utilities Holding Act.

PUBLICATION OF EXTRACTS FROM BRITISH CONFIDENTIAL DOCUMENT.

London. Saturday. The question of the publication in an Italian journal of extracts from a British confidential inter-departmental report will be brought up in the House of Commons on Monday either by means of private notices, or in general debate.

If the Commons desire, it is probable that the Government will agree to make public the whole report, which is of considerable length, and of which only selective extracts appeared in the Italian press. While it is not known how the British Government paper of a confidential nature came into the hands of the Italians, the greatest mystery is why the Italians should have thought its publication profitable or in any way damaging to arguments advanced by Britain in support of the lines she had adopted throughout the Italo-Abyssinian dispute. A Committee of experts which issued the report had been engaged during the early months of last year in dispassionate examination of British interests in Abyssinia: Its report specifically makes clear that it excludes from its consideration all political and moral aspects that would become involved by the aggressive action by Italy - such as a breach by Italy of her pledges under the League Covenant, the Kellogg Pact, Tripartite agreement of 1906, etc. etc. Its main finding is that Britain's material interests in Abyssinia are in fact limited to Lake Thana and the waters of the Nile which irrigate the Sudan and Egypt, and grazing rights of the protected tribes of British Somaliland.

This finding corroborates the statements made frequently by British Statesmen to the effect that Britain's attitude throughout the present dispute, contrary to Italian allegations, has been actuated by no material or imperialistic interests, but solely by fidelity to the League pledges and principles. The 'Times' says "this paper which has been improperly purloined from British Archives is an unimpassioned study of conditions and contingencies. Italian propaganda which has hitherto defeated justice of its course with apocryphal dum-dum bullets, equally apocryphal activities of the British Military Attache in Abyssinia, and British decorations, if any, worn by Ras Mulugesta will certainly have a task to twist its story to advantage."

The 'News Chronicle' says "Italian Press oddly enough entirely ignores the fact that the document disproves conclusively, assertions that real motives of the British Government's opposition to Italy's war of aggression were fears for its own Imperialistic interests. In this report the British Government was assured by its own experts that there was no ground for any such fears. If Italy has no more damaging criticism to make of the policy of this Country than the evidence of this Secret report, she must be hard put to."

A similar line is taken in all other Press comments.

THE BRITISH FINANCIAL YEAR.

London. Saturday. Newspapers are beginning to speculate on the outcome of the financial year, which has only six weeks to run. Despite supplementary estimates amounting to over twenty million pounds, it is generally believed a budget surplus of several millions is assured.

SOUTH GEORGIA NEWS.

Grytviken. Sunday. The annual Sports Meeting was held at Grytviken today, but much interest was lost owing to the absence, through pressure of work, of representatives of the whaling community at Leith Harbour.

The event was favoured with comparatively good weather during the morning, but during the afternoon drizzling rain set in and continued throughout the proceedings.

Stanley Atkins performed very creditably, indeed, in the four events for which he had entered. He secured 1st place in both the 100 metres and the Long Jump, whilst he obtained 3rd place in the Discus competition.

FALKLAND ISLANDS DEFENCE FORCE.

Under the supervision of the Adjutant, Capt. W.M. Allan, the under-mentioned members of the Vickers Gun Section fired their annual machine gun course during the week end:-
 Second Lieut. L.W. Aldridge, Machine Gun Officer, Privates W.T. Aldridge,

B.N. Biggs, A. Etheridge, C. Henrickson, W.J. Halliday, H. Sedgwick, G. Pallini, J. Pettersen, G. Pearson, J. Smith, and R.L. Robson.

On Saturday night, firing was carried out with the aid of 'tracer' bullets. Sunday forenoon was devoted to ranging and traversing. Old iron drums, which were anchored in Stanley Harbour, were used as aiming marks, and were sunk by gun fire at the end of the practice. (Contributed.)

WEST FALKLAND NEWS.

The West Falkland Sports are now over, and the visitors (estimated to have been over 150) are on their way home.

The temporary wireless station erected at Port Howard proved unequal to the strain put upon it, and after Friday it was not possible to transmit news to Stanley.

The weather during the week was not very kind, and the inopportune arrival of the 'Lafonia' interfered somewhat with the Foot and Gymkhana events. However, the three-day programme of races was successfully carried out, and every event was keenly contested.

Over 2000 sweepstake tickets were sold during the Meeting, while £190 passed through the Totalisator.

At the Dance held on Friday night, Miss Henniker-Heaton presented the Governor's Cups for the 1935 as well as the present Sports Meeting, while the remainder of the prizes was presented by Mrs. R.C. Pole Evans.

At the conclusion of the prize-giving hearty cheers were given for Mr & Mrs Pole Evans, and all the people of Port Howard, whose hospitality and hard work had made possible such an enjoyable week.

A full list of the winning horses, owners and jockeys will appear in our issue of tomorrow.

SPECULATIVE TRADING ON NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York. Sunday. The persistently high volume of speculative trading on the Stock Exchange is causing serious concern to the Securities and Exchange Commission, states the 'Financial Times' correspondent. An increase of margin requirements is expected to control speculation, but much of the present buying is on the cash basis, and is steadily absorbing the floating supply of stocks, and is making a 'One way market'.

Daily trading exceeding four million shares during two days of last week suggests the activities of professional traders.

MILK-WOOL EXPERIMENTS.

Leeds. Saturday. Milk-wool, with which Italy is replacing wool under the Sanctions restrictions, has been examined by the Research Association which reports that it is unlikely that it can form compact and warm clothing, as it loses its original properties when washed repeatedly. It stretches to double its original length and breaks under a quarter of the load of real wool.

FOUR POWER NAVAL CONFERENCE.

London. Sunday. The Four Power Naval Conference has agreed to limit cruisers to 8000 tons - a reduction of 2000 tons - and to restrict them to six-inch guns.

New York, Sunday. In an address to the National Conference of Jews and Christians, the President, Mr. Roosevelt, pleaded for an extension of 'the good neighbour idea, which we are trying to practise in International affairs' to relations between communities.

Such Associations as the one he was addressing helped considerably to reach across the lines of creed and economic status.

SPANISH PREMIER OUTLINES GOVT'S POLICY.

Madrid, Sunday. The new Premier, Snr Agana, interviewed by a 'Daily Telegraph' correspondent today stated that the Country was rapidly returning to normal, and the state of alarm would very shortly be withdrawn.

He claimed the whole-hearted support of the people in the proposed campaign for reform and advancement.

There would be no persecution of Parties, nor anybody, neither Roman Catholic, Protestant, nor Moslem.

He declared the restoration of the monarchy as impossible.

Spain, he said, was determined to co-operate in the endeavour for world peace through the League of Nations.

Carnival reigned supreme throughout Spain today. Singing crowds of fancy dressed people thronged the streets of Madrid, and every body was en fete.

A message from St Jeanne de Luz states that a steady stream of cars carrying refugee Spanish aristocrats continue to pass the French frontier.

The cars are literally turned inside out to prevent individuals taking over 5000 pesetas from Spain.

OBITUARY.

It is with deep regret that we have to record the death of Mr. Donald Pitaluga, who passed away yesterday morning at Belmont House.

Mr. Pitaluga had been in Stanley for some months, and although his demise was not entirely unexpected, it came, nevertheless, as a great shock to his many friends.

The eldest son of the late Mr. A.M. Pitaluga, of Salvador, Mr. Pitaluga spent his life in the Colony. His gentle nature, sympathetic manner, and unassuming charitableness, won for him the respect and esteem of all with whom he came in contact.

We desire to add to the many expressions of sorrow which have been extended to Mrs Pitaluga, and the relatives, in the irreparable loss they have sustained.

London. Monday. Thick fog prevailed throughout the day. The maximum temperature recorded was 45 degrees, while the minimum was 31.

Rome. Monday. Marshal Badoglio's communique hints renewed activity on the Somaliland front, while it is understood that the attack on Amba is unlikely to be launched immediately as difficulties with transport are being experienced. Dublin. Monday. In an interview today Mr. Devalera said ' The Irish people desired to live on friendly terms with Britain, both countries having common interests, but there must be a clear recognition of the fact that Ireland had a right to whatever form of government she wanted. THE FIRST PRIVATE CAR TO MAKE THE JOURNEY FROM STANLEY TO CAPE
PEMERONG LIGHTHOUSE.

Formerly, one had the choice of three methods of reaching Cape Pembroke Lighthouse - by walking, on horseback, or by sea. On Sunday last yet another vista was opened up when Mr. Gordon Roberts, accompanied by two passengers, navigated (this is, perhaps, the most appropriate word) his Singer 8 from Stanley to the Light.

The most difficult part of the journey was encountered near the Lighthouse, where the sand accumulations between the grass-bogs made very heavy going.

The route followed was by way of the new road to Big Rookery Bay, and thence across the 'Camp', as shewn on the rough sketch map here reproduced.

The journey was accomplished without mishap, and took approximately 75 minutes running in both directions; the petrol consumption was $\frac{1}{4}$ of a gallon only.

Motorists, however, should take warning that the latter part of the route should be regarded more in the light of an accomplishment rather than a pleasant pastime.

Mr. Roberts is to be congratulated on being the driver of the first private car to reach the Lighthouse.

THE ROYAL AIR FORCE.
FLIGHTS TOTAL 50,000,000 MILES IN 1935.

London. An untrumpeted achievement of the British Air Force is revealed in the accidents figures for the year 1935. Deaths in 25 fatal accidents amounted to 43, which includes 9 killed in one accident. This figure is higher than that for 1934, but against this must be set the increase of ten squadrons in the strength of the Service. It is estimated that in round figures the R.A.F. must have flown some fifty million miles during the year 1935.

No foreign air force rivals this British achievement; over the two year period 1934-1935, the R.A.F. flew some 94 million miles with only 74 fatalities, though military flying necessarily involves risks, and British 'planes are frequently on active service in the North West Frontier Provinces of India, where the Air Force holds police control.

General Watanabe, Director-General of Military Education, was severely wounded, and has since died. Attacks were made on other officials but no details have been received concerning them.

The Bank of Japan has suspended business.

It is stated that over three thousand troops revolted, and that the Imperial Guard consisting of 12,000 picked men, was called out to restore order. Martial law has been proclaimed, and General Kashi, Commanding Officer of the Tokio garrison, has been appointed Military Governor of the City.

The latest telegram from His Majesty's Ambassador states that all is quiet in the City.

THE BRITISH ESTIMATES.

THE TOKIO REBELLION.

London. Wednesday. Following the attempted coup d'etat by 3000 mutineers of the 3rd Infantry Regiment, led by Captains Nonoka and Ando, and the assassination of Admiral Okada, the Premier, Viscount Saito, the ex-Premier, and several other leading Statesmen, martial law was proclaimed by the Emperor, who appointed General Kashi as Military Governor of the City.

The Imperial Guards numbering 12,000 remain loyal, but they were unable to dislodge the rebels, who seized the Cabinet Office, War Office, Home Office, Ministry of Justice, Police Headquarters, and the Telephone Exchange.

The First Fleet will arrive in Tokio Bay on Thursday, to reinforce the land troops, while a second fleet has been despatched to Osaka which however, remains quiet.

The number of deaths, up to midnight, was eighty. So far, foreigners have not been molested.

A favourable atmosphere prevailed on both sides, he said, and advantage should be taken of it.

RANDOM NOTES ON WORM DISEASESIN SHEEP.No. 3.

Ross and Gordon in the Australian Veterinary Journal (1935) state that they found that the starvation of sheep for 24 hours prior to their treatment with sodium arsenite and trachlorethylene had no effect on the efficiency of these drugs against HAEMONCHUS CONTORTUS. With a few exceptions, poor results were obtained from these drugs throughout the experiment and it is suggested that their failure to enter the abomasum direct might account for this.

In the same journal, Gordon writes that sodium arsenite gave variable and low average efficiency when used alone against Maemonchus Contortus in sheep but gave excellent results when mixed with copper sulphate. Good results were also obtained from the use of carbon tetrachloride in one or two millilitre doses.

A few notes on the life history of the Haemonchus Contortus might be of interest. This worm known by the more simple name of Stomach or Wireworm is a round worm, one of the commonest and most important variety infesting sheep. The male worm, red in colour measures 10-20 mm in length, the female is red and white striated like a barbers pole, and measures 18-30 mm in length. In 24-48 hours the eggs hatch out into the pre-infective larvae stage and remain in this stage for 5-8 days depending on the moisture and temperature of the ground, the temperature most favourable to their development being 72°F - 95°F at this stage they are only slightly resistant to freezing and drying and sunlight is lethal. The larvae now passes into the infective stage and gradually grow to maturity in two to three weeks. Overcast dull days stimulate the larvae to migration, they migrate from the soil up the blades of grass, this migration is especially marked during the early morning when the dew is on the grass and daylight is breaking. The larvae are able to resist freezing, even freezing and thawing for a considerable time but are adversely affected by dry heat and the heat of fermentation in excreta; sunlight is deadly. Generally the larvae do not live more than three months, being killed by the dry season, however in a cool climate where sufficient moisture is present and available in the soil, they may survive for nearly a year. Thus it is seen that the length of life of a larva in the pastures depends upon moisture, shade and relatively low temperature. The larvae enter the body by ingestion into the abomasum or Fourth stomach with the green food and do not penetrate the skin.

MORE NEWS FROM TOKIO.

Friday. The situation in Tokio is still obscure, but the Japanese Embassy in London states they have received no news of fighting there to-day. The Embassy's latest information is that all is quiet.

News from other sources indicates that up to a late hour to-day the insurgent officers and men were still in occupation of the buildings which they had seized. Every endeavour, it is stated, is being made to avoid fighting. Efforts are still being made to reach a peaceful solution.

A later message states that cinemas and theatres are re-opening, and that troops who were guarding the public buildings have been withdrawn. A decree has been passed forbidding all public meetings, and also the sale of arms and ammunition. All newspapers and other publications are strictly controlled.

London. Thursday. The Royal Masonic Benevolent institution festival to-night resulted in the collection of £59,676.

NAVAL CONFERENCE.

The difficulties of procedure which have been raised by the Italian Delegation to the Naval Conference and as the result of which, as well as of certain technical difficulties, they are not at present ready to sign a Naval Agreement, are understood by newspapers to refer mainly to the Italian objection to the actual signature while the present political situation in Europe persists.

"MAJESTIC" AND "QUEEN MARY".

The Cunard White Star Liner "Majestic", 56,000 tons, which is at present Great Britain's largest liner afloat, completed her last scheduled trans-atlantic crossing yesterday. The "Majestic's" place in the Company's service is to be taken by the new liner Queen Mary. The Majestic, during her career, has made two hundred and seven atlantic round trips and has covered one million and a quarter miles.

NIGHT SITTING IN HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The House of Commons sat right through Thursday night and continued until mid-day on Friday endeavouring to pass the supplementary estimates which the opposition benches would not agree to. Four women members were among those present.

LATER WAR NEWS.

Marshal Badoglio's has now telegraphed that the Italians have captured Amba Alaji, the second mountain ridge on the northern front. The report adds that the Abyssinians did not offer any serious resistance.

THE TOKIO REBELLION.

Tokio. Thursday. The Daily Telegraph correspondent states that while certain confusion still prevails in the Capital, it is believed that the provisional Government, with the army's support, will soon regain complete control, and military dictatorship is unlikely. The rebels had not surrendered at a late hour but discussion proceeded throughout the day regarding the submission of terms, and a compromise was reached whereby the officers will be given the opportunity to stand trial, while the men will be allowed to return to their regiment. These suggestions were the outcome of the rebel leaders' conference with the Supreme War Council. Discussions are proceeding for the formation of a new Government. The British Royal Air Force goodwill flight has been abandoned at Shanghai in view of the unsettled situation in Japan.

FRANCO-SOVIET PACT.

Paris. Thursday. After an interval to allow tempers to cool, the Chamber approved the ratification of the Franco-Soviet Pact by 353/164 votes. During the debate allegations of Moscow's monetary influence on Socialists created a storm while the former Air Minister Cot pointed out that the Soviet air-force was the strongest in the world. It is probable that the Senate will ratify the Pact before the general election, but proceedings are likely to be delayed.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Thursday. The war communique reports increased air activity on the Eritrean and Somaliland fronts and also minor tribal submissions, but anxiety exists relative to the continued postponement of Marshal Badoglio's attack on Amba Alaji, while it is understood that the Abyssinian anti-aircraft equipment is proving largely successful. Addis Ababa sources report a victory on the northern front where Imru attacked Italian fort Ankatato and a retreating column of 5,000 under Killamanti were destroyed by Ras Ayula.

ABOLITION OF TITHERENT CHARGE.

London. Thursday. According to the Daily Telegraph, the Government intends introducing immediate legislation for the abolition of the tithereut charge based on Royal Commissions proposals. The scheme involves the issue of new Government stock of £70 million at 3 per-cent for the compulsory purchase of tithereut charges from the existing owners and the extinguishment of the payers' liabilities by equal annuities over 60 years.

London. The Home Secretary, Sir John Simon, is considering the question of football pools and will make a statement when the relative private members' bill is debated on Tuesday next. The Government itself does not intend introducing legislation.

EUSTON-ABERDEEN EXPRESS EXPLOSION.

Perth. An explosion in the cabin of the Euston-Aberdeen express near Gleneagles, resulted in severe injuries to the driver and fireman, the latter gallantly stopping the train. Both men are at present in Hospital in a critical condition.

Paris. The former National Economy Under Secretary, Patenotre, who is also a millionaire newspaper proprietor, proposes pegging the franc to the pound in preference to the dollar, and in a booklet issued on Thursday compares the British balanced budget and the unbalanced budget of the United States.

He goes on to say that Britain does not indulge in dangerous experiments or worn-out methods; Britain is the point around which the Globe gravitates, standing out as a rock in time and space.

London. It is stated that the Foreign Office will not dispute the ownership of Howland, Jarvis and Baker Islands in the Pacific which the United States has claimed by colonisation process for the establishment of air route bases.

HIS MAJESTY'S SPEECH.

Although conditions were not of the best at 1 p.m. Stanley time, yesterday, His Majesty's voice was at times heard distinctly and clearly speaking to his subjects throughout the British Empire. Later recordings however, were perfect.

His Majesty's speech was delivered in the following terms :-

"It has been an ancient tradition of British monarchy that the new Sovereign should send a written message to his people. Science has made it possible for me to make that written message more personal, and to speak to you all, over the radio.

This, however, is no innovation, for my Father has for the last few years spoken to his people at Christmas time.

Little more than two months ago he broadcast his last Christmas message, and to many of you the sound of his voice must still seem to be ringing in your ears.

He was speaking then at the close of a long and wonderful reign which covered a period of twenty-five years, during which unprecedented changes have taken place and great anxieties and problems have been shared by all. Throughout his reign he set a high example of constant devotion to duty and he was ever concerned for the welfare of his subjects and of all those under his protection.

In times of adversity his calm confidence was inspiration to all his people, and he shared in their joys as well as in their sorrows.

I know how in the Dominions, in India, in the Colonies and Dependencies the bond of loyalty to the Crown - that symbol of unity of many lands and populations - has been strengthened by the tie of personal devotion to my Father.

I feel that his death is not only over-whelming grief to my Mother and to us, his children, but that it is at the same time a personal loss to you all.

To the Princes and peoples of India, I send my greetings as King-Emperor.

Manifestations of your sorrow and of your loyalty at this time have been a source of deep gratification to me.

Associations in peace and in war between British and Indian peoples have been long and honourable, and the example set by Queen Victoria, King Edward the VII and King George the V, lays on me as their successor, solemn trust to maintain and strengthen these associations.

Queen Mary, my family and myself, have been greatly helped by world-wide tributes of genuine sorrow which we have received from every side.

Vast crowds assembled reverently at the funeral homage to the late King's memory, and written words of sympathy by thousands of people, not only those resident within the British Empire, but in many foreign countries as well, is a thing we will never forget.

It is wonderful for us to know how universally my Father's great qualities have been appreciated and valued. It is no mere form of speech to say that he reigned in the hearts of his people.

And it was his happiness to know before he died that his long years of unstinted service were rewarded by a devotion and an affection so perfectly expressed in the Jubilee demonstrations of last year.

It falls upon me to succeed him and to carry on his work.

I am better known to most of you as the Prince of Wales, as the man who, during the war and since, has had an opportunity of getting to know people of nearly every country of the world under all conditions and circumstances. And although I now speak to you as the King, I am still that same man who has had that experience and who's constant effort it will be to continue to promote the well-being of his fellow men.

May the future bring peace and understanding throughout the world, prosperity and happiness to British people and may we be worthy of the heritage which is ours".

BRITAIN'S DEFENCE SERVICES.

The expansion of her defence services was warmly approved by Sir Austen Chamberlain in a speech at Birmingham on Friday last.

He emphasised that Great Britain had no warlike intentions or warlike ambitions to gratify.

Britain had disarmed in the hope that the example set by one great nation might be followed by other nations, but that that hope had been disappointed. The air-arm had presented Great Britain with a new problem and had obliged her to examine afresh the object for which the three fighting services were maintained.

He had never been alarmed, but in face of the fact that the world was re-arming, it was not safe for Britain to neglect her defences any longer. Furthermore it was not right, for, as a member of a collective system, Britain had undertaken obligations on behalf of common security to other nations.

He concluded that he could not advocate the support of the League of Nations or the fulfilment of obligations to it unless Britain put its defensive forces into proper state.

WEST FALKLAND NEWS.

The gales which blew on Monday and Tuesday of last week were accompanied by abnormally high tides at Fox Bay, and on Wednesday it was even higher than on the preceding days, coming well up on to the grass where the beach bank was low. The heavy rain on Saturday was very welcome, particularly at Fox Bay, where the water supply becomes a serious problem in dry weather.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Saturday. Marshal Badoglio's communique claims that the Italian flag has been planted on the heights of Amba Alaji, thus extending the Italian advance a further 40 miles. It appears, however, that the Abyssinians offered no resistance to the advance. An Addis Ababa message from the Daily Telegraph correspondent states that he has been informed by the Emperor that the Italian penetration is causing him no concern, since no important military positions are occupied, and further that the extension of the invaders' lines of communication offers greater opportunity for guerilla tactics.

Rome. Sunday. In a telegram yesterday the Commander-in-Chief of the Italian East African forces stated that he had completely annihilated the army under the command of Ras Kassa which he trapped in the Tembien region. The report adds that the battle which commenced on February the 28th was ended and would show as another great victory for Italy. Great quantities of ammunition and other war material, together with a great number of animals have been taken over by the Italians.

FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION'S ATTEMPTED

DEFEAT OF FOOTBALL POOLS.

Last week was stated to be the most remarkable in the history of league football, when the Football Association's decision to alter the arrangement of forthcoming matches even overshadowed the four great matches of last Saturday, those of the 6th round of the F.A. Cup.

The F.A., in an endeavour to defeat the football pools, decided to cancel the existing leagues fixture list and to draw up new lists every week. It now means that the various team managers and their teams will not know until Friday of each week, as to where or whom they are playing the following day.

Following the F.A.'s announcement, the pool promoters immediately took action to overcome this obstacle by sending out blank forms to all their clients, who reported to make over ten million bets per week. Clients wishing to participate in the various pools will require to fill in forms showing what they consider will be the results of the forthcoming matches these forms will not be accepted by the promoters unless they are posted prior to the commencement of the matches. It is stated that during football seasons, hundreds and even thousands of pounds have been won on a penny bet.

The football teams themselves are not at all pleased at the Association's decision, and teams, together with their supporters, are holding protest meetings and demonstrations against the new rule.

The Managers of the teams state that owing to the late publication of the fixtures, there will be a great drop in gate receipts, as the supporters of away teams will find some difficulty in making arrangements for travelling with their team.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Monday. According to telegrams received in Rome, the victory in the Tembien region has now been confirmed. Marshal Badoglio states that for the first time since the war began whole divisions of the Abyssinian army dropped their arms and either surrendered or took flight. Hundreds of Italian aeroplanes are pursuing the retreating army and bombing it without mercy. The Duce has telegraphed the Italian Nation's congratulations to Marshal Badoglio and his forces, and has also sent special decorations to Marshal Badoglio in honour of his recent victories. The message of congratulations on the victory ended with "Viva Italy - Long Live the King".

London. It was stated in the House of Commons yesterday that the expenditure involved in keeping the British Navy, Army and Air Force up to its present strength in the Mediterranean was £500,000 per month.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Geneva. A final effort to bring about peace by conciliation between Italy and Abyssinia was decided upon at yesterday's meeting of the League Committee of 18. The proposal was made by the French Foreign Secretary Flandin. It is anticipated that telegrams will be sent by the Committee to Italy and Abyssinia and asking for replies within forty-eight hours.

In supporting the proposal, Mr. Anthony Eden said he did so the more readily, since the whole compass of the League's endeavours throughout the dispute had been to bring the war to a quick end.

CANADIAN DISASTER.

WORLD INTEREST IN BRITISH WHITE PAPER.

London. Tuesday. The Government's White Paper on Empire Defence was published this morning.

The following are points from the White Paper.

The overwhelming importance of our Navy in preserving sea communications and thus ensuring to the country her supplies of sea-borne food and raw materials, on which its existence depends, was fully set out in a White Paper of March last year. The London Naval Treaty prohibits the building of new capital ships so long as it remains in force, but the replacement process cannot be delayed beyond the date of the Treaty which is December 31st, 1936. It is intended to make a beginning early in 1937 when new capital ships will be laid down. Cruisers will be increased from 54 to 70, and a steady replacement of destroyers and submarines is contemplated.

An aircraft carrier of a smaller type will be laid down at an early date.

The growing importance of the Naval air arm will necessitate considerable expansion of its present strength.

It will be necessary to increase the strength of the Navy to man new vessels and to make good existing deficiencies; this increase is expected to rise by 6,000 men in March, 1937.

Compared with 1914 the British Army has been reduced by no less than 21 battalions. The Government hopes to recruit four new battalions immediately, and to do everything possible to encourage recruiting for the Territorial Army.

The modernisation of coastal defences at home and abroad will be proceeded with at an accelerated rate.

The re-organisation of anti-aircraft defences on the south coast of England will be extended with a view to covering important industrial districts in the centre and north of Britain.

Four new auxiliary Air Force squadrons will be formed for co-operation with the Territorial Army. The new programme will increase the first line strength of the Air Force in Britain and will bring it up to a total of 1,750 aircraft, exclusive of the Fleet air arm.

On explanation of the White Paper it was stated that it is essential that the relation of our own armed forces, to those of other great powers, should be maintained at a strength which will be high enough to enable us to exercise our influence and authority in international affairs, which are alike required for defence of British interests and in application of the policy of collective security.

The rising level of armaments all over the world is deplored but cannot be denied, and the White Paper examined the situation in various countries.

Germany. The fact that Germany is re-arming is not concealed, but details regarding this re-arming are covered with secrecy.

In March of last year conscription on a basis of one year's service was re-established, and the German Government announced the establishment of her peace-time army of 36 divisions with a strength of 550,000 men.

There has been continuous development in Germany's navy and also her air-force, and although the expansion of the German navy is limited to definite proportions of Great Britain's navy, it must be looked upon as an addition to world armaments which cannot be left out of account.

France. In France the two years' service was introduced last year.

The French air force is being re-equipped and re-organised.

Berlin. The Daily Telegraph Correspondent reports that France's somewhat sceptical reception of Hitler's conciliatory press interview has caused indignation in official circles, whilst the press alleges there is a deliberate attempt by certain groups to spoil the impression made by Fuhrer's statement on the French public opinion. It is added that France, holding fast to the alliance policy, does not seek understanding, but it is pointed out that only a policy of reconciliation can lead to the common French-German goal which is "peace with honour and security".

NEW YORK STRIKE.

New York. The Daily Telegraph Correspondent states that Mayor La Guardia has proclaimed a state of emergency following upon the extension of the lift operators, furnace-men and hotel maids' strike. Municipal employees including firemen and policemen have been ordered to man the lifts in all apartment houses above six stories. There have been several clashes between strikers and non-unionists, and the police have been ordered twenty-four hour duty. It is claimed that 25,000 men employed in some 2,100 buildings are out on strike. Thousands of people living in the upper stories of sky-scrapers are deprived of medical aid, heat and hot water, while great difficulty is experienced in obtaining food. Mayor La Guardia states that the public safety is menaced if the services in the higher buildings are stopped. Much suffering has been caused through the cessation of central heating facilities with the temperature at freezing point.

PRINCE KONOYE DECLINES PREMIERSHIP.

Tokio. Wednesday. There is a surprising development in the situation. The Emperor has twice summoned Prince Konoye, President of the House of Peers, to the Palace and has offered him the Premiership, but Prince Konoye has declined pleading ill-health. The refusal is almost unprecedented.

The martial law headquarters state that 1,400 officers and men participated in last weeks incidents.

WAR NEWS.

Addis Ababa. Tremendous relief has been caused by the receipt of the first telegram for several days from the Emperor's headquarters. It is learned that the Emperor left Dessie northwards on the 21st February, and it is assumed that purely technical reasons prevented him from communicating with the Capital.

The whereabouts of his present headquarters is still being kept secret.

NAVAL ESTIMATES.

London. The Naval estimates for the coming year were issued yesterday morning.

They make no provision for additional expenditure resulting from the White Paper proposals or for the 1936 new construction programme.

Provision for the expenditure in the ensuing financial year on the 1936 new construction programme and on other items resulting from the new proposals for making good defence deficiencies, will be made in the supplementary estimates to be presented to Parliament at a later date.

The estimates now presented therefore make provision only for maintenance, repairs and auxiliary services of the Fleet and progress with the new construction already authorised, and also for proceeding with the modernisation of existing capital ships and the re-equipment of the Fleet air arm, in accordance with the announcements already made. Expenditure on repairing deficiencies is also included in the programme which was laid before Parliament last year with certain additions approved as part of the special measures which were taken in connection with the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

On this basis the net total of the Naval estimates for 1936 is £69,930,000, and exceeds by £9,880,000 the net total of the Naval estimates for 1935, excluding a supplementary estimate of £4,800,000.

Of this increase £4,645,109 is required for progress with the new construction already authorised.

The increase of expenditure on the Fleet air arm amounts to £1,182,000.

There is also an increase of £3,936,191 in the provision for the maintenance of the Fleet, the most considerable items under this heading being increased provision for repairs and refits and for strengthening the defence of the Fleet against air attack.

A LONELY VILLAGE.

The village of Childerditch in Essex is only eighteen miles from London, but is a very lonely place with between sixty to seventy inhabitants. There is only one street, which ends in a horse pond, and there is only one 'bus per week to take the housewives to do their shopping at Romford,

There is no fire brigade, and the place has no representative on the Brentwood Council, the ten or twelve children have to be taken to school daily by coach to a school-room four miles away. Two houses have been erected during the past twenty years, and the only case of crime during twenty years was when the Vicarage was broken into, a few months ago, and the collection-box containing four pennies was stolen.

During the war the village was considered a safety place for old people and children because the district was so lonely.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

The League of Nations Committee of 18, which is dealing with the operation of sanctions, met yesterday morning at Geneva and appointed two sub-committees of experts to carry on the technical studies pending the receipt of replies to the appeals for peace addressed to Italy and Abyssinia.

One of the sub-committees will meet to-day and again tomorrow, and will concern itself with existing sanctions against Italy.

The second sub-committee, which is largely composed of oil experts, will meet on Saturday to draft a detailed plan for the application of oil sanctions. This plan will be sent to all League members when the oil sanctions are decided upon.

The Committee of 18, after appointing the sub-committees, adjourned until March the 11th.

The Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, attended a meeting of the Committee of 18 on Wednesday morning and left by rail in the afternoon for Paris where he spent the night. He will then proceed to London by air to-day.

ALL PEOPLES ASSOCIATION DINNER.

Lord Cecil, who was the guest of honour at the All Peoples Association dinner on Tuesday night said that there was very urgent need for every possible effort to promote peace and progress.

Referring to the Abyssinian dispute he said that the actual controversies between Italy and Abyssinia were not the main points at issue. He added that Italy's successful aggression at this moment must not be permitted to strike a devastating blow to all the efforts which were being made for peace, and that was why he was so anxious that nothing should be done to weaken the machinery, and why he looked with such deep confidence to the efforts which the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Eden, was now putting forward at Geneva.

He welcomed the Government's assertion in their defence White Paper that they did not regard their policy as in any way conflicting with the general policy of the reduction of armaments, and that they intended to press forward with that policy just as strongly as with their armament plans.

ANGLO-DANISH TRADE AGREEMENT.

Negotiations for framing the new Anglo-Danish Trade Agreement which were opened on Monday were resumed at the Board of Trade on Tuesday, and discussions are likely to occupy some time.

It is understood that the immediate problem is that of arranging, if possible, some modification of the Danish foreign exchange control of policy in order to provide funds for larger immediate importations into Denmark of British manufactures.

The present agreement expires on June the 20th, and it is anticipated that a temporary agreement will be drafted to govern trade relations until the new Treaty takes shape later in the year.

HIGH TIME.HOW TO STOP ROAD ACCIDENTS.

There is no doubt whatever that the opinion of the nation is behind Mr. Justice Du Parc in his treatment of a motorist who got drunk, killed a man, drove on, and finally stopped his car at a garage, where he sat back and switched on the wireless.

The driver was a racing motorist named Luis Fontes, and there were 18 convictions against him. In one case he was fined £5 for dangerous driving.

This time the judge sent him to three years penal servitude, suspended his licence for ten years from the day of his release, and ordered him to pay the costs of the prosecution.

INCREASED CONSUMPTION OF

TITHE REDEMPTION.

London. The Government's announcement relative to the tithe redemption, has resulted in anxious consideration by ecclesiastical authorities. It is pointed out that the Clergy are likely to lose £346,160 annually if the scheme is approved. Tithepayers generally approve the proposals.

LATER NEWS OF THE DEHAVILLAND

A ROYAL MOURNING STAMP.

A very beautiful but pathetic postage stamp has recently been issued. It is a mourning stamp for the late Queen of the Belgians, and has been issued by the special order of King Leopold, who, in doing honour to the memory of his Queen, has been mindful of the charities in which she was so deeply interested by directing that it shall bear a premium of five centimes for the benefit of those charities.

The stamp itself is a reproduction of one of the most charming portraits of Queen Astrid in photo-gravure surrounded by a black border. The whole makes a perfect picture. Further values of the same stamp are to be issued.

DEFENCE EXPANSION PROGRAMME.

London. Thursday. There was general welcome for the Government's defence expansion programme states the Daily Telegraph correspondent, and a huge majority is assured when measures are debated in Parliament on Monday and Tuesday.

The proposals led to acute dissension in the Socialist ranks, support being accorded by trade union sections, while Parliamentary leaders in opposition with the former were influenced by the benefits to work and wages through stimulated armament manufacture.

RUSSIA & JAPAN.

Moscow. The Soviet dictator, Stalin, when interviewed by an American newspaper representative stated that if Japan ventured to attack Outer-Mongolia, Soviet would fight in its defence. Stalin also expressed the opinion that the focal points of war were in Japanese and German zones; both were smouldering and it is difficult to say which is the most menacing, but he stressed the Japanese military leaders' threats against other powers. Compared with either of these situations, the Italo-Abyssinian war was an episode he added

On both evenings the fun went fast and furious, the amusement park being a centre of attraction for young and old. The Stall holders had their full share of the patronage also. Owing to the heavy sales on the opening night, they had to replenish their stalls before opening at 3 p.m. on Thursday. By 10 p.m. they were again sold out. Credit for the success of the sale is due to the support given by the general public, to those voluntary workers who assisted the Committee, and also those who generously contributed in cash and goods in kind to the various stalls. It is impossible to make individual recognition, our benefactors were too numerous. THE FALKLAND ISLANDS COMPANY LIMITED. STORES DEPARTMENT.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Marshal Badoglio claims extensive Tembien victories with the complete collapse of the enemy in the north, and the occupation of the rich agricultural Shire region.

Asmara. Further details concerning the battle of the Shire which is stated to have resulted in the complete collapse of Ras Imru's army.

According to this information preparations for the annihilation of Ras Imru's forces of thirty thousand men who held strongly fortified positions west of Aksum began on February the 26th.

On February the 29th the Italian advance commenced, the second army corps started their advance from Selaklaka in the westerly direction while the fourth army corps which included strong detachments of native cavalry and black-shirts crossed the Mareb River and began to push forward towards the south.

The enemy who tired vainly to pierce the Italian lines was taken under terrific artillery and machine gun fire and suffered tremendous losses.

When the Italians began the counter attack on the 3rd of March, the Abyssinians elected to retire, their retreat soon degenerating into a disorganised flight across the Takkaza River. The Italian air planes immediately took up the pursuit. Mounted native troops also kept at the fleeing enemy's heels. The Abyssinian speedy retreat prevented their being completely encircled, the fourth corps having meanwhile pressed forward through the impassable mountain region of Addi Abo.

Even though the Italian plan to annihilate Ras Imru's army did not entirely succeed, the army has practically been eliminated from further fighting.

As in the preceding battles the Abyssinians suffered great losses in the Shire region, their dead and wounded numbering several thousand, while Italian losses did not exceed seven hundred dead.

Aeroplanes ensured the water supply for the fourth army corps during the latter's march through the Addi Abo desert region.

Two Italian aeroplanes are reported missing.

Rome. A report sent from the Italian headquarters in Asmara states that over 30,000 Ethiopians have been killed or wounded on the northern front in the series of battles which started on February the 10th and continued throughout this month.

It was officially announced that the Italian casualties during the same period (which embraced all the important battles) is given as slightly more than two thousand.

A later report adds that Italian flying columns are still pursuing the retreating armies, and yesterday the airmen are reported to have killed more than 500 Abyssinians and taken over 300 prisoners.

The Commander of the fourteenth Italian air bombing squadron, Colonel Bartolini, has been killed, together with three other occupants of his aeroplane which crashed during attacks on Abyssinian positions in the Tembien battles.

FOOD.
No. 3.

Milk has been called the perfect food, and so it is for babies; but, as we saw two weeks ago when we went into the question more closely, it is only a relatively complete food for children and adults, as it needs supplementing by fresh fruit juice and iron to supply all the ingredients needed by the body for perfect health, it does not give the teeth and gums enough exercise. Now if so good a food as milk has to be supplemented, it follows that a diet composed almost exclusively of one or two less complete foods would be lacking in many things necessary for perfect health. So the very best thing for us to do is to eat a varied diet:- a little of everything rather than a lot of one or two foods. We need to eat free, body-building and protective foods including the necessary mineral salts. If we vary our food sufficiently we are almost sure to eat what our body needs, sometime during the day.

Unfortunately a great variety of food is not easily obtainable in the Falkland Islands; therefore it is very necessary that the foods available should be carefully combined in order to get the greatest possible value from them. The easiest way in which we can do this is to learn the kinds of things the body needs and which foods contain them.

A complete diet should contain six elements which are necessary for life.

- (1) Carbohydrate, which is the name for starch and sugar foods, fuel foods which supply the body with heat and energy.
- (2) Fat, another fuel food.
- (3) Protein, which is the body building substance which is often a protective food, and can also be used as fuel.
- (4) Mineral salts, which are left in the ash when food is burnt.
- (5) Water.
- (6) Vitamins which are chemical substances in food of vital importance to health; they make foods protective.

Later it is proposed to explain a little more about these six elements to list the chief foods containing them.

DEFENCE FORCE SMOKER.

A farewell smoking concert was held in the Defence Force Club Rooms on the evening of Wednesday, last, when the guests of honour were ex-Cpl. W. Cooper and Pte. D. Atkins, who are leaving the Colony within the next few days.

The concert opened with some snappy selections by the band which was composed of Cpl. F. O'Sullivan & Ptes. K.V. Lellman, A.W. Summers, E.V. Summers and E. Lellman, with Mr. A.W. Beardmore at the piano.

Following these selections, Pte. E.V. Summers entertained the Company to a saxophone solo and a song, and these in turn were followed by songs rendered by Pte. K.V. Lellman, Mr. W. Catten, Cpl. D. O'Sullivan, Pte. A.W. Summers, Mr. F. Howatt, Pte. A. Shackel and Pte. H.V. Summers, intermingled with further selections by the band. Mention must also be made of the communal singing led by Mr. Cooper.

During the course of the evening the Chairman, Captain W.M. Allan, in the course of a few remarks stated that he had a very pleasant task to perform, that of handing to each Mr. Cooper and Pte. Atkins an envelope containing, respectively, a gift from the members of the Defence Force Club and the Defence Force Football Club. In replying, Mr. Cooper and Pte. Atkins both expressed their grateful appreciation of the members' kindness in providing these gifts.

The "Smoker" came to an end all to soon at 11.45 p.m..

IMPERIAL DEFENCE PROGRAMME.

London. Friday. Following the publication of the Government's Defence White Paper, Australia and New Zealand are likely to increase their air defences.

New Zealand takes the view that improved air defences are more practicable and less costly than big naval forces, while close co-operation with Australia is favoured.

The Australian Federal Premier, Mr. Lyons, expressed the fear that there would be no reduction of taxation in view of the probable increase in defence expenditure, and this is officially believed to refer to the speeding up of the air force expansion and amplified coastal defence.

Influential quarters suggest that there is a likelihood of the return to compulsory service training.

PEACE PROPOSALS ACCEPTED.

Geneva. Friday. The Emperor of Abyssinia has accepted the peace proposals forwarded by the League, while according to the Daily Telegraph correspondent the Pope is bringing a quiet but intense pressure to bear upon all sides concerned to accept the League's invitation.

Meanwhile the Paris press is pessimistic with regard to the outcome of the gesture, but it is understood that M. Chambrun, the French Ambassador in Rome has been urgently instructed by Premier Fladin to convey the information to the Duce that the offer now made could not be repeated, and France would henceforth adhere to the observance of the Covenant and Geneva's international decisions.

In some quarters this inferred that negative results are to imply oil sanctions.

Should this eventuate, and Italy leave the League, it is understood that Switzerland will also probably withdraw from the League of Nations.

ESPIONAGE TRIAL.

London. The trial has now opened at the Old Bailey of the German, Doctor Goertz, shown in the charge sheet as - lawyer and world war aviator - Doctor Goertz is charged with espionage. He pleaded not guilty to two indictments against him, (1) sketching the Royal Air Force station at Manston, (2) of conspiring with Frau Marian Emig to violate the official secrets act.

It is alleged that Doctor Goertz had engaged Frau Emig as his secretary and had instructed her to obtain information and photographs from men of the Royal Air Force.

THE KING'S VISIT TO THE "QUEEN MARY".

Glasgow. The exceedingly thorough tour which His Majesty the King made of the great liner "Queen Mary" at Clydebank is said to have covered eight miles.

His Majesty inspected almost every part of the ship from the boiler room to the searchlight platform. Cabin, tourist and third class accommodation were inspected with equal thoroughness as were also the swimming pools, gymnasiums, lounges, libraries and children's rooms.

The King also showed his interest by the numerous questions he asked. He was informed that the vessel had twenty-four lifeboats propelled by Diesel engines and that each lifeboat accommodated 145 people, that the ship's oil plant could pump 108 thousand gallons of oil per hour to lubricate the engines, and that the liner's service speed would be 29 knots. The King stood for some time on the bridge fascinated by the scene below him in the shipyard and out over the Clyde.

Many of the men who had helped in the liner's construction were presented to His Majesty.

The King expressed the hope that he would see the liner again before she goes into commission, and it is thought that there is a possibility that His Majesty will make a short trip in her on one of her trial runs.

There were remarkable scenes of enthusiasm when the King left the liner to go ashore for lunch.

After luncheon His Majesty visited the Glasgow Corporation Housing Scheme. He also visited the overcrowded area from which inhabitants will be transferred to the new Council houses. He entered six of the tenement houses chatting for some time in each case with the occupants. Men, women and children surged round him in the roadway, cheering loudly when His Majesty left to take his train.

BRITISH AMBULANCE BOMBED.

Rome. The British Ambassador in Rome, Sir Eric Drummond has been instructed to lodge an immediate protest with the Italian Government in regard to the bombing of the British Red Cross ambulance unit which is situated on the Korem Plain two miles from the nearest troops. The Italian aviators were thoroughly familiar with the appearance and the movements of the ambulance.

A Red Cross ground flag forty feet square lay in the centre of the camp, while red crosses were displayed on the tents and flagstaff.

Three patients were killed and several others wounded in the bombardment.

The Italian Government is being requested to order an immediate investigation into the matter and meantime to issue the strictest instructions against a re-occurrence of the incident.

SENSATIONAL GERMAN ANNOUNCEMENT.

London. Saturday. France replied swiftly to Herr Hitler's dramatic announcement on Saturday that Germany had re-occupied the demilitarised Rhineland zone and has denounced the Locarno Treaty. It is reported that at a meeting of the French Ministers and Military Chiefs on Saturday night it was decided to ask the League of Nations and Signatories to the Locarno Treaty - Britain, Italy and Belgium - to apply financial and economic measures against Germany, and also measures of a military character if necessary. A full meeting of the French Cabinet was convened for Sunday morning.

All army leave in Eastern France has been stopped and officers on leave recalled. Mobile guards have been sent to reinforce the frontier police and fortifications are being strengthened. In a speech to the hastily summoned Reichstag in Berlin on Saturday, Herr Hitler disclosed that he had an hour earlier submitted a seven-point programme to the Ambassadors of France, Britain, Italy and Belgium. Under this programme Germany expresses her readiness to

(i) negotiate with France and Belgium for mutual demilitarised zones on either side of the frontier as deep as they desire;

(ii) conclude with France and Belgium a non-aggression pact for 25 years;

(iii) Britain and Italy should be invited to join as guarantors and Holland be allowed to enter if she so desires and other powers agree;

(iv) conclude a western air pact to remove the danger of sudden attack;

(v) conclude a non-aggression pact with eastern neighbours including Lithuania;

(vi) to re-enter the League of Nations.

In the accompanying memorandum, Germany has expressed the hope that if she returns to the League of Nations, Colonial equility might be settled by friendly negotiations by the League Covenant and separated from the Versailles Treaty.

Whilst Herr Hitler was speaking to the Reichstag, the first German troops since the war were marching into Rhineland towns - Cologne, Mainz, Coblenz & Frankfort-on-Main. They were wildly cheered by the inhabitants of Cologne, and the people broke police cordons and decorated the soldiers with flowers.

The Reichstag dissolved after the meeting and elections for the new Reichstag are to be held on March the 29th to test the nation's support for Herr Hitler's policy.

The news produced a sharp re-action in all foreign stock exchanges says the Sunday Times.

In New York armament shares appreciated.

The following are comments from European capitals :-

Rome. Germany's offer to re-enter the League of Nations has caused great astonishment.

Geneva. One of the most momentous days in European history is the view taken in League circles.

Moscow. Unofficial Soviet circles regard the move as a last desperate attempt to bluff France into the non-ratification of the Franco-Soviet pact. Unofficial observers are deeply perturbed at Hitler's reference to bolshevism in Russia, which is interpreted as an indication of Germany's warlike intentions regarding the U.S.S.R.

Lithuania. Hitler's offer to conclude a non-aggression pact with Lithuania is welcomed as a new step to consolidate security in Eastern Europe.

London. The news has caused great surprise as no indication had reached London earlier as shown by the fact that as late as Friday night the British Government had expressed to Germany, Britain's desire to enter into discussions for a western air pact. The announcement is described in London as the most momentous event in the history of post-war Europe since the signature of the Locarno Pact occurred. Germany with one hand has torn up the Locarno Treaty and with the other she offers her neighbours east and west a new system of international security.

THE CHANCELLOR OF THE EXCHEQUER'S SPEECH.

Birmingham. The Chancellor of the Exchequer, in a speech to constituents, said that Great Britain is determined to have her air force so speedy and powerful as to be effective deterrent to all contemplating hostile action.

The projected air force would have a terrific striking power and potential destructiveness, presenting a thought provoking obstacle to any invader.

The Army plans were to modernise equipment and mechanised forces to equality with the world's best, while the Navy would be made strong enough to maintain sea communications between the Empire and other parts of the world. In closing the Chancellor said "we are not expecting war, we hope it won't come, but we must be prepared for all eventualities".

NEW YORK STRIKE.

New York. Saturday. There is a slight alleviation in the strike situation consequent on negotiations between Mayor La Guardia and the owners of 45 large buildings, resulting in the liftmen's demands being conceded. An armistice has been arranged in many groups but clashes between strikers and the police are still continuing.

LATER WAR NEWS.

Asmara. Following Mussolini's acceptance of the League's peace proposals, the Commander-in-Chief of the East African Forces, Marshal Badoglio, has ordered the cessation of all artillery bombardment, air attacks and infantry actions on all fronts while peace negotiations are pending.

The Commander-in-Chief has issued the order to his various officers that during the suspension of hostilities the men are to be employed consolidating all present positions.

WEST FALKLAND SWEEPSTAKE.

 Holders of winning tickets are informed that they can now obtain their prize money from Mr. E.J. McAtasney.

 London. Monday. A CROWDED HOUSE LISTENED TO THE FOREIGN SECRETARY MR. ANTHONY EDEN, ON GERMANY'S ENTRY INTO THE RHINELAND.

The attitude of the British Government towards developments which occurred in Germany on Saturday was revealed in the House of Commons by Mr. Anthony Eden.

He began his recital with his invitation to the German Ambassador to attend the Foreign Office on December the 13th in order to discuss the possibility of an air pact between signatories of the Locarno powers.

On March the 7th the German Ambassador again visited the Foreign Office and informed Mr. Eden that he had a very important communication to hand to him.

After the Foreign Secretary had read this communication he told His Excellency that until he had had opportunity to study it and to consult with his colleagues on the situation which it had created, he could not make any detailed observations. At the same time he told the Ambassador that he deeply regretted to receive the information about the action of the German government.

The Ambassador would appreciate that this amounted to unilateral repudiation of a Treaty friendly negotiated and freely signed. He added that the German Chancellor had, at their last meeting, drawn a clear distinction between the Locarno and Versailles Treaties & emphasised that Germany had freely signed the former. He also told the Ambassador that he was aware of the view of the German government as to the effect of the Franco-Soviet pact. That view was not however shared by other signatories of the Treaty. He feared that the effect of unilateral repudiation of this Treaty upon His Majesty's Government and upon British public opinion would inevitably be deplorable.

In conclusion Mr. Eden stated that in case there should be any misunderstanding, he wished to make it clear that the British Government would, as a signatory of the Locarno pact, be in honour bound to come to the assistance of France or Belgium if they were attacked.

Other countries have commented on the situation as follows:-

The French Foreign Minister, M. Flandin, in a speech to the Cabinet, said that France would demand the complete evacuation of the demilitarised zone by German troops, and would seek the imposition of an embargo on all German goods.

Belgium has decided to appeal to the League of Nations against the entry of troops into Rhineland, and it is now understood that a special Council meeting will be held on Friday, which Germany has been invited to attend.

Italy is surprised but gave no hint as to her policy.

French newspapers make bitter attacks on Germany but ask the people to keep calm.

Russia considers that Germany is trying to separate Great Britain and France and will later attack the British Empire.

Austria blames the former allies for mistrusting Germany since 1918.

United States officials emphasise that whatever happens America will remain aloof, but newspapers discount the possibility of war.

Rumania strongly criticises Germany and considers her peace offer valueless. The Rumanian Premier said that he believed that the League would promptly and unanimously apply sanctions against Germany.

WAR NEWS.

No Truce.

The armistice announced on Monday by Marshal Badoglio did not materialise. It is explained that commands issued by the Headquarters on Monday were misunderstood, and fighting began again on the northern front, more especially so in the Tembien region.

The air-force is again developing great activity and the opinion prevails in military circles that heavy fighting may be expected in the near future.

Addis Ababa. As hostilities have not yet been suspended as had been expected, the Abyssinian capital no longer counts on an early close of the war and is now making preparations for a prolonged campaign.

Gangs of engineers and workmen are engaged night and day erecting strong defences between Amba Alidchi and Lake Ashangi in the hope of holding up the Italian advance until the rainy season sets in when it will be impossible for the Italians to use aeroplanes or motorised vehicles. The Abyssinians then hope that by guerilla warfare they may be able to turn the scales in their favour. The Abyssinian headquarters have now transferred from Dessie to Quoram, and have been strongly fortified with anti-aircraft guns. It has been reported from Quoram that the new fortified position succeeded in warding off an Italian air-raid; several Italian aeroplanes were hit by the unexpected volleys and, bursting into flames, fell into Lake Ashangi. As no boats were available, it was impossible to make any attempt to rescue the occupants of the burning machines.

Addis Ababa. Ten bandits were hanged for looting houses in the capital during the last panic, when it was feared that the Italian aeroplanes were going to bomb the city and the inhabitants fled to the hills.

RANDOM NOTES ON WORM DISEASESIN SHEEP.

No. 4.

Last week the habits of the Stomach Worm (Haemonchus Contortus) were discussed prior to its ingestion into the FOURTH stomach.

The larvae are still in the immature stage when they are ingested in drinking water, which has been contaminated with eggs or during the cropping of wet grass, up whose blades the larvae have climbed.

The worms grow to maturity in the abomasum or FOURTH stomach in about eighteen days and the first eggs from these mature worms are passed in the excreta of the host about 21 days after infection.

Now the worms after their ingestion in the medium of water or grass settle down and grow in the stomach for the greater part and some in the small intestines, although experimental work has been done to prove that the worms lodge in the stomach, after they have passed in a round about way through the lungs.

In the stomach, these parasites burrow into the mucus membrane lining of that organ where they suck the blood and bury themselves in the blood clot, later, when they have reached maturity they emerge and live freely in the stomach and attack the mucus membrane with their sharp knife-like teeth in order to suck blood.

Under ordinary circumstances, the blood would clot, but it would appear as if the worm was able to pour out some substance, which prevented clotting, thereby a continuous stream of food is supplied by the host, whose general nutritive condition suffers in a proportionate degree to the number of worms, which have attacked the stomach wall.

Infection by stomach worms occurs chiefly, either in the spring and early summer or late summer and early fall. The symptoms of invasion are evident in bad cases in 14 to 19 days. In lambs and young sheep a sudden severe infestation might be acquired followed by the development of a rapid anaemia and early death of the animals. However in the more chronic cases nutrition is impaired, debility and depression of appetite are observed, with bloating and severe diarrhoea. Anaemia is marked as shewn by white lining to the eyelids, there is discharge from the eyes themselves, swellings appear under the jaw and the animals become progressively weaker, the gait is unsteady and convulsions may take place. The skin is pale and the wool falls out in patches.

On killing the sheep the organs are found to be very pale and the blood has a watery appearance. The stomach on being opened presents the appearance of a chronic irritation with small red bite marks and ulcers showing; the contents are discoloured with blood in many cases.

The mortality amongst young or weak animals is very high, they die within a few days from diarrhoea or loss of strength; other animals more mature and robust survive for weeks, even months. Animals may survive and remain as carriers of worms from 2 to 4 years.

THE LATE MR. ROBERT REIVE.

(An Appreciation from San Carlos.)

With the death of Mr. Reive in Stanley on the 27th February last, a familiar link with the past has been severed.

For nearly 49 years he was a most popular member of San Carlos Station, and for the last 28 years one of the farm's leading hands.

Robert Reive was first employed by the late Mr. John Bonner, founder of the firm, and for many years was Head Shepherd and enjoyed full confidence of Mr. Geo. Bonner and Mr. J.F. Bonner during their management.

He lived to see the fourth generation of his employers also, which we believe constitutes a record of Falkland Islands service in itself.

Those of us who were privileged to know Mr. Reive will remember his entertaining anecdotes and reminiscences of the "Old Days", of "Gaucho" work, and Wild Cattle Hunts which unfortunately are too numerous to mention here; beyond stating that "Bob" held the record in the Eighteen Nineties for the number of Wild Cattle killed and skinned in a day by one man on a single horse, using lasso, "bolas", and knife, only - this was 19 head in the course of a day's Hunt in the "Chancho Rincon" (Wreck Point) at San Carlos.

Other memorable Wild Cattle Hunts that "Bob" took part in, was the one organized for Prince Duleep Singh and Lord Canarvon of the Yacht "Catherina" in February, 1895, also in the Wreck Point and he had the distinction of killing the last survivor of the Wild Cattle in those camps in 1907.

Apart from cattle work, Mr. Reive was an excellent Sheepman, and during his many years of useful work, was recognised as one of the leading Stockmen of the Islands.

"Alas ! the fleeting years..."

In April 1932 Mr. Reive resigned from his position as Head Shepherd at San Carlos, being allowed by the farm to retain his home at the Head of the Bay on Pension, for as long as his health and strength allowed, in recognition of his many years faithful service and keen interest in the welfare of Farm. For the last year his relations and many friends in Camp have regretted to observe signs of failing health, and early this year, acting on his Doctor's advice, he decided to retire to his house in Stanley, in order to be nearer medical aid.

Mr. R. Reive, his wife, and youngest son, left for Stanley by s.s. "Lafonia" on February 22nd, and it was with most profound sorrow that San Carlos heard that its friend "Old Bob" has passed away on the evening of February 27th.

Admired, and I may say loved, by many, the memory of "Old Bob" will remain with us as a most likeable, honest, and upright man: always serving the farm to the utmost of his ability, and treating men under him with absolute fairness, while at the same time getting the best of work out of them.

To his wife and family we extend our deepest sympathy in their irreparable loss, and we ourselves mourn the passing of an old friend and very faithful servant.

"May he rest in Peace."

DEATH OF ADMIRAL OF THE FLEET,EARL BEATTY.

Wednesday, 11th March. The death occurred early this morning of Admiral of the Fleet, Earl Beatty, G.C.B., G.C.V.O., K.C.B., C.B., K.C.V.O., D.S.O., M.V.O., at the age of 65 years.

Lord Beatty had been ill for a considerable time, and last November he insisted on leaving his sick-bed to act as a bearer at the funeral of his brother Admiral, Earl Jellicoe.

When still ill he took part in the funeral procession of the late King George on January the 28th, and since then his condition has become gradually worse.

Berlin, Wednesday 11th. The Commander-in-Chief of the German Navy, Admiral Raeder, has charged the German Marine Attache in London, Captain Massner, to convey to the First Lord of the Admiralty, his regret and that of the German Navy on hearing of the death of Admiral of the British Fleet, Earl Beatty, and to act as the Representative of the German Navy at the interment.

EMPEROR LEADS OWN TROOPS.

Asmara. Wednesday. Abyssinian troops under the personal command of the Emperor left Dessie in a northerly direction according to latest reports. It is assumed that they will reach the Italian forces stationed south of Amba Alatchi in four or five days. This Abyssinian army is said to be excellently equipped with the most modern means of warfare as well as an abundant supply of ammunition.

The Emperor is stated to have held an important war council before leaving Dessie and to have proclaimed in his public address that the troops would now proceed to fight for Abyssinia under his personal leadership.

In consequence of these reports it is understood that important movements of Italian troops are also taking place and the air force is being re-inforced south of the Tembien region.

GOVERNMENT'S DEFENCE WHITE PAPER.

London. Tuesday. In the House of Commons the debate was continued on the Government's Defence White Paper.

Mr. Winston Churchill took part in the debate. He said the scale on which foreign re-armaments was proceeding was prodigious. Some time ago he made a statement that the German government had spent three hundred million pounds on armaments. In the three years since Herr Hitler had been in power, Germany had spent over one thousand five hundred million pounds, which had been raised by internal borrowing, and her resources had been mortgaged for four years ahead. Millions of people in Germany who were formerly unemployed had been found employment in munition factories or in the armed forces. Germany, we are told, is not yet ready for war; some say she is only half ready; yet we see that already she is the only nation in Europe unafraid of war. If what we have seen is the mood of a partly armed Germany, imagine what it will be like when her colossal preparations are completed.

Paris. Wednesday. The French Senate meets on Thursday forenoon to discuss the ratification of the Franco-Soviet agreement. In Parliamentary circles it is expected that the Senate will ratify the pact immediately.

London. Wednesday. It has been officially announced that for the first time since 1922 the Council of the League of Nations will transfer its Headquarters to London for the special meeting called to discuss the entry into the Rhineland of German troops.

AUSTRALIAN MEMORIAL

TO KING GEORGE.

Canberra. The Commonwealth Cabinet has decided to erect a bronze statuary group before Parliament House as a Memorial to King George, symbolic of his association with the Australian Federation.

It is estimated that the group will cost £25,000, and prominent Empire artists are to be asked to submit designs.

TROOP MOVEMENTS ONFRANCO-GERMAN FRONTIER.

London. Tuesday. Troop movements still continue on both sides of the Franco-German frontier.

France has fully manned her line of forts, while 150,000 men, which are half of the normal home force, are stationed near the frontier.

Belgium is also strengthening her defences states the Daily Telegraph correspondent.

Germany has increased the Rhineland army by the inclusion of 5,000 police, but troops are forbidden to approach within eight miles of the frontier as a gesture of friendship to France.

French circles are discussing the formation of a National Government to meet the emergency, while Poland, Rumania, Czecho-Slovakia, Yugo-Slavia, Greece and Turkey have promised to support France in upholding the Locarno pact.

An authoritative report from Paris states that France is ready to negotiate provided the German troops are withdrawn from the Rhine.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Tuesday. A denial has been issued of the cease-fire order since the view is adopted that Abyssinia will not be bound by the army truce announced by Italy until peace negotiations commence.

Addis Ababa reports that an intensive battle is still raging on the northern front, while the third bombing in consecutive days of the British Red Cross unit occurred on Friday last, when sixty bombs were dropped without casualties.

A semi-official message received via Paris announces that three Italian planes fell in flames near Quoram after the bombing attack.

Marshal Badoglio estimates that 292 Italians were killed and 1,047 wounded in recent battles, while the Abyssinian losses are estimated to be 15,000.

DISCUSSIONS ON RHINELAND SITUATION.

London. Wednesday. Following prolonged talks between the British, French, Belgian and Italian representatives on the Rhineland situation, Mr. Anthony Eden and Lord Halifax were so impressed by the gravity of the outlook that they cabled Mr. Baldwin suggesting that the League Council should assemble in London, to which the Premier immediately agreed.

The League meeting will follow the Locarno Conference on Thursday and will continue on Friday and Saturday.

While France is gratified by this decision, Berlin also finds satisfaction, stating that London is the centre of fair play.

The Socialist leader, Vander-velde, speaking in the Belgian Chamber, said that Belgium knows she can have faith in the loyalty of Britain.

The Soviet government is greatly incensed at Germany's coup, and urges France to take determined action, while the French General Staff is convinced that the time has come to call a halt to Germany's progressive attacks on International Treaties.

IRON & STEEL BUSINESS.

London. There is a decrease in the new iron and steel business, due to the difficulties experienced by producers in the acceptance of orders for near delivery, since most works are booked to full capacity for several months.

Many makers have fallen into arrears with their deliveries and the demand for finished materials is steadily growing. In February the output was 938,500 tons, which figure has not been exceeded since March, 1927, and is 150,000 tons above that for February, 1935.

Alexandria. The Air Ministry's enquiry into the "City of Khartoum" crash, found that the accident was due to fuel exhaustion with an obscure fault in the fuel gauges as the contributory cause.

HIS MAJESTY'S MESSAGETO THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

London. Thursday. In the House of Commons on Thursday afternoon, the Chancellor of the Exchequer appeared at the Bar of the House and announced that he had brought a message from His Majesty the King signed by his own hand.

The message, which was read by the Speaker, was as follows :-

The demise of the Crown renders it necessary that renewed provision shall be made for a Civil List.

His Majesty places unreservedly at the disposal of the House of Commons those hereditary revenues which were so placed by his predecessor, and has commanded that the papers necessary for full consideration of that subject shall be laid before the House.

His Majesty desires that the contingency of his marriage should be taken into account so that in that event there should be provision for Her Majesty the Queen and Members of His Majesty's Family and correspondingly to provisions which the House of Commons has been willing to make in like circumstances in the past.

His Majesty also desires that suitable provision should be made for His Royal Highness the Duke of York as heir presumptive, and in certain events for his family.

It is however His Majesty's intention, so long as the revenues of the Duchy of Cornwall are vested in himself, to make that provision for the Duke of York, and His Majesty recommends the consideration of these several matters to his faithful Commons, relying on their attachment to his person and his family to adopt such measures as may be suitable for the occasion.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer will to-day, Friday, move for a select Committee to consider His Majesty's message.

Beira. The Southern Rhodesian Government is considering using the port of Beira for meet export if the British Government will erect the necessary chilling plants and accomodation.

FOOD.

No. 4.

Last week we made a list of the six elements of food needed by the body. This week we shall examine two of them, carbohydrates and fats, more closely and give lists of which foods contain a large proportion of these elements.

Carbohydrates and Fats are essentially fuel foods, foods which are burned inside the body, to produce warmth and energy for work; they never become part of the living tissues, though any excess may be stored in the body in the form of fat.

The term Carbohydrate includes all starches and sugars. The words starch and sugar, used in this sense, are scientific terms; they do not mean the starch we use in laundry work or the sugar we put in our Tea, but chemical substances of a similar nature. During mastication (chewing) and digestion the starches in food are turned into sugars, so starch and sugar are equal value in diet. When we eat more fuel food than is needed to supply our bodies with the necessary warmth and energy the excess carbohydrate is turned into fat and stored inside our bodies.

Foods which are classed as carbohydrates include starches such as those found in potatoes, flour, rice, cornflour, oatmeal, barley, tapioca, sago, and arrowroot; and sugars such as the sugar of milk, syrup, honey, jam, and sugar itself. Sugar is found in fruit and in many vegetables such as beans, beetroot, carrots, leeks, parsnips and peas.

The term Fat includes all edible oils and fats, such as meat fat, dripping, lard, bacon fats, cream, butter, margarine, olive oil, cotton seed oil, nut butters and fat of egg yolk and fish.

In a well balanced diet about two thirds dryweight, of our food should consist of carbohydrates and one sixth dryweight, of fat. To a certain extent carbohydrate and fat may interchange in diet, but too great a proportion of fat may upset the digestion.

THE RHINELAND SITUATION.

Paris. The War Ministry official communique states that the German Rhineland troops number 90,000, and while all the French frontier forces have been placed in readiness, no mobilisation measures are yet provided for, but if further strengthening is necessary the frontier reservists will be called up within a few hours. The French Maginot line of underground fortresses between the borders of Switzerland and Belgium are fully manned.

A Daily Telegraph message from Saarbrücken states that Germany is re-militarising the Saar which is included in the demilitarised zone with all speed.

In Holland Premier Colijn announced that the conscripts due for leave will be retained with the colours.

In London it is understood that Britain will endeavour to persuade Germany to withdraw from the Rhineland zone as preliminary to negotiations on wider issues raised by Herr Hitler.

Paris reports that it is understood that France is prepared to leave the League if treaties on which collective security are based prove inoperative, and it is thought that Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Yugo-Slavia and Soviet might follow suit.

The Little Entente and the Balkan Entente States have decided to support France, while Poland favours a practical form of reprimand of Germany.

The Italian press views the British policy as conciliation rather than coercion, but contrasts this treatment with that meted out to Italy with regard to the Abyssinian war.

The United States press is finding renewed faith in the League and considers that Britain is talking sense to quieten Europe's nerves and by shifting the issue to London provides an opportunity for taking a sane view of realities.

London. Saturday. The Locarno Conference which was originally due to meet at 1700 to-day was rearranged and it is reported to have started at 1100 this morning.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Thursday. Italy is likely to utilise the Franco-German crisis to attempt to secure the removal of sanctions against herself, but meanwhile the war is continuing by land and air. The Daily Telegraph correspondent in an Addis Ababa message, reports the Emperor's determination to carry on the campaign whatever happens in Europe. An air raid on Erghalem in the Sidamo Province resulted in 8 women and children being killed and 33 wounded. Debra Markos and Dankas near Lake Tsana have also been bombed.

Windsor. Thursday. At a public meeting it was decided to erect a memorial to King George, and the suggestion most favoured is a new wing to the local hospital in which His Majesty was greatly interested.

ECCLESIASTICAL CONFERENCE.

Westminster. Thursday. A conference of all the Ecclesiastical tithe-owning interests has rejected the Government's proposed terms for settling the tithe controversy, while accepting the principal of its extinguishment.

VANCOUVER GOLDEN JUBILEE.

Vancouver. Thursday. The Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress of London, Sir Percy and Lady Vincent, are visiting Vancouver in August along with other civic officials on the occasion of the Golden Jubilee celebrations.

Nairobi. Thursday. Lord Francis Scott and Major Cavendish Bentick, the European unofficial members of the Executive Council, resigned after registering a strong protest against the Governor's failure to acquaint them of his intention to re-organise the Kenya defences. They state that their first intimation of the new measures was received from newspaper reports on London proceedings.

LATER RHINELAND NEWS.

London. Saturday. According to the Daily Telegraph, France has stiffened her demand that German troops must be evacuated from the Rhineland while the majority of British Ministers are insistent that Germany must be compelled to order a substantial withdrawal, as the latest figures indicate that the occupationists number 248,000.

Nevertheless there is a growing nervousness in Germany states a Berlin message and the hesitancy of the stock exchange reflects a growing realisation throughout the country that the international situation is serious but the Nazi feeling is that the leader has gone too far in his attempt to pacify Europe.

The Soviet press is delighted with the French Chamber's overwhelming ratification of the pact and the corresponding failure of Herr Hitler's alleged plan to divide and rule Europe by separating the western and eastern nations

The United States is adopting a re-assuring attitude towards the crisis with praise for British calmness although sideslaps have been given in some quarters by reference to non-payment of war debts.

Czecho-Slovakia has aligned herself with France in non-tolerance of treaty violation, and while she is prepared to support the League Council, she recognizes that hardships might follow,

South Africa expresses her admiration for statesman-like attitude of Britain in the crisis and says that all partners in the Commonwealth should support her constructive peace efforts.

KING GEORGE JUBILEE

TRUST FUND.

London. Saturday. The total amount subscribed to the King George Jubilee Trust Fund now amounts to £1,025,000, and the lists still remain open. The feature of the donations is the response from poor areas by house to house collection.

LATER WAR NEWS.

Rome. Saturday. It is officially denied that peace negotiations have commenced, while the Duce is confident that the remaining Abyssinian armies will soon be shattered and that only talks with Addis Ababa will remain. Marshall Badoglio's communique reports great activity on the whole Eritrean front with troops reaching to Fenaroc and aircraft bombing the region south of Quoram. Messages from various sources confirm the report that an Italian tanker carrying war materials has been wrecked by an explosion in the Red Sea, eight of the crew being killed and ten rescued by the British steamer "Brighton".

BROADCAST NOTICE.

Owing to the necessity of a long uninterrupted charge of the microphone batteries, no announcements will be made from the Studio (unless of an important nature) after the Children's Corner this evening. As the Cathedral microphones are also fed from the same batteries, it will not be possible to broadcast the Church Service this Sunday. News will be relayed from London, Paris and America whenever possible. It is hoped that normal service will be resumed on Wednesday evening.

Canberra. Saturday. The Commonwealth External Minister, Sir George Pearce, in reviewing the German claims for the return of Colonies, said it is unthinkable that Australia will ever hand over territory, as such an action would be equivalent to submission to blackmail.

London. Saturday. The British Empire Service League reports a prompt response to their suggestion for an ex-service men and women's rally for the Coronation of His Majesty King Edward VIII., and contingents are expected from Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

CHILD KILLED BY TOY BALLOON.

Doctors, nurses and police took part in a dramatic fight to save the life of thirteen-year old Norah Lambert, an inmate of the Poor Children's home at Gateshead when she swallowed a toy balloon.

The balloon had lodged in her throat and she was found unconscious. Artificial respiration was applied at the home and was continued in an ambulance and also at the Newcastle Infirmary, where an emergency operation was preformed but the child died.

Wellington, New Zealand. The Government is considering the appointment of its own Air Ministry to keep abreast of modern development and to prove its desire to assist the Commonwealth's progress.

WORLD STONES AS MEMORIAL.

Stones gathered in the remote corners of the world are being used to build a memorial cairn to James Watt, inventor of the steam engine, whose bi-centenary was celebrated at Greenock in January.

The task of collecting the stones began eighty years ago, when it was decided to erect an international memorial to the great Scottish inventor.

FOOD.No. 5.

PROTEIN. Protein is one of the most important of the six food substances needed by the body. It is chiefly a Body-Building material but it can also be used as fuel. Up to a certain point carbohydrates, fats and protein are interchangeable as fuel foods, but nothing can replace protein in providing new material for growth or for the repair of worn out tissues.

Protein is a very complicated chemical substance built up of some 20 different kinds of units. It has often been compared to a chain on which are strung different beads or units. During digestion the chain is broken and the beads pass into the blood stream for use in various parts of the body. Protein is contained in both animal and vegetable foods, but animal protein contains beads in the most suitable proportions. Vegetable protein contain the same kinds of beads but in different proportions, some are too numerous, others are scarce or missing. Complete proteins are those which contain all the different kinds of beads, or units; animal protein is complete, vegetable protein needs supplementing by other protein beads. Most vegetarians take milk, eggs, and cheese which provide them with complete proteins.

First-class, or animal, protein is found in all kinds of lean meat, fish, eggs, milk or cheese; 2nd class, or vegetable, protein is chiefly found in the pulses, dried beans, peas and lentils, but it is also present in plant tissues.

About one sixth of our food, dryweight, should consist of protein, some animal and some vegetable, it is not generally wise to consume so much protein that the excess is used as a fuel food instead of carbohydrates and fats as it may upset the digestion and impose excessive tasks upon the circulatory and excretory systems. In most parts of the world it is also very uneconomic to use protein as a fuel food. We are very lucky in the Falkland Islands to be able to buy meat so cheaply: elsewhere it is usually so expensive that the greater part of the population has to be content with incomplete vegetable proteins which are not adequate to maintain perfect health and resistance to disease.

MASSED MEETING GREETES HERR HITLER.

Munich. Sunday. The greatest meeting ever assembled greeted Herr Hitler on the second of his election speeches when he took the opportunity of explaining the German standpoint.

He claimed that he had the entire German people behind him in seeking equality and that this would be tested at the forthcoming election.

His efforts since assuming office were towards the restoration of national freedom and pointed out that he did not favour playing at soldiers. Herr Hitler enjoined his listeners not to trust any other strength but their own which would not betray them. Germany did not want to wage eternal war, but she would not tolerate being treated less rightfully than others nor be sent from one international law court to another. Referring to the Franco-Soviet pact Hitler said that it was a breach of Locarno and that under its definition the aggressor should be removed from the pact. If Europe was to recover he added, it must be built on an entirely new foundation and, without interfering with the internal politics of others, Germany wished to extend her friendship towards her westerly neighbours.

NEW YORK'S LIFTMEN'S STRIKE.

New York. Sunday. The Arbitration negotiations under the auspices of Mayor Laguardia are partially successful and the striking liftmen of 600 buildings have returned to duty. There is every hope that this peaceful settlement will be extended to other quarters.

ITALO-ABYSSINIAN NEWS.

Asmara. Sunday. News originating from Addis Ababa states that Ras Desta is held a close prisoner in the vicinity of the Imperial Palace. He is accused of selling arms and ammunition which were furnished by the Government for the Abyssinian forces to the Italians, of selling water to the Italians and of having committed errors which brought about the defeat of his army on the southern front.

A vigorous effort to occupy as much north Abyssinian territory as possible before the rains commence has been launched by the Italians along a 230 mile front which, if successful, will flatten out the dangerous salient presented by the Adowa, Makalle and Amba Alagi lines, states the Sunday Times correspondent. Marshal Badoglio's communique published in Rome is silent regarding these movements and states that there is nothing to report.

According to an Addis Ababa message the late Abyssinian Charge d'Affairs in Rome is proceeding to Geneva on an important secret mission.

New York. Floods sweeping the eastern States have rendered 10,000 families homeless. The damage is estimated at 50 million dollars, while 29 deaths are reported.

TO-DAY'S DISCUSSIONS ON THERHINELAND SITUATION.

London. Monday. A special meeting of the Cabinet was held this morning to consider the situation in the light of the week-end developments, and in particular the reply of the German Government to the invitation sent by the League of Nations' Council to take part in the present deliberations, as one of the contracting parties to the Treaty of Locarno.

There was a full attendance of Ministers at the Cabinet Meeting. Before attending it the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, was in consultation with officials at the Foreign Office.

To Germany's acceptance in principle of the invitation, two conditions were attached, one requiring that her representatives should be on a footing of equality with those of members of the Council in its proceedings and conclusions, and the other requiring definite assurance that the powers concerned were prepared to enter forthwith into negotiations on the German peace proposals.

The German reply added that the German Government would place itself in touch with the British Government, under whose presidency the powers concerned in the Rhine pact are met together for discussion in London.

In view of the terms of this communication special interest is attached to the Cabinet Meeting which is proceeding. Meanwhile representatives of States and Members of Council are engaged in private conversations. It is expected that the full meeting of the League Council will commence at 3.30 this afternoon, this meeting being in private to consider the procedure which is to be adopted in view of the conditional terms of Germany's reply to the League's invitation. In regard to the second of these conditions, the first re-action to the French delegation was indicated in a statement to the press last night by M. Flandin, who declared that he had come to London to have recorded by the Council the violation of Locarno, and added he would not discuss anything else than that, and would if necessary leave London and "even the League of Nations".

In British circles, the German reply is considered very disappointing, but the hope persists that some modification of this delicate situation may take place as the result of to-day's deliberations and the further exchanges between Berlin and London.

Further Comments On The Situation.

Mr. Winston Churchill said that whatever befell there could be no question of England repudiating her solemn obligations, and urged that in conformity with the French offer the bearing of the Franco-Soviet pact on the Locarno Treaties should be submitted to a world court. He added, Germany must be encouraged to place herself within the law as a preliminary to all discussions about the future.

The Sunday Times in a leading article joins in an appeal to the German Chancellor to make a gesture of conciliation on the grounds that the issues boil down very largely to the question of confidence. Let it be repeated it is not Germany's claim or Germany's offer but Germany's method which has made Europe's present crisis so perilous.

Sir Austen Chamberlain recalled the origin of the Locarno Treaties which he said were a contribution more to the security of Germany than of France. He declared "Is there any international morality or law, or have we returned to the rule of force in which the strongest does what he likes".

THE FUNERAL OF THE LATE EARL BEATTY.

The funeral of Admiral of the Fleet, Lord Beatty, took place to-day, and the burial place is in the Crypt of St. Paul's Cathedral, beside the grave of Admiral of the Fleet, Lord Jellicoe, whom Lord Beatty succeeded as Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Fleet during the war. The funeral procession, in which His Majesty the King was represented by H.R.H. the Duke of York, formed on the Horse Guards Parade and marched by way of the Admiralty Arch via the Thames Embankment to St. Paul's. Contingents from all the Fighting Services took part in the funeral procession.

WAR NEWS.

Addis Ababa. Italian bombing continues in the north around Quoram, and south in the Bale Province, while the Abyssinians are concentrating on Negelli to hinder the Italian's mountain advance, states the Daily Telegraph correspondent. From the north it is reported that one Italian plane has been shot down. Despite official denial, rumours persist that direct negotiations with Italy are proceeding.

A later report states that a second Italian aeroplane crashed on Monday, its five occupants being killed instantaneously.

FROM FORCASTLE TO QUARTER DECK.

Only recently we read in the papers of Captain T.J.S. Lyne, D.S.O., R.N., who joined the Navy as an ordinary seaman boy, and without influence of any kind worked through the various grades until in the end he attained the rank of Post Captain at the age of 49. In these democratic days there is a chance for every lad of intelligence, no matter where he comes from, to work his way up and so reach the top of the ladder. The pay is good and the food excellent. Good pensions can be earned, the lowest rating being sure of a pension of more than £1 a week when he has completed his full service. At the naval training establishment facilities are given for recreation both onboard and on shore. Each establishment has a band and a large lending library of entertaining and instructive books. Games are provided on board such as bagatelle, chess, dominoes, cricket, hockey, rounders and football and quoits at the recreation grounds on shore. The school rooms are thrown open every evening to enable the boys to read and play at games. Entertainments are provided both on board and on shore. Boys are occasionally taken for pleasure parties and to suitable public entertainments free of expense to themselves. Prizes are offered at all local regattas for competition by the boys in their boats. Any boy can join between the ages of 15½ and 17 years. Since the days of Captain Lyne, D.S.O., R.N., promotion has become much more rapid, and we hear every year of a great number of boys who have joined the lower deck reaching the quarter deck.

BOMBING OF THE BRITISH AMBULANCE.

London. Tuesday. The Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Lord Cranborne in answering questions in the House of Commons regarding representations made to the Italian Government on the bombing of the British ambulance on March the 4th, said that so far as could be judged from the summary of the Italian reply telegraphed by the British Ambassador, the Italian Government admitted the bombing of one red cross encampment furnished with at least one red cross sign. Regarding the claim that the bombing was in retaliation for opening fire on Italian aircraft from this encampment, Lord Cranborne stated that there were considerable discrepancies between the Italian account and the report previously communicated by Dr. Melly who was in charge of the British Red Cross Unit.

He assured the House of Commons that the matter would be pursued with the Italian Government with the utmost energy as soon as Dr. Melly's full report had been obtained.

BRITISH AIRCRAFT INDUSTRY.

London. Well informed circles state that during the next twelve months the British aircraft industry will produce an average of five planes daily, of which three will be R.A.F. and two civil, but these are minimum estimates which will probably be exceeded.

NATURALIZATION OR EXPULSION.

Moscow. The Soviet press charges the Jap-Manchukuo authorities with attempting to force Russian residents to take out naturalization papers with the alternative of expulsion.

Approximately 50,000 Russians have already left the Harbin district.

Berlin. Sunday. The Daily Telegraph correspondent states that Herr Hitler's reply to the League's invitation was only framed after an all day talk with the Cabinet. As a token of Germany's attitude towards the crisis, Hitler cancelled the Rhineland parade at Frankfort on Monday and forbade the ex-service men's carrying of war colours at Sunday's Cologne procession, so that no provocation should be given to other powers.

A Paris message outlines the French attitude in the Foreign Minister, M. Flandin's statement "I formally refuse to admit Herr Hitler's propositions. I came to London to record the violation of Locarno and will not agree to discuss anything else." While national anxiety is increasing relative to the British attitude, the press is considering the British aid as the only guarantee.

The Italian official circles made no pronouncements and are apparently awaiting developments to use their power for bargaining on sanctions issue.

ANGLO-EGYPTIAN TREATY.

Cairo. The Anglo-Egyptian treaty conversations were resumed on Monday when the British defence memorandum was considered. No official information is yet available relative to the memorandum's contents but it is understood that it seeks Egyptian recognition under certain basic principles. The differences between the Wafd and Minority leaders is believed to be settled, and there is a great possibility that the treaty will be agreed to.

NAVAL ESTIMATES.

London. Tuesday. In opening the House of Commons debate on the Navy estimates amounting to £69,930,000 which is an increase of £9,880,000 on last year, Lord Stanley, the Parliamentary Under Secretary to the Admiralty, explained that no provision was made in these estimates for any additional expenditure arising from proposals for making good deficiencies outlined in the Government's White Paper on defence nor for the 1936 construction programme, these large extra items would have to be the subject of a supplementary estimate to be dealt with at a later date.

The increase in the estimates for 1935 was for construction which was authorised in 1934 and amounted to £4,645,000. Provision was also being made for larger requirements of ammunition, mainly anti-aircraft and also for a much larger fuel supply.

The vote for the fleet air-arm had been increased by £1,193,000 which allowed for twenty-seven new machines - three for aircraft carriers, twelve for battleships and twelve for cruisers, bringing the total strength of the fleet air-arm from 190 to 217. This increase also allowed for the replacement of eighty four machines which were now obsolete.

Lord Stanley assured the House that as the result of experiments the danger of battleships from aerial bombardment would be provided against in the new construction and also in re-construction, and that counter attacks by ship's anti-aircraft batteries had developed out of all knowledge, and that the Admiralty would always be ready to increase its knowledge by further experiments. He said in conclusion that battleships would not be made impotent by air attack and would remain supreme at sea, and further, battleships remain essential.

GRAFF ZEPPELIN.

Friedrichshafen. Tuesday. The air-ship Graff Zeppelin which, during the three months in which her trans-Atlantic service has been suspended, has been thoroughly overhauled, will make her first voyage to South America next week. At present the air-ship's gass chambers are being filled. The Graff Zeppelin which has travelled over one million kilometres by land and sea during all weathers, will work an alternative service to South America with the new air-ship LZ129.

THE LOCARNO.

Paris. Tuesday. The report from London about the impression made by the German answer to the invitation to participate in the present deliberations, says that it is considered that Germany is fundamentally quite entitled to demand equality status when discussing its standpoint with the League of Nations Council, but as regards the other German demands that German proposals for assuring security in Europe should be discussed forthwith, one does not see how it is possible to comply.

The League of Nations Council has met for one reason only, and that is to discuss the German violation of the Treaties of Versailles and Locarno.

ANGLO-JEWRY CONFERENCE.

London. Sir Herbert Samuel addressing the Anglo-Jewry Conference said that minds were largely filled by the gravity of the international situation, but that world statesmanship should find a solution.

Reverting to the situation of the German Jews he said that the position was intolerable, and he issued an appeal for £3,000,000 to train young emigrants and to secure the transport of Jews from Germany with favourable admission into other countries. Two-thirds of this sum is being raised in America he added.

GERMANY'S LEAGUE DELEGATION.

Berlin. Tuesday. Herr Hitler's delegation to the League Council will be headed by Von Ribbentrop, who will be accompanied by the Press Minister, Von Boettiger and other Foreign Office officials, including interpreters totalling twenty and are due to arrive in two aeroplanes on Thursday.

Generally a satisfactory feeling prevails throughout Germany. According to the Daily Telegraph correspondent Hitler's recent election speeches have received scant press attention and this is believed to be due to the over-worked censorship bureau which freely blue pencils all addresses before issuing them to the press with the result that the public are compelled to gather their details from foreign newspapers.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Tuesday. According to the Daily Telegraph, Mussolini has decided that Marshal Badoglio is to remain in East Africa notwithstanding the recent probability of his recall for participation in peace negotiations. The changed plans are believed to indicate that the Duce is staking his hopes on further military successes rather than the League Conciliation Committee.

The Ethiopian Government denies that direct peace negotiations are projected and reiterates her adhesion to the League framework and Covenant.

Addis Ababa reports an intense bombardment has commenced on the entire southern front and is believed to herald Graziani's offensive.

Capetown. Tuesday. The Defence Minister, Mr. Pirow, announced that Robben Island, guarding the entrance to Table Bay, has become military property with the probability of the establishment of fortifications.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

Liverpool. Tuesday. The Irish Free State High Commissioner, Mr. Dulanty speaking at St. Patrick's Day banquet reviewed Ireland's economic progress and said that in their desire to develop the country, the Irish had no hostility towards Britain or any other country, and the majority looked forward to the time when fundamental friendly feeling will be unobscured by political questions.

Mr. De Valera's festival broadcast was frequently interrupted, states a Dublin message, and it is understood that the I.R.A. was responsible, working through an undiscovered pirate station.

EMPIRE EMIGRATION.

The Empire Emigration Group has received a copy of the Saskatchewan legislative resolution expressing the opinion that the time has arrived for Canada to approach Great Britain with a view to formulating a scheme for voluntary distribution of the white peoples of the Empire, thereby stimulating shipping and trade under the Flag.

FAIRY TALES OF MODERN TIMES.

Vienna. Wednesday. The following news would appear to have been taken from a book of fiction rather than to have really occurred.

On Monday an aeroplane of the Rome-Vienna passenger service reported that she was being forced down owing to heavy snow storms and eventually the aeroplane alighted on the top of a 6,000 feet mountain.

Her wireless gear was still in order and rescue parties set out in an endeavour to locate the aeroplane and her passengers but returned without having done so. As wireless signals could still be heard another rescue party was formed consisting of 15 Alpine hunters and 8 mountain guides, and despite terrible snowstorms succeeded in locating the derelict party and hoped to have them in safety by Thursday.

AIR ESTIMATES.

London. Wednesday. In the House of Commons Sir Philip Sassoon the Under Secretary for Air, announced that the Air Estimates for 1936 amounted to £39,000,000, which is an increase of £13,013,000 over last year's estimates. He explained that as the result of the modification of the air programme which was announced last May, and in light of developments abroad, the Metropolitan squadrons would be increased to 129 with a first line strength of approximately 1,750, and a further 12 squadrons would be formed for duties overseas. By the end of the next financial year the Royal Air Force would have been doubled in the short space of two years. He did not think that any fighting service had ever been set so comparable a task in the time of peace Paris. Wednesday. 2,000 reserve troops left Paris on Tuesday for the garrisons in eastern France.

ARRIVAL OF MAILS. The mails which left the Colony per "Reina del Pacifico" arrived in the United Kingdom on the 16th March.

LATER WAR NEWS.

Addis Ababa. Wednesday. Troops are now being compulsorily recruited in large numbers owing to the fact that thousands of troops of the defeated armies of the northern and southern fronts have returned to their homes under the impression that they were no longer required. It is understood that the Emperor with the Imperial Guard comprised exclusively of picked troops will attack the Italians near Dessie as he is determined under all circumstances to protect Addis Ababa from capture by the enemy.

In the capital itself further extensive precautions against air attacks have been taken as it is still feared that the Italians will bomb the city. Reports from Quoram state that a squadron of seven aeroplanes carried out an extensive bombardment on Monday.

GERMAN INTERESTS INLEAGUE CONFERENCE.

Berlin. Wednesday. The decision to send a delegation to London was received with much relief in German circles possessing intimate knowledge of the critical situation created by Herr Hitler's re-occupation of the Rhineland Zone. The public are gradually realising the seriousness of the international situation and all foreign newspapers are eagerly read, but at present all press is severely controlled.

AUSTRALIAN DEFENCE.

Melbourne. It is understood that the Cabinet will be requested to subsidise certain aircraft manufacturing firms under the scheme being forwarded this week whereby all necessary planes and spare parts for Australian defence will be built within the Commonwealth.

LORD CECIL SPEAKS TO THE U.S.A.

Lord Cecil in broadcasting a speech to the United States on Monday night expressed the view that Germany's re-occupation of the Rhineland should as a first step be referred to the Hague Court. Referring to Herr Hitler's offer of 25 years' non-aggression pacts he recalled that Germany was already bound by the Briand Kellogg pact never to use war as an instrument of national policy. Regarding the offer of a fresh demilitarised zone he asked what security was there that Hitler would not at some future time march into such a new zone.

The recent secret and sudden increase in the German airforce and Germany's abrupt withdrawal from the League of Nations were incidents which must be remembered in considering Herr Hitler's offer for partial limitation of air forces and his willingness to rejoin the League.

Warsaw. The press states that over a million Polish citizens in Germany intend boycotting the Reichstag election on the grounds that they are unallowed to put forward their own candidates.

RANDOM NOTES ON WORMINFECTIONS IN SHEEP.No. 5.

Last week the life history of the Wireworm (Haemonchus Contortus) was completed and a few remarks were made on the symptoms caused by infection from this type of worm. This parasite is usually present in sheep but does not cause any apparent harm unless the worms are present in very large numbers. It is important to remember that the Wireworm is incapable of reproducing itself within sheep, every individual of the thousands of worms which may be found in the Fourth Stomach, has been picked up in the pastures.

This week an endeavour will be made to put forward the better known lines of treatment for Wireworm infections. The details given below follow the lines laid down by Prof. M.O. Monnig, of the University of Pretoria, South Africa. Copper Sulphate, with or without nicotine or arsenic is generally employed, the copper sulphate being the active agent in combating this type of worm infection.

In the United States of America a 1 per centum solution of copper sulphate is administered at the rate of 100 c.c., for yearlings and older sheep, and 50 c.c., for lambs from three to twelve months old prior to the administration of the drug.

In South Africa and other countries, a powder mixture of four parts copper sulphate, partly dehydrated and one part sodium arsenite has been found to be most effective. Some authorities advocate the use of a liquid mixture as they maintain that a more exact dose can be given, but it must be understood that there is a very real danger of some of the fluid passing into the lungs unless given by an experienced person.

The mixture is placed in a container and each dose is measured out with a special graduated spoon. The measured amount is then emptied into a teaspoon and placed on the back of the tongue, as far back as possible; it is usual to dose the animal in the standing position to prevent aspiration of the powder into the lungs.

The dosage recommended in the South African Government Wireworm remedy is as follows :-

For lambs 2-4 months old - 0.2 gm of the mixture.
 For lambs 4-6 months old - 0.25 gm of the mixture.
 For lambs 6 months to 2 tooth - 0.375 gm of the mixture.
 For two tooth sheep - 0.5 gm of the mixture.
 For four tooth and over - 0.625 gm of the mixture.

The liquid remedy sometimes used, is made by mixing soft water 1 litre hydrochloric acid concentrate 15 c.c. and 62.5 gm of the powder. Of this solution 10 c.c., corresponds to the powder dose for an adult sheep.

It must be noted that smaller doses should be given to sheep in poor condition, or when they are not used to this remedy or when they are grazing on young grass in the Spring. It is advisable to dose a few animals only at first in order to watch the effect, before dosing the main flock. All animals should be kept from water for at least 7 hours before and after treatment, else rapid absorption of the drug may occur and lead to arsenical poisoning. Prolonged starvation before dosing appears to be unnecessary. Continuous treatment over regular periods is very essential. On heavily infected sheep and with animals in good condition treatment is required every 2 weeks, but under more normal conditions, treatment each month is advised.

MR. ANTHONY EDEN'S SPEECH.

London. Wednesday. In his speech at the Council meeting the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, said that he had already stated before the Council the view of his Majesty's Government that a patent and incontestable breach of the provisions of the Versailles Treaty relating to the demilitarized zone had been committed.

It would therefore in the opinion of His Majesty's Government be right for the Council to come to a similar conclusion and to notify this finding to the signatory powers of the Locarno Treaty.

In continuing Mr. Eden said our duty is not merely to declare that a breach has been committed. We must keep steadily before us our ultimate aim and our supreme responsibility which is to preserve peace and also to establish good understanding among the nations of Europe.

The question before the Council did not concern only a few powers but all powers who valued sanctity of treaties and reign of international law.

The German government had emphasised again and again that its aim was peace and restoration of confidence, but that it would surely recognize with other Governments that confidence depends on belief in sanctity of Treaties, and the unalateral repudiation of treaties can only nullify the objects which they maintain they have in view.

The British Government has represented to the German Government that pending negotiations the latter should take such action in the demilitarized zone as would restore confidence among the nations.

The contribution to the restoration of international confidence which had been severely shaken, and to the creation of security, would be required from all, and particularly from the great powers of western Europe.

Quetta. A further earthquake shock which is the twelfth since the 1935 disaster, rocked the town, but no damage is yet reported.

HITLER'S THIRD ELECTION SPEECH.

Berlin. A Daily Telegraph message from Frankfurt-on-Main states that Hitler's third election meeting was attended by 30,000, when he put the question "do you want to bury the hatchet with France" to which they unanimously affirmed.

Other points in the Fueher's speech were that he demanded for Germany equality and sovereignty, he had simplified democracy and had freed political life from confusion and instead of 47 programmes and 47 parties there was only one programme. In this he thought he could still count upon the nation's confidence.

COMMENTS ON THE RHINELANDSITUATION.

Paris reports dwindling support for negotiations and increasing approval for M. Flandin's uncompromising attitude towards the German demands with much blame attached to Britain for hesitant policy.

Holland considers that Herr Hitler is endeavouring to create a good impression both at home and abroad and that the storm will blow itself out.

Rome expresses interested perplexity with support for German equality claim but reserving its opinion on negotiation outcome.

Moscow. The proposal for a mixed Mongol-Manchukuo commission to deal with frontier incidents has been accepted in principle on both sides.

Madrid. Communists raided President Zamora's south Spain estate damaging barns and burning labourers' cottages but were eventually driven out by the police.

Cairo. A royal decree has fixed the parliamentary election for May 2nd.

THE GERMAN DELEGATES' SPEECH.

London. Noon, Thursday. Herr Von. Ribbentrop, who is the German Ambassador representing Herr Hitler, arrived in London yesterday but did not attend the meeting of the League Council which was proceeding at St. James' Palace.

A public session of the Council was held this morning following a brief private meeting. The President at once called upon Von Ribbentrop to address the Council. The German delegate's speech was delivered in his own language. He said that although Germany was not a member of the League, he had come to London to explain the German government's point of view regarding the present situation. They considered the Locarno Treaty as being dead, and that, not by the fault of Germany.

France he declared by getting nearer to Soviet Russia and concluding with her what was really a military alliance, had shown that she had not respected the Locarno Treaty. Germany had made great contribution to the Locarno Treaty by accepting the demilitarised zone. Germany had not a military alliance and in case of trouble she would be at a terrible disadvantage, and the European nations could not expect that Germany would be satisfied with the Franco-Soviet pact which gravely concerned the future of Germany.

If the present situation had existed at the time of Locarno, Germany would never have signed that Treaty in the interpretation of which France was too liberal to herself. In proceeding the German Ambassador declared that although France had promised to disarm she had not done so, and every peace proposal of Herr Hitler's had been refused again and again.

Germany could not believe that the Council could refuse to discuss proposals now made by the German Chancellor.

Germany wanted to live in peace with everyone; the German Chancellor's speech proved that, and the present proposals represented the lay-out of the first hope of building up of international confidence, and was inspired by the most heartfelt desire of a country living in the middle of Europe.

£58,000 CONTRIBUTION FORIMPERIAL DEFENCE.

London. Thursday. The Colonial Secretary, Mr. J.H. Thomas, announced in the House of Commons that the Straits Settlement Legislative Council had decided for the third year in succession to make a contribution towards the cost of Imperial Defence.

In expressing the Government's warm appreciation of this contribution, Mr. Thomas understood that it would amount to £58,000.

WAR NEWS.

Addis Ababa. Thursday. The Italian Government's protest to the League of Nations complaining that Abyssinian troops had attacked and killed a gang of workmen making military roads and terming this action "inhuman" and also an infringement of the rules of warfare, caused great astonishment in Abyssinian circles. Abyssinia cannot understand why military action which they hold to be in accordance with lawful custom can be made the subject of a protest by the Italians who since the beginning of hostilities had daily bombed open towns killing women and children as well as bombing red cross ambulances and dressing stations.

Rome. Two Abyssinian aeroplanes of the Potez type were discovered by Italian airmen on the Ciolla Amadir plain south of Lake Ashangi, despite the fact that they had been camouflaged against air observation. The Italian airmen, disregarding violent fire from anti-aircraft guns, descended to a low altitude, from which they bombed and destroyed both machines.

THE "GREAT BRITAIN".

The Falkland Islands Company recently asked permission to beach the "Great Britain", no longer used as a hulk, lest she should sink at her moorings. The alternative was to tow her out to sea and sink her.

The 25th of May next will be the fiftieth anniversary of the arrival of the "Great Britain" at Port William on the completion in 1886 of her last voyage after 40 years of battling with the oceans of the world.

It appeared to the Governor that if at all possible this famous vessel which has lain for half a century in our waters should be preserved and something of the appearance of her great days restored. His Excellency is accordingly seeking the advice of those best qualified to judge, on the practicability of saving and renovating her. It is estimated that not less than £5,000 will be required and His Excellency has written tentatively to the Lord Mayor of Bristol enquiring whether he would open a subscription list in the United Kingdom when a public appeal is made in the Press.

SERIOUS FLOODS THROUGHOUT AMERICA.

New York. Floods resulting from very heavy snow storms, followed by a rapid thaw, have caused untold damage in the eastern United States and include 50 deaths, while much more serious developments are threatened. The Ohio River rose 24 feet to its highest level since 1773, while the Alleghany Waters reached 44 feet, which is 17 feet above flood mark.

The City of Pittsburg is the worst affected, water in the streets being 5 feet deep and is virtually isolating the population of 700,000. All trading has been suspended and the Stock Exchange has been closed. Thousands of terror-stricken inhabitants have been rendered homeless. Horror has been added to the situation by the explosion of an oil plant in the adjacent town of Lawrenceville where ten tanks blew up and twenty-five brigades are battling knee-deep with the conflagration, while a near-by timber yard is also furiously blazing. Transport, water, electricity and gas have been cut off.

President Roosevelt has ordered the war department, the navy the treasury and all other departments to co-operate in rendering help to the stricken areas. Aeroplanes are assisting by carrying medical supplies to affected districts.

The City of Johnstown has been inundated by a cloud-burst which caused a 16 foot torrent to rush through the city, while a dam has also burst in New Hartford.

YESTERDAY'S MEETING OF THE LEAGUE COUNCIL.

London. After the vote by the Council of the League of Nations, Herr Von Ribbentrop expressed the belief that if time had been taken to consider his observations, a different decision would have been reached.

The Daily Telegraph states that without treaties, Europe cannot have peace, and it would be farcical to spend time over treaties with provisos that they will be interpreted by the whim of any signatory.

Meanwhile the delegates from fifteen countries representing 30,000,000 organised workers, met at the International Socialist Conference held in London and unanimously condemned Germany's violation of the Locarno Treaty.

The Berlin press, commenting upon Von Ribbentrop's speech, says that never before was a more just case put before the Council, but Holland comments that Germany is endeavouring to evade the legal issue and to divert its political channels. Reports from Strassbourg indicate that an unrelenting watch is being maintained on the Rhine Bridge by troops, with barbed wire in position.

UNITED STATES UNEMPLOYMENT.

Washington. President Roosevelt has asked Congress for a further 1,500 million dollars for relief work for the year commencing in July next. The President stated that the re-employment trend is upward but that the rate is inadequate. The labour department reports that nearly nine million are seeking work through various government employment agencies.

OBITUARY.

London. Sir James Cooper, financial controller for the Government of the Wembley British Empire Exhibition died yesterday at the age of 67 years.

The following, being of local interest, is published with all due respect to the Montevideo Times of the 16th January, 1936.

SILVER JUBILEE OF CANON BLOUNT, O.B.E.

The manner in which the new Lafone Hall was filled to overflowing yesterday afternoon was definite testimony of the love and respect won by the Reverend Canon Blount, O.B.E., and Mrs. Blount, during their twenty-five years' service in Montevideo. The platform was beautifully decorated with natural flowers, and before the ceremony those present were served with a delicious Tea.

After Canon and Mrs. Blount, H.M. Minister and Lady Effie Millington Drake, Mr. T. F. Lane and Mrs. Gallagher took their places on the platform Mr. Lane made the following speech :-

Ladies and Gentlemen, - You are all aware of the object of our gathering here this afternoon, the first which has taken place in the New Lafone Hall, and which therefore could not have been more appropriately inaugurated. Our excellent friend, the Rev. Canon C. K. Blount, O.B.E., M.A., who is so well known to every one of us, completed on January 8th, 1936, his 25 years of zealous and faithful work as Chaplain of Holy Trinity Church, Montevideo, he having conducted his first service in the old Church Building, now demolished, on the 8th January, '91, 25 years ago.

In order to celebrate in a modest way this Silver Jubilee of Canon Blount, and not to let this important event in his life to pass unnoticed, the Church Council felt that it would be a very appropriate moment to show to Canon Blount, the love and affection we all have for him, and our high appreciation of his long and faithful services, not only to the Church and all its Members, but also it may be said, to the whole of the Community.

The response was immediate and unanimous, and from all parts came hearty support of the idea, from Canon Blount's innumerable friends of the British and American Communities, as well as Uruguayans.

The Church Council thereupon decided to offer a small presentation to Canon Blount in celebration of the happy event, the subscriptions for which were purposely kept as low as possible, so that everyone could join in. It was also decided that the presentation should take the form of a Grandfather's Clock, with a suitably inscribed Plate on it, and this, Ladies and Gentlemen, is now standing before you, on the Platform.

My dear Canon Blount may I now at the request of the Church Council, and in the name of your many friends, accompanied with all our very best wishes, ask your kind acceptance of this presentation, and of the accompanying Purse. I have no doubt the chimes of the Clock will often remind you of this happy event.

If I may, I would like to take this opportunity of offering you also our heartiest congratulations on the honour which has recently been conferred upon you by His Gracious Majesty, the King.

Ladies and Gentlemen, before closing, there is just one other little matter I would like to refer to, and that is to express to Mrs. Blount, and to her daughters, the Misses Blount, our high appreciation for their readiness at all times, to assist in the work of the Church, and of other Community affairs".

Mr. Lane's address was interrupted by warm applause, after which Canon Blount replied. We regret that he made no copy of his speech, for it was symbolical of his faith, his human-ness, his quiet wit, and all of those qualities which have so endeared him to his Congregation during his twenty-five years among us. He told of the manner in which he came to the Falklands, how he was called to the Argentine, and how he finally and "provisorily" came to Montevideo - expecting to spend five years at the most and "get the Church a new Organ" before securing a nice little Parish in England close enough to a trout stream to "get a trout once in a while". His five years have become a quarter of a century - and the entire English-Speaking community in Montevideo has benefitted.

H.M. Minister, Mr. Millington Drake, then stated that he considered the event one of the happiest he had ever attended during his "almost twenty-five years' of service, and went on to declare that a united Community with a Chaplain such as Canon Blount and a new Church such as Holy Trinity will be, is a cause for happiness. In conclusion he warmly congratulated Canon Blount upon his Jubilee and the honour conferred upon him by His Majesty the King, and in the name of himself and Lady Effie wished Canon and Mrs. Blount many years more of happy life in Montevideo.

We feel that in conclusion we can only join in these good wishes, shared by our entire Community, irrespective of creed or nationality, and hope that we shall be present at Canon Blount's Golden Jubilee.

RACING.

The British Broadcasting Corporation have announced that they will relay a recording of the Grand National, which will be run on March 27th.

London. Saturday. The Oxford and Cambridge boat race has been fixed to start at 11.45 a.m., on April the 4th.

Both crews continue strenuous practice and according to the latest reports the Cambridge crew is showing the best speed.

Belfast. Yesterday the Police intercepted two men who were embarking on a steamer for England and seized a brown paper parcel containing 10,000 Irish Hospitals Sweepstake Tickets. The men were not detained but the police are retaining the tickets.

RHINELAND SITUATION.

London. Saturday. While Europe awaited Herr Hitler's reply to the Locarno Powers' peace proposals, and official Berlin circles regarded the plan as unacceptable, the Fuehrer addressed a large gathering at Hamburg without making any reference to these proposals, states the Daily Telegraph correspondent.

The Berlin press says that the restriction of sovereignty is unbearable discrimination, while there is general astonishment on the part of the man in the street that an international force will be established in the Rhineland.

In Paris the Foreign Minister, M. Flandin, expressed his opinion that French security has improved with greater effectivity than in 1914 and the press unanimously supports his statement.

FLOODS IN U.S.A.

Washington. With devastating floods in over twelve north-eastern States, the President summoned an emergency conference, and issued a proclamation appealing for three million dollars for red cross work. The Potomac River is 19 feet above normal and overflowing its banks, and is threatening Washington, where dykes are being hurriedly built and sand bag defences established around all public buildings. The destruction is so widespread that it is inestimable. A conservative reckoning places the damage at three hundred million dollars, while approximately 175 people are reported dead and 275,000 homeless.

The City of Pittsburg is still without newspapers, communications, heating and power. Police are patrolling the streets in boats to discourage looting. All residents of Springfield have been ordered to evacuate their homes.

Late flood news. President Roosevelt is considering an appropriation of 400,000,000 dollars for flood relief work.

CANADA AFFECTED BY THE FLOODS.

Montreal. A railway bridge across St. John's River was wrecked by the collapse of an ice-dam and it is feared that many lives have been lost as a result of the flood waters inundating farm lands. Business districts throughout Quebec and townships south of the St. Lawrence are all under water.

LONDON AWAITS GERMANY'S REPLY.

London. Noon, Saturday. The German reply to the League Council's proposals regarding the Rhineland situation is not expected to arrive in London before Sunday night. Herr Von Ribbentrop left London by air for Berlin for consultation with Herr Hitler who is returning from Hamburg for this purpose.

INCREASED SINGAPORE DEFENCE.

Singapore. Important plans to increase the Singapore air force are officially announced. A volunteer force is to be inaugurated. Training planes will be sent from England and the volunteer air force at the start will be strengthened by a strong nucleus of Royal Air Force Airmen. 100 volunteer recruits have already offered their service.

TOLL OF THE ROADS.

London. Road accident figures for last week were 89 killed and 3,035 injured compared with 105 killed and 2,870 injured in the previous week.

London. The Surveyor to the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's Cathedral reports that recent investigations reveal that a basin with 15 feet depth of water exists on the north side of the Edifice but that a dry area exists on the south side. He reports, however, that there is no fear of subsidences.

Sir,

I have the honour to refer to your despatch No. 143 of the 27th August, 1935, with regard to the financial relations of the Colony and the Dependencies.

2. You request that the whole of the balance of the Dependencies Research and Development Fund after completion of the "Discovery" investigations may be passed to the credit of the Colony: the Colony to assume the cost of all charges for the administration of the Dependencies and to receive the revenue derived therefrom.

3. When in 1919 authority was given for increasing the export duties of whale and seal oil from $3\frac{1}{2}d$ to $1/6d$ a barrel, directions were also given by the then Secretary of State to the Governor that the extra revenue should be carried to a separate fund from which would be defrayed the cost of the researches recommended in the report of the Interdepartmental Committee on Research and Development in the Dependencies of the Falkland Islands. The then Governor, Sir John Middleton, pressed strongly that the Colony and the Dependencies should be treated as a unit for financial purposes; but that contention has not been accepted by any of my predecessors. It was decided that a new statutory fund should be created under the title "The Dependencies' Research and Development Fund": this Fund was created by Ordinance No. 6 of 1924 which laid down the purposes of the Fund, the payments to be made into it, and the manner in which payments out of the Fund should be made.

4. The disposal of the sum standing to the credit of the Fund is, therefore, governed by this Ordinance, which I am advised does not admit of the diversion of any part of the amount to purposes unconnected with the Dependencies. For this reason and without entering into other aspects of the matter it is not possible for me to agree to your suggestion that a portion of the Fund should be assigned to the Colony.

5. As no separate Reserve Fund has been maintained, the Research and Development Fund represents the sole financial reserves of the Dependencies. The Dependencies provide no employment other than the whaling and sealing industries and have no non-official population apart from persons engaged in those industries; but whether or not any bases are maintained there for whaling or sealing operations, it will be necessary to make provision for the possibility of maintaining some form of British administration. This will necessarily entail recurrent expenditure on communications, etc., for which financial provision should be made without liability to the Colony or to the Imperial Exchequer. Consideration has therefore been given to the question of earmarking a portion of the Research and Development Fund as a general reserve for Dependencies' purposes. The Fund already possesses some of the characteristics of such a reserve, since it was credited in 1924 (on its inauguration) with the transfer of a substantial sum from the Dependencies' General Account. Moreover, the Fund has, with one exception, been credited, in each year in which a surplus has been realised, with the entire surplus of the revenue over expenditure and not merely the extra revenue obtained from the special increases in taxation imposed as from the year 1919 for the purpose of financing the researches recommended by the Interdepartmental Committee already referred to. The only exception is the year 1931 when a sum of £9,000 transferable to the Fund as part of the surplus realised in that year was held over to meet anticipated shortages of Dependencies' revenue in subsequent years. (The question of this amount and of deficits realised in subsequent years is dealt with later on in this despatch.) After full consideration of all the circumstances I have come to the conclusion that a sum of £150,000 should be regarded as reserved in the Fund as from the 1st January, 1936, as a provision for future expenditure on general purposes (other than the "Discovery" Investigations) directly connected with the Dependencies. I trust that this decision will relieve any local anxieties as to the possibility of the Dependencies becoming in the future a liability to the Colony.

6. Under the existing arrangements, the Dependencies have been properly charged with a share of the cost of the Central Administration. That contribution was fixed at the figure of

£9,000 in 1924 and was maintained at that figure until 1934. In view of the fall in revenue due to the decline of whaling based on the Dependencies, it then became necessary to review the amount of the contribution which was reduced to £8,000 in 1935, and the question of the amount of the contribution to be made in future years now calls for decision. According to paragraph 11 of your despatch you regard £7,000 as the minimum required to make it possible for the Government of the Colony "to enable the surplus population to maintain a decent standard of living": and in paragraph 22 of your despatch No. 166 of the 20th November, 1935, submitting the Estimates for 1936, you express the hope that I may see my way to authorising a contribution of £6,000 a year pending settlement of the disposal of the Fund after full provision has been made for the "Discovery" investigations. Strictly speaking, the contribution should be determined by the cost of the services rendered to the Dependencies by the Central Administration. But I see no reason to differ from the attitude adopted by my predecessors in regard to this matter, as a result of which the Colony has, as you recognise, benefitted materially. Neither do I wish to inconvenience your administration or the people of the Colony by taking too rigid a view now, although regard must necessarily be paid to the altered financial position of the Dependencies. Taking all the circumstances into consideration, I consider that I am justified in agreeing to the contribution being maintained at £8,000 in 1936 (the amount included in the draft Estimates) subject to subsequent reductions of £1,000 biennially to a figure of £4,000, which is the minimum I contemplate in the absence of any material change

in/

■ (NOTE. This figure was suggested by the Governor subject to the essential condition that the Colony should be allowed to absorb surplus Dependencies Revenue estimated at £2,000 a year).

in the position. Future Estimates should therefore provide for the contribution on the following scale :-

1939 and 1940	-	£6,000
1941 and 1942	-	£5,000
1943	-	£4,000.

7. I turn now to the questions (already alluded to) arising out of the fact that, including the contribution, the Dependencies' accounts have shown deficits in recent years. At the time Ordinance No. 6 of 1924 was passed, there was no prospect of the revenue proving insufficient for all Dependencies' purposes and no provision was made in the Ordinance for dealing with deficits which can only be met from the Fund, since, as already pointed out, it represents the sole reserve resources of the Dependencies. The amounts in question are (a) the sum of £9,000 withheld from the surplus realised in 1931 which was utilised to make up a deficiency (£2,697.9.10) in 1932 and a portion (£6,302.10.2) of the deficiency in 1933, and (b) the sums of £277.17. 3 and £1,987.12. 4 due to the Colony in respect of the balances of the authorised contributions for the years 1933 and 1934 respectively, which have not been paid in full owing to the shortage of revenue in those years. In addition, a deficit of £1,500 in 1935 is foreshadowed in your despatch No. 147 of the 25th September, 1935.

8. By a Resolution adopted on the 15th May, 1934, the Legislative Council approved, subject to the sanction of the Secretary of State, the adjustment of the above-mentioned transactions in respect of the years 1931, 1932 and 1933: but I am advised that such a Resolution is ultra vires Ordinance No. 6 of 1924, and that an amendment of the Ordinance is necessary to enable past and future deficiencies to be paid from/

from the Fund and to validate past payments out of the sum of £9,000 withheld from the Fund. I enclose a draft of an Ordinance which has been prepared by my Legal Advisers for this purpose, and I request that you will now take the necessary steps for its enactment unless you have any observations to offer on its terms, in which case I should wish to receive them by telegraph. I desire it to be understood that no action should be taken under sections 2 or 3 of the new Ordinance without prior reference to the Secretary of State.

9. In paragraph 10 of your despatch, you expressed the intention, if your proposal in that paragraph receives approval, to recommend that the export duty on whale and seal oil should be reduced from 1/6d to 6d a barrel as you see no justification for the higher rate. Although I have been unable to accept the proposal referred to I am prepared to consider some reduction in the rate of duty, if, in the light of the following remarks, you are still disposed to make such a recommendation. I am not satisfied, however, that with the improvement in prices the existing rate of export duty is unduly high. Also in my opinion the annual budget of the Dependencies should be prepared with a view to securing the closest possible balance between ordinary revenue and expenditure, including the contribution to the Colony; and I should feel compelled to regard critically any proposals for the remission of taxation or increased expenditure which could only be met by additional calls on the reserve in the Research and Development Fund. I should, moreover, be ready to consider a reduction in the duty if the financial position of the Dependencies should so improve that material surpluses of revenue are likely to be available: and in that case the existing statutory obligation to pay all surpluses to the Research and Development Fund may call for review.

10. The above decisions have been taken after the fullest consideration of the constitutional, legal and other aspects of the matter, and I hope that they will be accepted as an earnest that it is desired to deal fairly, not only with the Dependencies but also with the Colony whose loyalty is unimpeachable and whose contentment will, I trust, be fully restored by the passing away of causes due to the prolonged economic depression from which it has unfortunately suffered in common with the rest of the Colonial Empire.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient,

humble servant,

(Signed) J. H. THOMAS.

The above mentioned facts have been stated for the purpose of information of the Commission, and other agencies of the Government, and it is requested that they will be recorded as an official record of the Commission, and that they be made available to the public.

THE LOCARNO QUESTION.

Berlin. While all Europe is awaiting Herr Hitler's reply to the Locarno powers' proposals, Herr Von Ribbentrop, who flew from London, was received by the Chancellor. Later Herr Hitler received the Foreign Minister Von. Neurath and other Ministers who all took part in the important discussions.

The proposals have been bitterly attacked in the government controlled press. The Sunday Times correspondent states that Germany's reply will not be sent for some days, and it is firmly believed that the reply will declare Germany's intention to retire into isolation if her demands for full equality are not conceded. It is understood that conservative forces, including Dr. Schacht and army leaders, are urging a more conciliatory policy.

In France and Great Britain it is hoped that Herr Hitler will submit counter proposals to meet the points he rejects, but France is determined to make no further concessions.

U.S.A. MERCANTILE SUBSIDIES.

Washington. Direct government subsidies in construction and operation of merchant vessels were proposed in a bill introduced by Senator Copeland replacing indirect subsidies through inflated mail contracts.

The new maritime authority would pay the subsidies to the steamship companies based upon the difference of cost of constructing and operating in the United States and abroad, while mail contracts would be based on actual cost of transporting the mails.

COMMENTS BY LONDONSUNDAY NEWSPAPERS.

London. Sunday. Without a single exception all the great Sunday papers condemned the Locarno memorandum in most trenchant language, not one seriously reckoning with the possibility of its acceptance by Germany.

The creation of a new demilitarised zone twenty kilometres wide - if such were conceivably possible - visualised as a new catastrophe for all Europe.

The Sunday Times. The Sunday Times in its leading article reiterates that the agreement of the four Locarno powers constitutes a mere preliminary - first and foremost one must arrive at an understanding with Germany. Only when this is achieved will it be possible to discuss the chief problems, namely a permanent pact to make Europe secure against war, and this should be discussed at a world conference. But the door which the Locarno powers had opened to Germany must not be banged in their faces. Even if Germany refused the memorandum as it stands there is still room for discussion and negotiations.

The Sunday Observer. The news correspondent, Garvin, writing in the Observer, heads his leading article "Resuscitated Versailles", declaring that the proposals of the Locarno powers are as bad as can be. "Just imagine" he writes "a mixed foreign force - British and Italian - patrolling German territory". Herr Hitler's protest, he continues, against the Franco-Soviet Treaty, should be brought before the Hague Court. What has Hitler really violated? Not the excellent conciliatory provisions of the Locarno Treaty, but two antiquated moth-eaten restricted measures, taken over from the Treaty of Versailles and embedded in the Locarno pact. Herr Hitler must be given to understand that we do not want to inflict on the German nation the smallest fragment of inequality, we Britons, despite our good relations to other countries, do not hate the Germans. The Rhineland is free and rightly free, and free it will remain.

The Sunday Express. Lord Beaverbrook himself writes in the Sunday Express "God send us in this hour of need a man that can lead us". Beneath his article is a picture of the German Chancellor accepting flowers from a group of young girls. In the article itself, Lord Beaverbrook writes "The British people are convinced of the injustice of the Treaty of Versailles which in itself is quite indefensible, nor do the British people believe that this treaty can last. Nevertheless we send Germany a threat that unless the conditions are accepted Britain will make military alliance with France. But our conditions are utterly impossible and cannot be accepted by Germany. In this way Hitler's peace proposals are set at naught. The Dominions are not with England in this matter. They did not want to accept Locarno, much less are they now prepared to undertake European obligations that are likely to cause still graver harm".

Sunday Chronicle. The Sunday Chronicle heads its leading article "There is no reason for anxiety". Even though there will be temporary difficulties to surmount, the mobilisation of the forces of peace are proving more potent than the forces of war.

Paris. The French Sunday newspapers are more reserved in voicing their opinions than the English papers, and three considerations account for this (1) They are anxiously awaiting the answer from Germany which it is universally agreed cannot be acceptance; (2) The recoil of the whole of the British people from the nature of the proposals made to Germany, this attitude being viewed with apprehension, several newspapers fearing that the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, might now share the same fate as his predecessor Sir Samuel Hoare; (3) The attitude of neutral countries who are not disposed to allow the Locarno powers' agreement to be ratified by the League of Nations. The French paper "Le Journal" already sees the abandonment of the memorandum because of the ever-growing opposition, and remarks ironically that the best compromise would be a neutral zone one kilometre wide patrolled by the Salvation Army.

The London correspondent of the "Echo de Paris" emphasises the difficulties which the British Government are facing on account of the growing opposition to the memorandum. There is no doubt whatever, he adds, that the London Cabinet is facing a serious crisis, comparable with that which in last December, led to the fall of Sir Samuel Hoare.

The British public, by a great majority, are determined to resist every measure resembling however remotely a military alliance against Germany.

"Petit Parisian" records the unfriendly reaction of the British public to the proposals of the Locarno powers, especially that German territory should be occupied by foreign forces, even temporarily.

PRINCESS, A RED CROSS NURSE.

Rome. The great popularity enjoyed among the Italian people by the Crown Princess Marie Josee has further been enhanced by the announcement of her decision to serve as a Red Cross nurse in East Africa. It is understood that the Crown Princess will be leaving Naples in a few days' time onboard the Red Cross ship "Cesarea" and will do duty as an operation sister in a dressing station on the Eritrean front.

FOOD.No. 7.Mineral Salts.

These salts are very necessary because they are essential in regulating the work of certain organs of the body. Only very minute quantities of most of them are needed, but no other food ingredient can be substituted for them and the lack of them may have very serious results. For instance without iron and copper salts the red colouring of the blood could not be formed; without lime salts and phosphates, teeth and bones could not form or harden; without common salt certain gastric juices, essential to digestion, could not be formed, the heart itself could not beat without certain other salts.

Mineral salts are found in meat, fish, milk, cereals, vegetables and fruit: They remain as ash if these foodstuffs are burnt. In an ordinary mixed diet all the necessary salts are present. The chief salts which may be lacking are calcium, phosphorus, iron and iodides. Unfortunately calcium, a very important salt, is almost entirely lacking from the soil of the Falkland Islands, so we need to eat a great deal of calcium containing foods in order to take the required amount. The chief sources of calcium in our diet are milk and cheese; it is also found in egg yolk, green vegetables and bran. Phosphorus is present in milk, cheese, egg yolk, oatmeal, and bran; Iron is found in meat, liver, egg yolk, green vegetables, and oatmeal; Iodine is present in all fish and shell fish, and also in onions, watercress and beet leaves. The protective food ingredient; foods which contain them in large amounts are known as protective foods.

GENERAL SMUTS AND THE RHINELAND.

Capetown. "I think the danger of war is past" declared General Smuts in paying a tribute to the manner in which the British Government has handled a perilous situation. "At last, I think, we are at the end of a chapter, a very dangerous end, which might have cast us into war. Herr Hitler has offered an air pact and also twenty-five years of peace for western Europe. Let us hope that the nations will hammer out a solid lasting peace".

DE VALERA ORDERED REST.

Dublin. Mr. De Valera, the President of the Executive of the Irish Free State, has been urged by his medical advisers, to rest, and it is understood that he is leaving for Zurich to consult eye specialists, as he has been suffering from eye trouble for many months, official documents having had to be prepared in larger type to relieve his eye-strain.

The strain of his work and the death of his son have seriously affected his health.

London. Owing to the increased speed of military aeroplanes, it is now realised that fighters can no longer be relied upon to intercept bombing raiders. Air defences are being improved, but it is necessary to rely upon the deterrent effect of potentially terrible counter offensive.

London. The Oxford University rugby tour to California has been cancelled, as satisfactory arrangements for the tour could not be made.

"QUEEN MARY" READY TO LEAVETHE CLYDE.

Glasgow. 600,000 people stood in queues for hours on Sunday to gaze at the R.M.S. "Queen Mary" and 10,000 were shown over the liner.

This is a foretaste of the one and a half million people who are expected to watch the passage down the Clyde on Tuesday. Eight tugs will be engaged in towing the "Queen Mary" seawards, and four of the tugs will accompany her on fourteen miles of the sea voyage. The "Queen Mary's" tonnage is registered at Lloyds as 80,773, in comparison with that of the French liner "Normandie" whose tonnage is shown as 80,000.

Pittsburg. A fifteen inch snowfall has added to flood hardships, causing the suspension of urgent relief work. Massachusetts has appointed an official control over all supplies of food, fuel, clothing and medical requirements. The majority of farms in Pennsylvania have been deprived of all their topsoil, and losses in livestock are reported to be enormous.

NAVAL TREATY.

London. The Naval Treaty will be signed on Wednesday at St. James's Palace by the United States France and members of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Addis Ababa. It was reported yesterday that thousands of bombs were dropped over Jijiga doing great damage. Fifteen people are stated to have been killed and over seventy injured. In Abyssinian military circles it is thought that this bombardment is a preliminary to a new drive into Ogaden and that the Italians will attempt to cut a new road between Jijiga and Berbera.

PROPOSALS ONLY.

London. Questioned in the House of Commons on the European situation, the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, stated that in the course of his conversations with the German delegate, Von Ribbentrop he had emphasised that the contents of the document which had been handed to him were absolutely in the nature of proposals. I made it clear, Mr. Eden continued, that His Majesty's Government hoped that the German Government would be able to accept the proposals, but in any event the British Government felt that the German Government should assist them in their difficult task by making some constructive contribution to improve the present situation.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Marshal Badoglio's communique states that the Jijiga bombing resulted in the destruction of supplies and magazines as well as depots, while organisation behind the lines continues uninteruptedly and the bridge across the Takasse River has been completed.

According to the Daily Telegraph Addis Ababa correspondent the Italians are using gas on both fronts on a greater scale than heretofore, while a Harrar message states that one patient was killed and six wounded when the Finnish Red Cross hospital was destroyed in yesterday's bombing. The total casualties during the Jijiga raid by 19 planes were 15 killed and 80 wounded, including many British Somalis.

Capetown. Addressing the South African Navy League, the Duke of Montrose argued that the time had arrived when the self-governing Dominions should contribute to defence, and suggested that the responsibilities of South Africa's long coastline were best met by naval defence.

U.S.A. FLOODS.

Washington. Reports from flood areas indicate that the eastern states have been ravaged to the extent of 500 million dollars with 171 deaths, hundreds injured and half a million rendered homeless.

In New England and Pennsylvania the waters are receding but Portsmouth and Cincinnati are now menaced by the Ohio River flood-waters which are within a foot of the top of the sixty foot dyke. Many citizens are evacuating district.

HITLER'S REPLY EXPECTED TO-DAY.

Berlin. It is officially announced that Von Ribbentrop is flying to London on Tuesday and it is inferred that he is returning with Hitler's reply to the peace proposals of the Locarno powers, states the Daily Telegraph correspondent. It is understood that there will be no flat rejection of the proposals and it is believed that the British Ambassador, Phipps' appeal to Hitler has turned the scales in favour of further negotiations. There is widespread praise for General Smuts' South African speech while the press generally makes an appeal for open diplomacy. Nevertheless grave appreciation still exists of proposals which might bring about encirclement of Germany by the completion of a military understanding between Britain, France and Belgium.

Rome. The tone of Mussolini's speech to the Grand Assembly of corporations is considered to indicate his belief that a European war is impending. The Duce has announced two measures aimed at making Italy a completely military state, directing the whole economic and political organisation of the country to warlike ends.

GERMANY CANNOT ACCEPT.

Berlin. The provisional German reply to the proposals contained in the four power memorandum was handed in on Thursday evening and is a document of over 1,500 words. After completing the document Herr Hitler attended a further election meeting and dealt with Germany's attitude.
 When Herr Hitler entered the election hall he was given a tremendous reception and he began his speech by appealing for a clear verdict on his recent actions when the vote is taken on the 29th March. He said that the election up to date had proved that they were talking nonsense who maintained that Germany was under a dictatorship. He continued "when as a representative of Germany I met difficulties, I never yielded to privileges claimed by other nations, and I never will" (loud cheers).
 Hitler declared that Soviet Russia was the power which was against peace and declared "I won't, iron man that I am, submit to special treatment. I have the same honour and integrity as any man". He added the latest statements from other nations show that they decline the proposals that have been made to us, therefore they should not be surprised if we refuse to accept them and say no ! no ! no ! A German can never

IRISH SENSATION.ENGLISH ADMIRAL SHOT DEAD.

London. Noon, Wednesday. Large forces of armed Civil Guards are co-operating in an intensive search for the gunman who yesterday shot dead Vice-Admiral Somerville at his home, Castle Townshend in County Cork.

The discovery of posters urging young Irishmen to join the British Army and Navy was found near the Admiral's home when he was found dead, and has led to the theory that Admiral Somerville's interest in recruiting campaigns may have been the motive for the crime.

"QUEEN MARY'S" TRIALS.

London. Noon, Wednesday. The great liner "Queen Mary" left her temporary anchorage this morning for the Isle of Arran where she is to undergo tests over an Admiralty measured mile. It is not expected that she will be run at full speed to-day, but she will be put through stringent steering tests. The "Queen Mary" will probably return to the mouth of the Clyde this afternoon and will commence her journey to Southampton this evening, where everything is in readiness for her reception Friday. The largest dry dock in the world - the King George V. Graving Dock - was specially built for the "Queen Mary" as a part of the Southern Railway's £13,000,000 dock extension scheme. The largest ship to enter the dry dock so far is the "Majestic" whose registered tonnage is shown as 56,000, against the "Queen Mary's" 80,773.

Brazil. Owing to further disorders in many parts of Brazil, a state of war was declared last night. The decree was signed and will be in operation for 90 days.

EXCHEQUER'S RETURNS.REVENUE & EXPENDITURE.

London. Tuesday. The Exchequer returns show that the total ordinary revenue, excluding self-balancing items, amount to £728,271,283, with only ten days to run before the end of the financial year, as compared with £700,711,137 on the corresponding date in 1935, and compare favourably with the budget estimates for the whole year of £734,740,300.

The customs yield to date is £192,028,000 as compared with £181,832,000 for the same period of last year, and this sum already exceeds the customs estimate for the whole year by £3,458,000.

Receipts from income tax last week were £4,778,000, and to date they are only £2,299,000 behind the year's estimated income tax returns.

The total ordinary expenditure, exclusive of self-balancing items, is shown as £724,117,403, as compared with £687,351,338 on the corresponding date of last year.

ITALO-ABYSSINIAN DISPUTE.

London. Wednesday. Senor de Madariaga, following yesterday's decision of the League Committee of 13, of which he is chairman, to seek a settlement of the Italo-Abyssinian dispute within the framework and in the spirit of the League Covenant, opened negotiations with both Abyssinian and Italian representatives at St. James's Palace, and it is now expected that he will remain in London for a few days in order to continue these negotiations.

STORES DEPARTMENT.

TO ACCEPT THE PROPOSALSWOULD ONLY HUMILIATE US FURTHER.

London. Noon, Wednesday. The reply to the proposals of the other four Locarno powers which was delivered late last night to the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden by Herr Von Ribbentrop, stated that though the German Government was compelled to reject the proposals in all its points which would affect the honour and equality rights of Germany, the German Government felt at the same time that they must comply with the British Government's suggestions by presenting new proposals, and these will if possible be sent to London on March the 31st, as the German Government are this week making their final preparations for their elections and state that they are not in a position at present to draw up such an extensive document requiring such profound consideration. In the course of this interim reply the German Government states that lasting agreements can only be concluded in an atmosphere of sympathetic recognition of equal rights of all nations. Herr Hitler declares that the Locarno Powers proposals are based on new discriminations against Germany.

Comments in Paris state that the terms of the reply from Germany justify the firmness of the French stand.

A full statement by the British Government is generally expected in the House of Commons debate which it is now almost certain will take place to-morrow, Thursday. There is no editorial comment on the German reply in the Times, Daily Telegraph or the Morning Post. The Daily Herald says that the problem of the moment is to find an agreed basis for negotiations. As the German Government finds that the proposals which have been put forward by the four Locarno powers are unacceptable, it is up to them to produce not a gradios scheme for the future but practical proposals for the present. The German reply gives no indication that Herr Hitler has even grasped the nature of the problem. If he does genuinely desire negotiations he must do better than this. If we may judge from the co-ordinated chorus of the German newspapers, there seems some danger of a German misunderstanding of the British public's opinion. Certainly people of this Country firmly believe that the German nation has had much less than a square deal since the world war, and that the German demands for equality are justified. But equally the British public believe that the German Government has given just grounds for apprehensions it has created, and that wide suspicion of the value of Herr Hitler's promises is a natural outcome of his recent actions. If Hitler wished for a new deal he must act in a manner which will restore confidence and not one that will cause suspicion. The Daily Mail says that the terms of the German reply offer no reason why negotiations should not proceed in an effort to reconcile the various points of view.

WAR NEWS.

Addis Ababa. Tuesday. Italian aeroplanes carried out a further bombardment on Jijiga yesterday which is the third attack within three days. As the inhabitants had been warned in good time, Jijiga was practically evacuated and it is understood that there were no casualties. Considerable damage is reported to have been caused by the many tons of bombs which have been dropped over this period.

It is reported from the capital Abyssinian women are busily engaged in manufacturing gas masks out of flannel, but it is thought that they will have little effect against poisonous gasses.

Cairo. An Italian patrol consisting of two officers and three soldiers who some time ago were arrested for having crossed the Egyptian-Libyan frontier have just been set at liberty but they must remain in Cairo and report regularly to the police.

RANDOM NOTES ON WORMDISEASES AMONGST SHEEP.No. 6.

During the last few weeks the Twisted Wireworm or Stomach Worm, (Haemonchus Contortus) was under review. There is however another kind of stomach worm, which is very closely allied in habits, appearance and position of infection, this is the Lesser Stomach Worm (Ostertagia Circumcincta), which like the wireworm, belongs to the family of Trichostrongyles of the Nematode or round worm group.

This worm is much smaller than the Twisted Wireworm and not easily seen when embedded in the stomach wall or in the stomach contents, the male worm measures 7.8 to 8.5, m.m. and the female 9.5 to 12.5, m.m. long. The parasite is brownish in colour from the food in the intestine, and is usually found in the lower part of the stomach and duodenum. The egg hatches out in 24 - 48 hours, reaching the infective stage in six days, but in the colder climate, such as the Falkland Islands, the period is probably longer.

The larva withstands considerable drying and is stimulated by light. Like the wireworm, it is a ready climber up the blades of grass. The infection of the host occurs through the mouth. The infective larva after being ingested with the food, penetrates the mucosa of the abomasum causing a small circular raised area. Inside this area the worm develops to maturity, maturity being reached in about three weeks after infection, and then it may be found projecting through the centre of the raised part or living free on the mucus membrane. The worm sucks blood and in heavy infections causes anaemia, wasting, weakness and eventually death.

Treatment for this worm disease is very disappointing in as much as it is difficult to get any drug to act on the parasites at the bottom of the abomasum and duodenum. The use of tetrachlorethylene has been recommended, also copper sulphate and crude nicotine sulphate, but the chief line of attack must be in proper arrangements for grazing. The arrangements should be in such a manner that the opportunity for lambs to pick up infection is reduced to a minimum. Parasitic worms of the fourth stomach of sheep are so common that they are regarded as almost normal inhabitants, and it is only when conditions, such as poor feeding, are in their favour, that they occur in such large numbers as to do harm. Overcrowding should be avoided; ewes and lambs should be placed on pasture, which has been free from sheep for twelve months.

The two worms recently under review are responsible for the outbreaks of Parasitic Gastritis, a condition well known and feared by stock men.

NAVAL TREATY SIGNED.

London. Wednesday. The London Naval Treaty providing for advanced notification of annual building programmes, and for exchange of information defining categories of ships and of standard displacement and setting out of agreed qualitative limits for each category, was signed at St. James's Palace this afternoon by Mr. Norman Davis and Vice-Admiral Standley representing the United States, by the French Ambassador and Vice-Admiral Robert representing France, by Mr. Anthony Eden and the First Lord of the Admiralty, Lord Monsell representing Great Britain, and by representatives of the Dominions. The Italian Ambassador, Sr. Grandi, did not sign although he was present. Qualitative limitations laid down in the Treaty are for capital ships of 35,000 tons carrying 14 inch guns provided that all signatories of the Washington Treaty accept these limitations, otherwise 14 inch guns will be replaced by 16 inch; for aircraft carriers 23,000 tons and 6.1 inch guns, and for submarines 2,000 tons and 5.1 inch guns. Cruisers are divided into those mounting guns above 6.1 inches, of which none are to be built during the currency of the Treaty, and those for which limits are set at 8,000 tons and 6.1 inch guns. The zone of non-construction starting at 8,000 tons is carried up to 17,500 tons. The final section of the Treaty provides for consultations with a view to relaxation of restrictions in the event of non-signatories not observing limits or other certain events. The First Lord of the Admiralty in his speech said that the Treaty made no provision for direct quantitative limitation and that in the British Government's views this was a matter of deep regret.

THE GRAND NATIONAL.

Liverpool. Thursday. The question on everybody's lips is will "Golden Miller" repeat her 1935 performance or her smashing win of 1934, or will "Reynoldstown" become the first horse since "The Colonel" in 1870 to win the race in successive years. The popularity of "Golden Miller" and "Reynoldstown" are bringing record crowds to Liverpool for this great sporting event, and it is impossible to book seats in trains or in aeroplanes leaving London. It is thought probable that night trains will have to be run to-night to cope with the excess traffic. Owing to the fact that a great number of backers have been welshed out of large sums of money in previous years, the police are taking special precautions against such a recurrence. Policies have been taken out with Lloyds against "Golden Miller's" win. One backer stands to win £500,000 should "Golden Miller" be successful. Other well fancied horses are "Avenger", "Gastle Irwell", "Lazybones", "Buckhorn" and "Keen Blade".

PERJURY IN COURT.

Glamorgan. Wednesday. Justice Humphreys in delivering sentences on 52 men and women convicted of offences in connection with a colliery strike, described the defence evidence as a mass of perjury, and a Deacon of the local Chapel, who was one of the accused, as a hypocrite and sentenced him to 4 months' imprisonment.

INSULT TO GERMAN HONOURAND DIGNITY.

London. Thursday. According to the Daily Telegraph, the outcome of the foreign affairs' debate will show that Great Britain does not contemplate further continental commitments beyond those contained in the Locarno pact, and while France is insistent on a German undertaking not to fortify the Rhine zone, Hitler is not likely to make any concessions. It is felt that some concession is required in view of the solemn international obligation which was freely negotiated and has now been flung aside, and unless this is obtained nobody in London believes that discussion of new treaties is possible. Herr Von Ribbentrop will remain in London until tomorrow with the intention of watching the trend of public opinion. France bitterly criticises the British attitude, states a Paris message, but moderate circles point out that the Government is helpless in face of public opinion, while the hope is expressed that this will be gradually enlightened relative to Germany's real intentions. Herr Hitler's Ludwigshafen speech yesterday described the Locarno Powers' proposals as an insult to German honour and dignity, and hinted at a definite refusal.

HIS MAJESTY TO ATTENDMAUNDY THURSDAY SERVICE.

London. Wednesday. His Majesty the King will perform the ancient ceremony of distributing gifts to as many deserving old people as the present years of his age when he attends the Maundy Thursday Service at Westminster Abbey on April the 9th. When his father the late King George attended the service in person two years ago, it was the first time for two hundred years that a reigning monarch had done so.

MR. EDEN ASKS MINISTERS TO WAIT.

London. Wednesday. The House of Commons debate on foreign affairs will take place on Thursday (to-day) and several members who were asking questions on Wednesday afternoon were urged by the Foreign Secretary to await the official statement which will be made on Thursday so that they can form their questions round this statement.

Keen disappointment is felt at the unhelpful character of the German memorandum in reply to the four power proposals, which was apparent both in official and journalistic circles.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Wednesday. Marshal Badoglio's war report states that the Somali air force again bombed Jijiga with 30 aeroplanes in massed formation, destroying store houses, depots, motor sections and military buildings, and dropping over 12 tons of bombs and explosives during this raid. Djibuti reports state that supplies are still reaching the bombed areas by desert tracks during the night.

An Addis Ababa report states that further bombing has occurred of Red Cross units, while many cattle have died through eating gas impregnated grass. A message from Harrar announces that the Italian advance has begun on the Ogaden, and that Sassabaneh has fallen.

MOTOR CAR RALLY.

London. Wednesday. Over 300 competitors started on a 1,000 mile race rally covering Torquay by circuitous routes from London, Glasgow, Blackpool, Bristol, Buxton, Leamington, Harrogate, Newcastle and Yarmouth, with the ruling that a speed of 24 miles per hour must be maintained, including rest time.

AMERICA AND THE NAVAL CONFERENCE.

Washington. Thursday. The United States are pleased with the results of the London Naval Conference, although the new Treaty, while showing substantial progress towards limitation, did not go as far as was hoped. It is understood that South Africa did not sign the Treaty since she possesses no warships, and does not contemplate building any. The Irish Free State did not sign the Treaty for these same reasons.

DEATH OF VICE-ADMIRAL SOMERVILLE.

Cork. Thursday. The murderer of Vice-Admiral H.B. Somerville, C.M.G., still remains at large. It is believed that the crime is due to republicans anti-sympathy with the Admiral's naval recruiting activities. The Irish Free State government is determined to use every possible resource to track down the murderer or murderers, and a wide-spread police net has been thrown out.

FOOTBALL BETTING LEGISLATION.

London. Thursday. A strong opposition is forming towards football pool betting and a Bill is due for its second reading on the matter in the House of Commons on Friday week. Many conservative members have tabled an amendment seeking regulation in the interest of subscribers, but expressing the view that the Bill is unjustifiable as it would interfere with private liberties. It is anticipated that this amendment will be carried.

New York. Wednesday. Tornados and storms continue to sweep the Mississippi Valley. The Ohio River has quietened, but lowlands in the Cincinnati region are more widely inundated. Industries are re-opening in Connecticut and New England.

Clyde. Thursday. The liner "Queen Mary" sailed at 0212 this morning from Grenock on her first voyage to Southampton. During last evening tugs and pleasure steamers had been sailing round her and there were still a considerable number of people lining the banks of the Clyde when she sailed. The "Queen Mary" was brilliantly lit and spectators cheered as she passed out of sight. At Southampton when she is dry-docked, she will be examined and cleaned. The examination will have particular interest in view of the fact that she grounded twice in her passage down the Clyde on Tuesday.

EXTRACTS FROM MR. EDEN'S SPEECH.

London. Thursday. The House of Commons was crowded yesterday afternoon for the eagerly awaited statement by the Foreign Secretary on the international situation. All the galleries were full, and among the many distinguished foreigners present were the French and German Ambassadors and Mr. Norman Davis of the United States.

In preparing his statement with explanations, Mr. Eden proposed to use frankness and freedom unusual in speeches on international affairs in order to put the whole situation and its many problems before the British people in a clear and true prospective. Mr. Eden declared they must distinguish between what might be national sentiment and what were good or ill of national obligations. After reviewing the history of the demilitarised zone as a factor in French security and the recital of the German failure to observe the procedure laid down in the freely negotiated treaties, he said he believed in the judgment of the British people - even those who thought that Germany had a strong case - because Germany had chosen to deprecate her case by using force and not reason. Turning to the position of Great Britain he read article 4 of the Locarno treaty and reminded the House that this country was not freely and happily placed as an arbiter, but was a guarantor with definite commitments. "I want in all bluntness to make this plain to the House. I am not prepared to be the first British Foreign Secretary to go back on a British signature". At the same time they were bound by Article 7 of the Locarno Treaty to seek by conciliation to bring about a peaceful agreement and understanding. Coming to the four power proposals designed to bridge the period before negotiations, the Foreign Secretary repeated that the proposals were not an ultimatum or diktat, and if the German Government could offer some alternative suggestions the British Government would be prepared to take them to other nations for consideration, but it must be appreciated that without some constructive contribution from the German side the task of those whose sole aim and ambition was to start negotiations, would be almost impossible. Mr. Eden continued; firstly he said the negotiations were for a period pending conversations between France and Belgium and also Germany's reply after the elections; secondly would be part of a general settlement which they hoped would come out of the negotiations; and thirdly was in the event of a breakdown of these negotiations. The first was designed to compensate the loss of security suffered by France and Belgium and would be strictly limited and clearly defined by obligations under Locarno Treaty. Comparing technical conversations with staff discussions before 1914, Mr. Eden made a point, the latter were unaccompanied by political understandings and consequently their implications were indeterminate, whereas conversations now would be for specific and limited purpose already defined in political agreements. Wherever staff conversations were mentioned in proposals, it was clearly shown that they applied only to a case of unprovoked aggression. He hoped these conditions would never arise, but he was confident that they were much less likely to do so if the British position was perfectly clear. In the case of an undertaking into which Britain was prepared to enter as part of the final settlement, guarantees between powers of Western Europe would be reciprocal, and Britain would receive as well as give guarantees, and would share in the security as well as in the risk. New guarantees would be opened to all Locarno signatories, including Germany. Mr. Eden said he would like to see Germany's return to the League, and continued he believed they were only at the beginning of a period which must at the best be one of the most critical in international negotiations, and there were a few general observations that he thought a British Foreign Secretary ought to make. I do not intend to approach the problem of the immediate future with the idea of being bound to divergent policies either of France or of Germany. Our policy is covenant and membership of the League. We know our obligations, and we are prepared to fulfil them, but what is uppermost in my mind, and I believe uppermost in the minds of a great mass of British people, is, we must persist in our search for peace on enduring foundations; If we are to achieve this, we shall need help from all.

I would like to say to France that we cannot ensure peace unless you are ready to approach with an open mind the problems which still separate you from Germany, and I would like to say to Germany how can we hope to enter into negotiations with any prospects of success unless you are prepared to do something to allay anxieties in Europe which you have created. The British, whose one aim is peace, whose one ambition is a European settlement, whose one political objective is the support of the League of Nations, will judge all other nations by the spirit and by the extent in which they co-operate in this task.

Political and journalistic comments on Mr. Eden's speech will be published in tomorrow's issue of the 'Penguin'.

WAR NEWS.

London. Friday. The volume of evidence that the Italians are using mustard gas (poison gas) against the Abyssinians, cannot be ignored, and it is considered by Red Cross doctors serving with neutral ambulances that they have established a case against the Italian Government.

COURT MOURNING.

London. Friday. Queen Mary's wish that everyone not connected with the Court should discard mourning for the late King George after Easter has been communicated to one hundred leading hostesses by Lady Howard de Walden. The incident is probably without precedent in social history and assures a brilliant season with an enormous increase to fashion business and its allied trades, while summer functions, including Ascot, will return to traditional gaiety.

FALKLAND ISLANDS 1s/- SILVER JUBILEE STAMPS.

A newspaper cutting received per "Lafonia" mail states that four Falkland Islands 1s/- stamps, issued for King George's Silver Jubilee, which show an extra flag on the pictures of Windsor Castle, fetched £18. 10s/- at Harmer's Rooms, New Bond-Street, London.

LONDON NAVAL TREATY.

New York. Friday. Officials of the State Department emphatically insist that the three power Naval Treaty in no sense constitutes an alliance between Great Britain and the United States, and emphasis is laid on this point. Senator Pittman has already criticised certain clauses, while other officials agree on the announced American policy to possess a navy second to none.

Germany welcomes the Treaty as a deathblow to disarmament, Tokio remains uninterested, but the Italian press describes the Naval Agreement as one more manifestation of international imbecility.

FRENCH STEAMER TURNS TURTLE.

Paris. Nine lives were lost when the French steamer "Boree", 1145 tons, turned turtle after being in collision in fog off Caen yesterday morning. Thirteen of the crew were rescued, but despite a three hours' search by the Cromer and Wells lifeboats, no other survivors were found.

IMPROVEMENT OF PASTURES.

It will be recollected that at the Farmer's Conference held in May of last year it was decided to seek the best advice obtainable in connection with the improvement of grass lands and that a grant should be sought from the Colonial Development Fund to meet the expenditure.

The Secretary of State was good enough to approach the Welsh Plant Breeding Station which has shewn such marked success under Professor Stapledon. It was decided to seek the advice of Mr. William Davies of that Station who has carried out similar missions to Australia and New Zealand at the request of the Governments of those Dominions.

The services of Mr. Davies could not be obtained until the spring of 1937. He is at present in charge of all the grassland investigations at the Welsh Station. Professor Stapledon in writing about the problems in the Falklands said that the value of Mr. Davies' visit "would be of enormously increased value if certain quite small and primitive experimental plots could be laid down immediately on the basis of which" he thought "it would be possible to draw up an extraordinarily important and valuable report which could be put forward with almost complete confidence" and that experiment was essential.

The Government accordingly obtained sufficient seed and manure for twelve plots to be prepared on eleven farms and in the neighbourhood of Stanley. Time between the arrival of the consignment from the United Kingdom and opportunity for despatch to the farms was exceedingly brief and the invoices had not been received with the regrettable result that some of the farms received incorrect assortments and the farmers did not take delivery: in other cases they did their best with what had been received and successful planting has resulted.

A report from one farm manager as an example, states that he planted one plot after fertilizing on the 26th of January on fully tilled plough land and that this is showing up very well. For a second plot for which he had seed only, without the manures, he prepared half an acre of rough diddle-dee camp by burning, then simply rough scratching the surface twice with a 7 line cultivator, and then sowing after good rain. This was planted a month after the first lot and is coming up very successfully. The plot is unfenced in a settlement paddock under grazing by sheep and horses.

It is proposed to continue the experiments this year if more farm managers will undertake to plant plots as Professor Stapledon so strongly recommends.

COMMENTS ON MR. EDEN'S SPEECH.

London. Friday. The Foreign Secretary's frank statement of British policy in the House of Commons on Thursday, met with some measure of approval in Parliament and in newspapers.

Mr. Winston Churchill said that he looks upon the Rhineland coup only as a manifestation of the swift transformation of Germany into an armed machine, and he declared that the only way to avert war was to organise under the League of Nations complete pacts of mutual assistance which would not constitute an encirclement, because they would be strictly defensive and would at the same time offer Germany a guarantee.

Mr. Winston Churchill added that France might have taken to the sword but that instead she had appealed to the League of Nations.

Major Atlee advocated the following of a straight League policy and said that he hoped that the world conference would deal with the main economic problems of closed markets. He declared that it was ridiculous to bring in Italy as policemen in Germany.

Mr. Neville Chamberlain, referring to the immediate issue, re-affirmed the desire to get negotiations under way but recognised the impossibility of doing so until Germany had done something to restore confidence.

Mr. Dalton declared it was fantastic and absurd even considering the mixing of English and Italian troops as a Rhineland force.

Mr. Lloyd George described Herr Hitler's act as "organising a torchlight procession through a powder magazine".

The Times says that Mr. Eden's speech, which was an admirable parliamentary performance, has successfully put an end to the notion that the Government have any intention of committing themselves too deeply, but there has been a breach of a treaty which binds Great Britain. No court could hold that the British guarantee to maintain the treaty was not applicable to the events of March the 7th. All British opinion is with Mr. Eden in his request for some constructive contribution from Berlin.

The Morning Post says that Mr. Eden's policy seems wise as well as pacific. Proposals have been made to Germany which she is free to reject at her pleasure, and nothing whatever is threatened against her.

The Daily Telegraph recalls that the Locarno Treaty, which Germany now repudiates, was entered into at the request of that nation and on whose suggestion the demilitarised zone was made a part of the undertaking.

The Daily Herald, while conscious of the many difficulties, expresses keen disappointment that Mr. Eden's speech by prominence given to the British Government's anxieties for Western Europe, has allowed the League of Nations and collective security to fade into second place.

Berlin. Mr. Eden's speech in the House of Commons has aroused little or no interest. The chief source of dissatisfaction in Germany appears to be Mr. Eden's insistence on Germany's help to ensure future negotiations by making some definite contribution, and also that Mr. Eden had emphasised that Germany had declined to refrain from further fortification of the Rhineland. One German newspaper states that after all that has happened, nobody could expect Germany to leave her frontiers unfortified against an invasion by foreign troops. The paper added that the Franco-Soviet pact has made the protection of frontiers a vital matter, and it is being treated as such.

THE GRAND NATIONAL.

Avenger started favourite at 100/30 but fell at the first fence when starting the second circuit, breaking his neck as a result.

Golden Miller, who was much fancied and heavily backed, apparently threw his jockey at the first fence. The jockey remounted but Golden Miller again refused and was then withdrawn from the race.

Davy Jones started at 100/1 and was leading throughout the race and appeared to be increasing his lead all the time. Between the last two fences, however, when he looked an easy winner, he ran off the course. It was later reported that Davy Jones' jockey lost control owing to the reins breaking which resulted in Reynoldstown being left an open field, winning the race easily and comfortably.

Reynoldstown is the first horse to win the race in consecutive years since "The Colonel's" victory in 1869/70.

THREE FLAGS HOISTED ON ACONCAGUA.

Buenos Aires. A German mountaineer named Link, with two other German residents of Buenos Aires at present undertaking an expedition for the Topographical Meteorological exploration of the Southern Andes, succeeded on March the 22nd in scaling South America's loftiest peak, "Aconcagua" which is shown as 23,000 feet high. This is the first time the mountain has been ascended by one man alone.

The feat was accomplished after the expedition had established nine camps, the highest being at an altitude of 20,000 feet, and from this ninth camp Link proceeded alone to the summit on which he hoisted the Argentine flag, the German Swastika and the Olympic flag.

Aconcagua was first scaled in 1897 by Vines and Zurbruggen of the Fitzgerald Expedition.

London, Saturday. The German Envoy, Von Ribbentrop departed for Cologne where he will report to Herr Hitler on his interviews with Mr. Anthony Eden states the Daily Telegraph. It also points out that the re-actions to Mr. Eden's speech are more favourable than anticipated.

Reports from Berlin consider that it is impossible to make the sacrifices demanded.

DENTAL TREATMENT IN MATERNITY AND CHILD WELFARE WORK.

The importance of dentistry in relation to child welfare lies in the fact that a healthy and functionally efficient mouth is the main factor in nutrition and the maintenance of health.

Diseased conditions in the mouth are not only harmful in themselves; they are also reflected in re-actions damaging to the bodily health generally.

Having to contend with what is, to all intents and purposes, an incurable disease, prevention holds out the only real hope of success, and its influence should come into play before diseased conditions can become established. Thus two essentials present themselves :-

The maintenance of normal health and function in the mouth, and the prevention of disease and deformity.

The principal point of contact between dentistry and maternity and child welfare would seem to be diet.

The Importance of Diet.

It is not, perhaps, our province as dental surgeons to be dogmatic on questions of diet; but as there is a remarkable reciprocal relation between teeth and food, the interest of dental surgeons is quite naturally keenly aroused. On the other hand, suitable diet that provides abundant exercise to the jaws is essential to the development and preservation of an efficient denture. On the other, a set of teeth in perfect functional activity is equally essential as an indispensable adjunct to perfect nutrition.

Exercise and cleanliness are the key-notes of success. After all a small child is not an invalid and should not be fed as such. Even a tiny child displays an instinctive urge to gnaw things, and this should be encouraged by providing a substantial diet, and not minces, stews, boiled puddings and liquids. The habit of thorough mastication should become so firmly established from the earliest possible time as to become automatic.

General Principles.

From the Dental Surgeon's point of view a diet should conform to certain general principles. Granted these, the details are a matter of relatively small consequence. Food should furnish a sufficiency of exercise, and be detergent in its action, leaving the mouth clean and free from debris at the end of a meal.

It would seem that the nature of the food of civilised man is, to say the least, an important contributory factor in the causation of dental disease.

It is further fairly conclusively established that it is due to the activity of a definite micro-organism (Bacillus Acidophilus) that can only flourish in an acid medium.

This would lead to the conclusion that food-stuffs that are liable to go "Sour" readily should be avoided, or at least followed up immediately with some detergent form of food.

There are vast accumulations of chalk and limestone the world over, nature takes advantage of this extensive alkalinity in framing the essentials to a healthy life. Most vegetables fail to flourish in a "sour soil".

It is truly remarkable how prominent a part the maintenance of a suitable degree of alkalinity plays in bodily comfort and health.

Many irritating poisons also are acid in reaction, e.g., stings of nettles, wasps, ants, etc., and produce most unpleasant reactions when introduced into the bodily tissues.

A £20 Jubilee Stamp.

A stamp which recently could be bought for 2½d. is now fetching as much as £20 from collectors. It is the 2½d. English Jubilee, and its value lies in its special colour.

The ordinary stamp was just blue, but by some mischance a few, the total number was 350, were printed in Prussian blue. They found their way in the ordinary course of G.P.O. distribution to a North London post office. Quite a number were sold over the counter, and then a philatelist came along, realised the striking difference in colour, and cornered the remainder.

Cologne. Sunday. The German election campaign for Sunday's ballot on Herr Hitler's Rhineland policy closed amid fervid Nazi demonstrations, with the Chancellor's speech in which he said "we want to live with and among other peoples as they want to live themselves".

In appealing to youth he urged the termination of all against all.

It is anticipated that over 45 million will endorse Herr Hitler's policy, with over 90 per cent Nazi majority.

From Capetown it is reported that all German vessels cruising or trading off the South African coast will delay their voyages for the embarkation of all German subjects who will be taken outside the three mile limit for the recording of their votes.

WAR NEWS.

Rome. Sunday. Marshal Badoglio's war communique for Sunday states that the Italians are now in complete control of the Wolkait region in the north-west. The report adds that intensified air activities continue.

Addis Ababa. Sunday. A report from the capital states that eight Italian aeroplanes carried out a bombardment of Gonda north of Raketsana, during which high explosives wrecked a French Catholic Mission.

A further attack by ten aeroplanes on Goba in the Bali Province resulted in the destruction of a Swedish Red Cross Unit.

It is also reported that at 8 o'clock on Sunday morning Italian bombing squadrons coming from the south, bombarded the important City of Harrar, which since the 2nd of December, 1935, has been declared by the Abyssinians to be an open unfortified town. The bombardment lasted for over three hours with the result that the town was completely destroyed.

TRAINING SHIP "MERCURY".

The attention of parents of limited means, who desire wider opportunities for their boys than are available through local educational facilities, may be drawn to the opening afforded by the Mercury School of Nautical Training.

The establishment is situated on the Hamble River seven miles from Southampton and consists of H.M.S. "President" lent by the Admiralty and 45 acres of grounds.

Boys are admitted from the age of 12 to 15½; boys of thirteen preferred. Only boys of good character and good physique are received.

The training is designed to equip boys for

- (1) Any practical career.
- (2) Cadet apprenticeship in the Merchant Service.
- (3) Advanced Class Boy in the Royal Navy with assurance of rapid promotion to higher ratings and the prospect of Commissioned Rank.
- (4) Nomination for Artificer, Electrical Apprenticeship or Mechanic Branch in Royal Navy and Royal Air Force.

The "Mercury" in one of the four approved establishments for the training of officers in the Merchant Service, the others being the "Conway", "Worcester" and Pangbourne College.

The grounds with seaside surroundings contain in addition to school accommodation large games fields, a private chapel, library and cinema halls, workshops with steam and oil engines and electrical plant.

The establishment is not run for profit, the fees being kept to the lowest figure possible to cover maintenance charges. The cost of the course works out at about £65 a year.

It appears possible that some parents in the Colony may wish to send sons to the Mercury with a view to their subsequently getting nautical or engineering employment in the Falklands if not in a wider field.

GREAT NAVAL PROGRAMME.

London. Tuesday. The greatest naval construction by Great Britain since the war will be well under way before next January with the laying down of two battleships, five cruisers, one aircraft carrier, twelve destroyers, and a number of submarines and sloops, also three further cruisers, are to be laid down before the end of 1937. The total tonnage of this new construction is estimated at 175,000 at a cost of £35,000,000, and the bulk will be built by contract.

MORRIS MOTORS, LTD.

London. Tuesday. Morris Motors show nett profits for 1935 amounting to £1,194,369, as compared with £543,972 in 1934. The ordinary dividend has been raised from 5% to 15%, with £600,000 placed as a reserve.

GERMAN REPLY EXPECTED TO-DAY.

Berlin. Herr Hitler and Von Ribbentrop worked throughout the day and late last night on the draft memorandum for peace proposals which will be delivered in London on Tuesday states the Daily Telegraph correspondent. The document is to be considered by the German Cabinet before despatch and if time permits will be brought to London personally by Von Ribbentrop, but alternatively it will be telegraphed. Nothing has been divulged relative to the nature of the memorandum, but the general belief is that it will stand firmly to declarations of March the 7th, but nevertheless the Leader and his advisers are studying European reactions to the elections and staff talk proposals. The press is jubilating that the election has given Herr Hitler authority which the Government never had and this reply to the world will institute a new era in Europe, but competent observers remark upon the vanished opposition which in the free election of March, 1933, polled over twelve million votes for the communist and socialist parties. The French press disregards the election as a free expression and voicing her fears for Austria's future and likens Herr Hitler to the Kaiser, who believes himself invested with a divine mission to establish a world order by the mailed fist.

STAMP COLLECTING.

In the Meccano Magazines of February and March, 1936, two stamps of the Falkland Islands Centenary issue are shown among the most beautiful on record. The first one, the Falkland Islands 1½d. appears in the Magazine of February, 1936, with the following remarks :-

"Ocean greyhounds provide spectacular subjects, but the most beautiful of all shipping stamps depicts nothing greater than a humble whaling ship shown on the 1½d. value of the Falkland Islands issue of 1933. We illustrate the stamp here, and think our readers will agree that it is one of the most beautiful stamps ever printed, and deserving of a place in every collection".

The second stamp, the Falkland Islands £1, appears in the Magazine of March, 1936, under the heading "The Greatest Royal Philatelist" where the following remarks are included :-

"Thus there came portraits of the King in a variety of uniforms. There have been many striking pictures, of which the best, possibly, is that of the £1 value of the Falkland Islands Centenary issue of 1933. In the space here it is impossible to list them all, and instead we have chosen a representative selection for illustration."

Local philatelists can see these illustrations with their remarks in the Meccano Magazines in the Public Library.

THOUSANDS VISIT THE "QUEEN MARY".

London. No fewer than 25,000 people saw the Cunard White Star Liner "Queen Mary" in Dry Dock at Southampton on Sunday.

For nearly ten hours a steady stream of people walked round her towering hulk while Southern Railway Officials maintained a running commentary of information through loud speakers. As early as 3.0 a.m., a line of motor cars were waiting for the dock gates to open at the scheduled time at 8.0 a.m. During the busiest period 16 motor cars passed through the dock gates every minute. 18 special trains took 8,000 people from many parts of the country, and hundreds of visitors arrived by steamers, while many others came by aeroplane and many visitors made flights over the vessel.

BORING FOR OIL.

Portsmouth. Tuesday. Test boring for oil on Portstown Hill above Portsmouth Harbour were begun yesterday, when a plant which is capable of drilling nearly three miles was set in motion by Mistress Crookshank, the mother of the Secretary for Mines. The site of the borings which extends over five acres has been secured by a subsidiary company of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, and the work may take over two years and cost over £60,000. John Cadman, the Chairman of the Company, said that in choosing this particular site, they had been guided by a volume of geological evidence.

SAFEST SHIPS IN THE WORLD.

British ships are the safest in the world. Official statistics show that compared with the numbers employed, the loss of life among officers and seamen serving in our trading vessels averaged, in the period 1910 - 14, 1 in 412. In the period 1922 - 26 the average was 1 in 976; in 1927 - 31, 1 in 2,250 and in 1932 - 34, 1 in 2,360. These figures indicate that safety of life at sea is four to six times greater than before the war. Compared with this the road deaths in Great Britain in 1934 numbered 7,343.

In 1934 there were 333 persons killed on the roads for every one passenger lost at sea in British ships in the years 1929 - 33.

The Globe Store Advert will appear in Thursday's issue.

"QUEEN MARY'S" SISTER SHIP.

London. Tuesday. Tenders for the new giant liner, sister ship to the "Queen Mary" must reach the Cunard White Star Offices by Friday. The designs are for a 90,000 ton vessel, and will be competitive, but the Company may approve of a combination of best features of each design. It is probable that Tyneside firms will pool their resources and be prepared to build the new ship jointly. It is understood that the construction will be on a costs-plus-profit basis. Reports from Southampton state that the "Queen Mary" attained a speed of 29 knots with a large marginal reserve in the course of her voyage from Clyde-bank.

POISONED GAS.

London. In the House of Lords, Lord Cecil asked the Government whether their attention had been called to the telegram from the daughter of the Emperor of Abyssinia, in which she stated that for seven days without a break the enemy have been bombing our armies and the people of my country, including women and children, with terrible gases. Our soldiers are brave men and know they must take the consequences of war. Against this cruel gas we have no protection; this suffering and torture is beyond description; hundreds of my countrymen are screaming and moaning with pain, many of them are unrecognisable since the skin has been burnt off their faces. Lord Cecil also asked whether the Government have any information regarding the breach by the Italian Government of yet another treaty, and what steps they proposed to take if these charges are proved to be true.
